AN IMPERATIVE SACRIFICE

TO GET RID OF

OVERSTOCKS.

It's a pressing, urgent necessity, to get rid of the surplus Goods. The Big Store's remarkably Low Prices last week helped us to dispose of a large quantity of merchandise despite the hot spell, but a great many departments are still flooded with goods, which must be disposed of and at once. Remember prices are dragged down here in every department to make this sale mean something to you. We cut prices to make it an object and benefit for you to buy your goods now, whether you need them or not. Grand values that it would be impossible to give under ordinary conditions. We must unload and here are bargains that will make you eager to help us:—

A HOLIDAY OUTING.

BEAUTIFUL LAKES IN CAVENDISH TOWNSHIP.

A Canoe Trip Over Ten of Our Northern Lakes—Beautiful Scenery—Good Trout Fishing — Huckleberries in Abundance—Norway Point a Most Lovely Spot for a Couple of Weeks' Camp—Deer Plentiful.

Messrs. J. T. Robinson and W. Hickson, of Bobcaygeon, Harry Graham, of Kinmount, and M. Nasmith, of Toronto, got got everything ready for a two week's camp on Monday, the 27th of July, and set sail for the north about noon. The party arrived at the head of Ball lake about 6 p.m., where a team and wagon were in waiting to convey them over the ten-mile portage; their canoe and camping outfit were soon packed on the wagon, and away they go across the portage, and land at the foot of Gull lake at 9 p.m., where W. A. Scott's old lumber depot once stood, but is now in a state of decay. As the members of the party were a little tired after crossing the long portage, they welcomed an invitation into a house that stands on the south end of this lake, took supper, and got under the blankets for the night. Oh! but the next morning is most beautiful! with the golden streaks in the eastern sky that betoken a fair day, and the whole party is up before the sun; the canoes are got ready, and they skim along the lakes like the wild duck's flight, leaving a little ripple behind them, till they arrive at where stakes are driven on "the old camp ground."

Gull lake has a lonely appearance, as there is only one house on its shores, and fire has burned the most of the timber form the high cliffs that surround it, and all taken together gives it a weird look; but Ketchecoma, lying just north of it, is one of the prettiest lakes to be found in our northern country; with its beautiful cone-shaped islands, its high bluffs and its sloping sandy beaches, it is a most desirable place for a few weeks' camping. After the camps were pitched and things around them in good shape, the party went over to see their old friend, Mr. John Cochrane, who lives on the west shore of this lake, and here arrangements were made for provisions during the stay in camp; fresh eggs, fresh butter, new potatoes, sweet milk, home-made bread and huckleberry pie were what filled the first order, and as the days went on the items increased, but never was there a failure in supplying what the keen appetites needed while in camp. On Wednesday the party and paid a visit to the huckleberry patch, and on Thursday they took a cruise over to Good Lake, which is a very nice one; on this lake Mr. W. Hall, of Buckhorn, has built a summer cottage, and he and his son were spending their holidays here, away from the bustle of the world. Here, indeed, quiet does reign, for naught is heard save the lonesome call from a loon; but solitude has its charms as well as company.

After taking dinner on a nice breezy point on Gold lake, the party sailed on down into Cold lake, which is surrounded by very high cliffs. After admiring the scenery of this lake they passed on southwest into Snake creek, to go into Coxe's lake, but this as no one in the party knew just where the portage was from the creek to the lake; it was passed, and they had to return with the satisfaction of knowing that there was snob such a place as Coxe's lake on this globe. As the lake could not be reached, the next best thing for the party was to return to camp, and this was done without delay.

On Friday a cruise was made around Lake Ketchecome, and a few trout were caught. On Saturday a trip was made to W. A. Scott's old farm, which lies on the north side of Gull lake; on the north-east end of this farm there stands a large barn, about 100 feet long and 40 feet wide, which is now in a ruinous condition and seems to be the home of the swallows in this north country, as they flitted and twittered about, and their nests hung from every rafter and brace in the building.

On Sabbath afternoon two of the party took a walk.

OUT TO THE BUCKHORN ROAD,

and up it about a mile and a half to a farm on Chub lake, which they had visited in the summer of 1890, but when they came to the place there were no buildings to be seen except an old stable, and on investigation it was found that a fire had swept the buildings away on a cold morning in February of 1895, and the father and two or three of his children had been severely frozen before they could be conveyed to the nearest neighbour, Mr. John Cochrane. Pieces of broken dishes, an old axe, a wood saw, and remnants of cheap furniture lay around just as they had been scattered when the fire was taking place, which seemed to show that the site, once quick with life, had been altogether deserted.

On Monday, after breakfast, three of the party took a canoe to the portage at Pencil Creek, and passed over to Pencil Lake, and secured a canoe on this end of the portage and took a trip up which is a very pretty lake, shaped like a T.

Deer were quite plentiful in the vicinity of these lakes, as could be seen by the number of deer tracks there were on the paths, and one nice one in his red coat came to a point and stood looking at us for several minutes one evening, and on our visit to Pencil lake we saw two beauties feeding quietly on a spot quite near us; after picking off the little tit-bits of deer food from the point, the larger one tossed his antlered front toward the sky and started off at a trot, with a bearing that seemed to say, "I may see you some other day."

On Tuesday we went for a trip up Bottle creek to Bottle lake, and from it up to Sucker lake. Bottle creek flows west from Bottle lake into Lake Ketchecoma, and is about two miles long and as straight as the Suez Canal. Bottle lake is about a mile and a half long and is and on the east side of it there is a portage about twenty rods in to Sucker lake, over which we carried a canoe and circumnavigated this beautiful sheet; here peace and beauty reign, for dams have not been built, nor has the woodman's axe marred the beauty of the primeval forest which fringes the shores and islands of this fairy lake. We returned to camp at 6 p.m., and partook of a hearty meal as soon as it was ready, after which a large bonfire was lit and two ladies and two gentlemen from Mr. Cochrane's paid us a visit, and the whole company spent a most pleasant evening till 9 30 o'clock around the fire, whose forked tongues wreathed heavenward, while myriads of sparks floated still higher.

HOURS SPENT IN THIS WAY

are always extremely happy for campers, but they come to an end, as these did, and we had to crawl under the blankets for the night.

On Wednesday we put in a quiet day at camp, and as we had a hearty invitation to Mr. Cochrane's for tea, we went at 8 p.m. and spent another entertaining evening.

On Thursday morning we turned our bronzed faces towards home and landed in Bobcaygeon at 8 o'clock the same evening, every member of the party being greatly pleased with the trip.

ANGLER.

THE SILVER QUESTION.

A Hint From India—A Novel Solution of the Currency Question Suggested by the Lowell Morning Times.

The Times says:—It recently happened that a resident of Lowell desired to pay a bill due to a friend who is a medical missionary in British India. The friend from that far away country suggested that it be paid in Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which he said is reckoned "as good as gold!" On application to the J. C. Ayer Co., they readily gave an order on their Bombay agents for a quantity of Sarsaparilla to an amount equivalent to the face of the bill. A letter dated Rahuri, India, Oct. 18, has just been received in Lowell, which says:—"The Sarsaparilla was duly received and as it has a regular market quotation price, was converted into cash with the utmost facility. Whatever may be said about other sarsaparillas and the medicinal value of their contents, this fact remains, that Ayer's Sarsaparilla is so well known in India that it had a market value, depending upon the fluctuation in the value of the silver rupee, as much as cotton or other staples. This is not the case with any other sarsaparilla of American makers. The natives of this country are very conservative, and unless an article is well known they are shy about using it. A native will take a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla from any dispensary and walk off with it without raising a question as to its purity or curative qualities. This is the truth, and I do not scruple to let you make whatever use of the statement you may choose. The success of this remedy in this country shows what judicious advertising of a meritorious article has accomplished. If I had money locked up in quantities of any medicine, I would prefer Ayer's Sarsaparilla to any other twenty times over, for I know that I could get my money back in the former case, while in the other I should have to retail it bottle by bottle in order to realize my money." As a currency Ayer's Sarsaparilla might be cumbersome, but one thing would be sure—you'd always get the value of the dollar invested in the remedy.

PUBLIC LIBRARY IMPROVEMENT

Decided Change for the Better—Increase of Room for Books—The Work well Done.

The growing importance of the Peterborough Public Library and the accumulation of books made it necessary that increased shelving should be provided and other improvements incidentally effected. The directors seeing the necessity of something being done, were greatly aided to the decision by the action of the trustees of the Mrs. Nicholls estate, who generously advanced a sum of $150 to assist in defraying the expense of the contemplated changes.

Accordingly about a month ago work was begun upon plans prepared by Mr. T. A. S. Hay, C.E., Mr. Thos. McKee being charged with their execution.

Those familiar with the floor plan of the old rooms will notice a marked change, and for the better, on their next visit to the Library. The principal changes made are the conversion of three rooms into one to form the chief bookroom. These are the ladies' reading room, the annex to the old library to the south, and the room known as the directors' room, and also the corridor that formerly separated the two latter rooms from the ladies' reading room. Thus the new library extends from the front to the rear of the building, receiving abundant light from both ends; the ceiling plan is broken by two arches placed to furnish support formerly given by the partition walls of the removed corridor. These arches are filled in with wooden grill work. The new room contains a large amount of additional shelving, enough, at the past average rate of increase of books, to last some seven or eight years. Besides, there is room for several additional "stacks" to those already put in. This room is reached from the landing at the left of the entrance from the street, access to the room being had through a large glass vestibule. On the left and on the inner side is placed a book table, to which books returned may be passed after hours or during the temporary absence of the librarian.

Part of the old book on the west has been converted into a ladies' reading room, and makes a larger and more airy department, well lighted with three large windows. The walls have been newly papered and the reading table has been fitted up with all conveniences. Two Auer lamps furnish light at night, and the same kind of light is provided for the other apartments.

Mr. Peters, the obliging librarian is shelving the books to-day and the remodelled rooms are now open to the public. Patrons in future, on reaching the landing, will turn to the left to reach the librarian's office, and to the right to reach the reading rooms.

The total cost of the improvements, which includes enlargement of the gas service, to provide for more lights, is about $275. The directors and patrons of the Library are indebted to the generosity of Messrs. R. Hall and C. McGill, who are landlords of the building for the Mrs. Nicholls estate, for $150, and the balance will have to be provided from the not too abundant funds of the Library, unless otherwise contributed.

It is to be hoped that the public will show a practical appreciation of this excellent institution, which has, outside of free libraries, one of the most extensive collection of books in Ontario, besides two excellent reading rooms, furnished with all the leading journals, magazines and periodicals dealing with general interests as well as specific trades and callings.

STREET LIGHTING TENDERS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

The treatment which both the members of our Company and our tender have received at the hands of the council Friday night was, to say the least, most unfair, if not dishonest. The council representing the town of Peterborough asked for tenders for street lighting. We made all our arrangements and submitted our tender on the printed form issued by the clerk of the town, conformed to all the requirements necessary, and called for by their advertisement. When the tenders were received and opened our tender was legally the only tender before the committee, inasmuch as the Peterborough Light and Power Co. did not conform in their tender to the requirements called for by the council. These are facts that can be proved by any ratepayer calling at the clerk's office and seeing the two documents.

In face of the action of the town council Friday night had our tender been submitted with the same parts left out, it would have been consigned to the waste basket as not complying with the requirements of the tender, and rightly so, yet the council recommend that our tender, which conformed to all the requirements and which was nearly twelve hundred dollars lower than the other, be accepted? No! But, after consulting with the other company and offering them the contract, if they (the Peterborough Light and Power Company) would accept it at our figures, they would recommend the acceptance of the same. If this is to be the treatment we are to receive by the people of Peterborough, through their representatives, in a matter of such vital importance to the advancement and progress of the town, an interest that affects every ratepayer in it and will for all time to come, it is to be condemned, because it means monopoly of the business of supplying light, power and heat for all time to come. This is the issue of the present question. The council say that the difficulties in regard to the town owning the poles were such that they could not see how to get over it. Did they make any enquiries how other towns got over it? The present company have no franchise from the people, consequently have no legal rights on the street, and if the difficulties are insurmountable, how is the council of 1898 going to get over them when the present council in their wisdom say the town should supply its own light? Will there be anything different from the present situation? I am satisfied there will, but it will be in the way of fastening the shackles of monopoly all the stronger on the town if the present course of the Council is tolerated by the people. All we, as a Company, ask for from the people is a fair field and no favour. We are large ratepayers and are entitled to the same treatment and the same privileges on the streets as the other Company. The people have a right to have competition in lights, and now at expiration of the lighting contract is the time for the people to insist on this question being settled.

Thanking you, &c., I am

Yours truly,

W. H. MELDRUM.

SOMETIMES the most careful women are the most careless. Many a woman bundles herself up, puts on heavy clothing and wraps and furs to keep out the cold—to keep out sickness—when she is neglecting the very worst sickness that can come to a woman. She is allowing a slight disorder to grow, to become worse, to slowly and surely sap her vitality. The little pain and the other slight indications of trouble seem to her unimportant. She pays no attention to them. By and by they grow a little worse, but she is used to them then and takes them as a matter of course. By and by, they have grown into dragging pains that occasionally keep her in the house—that occasionally put her to bed. Then she knows what is the matter, but she won't go to a doctor because she knows he will insist on "examinations" and "local treatment." She goes on, with increasing suffering, until life itself becomes a drag. Nervousness, "sinking spells," digestive disturbances, and fifty other complications may arise from the same cause. Frequently such symptoms are treated as digestive diseases when the root of the whole matter is the derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Over thirty years ago, the need for a reliable remedy for so-called "female complaints," was recognized by Dr. R. V. Pierce, then, as now, chief consulting physician to the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, at Buffalo, N. Y. He prepared Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the most wonderfully effective remedy that has ever been used for such maladies. Its sale now exceeds the combined sales of all other medicines for women. Its effect is perceptible almost immediately. It relieves pain, allays inflammation, checks debilitating drains, and quickly subdues other distressing symptoms. It makes the organs and their surrounding tissues strong and healthy, thereby correcting displacements and invigorating the whole body.

A new soporific, to which the name pellotin has been given, has been discovered in a Mexican cactus called anhalonium. The native Mexicans eat slices of the plant, which they call jellote." Its hypnotic alkaloid has been separated by Dr. Hefter of Leipsig. One grain of pellotin is equal in its effects to 15 1-2 grains of trional and 31 grains of hydrate of chloral It is effective in quieting delirium tremens only in large doses.

The Newspaper.

I love it as the drinker does his wine;
A daily, dear companion, map of life
In busy circles, politics and strife.
Of words from tart reply to those divine.
It gives alike to all who ask: a mine
Of sterling worth spread out before the eye.
It talks to me of persons long gone by,
And of those passing now that brightly shine
And fill the burdened moment with their light.
No freight train draws such a commodity
Of various wares as this thing brings to me
Of information; heavy sad day and night,
Ocean and sea, are plundered of their sweets
To give me what my soul so gladly greets.

The Speed of Insects.

It is the popular belief that the flight of birds is much swifter than that of the insects, but a number of naturalists who have been making a study of the matter think that such is not the case.

A common house fly, for example, is not very rapid in its flight, but its wings make 800 beats a second, and send it through the air 25 feet, under ordinary circumstances, in that space of time. When the insect is alarmed, however, it has been found that it can increase its rate of speed to over 150 feet per second. If it could continue such rapid flight for a mile in a straight line it would cover that distance in exactly 33 seconds.

It is not an uncommon thing when traveling by rail in the summer time to see a bee or wasp keeping up with the train and trying to get in at one of the windows. A swallow is considered one of the swiftest of flying birds, and it was thought until recently that no insect could escape it.

A naturalist tells of an exciting chase he saw between a swallow and a dragon fly, which is among the swiftest of insects. The insect flew with incredible speed, and wheeled and dodged with such ease that the swallow, despite his utmost efforts, completely failed to overtake and capture it.

The Great Welsh Water Scheme.

The proposal of the Glamorganshire County Council may be regarded as the most comprehensive water scheme ever contemplated. This scheme was to create a water authority under the Public Health Act, which would include the counties of Glamorgan and Carmarthen, with part of Cardigan, Brecon and Monmouth; and its first object as defined by the promoters was to acquire possession of the available watersheds, gradually construct storage reservoirs, and take measures for the supply of the districts within the area of the authority's jurisdiction. The idea of preserving "Welsh water for the Welsh" was an ambitious one, as we pointed out at the time, and it promised to be an expensive one as well. The gathering grounds to be scheduled extended over 132 square miles on the head waters of the Usk, the Irvon, and the Towy. A reservoir costing £6,000,000 was to be constructed near Trecastle, with a capacity of 4,533,000,000 gallons, supplying 12,000,000 gallons a day. Other reservoirs, fourteen in number, were to be added as time went on, to bring up the potential daily supply to 116,000,000 gallons. The ultimate expenditure could only be a matter of approximate calculation, but with the purchase of land and all comprised, it was estimated at somewhere about £50,000,000.

HAYNE MUST BE INSANE.

A Collingwood Man Fires His Home, Shoots Himself, Attempts to Drown Himself and Then Takes Poison.

Collingwood, Aug. 14.—This morning the firemen were called to a blaze in a small dwelling on Ste. Marie-street. The building was owned and occupied by a man named John Hayne. Just previous to the discovery of the fire some neighbors noticed Hayne come out of the house and go into a shallow well nearby, but while the fire was in progress he was discovered lying in a field a couple of blocks west of his place suffering from the effects of a dose of Paris green. A constable was sent to take him in charge, but Hayne learned of the officer coming and fled. After a chase he was captured half a mile from his burning dwelling. He was taken to Dr. Peters' office, where on examination it was found he was suffering from a severe wound in the breast inflicted by the discharge of a shotgun, and also from the poison and a deranged mind. After attending to him, Dr. Peters ordered his removal to the G. and M. Hospital, in which place he lies in a very critical condition.

Nothing definite can be learned from his ramblings, but it is believed that he set the house on fire and afterwards attempted to end himself by shooting. Not succeeding in this, he then tried to drown himself, and later to poison himself. He has been living alone for some time and has shown continued evidences of eccentricity.

WOULD BLAKE TAKE IT?

What John Dillon Says About the Proposal to Make the Canadian a Privy Council Judge.

London, Aug. 14.—The suggestion that Hon. Edward Blake would be nominated by Hon. Mr. Laurier for the Canadian seat on the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council arouses much interest in the Irish Parliamentary party. John Dillon said today that he did not believe that Mr. Blake had been approached on the subject, and it is a mistake to suppose that Mr. Blake is under a pledge to the party not to accept any position of emolument from any British Government. No doubt Mr. Blake's great abilities would do honor to the Privy Council, Canada and the Empire, but Mr. Blake having put his hand to the plow for the regeneration of Ireland, he is not likely to turn back until success is attained. Mr. Blake has shown much zeal lately to ensure the success of the coming Irish convention in the belief that it will heal the divisions and make the Irish party again united.

DR. NANSEN'S RETURN.

The Scientific Successes of His Observations are Said to Have Been Magnificent.

Vardoe, Norway, Aug. 14.—Dr. Nansen, whose return from the Arctic regions was announced yesterday, says the Fram drifted with the ice in a westerly direction to 84 degrees and he expects the vessel will eventually arrive at Spitzbergen. He adds that wherever they penetrated they found the ice broken. In consequence of the scarcity of dogs with the expedition, Dr. Nansen was compelled to turn back at 86.15. He says that with a sufficient number of dogs and canoes the Pole would have been reached. The land voyage was most arduous, but extremely valuable scientific rules were obeyed. In the autumn of 1895 Dr. Nansen reached the north coast of Franz Josefland and built a stone house in which he lived the whole winter. The Jackson-Farnsworth expedition arrived at Franz Josefland during the following spring.

The Jackson Expedition Safe.

London, Aug. 14.—The Jackson expedition is safe at Franz Josefland. The Windward left the Thames on June 10 to take supplies to the Jackson expedition, and not to bring the men back as was generally believed and currently reported. The Windward is understood to have accomplished her task, and presumably found Dr. Nansen with the Jackson party. The commander of the Windward telegraphed to-day that Jackson was relieved. Dr. Nansen was in Franz Josefland last June.

A Magnificent Success.

Stockholm, Aug. 14.—A despatch from Christiana to The Unserland says that Prof. Mohn, who is now at Vardoe, states that the scientific successes of Dr. Nansen's observations are magnificent. Several unknown islands were discovered and their positions determined. Dr. Nansen, the despatch adds, will leave Vardoe on Monday.

LEND YOUR EARS

To Your Back and Listen to Its Talk—A Peterborough Man Tries It.

Did you know the back could talk;
Tell you why it aches and pains;
Tell you why it's lame and weak;
Warn you of the kidney's ills;
Tell you of Doan's Kidney Pills?
Listen to them when they speak.
Relieve the kidneys, cure the ache.
Bad back, acute pains and kidney ills.
Are quickly cured by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Here is proof of it at home. The testimony of Mr. George N. Graham, the genial host of the Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, is as follows:—

He says:—"I have been a great sufferer for some time with pain across the back, extending up between the shoulders, swelling of the limbs, dizziness, loss of appetite, and in fact felt completely broken up.

"I had lost 17 pounds in three months, and thought that I would never get better. I have taken many kinds of patent medicines, and have also been treated by medical men, but did not seem to get any better at all, in fact was constantly growing worse.

"I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertisement and got a box of them at Lynch's drugstore, and by the time I had taken one box noticed a marked change for the better.

"I have taken seven boxes altogether, and am now free from pain; the swelling in the limbs has disappeared, and my appetite is good. In fact, I feel that I am completely cured.

"I can heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to those suffering from any form of kidney trouble. They are the best kidney medicine I have ever used.

Letters Come.

Letters come day by day telling us that this person has been cured of dyspepsia, that person of Bad Blood, and another of Headache, still another of Biliousness, and yet others of various complaints of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels or Blood, all through the intelligent use of Burdock Blood Bitters.

It is the voice of the people recognizing the fact that Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels and Blood.

Mr. T. G. Ludlow, 334 Colborne Street, Brantford, Ont., says: During seven years prior to 1886, my wife was sick all the time with violent headaches. Her head was so hot that it felt like burning up. She was weak, run down, and so feeble that she could hardly do anything, and so nervous that the least noise startled her. Night or day she could not rest and life was a misery to her. I tried all kinds of medicines and treatment for her but she steadily grew worse until I bought six bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters from C. Stork & Son, of Brampton, Ont., for which I paid $5.00, and it was the best investment I ever made in my life. Mrs. Ludlow took four out of the six bottles—there was no need of the other two, for those four bottles made her a strong, healthy woman, and removed every ailment from which she had suffered, and she enjoyed the most vigorous health. That five dollars saved me lots of money in medicine and attendance thereafter, and better than that it made home a comfort to me.

HOW THE SUN LIFE FULFILS ITS PROMISES.

A Matured 10 Year Endowment.

Profits Paid by the SUN 21 per. cent more than the Estimates.

The following letter, which speak for itself, was received by the undersigned this morning from a gentleman in Brockville, whose ten year endowment which he held in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada matured last week and was paid him. The Sun is modest in promises but UNEQUALLED IN RESULTS. The public are benefitted by results, not by promises unfulfilled

BROCKVILLE, November 7th, 1895.

W. H. HILL, Mgr. Central Ontario Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, Peterborough, Ontario:—

DEAR SIR,—I should have acknowledged the receipt of yours enclosing cheque for endowment policy No. 12,871 before, only I wanted to write something more than a mere receipt. I am pleased to hear of the continued prosperity of the "SUN" and it speaks well for your Company when the profits are greater (by 21 per cent.) than you as the Company's representative promised or rather estimated, as was the case with this policy.

I hope your Company will continue to prosper and I often regret that I do not carry more insurance than I am doing. I might have carried twice as much as I do when at Minden without any great effort, still what little I do carry I feel is perfectly safe being in the "SUN."

I must thank you for your promptness and kindness regarding this policy just settled. I hope we will both be alive and well when the new one I now hold will be due in 1905 and assuring you of very best wishes, I remain,

Yours Sincerely,
(Signed) F. R. C.

The above voluntary testimonial is significant and shows in a most practical way the SUN'S standing as a profit paying institution.

Nervous Prostration
Complete Recovery by the Use of
Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have been fatherless to-day had it not been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, of which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. O. Hinson, Postmaster and Planter, Kinard's, S. C.

MEASURING LAND.

A Method by Which the Work is Rendered Comparatively Easy.

Make a light and straight pole sixteen and a half feet in length, and mark feet and half feet on one side, and on the opposite side divide the sixteen and a half feet into spaces representing the length of links in the chain of a surveyor, says a good authority. A surveyor's chain is sixty-six feet in length, containing 100 links. Hence, a pole sixteen and a half feet long would be equal to twenty-five links. A link is 7.92 inches in length. With dividers one can indicate twenty five equal spaces or links on one side of the pole in a few minutes. Let the pole be oiled or painted, and kept under shelter where it will not spring by being exposed to alternate rain and sunshine.

Now, in order to measure an acre of land multiply the number of rods (or the lengths of the pole) on one side of the plot by the number of rods on the end of a plot, and divide the product by 160, the number of square rods in one acre. For example: A plot eighty rods long and two rods wide will make one acre. A plot forty rods long and four rods wide is equal to an acre. A plot twenty rods long by eight rods wide will embrace 160 square rods, equal to one acre. A plot twelve and a half rods on each side, if the lines run at right angles, will embrace (approximately) a square acre, or 156 square rods.

When a plot is not lined out at right angles, it (the square plot) will not embrace as much ground, although the length and width are the same as there is in the square plot. A fourth of an acre, or even a tenth part of an acre may be lined out with the angles so acute as to measure as many lineal feet as the length and side of a square acre.

One can make a rude square of two pieces of lath that will enable him to line out the land at a right angle, unless it is important to proceed with the accuracy of a surveyor, indicated by his compass.

The Apple Orchard.

It takes a long time to have a young apple orchard grow to size for bearing. It is all the longer if the apple trees are plantd so far apart that it is only as they attain large size that they begin to be a check on each other. The young trees have too much room for their best results in fruiting. It is just here that a number of peach trees planted in rows between those of the the apple tree will do good service. The peach is a short-lived tree, and will market several crops before the trees wax old and have to be grubbed out. On the other hand, the apple trees shelter the peach trees from prevalent winds and also help keep more snow upon the ground than there would be if either kind of fruit tree occupied the land to the exclusion of the other. The peach tree will crowd the apple trees earlier, and thus bring them to earlier fruitfulness. We have known several farmers who planted peach trees between rows of young apple trees in an orchard, and in every case the peach crop sold paid all the expenses of both orchards up to the time that the apple orchard came into bearing. As one old farmer remarked, his only mistake was that he did not set out a greater proportion of peach trees and fewer apples. It is no use, however, to try to set peach trees in an old orchard. By the time an apple orchard has attained bearing size, its roots interlace through the entire ground, and neither a newly transplanted peach tree nor tree of any kind has a chance to begin to grow.

A PORTRAIT'S EYES.

WHY THEY FOLLOW AN OBSERVER ROUND THE ROOM.

The Latest and Best Things Culled From the World of Science—Some Big Things—The Sum and Substance of Many Matters.

Wollaston's curious discovery, says Notes and Queries, was that by adding to each pair of eyes a nose directed to the right or the left the eyes lose their front direction, and look to the right or left, according to the direction of the nose. By means of a flap representing the lower features in a different position, as Dr. Wollaston remarks, "a lost look of devout abstraction in an uplifted countenance may be exchanged for an appearance of inquisitive archness in the leer of a younger face turned downward and obliquely toward the opposite side."

As by changing the direction of the lower features we change the direction of the eyes, so by changing our position the eye of the portrait apparently follows us. If a vertical line be drawn through the tip of the nose and halfway between the eyes, there will be the same breadth of head, of cheek, of chin, and of neck on each side of this middle line, and each iris will be in the middle of the whole of the eye. If we now move to one side the apparent horisontal breadth of every part of the head and face will be diminished, but the parts on each side of the middle line will be diminished equally, and at any position, however oblique, there will be the same breadth of face on each side of the middle line, and the iris will be in the centre of the whole of the eyeball, so that, being on a flat surface, the iris will be seen in front of the picture or obliquely.

Cause of the Colors of the Sea.

An interesting series of experiments on the transparency of liquids is described by M. W. Spring in the Bulletin of the Royal Academy of Belgium. The first of M. Spring's papers deals with the colors of the alcohols as compared with water. None of the alcohols observed were colorless when the thickness of fluid was 26 metres; methyl alcohol appeared greenish blue, ethyl alcohol the same, but of a less warm color, and amyl alcohol greenish yellow. The pure blue color observed in water becomes thus modified by the admixture of more and more yellow as we pass from one term of the homologous series of compounds to the next. The absorbing powers of the various liquids for ordinary light were also observed, and it was found that these formed a descending series, the simplest substance—water—offering the greatest resistance to the passage of light seen by the eye. In a second contribution, the same writer discusses the temperature at which the connection currents begin to produce opacity in a column of water of given length. Where the length is 26 metres the smallest difference of temperature that will suffice is about 0.57 degrees, and is comparable with that which doubtless exists in lakes and seas. The author concludes that we have here an explanation of the varied colors so often seen on water. These, Nature says, result from the differences of temperature caused by sunshine, on the one hand, and by the cooling action of wind blowing on the surface, on the other.

Absorbing Power of Soil.

As a preliminary experiment in coloring flowers Dr. Russell has tested the power of the soil to retain the various salts proposed to be used in the case of white pelargoniums. He took two glass tubes, a foot in length, and three-quarters of an inch in diameter, and drawn out at one end. These were filled with soil from a garden, the amount being 8 1-2 cubic inches. He poured in a solution of sulphate of copper (13 grains to the pint, or quarter of an ounce to a gallon). The water which came through was tested; but 4 1-3 pints passed through before any sulphate appeared, and that only after one month; 56 grains were held by the soil. Similarly with sulphate of iron, 3 1-2 pints of the solution passed through before any iron was present in the water. This took twenty-eight days, so that 47 grains were held by the soil. The next experiment was made with ammonium salts. Ammonium nitrate was poured on the soil (13 grains to the pint); 4 ounces came through before the ammonium salt was found. The soil thus retained 2 3-4 grains. This took only three-quarters of an hour. Ammonium chloride.—With this salt, 5 ounces passed through before ammonia was detected; therefore, the soil held 3 1-2 grains. It ran through in half an hour. The significance of these experiments showed that unless the salt be placed directly in contact with the roots, it might be retained in the soil, and no result would follow.

Breeding Place of Thunderstorms.

Mr. H. Harries read a paper on "Arctic Hail and Thunder Storms," in which he showed that the commonly accepted opinion that hail and thunder storms are almost, if not quite, unknown in the Arctic regions is incorrect. He had examined 100 logs of vessels which had visited the Arctic regions, and found that out of that number no fewer than 73 showed that hail was experienced at some time or other. Thunder storms were not so frequent as hail, but they have been observed in seven months out of the twelve, the month of greatest frequency being August. Mr. Harries is of opinion that the breeding place of thunder storms in these high latitudes is in the neighborhood of Barent's Sea.

OTONABEE'S "SERPENT MOUND."

Remains of an Indian Fort Found at Roach's Point—Investigation Made by the Department of Education in Otonabee Township—Mounds Found Similar to Those in Adams County, Ohio—The Discovery of Great Interest to Ethnologists.

Saturday's Mail and Empire.

At Roach's Point, Otonabee township, on the north shore of Rice Lake, certain extensive heaps and ridges of earth have been known to the settlers for many years as an Indian "battery" or "fort." During the present week careful examinations of these earthworks have been made under the authority of the Department of Education, and the conclusion has been reached that the mounds in question form what is known as the "serpent and egg," an arrangement connected with the myths of many primitive people on both sides of the world.

The most noted one in America is in Adams County, Ohio. This, though on a larger scale than the Otonabee mound, is not any more interesting or instructive, says Mr. David Boyle, whose good fortune it has been to identify the Canadian ruins. The Otonabee serpent extends almost due east and west (the head pointing eastward), and its total length is about 190 feet. Between the head and the egg mound is a space of 23 feet, while the latter mound is itself about 50 feet in length and 37 feet in width.

The discovery of these mounds forming this arrangement will naturally lead to the opening of discussion relative to the builders, who, presumably, could not have been the Ojibways, whose representatives still linger about a few spots in the neighbourhood.

Further particulars regarding this discovery will be awaited with interest by the ethnologists of both continents, and no doubt many members of the British Association will visit the Otonabee serpent mound next summer.

REGARDING THE PACKING OF APPLES.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I read in Saturday's EXAMINER a short notice of an article that appeared in the London Free Press, re picking apples for shipment before they are ripe.

Having been reared in a neighbourhood where the cultivation of fruit, and particularly apples, was and is to-day a very large part of the source of living to the community, and where thousands of barrels of fruit are annually picked, packed and shipped for export, I feel in a slight measure qualified from experience to express an opinion upon the subject discussed or rather remarked upon. In the first place it must be easily apparent that apples picked from the tree too long before ripening will never taste as well as the properly ripened fruit and also if permitted to fully ripen upon the tree fruit cannot be depended upon to keep long before used. Now the fact that the pulp of the fruit—the part between the seed and the skin of the apple—exists for the development of the seed, gives a hint as to the best time to pluck the fruit to preserve its properties of flavour and soundness. When the fruit approaches ripeness and the seed is about developed, it (the seed) changes rapidly from a white colour to dark red or black. Now the time to pluck fruit—either fall or winter apples for that matter—for shipment is just when the seeds begin in the most advanced samples to change to a dark colour. The fruit should then be picked by hand, sorted very carefully, the nicest samples selected and carefully placed around the bottom of the barrel and for a couple of layers up, then they may be carefully poured in from a basket, being always careful to permit no bruised, spotted or worm-eaten, and no very small samples of the variety to go in with good fruit, nor any leaves, green or dry. When the barrel is filled a couple of layers above the top should be carefully placed around the centre and the head set on carefully and a screw press used to force the head to place. There seems always to be space enough between the apples in the barrel to permit the head to be pressed to its place and when once there it should be fastened, never again to be opened until the apples are ready for use. They should always be branded on the head with the name of the variety, and ought also to have the name of the grower and date of packing. This additional information would be a guarantee that the grower was not afraid of his reputation, and the date of packing would in some measure be a guide to the time for using the fruit.

Fruit thus handled should, in our local market, bring from 25c. to 50c. a barrel extra, and in any foreign market our Canadian apples will hold their own in competition with the products of any other country.

I cannot help saying just here that I think farmers in this region are neglecting a very profitable branch of their business in refusing to give a greater amount of attention to fruit growing, and particularly to apples and plums. I have seen some samples of apples as fine as can be produced anywhere—particulary Northern Spies, Fameuse, and some Baldwins—on our market, in bags, offered at 30c. to 60c. a bag—and dear enough at that in their bruised condition, which, if properly picked and packed, would at the time have been worth at least twice as much, and would have been considered cheap at that price.

Yours,
SOUTHERNER.

A BOARDING HOUSE TRAGEDY.

Alois Dinkelman Shoots His Wife, Scares His Boarders and Then Ends His Own Life.

New York, Aug. 16.—A double tragedy was enacted on the top floor of the boarding house at 145 West 20th-street, conducted by the deceased husband and wife, early this morning. Alois Dinkelman, about 53 years old, and whose appearance denotes that he was reared and educated, in a fit of temper, or temporary insanity, brought about by business reverses, killed his wife Adelheid by shooting her through the heart. After shooting his wife Alois ran from the room holding a revolver in each hand, and shouted that there were burglars in the house.

James Kermode, a boarder in the house, whose room is opposite that of Dinkelman and wife, in relating the story of the tragedy, said he was startled about 5 o'clock by the report of a revolver. Hurrying to the hall, he saw Dinkelman going towards the stairs. As the murderer reached the stairs he fired a shot, which was followed by cries of "Police!" and, looking over the banister, Kermode saw Philip Molloy, another boarder, running downstairs, pursued by Dinkelman, the latter firing a number of shots at him. Molloy escaped unhurt and summoned the police. Dinkelman then ran upstairs, and, meeting Kermode, told him in reply to a query as to what was the matter, that there was a thief in the house. He then walked into his room, banging the door after him. A few minutes later another loud report was heard coming from Dinkelman's room. Meanwhile Molloy returned with an officer, and, going into Dinkelman's room, found Mrs. Dinkelman lying in a corner dead. The murderer was still breathing, and an ambulance was summoned, but when it arrived Dinkelman was dead. The Dinkelmans had been married 24 years, and were considered to be in comfortable circumstances, but reverses came, and then the couple resorted to keeping a boarding house.

RHODES AS A WITNESS.

He Will be Called to Testify Before the Imperial House Committee Regarding the Raid.

London, Aug. 16.—Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, was questioned to-day regarding the statement made by The Sunday Sun to the effect that the Transvaal had entered into a treaty with a foreign power, contrary to the Anglo-Boer convention of 1884, and that Great Britain had demanded an explanation from the Boer Government. Mr. Chamberlain said that the Colonial Office did not attach importance to the news.

Mr. Chamberlain will invite Cecil Rhodes to testify before the Parliamentary Commission appointed to inquire into the administration of the British South Africa Company and into the origin and circumstances of the incursion into the Transvaal by an armed force. Mr. Rhodes will probably be the first witness.

When any part of the body isn't doing the work that nature intended it to do, it puts the whole system out of tune—out of harmony. When children stand a row of bricks on end, they knock the whole row down by upsetting one brick. That is exactly what happens to the health when the bowels fail to perform their proper function. Constipation makes trouble all along the line—puts the liver out of order, is bad for the kidneys—bad for the stomach. It holds in the body poisonous matter, and because it cannot go any place else, it gets into the blood. The blood carries it all over the system. That makes sluggishness, lassitude, bad breath and foul taste in the mouth, fills the stomach with gas and causes windy belching, stops digestion in the stomach, causes sour stomach, heartburn and headache. You can avoid all such trouble, for Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets CURE constipation and its attendant evils.

Send 31 cents in one cent stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y., for his "Medical Adviser." It is a book of 1008 pages, profusely illustrated.

Why Some People Fail.

The world is full of people who have failed because of dyspepsia, biliousness, and constipation, which are responsible for nine-tenths of life's miseries. Burdock Blood Bitters cures these diseases as well as all other diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood in 99 cases out of 100.

LIMITED LIABILITY.

CAPITAL - - $500,000

In Shares of $1.00 Each, Fully Paid and Non-Assessable Stock.

Head Office, Victoria, B. C. Mines, Trail Creek, W. Kootenay.

TRUSTEES.

G. A. Kirk, President; A. B. Erskine and P. A. O'Farrell.

Among the list of stockholders are the following well-known gentlemen: Lieut.-Governor Dewdney, the Hon. J. H. Turner, Premier of British Columbia; R. P. Rithet, M.L.A.; Hon. D. W. H. Higgins, Speaker of the Provincial Legislature; Capt. John Irving, A. J. McColl, Q.C., E. V. Bodwell, William Wilson, Simon Leiser, C. A. Holland, and other well-known citizens of Victoria.

The Nest Egg Mining Company was formed to acquire and operate the famous Nest Egg mine in the Trail district of West Kootenay, within a half mile of the centre of Rossland. It is a 1500-foot location and covers fifty acres and is Crown granted. It has three well-defined ledges all trending in an easterly and westerly direction, like the old fissures of the camp. The main ledge on the Nest Egg is one of the strongest and best defined ledges of the district and has been traced from the Sunset and Gold Hunter on the west to the Commander on the east. A shaft has been sunk for fifty feet on this main ledge, and this shaft is all in ore and ledge matter from top to bottom. On the central vein three shafts have been sunk, and the vein traced for 800 feet. The west shaft is 16 feet deep and the ore in this shaft assays from $7 to $48 in gold and 4 per cent. copper. The central shaft is down 40 feet, and the clean ore taken out of this shaft averages over $30 in gold. Number 3 shaft on this vein is about 300 feet east of No. 2 and is down 30 feet, with 3 feet of solid clean ore in the bottom of the shaft that assays $35 to the ton.

The cost of mining, smelting and treatment for this ore averages $13, so that the Nest Egg is now mining ore that will net it a profit of from $16 to $20 a ton.

The Nest Egg Company has purchased the adjoining mineral claim, the Fire Fly. The Fire Fly has a fine strong, well-defined ledge running through the entire claim, and development work is now being done on this ledge.

The railroad from the Trail smelter to Rossland runs through the company's ground for 2000 feet, affording every possible facility for the shipment of ores from these mines.

The company has placed upon the market 50,000 shares of stock in the Nest Egg Mining Company, which are to be sold at 25 cents a share, and the proceeds are to be devoted to the development of the mines and the purchase of machinery. An additional 50,000 shares will be placed subsequently upon the market at an advanced price should further money be required for the development of the property.

Mr. Miller, an eminent mining engineer, in his report, says: "After careful examination of the Nest Egg mine and the fine ledges that are exposed on that claim, I am satisfied that the Nest Egg mine should develop into one of the rich mines of Trail Creek," and Col. Burke, a mining man of twenty years' experience in Utah, Montana, Idaho and British Columbia, states:—"The Nest Egg, with its great surface showing and mineral ore, with its fine development and with the rich ore in sight, has all the earmarks of a big mine."

The capitalization of this company is 50,000 shares, with one-fifth of the stock in the Treasury, and the sale of this Treasury stock at 25 cents a share is remarkably cheap, for most of the mining companies capitalize for $1,000,000 and upwards, and this fact must be taken into consideration in estimating the value of the Treasury stock of this mine.

The Palo Alto mine was bought by Victoria capitalists on reports made to them by Mr. Frank Loring, Col. Burke and Mr. Harry Howson. Mr. Howson had the ores carefully sampled and assayed, and they averaged $38 to the ton. The Palo Alto vein is a well and clearly defined ledge running through from the Florence mineral claim on the west to the San Joaquin on the east. This vein, called the Palo Alto, is known to be one of the richest in Trail Creek. The walls of this vein are almost perfect, and near the surface are from three to six feet apart, and where depth has been attained valuable shipping ore has in every instance been found.

The Palo Alto is a 1,500 square location and covers over fifty acres of ground. There are two ledges or veins. Very little development has been done on the south ledge. On the main ledge a shaft 30 feet deep has been sunk between two walls, all in ledge matter and ore. The ore from this shaft runs from $18 to $48 in gold. The pay chute in this shaft is increasing as depth is attained, and so is the value in gold.

To the west of this shaft the vein has been traced over 600 feet by surface pits and cuts, showing it to be not only a strong, well-defined vein, but demonstrates the fact that the shaft was sunk on the tail end of this chute of ore, and that the vein as well as the ore gets stronger and larger as you go west from the shaft.

The Palo Alto, judging it from the work that has been done the croppings that come to the surface, and the fact that it is situated in one of the best mineral belts that was ever discovered in the Northwest, is almost certain to make a good paying mine.

The claim lies on low ground, where it would be impossible for it to be a slide, and must be in its original position and a true fissure.

The latest assay values in this vein have run from $25 to $280 in gold, and these values were the best ever taken out of any of the veins in the Trail Creek country at a like depth.

At the end of May, Lieutenant-Governor Dewdney visited Rossland and made a careful inspection of the Palo Alto, in which he was personally interested. On his return to Victoria, the Colonist of May 30th published an interview, in which Gov. Dewdney spoke about the Palo Alto as follows:—"I visited the Palo Alto and examined that claim most carefully. I was exceedingly pleased to find so much development done. Towards the east end of the Palo Alto is a shaft 30 feet deep, with very fine looking ore upon the dump. I had this ore sampled and assayed at the Trail Creek smelter, and found it to be good shipping ore. About 200 feet west of the main shaft is another about 16 feet deep, and the bottom of the shaft is all in ore; 400 feet further west the vein has been stripped and the cuts made expose a fine strong vein. You can say for me that I am more than thoroughly pleased with my inspection of the Palo Alto, and I believe that the Victorians have got a very valuable property in that mine."

The property is paid for in full, and 100,000 shares of stock are to be sold immediately at 15 cents a share for the development of this mine. Another 100,000 shares are reserved in the treasury, to be afterwards sold as the needs of the company require.

These two mining properties, owned and controlled and operated by the leading business men and the best known citizens of the Province of British Columbia, is a guarantee that investors in these two mines have great chances of realizing big profits from a small investment. These mines have been recommended and reported on by excellent mining men and by the best mining engineers of the Trail Creek country, and I have no hesitation in recommending investment in these properties as among the safest in that country. For this reason, myself and others have made a contract with the management of the Nest Egg and the Palo Alto companies for the entire treasury stock of both mines, and I cheerfully recommend the purchase of this treasury stock by the investors of Canada who desire to share in the extraordinary rich promise of the Trail Creek mines.

I have come to the conclusion that British Columbia, and Trail Creek in particular, is about to develop into the greatest gold producer that this continent has ever known, and that Trail Creek will rival, and most probably surpass, the wonderful gold fields of South Africa. English capitalists have already begun to find out the wealth of this favoured region, and they have begun to buy some of the mines in Trail Creek. When London has once fairly started to buy these mines there will be no chance for Canadian capital to get mining property at low figures. I therefore think that if the people of this province desire to share in the enormous profits that are certain to be realized in British Columbia mines they must invest at once, and for this reason I offer to my clients mining stocks in which, after most careful consideration and investigation, I believe they will have an excellent chance of realizing big profits.

Stock in both mines supplied on application.

HON. W. D. BALFOUR

Stricken With Hemorrhage of the Lungs

AT THE PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS

On Sunday Night—His Relatives Summoned to His Deathbed—The Physicians Held Out No Hope and His Death Momentarily Expected—Sketch of His Useful Life.

Toronto, Aug. 18.

Thousands of people all over the province will be shocked to learn that Hon. W. D. Balfour is at the point of death. Stricken suddenly with acute inflammation of the lungs, the Provincial Secretary lies at the Parliament Buildings waiting the last summons. The fact that there is no hope has been communicated to him and his family have been called to the chamber of death. The Minister may linger on for a few days, but the end is likely to come before another sun has set.

The circumstances surrounding his fatal illness are exceptionally sad. Called only a few weeks since to serve his country as one of Her Majesty's Ministers, he is to be cut off just as he has attained such an honorable position as few men arrive at.

Mr. Balfour was never a strong man, and for years past his health has been miserable. But, as is often the case with men physically weak, an indomitable spirit of energy has kept him up and enabled him to overcome all obstacles that lay in the path of his advancement. And, indeed, the fierce flame of life which burned within him has tended more than anything else to exhaust his enfeebled frame. Excited and feverish, though able, have been most of his recent public utterances, whether at the hustings or on the floor of the House, and whenever he spoke he expended as much energy as other men would in a year of campaigning. During the last session of the Legislature, when in Committee of the Whole House, he frequently spoke on matters affecting his constituents and the province at large, his physical weakness and nervous temperament were most apparent.

The honorable gentleman's last public speech was made at Amherstburg on Aug. 4, when for an hour and a half he addressed an open air meeting of his fellow-citizens, who on that date re-elected him by acclamation as a member of the Hardy Government. The effort was a trying one for him, and it probably precipitated his terrible illness.

On Monday night he left Amherstburg, and, traveling all night, reached the city on Tuesday morning, and immediately repaired to the Parliament Buildings. He seems to have, during the trip, contracted a heavy cold, but this did not deter him from entering with vigor into the work of straightening up the affairs in his newly-acquired department. For three days he labored at his desk, but had to take a rest on Thursday. On Friday night, not feeling any better, he wired Mrs. Balfour to come to the city, and on Saturday, on her arrival, she was surprised to find her husband confined to his room. His illness was not considered critical, however, until Sunday night, when the invalid suffered from violent hemorrhages of the lungs.

Yesterday Drs. McPhedran and Amyot, in consultation, acknowledged the extreme lowness of the patient's condition, and it is understood they informed the anxious wife that there was no hope of his recovery.

Premier Hardy was summoned from Parry Sound, and is expected in town this morning. Hon. J. M. Gibson, in response to a telegram, came down from Hamilton and spent the day at the Parliament Buildings. All the other Ministers are away holidaying—Mr. Harcourt in Europe, Mr. Harty in the Maritime Provinces, Mr. Dryden in Northern Ontario, Mr. Davis in Muskoka, Mr. Ross in New York State and Mr. Bronson somewhere else.

All day yesterday, as the suffering Minister lay in his apartments in the eastern wing of the Legislative pile, everything was kept as quiet as possible. The elevators ceased running and visitors and officials walked on tip-toe as they passed the sick chamber. Last evening, at Mrs. Balfour's request, Housekeeper O'Brien had the patient removed to his old quarters in the Speaker's chambers in the western wing, where quiet could be more easily maintained.

As the news of the Minister's illness spread abroad, many friends came during the evening to enquire as to his condition.

Mrs. Balfour was joined during the day by Mr. and Mrs. David Balfour, her husband's father and mother, who came over from Niagara Falls South by the Niagara boat. Two sisters and other relatives of the Minister's, who have also been called to his bedside, are expected to arrive to-day.

At 8.30 p.m., in response to a query from Mr. John Auld of Amherstburg, the dying man's partner in business, a message was sent, stating that the patient's illness was critical.

Half an hour later Dr. Wilson of Amherstburg, the Balfour family physician, reached the sick chamber, where he was joined in consultation by Drs. Amyot and McPhedran. At midnight, when they left the chamber, the Minister was sinking.

William Douglas Balfour was born on Aug. 6, 1851, at Forfar, Scotland, and, therefore, is a comparatively young man. He is a member of the great Kincardinshire family of Balfours, his father being David Balfour, and his mother's maiden name Janet Dougal. Coming to St. Catharines, Ont., at the age of 6, with his parents, he was educated at the Grantham Academy. In 1874, at Grosse Isle, Mich., he took to wife Josephine, eldest daughter of Col. T. F. Brodhead, an ambitious woman, and one who has afforded her husband much aid in his onward march in life.

A journalist by profession, he, in 1872, established with Mr. Matheson The St. Catharines Daily and Weekly News, and two years later he and Mr. John Auld started The Amherstburg Echo, which the two have ever since conducted.

Mr. Balfour always took a great interest in local educational and agricultural matters, having been chairman of both the St. Catharines and Amherstburg Public School Boards, and for 12 years President of the South Essex Agricultural Society and Farmers' Institute. In 1879 he was an unsuccessful candidate for the Legislature in South Essex, but was elected for that constituency in 1882, and has held the seat ever since. In 1894 he succeeded Hon. Mr. Ballantyne as Speaker of the House, holding that position till about four weeks ago, when, on Sir Oliver Mowat's removal to Ottawa, he succeeded Hon. J. M. Gibson as Provincial Secretary.

Mr. Balfour carried through the House bills for the improvement of the law of libel and for the restriction of the bonus-granting powers of municipalities. A hobby of his was womanhood suffrage.

In religion Mr. Balfour is a Presbyterian. His family consists of four boys and four girls, the eldest son, now 19 years of age, being a pupil at the Guelph Agricultural College.

At 7 a.m.

At 2 a.m. Mr. Balfour was in the same condition, the end being expected at any moment.

A DISASTROUS CLOUDBURST.

Much Damage Done in St. Louis County, Mo.—A District a Mile Wide Was Devastated.

St. Louis, Aug. 17.—The midnight storm raged for two hours Saturday night, blew a perfect gale in St. Louis County and was followed by a cloudburst that swept away dwellings, drowned cattle and paralyzed two railroads by washing away miles of track, culverts and trestles. The storm centre followed the River Des Peres Valley from Merrimac Heights, and eastward, concentrating its greatest force in the vicinity of Webster Grove, Brentwood, Maddensville, Bartolds and Clayton, where the wind blew a perfect hurricane, uprooting and destroying hundreds of trees, unroofing houses and barns and destroying fences, corn fields and haystacks, and the cloudburst that followed devastated a district a mile wide. Nearly a thousand feet of track and road bed east of the Creve Coeur branch of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, between Lake Junction and Mentor Station, were washed away. The Housman line, however, was not so fortunate. The line was badly wrecked at three different points, and no cars were operated east of the River Des Peres up to a late hour last night. Over 500 feet of roadbed and tracks on the north and south road between the River Des Peres and Brentwood were carried off by the flood and strewn over the 25-acre tract.

BURNED THEIR BABY.

A Dreadful Affair near Winchester Said to Have Been Caused by Carelessness and Smoking.

Cornwall, Aug. 17.—The 3-year-old daughter of Elias Pratt was found burned to death near Winchester last week. It appears that Pratt and his wife and child secured a house about one and a half miles from the village. Their things had not yet arrived from Brockville, where they had been living, but they proceeded to occupy the house. Next afternoon, both went out, locking the house up, the child being asleep upstairs. Mrs. Pratt was the first to return a couple of hours later, and she found the house a mass of flames, despite the efforts of the neighbors, who had been vainly endeavoring to extinguish the fire. She told them that the child was inside, but the fire was so far advanced that no one could enter the building. The charred remains of the little one were afterwards found, and as several ugly rumors were afloat Dr. Backlock, coroner, held an inquest, at which Mr. and Mrs. Pratt and several neighbors gave evidence. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death, and charging gross negligence in leaving the child alone in the house. Mrs. Pratt was the little girl's stepmother. It is generally supposed that a spark from Pratt's pipe, which he was smoking when leaving, set fire to the shavings and thus caused the conflagration.

Tickets good on all Grand Trunk p. m. trains Wednesday, via Port Hope and Grand Junction, and all trains Thursday. Special leaves at 9 o'clock, a. m., Thursday. Returning good by all trains August 22nd.

A DEMOCRATIC SPLIT

Straight Repudiation of the Chicago Platform

BY THE GOLD WING OF THE PARTY

The Executive of the Sound Money Democrats Call Upon the Party to Stand by the Principles That Have Actuated Them Since Declaration of Independence.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—A meeting of the National Executive Committee of the Gold Democratic party was held at the Palmer House to-day.

The principal business which called the committee together was the preparation and adoption of an address to the Democratic voters of the country. A sub-committee was chosen to draft the address, and after four hours' deliberation the deliverance was made.

The address is mostly a laudation of the Democratic party, and calls for freedom of speech, freedom of conscience, freedom of trade and freedom of contract, and says if those principles are abandoned the party ceases to exist. Then the address deals with the Chicago convention, as follows:

"It was not within the power of the majority of the delegates assembled at Chicago to bind the Democrats of the United States to a platform inconsistent with the party's principles, or to any action that should result in their surrender. In violation of the trust committed to them, a majority of the delegates assembled in that convention, ignoring the rights of the minority, unseated regularly elected delegates to make places for others in sympathy with themselves. They proclaimed a sectional combination of the South and West against the North and East. They impeached the honesty and patriotism of President Cleveland, who, under exceptional embarrassments, produced by past errors of legislation, has heroically maintained the honor and integrity of the republic.

"The platform proposes to degrade the coin of the United States by means of the free, unlimited and independent coinage of silver by our Government, and by the exercise of power of the nation to compel the acceptance of depreciated coins at their nominal value, thereby working an injustice to creditors, defrauding the laborer of a large part of his earnings and savings, robbing pensioned soldiers of a part of their pensions, contracting the currency by the expulsion of gold coin from circulation, injuring if not destroying domestic trade and foreign commerce.

"While professing to advocate a policy of bi-metalism, it censures the present Democratic Administration for maintaining the parity of gold and silver. It proposes to reduce this country to a condition of silver mono-metallism, with its vacillating and unreliable standard of values, and tends to bring the farmer, the wage-earner and the salaried man to the wretched condition of the same classes in countries in which the silver standard prevails, and where the rewards of agriculture and labor are lower than anywhere else in the world.

After pointing out further details in which it is claimed the Chicago convention violated Democratic principles, the document concludes:

"In this crisis there is at stake more than the possibility of temporary victory. The honor and perpetuity of the Democratic party are at stake. A political organization that is untrue to itself, its principles, its history and traditions is disgraced and dishonored. The existence of our great historical party that has withstood the assaults of every foe is threatened by reason of the recreancy of many of its members. That this party as we have known it may not die, let the faithful of years rally round its historic banner, reform its broken lines and with abiding faith in the final triumph of its principles unite to restore the name Democrat to its former meaning and proud distinction.

"To this end we request all Democrats who are opposed to the platform adopted and the candidates nominated at Chicago to organize in their respective States and to send representatives to the convention of the National Democratic party to be held at Indianapolis on Wednesday, Sept. 2, 1896, in accordance with the call heretofore issued by the National Committee. (Signed) W. D. Bynum, chairman; John R. Wilson, secretary; Charles Tracey, J. M. Faulkner, F. W. M. Cutcheon, Ellis B. Usher, S. H. Holding, F. W. Lehman, W. B. Haldeman, John P. Hopkins, Executive Committee of the National Democratic party."

THE BRYAN DEMOCRATS.

Meeting of the Campaign Committee at Washington—Billy to Speak in Buffalo.

Washington, Aug. 17.—The Democratic Campaign Committee was in session for three hours this afternoon. Senator Bacon, just returned from a trip to the Pacific Coast, reported to the committee that he found the whole coast and the country from the Pacific to the Mississippi River ablaze with enthusiasm for the Democratic and the free coinage platform. Senator Bacon declared that the party would have no trouble in carrying the whole of that part of the country for the ticket.

Although no official program has been arranged, it is unofficially announced that after Mr. Bryan speaks at Buffalo and Erie on the 28th and 29th inst., he will go direct to Lincoln and remain until after the first week in September.

Stewart Not Satisfied.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Senator Stewart is not satisfied with the reply made by Senator Thurston in explanation of the charge contained in a speech delivered at Madison, Wis., July 31, to the effect that Mr. Bryan had been the paid agent of the silver mine owners, which was published this morning.

GRAND TRUNK AFFAIRS.

If the Scorchers in Great Britain Would Keep Quiet Mr. Hays Might Show Them a Surprise Later.

London, Aug. 17.—The friends of the Grand Trunk Railway do not share the pessimistic talk which the half-yearly traffic statement has produced.

The Westminster Gazette on Saturday afternoon added its voice to The News and The Financial Times in declaring the outlook poor. It says the deficiency for 1896 will exceed £100,000, and this makes a total deficiency for three years of £400,000. It predicts, seeing the position of affairs in the United States, that the company will soon be unable to provide for debenture interest and lenders will then cease providing money.

On behalf of the Grand Trunk, it is noted its position is slowly improving and deficiency of the combined system on meeting fixed charges for the past half year was £88,600, being £11,000 better that the first half of 1895. The danger of a renewed rate war is regarded as a bad feature.

A BOON TO FARMERS.

In view of the near approach of seeding time for winter wheat the results of the co-operative experiments made to determine the most profitable variety of winter wheat to sow, to be found in another column, should be studied with attention. These results are those of experiments carried on by leading farmers of Ontario. The Agricultural College sends out free small samples of wheats. These are grown in experimental plots with great care and the results reported to Mr. Zavitz, who has charge of the experimental work. These reports are carefully summarized, and according to the results reported the best varieties are selected. The yield of straw, tons per acre, and grain, bushels per acre are given, and tables giving these quantities, as well as deductions from, are sent broadcast. As will be seen by the article referred to, last season ninety reports of carefully conducted experiments were received and a table of nine varieties submitted, with general conclusions. Thus a large amount of practical and reliable information is placed at the disposal of farmers, who have the benefit of the experience of a hundred fellow farmers. It would be practically impossible for any individual farmer to carry on personally so extensive a set of experiments. Yet he gets the advantage as fully and perhaps more fully than if he had conducted the experiments himself. All this valuable information is furnished practically free to the agriculturist, demonstrating the great value of the Agricultural College in advancing, in this as in many other departments, his best interests.

CANADA GETS THERE.

Our Manufacturers are Now Selling Household and Office Furniture in the United Kingdom.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Consul James B. Taney writes the Department of State from Belfast, Ireland, that the Canadians are making great efforts to introduce household and office furniture in all parts of the Kingdom. One agent of an Ontario firm, within a week, took orders for about $5000 worth of furniture in Belfast and in Dublin for about $10,000 worth. "If American manufacturers," says Mr. Taney, "desire either to retain or increase their trade they should understand that it will be necessary to give it the most careful attention in directions that are comparatively new to them."

"Their representatives must be prepared to meet representative manufacturers of other countries, who are taking great pains to extend their trade."

Mr. Taney says that in this connection it is not too much to say that the Canadians are not only making vigorous efforts to divert export trade from other countries to their own, but are quite successful, not only in many branches of manufactured goods, but also in products of the farm. In fact, evidence is not wanting that the vast resources of Canada are being utilized more generally and successfully in their industrial arts, trade and commerce with the United Kingdom, than at any period of her history. Each successive year finds her people elbowing their way more extensively into the foreign trade and successfully competing with the exporters of other countries and in lines, too, which were entire strangers to them."

THEY ARE GIVING WAY.

Physicians Commence to Realize the Value of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

OTTAWA, Aug. 10.—The inveterate reluctance to admit the success of patent medicine usually evinced by physicians is rapidly giving way, so far as Dodd's Kidney Pills are concerned. The cases of Dr. Rose and Dr. McCormick, who published details of their recovery from diabetes and Bright's disease through the agency of this remedy, were the first attacks on the citadel of their skepticism and now it appears as if the remarkable recovery of Mr. G. H. Kent, of this city, the details of which have been transmitted to the press, would complete what has been so auspiciously begun. The published interviews with Mr. and Mrs. Kent and the sworn statement of the former leaves no foothold for diabetes.

GUELPH AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE EXPERIMENTS

RESULTS OF CO-OPERATIVE TESTS OF WINTER WHEAT.

The Leading Varieties Throughout Ontario—Varieties Tested—Pointers as to the Varieties to Sow.

Within the past seven years one hundred and thirty-three varieties of winter wheat have been very carefully tested in the Experimental Department at the Agricultural College, Guelph. Besides ascertaining the comparative yields of grain and straw of the different varieties, the wheats have been closely examined each year for their quality of grain, time of maturity, strength of straw, freedom from rust, etc., in order to determine which kinds will give the most satisfactory results when grown under uniform conditions. After the various varieties have been carefully tested at the College for a few years those which have given the best satisfaction are selected for distribution throughout Ontario. This system of co-operative experimental work enables the farmers to determine for themselves which of the leading varieties will give the best results upon their own particular farms. As a practical result from obtaining information in this way, hundreds of farmers are now growing varieties in their regular farm practice, which were entirely unknown to them a short time ago. For instance, the Dawson's Golden Chaff variety of winter wheat, which has recently given such high average yields of grain per acre, both at the College and throughout Ontario, was scarcely known except in one neighbourhood near Guelph, until it was sown in our Experimental grounds in 1891, and afterwards distributed for co-operative experimental work. This is now one of the

MOST POPULAR VARIETIES OF WHEAT

in this Province.

In the fall of 1895 nine leading varieties of winter wheat were distributed in this way. They were divided into two sets with five varieties in each. The Dawson's Golden Chaff was used in both sets to form a basis by which the results of all the varieties could be compared with one another. Each person who wanted to conduct an experiment stated in his application which set he desired, and the five varieties in the set selected were sent to his address, with full instructions for conducting the experiment. The grain was sown at the rate of one and one-third bushels per acre, upon plots exactly uniform in size and shape. The yields per acre have been calculated from the actual results obtained from the plots.

Ninety reports of carefully conducted experiments have been received this season up to the time of writing. As these came from twenty-seven of the counties in Ontario, the results should be of real practical value to the farmers of the province.

The following table gives the comparative results of straw and grain per acre of the winter wheat varieties tested during the past season on ninety Ontario farms:

	Straw per Acre. Tons.	Grain per Acre. Bu.—60 lbs
(1) Dawson's Golden Chaff	1.39	36.9
(2) Jones' Winter Fife	1.45	76.4
(3) Pride of Genesee	1.30	35.0
(4) Early Red Clawson	1.27	34.9
(5) Surprise	1.27	33.8
(6) American Bronze	1.31	33.7
(7) Early Genesee Giant	1 26	33.1
(8) Bulgarian	1.20	31.9
(9) Jones' Square Head	1.12	30 2

CONCLUSIONS.

1. In average yield of winter wheat per acre, Dawson's Golden Chaff stood highest among eleven varieties tested over Ontario in 1893, nine varieties in 1894, nine varieties in 1895, and nine varieties in 1896, also among fifty-three varieties grown at the Agricultural College for five years in succession.

2. In the co-operative experiments for 1896, Dawson's Golden Chaff, Jones' Winter Fife, and Pride of Genesee gave the best yields on heavy soils, and Jones' Winter Fife, Dawson's Golden Chaff and Surprise, on light soils.

3. Pride of Genesee, Dawson's Golden Chaff and Jones' Winter Fife made the best appearance in the spring of 1896.

4. Early Genesee Giant, Early Red Clawson, Dawson's Golden Chaff and American Bronze possessed the stiffest straw in 1896.

5. Pride of Genesee, Jones' Winter Fife, Bulgarian and American Bronze produced the greatest length of straw.

6. Dawson's Golden Chaff, Bulgarian and Pride of Genesee were the least, and the Surprise, Early Genesee Giant and American Bronze were the most affected by rust.

7. Early Red Clawson and Dawson's Golden Chaff were the first to mature, and the Pride of Genesee, Early Genesee Giant and Bulgarian were the last to mature.

8. Dawson's Golden Chaff, Surprise and Early Red Clawson produced the plumpest grain, and Jones' Winter Fife and American Bronze the most shrunken grain.

9. Dawson's Golden Chaff was

with the experimenters, in each of the past four years; and in 1896, it was chosen by about fifty per cent. of the farmers who sent in full reports, as being the best among the varieties tested.

10. Six varieties of winter wheat have been tested over Ontario for three years in succession with the following average results in bushels of grain per acre: Dawson's Golden Chaff, 31.8; Jones' Winter Fife, 29.2; Early Genesee Giant, 28.5; Early Red Clawson, 28.4; American Bronze, 27.8; Surprise, 27.8; and Bulgarian, 27 2.

11. Reports of successful experiments with winter wheat have been received this season from twenty-seven counties in Ontario, sixteen of which are situated east, and eleven west of the city of Guelph.

12. The principal failures in the winter wheat experiments not included in this report, were caused by winter killing, grasshoppers, accidents, etc., and in some instances by the experimenters not conducting the tests in exact accordance with the instructions given.

13. Of the two hundred and eighty-four experimenters who have reported the results of their tests for 1896, only three speak of wishing to discontinue the co-operative experimental work, and much interest has been manifested throughout.

14. Varieties which have given good average results in the experiments at the College for a few years, have also given good satisfaction throughout Ontario.

DISTRIBUTION OF SEED FOR TESTING PURPOSES.

In the following table will be found three sets of winter wheat varieties which will be sent free, by mail, in half pound lots of each variety, to farmers applying for them, who will carefully test the three kinds in the set which they choose, and will report the results after harvest next year. The seed will be sent out in the order in which the applications are received as long as the supply lasts:

SET NO. 1.

Dawson's Golden Chaff.
Early Genesee Giant.
Early Red Clawson.

SET NO. 2.

Dawson's Golden Chaff.
Pride of Genesee.
Poole.

SET NO. 3.

Dawson's Golden Chaff.
Stewart's Champion.
Siberian.

Each person wishing one of these sets should write to the Experimentalist, Agricultural College, Guelph, mentioning which set he desires, and the grain, with instructions for testing, and blank forms on which to report, will be furnished free of cost, to his address until the supply of grain for distributing becomes exhausted.

ELEVEN GOOD MEN

Who Will Battle for Canada's Honor at Cricket.

THE TEAM FOR PHILADELPHIA.

Some Strong Players Unable to Take the Trip, Hamilton Has Three Men on the Team and Toronto Only Two — Baseball and Other Sports.

Toronto, Aug. 18.

Canadian Cricket Association representatives met last night at the Walker House for the purpose of selecting the eleven to meet Uncle Sam's team in the annual contest at Philadelphia next September 4 and 5. There were present Messrs. D. W. Saunders in the chair and also representing Vancouver; J. E. Hall, Hon. Sec.-Treas., representing Halifax; S. M. Cameron, Ontario Association; A. Gillespie, Hamilton and Ontario Association; A. H. Collins, London and Toronto; H. J. Martin, Rosedale; H. F. Petman, Hon. Assist. Sec.-Treas. The team.

George S. Lyon, Rosedale.
A. Gillespie, Hamilton.
W. H. Cooper, Trinity and Toronto.
F. C. Goldingham, Toronto.
J. Horstead, Chatham.
N. A. Henry, Halifax (captain).
J. M. Laing, Toronto.
Fitz Martin, Hamilton.
J. A. McIntosh, Halifax.
H. B. McGiverin, Hamilton.
M. A. Walker, London.

The game will likely be played on the Germantown grounds, Wissahickon. K. M. Cameron will act as Canadian scorer and A. Ficet umpire. Some surprise may be expressed at the selection of the Hamiltonians, although Henry should fill the office of captain satisfactorily. Saunders and Terry was unable to take the trip, while Wadsworth has been on an extensive camping outing, which interfered with his practice. E. O. Eckert and D'Arcy Martin are not on the eleven, as some of their friends expected. Dean and Leigh of Parkdale and Forrester of Rosedale were also passed over. Several spare men were selected, but it was thought best to withhold their names for the present. The men chosen met with no opposition at the meeting, as a ballot was not required in any case. A practice match will likely be arranged for the last of the month.

McIntosh and Horstead will do the wicket keeping for the Canadian team. McGiverin, Cooper, Laing, Goldingham, Gillespie, Lyon, Martin and Walker are all capable of doing good work with the ball. Without Saunders and Terry it looks a weak batting team.

The Phillies will treat the International match with Canada as a good practice prior to meeting the Australians, but the Canadians may fool them with the unanimously selected team.

The Australians have positively refused to come to Canada, as a sufficiently large gate could not be guaranteed them.

TO PLAY IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—The Australian cricketers will play here Oct. 14 and 15. The match has been arranged by the Wanderers Cricket Club, after a correspondence covering two months, with John F. Greene of Philadelphia, who is arranging the American end of the Antipodeans' tour. The Wanderers have not yet made any plans as to the team which will oppose the Australians. They certainly will make the Chicago side a representative one. One of the questions to be decided will be whether to play on even terms or to have 15 or 18 men on the Chicago side.

Mrs. Fannie Pollock Finds Her Wayward Husband in Chicago Living With Another Woman.

Chicago, Aug. 17.—A morning paper says after a search of 16 months, during which she visited nearly all the principal cities in the Middle and Eastern States, Mrs. Fannie Pollock last night found her husband, Alexander Pollock, at 160 South Morgan-street, and had him placed under arrest on charges of desertion and bigamy. Pollock deserted his wife and two children while they were changing cars in Ottawa, Canada, leaving them penniless. On Jan. 30 Pollock was married to Rose Linger at Buffalo. With his new wife, and accompanied by her father and mother, Pollock came to Chicago and purchased a jewelry store at Morgan and Madison-streets, and was conducting the business under the name of Jacob Suxe, assumed by him prior to his marriage with Rose Linker. When his young wife learned the truth she swooned.

TOM DEVANEY GETS LOOSE.

One of the Irish Dynamiters Quietly Released From Portland Prison Yesterday.

London, Aug. 17.—Thomas Devaney, one of the Irish dynamiters, who, in Edinburgh, in 1883, was sentenced to penal servitude for life, was released from Portland Prison this morning. Great precautions were taken to prevent his being recognized, as it was believed that the Irish and Irish sympathizers might attempt to make a demonstration. Immediately after his release, Devaney took a train for Glasgow.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak, shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness, I promise you perfect secrecy and as I do not wish to expose myself either, please address, simply: P. O. Box 388, London, Ont.

Light in Asia—It Shines Clearly.

MESSRS. T. MILBURN & Co., TORONTO:

Dear Sirs,—There is light in Asia after all and the man that advised me to try your Heart and Nerve Pills was a friend indeed and truly a friend in need. Before I started to take them I was languid, weak, sleepless and nervous. My brain was beclouded and I could not collect my thoughts, I had gone through an operation in the hope of relief, but still remained generally broken up, my appetite was gone and I was almost without hope or ambition.

But I feel thoroughly rebuilt through the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and it took only three or four weeks to do the work. I often think of the years of suffering I might have escaped had I only known of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills in time; but I am grateful to be restored to health at last and gladly recommend the medicine that cured.

RIOTING IN BELFAST.

This Occurred in Connection With the Nationalist Demonstrations in Favor of Amnesty to Irish Prisoners.

Belfast, Ireland, Aug. 17.—Serious rioting occurred here this morning in connection with the Nationalist demonstrations in favor of granting amnesty to the Irish political prisoners. There were several processions of Nationalists through the streets as a beginning, and they finally were merged into a large procession, headed by bands and men armed with spears. The procession soon attracted an immense crowd of people, and stone-throwing commenced. This served to enrage the Nationalists, and the bandsmen attacked the crowd with their spears, wounding many persons. The police charged the rioters and used their batons freely, with the result that several persons were hurt before order was restored. The rioting caused the greatest excitement throughout the city, and further disturbances are feared this evening if the Nationalists carry out their threat of returning in very much greater strength and marching in procession throughout the main streets of Belfast. The police, however, are taking steps to make a display of force calculated to prevent any further rioting.

A Railway Manager says:

"In reply to your question do my children object to taking Scott's Emulsion, I say No! on the contrary, they are fond of it and it keeps them pictures of health."

Foresters' Civic Holiday Excursion.

Court Littlejohn, No. 92, holds its ninth annual excursion on Civic Holiday, Aug. 20th, to Toronto, Niagara Falls and Buffalo. This is the finest excursion route in Canada. A rapid rail run to Toronto; then a breezy steam in a palatial steamer across Lake Ontario; then by electric railway, amidst the ever changing and peerless beauty of the towering rock walls of the rushing Niagara, every mile studded with scenic beauties, unsurpassed anywhere; then by steamer to Buffalo, the end of the journey. Round trip tickets at exceedingly low prices: From Peterborough to Toronto and return, $1.75; to Niagara Falls and return, $2.25; to Buffalo and return, $3. Toronto tickets good for two days, to the other points good for three days. Children under twelve half price. You cannot afford to miss this grand excursion. See small bills for particulars. Buy your ticket early.

Hurrah for Ottawa.

Don't forget the Lacrosse Club Excursion to Ottawa per C.P.R., good going on evening train on Wednesday, Aug. 19, or on all trains on Thursday, Aug. 20. Tickets good to return up to Aug. 22nd inclusive. The Hockey Club is advertising an excursion to Ottawa on same date. The distance from Peterborough to Ottawa by C.P.R. is 186 miles; by the Grand Trunk (via Coteau Landing) 398 miles—within thirty-two miles of twice as far as the C.P.R. The price by both roads is the same—$2.75 for return tickets. The rumour that the Lacrosse Club are going by Grand Trunk is untrue—they are going by the popular C P.R. route. The public will no doubt do the same. The following comparison speaks for itself :

VERY SUDDEN DEATH.

Mr. John Gamble Dies Whilst Conversing with His Wife.

Citizens of the town will be shocked to learn of the sudden death, last night, of Mr. John Gamble, one of the oldest and most respected residents of Peterborough.

Mr. Gamble, who was 82 years of age, was down town yesterday and enjoyed his usual health, apparently. After retiring last night he conversed for some time with his wife, but suddenly turned over in the bed and ceased to reply to her questions. Alarmed by being unable to get him to speak, Mrs. Gamble called her daughter, when it was found that the head of the household had passed away.

Dr. Fife was summoned, but he was only able to confirm what the grief-stricken family already knew.

The deceased was born in the North of Ireland in 1815 and after coming to America resided in Lower Canada for a time, where he fought on the Loyalist side in the Papineau rebellion. He afterwards came to reside in Peterborough, where he lived for over fifty years. Deceased was married 56 years ago and leaves a widow, 3 daughters and 2 sons, viz.: Mrs. George Dunsford, Peterborough; Mrs. James Roseborough, New York; Miss Maggie Gamble, who resides at home; Samuel Gamble, of New York, and David Gamble, of Ocala, Florida.

Mr. Gamble was a Methodist in religion and Conservative in politics. The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon, from the family residence, No. 200 Antrim street.

AFTER THE "GENERAL'S" SCALP

A Girl in Town who Promised to Kill Him on Sight.

It will be remembered that several months ago a couple of notorious characters were brought before the magistrate. They were women and the scene they created in the Police Court was one which passed description, as did the language which they used when sentenced to two years in the Mercer Reformatory.

One of the principal witnesses against the women was "General" Tighe, and it was in his evidence that the most damaging testimony came out, as to the nature of the characters which the prisoners bore.

At the conclusion of the trial the women fought like tigresses to get at Tighe in court, and the blood was streaming from the faces of the police officer before the infuriated prisoners were handcuffed and placed in the cells.

In some way one of the women has obtained her liberty from the Mercer and is again in town. As she vowed to come back and kill the "General" on sight, it looks black for him. The police are on the lookout to rid the town of so undesirable a character.

HAD THE "JIM-JAMS,"

The Man who was Fished out of the Lake is Allowed to go.

The man who was found in the Little Lake the night before the circus performance, and who was thought to be in a demented condition, was brought before the magistrate yesterday and discharged.

It seems that the man was fighting an attack of "snakes," or delirium tremens, when found, and in the cool cells of the gaol he has had an opportunity of coming to his senses.

This morning he stated that his vagaries were caused by an injection from a hypodermic syringe which was plunged into him by a circus employee, and which seemed to make liquid fire creep through his veins, and into his brain. By all appearances, however, DeMuy was suffering from an attack of the "jim-jams." In his story he says he was going from Hochelaga to Windsor with a friend, but left him at Toronto and turned back to Peterborough to get work.

BISHOP O'CONNOR'S EPISCOPAL TOUR.

A Successful Visitation—Evidences of Improvement—The Extent of the Journey.

Last evening His Lordship Bishop O'Connor returned in excellent health and spirits from his triennial tour of six weeks. He left Peterborough on the 2nd of July. He visited this time time the portions of his diocese bordering the Georgian Bay, those on Manitoulan Island, and the shore line missions, 60 miles west of Sault Ste. Marie.

He began his visitation at Killarney, on the shores of Georgian Bay, and proceeded westward. During his journey he administered the holy rite of confirmation at sixteen different points, confirming altogether 430 persons, an average of 26 at each mission. This is the result of four years work by the zealous missionaries. Since his last journey his Lordship noticed a decided improvement in the spiritual, mental and social condition of his flock, especially in the Indian missions where the labours of the Jesuit missionaries are being greatly rewarded. At Wikwimekong an important industrial school, consisting of two buildings for girls and boys respectively, is situated and is conducted by the Jesuit Fathers, with Rev. Father Paquin as superior. The government gives a per capita grant, graded according to attendance for 55 boys and 35 girls. At present there are 60 boys in residence and 45 day pupils. There are 50 girl boarders and 45 female day boarders. The boys, besides literary subjects, are practically taught the principal trades and the girls are taught sewing, cooking, etc. The school has been in operation 15 years and there are evidences of its benefits in the village where residences akin to those of English speaking villages are erected by ex pupils and several industries of civilization are carried on. In this district the majority of the Indians are Roman Catholics. On the Manitoulin Islands there are 1,702 Roman Catholics, 261 Protestants and 22 pagans. His Lordship was greatly pleased with the most cordial demonstrations of welcome made in his honour, especially by the Indians. The whole population, men, women and children, would meet him on his landing (he travelled chiefly by water) firing salutes, and would then escort him to the church. Canoes and sail boats were the chief means of travel, and at times there were rather exciting experiences to a landsman, but no accident of moment occurred. At one point the electric launch belonging to Rev. Father Paquin, Superior of the Industrial School, was placed at his Lordship's disposal. This craft is used for visiting the missions and serves a very useful purpose.

Being so much in the open air has visibly improved his Lordship's strength and health, so that he returns home to the routine discharge of his episcopal duties with renewed physical vigour, and with spirits animated by the pleasant remembrances of the marked advances the interests of Mother Church are making in the northwestern portions of his large diocese.

The scenery on the trip to Ottawa, via Grand Trunk and Canada Atlantic is the most picturesque in the Dominion. Travel where you can see something.

PERSONAL.

Mr. W. Manning's condition was reported to be improved this morning.

Miss Gertie Dunne is home after spending a pleasant week's holiday at Chemong.

Mr. J. H. Fife, of the Collegiate Institute staff, is spending a week or so near Hastings.

Miss Gertie Haisley, Cobourg, is the guest of Miss Elsie Gibbs, Chambers street, town.

Miss Birdie Carey has returned to Toronto after spending a few days with friends in town.

Mr. T. J. Cleary, of the American Tobacco Co., is in town visiting his parents on Stewart street.

Mrs. C. B. McAllister is home, after spending a pleasant week with Mrs. W. A. Sanderson at the Lakes.

Miss Eva Dunne has returned from Chemong and will spend a week in town before returning to Kingston.

Mr. R. B. McKee returned to town last night after spending a few days with Mr. J. R. Stratton at Stony Lake.

Mr. Paul Stoeving, violinist, will assist in the musical part of the service in St. John's church next Sunday.

Mr. Wm. Walsh's many friends were greatly pleased to see him able to resume business this week after his long illness.

Mr. Jim Craig, nephew of Mr. John Craig, M.P.P., of Fergus, passed through yesterday on his way home from the Lakes.

Mr. and Miss Horner of Toronto, have returned home after spending a week at Chemong as guests at Mr. Dunne's cottage.

Councillor Graham, who is executing a contract in Hull, was in town yesterday, and attended the meeting of the council.

Mr. Alf. Terrill has returned to town, after spending the last several days at the lakes, as a guest at the cottage of Mr. J. B. McWilliams and Mr. John Craig, M. P.

Mr. George Johnston and wife, of Boston, passed through this morning from the American camp, Stony Lake, on their way home. The Americans are having a particularly jolly time this year.

Mrs. Dixon is at present a guest at "Tecumseh," Mr. J. B. McWilliams' pleasant Stony Lake cottage. On Thursday Mrs. Dixon will leave to spend a few days with Mrs. W. A. Sanderson, further down the lake.

Dr., Mrs. and Miss Rodenstein, of New York, are the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Kempt, corner of George and Murray streets. Dr. Rodenstein founded the Manhattan Hospital, N.Y., and is a distinguished member of his profession.

Father Kelity leaves for the East to-day to recuperate among his friends down there. Before leaving he expressed the deepest admiration for the great ability Dr. Moher displayed in the treatment of a most decidedly difficult attack of sickness. Father Keilty also expressed his warmest thanks for the many fervent prayers offered for him during his prostration by kind friends—Protestants and Catholics.

Out of Tooth Powder?

Then get the best. The best is Ivorine. "Best" because it whitens the teeth and does not destroy the enamel. Good as the best in fragrance, cleansing and polishing properties. Better than most, as it contains no acids to destroy. Better than all because pleasant, fragrant, cleansing and whitening, all the good qualities combined. Ivorine for the teeth alone can claim to be the best.

SALE OF BURNT TIMBER.

A quantity of pine timber, estimated at about four million feet, B. M., situated on lot 4 in the 2nd con. and lots 3 and 4 in the 3rd con. of the Township of Rathbun, north east of Wahnapitae Lake, in the District of Nipissing; and a quantity estimated at four and one half million feet, B.M., situated on the shore of Lake Biscotasing, in the District of Algoma, on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, having been damaged by fire, the undersigned hereby calls for tenders for the right to cut the same.

Tenders will be received up to and including the Seventh day of September next, and must state the rate per thousand feet board measure, if made into saw logs, or per thousand feet cubic, if made into square timber, which the tenderer is willing to pay as bonus or in addition to the ordinary Crown dues of one dollar per thousand feet board measure, on saw logs, and twenty dollars per thousand feet cubic on square timber. Separate tenders should be made for each quantity, and must be accompanied by a marked cheque for $300. The party awarded the right to cut will have to give a bond, with satisfactory sureties, for the performance of all the terms and conditions which may be required by the Department.

Mr. F. Sinclair, Forest Ranger at Sudbury, will give information respecting the timber, etc, and further particulars as to conditions may be obtained from this Department.

The figures as to quantity represent the Department's estimate only, and intending purchasers must satisfy themselves as to quantities and purchase upon their own estimates. The Department does not bind itself to accept the highest or any tender. Tenders should be marked "Tenders for Burnt Timber," and addressed to the Hon. the Commissioner of Crown Lands, Toronto.

J. M. GIBSON,
Commissioner of Crown Lands.

AN IMPERATIVE SACRIFICE

TO GET RID OF

OVERSTOCKS.

It's a pressing, urgent necessity, to get rid of the surplus Goods. The Big Store's remarkably Low Prices last week helped us to dispose of a large quantity of merchandise despite the hot spell, but a great many departments are still flooded with goods, which must be disposed of and at once. Remember prices are dragged down here in every department to make this sale mean something to you. We cut prices to make it an object and benefit for you to buy your goods now, whether you need them or not. Grand values that would be impossible to give under ordinary conditions. We must unload and here are bargains that will make you eager to help us :—

COUNCILLORS NOT READY TO VOTE APPARENTLY.

The Awarding of the Tender for Street Lighting May Cause a Good Deal of Trouble Before the Matter is Finally Settled—The Estimates Presented and the Rate Struck Last Night.

At the special meeting of the Town Council last evening Councillor Sawers occupied the chair, in the absence of Mayor Yelland, and the following other members of the council were in attendance, viz:—Messrs. Best, J. M. White, Hughes, Mills, Danne, Phelan, Weir, Moore, Langford, Graham and W. H. White.

COMMUNICATIONS

were received as appended:—

From E. B. Stone, calling attention to an account of Mr. Zimri Blodgett, which if not paid will be placed in the courts.—Received.

Councillor Moore stated that the account, for six or seven dollars, for street watering on Sunday, had already come before the Finance Committee, but that it had been ascertained that only one-half days work had been authorized and a cheque for $1 50 had been offered and refused by Mr. Blodgett.

Councillor Langford confirmed this statement.

From E. B. Edwards, enclosing bylaw to fix the rates of the current year, and stating that the date named for the adding of 5 per cent. to be changed to the 14th and not the 10th of December.—Received.

From J. Green, solicitor for Georgiana J. Jackson, stating that if an immediate settlement was not made regarding the accident with which she met that an action would be entered in the courts.—Received.

Councillor Langford stated that the matter had been left in the hands of the mayor, and doubtless he would have some statement to make in regard to the matter at the next meeting of the council.

From Mrs. Sarah Drake, asking for a remittance of her taxes.—Referred to the Court of Revision.

From the Canadian General Electric Company, asking for the placing of a hydrant at the intersection of Park and Reid streets, in order to afford them more protection in case of fire.—Referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

From F. T. Robinson, enclosing an account of $2 for repairs to his buggy, the damage being caused by a broken plank in the bridge on the corner of Brock and Aylmer streets.—On motion of Councillors Mills and Moore, the account was ordered to be paid.

Councillor Moore stated that the horse's two hind feet had gone through the bridge, forcing up a plank in such a manner as to damage the buggy to the extent stated.

From the Department of Railways and Canals, stating that the Auburn bridge, when built, would be the property of the Grand Trunk railway and therefore the Government had no power to grant the town's request in regard to the building of a highway bridge in connection with it.

Councillor Moore moved that active measures be taken at once in regard to furthering this scheme of the corporation. He suggested that a committee be appointed to go to Ottawa in connection with the matter.

Councillor Langford stated that one of the engineers had told him that the decking and upper portion of the bridge was being constructed by the Grand Trunk Company. He thought that the railway authorities should also be seen in the matter.

Councillor Hughes urged prompt action and suggested the names of the Mayor and Councillors Moore and Mills. He moved accordingly and the Committee will probably go to Ottawa to urge on the Department the necessity of assisting the town to accomplish this project.

From John H. Southard, asking if he could get a rebate on a license for peddling fruit to an extent to make the license cost him $15.—Referred to the License Committee.

ACCOUNTS

were received and referred to the Finance Committe as follows:—

E McDonald	$11 00

The assets, Councillor Moore pointed out, were the same as last year, the health account $50.00 less, the commissioners called for $1,395 00 of an increase, the charity expenditure has decreased $500, and $450 less was required for the fire department, although 350 feet of new hose was being purchased. The hydrant account is increased by $110, the light account is the same, the law expenses have increased by $925, being accounted for by the losing of the Mason case. The expenses of the market have increased $50, and the miscellaneous expenses are $450 higher. There is a decrease in the expenses of municipal government of $100, but the the cost of keeping up the Public Schools has increased by $2 500. The printing committee has cut down its expenses by $300, and the property committee by $50. There is an increase in the street watering account of $200, and a decrease in the special grants of $575.

As will be observed, explained Councillor Moore, there is always a certain increase and decrease. Mr. Sawers is entitled to great credit for cutting down the charity account by $500. No one had complained of the town not being liberal in this matter. Yet none had received charity who were undeserving. There had been, he observed a large increase in expenditure, but a great deal of this was of a nature over which the council had no control. The streets and bridges would have required a great deal less if $6000 had not been spent in improving George street. The three principal items covering the increase were: The call of the Town Trust for an amount equalling 2 10 mills, the extra provision required by the public schools, equalling 7-10 mills, and 1 10 mill extra expenditure by the town.

Councillor Moore then made a few remarks covering the financial condition of the town, which was listened to with flattering attention by the councillors and others present. On January 1st, he stated, the debenture debt amounted to $206,550, but in making this statement it was only right that the town's assets should be set off against the debt, by which process the real indebtedness could be calculated. Councillor Moore stated his intention of only utilizing the productive and available assets, and not the town property which laid idle and brought in no revenue. The assets were as follows, the amount of their value being calculated from the amount of revenue derived, the interest being fixed at 3 1 2 per cent.:

Midland Railway Bonds	$41,000
Sinking Funds	21,000
Market Block	25,000
Four town lots	1,550
New market and land rental	30,000
Market square	30,000
Municipal buildings	15,000
	$163,550

The liabilities over the assets therefore amount to but $100,000, which could not be considered as at all excessive, but in reality trifling as compared with the debt of other towns of about the same size as Peterborough, whose rate, as could be seen, was also greatly in excess of that just struck here:

	Rate.	Assessment.	Debt.
Belleville	2¼	$4,000,000	$458,000
Chatham	20	3,500,000	301,000
Guelph	24	3,700,000	480,000
Stratford	20	4,470,000	347,000
Windsor	2¼	5,5?0,000	850,000
Peterborough	17	4,400,000	100,000

As will be seen, said Councillor Moore in conclusion, no town or city of the same size in Canada can boast so low a debt and so small a rate.

Councillor Hughes expressed the belief that the statement was one of the fullest and most complete reports which had ever been presented to the Council. He and a number of the other councillors warmly congratulated Mr. Moore.

THE FIRE, WATER AND LIGHT COMMITTEE, through Councillor Mills, its Chairman, presented the following report:—

Your committee, as instructed, advertised for tenders for electric light for street lighting and received two tenders, one from the Peterborough Light and Power Company and one from Mr. W. H. Meldrum. The tenders are attached to this report and, as will be seen by the tenders, that of Mr. Meldrum is the lowest. When the tenders were opened a sub-committee was appointed to consult with the Light and Power Company with a view to the town purchasing their at cost poles, so as to avoid having two sets of poles on the street, and last Friday evening a meeting of the committee was held to meet representatives of the Company. Practical difficulties appeared in the way of the town purchasing the poles and renting the use of them to different companies, and the Peterborough Light and Power Company offered to furnish the lights at $57.50 a year for one or two years, the price in Mr. Meldrum's tender for a five year contract. A written offer from the company to that effect is also attached to this report.

Your committee recommend that a new contract be entered into with the Peterborough Light and Power Company for eighty or more arc lights at $57.50 a year per light for five years with the option on the part of the town to terminate the contract at any time after the expiration of two years, the other conditions to be the same as those of the present contract.

Your committee recommend that the Light and Power Company be instructed to move the light at the corner of Charlotte and Water streets to the east side of Water street.

ILLNESS OF HON. W. D. BALFOUR.

The intelligence to be found in our news colums of the painful illness of Hon. W. D. Balfour, the new Provincial Secretary, will come as a painful surprise. Only fairly installed in office, he is cut down by death, for, according to the latest reports, his condition is so serious that his demise is only a matter of time.

An Age of Substitution.

Keenness of competition is the characteristic of the age. Not in old channels of routine is trade permitted to flow, but in channels newly hewn out of the solid rock of opposition by brains and energy. Good, in its way, is this. If, however, it give rise to dishonest methods, then an evil does it certainly become. An eminent physician had occasion recently to prescribe that well-known nutrient and tonic, Maltine with Coca Wine. His patient, an active public man, had gone all to pieces; nerves unstrung, sleepless, appetite and digestion sadly impaired—almost a total wreck. By unfailing experience the doctor knew it to be the right thing. Well, the patient made no progress, and investigation established the fact that the druggist had substituted another preparation—"just as good" of course—to secure slightly increased profit. The doctor soon saw that his patient secured the genuine Maltine with Coca Wine, with the expected result, for his patient improved from the start.

Moral:—Get Maltine with Coca Wine when you ask for it and don't be imposed upon. Sold by all druggists.

How much business can a man do whose system is in a state of disorder? Headache is only a symptom. It is not a disease. The pain in the head is the sign of rebellion. There have been mistakes in diet. There has been overwork and sleepless nights. The machinery of the whole system is demoralized. A business man feels that he cannot afford to be ill enough to quit work. He drags along day after day, makes bad deals, says the wrong thing, and health and business collapse together. There's no need of either disaster. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a gentle, effective renovator of both stomach and bowels. They assist nature without threatening to tear the body piece-meal. There are no griping pains, no nausea. One is a barely perceptible laxative. Two give more noticable results, and they may be continued until the system is throughly renovated, strengthened, and put into harmony with nature. One need not tear a "habit" of taking the "Pleasant Pellets." As soon as health is restored they may be discarded without a return of illness because of their absence. Therefore, you don't become a slave to their use.

A GREAT BOOK FREE.

When Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., published the first edition of his work, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, he announced that after 680,000 copies had been sold at the regular price, $1.50 per copy, the profit on which would repay him for the great amount of labor and money expended in producing it, he would distribute the next half million free. As this number of copies has already been sold, he is now distributing, absolutely free, 500,000 copies of this most complete, interesting and valuable common sense medical work ever published—the recipient only being required to mail to him, at the above address, thirty-one (31) cents in one-cent stamps to cover customs and mailing only and the book will be sent post-paid. It is a veritable medical library, complete in one volume. It contains over 1000 pages and more than 300 illustrations. The Free Edition is precisely the same as those sold at $1.50 except only that the book is are bound in strong manilla paper covers instead of cloth. Send now before all are given away

OVATION TO LIEUTENANT MUNRO.

The Thoroldite Did Well at Bisley, and His Townsmen Showed Their Marked Appreciation of His Work.

Thorold, Aug. 17.—A grand reception was given to-night to Lieut. Munro, a Thoroldite, who has been so successful at Bisley at the late rifle matches, and who just returned home this evening. He was met at the Grand Trunk Station by Capt. Stull's troop of cavalry of Virgil, two fire companies and brass band of Merritton, the 19th Batt. bugle band of St. Catharines, under Col. Carlisle; the Thorold brass band and Thorold fire companies, the town fathers, and the citizens and visitors in carriages and thousands on foot lined the streets.

After the procession formed and paraded the principal streets of the town, a halt was called at the grand stand, where an address was presented, and replied to in a neat little speech from the gallant lieutenant. Patriotic speeches were delivered also by William McCleary, M.P., Mayor McGill, John H. Thompson of The Thorold Post, William Williams, Jos. Battle, James Buttler, George Turner, John McDonagh, D. B. Cromble, Col. Carlisle, Capt. McMicking and William Dougan. The guest of the evening was then escorted to his home. The fine music of the visiting bands and the excellent drill of the fire companies were much appreciated by the people. Refreshments were served in the Town Hall to the visitors.

TWO GREAT OLD HEADS.

Li Hung Chang Pays a Visit to England's Grand Old Man, Gladstone—They Were Photographed Together.

London, Aug. 16.—Li Hung Chang visited Mr. Gladstone yesterday at Hawarden Castle, and the two carried on quite a long conversation through the medium of an interpreter. The meeting took place in the drawing-room in the presence of Mr. Gladstone's family. The Chinese statesman complimented Mr. Gladstone upon his services to his country, to which the latter replied that he had done all he could, but would have liked to have done more. In accordance with Chinese etiquette, Li Hung Chang propounded numerous questions, chiefly relating to public topics.

In replying to one of the questions Mr. Gladstone advocated economy in public expenditures, whereupon Li Hung Chang said that the revenue of Great Britain was so large that she could afford to dispense with economy.

Mr. Gladstone adduced reasons why economy was a necessity, and Li remarked that British interests in the trade of China were greater than those of all the other powers combined. Mr. Gladstone thereupon entered upon a strong advocacy of free trade, and said he hoped Great Britain would always be as attached to this system as she is now. He added that he rejoiced that China was also mainly a free trade country.

Li Hung Chang interposed with the remark that it was necessary to place some restrictions upon the merchants. Chinese finances, he said, needed constant consideration and discussion. China could not be properly developed until it was intersected with railways.

Li Hung Chang and Mr. Gladstone were later photographed together. After leaving Hawarden Castle Li Hung Chang proceeded to Barrow.

JILTED BY A DANCER.

Count Arthur Pallavicini Shoots Himself—Asked the Vaudeville Artist to Press a Kiss on His Coffin.

Budapest, Aug. 16.—The funeral of Count Arthur Pallavicini, a lieutenant of Hussars, who committed suicide, took place yesterday. Social circles are discussing nothing else but the young man's untimely end.

The lieutenant was a handsome, well educated man, 21 years old. The Barrison sisters, vaudeville stars, whose career in New York and Berlin caused considerable comment, are playing here at a music hall. Count Pallavicini saw the sisters and fell deeply in love with one of them, Ethel Barrison. He obtained an introduction to the girl, and after several visits proclaimed his love. The actress and dance artist laughed at the Count, who declared he would kill himself if she did not return his affection. She paid no attention to his threats of suicide, and refused to change her manner toward him.

Count Pallavicini carried out his threat last Tuesday. He was found dead on the floor in his room, with a bullet through his body. In his right hand was a revolver, and in his left a photograph of Ethel Barrison, and a slip of paper on which was written: "I beg that Miss Ethel Barrison will come to my coffin and press a kiss upon it."

The strange nature of the suicide aroused much interest, and there was considerable unfavorable comment made on the American music hall artists. No one imagined Ethel Barrison would attend the Count's funeral, but yesterday she appeared at the services dressed in deep mourning.

The suicide of Count Pallavicini has caused a revival of the stories in which the Barrison sisters have figured, including the elopement of one of the sisters with Count Bernstorff of Berlin.

Then it is recalled that in February last Count von Wedel, a young officer in the German army, was arrested for having pawned jewelry which he had purchased on instalments. The disclosures which followed showed that the young man had spent quite a fortune on the Barrison sisters, and that when his money became exhausted he obtained funds in the manner stated in order to spend it upon them. It was stated that Count von Wedel was only one of a number of members of the nobility who had become victims of the enchantments of the American serpentine dancers. When these facts became known, the sisters were ordered to cease their exhibitions in Berlin and leave Germany.

The Barrison sisters made their first appearance on the stage in New York several years ago. They were born in Denmark.

TWO WERE DROWNED.

A Terrible Accident at Amherst, N.S.—The Yacht Capsized and the Tide Carried Away the Victims.

Amherst, N.S., Aug. 16.—A terrible accident occurred near here late yesterday afternoon, whereby two young and useful lives were suddenly cut short. A man named Smith, belonging to Boston, who has been spending the summer at Minudie, built a yacht, and yesterday afternoon, with two young men, Cormier and Brien, went up the river to try her. The centre-board of the yacht became fastened in the flats and immediately upset, filling with water, and sank. The three young men clung to the shad nets which are strung along the river. After sinking the boat came up, and young Smith, who could swim, jumped from the nets and, catching hold of the boat, was saved. Brien and Cormier clung to the nets and the tide soon washed them off, when they immediately sank. Fishermen on the shore saw the accident, but were, owing to the want of boats and the force of the tide, powerless to render any assistance. Brien was the son of Savien Brien, aged 30 years, married and small family. Cormier, about 19 years of age, was employed with Rufus Hibberd, Lower Cove, and unmarried.

Lightning Strikes a Boat in the Napanee River, Killing Two Girls on Their Way to Sunday School.

Napanee, Aug. 16.—About 11 o'clock this forenoon during a heavy thunder-storm three little girls were crossing Napanee River, about four miles up in a boat on their way to Sunday school, when lightning struck and killed two of them and rendered the other unconscious for a time. The ages of the dead girls were about 10 and 12 years. One was named Lindsay and the other Ellis.

THE WOMEN TOO.

Back Talk Not Man's Monopoly.

Mrs. Jemima Cole, Havelock, told the following wonderful story:—"For a great many years I have suffered from disease of the kidneys. The pains in my back and side were sometimes excruciating.

"My limbs were so swollen that I could scarcely lift my feet from the floor, and I was in great agony nearly all the time. I thought that I would surely die from the pain.

"I have taken dozens of advertised remedies, but got no better during their use. I was also treated by several doctors, but am sorry to say they did me little or no good. In fact they stated that they could do me no good, which made me despair of ever getting better.

"When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised I sent to W. H. Jeff & Co's. drugstore and got a box thinking I would try them as a last resort.

"The change from the start was very great and now after one month I am free from all pain. The swelling has gone down and I feel quite strong and healthy.

"I was also troubled with rheumatism and neuralgia which have completely disappeared, thanks to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. In fact I do not think there is a medicine in the world that in such a short time could have taken me from the almost dying condition in which I was to the healthy and vigorous state that I am in now.

"I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for their wonderful virtues in curing kidney troubles."

HIS LAST ASCENSION.

Frank Jacobs Went Into Mid-Air for the 1005th and Last Time—An Awful Fall.

Quincy, Ill., Aug. 16.—Frank Jacobs of Cincinnati, a balloonist, made his 1005th and last ascension at Baldwin Park this evening. Jacobs and a local aeronaut named Dudly were to give a balloon and parachute race. Both balloons were cut loose together, and when 150 feet high Jacobs' balloon burst. Jacobs cut loose from it with his parachute, which failed to open, and the man shot downward at a terrific rate of speed. He struck the ground feet first and was picked up in an unconscious condition and carried to the tent, where he died half an hour later. Both legs were horribly mangled, and his neck and two ribs were broken. Jacobs' wife and child were among the spectators.

Mr. Natanael Mortonson, a well-known citizen of Ishpeming, Mich., and editor Superior Posten, who, for a long time, suffered from the most excruciating pains of rheumatism, was cured eight years ago, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, having never felt a twinge of it since.

THE EYES OF THE WORLD

Are Fixed Upon South American Nervine.

Beyond Doubt the Greatest Medical Discovery of the Age.

WHEN EVERY OTHER HELPER HAS FAILED IT CURES

A Discovery, Based on Scientific Principles, that Renders Failure Impossible.

In the matter of good health temporizing measures, while possibly successful for the moment, can never be lasting. Those in poor health soon know whether the remedy they are using is simply a passing incident in their experience, bracing them up for the day, or something that is getting at the seat of the disease and is surely and permanently restoring.

The eyes of the world are literally fixed on South American Nervine. They are not viewing it as a nine-days' wonder, but critical and experienced men have been studying this medicine for years, with the one result—they have found that its claim of perfect curative qualities cannot be gainsaid.

The great discoverer of this medicine was possessed of the knowledge that the seat of all disease is the nerve centres, situated at the base of the brain. In this belief he had the best scientists and medical men of the world occupying exactly the same premises. Indeed, the ordinary layman recognised this principle long ago. Everyone knows that let disease or injury affect this part of the human system and death is almost certain. Injure the spinal cord, which is the medium of these nerve centres, and paralysis is sure to follow.

Here is the first principle. The trouble with medical treatment usually, and with nearly all medicines, is that they aim simply to treat the organ that may be diseased. South American Nervine passes by the organs, and immediately applies its curative powers to the nerve centres, from which the organs of the body receive their supply of nerve fluid. The nerve centres healed, and of necessity the organ which has shown the outward evidence only of derangement is healed. Indigestion, nervousness, impoverished blood, liver complaint, all owe their origin to a derangement of the nerve centres. Thousands bear testimony that they have been cured of these troubles, even when they have become so desperate as to baffle the skill of the most eminent physicians, because South American Nervine has gone to headquarters and cured there.

The eyes of the world have not been disappointed in the inquiry into the success of South American Nervine. People marvel, it is true, at its wonderful medical qualities, but they know beyond all question that it does everything that is claimed for it. It stands alone as the one great certain curing remedy of the nineteenth century. Why should anyone suffer distress and sickness while this remedy is practically at their hands?

Nervous Prostration

Complete Recovery by the Use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have been fatherless to-day had it not been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, of which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. O. HINSON, Postmaster and Planter, Kinard's, S. C.

FIXING OLD HORSES.

SO THAT THE ANCIENTS WILL APPEAR YOUNG AND DESIRABLE.

Some of the Tricks of the Horse Mart to Make the Old Hacks Frisky and Game—Even a Professional Buyer Is Sometimes Puzzled Nowadays.

While nearly every man, says the New York Journal, probably thinks he is quite capable of judging the points of any horse he sees, there is really not one out of a hundred who could fathom a twentieth part of the tricks played every day in the places of the city where horses are bought and sold.

Take one little scheme that the swindling horse sellers of to-day have continually in practice. By common consent and by tradition the best accepted way of telling whether a horse is old or young is to examine his teeth. Twenty years ago almost any amateur would have been able to pass upon the age of a horse merely by making a careful examination of his mouth. But now the horse tricksters manipulate the teeth of an old steed so deftly that it takes a skilled horse surgeon to find them out.

The trick is called "bishoping." An old horse is taken and cavities are cut into the front teeth by the use of a diamond drill and a jeweller's drill brace. It is an exceedingly delicate operation, but one that is readily to be accomplished with a steady hand and afterward blackened by nitrate of silver so that all trace of their having been recently cut is removed.

The horse "jip" is not in any way the character he was a quarter of a century ago. Then, though clever, he was a comparatively ignorant bungler. To-day he has all the equipment of horse science at his command, and it takes a wonderfully expert veterinarian to guard against his frauds at every possible point. It is a comparatively easy thing to guard if the buyer will only take proper precautions. In the reputable horse salesrooms a buyer is allowed several days for careful examination before he closes his purchase. This is given so that a thorough and complete veterinary examination may be made. Where no such time is allowed, the man who has an eye upon a horse, no matter how superb that horse may look as he is brought out for sale, had better have a care.

Perhaps the most clever trick that is in existence to-day in the patching up of a worthless horse is the way animals with "sweeneyed" shoulders are handled. "Sweeneyed" shoulders means shoulders whose muscles have wasted away. This disease is a frequent one with old, worn out horses. It is overcome by blowing up the skin, either with a goose quill or by a hypodermic syringe. The latter is much the better method for it leaves less of a wound.

It is, however, very easy to detect the fraud. Close examination reveals that the shoulders have no muscular development, that the ridges of the muscles are not shown, and that it is all one even surface simply bulged out.

The same trick is tried over the eye. In old horses there is a hollow cavity, which does not exist in young animals. A little work with an empty hypodermic syringe gives a plump appearance to the flesh over the eye and makes the horse seem young again.

Glass eyes are very frequently inserted, and it is an easy operation, six muscles and the optic nerve having to be cut when the artificial eye is inserted. These eyes are made to look very natural, indeed, and the best way of telling that they are glass is to simply move a finger rapidly up and down before the eye to be tested. If the eye is a natural one and in good condition, the horse will wink and blink and commence to toss his head.

The schemes that are resorted to to put a broken-down old horse into temporarily good form are innumerable, and most of them are very clever. What is called "mechanical" lameness, i. e., a defect in the articulation of the joints, cannot, of course, be cured or even minimized. There is no chance of patching up a horse afflicted in that way. But, on the other hand, chronic lameness is very readily to be treated so as to deceive everybody but an expert. What makes a horse step lame under these conditions is because the movement hurts it. The trickster in this event injects one-half of a drachm of a 5 per cent. solution of cocaine in each side of the leg, in this way deadening the nerve. The horse steps precisely as well as if he had absolutely nothing the matter with him, and he will do so for an hour at least, or during the time of the sale, at any rate.

A horse that kicks can be made as quiet as a lamb for a long time, merely by the injection of opiates, of which hyoscyamus or henbane is the best. Cocaine is also made use of to render a decrepit old steed lively. Five grains of cocaine properly applied will make a played-out animal as lively as a 2-year-old for several hours. Still another trick is the repairing of defective hoofs that have cracks in them, by filling up these cracks with gutta percha.

Two other tricks are well worth the mentioning. Both of them have regard to coach horses. While it is possible to buy horses of pretty nearly every other kind at low prices nowadays, good coach horses still command a good premium, and a good pair of them will bring high values. There is a constant demand and an increasing one for horses of this type, but they must have capital action and perfect movement. Consequently there is a keen competition on the part of the "jips" to bring old horses seemingly up to this required level. A coach horse, to be all that is desired, must hold his head up. The "jips" can make a horse do this by putting sand in his ears. Then, again, they have solved the problem of how to make a horse champ artificially. They tie a bag of aloes or arsenic under his bit, and the old worn-out animal, that has none of the real qualifications for prancing in front of my lady's brougham, under the influence of these drugs in his mouth wakes up, careers in the most haughty way and froths at the mouth as if he were to the manner born.

Treatment of the Shoulders.

Though great width across the shoulders is not now a part of the style, yet blouse trimmings continue to show a certain preoccupation with the shoulders. The eye is carried out over the sleeve with either a yoke collar or equalets sewed into the armholes, or a longer equalet that runs from the neck over the shoulder seam to fall upon the sleeve. This last is sometimes tucked, and may be bordered with lace or a ruffle so as to almost as large as a yoke. As a variation the popularity of the wide corselet belt has suggested the application of trimming to the lower half of the blouse, that is worn with a narrow belt. Thus a green stamine blouse has flax-colored guipure applied to the lower part in strips running up and down, with the upper ends pointed and a narrow edge of lace running around and joining the points into one outline. The close part of the sleeve is covered with the lace and the upper part is left plain. The effect is really the same as that of a yoke and equalets, only the position of the trimming reversed. An infinity of changes are played on the bolero, which taken altogether is perhaps the most successful idea of the summer.

Foreshadowing Next Winter.

That next winter is to see our arms tightly encased in sheathlike sleeves there seems very little doubt. There is a marked shrinking in size already, and the exaggeratedly large sleeve already looks passe. The new styles, though, are too extreme to become popular at once, and they are certainly most unbecoming. Two silk waists just finished to wear with duck skirts are very odd. One of flame-colored taffeta; changeable from the deep flame to pale yellow, has the fronts of the waist in full folds crossed over the bust; the sleeves fit tight to the arm, except just at the elbow where there is a clear, full puff that looks like a pin-cushion. The other model is of shaded mauve silk, and the sleeves are shirred from shoulder to wrist; apparently the silk used is very narrow, for the edges stick out "like quills upon the fretful porcupine," and look like ridges up and down the arm. No softening effect of lace or embroidery is on these waists, which have just been turned out by one of the smartest modistes.—Harper's Bazar.

Why It Was Rejected.

Alphaca, as I predicted, has not had great success with Parisians, who have preferred, on the whole, to choose for their outing gowns either pique or serge. This material started out the season with a blast of trumpets, but must now be hunted for in the dark corners of the shops. The manufacturers counted without the host. It has a quality too poor; it is inflexible and refuses an intimate relation with the figure, and women have very generally rejected it for gowns.—Paris correspondent Indianapolis News.

Summer Comes

With the flowers and sunshine. Birds pour out their melody and the chirp of the grasshopper will soon tempt the fisherman to stretch forth his hands and grasp the shadow of his flight. The playful mosquito will do her utmost to soothe weary pleasure seekers into the realms of slumber, and the singing, aching corns will remore every semblance of comfort, make sad the song of the birds, evoke cloudiness in the soul, that even the brightest sunshine can not dispel. Corns are thorns in the flesh, but Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor removes them in twenty-four hours. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor is the best.

Egg Beverages.

Beverages containing a raw egg are becoming deservedly popular during these warm days. At a drug store where the proprietor has been doing business for the past thirty years, says the New York Times, they are famous for these drinks. One great beauty of them is that there is a farm annex to the establishment. It may not have been purchased for that purpose, but it is certain that the proprietor has a farm and eggs from it are brought in fresh every morning. As a consequence he has a generous patronage.

There is a vast deal of difference, not only in the quality of the eggs put into these beverages, but in the manner of preparation. The person who drinks them soon becomes a connoisseur. In some places a large quantity of the beaten egg is kept on hand, but eggs are much better freshly broken. A good egg well shaken in a vessel a quarter filled with cracked ice and then strained into a glass is at its best.

The Peterborough Light and Power Company's tender was as appended:

For lighting 300 nights in the year—
A two-year contract.....25 cts. per light
A three-year contract .....24½ "
A five-year contract .....24 "

For lighting every night in the year—
A two-year contract.....24 cts. per light
A three-year contract .....23½ "
A five-year contract..... 23 "

W. H. Meldrum's tender:

For lighting 300 nights in the year—
A two-year contract.....$65 00 per light
A three-year contract..... 62 50 "
A five-year contract ..... 57 50 "

For lighting every night in the year—
A two-year contract.....$70 00 per light
A three-year contract..... 67 50 "
A five-year contract ..... 62 50 "

Reckoning on the basis of a five-year contract for 300 nights in the year, the figures of the two tenders compared as follows:

Peterborough L. and P. Co.....$72 00 per light
W. H. Meldrum..... 57 50 "

Councillor Mills stated that he would merely move the reception, not the adoption of the report, as it was not in accordance with his views on the matter.

Councillors W. J. White and Graham moved the adoption.

Councillor Moore regretted very much the circumstances under which the report had been sent in to the Council. He could not see how at the last meeting of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, representatives from one Company had been admitted and allowed to offer a fresh tender, whilst the other tenderer had no notice of the meeting and was not invited to attend. In his opinion new tenders should be called for. He understood the old company complained that when the tenders were called for security was not asked and therefore a man of straw could, by tendering, do a great deal of harm. If security was asked a tenderer would be forced to carry out his contract. Mr. Moore thought that if new tenders were called for now and security asked that the old company would have nothing to cavil at. He proposed that this course be followed and that $1000 security be asked, this same to be forfeited if the tender which was accepted was not carried out.

Councillor Best pointed out that there was no use in accepting a tender unless the town was prepared to grant a franchise. This the town was not in a position to do, as more poles were not wanted on the streets and no arrangement had been reached with the company which owned the present poles. This should be settled before more tenders were asked for, and he thought that the whole matter should be referred back to a committee of the whole council, when a valuation of the poles of the present could be presented if an electrical engineer was in attendance.

Councillor Hughes rose to explain the point about one company and not the other being represented at the meeting of the committee. Mr. Stevenson, he said, was present to confer on the matter of the poles and the matter of the tenders was brought up afterwards, when Mr. Stevenson was asked what he would take to light the town for a year or so until the corporation acquired a plant of its own. Mr. Stevenson then offered to drop to Mr. Meldrum's figures.

Councillor Sawers did not see how the committee could act on the Light and power Company's second tender. It was not presented in the regular manner and should never have been considered. Only the two first tenders ought to have been taken up.

Mr. Meldrum, who was present, was invited to address the Council. When he came forward Councillor Langford expressed the hope that he would explain how he made out that the committee was dishonest, as stated in his letters to the evening papers.

Mr. Meldrum inquired of Mr. Langford if he thought the action of the committee on Friday evening last was fair and square when one tenderer was permitted to be present and cut his figures down after tenders had been asked for and received in the regular way. He himself had gone to and trouble in getting figures and making estimates of how cheap he could furnish the town lights, and he did not think that it was by any means fair after this that the other company should be permitted to cut down to his figures. The difference on each light was $14.50 per year. After making a cut of this nature and saving the corporation so much money, there was not a ratepayer in town who thought that he was getting fair play—dishonest might have been too strong a term. Would not one of you in my place, asked Mr. Meldrum, use some very strong expressions if used in such a manner? We came offering to supply light on a fair basis and in doing this we were entitled to courtesy and this we have not received, as it was not courtesy to ask the members of the other company to be present at the meeting and not us, and then to ask for another tender and not give us a like privilege. We are still prepared to put in another tender, and under the circumstances we are entitled to do so. Mr. Meldrum stated further that he did not pretend to attempt to say how the matter should be settled, but he did come asking for the same privilege that had been given the other company. By inquiring of he had been given to understand that it was practical to use the same poles for two sets of wires.

Councillor Mills explained that the representatives of the Light and Power Company had not been present at the meeting to offer a new tender, but to confer about the poles. The tender prices came up incidentally for discussion. The question seemed to be, who was liable in case of an accident if the town owned the poles, and two companies were using them. Still he understood that in Montreal two companies were using the poles, and it could be found out from them how it was managed.

Councillor Langford, in speaking to the question, stated that the committee had placed themselves in Mr. Meldrum's place and had thought that he would only lose money if he got the contract, as it would be only for two years, as the town expected to acquire a plant of its own by that time. The committee had to think of the old company, too. They had invested their capital and it would not be right to throw them over at a moment's notice. A few months ago another company was to be started, and after even to getting contracts with the citizens, nothing had come of it. These things had to be guarded against, as there was nothing to prevent such companies from springing up periodically and putting the old company to great expense without doing any good. Nothing dishonest had been done by the committee, but they merely tried to do what was right by both companies.

Mr. Arthur Stevenson, of the Light and Power Company, stated that when his company put their money into the plant they had reason to expect that they would have the contract for lighting the town as long as they were willing to quote as low a price as was given elsewhere. When the present tenders were asked for, if security had been required, his company would have been in a position to tender a lower figure, but when anyone who chose could put in an offer without fear of being called upon to fulfil it, and in this way the old company would be put to considerable trouble. Heretofore the company had always been willing to give as low a rate as was given in Canada without the need of tenders. They were always willing to meet the Council in the matter. When he was present at the meeting of the committee, at their invitation, to confer regarding the poles, he had been asked what he would take to light the town for another year and he had offered to do it for $57.50 per light. This was all there was in regard to the second tender, though he had written afterwards to the chairman of the committee to make the offer good in black and white.

Mr. John Carnegie was indignant over the way in which the Company, which was to begin operations last fall, was spoken of. The Company had not been one of straw by any means, but would have been in operation to-day if the Council had not imposed such stringent provisions that no sane man would ever consent to go on with the work. In the first place poles could only be placed where the Engineer sanctioned. They were required to begin work on July 1st and continue until the system was complete. This shut the company out from ever adding to their lines once they stopped. The by-law would have compelled them to cover every portion of the town whether they wished or not. Anyone inside the corporation could demand a light no matter how remote they were. If these conditions were not fulfilled the company forfeited all its poles and lines to the town. One good result, however, of the starting of the company was that the citizens had received the benefit of a very substantial reduction in their charges.

In Montreal two companies operated the wires on the same poles, and so there could be no objection to such a scheme being put into force here in Peterborough now. Apparently the object in calling for tenders this year was not bona fide on the part of council. It appeared to have been done just to get figures and down to them. Security could be given by the new company in hard cash if required, and if new tenders were called for he hoped all the conditions would be plainly stated and the tender awarded to the lowest man.

Councillors Best and Mills moved that the report be referred back to a committee of the whole council, when a valuator could present an estimate of the value of the poles of the old company and make a statement as to the practicability of two companies using the same poles.—Lost.

Councillors John White and Graham moved the adoption of the report.—Lost.

Councillors Hughes and Denne moved that the whole question go back to the Committee of the Whole, without any provisions.—Carried.

Councillor Mills then moved that the services of an electrical engineer be secured for the meeting in order that information might be obtained from him, but at this every member of the council, with the exception of Messrs. Sawers, Best, Mills, Weir and Moore, sprang from their seats and rushed pell-mell from the room, stating that Mr. Hughes' motion had settled the matter for the present.

Councillors Langford and J. H. White came back on the understanding that the matter was to be allowed to stand, and the bylaw fixing the rate at 17 mills was introduced and passed, after which the council adjourned.

THE FIRST IN CANADA.

Calcium Carbide, the Base of Acetylene Gas, is Now Being Made in Merritton.

Merritton, Aug. 17.—The machinery of the new acetylene gas works has been started, and the first calcium carbide ever produced in this country was made.

The lever was handled by Mrs. Willson, the charming wife of the inventor of the new process of making gas, and everything worked smoothly. The generators, waterwheel and other machinery are of the best, and it is worth while to walk through this new industry and watch the manufacture of carbide.

Work is nearing completion on the large annexes to the main building. The buildings give the locality a changed look, and will prove a boon to the little town beneath the mountain.

When any part of the body isn't doing the work that nature intended it to do, it puts the whole system out of tune—out of harmony. When children stand a row of bricks on end, they knock the whole row down by upsetting one brick. That is exactly what happens to the health when the bowels fail to perform their proper function. Constipation makes trouble all along the line—puts the liver out of order, is bad for the kidneys—bad for the stomach. It holds in the body poisonous matter, and because it cannot go any place else, it gets into the blood. The blood carries it all over the system. That makes sluggishness, lassitude, bad breath and foul taste in the mouth, fills the stomach with gas and causes windy belching, stops digestion in the stomach, causes sour stomach, heartburn and headache. You can avoid all such trouble, for Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets CURE constipation and its attendant evils.

CURE OF DROPSY.

Only a Positive Symptom—Not a Disease of Itself—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Campbellford, (Special) Aug. 17.—An unlooked for and remarkable recovery from advanced stage of dropsy is just made public here. It is the case of Mrs. John Weese, wife of the widely known veteran stage proprietor, whose life for months, had been despaired of. From the accumulated water peculiar to this disease she became so helpless as to be unable to drag one foot after the other. She now appears on the street and says she is as well as ever in her life. She claims that after all other means had failed she thanks Dodd's Kidney Pills for her unexpected cure.

Fruit Jars.

China Hall has received a full carload, 1440 cases, of fruit jars Do not buy a jar till you have seen their jars and got their price. Their jars are guaranteed not to crack in filling and will be replaced in case they do. Prices the lowest in town. See the "Beaver" or the "Bee" before buying the ordinary jar.

Why Some People Fail.

The world is full of people who have failed because of dyspepsia, biliousness, and constipation, which are responsible for nine-tenths of life's miseries. Burdock Blood Bitters cures these diseases as well as all other diseases of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood in 99 cases out of 100.

W. H. Cudney, Port Burwell, Ont., says: "I was afflicted with rheumatism and tried all cures. I did not get relief until I tried Miller's Compound Iron Pills and before I had finished two boxes I was completely cured, and now feel like a different man." Only 25 cents per box. WRECKAGE
From the Big Sale

In the shape of Remnants, Odd Lots and Tail Ends from every department, have been rooted out, ticketed and marked at prices to close them with a rush. It's a fitting wind-up for the biggest selling event in our history. A few days will do the business, and sharp's the word.

Remnants of Cloths.

Nothing wrong with them. The last few yards of the piece cost us just as much as the first. Going to sell them at a sacrifice though; they litter the stock. Good picking here for the Boy's Fall School Suits. Why not look ahead a bit and by so doing save a dollar? Price of each remnant in plain figures. They're all spread out on the shelves and you can make an easy selection.

Broken Lots of Men's Pants.

Good sizes and lengths among them. Some at about one-half regular prices. They'll move quick when the news gets out.

Good-by to Summer Ties.

The left-overs are going to be turned into money at short notice. The prices are absurd, but we don't want to winter them.

Men's and Boy's Suits.

Not a question of worth, but what price will sell them. It will pay you to be among the first. The pick is worth something. 300 Suits to pick from, well made and finished, the products of some of the best known makers. A lot of our own make included.

Broken Lots of Hosiery and Underwear.

Odd dozens and half-dozens, all out on the counter, and they're not going back into the shelves with our consent. Can you use them? If so, help us to get rid of them.

Summer Suits and Separat Parts.

Some made of Wool Serge, some of Cricketing Flannel, some of Silk and some of Lustre and Alpaca. Only about a dozen of each, but we want the room more than the goods.

Summer Boots & Shoes.

The Fall Styles will be about the same as these; they're all new this season. Not many shelves full, but you save just half. Not often that 50c does the work of $1.00 but we need the room.

Shirts and Collars.

They might as well go with the rest. We won't profit financially on the sales, but that makes no difference, so long as we can clean up the overplus.

Last Call on Felt and Straw Hats.

EVERYTHING READY

For the Opening of the Session of Parliament.

THE ELECTION OF SPEAKER TO-DAY

Formal Opening To-Morrow—Mr. Russell of Halifax Will Move the Address—Principal Grant on His Visit to the Old Country—Divorce Applications.

Ottawa, Aug. 18.—Everything is in readiness for the opening of Parliament. To-day's trains have brought Senators and members from all directions. The Conservative caucus summoned for to-morrow morning no doubt has something to do with the large influx.

The proceedings to-morrow will be confined to the election of a Speaker, and the formal opening will not take place until the following day (Thursday), when the Speech from the Throne will be delivered by His Excellency the Governor-General.

Mr. Russell, the new member for Halifax, will move the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, and R. Lemieux of Gaspe will second it.

The legislation promises to be light this session. Notice has been given for 36 private bills, in which are included three divorce bills. Out of the 36, 24 pertain to railways, 4 to banking and commerce and 5 come under the heading of miscellaneous.

The divorce applications are as follows: Albert Nordheimer of Toronto, from his wife, Edith May VanKoughnet, who is now residing in London, England; C. E. U. Pointon of Toronto, from his wife, Lillian; Adeline M. Lawry of Hamilton, from her husband, T. H. Lawry, now residing in Oklahoma, Adultery is alleged in each case.

Among the railway bills is one in which the C.P.R. and G.T.R. are jointly interested, the measure seeking to confirm the agreement granting running powers to the C.P.R. over the tracks of the G.T.R., between Toronto and Hamilton, for a period of 50 years.

Room 16, the Liberal headquarters this year, has been put in order for the supporters of the Government, and number 6 has been assigned to the Opposition. The walls have significantly been tinted blue. A splendid painting of Sir John Thompson on the wall meets the eye of the visitor.

Mr. Laurier will have the room formerly occupied by Sir Charles Tupper, at the entrance of the library, and Sir Charles, should he be elected leader of the Opposition, will take Mr. Laurier's old room in close proximity to No. 6.

The Department of Indian Affairs has been notified that the fifth and last party of refugee Cree Indians from the United States have reached the international frontier under the escort of a troop of United States cavalry. The total number of Crees transported from the United States to Canadian territory in the past few weeks is 526.

On Monday next the work of fitting up the D.R.A. Camp on Rideau Range will begin. There are to be more bell tents for competitors and more marquees on the camp ground than ever before. Preparations are being made for an exceptional meeting. The free ammunition is likely to largely increase the number of competitors. The social features of the meeting promise to be of an exceptionally attractive character.

Dr. Oronhyatekha, Supreme Chief Ranger of the Independent Order of Foresters, was asked to-day what the Supreme Secretary, Major McGillivray, proposed doing in regard to his seat in North Ontario. The reply was that he would resign from the representation as soon as it was possible for him to do so.

Principal Grant of Queen's University is still in town. Speaking to-night, he said the object of his trip to England was to get a professor of Latin for Queen's, the position having been rendered vacant by the removal of Prof. Fletcher to Toronto University. A large number of applications from men of high standing and scholarly attainments had been made to the trustees of Queen's, and the Principal went to Great Britain to personally enquire into the fitness of the candidates. While there he met many leading and representative men, and by request of the editor wrote an article on the relations of Canada and the Empire for The National Review, in which he showed the true feelings of Canadians on the matter, as to which the English public have hitherto derived their impressions from misrepresentations of Mr. Goldwin Smith. The Principal expressed himself as delighted with the greatly increased interest in Canada, and its people which was now entertained in every quarter in Britain, compared with the ignorance and apathy he met with some years ago. He found prevalent a desire to understand the resources of this country, its social condition, its industrial progress and its national aims. He found also a more intelligent and well-informed comprehension of Canada than he had been accustomed to. Among causes which had operated in raising the status of this country in the eyes of the British, he said, was the firm and resolute stand taken by Canada when this country was threatened with war last December. This was an object lesson which the most superficial could understand, and made a profound impression on the public mind. Principal Grant leaves for Kingston to-morrow.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell arrived here this evening. Although the matter is not definitely settled, and the ex-Premier would vouchsafe no information on the subject, the general impression is he will lead the Opposition in the Senate.

The general impression is there will be no vote on the Speakership, as the full Conservative representation is not here. Mr. Foster will not reach Ottawa for nearly a week.

The Cabinet was at work to-day on the Speech from the Throne.

BLOOD ON GERHOLD'S CLOTHING

And Other Evidence Cause His Arrest on a Charge of Murder—The Room in British Columbia.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 18.—(Special.)—From headquarters at both Regina and Prince Albert to-day came denials of the reported mutiny among the Mounted Police. The whole story arises out of the fact that the commandant at Prince Albert is unpopular and some of the police have asked the Government to hold an investigation.

In connection with the murder of Joseph Henry at Rapid City, Arthur Gerhold, a young Englishman who lived with him, has been arrested. The men had quarrelled. Blood was discovered on Gerhold's clothing and there is other strong evidence of guilt. Gerhold was sent to this country by one of the English benevolent institutions.

His Honor Lieut.-Governor Patterson, General Superintendent Whyte of the C.P.R., and Mr. Irving, manager of Bradstreet's at Toronto, have just returned here from a trip through the Kootenay gold mining districts of British Columbia. They say that the merchants of Eastern Canada cannot conceive of the extent of the operations there or the vast field for trade. Americans are securing the bulk of the trade in the district and a railway is needed through the Crow's Nest Pass to keep business in its legitimate channels.

THREE WERE KILLED

And Others are Believed to be in the Ruins of a Collapsed Building.

Eau Claire, Wis., Aug. 18.—About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon an old four-storey frame building, known as Music Hall, which was being dismantled, collapsed, killing at least three men and injuring many more. It is probable that there are several persons in the ruins besides those known to be there, as no trace of them can be found. The men were employed by Schmidt Bros. of Superior, Wis., who had the contract for removing the building. The known dead are William Dear, contractor; Halvor Olson and Nicolas Roach.

Abnormal Heat in Russia.

Odessa, Aug. 18.—Abnormal heat, similar to that which prevailed in the United States, is prevailing throughout the south of Russia. The heat is so intense that outdoor work is frequently suspended. During the three weeks which have been marked by the high temperature the mortality has increased from 27,400 to 45,000 as compared with the preceding three weeks.

A N.B. Sea Captain Drowned.

Calais, Me., Aug. 18.—Captain David Melville, of St. Stephen's, N.B., a retired sea captain, was drowned last night. He was one of a party of excursionists who were returning from St. Andrew's, N.B., on a steam yacht. Captain Melville was missed, but search failed to reveal any signs of the missing man. His body was found on the New Brunswick shore this afternoon.

THREE HIGH COURTS.

Division of the Foresters of the Province

DECIDED UPON BY THE HIGH COURT

There Will be 11,000 Members in the Central Court and About 8000 Each in the Eastern and Western—How the Lines are Laid Out.

Ottawa, Aug. 18.—(Special.)—The question of the division of the High Court of Ontario of the Independent Foresters into two or three high court jurisdictions is the chief topic for consideration at the present High Court meeting, which opened here this morning. The Foresters lost no time in getting down to a consideration of this important matter. About 300 delegates were in attendance. At the morning session the reports of the high officers were presented and referred to different committees.

Mr. Robert McNair, High Chief Ranger, alluded in his report to the fact that it was 11 years since the High Court of Ontario met in Ottawa. At that time the membership was 2046, now it is 97,000. Eleven years ago the surplus fund was $28,036; to-day it is $1,794,310. During the year 2867 had been added to the membership roll. Important legislation was secured by the Executive Council from the last Parliament, notably the privilege of making annual returns to the Government and inspection of the books by the Superintendent of Insurance, and the right of making a deposit with the Government for the security of the membership. While the superintendent required only $75,000 deposit, the Executive had placed $100,000 with the Government. The action of the Supreme Court in amending its constitution and laws, so as to give to those deserving of it $4000 or $5000 benefit certificates, has also been endorsed and confirmed by Parliament.

The High Secretary's report showed a substantial increase in membership, and that 61 new courts had been organized during the year, including 25 by officers of the Supreme Court.

The High Treasurer's report stated that since the close of the year, there had been paid on account of supplies $2000, and there is still owing on this account $7253. All other accounts have been paid, with the exception of a few small items, which will not aggregate more than $250. At the present time there is a balance in the treasury of $1285.

The High Court Inspector's report was eminently favorable.

The auditors, in their report, regretted the large amount still owing for High Court dues by subordinate courts, and stated that there is still a substantial amount owing for supplies that should be reduced. The High Secretary had written off all bad debts and included in statement of assets only such property as would bring a direct return. The balance of cash in the hands of the High Treasurer on June 30 was $624.65.

Addresses of welcome were presented by the local courts and by the Mayor and the City Council, to which High Chief Ranger McNair made appropriate replies. Mayor William Borthwick was made a Forester at sight by Big Chief Oronhyatekha.

In the afternoon the delegates were given an electric whirl round the city by the Local Reception Committee.

At 4 o'clock work was resumed, when the special committee appointed to consider the question of dividing the High Court reported in favor of a division into three high court jurisdictions—eastern, central and western, the central to consist of Halton, Peel, Cardwell, Simcoe, York, Ontario, Durham, Victoria, Muskoka and Algoma; all east of the said counties to constitute the High Court of Eastern Ontario; all west to constitute the High Court of Western Ontario. The principle embodied in the report was discussed at great length by, among others, the following brethren: Dr. Thompson (Toronto), A. N. Payne (Ottawa), W. T. R. Preston (Toronto), Callender (Brantford), Cameron (Galt), Rev. W. B. Carey (Kingston), and Cameron (Lucknow).

At the evening session the Credential Committee reported that 330 delegates were in attendance. The High Councillor ruled against recognizing the rank of Bro. Harper, A.P.H.C.R., of Ohio, now resident in Ontario. The feeling of the High Court was in favor of recognizing Bro. Harper.

The debate on the division of jurisdiction was continued by A. W. Fraser (Ottawa), William Drennan (Kingston), Rev. Ker (St. Catharines), Hunter (Toronto), A. Munro Grier (Toronto), Murton (Oshawa), McCormack (St. Thomas), Collins (Toronto) and others.

At 10.30 the previous question was carried, and the High Court divided on the committee's recommendation to divide the High Court.

The result was as follows: For a division into three High Courts, 241, against 135; majority for 106. The result was hailed with loud cheers.

The remaining clauses of the report were adopted and the High Court adjourned at midnight.

The division line agreed upon will give 11,000 members to the Central High Court and 8000 to each of the other High Courts.

A TUG BURNED.

The James Clark Made a Total Wreck at Michael's Bay on Saturday.

Collingwood, Aug. 18.—Capt. J. W. Darling arrived here this afternoon by the steamer Majestic. He reports that the tug James Clark, owned by Capt. J. Craig and himself, was burned to the water's edge near Michael's Bay on Saturday morning. Capt. Darling, when interviewed by the representative of the Associated Press, stated the tug left Collingwood Thursday with a scow in tow, and was lying to when the fire was discovered by Capt. Craig. The fire was first noticed at 3 o'clock around the boiler, from which it is supposed to have originated. Every effort was made to extinguish the flames, but all proved futile. The boat was beached on a reef in Michael's Bay, two miles from shore. She will be a total loss. She was valued at $3000, and was partially insured.

Boils

It is often difficult to convince people their blood is impure, until dreadful carbuncles, abscesses, boils, scrofula or salt rheum, are painful proof of the fact. It is wisdom now, or whenever there is any indication of blood, to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and prevent such eruptions and suffering.

"I had a dreadful carbuncle abscess, red, fiery, fierce and sore. The doctor attended me over seven weeks. When the abscess broke, the pains were terrible, and I thought I should not live through it. I heard and read so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I decided to take it, and my husband, who was suffering with boils, took it also. It soon purified our built me up and restored my health so that, although the doctor said I would not be able to work hard, I have since done the work for 20 people. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured my husband of the boils, and we regard it a wonderful medicine." MRS. ANNA PETERSON, Latimer, Kansas.

M'GILL UNIVERSITY.

The McGill College Calendar for the session of 1896-7 has just been issued and intending students will do well to consult its pages, especially as there are some important changes in the regulations. A Department of Architecture has been established, and lectures will begin this year. The Department of Chemistry and Mining will also be placed in a thoroughly efficient condition. The erection of a large building to be donated by Mr. W. C. McDonald, will be proceeded with immediately and fully equipped with the most recent apparatus in Chemistry, Mining and Metallurgy. The Department of Classics has been further strengthened by the appointment of Prof. Frank Carter, M. A., and Mr. S. B. Slack, M.A., to the positions respectively of Professor and Lecturer in Classics.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER'S boast of the solidarity and harmony of the Conservative party did not develop a very marked aggressiveness in the Lower Provinces especially. The six provincial bye-elections in Nova Scotia have resulted in the return of six Liberals, four of them by acclamation and two by large majorities.

THE announcement that the session of Parliament will last till November is made by Sir Adolphe Caron, who says that the Government will not get its supplies until it has defined its policy on all the matters now before the people. But that should not take till November. This is a Government of business men. If there is unnecessary delay it will be the work of the Opposition. There is little danger this time of half of the ministers bolting before the address is voted.

THERE has been a good deal of comment as to Sir Oliver Mowat's use of a private Government car. The Globe causes it to be known that if Sir Oliver Mowat did make use of a Government private car in effecting his transfer from Toronto to Ottawa, he did so entirely at his own, and not the public, expense. It would tend to remove all possibility of misapprehension if the use of special cars were altogether abandoned.

IF it is true, as reported, that Great Britain and Russia have agreed to unite for the protection of the Armenians and Cretans against the Turks, the event is one of enormous significance, internationally. Just forty-two years ago Great Britain and France went to war with Russia for the purpose of protecting Turkey against the aggressive policy of the great-grandfather of the present Tsar. Such an alliance would humiliate France unless she joined it, and it would humiliate Germany whether she joined it or not. Best of all, it would tend to cement a strong and enduring friendship between Great Britain and the United States.

From Our Own Correspondent.

We nearly lost our church and school house by fire within the last few days. A fire which has been smouldering for the greater part of the summer near Mr. N. Crowe's, last Wednesday about noon broke out afresh and travelled with amazing rapidity. In less than three hours it had reached the road leading to Buckhorn and had crossed it. The fire had also worked back against the wind into a swamp on Arscott's lot, and when it got fairly going there the sparks kept lighting all the old rotten stumps and caused it to spread more. By this time a good many of the neighbors had gathered to try and save the church and school. They worked like Trojans, but still the fire kept gaining on them. Finally they fired the bush near the school fence so as to head the other fire off, and kept the ground wet near the fence, so that the fire would not run. In this they were successful, when all at once it was noticed that a spark had been carried by the high wind into Mr. Cairnduff's swamp, and close to the church shed. Some few were left to watch the school and the rest rushed to save the shed, which by dint of hard work they succeeded in doing. But all danger is hardly yet over, for if the wind should rise a spark is liable to ignite the shingles at any time, as the woods are full of fire yet; but the shower of Saturday night and Sunday morning helped to check it and only for the rain some of the farmers would have been burned out. We hope that the danger is over.

There is also a big fire east of Squaw River and it keeps two men busy preventing the sparks from burning the bridge. It is doing immense damage, as there is a lot of valuable timber which will be spoiled. There is also a man watching the big dam to try and keep it from burning.

Last Wednesday Mr. Davis sent a number of his men from the mill to help to fight the fire at the church, which was very good of him indeed.

Fred. McGaffy, who is paddling for Morgan Durgist, of Lindsay, had a rather strange experience the first day of the fire. It seems he had been east and when on his return he found, to his dismay, that the woods on both sides of the road were on fire. He turned about and waited for some time, when he thought he would try it again, as he was in great haste to get home, for a fresh supply of goods. This time he took the precaution to tie a handkerchief over the horses eyes, and drove for all he was worth. He managed to get through safely, but had there been a tree across the road, or anything had happened, the horse and rig would both have paid the penalty of his rashness.

Mr. Tucker, of Peterborough, is spending a few days with Mr. Thos. Gordon.

James Oliver is getting considerable work to do this harvest amongst the neighbours with his self-binder. It is Hamilton's make and seems to give satisfaction both in quality and quantity of work done. With the exception of some late oats harvesting in this section is ended.

The Rev. Mr. Oswald, of Janetville, preached here for the past two Sabbaths, in Mr. Jamison's stead, and was listened to by a very appreciative audience, as he is very popular, having been Presbyterian missionary here some years ago. Mr. Oswald is a fluent speaker and devotes all his energies to the cause he has at heart.

We understand that Rev. Mr. Hall did not accept the call of the Bobcaygeon Presbyterians, for what reason we do not know, but it is to be regretted he did not do so.

THEY ARE GIVING WAY.

Physicians Commence to Realise the Value of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

OTTAWA, Aug. 10.—The inveterate reluctance to admit the success of patent medicine usually evinced by physicians is rapidly giving way, so far as Dodd's Kidney Pills are concerned. The cases of Dr. Rose and Dr. McCormick, who published details of their recovery from diabetes and Bright's disease through the agency of this remedy, were the first attacks on the citadel of their skepticism and now it appears as if the remarkable recovery of Mr. G. H. Kent, of this city, the details of which have been transmitted to the press, would complete what has been so auspiciously begun. The published interviews with Mr. and Mrs. Kent and the sworn statement of the former leaves no foothold for disbelief.

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The weather up here has been dreadfully warm this last week and the thermometer registered from 95 to 100 in the shade. The pasture is all burned up and the water is very low, being a bad condition for the farmers, as a great many wells have gone dry.

Stony lake is the proper place now and a great many people are up there. Nearly all the cottages are occupied, and the steamboats are loaded down every day with people going up and down Stoney Lake.

Messrs. Angus McPherson and A. Letellier are the guests of Mr. Matthew Young.

Miss Minnie Wier is the guest of Miss Nellie Young.

The Misses O'Connor and Lizzie McCarthy are visiting at Mr. C. Young's.

Rev. Father Fitzpatrick and Mr. John C. Sullivan, of Peterborough, were visiting at C. Young's.

A wedding took place in Stony Lake last Thursday, the 13th inst., at Mr. D. W. Dumble's cottage, "Ballyragit." The happy couple were Mr. Frank Dumble, son of Mr. D. W. Dumble, and Miss Eck, of Waterloo. They were married at the cottage at two o'clock. After the wedding dinner they took the steamer Mary Ellen, with a number of friends, who had large quantities of rice and old shoes, and a number of cow bells and horns. It was the first wedding ever witnessed on Stony Lake, and the young couple will never forget their wedding day.

The guests registered at the Lakeview the last week are:—Mr. W. H. Brightman, of the firm of Brightman Bros., dealers in hides and wool, of Rochester, and his wife and family; Misses A. Byrne and Lillie Young, of Chicago; Miss Nellie Hanneberry, of Chicago.

We have had a large number of fires around these parts and some of the farmers have suffered a great deal by them. On Sunday Mr. Kidd, who lives two miles south of the Point, drove up for men here to go and help him extinguish a fire which was threatening to consume his house and barns. There are several farmers around here who have lost a great deal of wood, timber, etc., by fires.

An Age of Substitution.

Keenness of competition is the characteristic of the age. Not in old channels of routine is trade permitted to flow, but in channels newly hewn out of the solid rock of opposition by brains and energy. Good, in its way, is this. If, however, it give rise to dishonest methods, then an evil does it certainly become. An eminent physician had occasion recently to prescribe that well-known nutrient and tonic, Maltine with Coca Wine. His patient, an active public man, had gone all to pieces; nerves unstrung, sleepless, appetite and digestion sadly impaired—almost a total wreck. By unfailing experience the doctor knew it to be the right thing. Well, the patient made no progress, and investigation established the fact that the druggist had substituted another preparation—"just as good" of course—to secure slightly increased profit. The doctor soon saw that his patient secured the genuine Maltine with Coca Wine, with the expected result, for his patient improved from the start.

Moral:—Get Maltine with Coca Wine when you ask for it and don't be imposed upon. Sold by all druggists.

THE DEMOCRATIC TANGLE.

Chairman Bynum Believes a Third Ticket Will be Nominated.

Indianapolis, Aug. 18.—Chairman Bynum and Secretary Wilson of the National Democratic Executive Committee, arrived from Chicago to-day. Mr. Bynum says New York will send a full delegation of 72 members and a large number of visitors to the national convention. Maryland will reconsider the action taken against the nomination of a third ticket, and will probably be well represented. Mr. Bynum says there seems to be a belief in some quarters that a third ticket will not be placed in the field. He said that such a supposition is out of the question, and a ticket will be nominated just as sure as the convention meets. One of the greatest acquisitions to the third ticket, leaders say, is ex-Gov. Jones of Alabama, who is out flat-footed for sound money and a Democratic sound money ticket.

Blaze at the Falls.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Aug. 18.—At 6 o'clock this evening the large frame dwelling on Clifton-avenue, owned by Mrs. McMahon, and occupied by George Waters and Wm. Klaus, was discovered on fire. Damage to building by fire and water, $500; to contents, $200; covered by insurance.

CURE OF DROPSY.

Only a Positive Symptom—Not a Disease of Itself—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Campbellford, (Special) Aug. 17.—An unlooked for and remarkable recovery from advanced stage of dropsy is just made public here. It is the case of Mrs. John Weese, wife of the widely known veteran stage proprietor, whose life for months, had been despaired of. From the accumulated water peculiar to this disease she became so helpless as to be unable to drag one foot after the other. She now appears on the street and says she is as well as ever in her life. She claims that after all other means had failed she thanks Dodd's Kidney Pills for her unexpected cure.

FOR SOUND MONEY.

Bourke Cockran Replies to Billy Bryan.

PERRY BELMONT ON POPULISM.

Sound Money Democrats Called Upon to Reject the Chicago Platform—The Honor of the Nation at Stake—Free Silver Would Not Increase Wages.

New York, Aug. 18.—The mass meeting of the Democratic Honest Money League was held this evening under the most favorable auspices. The weather was all that could be desired, clear and delightfully cool, and about 12,000 persons turned out to hear ex-Congressman W. Bourke Cockran's reply to the speech of William Jennings Bryan, delivered in the same amphitheatre last Wednesday night.

At 8.25, when Mr. Cockran came in, every seat was occupied. Mr. Cockran was received with prolonged cheers.

Major Byrne immediately advanced to the front of the platform and when at 8.30 order was restored, he called the meeting to order in a brief speech.

When he named Hon. Perry Belmont as chairman, the cheering was renewed. Mr. Belmont, in taking the chair, said:

Fellow Democrats—We have all come here to listen to the speech of the evening. This is a time for very plain speaking. We want no victory under a false flag. The Democratic standard was supplanted at Chicago by the rag of Populism, which we firmly refuse to follow to the discredit of the nation. The banner of the Democracy, protecting under its broad folds all the aspirations of liberty-loving humanity, representing popular constitutional self-government, we now raise here to-night, battle-worn by more than 100 years of honorable political warfare.

Mr. Belmont summed up thus:

"The issue, stripped of all verbiage and sophistry, of all sectionalism, and prejudice, is now, as it was before the nomination of Mr. Bryan, one of morals, of honesty. I will not question the motives of any one and far be it from me to say that all the supporters of this extraordinary movement we oppose are intentionally dishonest; but to speak plainly, I do say that behind them are unscrupulous men, and crude and flimsy free silver literature, clearly dishonest in purpose, for they lead directly to repudiation, to bad money, the degradation of the Supreme Court by political control, an unconstitutional impairment of the obligations, and interference with the freedom of contracts, a reckless attack upon our national and monetary integrity, as well as upon our whole system of commercial credits. We cannot compromise with such doctrines which menace the form and very existence of our Government.

Mr. Belmont concluded his remarks at 9.45. When he introduced the speaker of the evening, the vast auditorium was immediately in an uproar and a great ovation was tendered the ex-Congressman. Men and women stood in their places and cheered themselves hoarse, at the same time waving the small American flags vigorously.

Mr. Cockran at length secured order, and plunged at once into his subject. He said:

"Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen, Fellow Democrats, All,—With the inspiring strains of that national song still ringing in our ears, who can doubt the issue of this campaign? That issue has been well stated by your presiding officer. Stripped, as he says, of all verbal disguise, it is an issue of common honesty, an issue between the honest discharge and the dishonest repudiation of public and private obligations.

"A Democratic convention may renounce the Democratic faith, but the Democracy remains faithful to Democratic principles. Democratic leaders may betray a convention to the Populists, but they cannot seduce the footsteps of Democratic voters from the pathway of honor and of justice. Fellow Democrats, let us not dismiss from ourselves nounce the Democratic faith, but the Democracy remains faithful to Democratic principles. Democratic leaders may betray a convention to the Populists, but they cannot seduce the footsteps of Democratic voters from the pathway of honor and justice, the fact, that we bear in this contest a serious and grave and solemn burden of duty. We must raise our hands against the nominee of our party, and we must do it to preserve the future of that party itself. We must oppose the nominee of the Chicago convention and we know full well that the success of our opponents will mean our own exclusion from public life, but we will be consoled and gratified by the reflection that it will prove that the American people cannot be divided into parties on a question of simple morals or of common honesty.

"The people of this country will not change the institutions which have stood the tests and experiences of a century for institutions based upon the fanatic dreams of Populist agitators. The American nation will never consent to substitute for the republic of Washington, of Jefferson and of Jackson, the republic of an Altgeld, a Tillman or a Bryan.

"I am a little puzzled," said the speaker, "when I read the speech to decide just what Mr. Bryan himself imagines will be the fruit of a change in the standard of value throughout this country. For my part I am willing to state here that if Mr. Bryan could show me that by any means known to heaven, or known to earth, any means revealed to the comprehension of man, wages could be increased. I will be ready to support him here and now. I know of no test of prosperity absolutely infallible, except the rate of wages paid to laborers. Where the rate of wages is high there must be prosperity. Where the rate of wages is low there must necessarily be distress. If, then, Mr. Bryan can show me that by the enforcement of any portion of his program wages will be increased in this country, I will not only support him, but I will recognize him as the wisest orator that ever opened his mouth on a platform since the beginning of the world. But in searching through the whole realms of Populistic literature with which this country has been flooded for four years, I have never yet found one syllable which showed me a Populist expected to increase the rate of wages.

"Now, in order to understand the significance of the remarks that wages is the only test of prosperity we have to consider, for a moment just what is meant by the term wages. Wages, as I suppose everybody here understands, is that part of the laborers' product which is given to himself in compensation for his toil. If, for instance, I be engaged in the manufacture of chairs and if I can make five chairs every day worth $20, and the rate of my wages is $4 a day, what I actually get is one chair out of the five which I make. The other four chairs, the other four-fifths of my product, are devoted to the payment of all the other labor that has been expended in preparing the element out of which the chair was made; to the man who felled the tree in the forest, the person who saved it in the mill, the carrier who transported it, the workman who prepared its component parts, and the profit on the capital which set all this labor in motion. It is plain, however, that I could not take one chair home with me at night and attempt to settle my bills with it, for the moment I undertook to divide the chair among my creditors, that moment it would lose its value; so, instead of taking the chair, which I cannot divide, I take its equivalent in money, which I can divide, but my wages all the time are fixed by the quantity of my own products.

"Mr. Bryan tells us that he wants to cheapen the dollar, that he wants to increase the volume of money. Nothing is more common than the statement that money and property are identical. They are not. Redundancy of money does not prove my prosperity. There may be a very large volume of circulating medium and very great poverty. The issue of paper money simply is no more an increase of wealth than the issue by an individual of his promissory note would show an increase of his property. As a matter of fact an increase in the coinage is no proof of an increase in property, but may be a strong proof of a decrease in wealth."

DOES THE FULLER CARRY ARMS?

A Wild Rumor That the Hoodoo Vessel is Bound for Cuba.

Halifax, N.S., Aug. 18.—Wild rumors are in circulation here as to the nature of the cargo carried by the barquentine Herbert Fuller, which sailed hence yesterday, ostensibly for Rosario. The same stories were afloat shortly after the Fuller arrived here with the three murdered victims on board and it is not believed there is any foundation for them. They are to the effect that the vessel is only partly loaded with lumber, of which there is no more than enough to conceal a cargo of provisions and war supplies, intended for the Cuban rebels, and that she is bound for the Cuban coast.

WRECKAGE

From the Big Sale

In the shape of Remnants, Odd Lots and Tail Ends from every department, have been rooted out, ticketed and marked at prices to close them with a rush. It's a fitting wind-up for the biggest selling event in our history. A few days will do the business, and sharp's the word.

Remnants of Cloths.

Nothing wrong with them. The last few yards of the piece cost us just as much as the first. Going to sell them at a sacrifice though; they litter the stock. Good picking here for the Boy's Fall School Suits. Why not look ahead a bit and by so doing save a dollar? Price of each remnant in plain figures. They're all spread out on the shelves and you can make an easy selection.

Broken Lots of Men's Pants.

Good sizes and lengths among them. Some at about one-half regular prices. They'll move quick when the news gets out.

Good-by to Summer Ties.

The left-overs are going to be turned into money at short notice. The prices are absurd, but we don't want to winter them.

Men's and Boy's Suits.

Not a question of worth, but what price will sell them. It will pay you to be among the first. The pick is worth something. 300 Suits to pick from, well made and finished, the products of some of the best known makers. A lot of our own make included.

Broken Lots of Hosiery and Underwear.

Odd dozens and half-dozens, all out on the counter, and they're not going back into the shelves with our consent. Can you use them? If so, help us to get rid of them.

Summer Suits and Separat Parts.

Some made of Wool Serge, some of Cricketing Flannel, some of Silk and some of Lustre and Alpaca. Only about a dozen of each, but we want the room more than the goods.

Summer Boots & Shoes.

The Fall Styles will be about the same as these; they're all new this season. Not many shelves full, but you save just half. Not often that 50c does the work of $1.00 but we need the room.

Shirts and Collars.

They might as well go with the rest. We won't profit financially on the sales, but that makes no difference, so long as we can clean up the overplus.

Last Call on Felt and Straw Hats.

And a loud call it is. Mostly broken lots, but none the worse for that. If your size, style or kind is among them then you're in luck, for the prices are cut loose entirely from the values.

Next Thursday

At 7.30 a.m., the steamer Beaver and palace barge will leave the Peterborough wharf for Victoria Park, Campbelltown, Jubilee Point and Gore's Landing. Return tickets will be sold to adults at 40c, and children 20c. This is the most enjoyable excursion leaving Peterborough that day, also the cheapest. An orchestra will furnish music for dancing. Secure your tickets early, as only a limited number are for sale.

Off For the Gold Mines.

A communication was received by Mr. J. S. Knapman, Secretary of the Board of Trade, this morning urging him to bring to the attention of the Board the fact that an excursion will be run on September 10, to Rossland and the Kootenay District, to view the gold mining region. The party will be taken via Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Minneapolis, North Dakota and Spokane. It will be an all rail route.

Noisy Freight Engines.

Complaints are received every day from residents in the South End concerning the manner in which the early freight trains on the Grand Trunk persist in keeping up a continuous whistling. The attention of the Council is called to the matter and it is hoped that a stringent by-law will be passed and enforced in regard to the matter at the next meeting. The imposition of a few heavy fines will do much to keep the engineers within bounds.

Foresters' Civic Holiday Excursion.

Court Littlejohn, No. 92, holds its ninth annual excursion on Civic Holiday, Aug. 20th, to Toronto, Niagara Falls and Buffalo. This is the finest excursion route in Canada. A rapid rail run to Toronto; then a breezy steam in a palatial steamer across Lake Ontario; then by electric railway, amidst the ever changing and peerless beauty of the towering rock walls of the rushing Niagara, every mile studded with scenic beauties, unsurpassed anywhere; then by steamer to Buffalo, the end of the journey. Round trip tickets at exceedingly low prices: From Peterborough to Toronto and return, $1.75; to Niagara Falls and return, $2.25; to Buffalo and return, $3. Toronto tickets good for two days, to the other points good for three days. Children under twelve half price. You cannot afford to miss this grand excursion. See small bills for particulars. Buy your ticket early. Tickets good on all evening trains to-day and all regular trains to-morrow.

A SKITTISH EXPRESS HORSE.

It Kicked Over the Shafts This Morning on George Street.

The horse which drags around the Dominion Express Company's wagon day after day became unaccountably skittish this morning, and as it stood in front of W. W. Johnston's, it flourished its hind hoofs in Driver Lewis' face in a manner not at all reassuring.

Finally one of the legs came down on the wrong side of the shaft and then there was trouble, as the shafts are so high on the delivery wagon that when one of them were between Dobbin's legs both hoofs could not rest on the ground at the same time. The animal finally fell in its efforts to relieve itself. As a big crowd had gathered by this time, willing hands were soon at work stripping off the harness and assisting the horse to its feet again.

All the skittishness, however, had not evaporated yet and considerable trouble was experienced in getting the harness back on the animal again, as the bridle had been taken off, and it seemed almost impossible to get it on again.

Rev. Father Lynch, of Port Hope, is in town to-day.

Alderman Hart, of Belleville, was up on business yesterday.

Miss Evans has been visiting Mrs. Varcoe, of Bobcaygeon.

Mrs. Alex. Manderson, of Toronto, is visiting friends in town.

Messrs. Max McSweyn and L. V. O'Connor, of Lindsay, were in town yesterday.

Mr. Vernon McGill, has returned home after a pleasant holiday spent at Grimsby.

Miss Hanahoe, of the Separate school, Lindsay, is on a two weeks' visit to Chemong Park.

Dr. W. Kempt, of Peterborough, says the Lindsay Post, passed through town yesterday, on his way to the city.

Mr. Peter Hamilton returned last evening after spending several days at the lakes with Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.

Mrs. Charles Russell, of Passaic, New Jersey, is visiting Mr. Russell's brother, A. D. Russell, and friends in Ashburnham.

Mr. Harry Welsh, of Chicago, who has been spending the last few weeks with old friends in town, returned to the west last night.

The Lindsay Post says:—Mr. D. H. Moore, of the Peterborough Crown Lands agent department, was in town to-day on official business.

Mrs. James Hamilton, of Parkdale, is very seriously ill. Her mother, Mrs. Geo. Gobell, of town, has been with her for the last several weeks.

Mrs. Kathline Callanane, of Trenton, formerly of Peterborough, is in town visiting her cousin, Mrs. M. Cooper, of 365 Sherbrooke street.

Miss Bella Fairweather leaves to-morrow for Belton, Texas, where she has received the appointment of a position in the piano and guitar department of the Conservatory of Music in that city. Miss Fairweather is an exceptionally accomplished pianiste and has had a large and successful experience in imparting her rare ability as a performer to others; therefore her numerous friends here have every reason to hope that she will have so successful an engagement as will reconcile her to the loss of social ties and of the enjoyment of one of the pleasantest homes in Peterborough.

A SOMEMN CEREMONY AT MOUNT ST. JOSEPH.

THE VOWS AND HABITS OF THE SISTERHOOD ASSUMED.

Four Young Ladies Take the Former and the Latter Are Assumed by Two —A Number of Visiting Priests Present at the Ceremony.

A solemn scene was enacted at Mount St. Joseph this morning, when in the little chapel four young girls took upon themselves the solemn vows of the Sisterhood, and two others assumed the habit after having completed their first or novitiate year.

The service in connection with the ceremony was commenced at nine o'clock this morning and continued for two hours, the chapel being occupied by a number of the Sisters and the relatives of those desirous of joining the Order.

THE CEREMONIES

opened with Low Mass, the celebrant being Rev. Father Fitzpatrick. His Lordship Bishop O'Connor then addressed those about to be received into the sisterhood. He took as his text the words:—"All whosoever that leave father and mother, brother and sister, wife and children and lands for may sake, shall receive reward a hundred fold and shall possess life everlasting."—St. Matthew, 19th chap., 29th verse.

His Lordship, in speaking, dwelt upon that in which the happiness of heaven consists and pointed out that in order to secure this happiness it was desirable to liken the disposition to that of the angels. In order to acquire the most perfect state of happiness, therefore, it was necessary to abjure the things of this world and as far as possible follow the words of the text.

The blessing and conferring of the habits by the Bishop then followed. Those receiving them were Miss B. Windle, of Renfrew county, and Miss Ella Fitzpatrick, of Norwood. Hereafter they will be known, respectively, as Sister M. Angela and Sister Stanislaus.

THE NOVITIATE YEAR

of both is just concluded. They appeared before the altar in worldly apparel, and after signifying their wish to continue to fit themselves to become member of the sisterhood they assumed the black habit.

The vows or profession were then taken by four young ladies who took the habit a year ago and have therefore been fitting themselves for the sisterhood for two years. After taking the triple vow of poverty, chastity and obedience, the cross of Christ was bestowed upon them by the Bishop.

The novices who have thus taken upon themselves the vows of the sisterhood are Miss Mahar, of Lindsay, in religion, Sister Carmelita; Miss Lynch, of Peterborough, in religion, Sister St. John; and Miss Twomey, of Fenelon Falls, in religion, Sister Celestine.

Besides the clergy of the cathedral, the following priests were in attendance at the ceremony: V. Rev. Monsignour Laurent, of Lindsay; Rev. Father Lynch, of Port Hope; Rev. Father Conway, of Norwood, and Rev. Fathers Murray and Duffy, of Cobourg.

STONY LAKE ITEMS.

The Fishing Exceptionally Good this Year—Hospitality Dispensed in the Evenings.

Stony Lake appears to be jollier than ever this year, and the campers are feeling more pleased than ever with this most beautiful spot. The fishing is as good as ever, and some most excellent catches of bass have been reported, with an occasional big lunge to vary the excitement.

In the evening the ladies have had plenty of opportunities of entertaining, and the hospitality of the cottagers is becoming a byword amongst the many visitors who go up for an occasional day.

During the season Thursday and Saturday evenings have always been most pleasantly spent at Mr. and Mrs. Brock's cottage, which, when illuminated, presents a sight most picturesque indeed from the lake. Mr. and Mrs. Brock have a charming location for their cottage, and the view from the verandahs is superb.

On Thursday evening Mrs. Brock will entertain for the last time, and as nearly all the cottagers have received an invitation to be present an exceptionally pleasant time is expected.

A SACRED RECITAL.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—It is, I supose, no secret that Peterborough is entertaining at present an eminent violinist in the person of Herr Paul Stoeving, late concertmeister and solo violinist of the Mendelssohn Quintette Club.

Mr. Stoeving is now on the eve of his departure for London, England, and it would indeed be a public loss were our citizens to have no opportunity of profiting by his lofty talents. This is, happily, not to be the case.

By Mr. Stoeving's great kindness I am privileged to invite the music-loving people of our town to a sacred recital, to be given in St. John's church next Sunday evening.

Whilst inviting all lovers of good music to share this treat with us, we are desirous not to interfere with church attendance elsewhere. The recital will, therefore, not begin until 8.30 p.m.

Yours, etc.,
J. C. DAVIDSON.

The Misses Robertson spent Sunday at Centreville, the guests of Miss Donaldson.

Misses Jennie and Julia Gillespie are visiting at Port Hope.

Mr. H. P. Kennedy spent Sunday at Stony Lake.

The Junior C. E. were entertained on Thursday afternoon by Mrs. J. A. Bennet. A very pleasant time was spent in games and other amusements.

Our annual S. S. picnic will be held on Wednesday, Aug. 26th, to Jubilee Point. The steamer City of Peterborough has been chartered. A good programme of sports is being prepared, and altogether a very enjoyable time is expected. Boat leaves the wharf at 8 a.m. Tickets, adults, 35c.; under fifteen, 25c.

NO LEADER YET.

Conservative Caucus Lightly Attended — No Opposition to Mr. Edgar as Speaker — The "United" Conservative Party Can't Unite on a Leader.

(Special to the Examiner.)

Ottawa, Aug. 19.—There was so small an attendance at the Conservative caucus today that an adjournment was made without doing any business. The question of leadership was therefore left over. It was decided not to oppose Mr. Edgar as Speaker. At twelve o'clock, noon, the members commenced to sign the roll and take the oath of office.

A WELCOME TO LORD ABERDEEN

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—It is settled, I believe, that His Excellency Lord Aberdeen will open the exhibition here next month. His Excellency and his noble wife deserve well of Irishmen and Irishwomen the world over. Would it not therefore be meet that we should avail ourselves of this opportunity to present to His Lordship, if agreeable, a brief address in testimony of our enduring gratitude and appreciation? Might not our societies come together and talk the matter over?

ON FORMS OF PRAYER.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Whilst we would object to being confined to forms of prayer, it has long been our opinion that where a congregation could be induced to concur in a mode of worship which united the advantages of a liturgy, and of extemporaneous address to God, the case of the people, and the general purpose of worship would be better served than by an adherence to one of those plans only.

Whatever objections may be raised to some other offices of the Episcopalian church, its "order for morning prayer" has commended itself to the judgment and piety of most classes of Christians. Its earnest exhortations to repentance, its acts of penitance and faith, its formal offer of the "great salvation," its solemn songs of praise, generally in words "which the Holy Ghost teacheth," but sometimes, and not unfitly in language sanctified by ancient piety and genius, its orderly exhibition of the unadulterated truths of Scripture, its simple creed, its humble petitions—each heart that knows its own bitterness finding vent in the common cry of a sinning and suffering race—its frequent use of the Lord's own form of prayer—for He only knew what was in man, and could help him to tell it to his Father and our Father, to His God and our God; its catholic intercessions, its devout thanksgiving, its mutual benedictions—these form the staple of that sublime form of worship which for many generations—next to the Bible, was the best depository of the pure religion of Christ. One great recommendation of a liturgy consists in the obligation it imposes upon the body of the congregation to join manifestly and audibly in the public worship, thus abolishing all idea that that the minister sustained to them any priestly office or relation, and placing him and them in acts of prayer and praise on one common level before God. Neglect of duty on the part of the people, or flippency on the part of the minister does not affect the question. The former is generally the consequence of the latter, and this might be remedied by the diffusion of more correct views, and by the prevalence of a higher tone of religious feeling.

Dr. Guthrie, who for a quarter of a century was the foremost minister in the Free Church of Scotland, said in one of his published discourses, "Though the practice would ill accord with our conventional manners that have often more of art than of nature, I think, considering the day, the place, the purpose of the assembly, it were a beautiful and appropriate thing when ministers and people meet in the House of God, to meet after the manner of Boas and his people. The minister on appearing in the pulpit saying, 'The Lord be with you,' and the people responding, 'The Lord bless thee.' Thus the generous heart of the great Presbyterian towered above all prejudice and national predelictions, to pay a just tribute to one excellency in the forms of the Episcopal Church.

THE SALVATION ARMY HARVEST THANKSGIVING FESTIVAL.

A Unique Scheme.

The annual "Harvest Festival Scheme" in connection with the Salvation Army, will be held throughout Canada, Newfoundland, Northwest America and Bermuda on Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 29, 30, 31 and Sept. 1.

This is a capital scheme, and gives opportunity for all who appreciate the Army's work to assist in some way or other.

The officers of the various corps are instructed to visit friends and collect from them anything they are able to contribute, whether it be in cash or otherwise.

Gifts of produce, groceries, fruit, grain, cattle, poultry, or anything of any description which is saleable, will be acceptable.

After the collection of these various articles a sale of the same is arranged for the Tuesday night, and the proceeds then placed into one common fund to help the Army financially.

The Commissioner, Miss Booth, hopes also by this scheme to replenish the storehouses of the various institutions, such as Rescue Homes for fallen women, Men's Shelters, Children's Institutions, etc., so that it will be unnecessary to spend money on these articles during the fall and winter months.

Though money may be scarce the land is laden with good things, and the Commissioner calls upon those who have enough and to spare, to remember those who are not so favourably circumstanced.

ONTARIO'S WEATHER.

What the Provincial Bureau Says of it From March to July.

The result of observations reported to the Dominion Meteorological Service from Saugeen, Birnam, London, Woodstock, Stony Creek, Toronto, Lindsay, Gravenhurst, Ottawa, Rockliffe shows that the rainfall of the past five months was heavier than that of 1895 by 1.84 inches, but was 1.75 inches below the average of 1892-95. March, April, May and June were all below the average, and July was slightly above the average. The distribution of rain was somewhat uneven.

In May, June and July 9.22 inches fell in the section west and southwest of the Meteorological Office in Toronto, 6.03 inches in the north-west and north 6.71 in the centre and 7.16 in the east and north-east.

The average temperature from March to July of the present year was 51.8 degrees and the average for May to July, 64. The average for March was 20.9, April 46.1, May 59.9, June 64.3, July 67.6.

The average for March to July last year was 51 degrees and for the same months from 1892 to 1895, 50, so that the temperature for the present year was slightly above the average. In the May crop bulletin attention was called to the low temperature of March and the high temperature of April of the present year. The month of May was even more noticeable for its high temperature, it being nearly 7 degrees above the average of the fourteen years—1882-95. June was normal and July only half a degree above normal.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

A special cable from London, says:—The Grand Trunk Railway returns for the half year ended June 30, have been published. They show gross receipts of £1,707,500; working expenses, £1,218,200; net receipts, £489,300. For the half year corresponding in 1895 the figures were: working exenses, £1,171,073; nat, £483,020; a difference in favour of this year of £7,380.

The G. T. R. and C. P. R. have jointly issued this circular: Complaints have been made that the railway cartage agents are in some instances, at the request of shippers, making deliveries of carload freight to a number of consignees; also that shippers are in the habit of consigning carload rates to their own order at certain points, and sending instructions to railway agents to make delivery of same to various consignees, contrary to the special regulations set forth in rule 2 of the Canadian joint freight classification. Agents must be particularly careful to see that the instructions contained in the above rule of the regulations are fully carried out, and they must not in any case send notice of arrival to more than one consignee.

Seems as if all the things we like disagree with us, and all the things we don't like, agree with us. Dyspepsia lurks in most of the good things that we eat, and indigestion follows the gratification of appetite. Of course, it isn't Nature's fault. Nature does the best she can, and if a man will only help her a little bit at the right time, he may eat what he likes and as much as he likes. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are for people who are troubled with indigestion. Particularly for those in whom it manifests itself in the form of constipation. The "Pellets" are quick and easy in their action. They are in perfect harmony with Nature. They effect a permanent cure. You need take them regularly only a little while. After that, use them occasionally when you need them—when you have eaten anything that disagrees with you. They may be taken just as freely as you would take water or any other necessity of life. Once used they are always in favour.

ARRIVALS AT IDYL-WILD.

Numerous Guests at the Island—A Pleasant Time being Spent Away From the Heat.

Arrivals at Idyl Wild since Aug. 10th:—Mrs. T. Frederick and child, Mrs. J. Hamilton, H. G. Hurlbert, R. E. Hamilton, Warkworth; Mrs. W. Menzies, Miss Mary Menzies, Miss Bella Menzies, W. Menzies, jr., Miss Vina Belleghem, Miss Edith McKee, Peterborough; Harry Doonan, J. M. Lynch, Jas. M. Clettane, Hastings; Miss Harstone, Owen Sound; Miss Douglass, Wabaque, Iowa; J. Angela Donald, Donaldville; Mrs. B. Earl Thackery, Hamilton; M. Jean Morrison, New York; H. M. Tripp, Cobourg; W. G. Oliver and wife, Rochester; Miss A. Z. Pickering, Toronto; Miss H. M. Wirk, Miss A. Basch, Cobourg; Miss M. H. Morgan, Omemee; Miss Grace N. A. Burke, Cobourg; C. Pickering, Baltimore; Miss B. Mcmahon, Cobourg; H. Crossley, Miss Crossley, Mrs. Armstrong, Master Roy Armstrong and Miss McKee, all of Peterborough; Mrs. F. G. Lune, Ella Schaefer, Rochester; Dr. A. W. Henskell, Rochester; Miss H. F. Grove, Toronto.

Saturday night a party came down from Hastings on the "Outlet Queen" and remained until Tuesday. They registered as follows: Fred W. Ash, Norwood; Geo. A. White, Dr. Jacques, W. H. Matthews, Trenton; W. A. F. Campbell, Norwood; H. Johnston, Hastings; Chas. Smith, Campbellford; Geo. Horkins, Peterborough. The hotel and grounds were decorated Saturday night with numerous ornamental Chinese lanterns, and the many coloured lights to be seen interspersed all over produced a very pretty effect on the island. Music and dancing was enjoyed by the guests in the large pavillion and a huge bonfire was lit on the shore which attracted visitors to the island.

Mr. Geo. Lewis, Mr. W. Moore and Mr. Lyle Moore, part of the Huntsville party, who had reached Peterborough Saturday morning, paddled down to Idyl Wyld in the evening about 8 o'clock. Miss Laura Belleghem accompanied them. Mrs. Joseph Armstrong is the life of the Peterborough party. Miss Edith McKee caught a fine maskinonge on Friday evening, after an exciting experience, and brought the fish in her own hands up to the Island in great triumph followed by a procession of admiring friends. Master Willie Menzies was also in luck the same evening having captured his game a few rod from the island after a lively tussle.

A LETTER FROM KHAMA.

The Chief of Bechuana'and Writes to Rev. John Craig.

It will be remembered that Khama, Chief of Bechuanaland, South Africa, visited London some time ago, in order to prevent his country being put under the protection of a chartered company, which he feared would introduce drink, against which he has a great aversion.

He and a company remained in London for some time and were presented to the Queen. They gave her some presents and in return were presented with a couple of Bibles, beautifully bound, in their own tongue, and shawls for their wives.

Khama gained his end and his country is now under the direct protection of the Queen. The Telugu Godavari Baptist Association, which met last January, sent him a message of sympathy for his fight against drink and of congratulation at his successful visit to London.

The Rev. John Craig, who is at present in Port Hope, and who presides over the association, received yesterday the following autograph letter from Chief Khama. The letter is typewritten, with Khama's own signature at the bottom. On the left hand side of the page at the top is his official seal.

Following is the letter:

Phalapye, Bechuanaland,
S. Africa, May 22, 1896.

To Rev. John Craig, Akidu, Godavari Dist., India:

DEAR SIR,—I beg to acknowledge the very kind resolution that has reached me from the Association over which you preside. I have never before received a message from the people of India, and I am glad to know that there are some people there who sympathize with me in the fight that we try to wage against strong drink. Those of us who fight the drink know how strong is the foe that we fight. He has many names. Sometimes he is called Money; sometimes Rascality; sometimes Pleasure; and sometimes Politics; but his right name is always Devil. But our Chief Officer is stronger than this, and by His help we shall overcome.

I desire to greet the people of Jesus Christ who live in your district and I pray that they may make great progress in all good things.

In this country we are making progress, but our progress is not as fast as we would like. Just recently we have had great trouble here. Since my return from England "Rinderpest" has broke out among our cattle and has killed from 80 to 90 per cent. It came to us from Zambesie country. Then this year our crops have failed on account of drought and locusts, so that we are afraid of seeing hunger. But we have seen troubles of this kind before and yet we live.

I pray you greet the Christians of your Association for me and give them these my thanks for your kind words. I am

Yours faithfully,
KHAMA.

BURLEIGH FALLS.

Burleigh Falls how it calls,
Calls, calls, calls,
Noisy Falls.

Lulling us to sleep at night,
Waking us at morning light.
Ever flowing, noisily falling,
Dashing onward, ever calling.

Calling, calling, noisily calls,
Tumbling, leaping Burleigh Falls.

Onward the water goes,
Onward the water flows,
Plunging, dancing, rippling along,
Singing ever the self same song.

Let us drift so slowly with the stream,
Dropping our paddles we sleepily dream,
As fainter and fainter grows the noise of the Falls,
Burleigh Falls, as it calls, calls.

PULLMAN HOUSE

Frank Fairen, PROPRIETOR. 329 George Street Peterborough.

Fresh air and exercise are all right, Boys, but you want a little something occasionally for the stomach's sake. You can always count on getting it good at the Pullman. But be temperate, Boys, and let your motto be "moderation."

The full intensity of living is reached only by the perfectly healthy. Sickness discounts the capacity for enjoyment. When a piano is badly out of tune, the noises that come from it are certainly not musical. They are not beautiful. If it is only a little bit out of tune, you can play some few things on it. You can create a semblance of music, but you cannot make really beautiful, satisfying, soul-stirring music, unless every string is tense and firm, unless every piece of the whole instrument is in perfect tune, in perfect condition, in perfect harmony with every other piece.

It is the same with a human being. If his body is all out of order and run-down, he will not be able to enjoy anything, no matter how full of enjoyment it may be for other people. If he is just a little bit out of order, if he "is not sick, but doesn't feel just right" he will only be able to enjoy things in a half-hearted sort of way. The nearer he is to being perfectly well, the nearer will his capacity for enjoyment be perfect. To really live, and to take his part in the work and pleasure of the world, his body must be in perfect condition. If this condition doesn't exist, something is wrong and something ought to be done. That something nine cases in ten means the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It works directly on the digestive organs, and on the blood and through these on every tissue of the whole body. It makes the appetite good, the digestion perfect and nutrition rapid and easy. It supplies rich, red blood to all the tissues and builds up solid, healthful flesh. It brings perfect health and restores vigorous, springy vitality. It makes every function in life a pleasure instead of a drag. It is an invigorating tonic as well as the greatest blood-purifier of the age. You can get it at any drug store. If you care to know more about it, and about your own physical make-up, send 31 one-cent stamps to cover cost of customs and mailing only and receive absolutely free a copy of Dr. Pierce's celebrated book, "Common Sense Medical Adviser"—1008 pages, profusely illustrated. IN FASHION'S REALM.

Hints as to Mat rials and Styles that Are and Will Be in Vogue.

Chiffon and mousseline de soie are now made with much more stiffness than when the material was first brought over, and it is quite possible to have entire gowns made of these, even for water-side wear, provided the linings used are of good enough quality, says Harper's Bazar. By good enough is meant heavy enough. The most brilliant colorings are used in these materials, but, as has been said, are toned down by the linings and trimmings. One noticeably pretty gown, made of the brightest apple green, is an exquisitely delicate shade when made up over white silk and trimmed with black, while a yellow, so brilliant that it is dazzling to the eyes, assumes an odd, soft, warm shade lined with heliotrope and trimmed with white lace and the inevitable touches of black, which are again seen on every smart gown. It was made with a ruching of the material separated and also headed by bands of very narrow black velvet ribbon, the waist finished around the shoulders also with a ruche and the narrow black velvet. A black velvet belt and bow of ribbon velvet two inches wide, and very odd sleeves in big puffs separated by the black velvet, completed this extremely odd design. The bright yellow gown, which was made up over heliotrope, had each seam of the skirt outlined with a band of lace insertion, and ru es of lace were put on in scallops around the skirt. The waist, while a deep frill of lace was put on bertha fashion, but caught in at the armholes and then falling a second time over the sleeves. A folded belt of black satin shaped like a corselet was trimmed in front with two rows of rhinestone buttons, while at the back the same ribbon was drawn down through a rhinestone buckle and fell in long ends to the very hem of the gon. The touch of black sounds very daring, but it gave a point of color that was most effective.

Insist on having just what you call for when you go to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla, the One True Blood Purifier and nerve tonic.

Animal Antipathies.

Darwin gives several instances of inherited animal antipathies which appear equally striking. The excessive fear shown by young rabbits which for the first time smell a ferret and of young turkeys which hear the shrill cry of a hawk they have never heard or seen before, are proved examples of the strength of these instinctive antipathies.

The Smallest City.

The smallest city in the world is the miniature place known as Steward City, Alaska—its three inhabitants being respectively mayor, chairman of the board of aldermen and the president of the common council.

He Has Tried It.

Mr. John Anderson, Kinloss, writes: "I venture to say few, if any, have received greater benefit from the use of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, than I have. I have used it regularly for over ten years and have recommended it to all sufferers I know of, and they also found it of great virtue in cases of severe bronchitis and incipient consumption.

Sessional Clerks Will be Retained by the New Speaker—Warning Against London Swindlers.

Ottawa, Aug. 17.—Mr. Edgar, prospective Speaker of the House of Commons, has gone carefully into the matter of the sessional employes of the House. The sessional clerks, 25 in number, will be retained, they being considered as permanent employes. Of the 45 messengers, etc., 20 will be laid off, those who are retained being the cream of the

The first of reports of the High Commissioner has called the attention of the Government to the complaints which have reached England from Canada respecting an organization called the International Patentees' Agency, which has been advertising extensively in Canada, to procure patents in Europe for Canadian inventors on payment in advance of certain sums of money. The association had its headquarters in Victoria Chambers, Chancery-lane, and from information obtained in Scotland Yard it appears to be a first-class swindle agency. It consists of one man, who previous to turning his attention to Canada operated successfully in the United States until the Government of that country took the matter up and caused a warning to be published for American inventors. Sir Donald Smith advises that a similar warning be conveyed to Canadians who may be interested in patents.

Col. Bacon, secretary of the D.R.A., has received an application from the adjutant of the 1st Royal Berkshire Regiment, stationed at Halifax, for copies of the annual program of the D.R.A. It is hoped here that a detachment of the Royal Berkshires will take part in the coming matches at Rideau Range.

Mr. J. H. Ross, member of the Executive of the Northwest Assembly, had an interview with Messrs. Laurier, Scott and Fielding, in regard to Northwest affairs. The outstanding debt of the Northwest Exhibition is one of the matters which must be disposed of. An item was put in the estimates by the late Government to partly cover this indebtedness, but it was not passed. The financial part of the exhibition was under the control of Lieutenant-Governor Mackintosh. It will take about $14,000 to pay the debts, for which there were no funds. Although the Dominion Government is not obliged to meet these debts, having only agreed to give a grant to the exhibition, which has already been paid, it is likely that the present Government also will place a sum in the estimates to cover the amount required, as most of the accounts are due to working men.

Messrs. Sifton and Cameron, who are now in town, were the two members of the Manitoba Government who had a conference with Messrs. Dickey and Desjardins and Sir Donald Smith in Winnipeg during the last session in regard to the school question. There is no doubt but that their chief mission here at the present time is to consult with Mr. Laurier, Mr. Tarte and Sir Oliver Mowat as to a final settlement of the school matter. Until that is accomplished, says The Journal, there will be no Minister of the Interior.

Sir Henry Joly de Lotbiniere arrived in the Capital last night from Quebec.

Hon. L. H. Davies is Acting Minister of Railways and Canals in the absence of Hon. A. G. Blair.

The Hon. M. Adams arrived to-day for the session.

Hon. Mr. Costigan and Chevalier John Henry left for New York to-day en route for the Irish National Convention at Dublin. Although Mr. Costigan was the mover of the Irish Home Rule resolutions of 1882 in the Canadian Parliament, this will be the first time in which he has set foot on the soil of the Green Isle.

Members of high standing of the Committee of Independent Foresters arrived here to-day, preparatory to the meeting of the High Court of Ontario, which opens to-morrow. The Russell House is the headquarters of the delegates and Host St. Jacques is having the balcony of the hotel tastefully decorated in their honor.

Mrs. Jane Anne Lewis, a woman 53 years of age, was found drowned in Patterson's Creek this morning. Deceased had a married daughter and a son about 18 years of age. The circumstances point to suicide while affected by some mental malady.

Among the members who arrived here to-night were Messrs. Boyd and Roche from Manitoba; Erb, South Perth; Ratz, North Middlesex; Copp, Digby and McLellan, Inverness.

Lightning Fires the Georgian Bay Company's Mills and Storehouse at Port Severn—75 Families Suffer.

Waubaushene, Ont., Aug. 17.—During a terrific hail storm yesterday morning the Georgian Bay Lumber Company's mill, store and storehouse at Port Severn were struck by lightning and completely destroyed. The strenuous efforts of the men prevented the fire from spreading into the lumber yard, and many million feet of lumber were saved. Had it not been for the heavy rain there is no doubt that the whole village would have been swept. As it is, over 75 families will suffer by this loss.

Later—The amount of loss by fire is placed at $50,000; partially insured.

The following letter, which speak for itself, was received by the undersigned this morning from a gentleman in Brockville, whose ten year endowment which he held in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada matured last week and was paid him. The Sun is modest in promises but UNEQUALLED IN RESULTS. The public are benefitted by results, not by promises unfulfilled
BROCKVILLE, November 7th, 1895.
W. H. HILL, Mgr. Central Ontario Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, Peterborough, Ontario:—
DEAR SIR,—I should have acknowledged the receipt of yours enclosing cheque for endowment policy No. 12,871 before, only I wanted to write something more than a mere receipt. I am pleased to hear of the continued prosperity of the "SUN" and it speaks well for your Company when the profits are greater (by 21 per cent.) than you as the Company's representative promised or rather estimated, as was the case with this policy.
I hope your Company will continue to prosper and I often regret that I do not carry more Insurance than I am doing. I might have carried twice as much as I do when at Minden without any great effort, still what little I do carry I feel is perfectly safe being in the "SUN."
I must thank you for your promptness and kindness regarding this policy just settled. I hope we will both be alive and well when the new one I now hold will be due in 1905 and assuring you of very best wishes, I remain,
Yours Sincerely,
(Signed) F. R. C.
The above voluntary testimonial is significant and shows in a most practical way the SUN'S standing as a profit paying institution.

Manager for Central Ontario,

Nervous Prostration
Complete Recovery by the Use of
Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have been fatherless to-day had it not been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, of which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. O. HINSON, Postmaster and Planter, Kinard's, S. C.

ON A STREET CORNER.

THE STUDY OF LIFE AS IT IS FROM THAT POINT OF VANTAGE.

The Gentleman of a Past Generation Compared With a Careless Bicycle Girl of the Period—The Sleepy Children on a Belt Line Car.

Standing on a street corner the other night waiting for a friend, my first impression was that we might more frequently spend a little time specially devoted to observation of the passing throng. What we see may affect us, and occasionally we may observe something which might have an especial influence upon us, but seldom indeed is it that we start out on a tour of observation and place ourselves where we can quietly see and understand what is going on about us.

The street corner is not one that I would have selected for observation, but a few minutes grew into an hour before I got away, and the pictures that I saw were interesting. First came the old-fashioned tea-cart, and the driver of it was evidently a gentleman of a generation prior to the one to which even the ancient cart belonged. A wholesome lass of 12 or 14, with a wealth of ringlets, sat beside him. The ringlets were of the old, old school, about a foot long and as tightly rolled as a piece of gas pipe. The old gentleman drove the old horse; and the old-fashioned girl was talking to him with all her might, and I could guess, and you can guess, that it was an old-fashioned talk, for they seemed to be a remnant of another age—the pudgy old horse, the decrepit cart, the very old man and the old, old-fashioned girl. They were out of tune with the trolley and the bicycle, but they were a reminiscence of the old folks who made us what we are, and who have much to do with keeping us from becoming too swift and too forgetful in the new era.

Let me remind you that this was a very quiet corner, but the next exhibit, which I filed as exhibit "B," was a young lady who was riding a bicycle. It is unnecessary to approve or disapprove of the garmenture of those who ride bicycles, but I am of the opinion that much of this tartan-stocking and fat-legged business that is being pushed on the public by men, will wear out. At one time I thought that the knee breeches and stockings of the old time would come back, but they are not working it that way. Bicyclists are adopting violently colored hose, a big strap of something under their knees with buttons on it, and the baggy trousers, which are ungraceful and, as they grow more numerous on the street and in the cafes, are very tiresome to the eye. It won't last.

Reverting to the young lady on the bicycle, she had flannel drawers and old-gold garters. I felt it was quite unnecessary for me to know that her under garments were of this particular variety, but as she seemed entirely careless of the display she was making I should not be at all delicate in mentioning the fact that she was shapely and quite a scorcher on the bicycle. To meet her socially I am of the opinion that I would not be prepossessed in her favor by the knowledge which I obtained of her underwear and her general demeanor on a bicycle. That, possibly, may be simply a prejudice. The young people who are somewhat disposed to forget that they wear frocks, will learn before they are many years older that the masculine kind will not interest themselves in women whose underwear is the talk of the town. The bicycle is not necessarily indelicate, but it can be made excessively so by those who consider it a departure and endeavor to prove that women can ride as fast and wear quite as few clothes as men.

The Belt Line car and its trailer went past. It was nearly half-past eight, and no one will dispute that Wednesday night was exceedingly warm. Eight seats of that car and trailer were occupied by women with a little string of youngsters. Each mother had four or five, and it appeared to me that none of the babies were more than eight or nine years. They were sweaty little beggars, sleepy and not altogether contented, but as the public carriage passed I imagined those little fellows out for a ride. They were hot and noisy and sleepless, and all efforts had failed to induce them to go to bed, or to sleep, and she took them out for a ride. Of course youngsters get sleepy the moment they go out riding. As soon as it is difficult to handle them when they are in this sleepy condition, immediately that is the condition they adopt.

A mother has rather a hard time who has four or five little children, yet it is her great happiness, and as soon as they grow and begin school and start to develop, she is intensely proud, and gets more happiness out of them than she can out of society or anything else that women adopt as a pursuit. But when they are babies they are something terrible, and the mother who goes around the Belt Line of an evening can be relied upon to vote for Sunday street cars, for she knows what it means to take the little fellows she likes out for a ride in order to get them to go to sleep. As they grow older and begin to flutter about and get from under the maternal wing and think of marrying and going on excursions of their own, I imagine that the mother would still believe in street cars, for bicycles allow young people to go out into the parks and the country roads without any chaperone. There is no one to do the propriety act, and while our young people may be quite able to take care of themselves there is an old-fashioned prejudice which the old gentleman in the tea-cart would uphold, that it is very well for young people to have old people along.

One can see a marvelous amount of life loitering on the street corner or observing the people in a restaurant. That we so seldom go out to observe our fellow men and those gentler ones who wear frocks, is a misfortune, because their errors would be certain to correct many of our own peculiar habits. To see faults in others is often to change one's own practices. The world is hard enough, as we all know, but for some reason the Creator of it caused it to be so. Our unhappiness may be largely the result of not knowing that other people are unhappier than we are.

As I stood on the corner and watched the great stream of humanity pass afoot, in the cars and on bicycles, I became impressed by the fact that we know so much about other people, that we are aware that physically they are very much as we are, and that mentally there is not much difference, and yet we do not know them. There is a something, whether it is supposed or real, which divides us from those to whom we have not been introduced. Those who presume too much on the immateriality of this dividing line are set down as rude and presumptuous people; those who are too much impressed by it are the diffident and self-conscious ones who imagine that they are so different from the majority of the race that they must conduct themselves as peculiar people. As a matter of fact, I think even the high and low are very much the same in their make-up, that humanity is much the same in its impulses, and the differences are largely created by circumstances and surroundings which have more effect in making people inaccessible than in making them better. One thing is evident, however, women are always much better than men, and mothers who have children to look after are the angels of the race.—Don, in Saturday Night.

Think it Over.

Have you ever heard of a medicine with such a record of cures as Hood's Sarsaparilla? Don't you know that Hood's Sarsaparilla, the One True Blood Purifier, has proved, over and over again, that it has power to cure, even after all other remedies fail. If you have impure blood you may take Hood's Sarsaparilla with the utmost confidence that it will do you good.

An Enormous Pie.

Under different skies jubilees and celebrations partake of varying characteristics. In Yorkshire and in some other parts of England also, every occasion for rejoicing is marked by the baking of a huge pie, which, after being exhibited, is devoured by all the inhabitants, says the New York Journal.

At Denby Dale, a Yorkshire hamlet, for instance, the other day, the people celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of the repeal of the corn laws by constructing an enormous pie 6 feet 6 inches wide and 1 feet 6 inches long. The dimensions of the indigestion which followed are not given.

This is not so large as the pie that this same village built on another anniversary some years ago, which was drawn through the place with thirty-two horses, headed by three brass bands, and was afterward put away under the waistcoats of the Denby Da'Wiers. It is said that some of the older inhabitants still retain portions of it in their osseous formation.

Summer Comes

With the flowers and sunshine. Birds pour out their melody and the chirp of the grasshopper will soon tempt the fisherman to stretch forth his hands and grasp the shadow of his flight. The playful mosquito will do her utmost to soothe weary pleasure seekers into the realms of slumber, and the singing, aching corns will remove every semblance of comfort, make sad the songs of the birds, evoke cloudiness in the soul, that even the brightest sunshine can not dispel. Corns are thorns in the flesh, but Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor removes them in twenty-four hours. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor is the best.

Why Some People Fail.

KILLED UNDER A TENDER.

A Fatal Accident at the Grand Trunk Shops at Stratford.

Stratford, Ont., Aug. 17.—A fatal accident occurred at the Grand Trunk shops this morning. A gang of men were engaged in jacking up a tender for the purpose of placing it on trucks. One end had been safely loaded, and while the men were working at the end the jack slipped, allowing the tender to fall on James Brownlee, catching him in a doubled-up position. He was removed to the hospital. His back was broken and he was badly bruised. He lingered until this evening, when he died.

Another piano has been added to the already long list of the village.

Miss Maggie Campbell left on Monday for Toronto, where she will attend the Normal School.

Mr. Robert English has the frame of his new residence on front street in place, and it is being pushed ahead rapidly.

On Tuesday evening the Epworth League of Carlistian Endeavour presented Miss Susie Campbell with a handsome silver tea urn on the eve of her departure from the village to reside in Peterborough, accompanied by the following address, read by Miss McCamus:—

Keene, Aug. 18, 1896.

MISS CAMPBELL,—Having learned with regret of your approaching removal from our village and church, we feel it impossible to permit you to leave without giving some tangible expression of the very high esteem in which you are held. Your faithful and efficient service as organist in both the public and social means of grace, your devotion and invaluable service as teacher in the Sunday School, and as assistant superintendent of the Junior League, have contributed in a large measure to the success of the Lord's work in our beloved church.

But above the adornment of good works, we have admired the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which in the sight of God is of great price. The high Christian character you have shown shall continue to be unto us an example and an inspiration.

As significant in some degree of the esteem and affection cherished by your many friends in the church, we beg leave to present you with this silver tea urn.

We would further at this time embrace the opportunity of bearing testimony to the excellent Christian character of your mother, Mrs. Campbell, and your three brothers, James, Willie and Percie. For Christian integrity and faithful Christian work you have a family merited and received the unqualified confidence of the entire community.

In conclusion we further remind you that though our fellowship in Christian work is about to be broken, our sympathy and prayer for one another may continue as in the cherished past; so let us in the hopeful future ever invoke upon one another the benediction of our Mizpah:

"May the Lord watch between me and thee while we are absent one from another."

Miss Kirby made the presentation and then several expressed their regret at losing such a helper as Miss Campbell has proved herself to be.

Miss Campbell made a suitable reply thanking the people for their kindness to her.

Light in Asia—It Shines Clearly.

MESSRS. T. MILBURN & CO., TORONTO:

Dear Sirs,—There is light in Asia after all and the man that advised me to try your Heart and Nerve Pills was a friend indeed and truly a friend in need. Before I started to take them I was languid, weak, sleepless and nervous. My brain was beclouded and I could not collect my thoughts, I had gone through an operation in the hope of relief, but still remained generally broken up, my appetite was gone and I was almost without hope or ambition.

But I feel thoroughly rebuilt through the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and it took only three or four weeks to do the work. I often think of the years of suffering I might have escaped had I only known of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills in time; but I am grateful to be restored to health at last and gladly recommend the medicine that cured.

W. H. Cudney, Port Burwell, Ont., says: "I was afflicted with rheumatism and tried all cures. I did not get relief until I tried Millar's Compound Iron Pills and before I had finished two boxes I was completely cured, and now feel like a different man." Only 25 cents per box. Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

IAN MACLAREN'S NEW STORY.

Ian Maclaren's new short story, the last he will write until after his American visit, has been secured by The Ladies' Home Journal, for publication in the October and November issues. It is called "The Minister of St. Bede's," and is said to be in the brightest and cleverest Maclarenesque vein. Besides its charm as a delightful romance, the story is said to be notable for the admirable character that the author has created for the chief personage—the minister of St. Bede's as the loyal lover of an humble Scotch lassie.

LIMITED LIABILITY.

CAPITAL - - $500,000

In Shares of $1.00 Each, Fully Paid and Non-Assessable Stock.

Head Office, Victoria, B. C. Mines, Trail Creek, W. Kootenay.

TRUSTEES.

G. A. Kirk, President; A. B. Erskine and P. A. O'Farrell.

Among the list of stockholders are the following well-known gentlemen: Lieut.-Governor Dewdney, the Hon. J. H. Turner, Premier of British Columbia; R. P. Rithet, M.L.A.; Hon. D. W. H. Higgins, Speaker of the Provincial Legislature; Capt. John Irving, A. J. McColl, Q.C., E. V. Bodwell, William Wilson, Simon Leiser, C. A. Holland, and other well-known citizens of Victoria.

The Nest Egg Mining Company was formed to acquire and operate the famous Nest Egg mine in the Trail district of West Kootenay, within a half mile of the centre of Rossland. It is a 1500-foot location and covers fifty acres and is Crown granted. It has three well-defined ledges all trending in an easterly and westerly direction, like the old fissures of the camp. The main ledge on the Nest Egg is one of the strongest and best defined ledges of the district and has been traced from the Sunset and Gold Hunter on the west to the Commander on the east. A shaft has been sunk for fifty feet on this main ledge, and this shaft is all in ore and ledge matter from top to bottom. On the central vein three shafts have been sunk, and the vein traced for 800 feet. The west shaft is 16 feet deep and the ore in this shaft assays from $7 to $48 in gold and 4 per cent. copper. The central shaft is down 40 feet, and the clean ore taken out of this shaft averages over $30 in gold. Number 3 shaft on this vein is about 300 feet east of No. 2 and is down 30 feet, with 3 feet of solid clean ore in the bottom of the shaft that assays $35 to the ton.

The cost of mining, smelting and treatment for this ore averages $13, so that the Nest Egg is now mining ore that will net it a profit of from $16 to $20 a ton.

The Nest Egg Company has purchased the adjoining mineral claim, the Fire Fly. The Fire Fly has a fine strong, well-defined ledge running through the entire claim, and development work is now being done on this ledge.

The railroad from the Trail smelter to Rossland runs through the company's ground for 2000 feet, affording every possible facility for the shipment of ores from these mines.

The company has placed upon the market 50,000 shares of stock in the Nest Egg Mining Company, which are to be sold at 25 cents a share, and the proceeds are to be devoted to the development of the mines and the purchase of machinery. An additional 50,000 shares will be placed subsequently upon the market at an advanced price should further money be required for the development of the property.

Mr. Miller, an eminent mining engineer, in his report, says: "After careful examination of the Nest Egg mine and the fine ledges that are exposed on that claim, I am satisfied that the Nest Egg mine should develop into one of the rich mines of Trail Creek," and Col. Burke, a mining man of twenty years' experience in Utah, Montana, Idaho and British Columbia, states:—"The Nest Egg, with its great surface showing and mineral ore, with its fine development and with the rich ore in sight, has all the earmarks of a big mine."

The capitalization of this company is 50,000 shares, with one-fifth of the stock in the Treasury, and the sale of this Treasury stock at 25 cents a share is remarkably cheap, for most of the mining companies capitalize for $1,000,000 and upwards, and this fact must be taken into consideration in estimating the value of the Treasury stock of this mine.

The Palo Alto mine was bought by Victoria capitalists on reports made to them by Mr. Frank Loring, Col. Burke and Mr. Harry Howson. Mr. Howson had the ores carefully sampled and assayed, and they averaged $38 to the ton. The Palo Alto vein is a well and clearly defined ledge running through from the Florence mineral claim on the west to the San Joaquin on the east. This vein, called the Palo Alto, is known to be one of the richest in Trail Creek. The walls of this vein are almost perfect, and near the surface are from three to six feet apart, and where depth has been attained valuable shipping ore has in every instance been found.

The Palo Alto is a 1,500 square location and covers over fifty acres of ground. There are two ledges or veins. Very little development has been done on the south ledge. On the main ledge a shaft 80 feet deep has been sunk between two walls, all in ledge matter and ore. The ore from this shaft runs from $18 to $48 in gold. The pay chute in this shaft is increasing as depth is attained, and so is the value in gold.

To the west of this shaft the vein has been traced over 600 feet by surface pits and cuts, showing it to be not only a strong, well-defined vein, but demonstrates the fact that the shaft was sunk on the tail end of this chute of ore, and that the vein as well as the ore gets stronger and larger as you go west from the shaft.

The Palo Alto, judging it from the work that has been done the croppings that come to the surface, and the fact that it is situated in one of the best mineral belts that was ever discovered in the Northwest, is almost certain to make a good paying mine.

The claim lies on low ground, where it would be impossible for it to be a slide, and must be in its original position and a true fissure.

The latest assay values in this vein have run from $25 to $280 in gold, and these values were the best ever taken out of any of the veins in the Trail Creek country at a like depth.

At the end of May, Lieutenant-Governor Dewdney visited Rossland and made a careful inspection of the Palo Alto, in which he was personally interested. On his return to Victoria, the Colonist of May 30th published an interview, in which Gov. Dewdney spoke about the Palo Alto as follows:—"I visited the Palo Alto and examined that claim most carefully. I was exceedingly pleased to find so much development done. Towards the east end of the Palo Alto is a shaft 30 feet deep, with very fine looking ore upon the dump. I had this ore sampled and assayed at the Trail Creek smelter, and found it to be good shipping ore. About 200 feet west of the main shaft is another about 16 feet deep, and the bottom of the shaft is all in ore; 400 feet further west the vein has been stripped and the cuts made expose a fine strong vein. You can say for me that I am more than thoroughly pleased with my inspection of the Palo Alto, and I believe that the Victorians have got a very valuable property in that mine."

The property is paid for in full, and 100,000 shares of stock are to be sold immediately at 15 cents a share for the development of this mine. Another 100,000 shares are reserved in the treasury, to be afterwards sold as the needs of the company require.

These two mining properties, owned and controlled and operated by the leading business men and the best known citizens of the Province of British Columbia, is a guarantee that investors in these two mines have great chances of realizing big profits from a small investment. These mines have been recommended and reported on by excellent mining men and by the best mining engineers of the Trail Creek country, and I have no hesitation in recommending investment in these properties as among the safest in that country. For this reason, myself and others have made a contract with the management of the Nest Egg and the Palo Alto companies for the entire treasury stock of both mines, and I cheerfully recommend the purchase of this treasury stock by the investors of Canada who desire to share in the extraordinary rich promise of the Trail Creek mines.

I have come to the conclusion that British Columbia, and Trail Creek in particular, is about to develop into the greatest gold producer that this continent has ever known, and that Trail Creek will rival, and most probably surpass, the wonderful gold fields of South Africa. English capitalists have already begun to find out the wealth of this favoured region, and they have begun to buy some of the mines in Trail Creek. When London has once fairly started to buy these mines there will be no chance for Canadian capital to get mining property at low figures. I therefore think that if the people of this province desire to share in the enormous profits that are certain to be realized in British Columbia mines they must invest at once, and for this reason I offer to my clients mining stocks in which, after most careful consideration and investigation, I believe they will have an excellent chance of realizing big profits.

Stock in both mines supplied on application.

AN IMMENSE CROWD

Witnessed the Opening of Parliament Yesterday.

THE WEATHER WAS BEAUTIFUL

And Parliament Hill Was Thronged by Citizens in Holiday Dress—Speech From the Throne—The Business of the First Day Was Only Routine.

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—Probably the largest crowd ever assembled to witness the opening of Parliament was that which turned out to-day. The weather was beautiful, and as it was the Capital's Civic Holiday, hundreds of Ottawa people, who rarely have an opportunity of witnessing the opening or closing of Parliament, took advantage of the occasion. It was three o'clock when the Governor-General reached the Senate Chamber. His Excellency's carriage being accompanied by the usual escort of Dragoons. Entering the Senate Chamber, Lord Aberdeen was accompanied by a brilliant suite, including General Gascoigne, Col. Aylmer, and other officers. Lady Aberdeen preceded His Excellency into the Senate Chamber by a few minutes, being accompanied by Lady Marjory Gordon and her two sons, the latter being arrayed as pages of the time of Louis Quatorze. The chairs, usually occupied by the senators, were filled by a bevy of ladies. It is remarkable how many new faces there were amongst them. Most of them wore high-necked dresses, a few decollete costumes being observable. Black rod having been duly despatched to summon the faithful Commons, the members of the lower House came in, preceded by their Speaker and mace.

Hon. Mr. Edgar informed the Governor-General that the choice of the House of Commons had fallen upon him to be their Speaker, and he prayed for the members thereof customary parliamentary privilege. This His Excellency was pleased to accord to the Speaker, Speaker Pelletier being his mouthpiece.

The Governor-General then read the following Speech from the Throne:

Hon. gentlemen of the Senate and gentlemen of the House of Commons:

The necessity of making provisions for the public service has compelled me to summon you together at this somewhat inconvenient season.

It is impossible to lay before you at this session the public accounts for the past year, or indeed any of the reports usually submitted to Parliament. Under these circumstances and in view of the fact that you will be required to reassemble early in the ensuing year it does not appear expedient to invite your attention to any measures beyond the passage of the supplies.

The operation of the tariff will be made the subject of careful enquiry during the recess, with a view to the preparation of such a measure as may, without doing injustice to any interest, materially lighten the burden of the people.

Immediate steps will be taken to effect a settlement of the Manitoba school question, and I have every confidence that when Parliament next assembles this important controversy will have been adjusted satisfactorily.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

The estimates for the current year will be laid before you forthwith.

Honorable gentlemen of the Senate and gentlemen of the House of Commons:

I hope that when you will have given the necessary attention to the consideration of the year's supplies, I may be able to relieve you from the duty of further attendance at this session of Parliament.

The formal proceedings then closed.

After the floor had been cleared, the Senate resumed in session and a short discussion took place as to when the debate on the address would be commenced. It was agreed to meet again on Tuesday evening next at 8 o'clock. It is significant, as showing that the Minister of Justice is to be the leader of the Senate, but, although Mr. Scott was present, Sir Oliver acted as spokesman for the Government and moved the adjournment of the House.

Over in the Commons Chamber there was as great a rush to the galleries as to the Senate. The Commons met at 3 o'clock and duly waited the summons from the Governor-General. Black rod tickled the new members by his genuflexion and a great crowd trooped over to the Senate Chamber to see the sight. On returning, the Speaker informed the House that the Governor-General had been pleased to accord the customary privileges. The usual formal bill respecting administration of oaths of office was introduced by Mr. Laurier.

The Speaker informed the House that, "to prevent mistakes," he had secured a copy of the speech which His Excellency had delivered.

A short colloquy took place between the Premier and Sir Charles Tupper as to when the debate on the address should be commenced.

Sir Charles stated that, as many members were away, Monday would be the most convenient day. He said he desired also to ask that there be laid on the table of the House the correspondence which took place in connection with the resignations of the late Government. It was very desirable to have that correspondence before the House when the address was being considered, as it would enable them to deal with the question of the change of administration at the same time as they were dealing with the address.

Mr. Laurier, in assenting to the commencement of the discussion on Monday, said he would not like to break the pleasant harmony which had existed so far and hoped it would continue to the end of the session. With regard to the correspondence referred to, he could not give an answer at that moment, but would do so to-morrow.

It was decided to strike the usual standing committees. On motion of Mr. Laurier, the following gentlemen were appointed a committee to supervise the debates of the House: Messrs. Beausoleil, Monet, Haley, Charlton, Somerville, Richardson, Scriver, Ellis, Choquette, LaRiviere, Taylor, Earle, Davin, Craig and Bergeron.

Mr. Laurier stated that the proportion of Liberals and Conservatives was that which prevailed last session.

Sir Charles Tupper thought that nine Liberals and six Conservatives was not a fair distribution, considering the relative proportion of members on both sides of the House. He asked the Premier if he had looked into that question.

Mr. Laurier said that he had, and the difference was so minute as not to be worthy of a change. (Laughter.) The committee was appointed as stated.

Sir Charles Tupper said he desired to take the opportunity of asking the First Minister whether the statement in the public press was true that negotiations now pending on the school question were likely to result favorably. The hon. gentleman was well aware of the great anxiety felt on both sides that the question should be brought to a satisfactory conclusion as early as possible, and it would be a great source of relief to the House to learn that the newspaper statements were well founded, and that a satisfactory arrangement was likely to be reached.

Mr. Laurier: "I have great pleasure in informing the hon. gentleman that at my invitation Mr. Sifton, Attorney-General of Manitoba, came down with a view to arranging with the Government for negotiations in regard to the settlement of that important question. Further than this I am not at liberty to say at present."

The subject then dropped and the House adjourned.

In view of the decision reached not to take up the address until Monday, there will be little doing in the House to-morrow. It has not yet been decided whether an amendment will be moved by the Opposition to the address. That depends upon circumstances, and will doubtless be the outcome to the Conservative caucus which will be held next Wednesday, unless Mr. Foster can be here in time for a meeting on Tuesday.

The point involved in Sir Charles Tupper's question in the House had reference to the difference of opinion between His Excellency and the late advisers in reference to the filling of certain vacancies in the public service before Ministers went out of office, when Lord Aberdeen refused to sanction the appointments suggested. It is understood that the members of the late Government formally placed on record in a letter to His Excellency, their dissent from the position which he took, and reasons which impelled them at that particular time to resign their portfolios. It is this document, with any answer thereto, which Sir Charles Tupper is anxious to have laid before Parliament.

Mr. Britton of Gananoque had an interview with Mr. Davis to day in regard to the international arrangement which has been in existence for the last year, in regard to fishing in the St. Lawrence near the Thousand Islands by American tourists. This arrangement has not yet been crystallized into shape, the New Yorkers not having embodied in law the proposal to suspend the operation of the Alien Labor Law as against Canadians, and Mr. Britton urges that steps be taken to bring about this result at as early a date as possible.

A. D. Provand, M.P. for Blackfriars, Glasgow, Scotland, and a director of the Chignecto Ship Railway, is in the city to urge the Government to extend the time for the completion of the work, in order to enable the company to earn the subsidy voted by Parliament. The Government has arranged to give Mr. Provand a hearing.

M. C. Cameron is after the scalp of Capt. A. W. McGregor of the Government steamer Bayfield, who, he alleges, has, for the past 15 years been an active canvasser for the Tories and who, he says, abandoned his survey work to vote for the candidate in West Huron on June 23. Mr. Cameron will ask if Captain McGregor got leave from Parliament. Mr. Cameron is also after Capt. Dunn of the cruiser Petrel, who, he says, conveyed voters to Owen Sound on that vessel.

Very little comfort can be gleaned from the figures of the banks' statement for July, which has just been issued. However, it is not unusual to find a falling off from the preceding month. The bank notes in circulation on July 31 amounted to $29,575,300, being a reduction from June 30 of $761,401. Upon turning to the column, the greatest amount of notes in circulation at any time during the month we find $31,172,494, which is $208,101 more than appeared under that heading for June. The balance due to provincial governments increased $2,233,552; people's deposits, withdrawable on demand and after notice, increased $3,278,990; deposits between banks increased $339,051; balances due to banks and agencies in the United Kingdom show a reduction of $1,781,428, while the total liabilities increased $3,150,885. Specie and Dominion notes increased $695,599, notes and cheques between banks declined $1,350,656, balances due from banks and agencies in foreign countries were reduced $1,771,343, while an increase of $4,995,065 is shown in banks and branches in the United Kingdom. Investments in permanent stocks seem to have been favored, Call loans on stocks and bonds shows plainly the state of the market in these commodities by a further reduction of $371,853. Current loans increased $745,762; overdue debts remain practically unchanged. Total assets increased $3,459,915, and directors' liabilities decreased $279,724.

The High Court of Eastern Ontario Independent Foresters had an informal meeting this morning, when matters of interest to the order were discussed. Great enthusiasm prevailed. On motion the meeting placed itself on record as adverse to mileage or per diem allowance to delegates next year in order that the High Court might start with a clean sheet financially, as an incentive to the court to increase its membership.

It is understood that D'Alton McCarthy will resign his seat for Brandon this week.

The impression seems to be growing that if the Manitoba school question be settled before the next session, as the Government promise will be the case, Clifford Sifton will be the next Minister of the Interior.

Mr. Tarte's tomahawk is still being wielded. Four officers in the secretary's branch and four in the architect's branch of the Public Works Department are the latest to get their marching orders.

Mr. Maclean, East York, gives notice of a bill for the better protection of railway employes.

The question of aid to the Dominion Exhibition at Toronto next year was brought before Messrs. Cartwright and Tarte to-day by the Toronto representatives in Parliament. Sir Richard Cartwright informed them that a subcommittee would be appointed to look into the matter and would hear the representatives of both the Toronto and Montreal people.

THERE IS NO FRICTION.

But the Fast Atlantic Steamship Matter is Suspended Just Now.

London, Aug. 20.—The statement conveyed in a New York cable despatch published here that friction has arisen between the Canadian and Imperial Governments in regard to the establishment of a new fast Atlantic mail service between Canada and Great Britain is denied upon the highest authority. The fact is that the matter had been entirely suspended, pending the decision of the new Canadian Ministry.

NORTH GREY CONTEST.

Both Liberal and Conservative Mumpers in the Riding in Large Numbers.

Owen Sound, Ont., Aug. 20.—(Special.)—As the close of the bye-election campaign in North Grey approaches, the interest is becoming more and more intense. Tuesday next is polling day, and each party is doing everything possible to ensure the success of its candidate. The constituency is literally overrun with politicians from all over the country and largely-attended meetings are held nightly in the different polling divisions. Hon. Hugh John Macdonald arrived here to-day on the noon express from Toronto, accompanied by Major R. R. McLennan, M.P. of Glengary, George Taylor, M.P., the Conservative whip; Edward Cochrane, M.P. for Northumberland; Nat Boyd, M.P. of Marquette; Mr. Bell, M.P.; Mr. Dimock, M.P. of Nova Scotia, and others, who are to remain here till the close of the campaign to take an active part in it.

Hon. N. Clarke Wallace, Dr. Sproule, M.P., Col. Tyrwhitt M.P., Mr. McNeill M.P., W. F. Maclean M.P., and many other leading Conservatives have been doing work here during the past fortnight.

Many prominent Liberals are also stumping the riding, among whom are William Mulock, Postmaster-General; Mr. Paterson, the candidate, Dr. McDonald M.P., T. Bain M.P., Dr. Landerkin M.P., M. K. Cowan M.P., J. F. Lister M.P., Dr. Horsey. Mr. Laurier, it is also reported, will be on the scene before the close of the campaign.

That

Extreme tired feeling afflicts nearly everybody at this season. The hustlers cease to push. The tireless grow weary, the energetic become enervated. You know just what we mean. Some men and women endeavor temporarily to overcome that

Tired

Feeling by great force of will. But this is unsafe, as it pulls powerfully upon the nervous system, which will not long stand such strain. Too many people "work on their nerves," and the result is seen in unfortunate wrecks marked "nervous prostration," in every direction. That tired

Feel-

ing is a positive proof of thin, weak, impure blood; for, if the blood is rich, red, vitalized and vigorous, it imparts life and energy to every nerve, organ and tissue of the body. The necessity of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for that tired feeling is, therefore, apparent to every one, and the good it will do you is equally beyond question. Remember that

DEATH OF HON. W. D. BALFOUR.

On Wednesday evening, Aug. 19th, Hon. W. D. Balfour, Provincial Secretary, died at the Parliament Buildings, the same pile in which Hon. C. F. Fraser passed away. Our columns have contained detailed reports of the sad illness that overtook Hon. Mr. Balfour just at the time he had fairly entered upon the duties of the high office to which he had been called and when he had realised the ambition of his life, a post of high responsibility in the service of his country. Mr. Balfour had the qualities from which successful public men are made. He was intensely devoted to the study of politics, not only in his capacity as a representative in Parliament, but as a student of a wider field. He was indefatigably industrious, and even in his weak state of health, for he was never very robust, he was equal to an amount of work that would have taxed the physical resources of a much stronger man. While attending to his parliamentary duties he also found time to carry on an extensive correspondence on matters relating to his constituency and invariably edited his paper, the Amherstburgh Echo, during the sessions of Parliament, and, in fact, to his devotion to his official duties, heedless of the warnings of impaired health, may be credited the circumstance of his early demise. In his parliamentary capacity Mr. Balfour was an advanced thinker, and questions relating to the personal freedom of the citizen laid large claims upon his attention. In debate the habits of newspaper work had begotten a terseness and cogency of style that made him one of the foremost members of the House in debate. He was an energetic and useful representative, and as a Cabinet Minister his methodical habits and his administrative ability marked him for a career of usefulness. The success which Mr. Balfour achieved in politics at so early an age, is one of the strongest tributes to his energy of character and abilities. He began life in a very humble way as a newsboy in the streets of St. Catharines, and to the fact of his being lost in a snow storm on one occasion while thus employed, is to be traced the beginning of a feeble state of health that remained with him during his life. He subsequently entered the newspaper business, and later went into Parliament, which he first entered in 1883. He was ambitious and energetic and made a brave fight for the eminence which he attained, though handicapped with a weakened constitution; and it is inexpressibly sad that, on the very threshold of success, he was called upon to lay down his life at the early age of forty-five years, which is generally regarded as the very prime of man's matured life. The circumstances of the death at such a time suggest the wide applicability of the apt truth of the saying of Burke—"What shadows we are and what shadows we pursue." Mr. Balfour's ambition did not take the form of amassing wealth. One thing grandly to his credit is the fact of his filial devotion to his father, to whom he remarked that the substantial emoluments of his office would admit of his extending financial help to him. His state of health precluded the placing of any life insurance, so that Mr. Balfour died a comparatively poor man—his only legacy to his family in the respect of worldly means being his part interest in his weekly newspaper. His family will have especial sympathy in their peculiarly sad bereavement.

Out of Tooth Powder?

Then get the best. The best is Ivorine. "Best" because it whitens the teeth and does not destroy the enamel. Good as the best in fragrance, cleansing and polishing properties. Better than most, as it contains no acids to destroy. Better than all because pleasant, fragrant, cleansing and whitening, all the good qualities combined. Ivorine for the teeth alone can claim to be the best.

TOKENS OF REGRET

Over the Death of Mr. W. D. Balfour.

TRIBUTES FROM FAR AND NEAR.

The Remains Will be Laid to Rest at Amherstburg, Whose People the Deceased Served so Faithfully in the Legislative Assembly for Many Years.

Toronto, Aug. 21.

The arrangements for the disposal of Hon. W. D. Balfour's body were yesterday changed. Instead of being interred at St. Catharines, the remains will be laid to rest at Amherstburg in the midst of the people whom the dead served so well in life.

It was decided yesterday that the pall-bearers should be Premier Hardy, Hon. J. M. Gibson, W. A. Charlton, M.L.A.; Joseph Tait, ex-M.L.A.; Col. Clarke, Clerk of the House, and Sergt.-at-Arms Glackmeyer. As Hon. Mr. Hardy, however, was seriously indisposed last evening, he may not be able to officiate, and in that case Hon. Thomas Ballantyne, ex-Speaker of the Legislature, will take his place.

The members of the family who will accompany the body are: Mr. and Mrs. David Balfour, father and mother of the deceased; Mrs. Balfour, the widow; three sisters of the dead, his eldest son, and Mr. Broadhead of Grosse Isle, his brother-in-law.

A large contingent of Amherstburg people had arranged to come to Toronto to attend the funeral at St. Catharines, but yesterday they were telegraphed of the alterations made in the program.

Up in Queen's Park all day yesterday the Union Jack floated at half-mast in honor of the dead, and many called to pay their last respects to the departed, among these being Dr. McMahon, ex-M.P.; Mr. Cowan, the former member for Essex, and Mrs. G. W. Ross. Messages of condolence were received from Lieut.-Gov. Kirkpatrick, Sir Oliver Mowat, Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. David Mills, Hon. G. W. Ross, Dr. Willoughby, J. P. Whitney, J. L. Haycock, G. F. Marter and others.

Among the floral tokens or regret which surrounded the casket as it lay in the legislative pile were: A handsome wreath from the members of the Ontario Government, bearing the motto, "Our Colleague"; a large wreath of red and white roses from Hon. J. C. Patterson, Lieut.-Governor of Manitoba, with the legend, "In memory of the old days when we were members of the Essex County Council together"; and a pillow of roses from the people of the dead Minister's own town, inscribed simply "Amherstburg."

UNCLE SAM DONE UP.

The U.S. Government Suing Sheep Importers From Canada for $100,000 for Alleged Undervaluation.

Buffalo, N.Y., Aug. 20.—The United States Government is trying to collect over $100,000 penal duty from five firms on the Live Stock Exchange. It wants $50,000 from Rice & Whaley, an equal amount from the Matheson Live Stock Commission Company, and from C. Feiffer and Windsor Brothers, Swope, Hughes, Waltz & Benstead, and the Rollinger Live Stock Company sums ranging from $600 to $2000. All the parties are heavy dealers in sheep and import heavily from Canada. The owners of sheep in Canada, before shipping to this country, must file with the nearest United States Consul an invoice, showing the value of the consignment. The Treasury officials claim that if the sheep are sold at a higher figure, additional duty must be paid. The dealers have failed to do this for many years, and for not doing it the Government imposes a penal duty of 20 per cent. This duty has been imposed, and the Treasury Department is now trying to collect the amount. The officials do not claim that there has been an attempt to cheat the Government, but are trying to take advantage of a technicality.

At the opening of the season last year a Treasury Department inspector told the commission men to put in totals in case of an advance, so it is evident that he looked at the matter just as the commission men did. The commission men say that the statements filed by the Canadian owners should not be considered, as frequently the sheep are sold in this country at a lower figure than that given by the owners, and the Government does not return a cent in such cases.

HARVEY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The Harvey council met at Mr. Flynn's on the 17th inst. After routine a bylaw was passed to provide for levying the rates and taxes for 1896: For county purposes $448.81, for township purposes $800, school section No. 1, $200; S. S. No. 2, $275; S. S. No. 3, $219.03; S. S. No. 4, $250; S. S. No. 5, $208.61; S. S. No. 6, $125; S. S. No. 8, $240; statutory levy on 7 schools $1,050. On motion the clerk was instructed to notify the county clerk to remove from his books all the taxes charged against, the south east corner of lot 10, con. 17, ten acres, assessed on non-resident roll in 1895. On motion J. Oliver was appointed to examine and repair crossings on 16th con. line Accounts passed and orders drawn on the treasurer for payment as follows;—Silas H. Crowe, for repairs on bridge across creek, $13 60; C. E. Stewart, posters for the late municipal election to fill a vacancy, 75 cents; Stephen McIlmoyl, to apply on Lancefield's board, $30; Municipal World, blank book for registering births, deaths and marriages, $3 50; Hamlet Freeman, for work on road, $10; Quinton Moore, work on road, $10; James Atchison, for work on road, $10; N. Crowe, Esq., balance for work on Squaw River bridge, $8; Samuel Purser, expended on highway, $25.

An Age of Substitution.

Keenness of competition is the characteristic of the age. Not in old channels of routine is trade permitted to flow, but in channels newly hewn out of the solid rock of opposition by brains and energy. Good, in its way, is this. If, however, it give rise to dishonest methods, then an evil does it certainly become. An eminent physician had occasion recently to prescribe that well-known nutrient and tonic, Maltine with Coca Wine. His patient, an active public man, had gone all to pieces; nerves unstrung, sleepless, appetite and digestion sadly impaired—almost a total wreck. By unfailing experience the doctor knew it to be the right thing. Well, the patient made no progress, and investigation established the fact that the druggist had substituted another preparation—"just as good" of course—to secure slightly increased profit. The doctor soon saw that his patient secured the genuine Maltine with Coca Wine, with the expected result, for his patient improved from the start.

THE AMERICAN BAR.

The 19th Annual Meeting of the Association Opens at Saratoga To-Day.

Saratoga, Aug. 18.—The 19th annual meeting of the American Bar Association, which opens here to-morrow in Convention Hall, will, in all probability, be the most successful in every respect of any ever held. The presence of Lord Russell of England has awakened a widespread interest; many of the most distinguished men of the country will attend. Senator Gorman of Maryland, Senator Gray of Delaware, Judge L. E. Wales, Wilmington; United States Judge O. P. Shires of Iowa, Judge L. D. Brewster of Danbury, Conn., and Judge Howe of New Orleans, have arrived, and others are coming in by every train. It is said that the attendance will be fully three times as large as that of any previous year.

Lord Russell and party will arrive here this evening. The debates on the various papers presented will be exceptionally interesting, particularly those on "International Arbitration" and on "Legal Education."

CURE OF DROPSY.

Only a Positive Symptom—Not a Disease of itself—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Campbellford, (Special) Aug. 17.—An unlooked for and remarkable recovery from advanced stage of dropsy is just made public here. It is the case of Mrs. John Weese, wife of the widely known veteran stage proprietor, whose life for months, had been despaired of. From the accumulated water peculiar to this disease she became so helpless as to be unable to drag one foot after the other. She now appears on the street and says she is as well as ever in her life. She claims that after all other means had failed she thanks Dodd's Kidney Pills for her unexpected cure.

Mr. Walter Keeling, coachman, Goodwin's stables, Bloor street, Toronto says: "I was so bad with rheumatism that I could scarcely move, and was confined to the bed. Had sciatic pains from my ankle upward on my right side, and could not put a boot on for three months. I used four small vials of Munyon's Rheumatism Cure, and the effect has been so marked that I am able to walk without pain, and go to work regularly. I consider that I am thoroughly cured, and am truly grateful to Munyon." 2

FORESTERS' HIGH COURT.

A Satisfactory Financial Report—Places Chosen For Next Year's Meeting Officers Chosen.

Ottawa, Aug. 19.—(Special.)—The Independent Foresters' High Court concluded its work to-day. Bro. Cumberland read the report of the Finance Committee, which was very satisfactory to the High Court, and was unanimously adopted.

In reply to several members, the Supreme Chief Ranger explained that the special endowment feature of the order was dropped by the Supreme Court itself. In New York and other states they found that they would be barred out of almost every state of the Union. With regard to annuity endowment, he said the inspectors of insurance had decided that the annuity business brought them under the provisions of the insurance Act.

Matters of interest to the order were dealt with in a businesslike way, and officers were elected for the Eastern and Western courts.

Toronto, Foresters' Island Park and Brantford were chosen for the meetings of the three High Courts next year.

The officers chosen for the Western Court are:

William H. Wardrope, Hamilton, high court ranger; Rev. Archdeacon Davis, London, past high chief ranger; A. T. Bicelas, Aylmer, high vice-chief ranger; F. E. McCormick, St. Thomas, high secretary (sec.); Frank Adams, London, high treasurer; J. A. Davidson, St. Thomas, high conductor.

The Supreme Chief Ranger announced the following officers appointed to the two new High courts: Central High Court of Ontario, H.C.R., L. I. Barclay, Cobourg; P.H.C.R., A. W. Milne, Toronto; H.V.C.R., W. B. Saunders, Stayner; H. Secretary, R. J. Moberly, Cremore; H. Treasurer, A. Fleming, Toronto; H. Physician, Dr. Rose, Toronto; H. Counsellor, D. W. Chapple, Uxbridge; H. Auditors, George E. Charles, W. T. R. Preston, Toronto; H. Chaplain, Rev. J. H. Shepherd, Coldwater; H. Journal Secretary, G. J. Hearn, Tottenham; H. S.W., A. W. Duncan, Sault Ste. Marie; H. J.W., H. M. Little, Elisyth; H.G.B., J. W. Paynter, Owen Sound; H.J.B., A. Dobson, Cannington; H.M.A., H. Dickson, Eglington; H. Con., W. R. Key, Guelph; H. Mess., C. Kelly, Victoria Corners.

For the Eastern High Court: H.C.R., Rev. R. McNair, Carleton Place; P.H.C.R., R. Matheson, Belleville; H.V.C.R., George Spence, Cobourg; High Secretary, G. L. Dickinson, Manotick; H. Treasurer, M. B. Mallory, Campbellford; H. Physician, Dr. Clark, Tamworth; H. Con., A. W. Fraser, Ottawa; H. Auditors, J. G. R. McCann, Kingston, T. H. Meldrum, Peterboro; H. Chaplain, Rev. Canon Carey, Kingston; H. S.W., G. H. Groves, Carp; H. J. W., Dr. Rayne, Pembroke; H. S. B., S. Henry, Maxville; H.J.B., William Miller, Brockville; H. Marshal, J. H. Gould, Smith's Falls; H. Conductor, Thomas Butler, Ottawa; H. Messenger, William McPherson, Williamstown.

Western High Court appointed officers: High Chap., Rev. J. H. Courtenay, Port Stanley; H.J.S., R. A. Harrington, Cantham; H.S.W., E. O. Zimmerman, Hamilton; H.J.W., J. T. McPherson, Bothwell; H.S.B., H. Pratt, London; H.J.B., R. Foster, Hamilton; H.M., J. M. Woodwiss, Kingsville; H. Con., G. W. Holman, Exeter; H. M., W. Swett, Sarnia; H.A.M., W. L. Wilson, Waterdown.

Dr Thompson, Toronto, presented the report of the Finance Committee of the Central High Court. It recommended that the High Secretary receive $300; High Treasurer, $100; High Auditors, $15; Journal Secretary, $10. After a lively discussion the report was adopted.

A cordial vote of thanks was tendered to Dr. Oronhyatekha for his services.

Votes of thanks were tendered to returning officers and the press and the meeting adjourned sine die at 1.30 this morning.

THEY ARE GIVING WAY.

Physicians Commence to Realise the Value of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

OTTAWA, Aug. 10.—The inveterate reluctance to admit the success of patent medicine usually evinced by physicians is rapidly giving way, so far as Dodd's Kidney Pills are concerned. The cases of Dr. Rose and Dr. McCormick, who published details of their recovery from diabetes and Bright's disease through the agency of this remedy, were the first attacks on the citadel of their skepticism and now it appears as if the remarkable recovery of Mr. G. H. Kent, of this city, the details of which have been transmitted to the press, would complete what has been so auspiciously begun. The published interviews with Mr. and Mrs. Kent and the sworn statements of the former leaves no foothold for disbelief.

MR. BALFOUR IS DEAD

Passed Away Early Last Evening.

BADE ALL HIS FAMILY FAREWELL

Only a Short Time Before the Long Sleep of Death Fell Upon Him—His Career From Newsboy to Crown Adviser—The Cause of His Poor Health.

Toronto, Aug. 20.

A second time has the huge legislative pile in Queen's Park become the death-chamber of a member of the Ontario Government. Hon. W. D. Balfour passed over the bar to the great majority last evening. The Provincial Secretary was surrounded by his loved ones when he breathed his last. The summons came five minutes after 6 o'clock, just as the Minister was in his delirium, vigorously addressing an imaginary audience of his electors.

Yesterday morning Mr. Balfour seemed stronger than he had been for days, and Dr. Fisher of Amherstburg went so far as to hold out hopes of his patient's recovery. Drs. McPhedren and Amyot, the other attendant physicians, however, shook their heads, and thought that the end could not be far off. As the day wore on the dying man became weaker, and it was evident that the sand in the glass would soon run out. The Minister himself, though from the first he had fought the fatal malady with all the energy and courage characteristic of his whole career, during the afternoon recognized that his time was at hand. He recalled the death a few years ago in the Parliament Buildings of a former Minister of Public Works, and remarked to his attendant, Mr. Samuel Dunbar, that it was going to be a "case of Christopher Fraser."

Then, as the tide of life gradually ebbed, his mind was filled with reminiscences of his early boyhood, and he spoke of how, as a wee lad, he had sold papers on the streets of St. Catharines as a newsboy.

Shortly after 5 o'clock the attendant saw that the hand of death was approaching and summoned the members of the dying man's family to his bedside. His father, mother, wife, sisters and eldest son entered the chamber, and the Minister, recognizing each, beginning with his wife, faithful helpmeet, bade them all an affectionate farewell. During these last hours, Rev. Ross G. Murison of Toronto University was also admitted to minister to the spiritual wants of the passing man.

Half an hour before the end Mr. Balfour began to sink rapidly, and, when he became unconscious, all retired from the chamber except Dr. Fisher and the male nurse. In the last few moments the Minister essayed several times to rise in his bed and he was speaking in his well-known restless manner when his spirit crossed the bar.

It seems especially sad that Mr. Balfour should be cut off while comparatively a young man—he had only reached his 45th year—when he had just arrived at the goal which for years he had been struggling towards. Only the other day he remarked to his father that he was at last in a position to help him. The Minister made his will on Tuesday and it is understood that he dies a comparatively poor man. Owing to his long-standing infirmity, he was never able to secure insurance on his life, and he leaves little but an interest in The Amherstburg Weekly Echo, in the conduct of which Mr. John Ault was his partner.

When a boy, not yet in his teens, Mr. Balfour sold newspapers to pay for the text books he needed at school, and apropos of this, Mr. David Balfour, his father, tells of the beginning of the dead man's physical infirmities. When out disposing of his dailies in the streets of St. Catharines, he got lost in a snow storm. After a long search his father found him, and carried him home. As a result of his exposure on that occasion, he contracted inflammatory rheumatism, which enfeebled his whole frame for life. Ever afterwards he suffered from weak lungs, a specially severe attack on which has finally carried him off.

Hon. A. S. Hardy returned from a fishing expedition in Parry Sound about an hour after his colleague's decease. He was camping on an island in Georgian Bay, and none of the messages concerning Mr. Balfour's illness reached him until late on Tuesday night, when it was too late to catch a train for Toronto. He started for the city early yesterday morning, however, and was shocked when he got here to learn of the fatal termination of the Minister's attack.

On his arrival, the Premier hurried to the Speaker's chambers, where Mr. Balfour lay since Monday night, and condoled with the afflicted family. Mr. Hardy seemed to deeply feel the loss the Government and province have sustained.

Of the other Ministers, Hon. J. M. Gibson will arrive in town to-day and Hon. Mr. Ross will likely come over from the New York State health resort where he has been spending the last few weeks. Hon. Messrs. Dryden, Davis and Bronson may be able to pay the last honors to the dead, but of the other two Ministers, Hon. Mr. Harty is at Government House, Prince Edward Island, and the other, Hon. Mr. Harcourt, is in Europe.

Under the direction of Housekeeper O'Brien the funeral arrangements have been completed, and Mr. Rosar has been secured as undertaker. All day to day the body will lie in state in the Parliamentary Reception Room, and to morrow at 8.15 a.m. the coffin will be removed to the Union Station at 9.05, entrained for St. Catharines, where the remains will be laid to rest in the Balfour family burial ground. It was intended to convey the body to Amherstburg, and inter it amidst the people of Essex, whom the dead served so long in the Legislature, but as it is understood Mrs. Balfour intends removing her residence from that town, it was decided to bury the Minister with his people.

Mr. Balfour and his sons adhered to the Presbyterian faith, and though his widow and daughters attend the Roman Catholic Church the funeral will be conducted by a minister of the Scottish body.

It is understood that the available Cabinet Ministers will be among the pallbearers at the funeral.

A number of telegrams of condolence were received by Mrs. Balfour from many parts of the country last evening, and many friends in the city, to whom the news of the death quickly spread, called at the Parliament buildings.

DEVANEY HEARS THE NEWS.

The Freed Irish Dynamiter Has Learned of Parnell's Death.

Glasgow, Aug. 18.—Thomas Devaney, the Irish dynamiter, who was sentenced in Edinburgh in 1883 to serve a term of life imprisonment and was released from Portland Prison yesterday, has arrived here. Devaney says that John Daly will be set at liberty next week. He had no knowledge of any of the important events which had occurred outside the prison walls during his incarceration, and expressed great surprise at hearing that Parnell was dead. Devaney said to friends with whom he talked that his prison life was an experience too awful to admit of description. During the whole time of his imprisonment, he said, he never once had the slightest chance to escape.

Children unaccompanied not admitted.

A DROWNING AVERTED.

A Son of Wm. S. Watt Has a Narrow Escape.

Yesterday afternoon as a couple of the employees of the Geo. Matthews Pork Packing Company were rowing up Little Lake they noticed a great commotion amongst a number of children on the shore of Spalding's Bay and on closer inspection saw that one of them had gotten beyond his depth in the water.

A few strong strokes of the oars brought the two to the scene of the trouble and one of them was fortunate enough to be able to catch hold of the coat of a little lad who was just sinking for the third and last time.

The boy was in an unconscious condition when rescued but upon being laid over the thwart of the boat and pressure being applied several quarts of water ran from his mouth and he was soon able to speak, though greatly exhausted.

The little fellow was a son of Mr. Wm. S. Watt, of the Canadian General Electric Company, residing at No. 234 Park street. He was taken to his home and it is safe to predict that it will be some time before he ventures into the water again.

ALMOST RUN DOWN BY A TRAIN.

Two Ladies and Two Children Caught on the C. P. R. Bridge.

Yesterday afternoon as the 4.48 C.P.R. express westward bound, was thundering along at top speed just east of the bridge spanning the Otonabee the driver noticed two ladies and two children walking across the ties of the bridge.

The whistle blew its shrillest blast of warning but did not have the desired effect as the party huddled together between the rails and seemed too paralyzed with fright to make the slightest effort to save themselves.

The air-brakes were applied and the engine reversed and the train brought to a stop within six feet of the four, who stood awaiting what seemed almost certain death.

Several of the passengers sprang out and drew the party aside until the train passed after which they crossed the bridge in safety and boarded the train for the west. The ladies evinced a decided disinclination to give their names for publication, but the incident is one which will not soon be forgotten by either the passengers on the train or those to whom their last moments seemed so near at hand.

THE AUBURN BRIDGE.

A Deputation Visits Ottawa in Connection With the Matter.

Councillors Moore and Mills, accompanied by Mr. James Kendry, M.P., went to Ottawa on Wednesday to interview Hon. Mr. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals, in reference to the erection of a highway bridge at Auburn in connection with the new railway bridge which the Government proposes erecting at Auburn for the Grand Trunk, to be used as a portion of the Lakefield branch, as the present line interferes with the route of the Trent Valley Canal.

In the absence of Mr. Blair, the deputation was received by Sir Collingwood Schreiber, chief engineer and Deputy Minister of the department.

Mr. Schreiber explained that the new bridge was erected for the Grand Trunk Railway in part compensation for the expropriation of their present line below Auburn on the Otonabee side of the river, and that consequently the structure would have to be erected in accordance with the wishes of the railway authorities. Until plans are furnished setting forth specifically just what the town wants, Mr. Schreiber will not go further into the matter. The Grand Trunk officials are very reticent in expressing an opinion on the matter. The deputation returned home to-day.

IS IT STOLEN?

A Valuable Horse of Robert Gibbs' Has Disappeared.

On Wednesday afternoon a stranger tried to make arrangements to hire a rig from Mosley's livery to go to the canal, but as he would not settle in advance, and as his appearance was not prepossessing, he was refused a horse.

He then went to Robt. Gibbs, and procured one from him, stating that he would be back in an hour or so. Nothing has been seen of the outfit since, and the police are endeavouring to trace the stranger.

The man was about twenty-five years of age, five feet five inches in height, slight, fair complexion, smooth shaven and wore a black suit and Prince Albert coat.

The horse is a light bay eight years old, 15 hands high, white left hind foot, and white star on the forehead. Both front knees were slightly scarred from unhealed cuts. The top buggy was fitted with yellow gear, black body, end spring and side bars, and the harness was brass mounted with breast collar.

STONY LAKE FIRES.

The Bush Blazing in Many Places.

Sections of the bush in almost every section of the country bordering on Stony Lake are in a blaze and much valuable timber is being rapidly destroyed.

On Wednesday the whole western shore of the northeastern head of the lake burst into a blaze and already the fire has gained such proportions that it bids fair to spread along the whole shore of Burleigh township and sweep everything before it.

The woods along the road between Young's Point and Burleigh have totally disappeared in places, being swept away by the fire, which has, in many places, almost destroyed the roadway by burning out the old corduroy logs upon which it is built. It would be dangerous to drive over some of the holes after nightfall.

WEDDING BELLS.

Celebration of the Snyder-Hay Nuptials Wednesday.

On Wednesday afternoon last the wedding of Mr. C. J. Snyder, assistant collector of customs, and Miss Minnie H. C. Hay, daughter of Mr. Robert Hay, Water street, was celebrated in St. John's church, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. C. Davidson, the rector.

The bride looked most charming in a handsome travelling dress of fawn and blue spot silk poplin, tastily trimmed with pearls.

The bridesmaids were Miss Wilhelmine Carnegie, daughter of Mr. John Carnegie, and Miss Maud Hay, the groom being supported by Mr. J. Hilliard Carnegie, M. P.P., East Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. Snyder have left for the east, where the honeymoon will be spent.

THEFT AND BREACH OF THE GAME LAWS.

Stony Lake the Scene of Depredations and Disregard of the Game Law.

Recently Mrs. Lovelace, whose husband is operating the mica mines at the head of Stony lake, had occasion to be absent from the cottage for a short time. Upon her return she found that her trunks that contained her wardrobe, including some silk dresses, as well as others of more ordinary quality, had been broken open and the clothing stolen, as well as some children's clothing. On the whole the thieves secured some valuable booty.

Several letters have reached the EXAMINER complaining of the manner in which the game laws are broken by the shooting of duck and partridge out of season. The practice is carried on to such an extent as to constitute a a serious menace to the interests of true sport. If the Fish and Game Warden would take cognizance of these outrages and place a detective on service in this vicinity, who might also be charged with the duty of keeping an eye upon the cottages at the head of the lake and vicinity a great service would be rendered the community. The open season for the game referred to is so close at hand that the depredators in question might wait a few days to enjoy the sport without making themselves criminals. If they are detected a striking example will be made of them.

THE CIVIC HOLIDAY.

How it Was Spent Yesterday by the Citizens.

Thursday was almost an ideal day upon which to observe a civic holiday. The sky was clear and the almost unbearable heat of the previous week tempered by a cool fresh breeze.

About four hundred patronized the excursions of the C.P.R. and Grand Trunk to Ottawa, and the Ancient Order of Foresters' excursion took a big crowd down the river. About 380 went back to Burleigh with the Catholic Corder of Foresters, and many had to be turned away form the steamer for fear of overloading. The Salvation Army trip was also liberally patronized, as was that of the Independent Order of Foresters to Buffalo, Niagara, etc.

A peculiar incident occurred in connection with the Ottawa trip, when a party of young gentlemen were left at Sharbot Lake, through lingering too long in the hotel over their refreshments. They were delayed twelve hours.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Mrs. W. J. Larmour of Detroit, Expired Yesterday whilst Visiting in Town.

A very sudden death occurred yesterday at the residence of Mrs. David Mason, No. 218 Sherbrooke street, when her sister, Mrs. Larmour, of Detroit, was taken with a fit of coughing, followed by a hæmorrhage of the lungs, resulting in her death in a very few minutes. Dr. King was summoned but Mrs. Larmour was beyond medical aid, her lungs having been affected for some time.

Mrs. Larmour was a daughter of Mr. J. Bennett of Otonabee, and was the wife of Mr. W. J. Larmour, who formerly conduced a boot and shoe business on George street.

For the past few days Mrs. Larmour has been visiting her sister, Mrs. David Mason, from whose residence the funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock. A telegram has been sent apprising Mr. Larmour of the sad event and he expected in town to-day. The sadness of the death is intensified by its suddeness. Mrs. Larmour was out driving on Wednesday.

OTONABEE.

Death of Mr. Thomas Hanbridge.

To-day Mr. Thomas Hanbridge, an old resident of this county, well known especially in Dummer and Otonabee, passed away. The deceased had been ill with dropsy for about six weeks, though it was not till last Tuesday morning that his symptoms became alarming. He was a native of County Wicklow, Ireland, where he was born seventy-five years ago. He came to Canada about 18— and first settled in the Township of Dummer, where he resided till about fifteen years ago, when he removed to Otonabee, relinquishing farming and living a retired life. He was unmarried, being of a quiet, retiring disposition, and lived most of his life alone. The last few years he lived near his nephews and nieces in Otonabee, by whom he was tenderly looked after. He was in religion a Methodist and in politics a Liberal. The funeral takes place to-morrow at ten o'clock from lot 20, con. 15, Otonabee, interment taking place in the Little Lake cemetery.

A Fibre Chamois Ad.

Men as a rule care more for comfort than for style, still no man is averse to neat, a well-hanging coat that keeps its shape through all kinds of knocking around. This is one of the extras that Fibre Chamois furnishes when used as the interlining in men's clothing. It not only makes garments thoroughly weather proof, providing a healthful warmth which can't be penetrated by the severest wind or cold, its but flexible spring and stiffness make the coat or vest fit well and keep its proper hang till worn completely out. And the beauty is that it is so light you wouldn't know you were carrying anything extra around, and so cheap that it is in every one's reach.

One of Thousands.

People's Coal Co.:

GENTLEMEN,—Having heard a lot of talk in my shop about your coal, I determined to try it for myself, so I ordered half a ton and am pleased to be able to state I found it just as you represent, viz: gives an intense heat, lasts as long as any other coal, burns to a white ash, and is free from clinkers. In short, it just suits me, so please book my order for my winter's supply. Will let you know when to deliver it.

THE BAND CONCERT TO-NIGHT.

There is more than one reason that the concert given to supplement the funds of the Children's Aid Society should be liberally patronized. First, the society is in every way deserving of the generous assistance and encouragement of all good persons. Secondly, the band has a claim upon the public, and gratitude should impel the latter, by assisting the band, to add a good sum to the exchequer of the society. For years the public has been delightfully entertained by the charming weekly concerts given in the park by the band, and it is only a small return for the pleasure enjoyed to devote the small sum demanded for admission to the concert to-night, when an excellent programme will be presented by one of the best bands in Ontario. Every one who attends the concert is assured a double benefit, receiving pleasure and earning the consciousness of doing good by assisting, perhaps, the most beneficent society in Canada.

SIR DAVID MACPHERSON DIED.

He Passes Away on Shipboard on Sunday.

CHARLIE MURRAY WAS MURDERED

PETERBOROUGH BOY FOULLY DEALT WITH.

A Quarrel Amongst a Crowd of Young Fellows in Toronto Results Fatally for One of Them—The Victim Used to Live in Peterborough.

The following account of the murder of Charlie Murray, formerly of Peterborough, appears in a Toronto exchange. Young Murray came to town from Whitby several years ago and worked in Mr. Robert Gibbs' livery stable until a year ago last spring, when he left and went to Toronto.

"The Jarvis street gang went out for a good time on Monday night, and before the members had finished their jollification one of them had received fatal injuries. His name was Charles Murray and he lived at 24 McCaul street.

The debauch which the gang began was to celebrate the release from prison of George Badgely, who has spent the last three months in the Central.

A dozen of his friends came across Adelaide street from Jarvis street a few minutes before 11 o'clock in search of fun. They were all partially intoxicated. Policeman Forrest followed them along Adelaide street to York, where the crowd turned south to King, and then west. Forrest went down York to Pearl, the street parallel with King, and, with Policeman Sockett, went across to Simcoe street. Here they waited for the arrival of the Jarvis street contingent, and, after some, time, the crowd scurried up Simcoe street and spread in all directions.

In the meantime the crowd, on reaching King street, had stopped for more drink, and the division of the liquor is said to have occasioned a quarrel. There was a slight scuffle, and then one man staggered back, and, throwing his hands in the air, fell to the pavement, his head striking the kerb. The others all turned when they saw what had happened and fled. At the same moment a Mrs. Webster, who saw the fight, rushed around the corner to the policemen and told them of the occurrence.

The injured man was carried into Kip Huff's restaurant. He was unconscious and vomiting profusely. The men who stood about declared him intoxicated, and as he rallied, and partially regained his senses, he was sent home in a hack. The driver, Jos. Ryan, had some difficulty in moving him, but attributed it all to liquor. His condition became rapidly worse, and Dr. Pepper was called, who found the young man's skull so badly fractured that his life could not be saved. He lingered until 7 o'clock next morning, and died without regaining consciousness again.

The seriousness of Murray's injuries being unknown to the police, no effort was made to capture his assailants until next morning. Then William Badgeley was arrested in his bed in a house in lower Jarvis street.

"I was with the gang," he said, on being brought to the police station, "and I saw the scuffle, but I don't know who hit Murray. Certainly; I was there."

This was all Badgeley would say. He would not tell who was with him, but the police hope to arrest each one of the company.

Badgeley is a young man of 20 years, with a sallow complexion and a scar on his right temple. He has a very bad record and has been in prison intermittently since his fourteenth year. He is a Belleville boy and a lather by trade.

Badgeley has served terms in gaol for stealing from Benjamin Culp, of 332 Spadina avenue; C. H. Woolnough, 210 Queen street west, and George Terry, 9 Widmer street. His latest term of imprisonment was given for walking up to a beer wagon on the street and stealing a keg of beer while the driver's attention was diverted.

Charles Murray, the dead man, was unmarried. He lived with his mother and sisters at 24 McCaul street, and was of quite a respectable character.

A wound on the back of the head at the right side shows where a blow was either given or where he struck the pavement.

A brother of the suspect now under arrest, Wm. Badgely, named Harry Badgeley, will also be taken into custody. Other members of the gang are George Redpath, Harry May and Burt Lyons. The men against whom bystanders are said to be prepared to give evidence are the first two mentioned.

Mr. Fitzgerald took Central Smith, Lakefield, Pine Grove, Lang, Trewern, Lakeview, Westwood and Norwood at 8¾c.

Mr. W. H. Wrighton took Keene, Shearer, Warminster, Warsaw and Peterborough at 8¾.

Mr. Madden secured Missing Link, North Smith, Oakdale, Youngs Point, Ormonde and Maple Leaf at 8¾.

At 8 5-16c Mr. Fitzgerald chose Cherry Grove, Fraserville, Otonabee Union, Myrtle, North Dummer, Cavanville, Beaufort, Daisy D, and Melrose Abbey.

Cedardale, Stony Lake and Fleetwood were taken at 8¼c by Mr. Fitzgerald and Darlington Union went to Mr. Whitton at 8 3 16c.

The Board adjourned for 3 weeks.

THE VICTORIA COUNTY CHEESE BOARD.

Buyers Flavelle, Whitton and Fitzgerald Present—8 3-8c the Top Figure Paid.

(Lindsay Post.)

The regular fortnightly meeting of the Victoria County Cheese Board was held on Tuesday, buyers Whitton, Fitzgerald and Flavelle being present. The following factories boarded their makes:

Star	80
Lorneville	35
Cameron	58
Dunsford	56
Mariposa	60
Derryville	35
Cambray	60
Janetville	54
Fenelon Falls	65
North Verulam	64

Leaskdale
Valentia	61
North Ops	40
Kinmount
Peabore	80
Hoboaygeon	84
Maple Leaf	54
Ingoldsby	45
	968

After a few minutes delay President Robertson called for bids, stating that 8¾c. had been paid yesterday at Peterborough.

Mr. Flavelle bid 8¼c. for selections, Mr. Whitton raised to 8 3 16c., Mr. Flavelle called 8¼c., and Mr. Fitzgerald named 8 5 16c.

Mr. Whitton named several factories, including Lorneville and Ingoldsby, and said if they would not accept he would offer 8¼c. for selections.

Mr. Fitzgerald said he would give 8¼c. for the board, subject to inspection at Montreal. The offer caused considerable laughter. Mr. Whitton said his firm had a storehouse in Belleville, like the Flavelle firm, where they could hold cheese till ripe. He then selected Star, Derryville, Janetville, Reaboro, North Ops, and Maple Leaf.

Mr. Flavelle at 8¼c. picked Cameron, Mariposa, Cambray, Fenelon Falls and North Verulam, all of which accepted.

The other factories refused to take less than 8 3-8c. and the cheese was not sold.

A motion was then passed that the Board adjourn for three weeks following the lead of the Peterborough board factories to be allowed to sell off the board.

Seems as if all the things we like disagree with us, and all the things we don't like, agree with us. Dyspepsia lurks in most of the good things that we eat, and indigestion follows the gratification of appetite. Of course, it isn't Nature's fault. Nature does the best she can, and if a man will only help her a little bit at the right time, he may eat what he likes and as much as he likes. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are for people who are troubled with indigestion. Particularly for those in whom it manifests itself in the form of constipation. The "Pellets" are quick and easy in their action. They are in perfect harmony with Nature. They effect a permanent cure. You need take them regularly only a little while. After that, use them occasionally when you need them—when you have eaten anything that disagrees with you. They may be taken just as freely as you would take water or any other necessity of life. Once used they are always in favour.

"Mikado" Still in the Market.

We take pleasure in informing the public that we have completed arrangements by which we can supply our old brands of flour manufactured with every care to suit the requirements of our trade. We can guarantee the same satisfaction that our flours have always given, as we are having them made from our own blends of wheat and under our personal supervision. Advance Payment.

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 12th, 1896.

The Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association, Corner Duane and Broadway, New York, N. Y.

DEAR SIRS,—I have to thank you for advance payment of two hundred dollars ($200 00) received through Mr. E. S. Miller, on the Provincial Provident Policy, $1,337, carried by my late husband.

I cannot but appreciate the generosity of the company in offering to advance me 10 per cent. of the face of the policy as soon as the death occurred, and before proofs were completed, to enable me to meet funeral and other necessary expenses. It shows a willingness on the part of the company to treat claimants liberally, and to do more than is required under contract.

(Signed)
Yours Truly,
ALICE E. DOUGLASS,

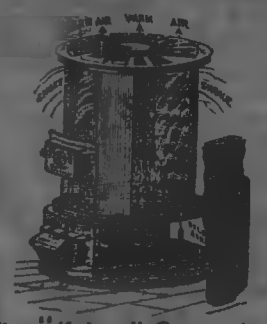
The Most Economical ...House Warmer



The "Kelsey" Corrugated Warm Air Generator.

Any ordinary Hot Air Furnace will produce heat if you will only supply enough fuel. The "Kelsey" has several special and valuable features but most important is that it will give more heat with less fuel and is the most durable heater made.

The "Kelsey" fire pot being constructed of several upright, tubular, corrugated, cast iron sections (see cut) around which the fire passes and up through which the cold air passes while being heated, and this entire section being wrapped with a heavy steel casing which becomes heated by the fire striking it; when passing down outside of upright sections towards smoke pipe, it in turn warms the air that passes up between this steel casing and the galvanized iron casing, this explains why the "Kelsey" has three times more radiating surface and warm air capacity than an ordinary Furnace. The "Kelsey" heats every room evenly, wheresoever located, with a nice, mild, healthful warm air that will not injure your furniture.

The "Kelsey" will heat rooms 60 feet distant.

The "Kelsey" does not heat your cellar.

The "Kelsey" is absolutely gas and dust proof.

At 8 5-16c Mr. Fitzgerald chose Cherry Grove, Fraserville, Otonabee Union, Myrtle, North Dummer, Cavanville, Benefort, Daisy D, and Melrose Abbey.

Cedardale, Stony Lake and Fleetwood were taken at 8½ by Mr. Fitzgerald and Darlington Union went to Mr. Whitton at 8 3 16c.

The Board adjourned for 3 weeks.

THE VICTORIA COUNTY CHEESE BOARD.

Buyers Flavelle, Whitton and Fitzgerald Present—8 3-8c the Top Figure Paid.

(Lindsay Post.)

The regular fortnightly meeting of the Victoria County Cheese Board was held on Tuesday, buyers Whitton, Fitzgerald and Flavelle being present. The following factories boarded their makes:

Star	80
Lornesville	35
Cameron	58
Dunsford	58
Mariposa	60
Derryville	85
Cambray	60
Janetville	54
Fenelon Falls	65
North Verulam	54

Leaskdale
Valentia	64
North Ops	40
Kinmount
Peaboro	80
Bobcaygeon	84
Maple Leaf	54
Ingoldsby	45
	905

After a few minutes delay President Robertson called for bids, stating that 8¾c. had been paid yesterday at Peterborough.

Mr. Flavelle bid 8¼c. for selections, Mr. Whitton raised to 8 3 16c., Mr. Flavelle called 8¼c., and Mr. Fitzgerald named 8 5 16c.

Mr. Whitton named several factories, including Lornesville and Ingoldsby, and said if they would not accept he would offer 8¼c. for selections.

Mr. Fitzgerald said he would give 8¾c. for the board, subject to inspection at Montreal. The offer caused considerable laughter. Mr. Whitton said his firm had a storehouse in Belleville, like the Flavelle firm, where they could hold cheese till ripe. He then selected Star, Derryville, Janetville, Reaboro, North Ops, and Maple Leaf.

Mr. Flavelle at 8¾c. picked Cameron, Mariposa, Cambray, Fenelon Falls and North Verulam, all of which accepted.

The other factories refused to take less than 8 3-8c. and the cheese was not sold.

A motion was then passed that the Board adjourn for three weeks following the lead of the Peterborough board factories to be allowed to sell off the board.

Seems as if all the things we like disagree with us, and all the things we don't like, agree with us. Dyspepsia lurks in most of the good things that we eat, and indigestion follows the gratification of appetite. Of course, it isn't Nature's fault. Nature does the best she can, and if a man will only help her a little bit at the right time, he may eat what he likes and as much as he likes. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are for people who are troubled with indigestion. Particularly for those in whom it manifests itself in the form of constipation. The "Pellets" are quick and easy in their action. They are in perfect harmony with Nature. They effect a permanent cure. You need take them regularly only a little while. After that, use them occasionally when you need them—when you have eaten anything that disagrees with you. They may be taken just as freely as you would take water or any other necessity of life. Once used they are always in favour.

"Mikado" Still in the Market.

We take pleasure in informing the public that we have completed arrangements by which we can supply our old brands of flour manufactured with every care to suit the requirements of our trade. Orders will be taken as usual at our down town office, corner of Simcoe and Bethune streets. Telephone No. 113. MELDRUM & McALLISTER Millers.

CHARLIE MURRAY WAS MURDERED

PETERBOROUGH BOY FOULLY DEALT WITH.

A Quarrel Amongst a Crowd of Young Fellows in Toronto Results Fatally for One of Them—The Victim Used to Live in Peterborough.

The following account of the murder of Charlie Murray, formerly of Peterborough, appears in a Toronto exchange. Young Murray came to town from Whitby several years ago and worked in Mr. Robert Gibbs' livery stable until a year ago last spring, when he left and went to Toronto.

"The Jarvis street gang went out for a good time on Monday night, and before the members had finished their jollification one of them had received fatal injuries. His name was Charles Murray and he lived at 24 McCaul street.

The debauch which the gang began was to celebrate the release from prison of George Badgely, who has spent the last three months in the Central.

A dozen of his friends came across Adelaide street from Jarvis street a few minutes before 11 o'clock in search of fun. They were all partially intoxicated. Policeman Forrest followed them along Adelaide street to York, where the crowd turned south to King, and then west. Forrest went down York to Pearl, the street parallel with King, and, with Policeman Sockett, went across to Simcoe street. Here they waited for the arrival of the Jarvis street contingent, and, after some, time, the crowd scurried up Simcoe street and spread in all directions.

In the meantime the crowd, on reaching King street, had stopped for more drink, and the division of the liquor is said to have occasioned a quarrel. There was a slight scuffle, and then one man staggered back, and, throwing his hands in the air, fell to the pavement, his head striking the kerb. The others all turned when they saw what had happened and fled. At the same moment a Mrs. Webster, who saw the fight, rushed around the corner to the policeman and told them of the occurrence.

The injured man was carried into Kip Huff's restaurant. He was unconscious and vomiting profusely. The men who stood about declared him intoxicated, and as he rallied, and partially regained his senses, he was sent home in a hack. The driver, Jos. Ryan, had some difficulty in moving him, but attributed it all to liquor. His condition became rapidly worse, and Dr. Pepper was called, who found the young man's skull so badly fractured that his life could not be saved. He lingered until 7 o'clock next morning, and died without regaining consciousness again.

The seriousness of Murray's injuries being unknown to the police, no effort was made to capture his assailants until next morning. Then William Badgeley was arrested in his bed in a house in lower Jarvis street.

"I was with the gang," he said, on being brought to the police station, "and I saw the scuffle, but I don't know who hit Murray. Certainly; I was there."

This was all Badgeley would say. He would not tell who was with him, but the police hope to arrest each one of the company.

Badgeley is a young man of 29 years, with a sallow complexion and a scar on his right temple. He has a very bad record and has been in prison intermittently since his fourteenth year. He is a Belleville boy and a lather by trade.

Badgeley has served terms in gaol for stealing from Benjamin Culp, of 332 Spadina avenue; C. E. Woolnough, 210 Queen street west, and George Terry, 9 Widmer street. His latest term of imprisonment was given for walking up to a beer wagon on the street and stealing a keg of beer while the driver's attention was diverted.

Charles Murray, the dead man, was unmarried. He lived with his mother and sisters at 24 McCaul street, and was of quite a respectable character.

A wound on the back of the head at the right side shows where a blow was either given or where he struck the pavement.

A brother of the suspect now under arrest, Wm. Badgely, named Harry Badgeley, will also be taken into custody. Other members of the gang are George Redpath, Harry May and Burt Lyons. The men against whom bystanders are said to be prepared to give evidence are the first two mentioned.

To Tired Ladies.

When you are exhausted and feel played out take a glass of Calcutt's Porter; it will freshen you up and make work a pleasure. Should be used by everybody during house cleaning. tf

Advance Payment.

HAMILTON, Ont., Aug. 13th, 1896.

The Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association, Corner Duane and Broadway, New York, N. Y.

DEAR SIRS,—I have to thank you for advance payment of two hundred dollars ($200 00) received through Mr. E. S. Miller, on the Provincial Provident Policy, $1,337, carried by my late husband.

I cannot but appreciate the generosity of the company in offering to advance me 10 per cent. of the face of the policy as soon as the death occurred, and before proofs were completed, to enable me to meet funeral and other necessary expenses. It shows a willingness on the part of the company to treat claimants liberally, and to do more than is required under contract.

A mirror could not lie if it wanted to. The glass has nothing to gain by flattery. If the roses of health and plumpness of beauty are leaving your face, your mirror will tell you so. You can see for yourself you are in danger of losing the admiration which is every woman's due. You may not really realise it, but health is the greatest beautifier in the world. Lotions, plasters, creams and cosmetics cannot make as good a complexion as health can. They cannot hide the story of ill-health. They merely emphasize it. Health shows in clearness of eyes and skin, in redness of lips and vivacity of manner and expression. Disease is proved positively by the absence of these things. When a woman sees the indications of ill-health in the face, she may with almost absolute certainty look for the cause in one or both of two conditions—constipation, and derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. These things in themselves are in some degree related, and nine-tenths of all the sickness of women come from them. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure permanently and positively any so-called "female complaint." Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will cure constipation. There is no reason in the world why a woman should not be perfectly healthy. It rests with herself. If she will take these truly wonderful remedies, and follow a few hygienic measures, she may become perfectly strong and healthy in all ways. She will gain in health, strength and flesh. Hollows and angles will give place to fullness and grace. She will be that noblest and most beautiful of all creation—a perfect woman. All druggists sell Dr. Pierce's medicines, but if you care to know more about them and to know all of the grandest medical truths, send 31 one-cent stamps to cover customs and mailing only, and a complete copy of Dr. Pierce's 1008 page book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" will be sent post-paid. It is a veritable medical library, complete in one volume. Several finely illustrated chapters are devoted to the consideration of diseases of women and their successful home-treatment. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N.Y.

INCITING TO MUTINY.

Many Arrests Were Made in Barcelona Yesterday, Including an Ex-Minister of War and a General.

Barcelona, Aug. 18.—Ever since the recent rioting in this city, the authorities have been on the alert to prevent a recurrence of the disorders. A close watch has been kept on certain Republicans, who, in conjunction with other members of the party throughout Spain, were believed to have been active in fomenting the late disturbances. As a result of this surveillance, Senores Martl and Ribot, both Republican members of the Cortes, and 15 others, were to-day arrested. It is charged that they are implicated in a conspiracy having for its object the creation of disorders in connection with the coming embarkation of reinforcements for the army in Cuba. It is believed that the Republicans have made attempts to tamper with the loyalty of the troops and sought to induce them to mutiny rather than serve with the colors in Cuba. This plan is thought to have been effectively frustrated, and no trouble is apprehended when the 40,000 men destined for service in Cuba are despatched to the island.

The most important arrest that has been made is that of General E. Stebanez, who was Minister of War in the Republican Government which followed the abdication of King Amadeus in 1873.

All Quiet in Belfast.

Belfast, Aug. 18.—The city is perfectly quiet to-day, and there is a total absence of popular excitement or any outward trace of the rioting which occurred yesterday. Of the persons arrested for participation in yesterday's disturbances, two Nationalists were sentenced, one to one month's imprisonment and the other to two months' for assaulting the police, and a number were discharged with fines.

William Demands Obedience.

Berlin, Aug. 18.—The Emperor received the First Guards at Potsdam to-day, and addressed the regiment upon the subject of the battle of Gravelotte, of which to-day is the 26th anniversary, and in which the First Guards took part. His Majesty delivered his usual speech, ending with the words: "I expect your absolute obedience to the King."

TORONTO MARKETS.

Flour—The market is unchanged. Straight rollers are quoted at $3.10 west, and new wheat and straight rollers at $2.95.

Bran—The market is steady, with cars quoted at $8.50 west, and shorts at $9 to $9.50.

Wheat—The market is quiet. New white is quoted at 61c, and old at 64c to 65c on Northern. Old red nominal at 63c to 64c outside. No. 1 Manitoba hard is quoted at 70c to 71c, Toronto freight, and No. 1 Northern at 69c.

Corn—The market is dull and prices nominal.

Rye—New rye is quoted outside at 34c to 35c.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

The receipts to-day were 65 car lots. As a rule the quality of cattle offerings was poor, while the demand is chiefly for choice. This resulted in a slow market. Choice export cattle sold at 3¾c to 4c per lb. and ordinary at 3½c. Bulls for export rule at 3c per lb. The best butchers' cattle sell at 3c to 3¼c per lb., good to medium at 2¼c to 2¾c, and inferior at 1½c to 2c. Milch cows unchanged at $18 to $30 each, and calves at $2.50 to $5.50 per head.

Sheep are unchanged, with shipping qualities selling at 2¾c to 3c per lb., and butchers' sheep at 2½c. Spring lambs sell at $2.25 to $3.25 each.

Hogs are firm, with receipts of 800 head. The best sell at 4c to 4¼c per lb., weighed off cars, thick fats at 3¾c, stores not wanted, sows at 3c and stags at 2c per lb.

FLYERS AT PETROLEA.

Toronto Riders Capture a Good Many Events—Representatives of the Oil Town Make a Good Showing.

Petrolea, Aug. 18.—The Civic Holiday here to-day was celebrated at home. At 11 o'clock in the morning there was a grand bicycle parade in Turkish costume, in which there were about 40 lady riders; a monster trades procession and calithumpians. At 2 o'clock bicycle races, at 4 o'clock a baseball match and in the evening a brilliant display of fireworks at the park and the "Lady of Lyons" by the William Owens Company at the Opera House. The bicycle races, which were run in the face of half a gale of wind, were well attended, and the following are the results:

Mile, novice—George Peat, Petrolea, 1; L. McLean, Marthaville, 2; A. Watkins, Toronto, 3. Time 2.39.

Half-mile, open, professional—First heat—J. B. McCarthy, Toronto, 1; F. W. Young, Toronto, 2; Roy Gordon, Toronto, 3. Time 1.07 2-5.

Second heat—Cecil Elliott, Toronto, 1; Alf. E. Young, 2; Chris Greatrix, Toronto, 3. Time 1.07 2-5.

Final heat—J. B. McCarthy, Toronto, 1; Chris Greatrix, Toronto, 2; F. W. Young, Toronto, 3. Time 1.07 3-5.

Two-mile handicap, amateur—John Schaeffer, Detroit (50 yards), 1; C. S. Porter, Detroit (75 yards), 2; C. Mahan, Toronto (40 yards), 3. Time 5.02 3-5.

One-mile handicap, professional—T. W. Van Tuyl, Petrolea (125 yards), 1; Cecil Elliott, Toronto (25 yards), 2; O. Greatrix (25 yards), 3. Time 2.20 2-5.

Half-mile, open, amateur—First heat—R. A. Cruise, Petrolea, 1; John Schaeffer, Detroit, 2; R. E. Axton, Toronto, 3. Time 1.12 3-5.

Second heat—E. A. Moore, Deer Park, 1; R. Thompson, Toronto, 2; H. G. Beemer, Toronto, 3. Time 1.11.

Final heat—E. A. Moore 1, H. G. Beemer 2, R. Shompson 3. Time 1.08 2-5.

Two-mile club handicap, for the Corey Cup—R. A. Cruise won. Time 5.15 4-5.

Two-mile handicap, professional—Chris Greatrix, Toronto (50 yards), 1; John Harley, Petrolea (125 yards), 2; J. H. Gratz, Toronto (125 yards), 3. Time 5.02.

One-mile, open, amateur—F. A. Moore 1, R. E. Axton 2, H. G. Beemer 3. Time 2.22 2-5.

One-mile, open, professional—J. B. McCarthy 1, F. W. Young 2, A. McLeod 3. Time 2.25.

In this race Cecil Elliott came in second, but was disqualified for ungentlemanly conduct in purposely fouling McLeod, and the referee suspended him for an indefinite period.

The baseball match was between the Athletics of Port Huron and the Petroleas. The score was 8—3 in favor of Petrolea.

BUTLER BEATS BALD.

Erie, Pa., Aug. 18.—The National Bicycle Circuit meet was very successful in point of attendance and entries, but in the middle of the afternoon a heavy rain fell, making an intermission of half an hour necessary.

In the mile novice, amateur, John H. Clemens of Erie won in 2.43; John C. Tabb, Erie, 2; Charles Gierke, Northeast, 3.

In the mile open, professional, final heat, Tom Butler of Cambridgeport, Mass., won; E. C. Bald, Buffalo, 2; F. B. Higby, Toledo, O., 3. Otto Mayo, A. D. Kenedy, A. C. Mertens, W. H. Williamson, J. P. Bliss also rode. The prizes were $100, $50 and $25 in gold. Time 2.24 2-5.

One mile, amateur, final heat—J. F. Higgins, Buffalo, 1; Julius Hampel, Erie, 2; Harry B. Wood, Cleveland, 3. Time 2.33.

One-mile handicap, amateur—D. J. Higgins, Buffalo (70 yards), 1; J. J. Dunkelaw, Rochester, 2; C. H. Whitley, Erie, 3; B. C. Irons, Meadville, Pa., 4. Time 2.32 4-5.

One mile, lap, professional, final heat—Tom Butler, Cambridgeport, Mass., won with 14 points; A. D. Kennedy, Chicago, 2, with 9 points; and J. E. Starbuck of Philadelphia 3, with 5 points. Time 2.32 1-3.

One mile, 2.30 class, amateur, final heat—A. Pilkey, Buffalo, 1; Harry B. Wood, Cleveland, 2; Julius Heupel, Erie, 3. Time 2.37.

The electric light races in the National Circuit meet were deferred to 9 o'clock to-night on account of the failure of the arc lights. The mile open, amateur, was ridden in two heats and a final, in which L. Dunkelow of Rochester, N.Y., won the race, with P. J. McIntyre, Cleveland, second, and C. A. Mertens, Erie, third. Time 3.32.

One-mile handicap, professional—W. H. Williamson, Niagara Falls, 1; W. E. Becker, Minneapolis, 2; Otto Mayo, Erie, 3; Tom Butler, Cambridgeport, Mass., 4. Time 2.32 1-5.

The mile handicap, amateur, was won by B. C. Irons, Meadville, Pa., in 2.43, with Charles W. Curry, Erie, second.

The one-mile city championship, professional, was won by A. Lejeal in 2.37 1-5, with Otto Mayo second.

FOUND A JEWEL.

An Important Find by a Brockville Jeweller.

Mr. Joseph Lane, the well-known jeweller of Brockville, says: "For some years I have suffered with severe pains in my back and sides and flashes of heat between my shoulders. I had a tired, worn-out feeling.

"The numerous medicines that I took gave me very little relief. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills I thought I would try a box, and got one at Carry's drugstore.

"After the first two or three doses I felt much relieved, and the longer I took them the greater the change for the better in my condition. I am much better in every respect and recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from kidney trouble as the best remedy I knew of."

BILLY GOAT'S BANQUET

Costs Him His Life Because He Ate $17 in Bills and Wouldn't "Cough Up."

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 18.—John Schaeffer, employed by the Keystone Axle Company, a week ago Saturday drew $17 as his week's pay. The money was in bills. Putting it in the pocket of his coat, he started for home. On the way he stopped to pitch quoits and hung his coat upon a fence. During the game Charley Riley's billy-goat browsed along on the other side of the fence. Seeing the coat, he nibbled at it and ate out the pocket containing the money. Alderman S. F. Kerr refused to receive an information charging the goat with larceny, but advised Mrs. Riley to sell the animal to Schaeffer. The latter could then kill the goat and recover the money. Master Charles Riley cried and refused to part with his pet. Then Mrs. Riley gave the animal an emetic, but the goat refused to "cough up" the money. As Schaeffer was determined, Mrs. Riley sent the goat to a slaughter-house, where it was killed. Enough fragments of the money were recovered to show that the goat had eaten $17 and the Treasury officials, to whom the pieces had been sent, notified Schaeffer to say that they would pay the full amount.

HOW THE SUN LIFE

FULFILS ITS PROMISES.

A Matured 10 Year Endowment.

Profits Paid by the SUN 21 per. cent more than the Estimates.

The following letter, which speak for itself, was received by the undersigned this morning from a gentleman in Brockville, whose ten year endowment which he held in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada matured last week and was paid him. The Sun is modest in promises but UNEQUALLED IN RESULTS. The public are benefitted by results, not by promises unfulfilled

BROCKVILLE, November 7th, 1895.

W. H. HILL, Mgr. Central Ontario Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, Peterborough, Ontario:—

DEAR SIR,—I should have acknowledged the receipt of yours enclosing cheque for endowment policy No. 12,871 before, only I wanted to write something more than a mere receipt. I am pleased to hear of the continued prosperity of the "SUN" and it speaks well for your Company when the profits are greater (by 21 per cent.) than you as the Company's representative promised or rather estimated, as was the case with this policy.

I hope your Company will continue to prosper and I often regret that I do not carry more Insurance than I am doing. I might have carried twice as much as I do when at Malden without any great effort, still what little I do carry I feel is perfectly safe being in the "SUN."

I must thank you for your promptness and kindness regarding this policy just settled. I hope we will both be alive and well when the new one I now hold will be due in 1905 and assuring you of very best wishes, I remain,

Yours Sincerely,

(Signed) F. R. C.

The above voluntary testimonial is significant and shows in a most practical way the SUN'S standing as a profit paying institution.

TURNING GRAY
AND THREATENED
WITH BALDNESS
The Danger is Averted by Using
AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only an occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good, natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—Mrs. H. M. HAIGHT, Avoca, Neb.

MR EDGAR CHOSEN

To Preside Over the Faithful Commoners.

NO OPPOSITION WAS OFFERED

And the Members on Both Sides of the House Congratulated the New Speaker on the Honor Conferred—Scenes and Incidents in the Two Chambers.

Ottawa, Aug. 19.—The first session of the eighth Parliament of Canada will be formally opened to-morrow, the preliminary business of electing a Speaker having been attended to to-day.

Both in the Senate and the House of Commons the proceedings were of considerable interest, although to-day the public seemed to centre their thoughts on the lower chamber. The galleries of the Senate were not more than half-filled when Speaker Pelletier entered and took his seat in the chair usually occupied by Clerk Langevin. Prayers were read by Ven. Archdeacon Lauder in his rich Irish brogue, interested lookers-on getting the full benefit. There were about 25 senators present at this time and it was remarked that Senator Scott and Sir Mackenzie Bowell had changed sides. Beyond this the senators occupied their usual seats.

Prayers over, the new Speaker intimated that a commission had been issued to him as Speaker of the Senate, which was read by the assistant clerk. This business having been transacted, Messrs. Scott and Power escorted Senator Pelletier to the Speaker's chair.

MR. SPEAKER EDGAR.

While the commission was being read Sir Oliver Mowat entered the chamber. One of the first to greet him was Sir Mackenzie Bowell, who, after a hearty hand-shake, congratulated him that he was about to join the "old ladies." Sir Oliver replied smilingly: "Well, I don't look very much like an old lady," at which they both laughed. The conversation was cut short by the announcement that there were members below the bar waiting to be introduced.

The following senators were then introduced:

Sir Oliver Mowat, by Messrs. Scott and Power.

L. J. Forget, by Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Senator Masson.

F. Bechard, by Messrs. Scott and McInnes.

Sir Oliver recited the oath of allegiance in a clear voice, and, having signed the roll, took his seat.

These preliminaries over, Senator Miller dropped a little bomb shell in the senatorial camp by intimating that under the rules, the Senate could not meet till 3 o'clock, whereas this afternoon they had met at 2.30 and it was only by accident that he had heard of it and was present at that hour. He threw out the dreadful suggestion that Sir Oliver was not legally a member of the Senate.

Sir Oliver Mowat said that he would take care five years hence, if a new PREMIER LAURIER.

Speaker were appointed, that this irregularity would not occur again. (Laughter.)

Sir Mackenzie Bowell said he was gratified to hear Sir Oliver's prophecy. It was to be hoped, however, that five years hence the responsibility would not devolve upon him, Sir Oliver, to select a Speaker. After five years' experience in the country, the probability was that there would be as great a political revolution as there had been in the past few weeks. He promised that the Opposition would endeavor, so far as they could, to keep the Government in the right path.

Mr. Masson said that Mr. Scott had been acting as leader during the afternoon, but Sir Oliver Mowat had assumed the duty. He thought the House ought to know which honorable gentleman was to be the leader.

There was some laughter at this remark, and then the matter dropped.

The Senate adjourned during pleasure, when Sir Henry Strong entered, took the chair in his capacity as Deputy Governor, and black rod was instructed to summons faithful Commons. This having been done, the Commons were duly informed that his Excellency did not see fit to declare the reasons for summoning Parliament until the Commons had elected their Speaker. So with this slap in the eye the faithful Commoners went back to their own House and proceeded to carry out the gubernatorial injunction.

The Chamber of the Commons was crowded to excess by visitors to the city. In the morning there had also been quite a gathering in the historic chamber. Dr. Bourinot, Clerk of the House, and his assistant, Mr. Rouleau, were on hand shortly before 12 o'clock to swear in the new members. Promptly as the hands of the clock touched the point indicating the midday hour, Messrs. M. C. Cameron, Huron; Julius Scriver, Huntingdon; Dr. Rinfret, Lotbiniere, and Dr. Mignealt, Yamaska, laid their hands on the Holy Writ and had the oath administered together. Then Messrs.

SIR OLIVER MOWAT.

Scriver and Cameron signed the roll together. The attaching of signatures soon became general. Hon. Mr. Tarte and Hon. Mr. Fisher took the oath at the same time. R. Henry of Brant, and Joseph Seagram, the new member for North Waterloo, were another pair who assumed full rights to sit in Parliament at the same time. By 1 o'clock nearly all the members had been sworn in, and in this way the course was cleared for the afternoon proceedings.

In the Speaker's Gallery there was quite a bevy of ladies, prominent amongst them being Madame Laurier, radiant and smiling. Next to her was seated Mrs. Edgar, a trifle nervous at the ordeal which was awaiting her liege lord.

Looking over the members of the House, it did not seem as if more than 20 seats were vacant. Clerk Bourinot was in his place at the head of the table, and when Black Rod came in that functionary's first observations were addressed to Mr. Clerk. Once in five years Black Rod varies his bow, the sight of which is long remembered by him who sees it. To-day was the occasion of the quinquennial obeisance. To-morrow, when he enters the chamber, Black Rod will show his bald pate to the Speaker. To-day, with a kind of Saratoga glide, he twirled it from one side of the House to the other, in deference to the members. The new men were highly delighted at the performance and cheered uproariously.

The visit to the Senate did not take long. Settled once more in their places in the Commons, there was a pause, when Mr. Laurier entered. The leader of the Government looked spick and span. He wore a black morning coat and vest and grey trousers, and carried a new silk hat, cane and tan gloves in his hands. His followers cheered him enthusiastically.

The Clerk called order, and the Premied rose. Addressing Dr. Bourinot, he said that in accordance with the intimation just conveyed by the representative of the Crown, and according to the well-known usages of Parliament, the duty now devolved upon the House to select a Speaker. He proceeded to speak of the importance of the position, how in the old days the Speaker was the channel of communication between the Commons and the Crown, and how important the duties were at a time when the relations between the Crown and the Commons were hazy and undefined. In later years they had become more clearly defined, and now embraced almost wholly the duties of presiding over deliberations of the Commons. The occupant of the position required to be possessed of a sound and prompt judgment, a judicial mind, a thorough knowledge of the law and constitution of Parliament, fairness and impartiality.

He submitted that in all these respects Mr. Edgar was well qualified to be Speaker of the House. Old members agreed with him that in Mr. Edgar's hands the rights and privileges of the Commons would be in safe keeping that he would discharge the duties with favor to none, and with fear of none, that he would indeed be the first Commoner in the land. He moved, seconded by Sir Richard Cartwright, that Mr. J. D. Edgar, member for West Ontario, do take the chair of this House as Speaker.

Sir Charles Tupper, who was received with loud Opposition cheers, said he did not rise for the purpose of opposing the motion. On the contrary, he believed the duties of the high office of Speaker would be discharged with great ability and impartiality by the hon. gentleman just named, but he desired to express the regret of members of the Opposition that it had been found necessary to depart from the time-honored principle of electing alternately a French or English Speaker. (Hear, hear, and some oh, nos.) That was the uniform practice of the House, and while not making any exception to the appointment of Mr. Edgar he could only express his regret that the customary practice had been departed from. (Opposition cheers.)

Dr. Bourinot put the motion to the House and declared Mr. Edgar duly elected Speaker.

The new Speaker was thereupon escorted to the dais by Mr. Laurier and Sir Richard Cartwright, and the mace, insignia of authority, was placed on the table.

The new Speaker, standing on the second step of the dais, conveyed to the House his sincere and hearty thanks for the high honor done him by electing him as Speaker. He said it would be his pleasure as well as his duty to endeavor to deserve this high honor by dealing with all questions which came before him officially with firmness and impartiality. He was fully sensible of his own unfitness for this position, but he relied confidently on the co-operation of the hon. members on both sides to assist him in maintaining their rules and regulations, in vindicating their rights and privileges, and in preserving the freedom and dignity of debate according to ancient usages. (Applause.) Mr. Edgar repeated his observations in very good French, and was on the conclusion thereof loudly applauded by both sides. He then took the chair.

On motion of Mr. Laurier the Commons then adjourned.

OCEAN COLD STORAGE.

Regulations of Dairy Commissioners for Butter Shipments.

The contract with Messrs. Elder, Dempster & Co., for providing cold storage accommodation on their steamships for butter for shipment to the Old Country, stipulates that the insulated compartments are for the carriage of chilled butter only. No butter is to be put in the insulated compartments unless it is in a chilled condition from having been in a refrigerator compartment at a temperature not above 38 degrees Fahr. for at least three days before being delivered to the steamship.

In case of butter coming in by rail in refrigerator cars for through shipment, the butter must be in a thoroughly cold and firm condition, or it must not be put in the insulated compartment with chilled butter. If the offerings of butter exceed the insulated space available, then preference is to be given first to chilled finest Canadian creamery butter, second to chilled Canadian buttter of a lower quality and third to chilled butter shipped by a Canadian firm. Mr. F. E. Jodery, official inspector at Montreal, has been instructed to see that these regulations are complied with, and to act with the steamship agents to exclude all butter offered which does not meet the requirements laid down.

OBITUARY.

It is our painful duty this issue to record the demise of Mrs. James Buck, of Asphodel, who departed this life on Friday, the 14th inst., after a long illness. For some time her recovery had been despaired of, but all that loving friends and medical skill could do was done to restore her to life and family, but of no avail. She steadily grew worse, until the Master said, "It's enough, come home." The summons she dutifully obeyed, leaving a sorrowing husband and five children—two girls and three boys, the youngest five years old—to mourn the loss of wife and mother. She was the eldest daughter of Mr. Wm. Richardson, of Asphodel. Was born on the 12th of July, 1854, and was united in marriage to her now sorrowing husband on the 9th of April, 1879. Their united industry and frugality was fast making a pleasant home to enjoy for many days. But the cruel sickle was, as often is, thrust in, just as they were about to reap the fruits of many days toil. Such is life, and the words of the Saviour, how appropriate—"Be ye also ready, for in an hour that ye think not the Son of Man cometh." The family and friends have the sympathy of the whole community.—Hastings Star.

Light in Asia—It Shines Clearly.

MESSRS. T. MILBURN & CO., TORONTO:

Dear Sirs,—There is light in Asia after all and the man that advised me to try your Heart and Nerve Pills was a friend indeed and truly a friend in need. Before I started to take them I was languid, weak, sleepless and nervous. My brain was beclouded and I could not collect my thoughts, I had gone through an operation in the hope of relief, but still remained generally broken up, my appetite was gone and I was almost without hope or ambition.

But I feel thoroughly rebuilt through the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and it took only three or four weeks to do the work. I often think of the years of suffering I might have escaped had I only known of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills in time; but I am grateful to be restored to health at last and gladly recommend the medicine that cured.

ONDERDONK'S DIVORCED WIFE.

The Baroness Blanc is Again Wedded to a Wealthy New Yorker Her Third Venture.

Hamilton, Aug. 20.—(Special.)—A despatch was received from New York to-day, announcing the marriage of Baroness Blanc to Vaugh Waters, a wealthy young New York boy, about 20 years of age. What adds local interest to the event is the fact that the Baroness is the divorced wife of a young Hamiltonian, Shirley Onderdonk, son of Andrew Onderdonk, the extensive railroad contractor. She is about 35 years old. When she was Miss Elizabeth Lawrence Nicholson, daughter of F. L. Nicholson, a prominent citizen of Philadelphia, she attracted attention by reason of her beauty. In 1880 she married a wealthy merchant of the Quaker City, named Alfred Lawrence Reigel, who left her after a few months of matrimony, and when she procured a divorce she went upon the stage as Betty Reigel, but was a failure.

In July, 1887, she married a man named Baron Frederick Blanc, a member of the Long Branch West End coterie, and the pair spent their honeymoon in Europe. Blanc had no title, the name of Baron being given at his christening, but it pleased the humor of the woman to call herself "Baroness." Blanc secured a divorce from her. Fred Yuengling, son of the millionaire brewer, was the co-respondent.

The "Baroness" again tried the stage and again failed. Then she married Shirley Onderdonk. Divorce followed the next year.

Last May it was announced that she had signed with Augustus Harris to appear in England, but the great impresario died soon after.

Rev. Dr. Burns, principal of the Hamilton Ladies' College, received a nice testimonial this morning for his devotion to the cause of Ireland, when John Ronan, Ald. Dwyer, James O'Brien and John Ford, four representative Irishmen, waited upon him at the college and presented him with a purse, with enough money in it to defray his expenses to the place of convention, to be held in Dublin, and to which he was nominated a delegate. Dr. Burns was unable to accept the invitation, owing to his duties at the College, but expressed regret at his inability to do so, and thanked all who had contributed to the fund.

There was a sad case of wife desertion at the Police Court this morning, when Harry Leather was charged by his wife with deserting her and her three children. The woman said Leather had left her, going to board at some other house, giving her and her children nothing. P.M. Jelfs ordered him to pay her $3 a week for support. Louis Bensey, who was brought from Caledonia yesterday, was charged by his father with stealing $150, which he failed to deposit in the bank. The boy said he was not guilty of stealing the money, but took it, and the case was laid over.

The Police Commissioners met this morning to appoint a constable to succeed the late Thomas Watson, and selected Horace Hazel, a brother of Thomas Hazel, the grocer. The successful applicant is a fine-looking man, 5 feet 11 inches in height, weight 216 pounds, and has a chest measurement of 42 inches. There were 35 applicants but Hazel was the unanimous choice of the commissioners.

DON'T POUND DYNAMITE.

An Awful Affair in Parry Island—Two Men Blown to Pieces and a Third Will Die.

Parry Sound, Aug. 20.—A terrible accident occurred on Parry Island this afternoon. It appears that a number of men were blasting in the rock cut near Rose Point, and in putting in a heavy charge of dynamite they had occasion to pound the charge down, when it exploded. Two of the men, named Jim Smith and the foreman, Arthur Hillman, were killed, the latter having his arms blown off and his leg shattered. John Olsen, who was one of the gang, was badly injured.

Summer Comes

With the flowers and sunshine. Birds pour out their melody and the chirp of the grasshopper will soon tempt the fisherman to stretch forth his hands and grasp the shadow of his flight. The playful mosquito will do her nicest to soothe weary pleasure seekers into the realms of slumber, and the singing, aching corns will remove every semblance of comfort, make sad the songs of the birds, evoke cloudiness in the soul, that even the brightest sunshine can not dispel. Corns are thorns in the flesh, but Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor removes them in twenty-four hours. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor is the best.

The First Woman's Train Leaves Syracuse for Cape Vincent—They Run the Engine and Collect Tickets.

Syracuse, N.Y., Aug. 20.—The first woman's train in the world left here to-day for the Thousand Islands, over the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg Railroad. The train is run by the Woman's Christian Association of this city, who formed themselves into a tourist company for the purpose of running the train and also operating the steamboats on the St. Lawrence River during this personally-conducted tour. The engine was started by Mrs. James K. McGuire, wife of the Mayor of Syracuse, and each car in the train had a woman conductor, in uniform, and a woman chaperon. The Thousand Islands' Steamboat Company's steamers run in connection with this tour will also be officered by the women, the women having appointed a commodore, captain, mate, purser, steward, cook, engineer, fireman and crew to serve on each excursion steamer. The train consisted of 12 vestibule cars, including the Wagner palace cars, and carried about 600 passengers.

CIVIL ENGINEERS AT BUFFALO.

Prof. Galbraith of Toronto Presents a Report on Symbols for Text Books.

Buffalo, Aug. 20.—The fourth annual meeting of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education was called to order this morning by President Professor Mansfield Merriman. There were more than thirty members of the society present. This was the first meeting of the affiliated societies of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, whose convention begins on Saturday.

After Prof. Merrian's address and discussion thereon, Prof. J. Galbraith of Toronto presented the report of the Committee on Uniformity of Symbols for Engineering Text-Books. I. O.Baker is chairman of this committee, but Prof. Galbraith presented only a partial report. The committee was continued in office with instructions to report more at length next year at the fifth annual meeting. Other technical papers were read and discussed. The sessions will last during the balance of the week.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentally will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak, shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness, I promise you perfect secrecy and as I do not wish to expose myself either, please address, simply: P. WRECKAGE
From the Big Sale

In the shape of Remnants, Odd Lots and Tail Ends from every department, have been rooted out, ticketed and marked at prices to close them with a rush. It's a fitting wind-up for the biggest selling event in our history. A few days will do the business, and sharp's the word.

Remnants of Cloths.
Nothing wrong with them. The last few yards of the piece cost us just as much as the first. Going to sell them at a sacrifice though; they litter the stock. Good picking here for the Boy's Fall School Suits. Why not look ahead a bit and by so doing save a dollar? Price of each remnant in plain figures. They're all spread out on the shelves and you can make an easy selection.

Broken Lots of Men's Pants.
Good sizes and lengths among them. Some at about one-half regular prices. They'll move quick when the news gets out.

Good-by to Summer Ties.
The left-overs are going to be turned into money at short notice. The prices are absurd, but we don't want to winter them.

Men's and Boy's Suits.
Not a question of worth, but what price will sell them. It will pay you to be among the first. The pick is worth something. 300 Suits to pick from, well made and finished, the products of some of the best known makers. A lot of our own make included.

Broken Lots of Hosiery and Underwear.
Odd dozens and half-dozens, all out on the counter, and they're not going back into the shelves with our consent. Can you use them? If so, help us to get rid of them.

Summer Suits and Separate Parts.
Some made of Wool Serge, some of Cricketing Flannel, some of Silk and some of Lustre and Alpaca. Only about a dozen of each, but we want the room more than the goods.

Summer Boots & Shoes.
The Fall Styles will be about the same as these; they're all new this season. Not many shelves full, but you save just half. Not often that 50c does the work of $1.00 but we need the room.

Shirts and Collars.
They might as well go with the rest. We won't profit financially on the sales, but that makes no difference, so long as we can clean up the overplus.

Last Call on Felt and Straw Hats.
And a loud call it is. Mostly broken lots, but none the worse for that. If your size, style or kind is among them then you're in luck, for the prices are cut loose entirely from the values.

SALE OF BURNT TIMBER.

A quantity of pine timber, estimated at about four million feet, B. M., situated on lot 4 in the 2nd con. and lots 3 and 4 in the 3rd con. of the Township of Rathbun, north east of Wahnapitae Lake, in the District of Nipissing; and a quantity estimated at four and one half million feet, B.M., situated on the shore of Lake Biscotasing, in the District of Algoma, on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, having been damaged by fire, the undersigned hereby calls for tenders for the right to cut the same.

Tenders will be received up to and including the Seventh day of September next, and must state the rate per thousand feet board measure, if made into saw logs, or per thousand feet cubic, if made into square timber, which the tenderer is willing to pay as bonus or in addition to the ordinary Crown dues of one dollar per thousand feet board measure, on saw logs, and twenty dollars per thousand feet cubic on square timber. Separate tenders should be made for each quantity, and must be accompanied by a marked cheque for $300. The party awarded the right to cut will have to give a bond, with satisfactory sureties, for the performance of all the terms and conditions which may be required by the Department.

Mr. F. Sinclair, Forest Ranger at Sudbury, will give information respecting the timber, etc, and further particulars as to conditions may be obtained from this Department.

The figures as to quantity represent the Department's estimate only, and intending purchasers must satisfy themselves as to quantities and purchase upon their own estimates. The Department does not bind itself to accept the highest or any tender. Tenders should be marked "Tenders for Burnt Timber," and addressed to the Hon. the Commissioner of Crown Lands, Toronto.

THE TRADE RETURNS

A Gratifying Showing for the Month of July.

INCREASED EXPORTS AND IMPORTS

Heavy Export of American Silver—Chinese Residents of British Columbia Want a Consul—Visit of a Bishop From the Far North—Other Ottawa News.

Ottawa, Aug. 21.—The trade returns for the month just passed, being the first of the current fiscal year, are encouraging, the exports showing an increase of $415,026. Imports, on the other hand, show an increase of $1,715,782, and the duty collected an increase of $58,216. Coin, presumably American silver, to the value of $831,068, was exported. The total value of the free goods entered last month was $4,805,389. Of this coin and bullion was included, amounting to $1,273,038.

Although Sir Mackenzie Bowell is reluctant to assume the Opposition leadership in the Senate, yet the overwhelming consensus of opinion among his friends in the Upper House is so favorable that it is expected he will accede to the request. A round robin is being circulated asking him to assume the duties.

Mr. Leofred of Montreal had an interview with several members of the Government to-day in reference to the opening of a mining exhibition in Montreal. He has secured the promise of aid from some of the Provincial Governments, and is asking for a contribution from the Federal Government. Mr. Fisher practically admitted that at no distant date the Government would open a mining office in Montreal, and instal therein as chief of this bureau a skilled mining expert from British Columbia.

The Chinese residents of British Columbia have placed upon Mr. Parmelee, the controller of Chinese immigration, the duty of presenting to Li Hung Chang when he comes here a petition asking for the stationing of a Chinese Consul in British Columbia. A communication received at the department to-day states that recently the Chinese entertained in Victoria Gen. Won An Pong, of military rank second degree, and requested that he present to His Excellency, Li Hung Chang, a petition which they had formed: Fearing that he would not be in Ottawa to deliver it in time to the Viceroy, they sent along the document to the department here. It is a very pretty document, done throughout in Chinese characters, and bearing, in addition to the petition itself, a long list of signatures, and for neatness of execution would do credit to any professional penman or artist. They ask in the petition that the Viceroy visit Victoria, B.C., the centre of Chinese population in the Dominion. Li Hung on his arrival here will be duly informed of the desires of his fellow countrymen on the coast, and the latter will be informed by wire of his decision.

The Bishop of Moosonee James, from the far-away region of James Bay, is a visitor in the capital to-day. His trip to Winnipeg from James Bay took six weeks to come up the Albany River by canoe, reaching Wahigoon on the C.P. Railway. The Indians along the route he found in a fairly good condition. This season's hunting has been up to the average. The assistance that he obtained for the Indians within the bounds of his diocese was of great service. The Bishop is erecting a new mail service from Winnipeg to York Factory, on the shore of Hudson Bay, also another mail service up to Athabasca, Saskatchewan and Mackenzie River region, in the far north. These points are not included in any mail service.

Rev. G. R. Maxwell, M.P. for Burrard, on being interviewed, said that, as to changes in policy, the people of British Columbia wanted a careful revision of the tariff. They do not want anything done hastily, but they want a revision made in the general direction of taking the taxes off necessaries. The other important question there is the exclusion of Chinese. A duty of $500 per head would satisfy the people at present if the total exclusion could not be arrived at. In business matters, the chief interest is gold mining. Parts of the country where it was not thought gold would ever be found now swarm with prospectors, and the people in some quarters are growing quite excited over the chances of lighting on a fortune.

A new cruiser has been added to the Dominion fisheries protection fleet. It is called the Osprey, and makes the ninth of the fleet under command of Commodore Spain. The launching of the craft has just taken place. Mrs. L. H. Davies, wife of the Hon. L. H. Davies, performed the ceremony. The craft is one of the very best in the fleet, and will go right into commission at once.

The new Government dredge, which has been building since last year at Levis, for the Department of Public Works, has been completed, and will go down to the Gulf of St. Lawrence, and possibly around to the coast to the Maritime Provinces, without delay, starting this week.

Dr. Peter Bryce, Provincial Health Officer, came to town on Wednesday and went out to Britannia to inspect the place with respect to water and drainage. This morning he went on a trip to the far end of the Parry Sound line in order to see what facilities there are for a sanitarium.

Hon. Robert Watson, Commissioner of Public Works in the Manitoba Government, had an interview with Messrs. Fielding, Davies, Tarte and Sir Richard Cartwright this forenoon on Western matters. Mr. Watson leaves for Western Ontario to-night.

Mr. Haggart will move for a return showing names of all persons dismissed from office, or superannuated since July 11, and names of those appointed to office since that day.

Major Hughes will ask if the Government intends to abandon the Trent Canal works.

Dr. Landerkin has bought a bicycle. He takes his first lesson to-morrow. The members of the Press Gallery Cycling Club are to assist in holding the doctor on his wheel.

Mr. Davin will move that the time has arrived when the Territories should be treated on the same footing as the organized provinces, that an annual subsidy should be voted for carrying on the Government of the Territories, calculated on the same basis as that of Manitoba.

A deputation of Quebec men interested in the proposed dead meat project, which is said to have its headquarters at Quebec, will interview the Government on Monday.

C. W. Gauthier of Windsor is here pressing for extensive fishing privileges from the Detroit River to the Lake of the Woods.

Hon. Dr. Geoffrion was sworn a member of the Privy Council this afternoon. Owing to His Excellency's absence this was not possible before.

Sir C. H. Tupper will ask the Government whether Controllers are members of the Cabinet, and what assurances, if any, were given to them before they took office.

HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Yesterday's Proceedings Were Brief—Parrying Between the Premier and Sir Charles Tupper.

Ottawa, Aug. 21.—There was a brief but not uninteresting session of the House to-day, in which two orders were wiped off the initial paper and an exchange of opinions passed between the Premier and the leader of the Opposition as to when the correspondence relating to the resignations of the late Government should be laid on the table. The Speaker informed the House, and the new members particularly, that when questions on the paper were not asked of motions moved, they should either be dropped or stand at the request of the mover.

At the opening of the House seven petitions for private bills were presented. The Speaker said with the consent of the House he would recognize the practice that if any question on the order paper was not asked or a motion moved that the order should be considered dropped unless allowed to stand at the request of the Government.

Sir H. G. Joly informed Mr. W that it was not the intention of the Government to make any changes this year as to the selection of grain standards which would require any amendment of the Inspection Act. The department was considering several minor features which the Act permits to be dealt with departmentally, but he was unable to state positively that any changes would be made this year.

Sir Henry also informed Mr. Wood that it was not the intention of the Government to adopt the metric system of weights and measures in lieu of the system now in force in Canada. It was practically optional now under the statute.

On a motion to adjourn, Mr. Laurier stated with regard to the correspondence between the late Prime Minister and the Governor-General, which Sir Charles Tupper had asked for yesterday, the Government had the assent of His Excellency that the correspondence should be brought down as soon as the address was passed.

Sir Charles Tupper said it was very desirable to have this correspondence previous to the passage of the address. There was no reason why it should be withheld. As it involved a great constitutional question it was very desirable that the House should have an opportunity of discussing that matter in connection with the passing of the address. It was usual for Ministerial explanations either from those who had formed the new Ministry or those who had held portfolios in the retiring Ministry to be submitted to Parliament at the very earliest possible moment. The House and the country were entitled to know as early as possible the circumstances attending the resignation of one Government and the formation of another. He hoped therefore the First Minister would reconsider that matter and, having obtained the assent of the Governor-General to bring down the correspondence, he should not delay its presentation to Parliament.

Mr. Laurier said he had serious doubts as to the constitutionality of the contention that this correspondence should be brought down and form part of the debate on the address. If this matter was going to be discussed it should be debated as a question of propriety by itself and not mixed up with the address. As for any Ministerial explanations regarding the Cabinet changes, he was not aware that any were necessary, when a new Government was formed consequent upon the result of an appeal to the people. He thought the better plan would be to discuss the address, simply the questions arising out of the speech from the throne. When the papers were laid before the House and they involved any controversial matter an opportunity would be given to discuss them.

Sir Charles Tupper stated that the correspondence affected the very point at issue. The resignation of the late Government had a most important bearing on the situation, and he hoped the First Minister would give his most careful consideration and see his way clear to bring the papers down with as little delay as possible.

Mr. Haggart called the attention of the leader of the Government to an interview with the latter published in The Chicago Record and republished in The Globe. The ex-Minister of Railways and Canals read the statements attributed to the Premier and interrogated him as to their correctness.

Mr. Laurier replied: 'The hon. gentleman is rather inquisitive in asking me to answer an interview of two or three columns which I have not read for some time—in what respect it is correct. I assume that it is substantially correct."

Mr. Laurier informed the leader of the Opposition that the statement of the Governor-General's warrants would be presented to the House on Monday.

Replying to Col. Tisdale, Dr. Borden said the last report of the commandant of the Royal Military College would be presented to Parliament.

The House adjourned at 3 40.

Small lot of Men's Summer Coats and Vests, regular price $2.50 to $3, Grafton's Clearing price $1.50.

Removal of the Remains of Hon. W. D. Balfour.

SOLEMN SERVICES IN EARLY MORN

Funeral Service of the Presbyterian Church Held in the Parliament Buildings in Queen's Park—The Journey to Amherstburg and the Mourning of the People.

Toronto, Aug. 22.

At 7.30 yesterday morning the remains of the late Hon. W. D. Balfour were removed from Toronto for burial. An hour earlier the funeral service of the Presbyterian Church was held over the body in the reception room at the Parliament buildings by Rev. Ross G. Murison of Toronto University and Rev. J. Wilson of Niagara Falls South. Despite the early hour a number of friends of deceased were present to pay their last respects to the dead. Among these were: Hon. J. M. Gibson, Commissioner of Crown Lands, representing the Government; W. A. Charlton, M.L.A., of South Norfolk; G. F. Marter, M.L.A., North Toronto; D. M. Macpherson, M.L.A., Glengarry; and J. W. St. John, M.L.A., West York, representing the Local Legislature; Mr. Arthur Kirkpatrick, representing the Lieutenant-Governor, who is in Montreal; Controller Lamb and Controller McMurrich, representing the Mayor and Corporation; Captain McMaster, Reeve Hill, Hugh Miller, J. A. Proctor, Peter Ryan, Rev. Dr. Barrass, Joseph Tait, Warden Gilmour, Dr. McPhedran, William Houston, Thomas Caswell, William Edwards, J. E. Edwards, G. E. Lumsden, J. I. McIntosh, Dr. T. F. Chamberlain, R. Christie, James Noxon, L. V. Percival, Henry Totten.

Owing to indisposition Premier Hardy was unable to be present.

At the conclusion of the brief service the casket was closed and removed to the Union Station, where it was entrained for Windsor.

The pall-bearers were Hon. J. M. Gibson, Col. Clarke, Clerk of the House; W. A. Charlton, M.L.A., Dr. Gilmour, Joseph Tait, ex-M.L.A., and Sergeant-at-Arms Glackmeyer.

The following gentlemen, besides the father, mother, wife, son and three sisters of deceased, accompanied the body on its last journey: Hon. J. M. Gibson, Col. Clarke, W. A. Charlton, W. McGregor, M. K. Cowan, D. M. McPherson, Sergt. Glackmeyer, J. I. McIntosh, the deceased Minister's private secretary.

Arrival at Windsor.

Windsor, Ont., Aug. 21.—The body of the late Hon. W. D. Balfour arrived here at 2 o'clock p.m. from Toronto. It was taken to Amherstburg at 4 o'clock this afternoon by the steamer Imperial. A large number of representative citizens of the county were present on the arrival of the train, among whom were Wm. McGregor, M. P., M. K. Cowan, ex-M.P., and Wm. J. McKee, M.L.A., H. W. Allen, ex-M.P., Reeve Cole, Judge Horne and Police Magistrate Bartlett.

People Wept at Amherstburg.

Amherstburg, Aug. 21.—The remains of Hon. W. D. Balfour arrived here about 5.30 p.m., in the steamer Imperial, from Windsor. Besides the funeral party which left Toronto, there were about 200 friends from Windsor. The remains were followed to the Hon. gentleman's late residence by a very large number of friends. Hundreds wept in the street as the remains passed, as he was loved by his friends and admired by his political enemies, while all feel the loss the west has sustained by his demise. Hundreds from town and country are taking a last look at him to-night. The prospects are that there will be thousands of people in town to-morrow to attend the funeral. Arches suitably draped have been erected on streets where the remains will pass.

AN ARMY CORPS ARRESTED.

Calithumpians and Salvationists Had a Noisy Duel at Atlantic City and the Latter People Suffered.

Atlantic City, N.J., Aug. 21.—The entire local branch of the Salvation Army, including Ensign Ida Dorn, eleven uniformed members of her corps and a varied assortment of musical instruments, was taken into custody to-night and arraigned before Recorder Ingersoll, in the local police station. The arrest grew out of the war which hotelkeeper Edward Moss had declared upon the Salvationists.

The noise of their meetings held in the open air at Arkansas and Atlantic-avenues annoyed the guests of his hotel on the opposite corner, and to drive them out of business he inaugurated a calithumpian band of doubtful ability. The two rival organizations managed between them to make life miserable for all the residents of the neighborhood and numerous complaints were made to the police. To-night the rival noise-makers gathered again and before they could begin the evening's duel the police swooped down upon the Salvation Army corps and placed it under arrest.

The patrol wagon was summoned and all the Salvationists who could be accommodated in it were packed away. When arraigned before the Recorder the Salvationists were given a severe lecture for blockading the streets and warned that if they violated the provisions of a city ordinance prohibiting this again they would be fined and imprisoned. They were then allowed to go. Before departing Ensign Dorn invited the Recorder to Arkansas and Atlantic-avenues to-morrow night, asserting the meeting would be held as usual.

THAT DIAMOND MATCH DEAL.

Meeting in Chicago of the Brokers Interested in the Moore Brothers' Deals—A Settlement in Sight.

Chicago, Aug. 21.—A meeting of a number of Stock Exchange brokers interested in the Moore Bros. deals, was held last evening. The Special Committee appointed by the Governing Committee made a partial report last evening to the effect that there was a pool back of the Moores in the deal in Diamond Match and New York Biscuit stocks. Attorneys for the Special Committee to-day expressed the opinion that members of the pool could be held responsible for carrying out all the Moore contracts. At the meeting, however, the matter was carefully discussed, and, while no decision was reached, the general opinion seemed to be that there was no way to force the members of the alleged pool to come to the front. The consensus of opinion to-night seemed to be that, while the reopening of the Stock Exchange is extremely desirable, the only wise thing to do is to keep it closed until general confidence has been fully restored and business has readjusted itself on a normal basis.

These present at the meeting believed that a settlement on an equitable basis would be arrived at before long.

Scrofula

Infests the blood of humanity. It appears in varied forms, but is forced to yield to Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies and vitalizes the blood and cures all such diseases. Read this:

"In September, 1894, I made a misstep and injured my ankle. Very soon afterwards,

A Sore

two inches across formed and in walking to favor it I sprained my ankle. The sore became worse; I could not put my boot on and I thought I should have to give up at every step. I could not get any relief and had to stop work. I read of a cure of a similar case by Hood's Sarsaparilla and concluded to try it. Before I had taken all of two bottles the sore had healed and the swelling had gone down. My

SATURDAY, AUGUST 22, 1896.

LET THEM CRASH.

We have the Mail and Empire and other Conservative organs of lofty principles raising the cry of "French domination," because Quebec gave a large majority of representatives to Hon. Wilfred Laurier. Now we have Sir Charles Tupper complaining because a French-Canadian Speaker was not selected. As of yore, anything to gain a political point is the policy of these desperate politicians. No matter how much the unification of our dual citizenship may be impeded, a petty party advantage is all that is sought. It would seem that the balance has been pretty evenly held by appointing an English speaking presiding officer for the Commons, Hon. J. D. Edgar, and a French speaking chairman for the Senate, Hon. Mr. Pelletier. It is high time that we had ceased to sound racial and religious cries. Hon. Wilfred Laurier has done more than any living Canadian statesman to remove the difficulties that have prevented the process of homogeniety of population, and it is hoped that the Conservative party will have a higher patriotism than to obstruct him and the Liberal party in the great work of welding our Canadian population into one harmonious whole.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THE name of Daniel Spry, postoffice inspector of the London division, is mentioned in connection with the position of Deputy Postmaster-General, under Hon. Wm. Mulock. Mr. Spry is a Liberal in politics, is considered one of the ablest, as he is one of the most experienced and competent officials in the country.

Now all the Conservative journals are prating about the "meagre" bill of fare presented to Parliament by the Liberal Ministers. Parliament was called together for a specific purpose—to pass the estimates and certainly it would not take much of a speech from the throne to tell that simple fact.

THERE is a good deal printed in the papers about the vandalism of burning toll gates in different parts of the Province. It is, however, what might be expected. A community that is barbarous enough to retain such relics of primitiveness must naturally contain sufficient of a barbarous element to not stick at burning a toll gate or two.

OF our Dominion Senate it cannot be said, remarks the Hamilton Herald, that it is a menace or a disgrace to the state. It is simply a drag on the state and a burden to it. A refuge for gentlemen who have failed through lack of ability or energy to make their way into the House of Commons or to make their mark there after they have got into it, an asylum for worn-out political hacks, a convenient means of rewarding rich men who have contributed to party funds, the Dominion Senate has degenerated into a collection of respectable mediocrities—a sort of automatic part of the governmental machinery." The Herald is a little too sweeping. Such senators as Sir Oliver Mowat and Sir Mackenzie Bowell are certainly above respectable mediocrity. All the same the Senate can be greatly improved.

THERE is reported to be a decrease of British immigrants to the United States. It would appear that that country thinks it has had about enough emigrants, and legislation discouraging further importation of the foreign element has been a feature of late years. As the flow of immigrants from Great Britain is setting more strongly towards the colonies, this is Canada's golden opportunity. Population is one of Canada's great needs. Of late South Africa has had the call as a place of settlement, a fact largely due to the importance of her gold fields. Now that Canada threatens her supremacy in this respect, it is natural that the current of immigration should flow to this country. A wise and liberal immigration policy would be followed by a great increase of our population and a corresponding development of our great natural resources. And from a Liberal Government we may expect such a policy, and with that policy conditions of residence, freed from the many disabilities and restrictions that have made the conditions difficult in the Northwest especially the improvement will be marked.

THE Montreal Witness says:—"The statistician who supplies the Conservative press with fake figures has given The Mail and Empire and The Gazette for simultaneous publication a very false and misleading set of statistics in regard to the vote in the Dominion elections. It is designed with the sole purpose of making it appear that the Tupper Government received a plurality of votes in the late elections. To do this the combination between the Liberals and Patrons which the Government organs complained of before the election is now ignored, because it is necessary for party purposes that these two parties should be represented as antagonistic, and the heavy Liberal vote polled in many Ontario constituencies for the Patron candidate where no Liberals ran, according to friendly arrangement, counted against the Liberals. The opponents of the Tupper Government, whether Liberals or Patrons or McCarthyites, were all avowed tariff reformers, so that, according to the Gazette's own figures, tariff reform was supported by 477,705 votes, while protection received 413,006 votes. Thus the majority in favour of tariff reform and against protection was the very decided one of 64,799.

A national house-cleaning brings to light many strange things erstwhile bidden in corners. When the election contest placed a new set of housemaids in charge of the national household many surprises or at least revelations occur. The by-election campaign—Queens and Sunberry, New Brunswick, where Hon. Mr. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals, is seeking re-election has brought out some strange things in regard to the management of the Intercolonial Railway, a line that belongs to the people. It is reported that every man employed on the road in any capacity is a Conservative, that the officials in charge have been in the habit of coercing those under them to vote right at election times, and that the road has been used to carry gratuitously not merely the employees who desired to vote, but outsiders who were by no stretch of courtesy entitled to such a privilege. Mr. Blair, the Brantford Expositor thinks, should at once institute a strict inquiry into the past management of the railway, and should promptly dismiss every official who has been in the habit of interfering with the right of any employee to vote as he pleased.

NEVER KNOWN TO FAIL.

The Three Great South American Remedies Always Cure—Mrs. Edward Purr, of Surrey Centre, B.C., Once Paralyzed on One Side, Is Now "As Well as Ever" Because of South American Nervine—W. W. Brownell, of Avonmore, Ont., Thought He Would Die from Rheumatism and Neuralgia, Cured by South American Rheumatic Cure—South American Kidney Cure the Only Specific for Worst Forms of Kidney Disease.

To do all that one undertakes to do is commendable in these days of broken promises. The application is apt in the case of proprietary medicines. In the three great South American Remedies, however, are found specifics that square up to every claim and promise.

The wife of Edward Purr, of Surrey Centre, B.C., was taken bad last August with nervous prostration, which later developed into paralysis of one side. Her husband writes: "She tried many remedies, but only in vain. South American Nervine was recommended, and I am glad to say the result, after taking three bottles, was astonishing to myself and family. We believe it worked a wonder for Mrs. Purr, and we cannot speak too highly of the remedy."

As an aftermath from an attack of typhoid fever W. W. Brownell, of Avanmore, Ont., became a victim of most painful rheumatism and neuralgia. He called in the best medical aid, but got no relief. His words are:—"I thought I must die and many nights thought I could not live till morning, the pain was so severe. The doctors said I must go to the springs, but I secured a bottle of South American Rheumatic Cure from Mr. E. H. Brown, druggist, of Cornwall. The first dose gave me relief and after taking two and a half bottles the pain all left me and now I am as well as ever."

There is no experiment in the use of South American Kidney Cure. It is not a pill nor powder, but a liquid, that immediately dissolves the hard stone-like substances, that constitute kidney disease, and doing this it becomes an absolute cure. D. J. Locke of Sherbrooke, Que., says he spent $100 in treatment for a complicated case of kidney disease, but received no permanent ease until, to use his own words:—"I began to use South American Kidney Cure, when four bottles completely cured me."

CURE OF DROPSY.

Only a Positive Symptom—Not a Disease of Itself—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Campbellford, (Special) Aug. 17.—An unlooked for and remarkable recovery from advanced stage of dropsy is just made public here. It is the case of Mrs. John Weese, wife of the widely known veteran stage proprietor, whose life for months, had been despaired of. From the accumulated water peculiar to this disease she became so helpless as to be unable to drag one foot after the other. She now appears on the street and says she is as well as ever in her life. She claims that after all other means had failed she thanks Dodd's Kidney Pills for her unexpected cure.

GUARDED WITH RIFLES.

How the Owners of the Big Strike at Cedar Hollow, Montana, Look After Their Valuable Claim.

Butte, Mont., Aug. 21.—A wonderful gold strike has been made at Cedar Hollow, in the vicinity of Gaylord, on the western slope of the Tobacco Root range, in Madison County, and hundreds of prospectors are rushing to the new district. The strike is the richest ever made in the state. The surface ore, of which several carloads have been shipped, has yielded from $400 to $500 per ton, and the returns from 12 carloads closely approach $100,000. Another carload of select rock, which is about ready for shipment, is expected to net not less than $25,000. This has all been taken from the surface cut, and, as the locators have only been at work since July 1, it remains yet to be seen whether it comes from a true vein or only a deposit in the line of formation. The mine is guarded by men armed with rifles.

HAVING FOUND HEALTH HE POINTS THE WAY TO OTHERS.

His Advice Was Acted Upon by Mr. Miles Pettit, of Wellington, who, as a Result, Now Rejoices in Renewed Health and Strength.

From the Picton Times.

Mr. Miles Pettit, of Wellington, was a recent caller at the Times office. He is an old subscriber to the paper, and has for years been one of the most respected business men of Wellington. He is also possessed of considerable inventive genius and is the holder of several patents for his civil inventions. The Times was aware of Mr. Pettit's serious and long continued illness, and was delighted to see that he had been restored to health. In answer to enquiries as to how this had been brought about, Mr. Pettit promptly and emphatically replied "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did it." Being further interrogated as to whether he was willing that the facts should be made public, he cheerfully consented to give a statement for that purpose, which in substance is as follows:—He was first attacked in the fall of 1892, after assisting in digging a cellar. The first symptom was lameness in the right hip, which continued for nearly two years. It then gradually extended to the other leg and to both feet. The sensations were a numbness and pricking, which continued to get worse and worse, until he practically lost control of his feet. He could walk but a short distance before his limbs would give out, and he would be obliged to rest. He felt that if he could walk forty rods without resting he was accomplishing a great deal. He had the best of medical attendance and tried many medicines without any beneficial results. He remained in this condition for about two years when he unexpectedly got relief. One day he was in Picton and was returning to Wellington by train. Mr. John Soby, of Picton, was also a passenger on the train. Mr. Soby, it will be remembered, was one of the many who had found benefit from Pink Pills, and had given a testimonial that was published extensively. Having been benefitted by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills he has ever since been a staunch friend of the medicine, and noticing Mr. Pettit's condition made enquiry as to who he was. Having been informed, Mr. Soby tapped him on the shoulder and said, "Friend, you look a sick man." Mr. Pettit described his case, and Mr. Soby replied, "Take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I know from experience what virtue there is in them, and I am satisfied that they will cure you." Mr. Pettit had tried so many things and failed to get relief that he was somewhat skeptical, but the advice was so disinterested, and given so earnestly, that he concluded to give Pink Pills a trial. The rest is shortly summed up. He bought the Pink Pills, used them according to directions which accompany each box, and was cured. His cure he believes to be permanent for it is now fully a year since he discontinued the use of the pills. Mr. Pettit says he believes he would have become utterly helpless had it not been for this wonderful, health restoring medicine.

The experience of years has proved that there is absolutely no disease due to a vitiated condition of the blood or shattered nerves, that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will not promptly cure, and those who are suffering from such troubles would avoid much misery and save money by promptly resorting to this treatment. Get the genuine Pink Pills every time and do not be persuaded to take an imitation or some other remedy from a dealer, which, for the sake of extra profit to himself, he may say is "just as good." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make rich, red blood and cure when other medicines fail.

Sir David Macpherson Called From Earth.

THE END CAME SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Steamship Labrador Arrived at Quebec With Her Flags at Half-Mast—The News of His Death Was a Shock to His Friends at Ottawa.

Quebec, Aug. 21.—The R.M.S. Labrador, Captain MacAulay, arrived in port at 7 o'clock this evening. Her flags were at half mast. The vessel proceeded to the G.T.R. wharf at Levis. There was a busy scene on board when the correspondent of the United Press called. Away aft on the starboard side of the twin deck, in an isolated compartment, the body of the late Sir David Macpherson, K.C.M.G., was laid, all dressed, on ice. As soon as the vessel was moored to her berth the G.T.R. steamer Polaris came alongside and placed aboard a handsome metal casket. Undertaker Rickaby placed the remains of Sir David in the coffin. Mrs. Banks, daughter of deceased, Mr. William Macpherson, his son, and other friends and relatives viewed the remains and the lid was soldered fast.

Sir David left Brown's Hotel, Piccadilly, London, on Aug. 12, for Liverpool, where he joined the Labrador. His health was poor and, though he was not suffering from any particular disease, Mrs. Banks, who accompanied him on the voyage across, tried to dissuade him from starting on the journey, but Sir David was restless and wanted to return home to Canada, and he could not be convinced to stay in England. He embarked on the Labrador on the 13th and she put to sea the same day. The hon. gentleman was placed in bed, from which he never rose. He grew weaker and weaker every day. Dr. Wright and the ship's medical officer did not apprehend death so early; in fact, they hoped to reach Quebec without death taking place. Saturday night, the 15th, Sir David's condition became alarming. The pulse was faint and unsettled. Next day brought no change. On the contrary, there was every evidence of the heart giving way. Finally the end came at about 2.30 in the afternoon. Sir David Macpherson passed away quietly and without any apparent suffering.

The remains left by the 10.30 G.T.R. train for Toronto. Mr. William H. Macpherson, Mrs. Banks and Mrs. Beckett accompanying the body west.

The News at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Aug. 21.—(Special.)—Announcement of the death of Sir David Macpherson came as a great shock to his old friends in Parliament. He was returning to Canada for the purpose of taking his seat in the Senate in order to retain his membership in that body. Any member of the Senate who is absent from attendance two sessions in succession forfeits his seat, and as Sir David was not here last session it was necessary for him to come this year in order to hold the fort.

Hon. R. R. Dobell, Sir David's son-in-law, heard the news from a press representative. Mr. and Mrs. Dobell left for Quebec to-night.

Sir David's Career.

Hon. Sir David Lewis Macpherson, K.C.M.G., P.C., was the son of the late David Macpherson, Inverness-shire, Scotland, where he was born Sept. 12, 1818.

Sir David Lewis Macpherson comes of an ancient and sturdy Scottish family, and in the markedly successful career which has been his, exhibits the characteristics of his race. Our subject went to school in Scotland, and completed his education at the Inverness Royal Academy. In 1835, with the thousands of others who were at this time turning their faces toward the New World, he set sail, resolved to try his fortune in Canada. Here was a new country, large with promise, and holding out encouraging, nay, beseeching, hands to courage and enterprise. Young Macpherson was just the man for such a field. It would be difficult at this distance to lay hold of every fact which would show the mainsprings of his success, but the chief results stand out. Early in his career he took an earnest interest in public questions, and in 1854, three years before Confederation, at the solicitation of many friends, he offered himself, and was successful, for the Saugeen Division, Upper Canada. He held his seat in the old Canadian Parliament as member for Saugeen till 1867, when he was called by royal proclamation to the Senate. He had now amassed much wealth, was prominently connected with enterprises of national importance, and stood in high repute among his fellow-countrymen.

THEY ARE GIVING WAY.

Physicians Commence to Realise the Value of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Ottawa, Aug. 10.—The inveterate reluctance to admit the success of patent medicine usually evinced by physicians is rapidly giving way, so far as Dodd's Kidney Pills are concerned. The cases of Dr. Rose and Dr. McCormick, who published details of their recovery from diabetes and Bright's disease through the agency of this remedy, were the first attacks on the citadel of their skepticism and now it appears as if the remarkable recovery of Mr. G. H. Kent, of this city, the details of which have been transmitted to the press, would complete what has been so auspiciously begun. The published interviews with Mr. and Mrs. Kent and the sworn statement of the former leaves no foothold for disbelief.

A HORRIBLE AFFAIR.

Dallas Bruce Murdered and His Body, Cut Up Into Pieces, Found in Many Pickle Barrels.

Fredericksburg, Va., Aug. 21.—Dallas Bruce, a white citizen of Carolina County, living 25 miles from here, disappeared at the Confederate reunion in Richmond, July 1. He was known to have some $400 on his person. He was separated from his wife, and had been living with a colored woman in his neighborhood. Wednesday afternoon his body was found in some pickle barrels at the negro woman's house. The body had been cut to pieces and a piece put in each of several barrels and pickles put on the top, and strong brine thrown over the whole. The pieces of the body were in sufficiently good condition to be clearly identified.

WRECKAGE

From the Big Sale

In the shape of Remnants, Odd Lots and Tail Ends from every department, have been rooted out, ticketed and marked at prices to close them with a rush. It's a fitting wind-up for the biggest selling event in our history. A few days will do the business, and sharp's the word.

Remnants of Cloths.

Nothing wrong with them. The last few yards of the piece cost us just as much as the first. Going to sell them at a sacrifice though; they litter the stock. Good picking here for the Boy's Fall School Suits. Why not look ahead a bit and by so doing save a dollar? Price of each remnant in plain figures. They're all spread out on the shelves and you can make an easy selection.

Broken Lots of Men's Pants.

Good sizes and lengths among them. Some at about one-half regular prices. They'll move quick when the news gets out.

Good-by to Summer Ties.

The left-overs are going to be turned into money at short notice. The prices are absurd, but we don't want to winter them.

Men's and Boy's Suits.

Not a question of worth, but what price will sell them. It will pay you to be among the first. The pick is worth something. 300 Suits to pick from, well made and finished, the products of some of the best known makers. A lot of our own make included.

Broken Lots of Hosiery and Underwear.

Odd dozens and half-dozens, all out on the counter, and they're not going back into the shelves with our consent. Can you use them? If so, help us to get rid of them.

Summer Suits and Separate Parts.

Some made of Wool Serge, some of Cricketing Flannel, some of Silk and some of Lustre and Alpaca. Only about a dozen of each, but we want the room more than the goods.

Summer Boots & Shoes.

The Fall Styles will be about the same as these; they're all new this season. Not many shelves full, but you save just half. Not often that 50c does the work of $1.00 but we need the room.

Shirts and Collars.

They might as well go with the rest. We won't profit financially on the sales, but that makes no difference, so long as we can clean up the overplus.

Last Call on Felt and Straw Hats.

And a loud call it is. Mostly broken lots, but none the worse for that. If your size, style or kind is among them then you're in luck, for the prices are cut loose entirely from the values.

The Flower Show.

Local amateur floriculturists are much enthused over the competition amongst themselves, which will take place at the Horticultural Society's exibition in the Market Hall on Thursday, Aug. 27th. As the Government will only give a grant on the condition that nothing but flowers, fruits and vegetables are shown, the ladies are now debarred from exhibiting their fancy work henceforth. The Fire Brigade Band will be present.

Drove to Lakefield.

Friday evening, says the Lakefield News, a party of young people from Peterborough visited Mrs. John Bickle, Lakefield, at whose residence they were pleasantly entertained. The party left Peterborough in the morning, calling at Chemong for dinner, afterwards proceeding to Lakefield where they spent a few pleasant hours. The party consisted of Mrs. Thomas Allin and Miss Lillian Allin, Rochester; Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Allin, Mrs. J. C. Elliott, Miss Lena Elliott, Miss Sophia Elliott, Mrs. Rawlings, Miss Rawlings, Mrs. D. S. Harvie, Mrs. Wilcox, Master Ernest Wilson, Miss Bertha Best, Miss Annie Allin, and Miss Maud Allin, Peterborough.

Seems as if all the things we like disagree with us, and all the things we don't like, agree with us. Dyspepsia lurks in most of the good things that we eat, and indigestion follows the gratification of appetite. Of course, it isn't Nature's fault. Nature does the best she can, and if a man will only help her a little bit at the right time, he may eat what he likes and as much as he likes. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are for people who are troubled with indigestion. Particularly for those in whom it manifests itself in the form of constipation. The "Pellets" are quick and easy in their action. They are in perfect harmony with Nature. They effect a permanent cure. You need take them regularly only a little while. After that, use them occasionally when you need them—when you have eaten anything that disagrees with you. They may be taken just as freely as you would take water or any other necessity of life. Once used they are always in favour.

DROPPED DEAD.

Wm. Kerr Expires Suddenly at the C. P. R. Hotel.

William Kerr, a millwright, who has been making his home at the C.P.R. hotel here, for the last several years dropped dead in the hotel yard this morning.

The deceased was quite an old man and did odd jobs of millwrighting, dam building, etc., in the vicinity of the town. Last May he went to the hospital suffering from general debility and an affection of the heart. He left there in July and took up his residence at the hotel. He seemed to be steadily improving in health until this morning, when he complained of feeling unwell. Mr. Overend advised him not to eat any heavy food during the day, and brought him cups of milk at intervals during the morning, as he sat around the hotel. At five minutes to twelve the old man drank a cup of the milk as he sat in front of the hotel.

A few moments later Mr. Overend glanced out into the yard and saw the old man lying on the ground. He ran and picked him up, together with Messrs. Wm. Brown and Josh. Jackson, and telephoned for Dr. Clark. Just as the physician arrived Kerr expired, presumably from heart disease.

A telegram has been despatched to Mr. Thos. Kerr of Thomasburg, brother of the deceased, and he is expected to arrive in the morning to give directions for the disposal of the remains.

CHILDREN'S AID CONCERT.

The Band Furnishes a Delightful Programme.

The concert given by the Fire Brigade Band last evening in the drill shed for the benefit of the Children's Aid Society, was only fairly well patronized, but the sidewalk and Central Park were both crowded with citizens during the entire length of the concert. Just how to account for this is puzzling. The price of admission was very low and the programme rendered in a manner which left no room for adverse criticism in one particular.

The object being to assist so worthy a cause the drill shed should have been crowded, even if the programme was an inferior one, but with so excellent an attraction as the Fire Brigade Band there is no possible excuse for the residents of the town not turning out other than that they are not as yet educated up to attending promenade concerts. The Fire Brigade Band, however, is now so excellent an organization that doubtless it will soon create such a respect for itself as to prove a strong drawing card in the future.

The manner in which the entire programme was presented was of a nature to deserve the highest possible praise. The numbers were as appended :—

March—Directorate.....Sousa
Fantasia—The Broken Chain.....C Payne
Clarionet Solo—Coming Thro' the Rye, (with variations).....E S Thornton
Mr A Fisher.
Valse—Donau Wellen.....Ivanovici
Selection—Maritana.....Wallace
Cornet Solo—Polka—The Specialty.....Hazel
Valse—Lao D'Amour.....Hartman
God Save the Queen.

The clarionet solo of Mr. A. Fisher and the cornet solo of Mr. Wm. Miller, the bandmaster's son, were specially enjoyable and their excellent execution was much assisted by the splendid accompaniment furnished by the band.

BLACKGUARDISM AT JACKSON PARK.

Seats Defiled with Obscene Writings and Pictures—A Remedy Suggested.

There are some shameless wretches who are in the habit of covering the new seats in Jackson Park with obscene writing and pictures of the most filthy and repulsive character. The consequence is that this beautiful resort is in danger of being deserted by ladies and decent men. No one would care to frequent a place where numerous seats present to the eye obscene writings, or pictures base enough to shock the basest. This circumstance points to the necessity of having some custodian appointed for the park. If the foul-souled wretches who defile the seats and other places with their iniquitous scribblings, knew that they were watched, and liable to be detected, such work would cease, or become very rare. It is shameful, after the expenditure of thousands of dollars to provide one of the most attractive resorts in the country, that it should be rendered unsafe for decent people to frequent.

Another matter that needs attention is the bathing. Of course a bathing place is provided, and it is a great convenience and cannot be used too often, but it should be rigidly insisted that those who bathe should do so, not in puris naturalibus, but in proper trunks or other bathing dresses.

THE CANAL.

Work Progressing on the Lakefield Division of the Section.

Work on the village section is progressing in a favourable manner, the cut now nearly extending to Concession street.

The village is having a number of streets graded with the gravel from the canal, as it is hard to find dumping places for it, and as it is not costing the village anything except for levelling it, the citizens will be saved quite a sum.

A big embankment of earth has been made behind Mr. D. Smith's lot, which will be faced with stone, and when finished the place will be hardly recognizable. Mr. Smith is having his blacksmith shop turned around so as to face on Concession street, the job being done by Mr. J. Griffin. Mr. J. H. Davis is moving his blacksmith shop to the west end of the bridge on his vacant lot.

It is understood that the swing bridge on Concession street will be placed in position this fall so as to impede traffic as little as possible.

LICENSE COMMISSIONERS.

Licenses Transferred at a Meeting This Morning.

At a meeting of the License Commissioners this morning the license of the American Hotel, Hunter street, was transferred, on application, from Alex. O'Brien to Philip Crough.

On application the license of the City Hotel, George street, was transferred from James Dolan to William Dineen.

Out of Tooth Powder?

Then get the best. The best is Ivorine. "Best" because it whitens the teeth and does not destroy the enamel. Good as the best in fragrance, cleansing and polishing properties. Better than most, as it contains no acids to destroy. Better than all because pleasant, fragrant, cleansing and whitening, all the good qualities combined. Ivorine for the teeth alone can claim to be the best.

FIRE'S AWFUL WORK.

FOUR PERISH IN THE FLAMES OF A BURNING COTTAGE.

A Most Lamentable Tragedy at Huntsville Last Night.

A terrible fatality occurred at Huntsville last night, whereby a mother, her daughter and two grandchildren perished in the flames of a house at which they were staying, belonging to Mrs. Quaife.

It appears that the two women escaped from the burning building, but re-entered it to save the children, when all four lost their lives. A special despatch to THE EXAMINER from Huntsville says :

HUNTSVILLE, Aug. 22.—The dwelling of Mrs. Quaife, a widow, was burned late last night and Mrs. Bernard Phillips, daughter of Mrs. Quaife, Mrs. S. Quaife, her daughter-in-law, and the latter's two children perished in the flames. Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Quaife lost their lives in attempting to save the children. Jessie Phillips, daughter of Mrs. Phillips, was burned so badly that her life is in danger.

A PLEASANT TRIP.

Sun Life Insurance Company Agents at Bobcaygeon.

The following gentlemen connected with the Sun Life Insurance Company arrived in town last evening after having spent several days fishing at Bobcaygeon :

Messrs. T. B. Macauley, secretary; G. F. Johnston, superintendent of agencies; J. Macdonald Oxley, editor of Sunshine and Montreal agent; H. P. Evans, manager of the Thrift department, all of Montreal; J. C. Tory, manager of the State of Michigan; J. H. Porteous, West Indies; R. L. Chevrier, manager French department of Eastern Ontario; J. Reid, manager for Eastern Ontario; N. F. Ingersoll, general agent for the counties of Carleton, Ottawa and Pontiac; Wm. Grant, city agent, Ottawa; J. Marshall Henderson, general agent for Lanark and Renfrew; Wm. Martin, special agent for Algoma and Nipissing; W. T. McIntyre, manager, Toronto; F. J. Cope, cashier, Toronto; Thos. R. Raitt, manager Thrift department, Toronto; H. A. White, manager Hamilton agency; W. C. Niles, Thrift department, Hamilton; E. W. Hendershott, manager maritime provinces, St. John, N.B.; A. S. McGregor, manager Western Ontario; Hugh J. McDonald, general agent, Ridgetown; W. H. Hill, manager Central Ontario; W. E. Rankin, general agent, Northumberland county; Jas. A. Gilliogly, general agent, Victoria and Ontario; W. Thompson, general agent, Peterborough; W. W. Daly, special agent, Central Ontario district; G. M. Roger, Company's solicitor, Peterborough; James Little, general agent, Belleville; Rev. R. B. Denike, general agent, Campbellford, and Rev. John S. Clarke, general agent, Whitby.

The party arrived in Bobcaygeon Wednesday last and made a pleasant trip around the lakes during the day on the steamer Undine. On Thursday the steamer Maple Leaf took the party to Chemong in the morning, returning in time for dinner. On Friday they went on the Golden City through the lakes to Lakefield, taking dinner at Buckhorn and supper at the Oriental Hotel, Peterborough.

The trip throughout proved most enjoyable, and, as many of the party had never had any experience with the maskinonge, their pleasure was great when a large number were landed.

FIELD COMMISSIONER EVA BOOTH COMING.

She will Visit Peterborough on Monday, Aug. 31st.

Field Commissioner Eva Booth, daughter of General Booth, will visit Peterborough on Monday, Aug. 31st, and conduct a service in the S. A. barracks. Miss Booth has had a wide experience in Salvation Army warfare. She is universally

Mark the Difference

Between Diamond Dyes and Imitations.

To the thrifty and economical housewife Diamond Dyes offer advantages and results that no other dyes can guarantee.

The Diamond Dyes that all chemical experts pronounce to be purest and best, possess more than double the dying strength of all other dyes. The colours are made to endure in spite of soap, rain or sun.

Diamond Dye colours are brilliant and bright; imitation dyes give dull and blotched colours. Diamond Dyes are prepared scientifically; imitation dyes are prepared and mixed without regard to the user's interests; the fact is, they are made to deceive and swindle the unsuspecting.

If you would dye well, easily and successfully, you must use the "Diamond." Tell your dealer plainly that you have no use for miserable imitation dyes.

To Tired Ladies.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER DROWNED.

Deer River the Scene of an Awful Fatality.

Campbellford Herald.

A very sad accident is just reported from Chandos township, only the bare particulars of which we have learned at the time of writing. On Sunday last Mrs. Hubble and her daughters went to Deer river to bathe, and while there one of the girls amused herself "teetering on a board that extended over the water. Very soon she fell into the river and her mother jumped in to save her. Another daughter then went to the mother's rescue and succeeded in clutching her arm around her neck, but as the story goes, Mrs. Hubble pushed her daughter from her, said "Good bye," and sank to rise no more in this life. The little girl who first fell in was also drowned. The deceased woman is a daughter of Mr. Rinard Post, of Oak Lake settlement, and a large circle of friends are now stricken with sorrow over the very sad occurrence. The bodies of mother and daughter were recovered in about twenty feet of water on Sunday evening.

TWO RIBS BROKEN.

Mr. Bat. Leahy, of Lakefield, Thrown Out of a Rig.

The other evening while Mr. Bat. Leahy, of Lakefield, was speeding his horse in the village he met with an accident which will lay him up for some time. When near Cooper's livery his horse became unmanageable, and on turning the corner opposite the English church he was thrown out of the rig, the horse running around the block into Leahy's hotel shed. Leahy was picked up and a doctor summoned, and on examination he was found to have two ribs broken and also badly bruised. The buggy was a complete wreck.

Mr. Natanael Mortonson, a well-known citizen of Ishpeming, Mich., and editor Superior Posten, who, for a long time, suffered from the most excruciating pains of rheumatism, was cured eight years ago, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla having never felt a twinge of it since.

POLICE COURT.

Mr. Adam Hall, J.P., occupied the bench at the Police Court this morning.

John Daynard charged Charles Pogue with assault, and Pogue laid a counter charge. Both charges were withdrawn, Pogue paying the costs.

Henry Hopper, drunk and disorderly was fined $2 00.

Ernest Boncost and Daniel Shanahan were fined two dollars each for being disorderly.

The case of William Godfrey, charged with the larceny of a pigeon from Sergt.-Major Peters, was enlarged.

An Age of Substitution.

Keenness of competition is the characteristic of the age. Not in old channels of routine is trade permitted to flow, but in channels newly hewn out of the solid rock of opposition by brains and energy. Good, in its way, is this. If, however, it give rise to dishonest methods, then an evil does it certainly become. An eminent physician had occasion recently to prescribe that well-known nutrient and tonic, Maltine with Coca Wine. His patient, an active public man, had gone all to pieces; nerves unstrung, sleepless, appetite and digestion sadly impaired—almost a total wreck. By unfailing experience the doctor knew it to be the right thing. Well, the patient made no progress, and investigation established the fact that the druggist had substituted another preparation—"just as good" of course—to secure slightly increased profit. The doctor soon saw that his patient secured the genuine Maltine with Coca Wine, with the expected result, for his patient improved from the start.

Moral:—Get Maltine with Coca Wine when you ask for it and don't be imposed upon. Sold by all druggists.

Mr. Cartwright's Yacht Found.

The Belleville Intelligencer says:—"The police has been informed of the whereabouts of Mr. Anson Cartwright's yacht Curlew. It appears a young Albert College student named Manchester, whose home is in Ottawa, took the boat from her moorings at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning. He engaged a boy named John Flagler, who is a call boy at the G.T.R. station, to run the engine. They went down the bay as far as Camp Meeting Cove, where they struck a bar. After getting clear they proceeded to Deseronto and thence up the Napanee river to Napanee, where the boat was tied up. Flagler came home Wednesday morning, but said nothing about the matter till he saw the account of the boat being stolen in last evening's papers. Manchester told Flagler that he had bought the yacht and wanted to take her to Ottawa. It is supposed Manchester has gone home. Mrs. Cartwright sent a man after the boat to-day.

Mr. Hamilton has just placed an order with the William Hamilton Manufactoring Company, for the completion of an entirely new modern sawmill upon the site of the one destroyed by fire last May. Mr. Hamilton will superintend the erection of the mill, which will be first-class in every respect. A modern sawmill costs about $40,000, with a capacity of 80,000 feet per day of ten hours. The Imperial Lumber Company has a good reliable man in Mr. Hamilton, and one who is always to be depended upon. The lumber manufactured will be chiefly for the British markets.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—All fishing tackle and rods, and hammocks, selling at cost at SAILSBURY'S.

—A children's service will be held in St. John's church to morrow afternoon at 3.15.

—The Rev. Carl S. Smith will officiate at the service in Chemong Park to-morrow at 4 p.m.

—The Children's Aid Society acknowledge the receipt of a dollar from a "Friend."

—The attention of the Street Inspector is called to the dangerous condition of the sidewalk on Bethune street, between Dalhousie and Sherbrooke streets.

—Much dissatisfaction exists among our fishermen, on account of the government not putting in fish ways in the new dams to be built on the canal between here and Lakefield.

—Mr. Jimmie Blaine, who has been looking after the Carman House bar in Belleville, was in town to day. Jimmie is about to make a change, and go to the Gibson House in the same city.

—The rule as to sobriety is being very strictly enforced on the G.T.R. at present. The rule has been practically obsolete for some time, but the new management have revived it and are enforcing it very strictly. The men will not be allowed on their trains if the slightest sign of liquor is to be found on their persons.

—Messrs. J. J. Turner & Son have just received an order for fifty nose bags for feeding horses. This firm has also shipped four awnings and one fancy striped tent to-day. They have also sent a large Dominion ensign to Fredericton, N.B., this being the second flag sent to that city within the week, a fact which speaks loudly for the excellence of their work.

KILLED A BEAR.

It Almost Swamps a Canoe Before Dying

Mr. Philip Westlake, his two daughters, Mr. John Westlake and Mr. James Tindle, all of Smith, have just returned from a berry picking trip into the wilds of Cavendish.

On Wendesday evening whilst paddling through the Narrows, between Gold Lake and Gull Lake, Philip and John Westlake had the good luck to kill a fine bear. It was about ten o'clock at night and the men were returning to camp when they heard the bear crashing through the bushes and saw it take to the water to swim across. They immediately gave chase and, when close enough, Philip put a shot from his rifle behind Bruin's shoulder. The bear immediately commenced to thrash around in the water, being evidently badly wounded. The canoe approached too close whilst Philip was trying to get another shot, and the bear made a desperate effort to clutch it, almost swamping the frail craft. The rifle had to be dropped and the paddles used in a hurry to get clear of the enraged brute. Having retired to a safer distance, a couple of more shots were put into the bear, killing it. The skin is an exceptionally fine one.

LAST NIGHT'S BAND CONCERT.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I suppose you will have in your columns a report of the band concert in aid of the funds of the Children's Aid Society. You can only say that the programme presented was a delightful one—too good to be directed chiefly to the walls and rafters of the building. I wish to call attention to the wretchedly small attendance, considering the noble objects of the society. In all there were only about 75 persons present. This is simply shameful and a grave reflection upon the musical taste and charitable impulses of the citizens. It also shows the basest ingratitude. We have had the band year after year playing gratis in the public parks and also playing free at garden parties for the help of every church in town, which represents, collectively, the whole of our citizens. And yet, when the band asks the public co-operation in adding to the funds of a noble society, we find only a scanty three score and ten willing to aid their efforts. I am loth to say that the meanness implied in the parsimonious regard of the 10 and 15 cents admissions was the cause; yet I venture to assert if that same splendid programme were presented in one of the parks to-night free of charge thousands would throng the place. It may be argued that the reaction after the Civic Holiday, and the absence of many persons on their holidays, were one cause of the small attendance. But there were enough left in town who did not bow the knee to the Civic Holiday to have packed the drill shed in so good a cause.

The result is a reproach to Peterborough and I, for one, as an old resident, am heartily ashamed of the town on this account. Can it be that the ministrations of seven churches has resulted in the fostering of a spirit that selfishly confines its religious operations to the salvation of the possessor's own soul, regardless of the welfare of others? If so, Heaven help such narrow guage Christianity!

Your sincerely,
ALTRUIST.

Aug. 22, 1896.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—The Board of Management of the Children's Aid Society would like, through the medium of your paper, to acknowledge the kindness of the Fire Brigade band in giving a complimentary concert for the benefit of the society. There is an additional pleasure in having this opportunity of testifying to the unselfishness and public spirit of this excellent musical organization.

Yours truly,
SECRETARY C. A. SOCIETY.

LACROSSE.

The Peterborough Juniors will go to Madoc for a game on Monday, Aug. 31st. The proposed week's trip has been abandoned.

The Peterboroughs have returned from Ottawa, where they were defeated by the Young Capitals by the big score of 12 goals to 1. The first goal was taken by the Peterboroughs, and for the first two or three games the match was most exciting, and the local boys put up a fine article of lacrosse. A heavy downpour of rain, however, was the undoing of the Peterboroughs, as their opponents used corked shoes in defiance of all rules of lacrosse, and whilst the Peterboroughs were slipping around the field the Young Caps. were perfectly sure of their footing, making a sufficient difference to run up the aforementioned big score. The Young Caps. played four senior men, viz.: Griffith, Westwick, Murphy and another.

THE WHEEL.

Lindsay is putting on a bicycle meet for next week, and a number of local men will go over to compete.

HORSE AND TRACK.

The mare Daisy Wilson, which paced in 2 20¼ at Newburg, Ohio, and won two races, is only 13 hands 1 inch high.

Amos R., 2 11¾, pacer, is but 14 hands high.

Dan T., 2 07½, the latest pacing sensation, wears tight bobbles.

The average speed at the Columbus meeting broke the record. The 36 heats trotted ranged from 2 06½ to 2.18½ and averaged 2.12 3/5. The 33 heats paced ranged from 2.01½ to 2 25½, and averaged 2 09 3/5.

John R. Gentry, 2 03¼, worked a mile on Buffalo track on Friday in 2 03. The track record is 2.04½.

Joe Patchen has been a half in 57 seconds.

The 2.10 list has received over 16 additions so far this year.

The pacer St. John, which won races during July at Napanee, Kingston and other places, is believed to be a ringer and his identity is being looked after.

The grand circuit meeting at Fort Wayne closed on Saturday. Lottie Loraine won the 2 05 pace after losing the first heat to Colbert. The second heat was paced in 2 08¼, and all the others were under 2 10. Lilly Young captured the 2.17 trot in straight heats, 2.12½ being the fastest. Miss Finley in the 2 25 pace and Harry C. in the 2 30 trot were the other winners.

A card on the outside of office door says: "Gone to lunch. Be back in ten minutes." And, the man will be there on time. That is, for some days, weeks or even months, he will. Then he will be at home occasionally for a day. He'll tell you he had a headache—a turn of cholera morbus, or maybe he'll say he had a lump in his stomach and felt too miserable to move. The lump was probably two or three ten-minute lunches condensed. They were hurried in, but they were taking their own time about getting out, or even "moving on." This is a great mistake, but as long as there's life there's a chance to rectify mistakes.

The man who "bolts" his lunches will find Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the best friend he ever met. The "Pellets" may not hurry as much as the man does, but they will do the work for which they are intended—surely—promptly—effectually.

There is no case of biliousness, constipation, indigestion, "heart-burn," or any of the rest of the night-mare breeding brood, that these little "Pellets" will not cure.

They are not disagreeable to take, neither are the effects disagreeable. They are gentle laxatives. They cure permanently. There's no danger of forming a "Pellet habit." Therefore, you don't become a slave to their use.

Send 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of customs and mailing only, and receive absolutely gratis, Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, and find out how to keep yourself and family healthy. The book contains 1008 pages, over 300 illustrations and over 680,000 copies have been sold at $1.50 each. The new edition of 500,000 copies is to be given away absolutely free. It is a veritable medical library, complete in one volume. Address, with stamps, World's Dispensary Medical Association, No. 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE REALM OF SPORT

Great Meeting of Wheelmen at Chatham.

A NEW TWENTY-FIVE MILE RECORD

Harley Davidson, McLeod, McCarthy and Other Professionals Were in Evidence — Canada and Vencedor are Being Prepared - Events on the Turf.

Chatham, Aug. 20.—The second annual meet of the Chatham Cycle Club was held here to-day and was by consent of all who have followed the Western Ontario circuit the best of the series. With one exception all the fast men of Ontario and several from the United States were here, and every event was a battle from tape to tape. The event of the day was the race for the 25-mile professional championship of Canada. Harley Davidson captured the prize, followed by about a foot by Chris Greatrix of Toronto, Alf. Young of Toronto being a good third. A new record was established, the race being done in 1.01.46. This announcement was greeted with tremendous applause. The results of the other events were as follows:

One mile novice, amateur—C. E. Reid, London, 1; J. W. Hutchins, Toronto, 2; Ray McKenzie, Leamington, 3; C. T. Lamson, Detroit, 4. Time 2.35 4-5.

Quarter-mile heats, best 2 in 3, professional—First heat—Angus McLeod, Brantford, 1; T. B. McCarthy, Toronto, 2; H. W. Hall, Detroit, 3. Time 32 2-5.

Second heat—Angus McLeod 1, T. B. McCarthy 2, Cecil Elliott, Toronto, 3.

Half-mile, open, amateur—First heat—F. A. Moore, Toronto, 1; F. A. Joseph, Detroit, 2; John Davidson, Toronto, 3; J. Schaffer, Detroit, 4. Time 1.06 3-5.

Second heat—Oscar Wanderer, Detroit, 1; R. E. Axton, Brantford, 2; E. H. Broadwell, Detroit, 3; F. J. Graves, Toronto, 4. Time 1.06.

Final—F. A. Moore 1, F. A. Joseph 2, O. Wanderer 3, R. E. Axton 4. Time 1.10.

One mile, Chatham Club riders only—W. A. Crowe 1, F. H. Scott 2.

Half-mile, open, professional—First heat—T. B. McCarthy, Toronto, 1; J. H. Wills, Toronto, 2; Chris Greatrix, Toronto, 3; Angus McLeod, Brantford, 4. Time 1.00 3-5.

Second heat—R. E. McColl, Toronto, 1; Fred Westbrook, Brantford, 2; Ray Gordon, Toronto, 3; J. F. Emperon, Detroit, 4. Time 1.07 1-5.

Final—T. B. McCarthy 1, Angus McLeod 2, R. E. McColl 3. Time 1.03 2-5.

Two-mile handicap, amateurs—J. W. Hutchins, Toronto (250 yards), 1; Oscar Wanderer, Detroit (75 yards), 2; R. E. Axton, Brantford (scratch), 3; F. J. Graves, Toronto (50 yards), 4. Time 4.42.

Two-mile handicap, professional—R. E. McColl (125 yards), 1; J. F. Emperon (100 yards), 2; J. H. Grets, Toronto (125 yards), 3. Time 4.39 2-5.

Two-mile tandem race, amateur—R. E. Axton and F. A. Joseph 2, O. Wanderer 3. Time 5.23¾.

That evening the club held a promenade concert in the Drill Hall.

CANADA AND VENCEDOR.

Toledo, Aug. 20.—(Special.)—The Canada arrived here from Put-in-Bay late on Wednesday, and was hauled out on the Shantz Marine Railway early yesterday morning. The Vencedor is docked at Craig's dry dock on the opposite side of the river.

The Canada has much the fairer lines of the two, but the Vencedor shows great power in heavy weather and should prove a flyer. It is the general opinion, however, that in moderate or light winds the Dominion's representative will prove the speedier boat; even in heavy weather the Canada should have a good chance.

It has been figured out that Vencedor caught to win easily because she defeated Vreda by 27 minutes in Cleveland, and Canada has never beaten Zelma by more than 5 minutes, while the latter usually sails on pretty even terms with Vreda. The weak point of this chain of reasoning is that the course in Cleveland was 21 miles, while the 5-minute defeat which Canada administered to Zelma was over a 6-mile course. Added to this Zelma can defeat Vreda, and the latter met with a series of mishaps in the Cleveland race which practically cut off ten or fifteen minutes from Vencedor's winning margin of time.

SUE KITTIE AT DETROIT.

A Second for Rosamar and Third Place for Kapanga Colt.

Detroit, Aug. 20.—The layers of odds had matters pretty much their own way at Grosse Point to-day, but two favorites winning. The talent got badly dazzled in the second race, when Scarf Pin, who was heavily played and backed down to .15 to 20, failed to show. Brown Girl, who was backed down from 30 to 1 to 15 to 1, won easily. Summaries:

First race, 6 furlongs—Canfield, 8 to 5, 1; Brandoe, 30 to 1, 2; Sobriquet, 20 to 1, 3. Time 1.15¾.

Second race, 5½ furlongs—Brown Girl, 15 to 1, 1; Katie W., 15 to 1, 2; Evaline, 4 to 1, 3. Time 1.08¾.

Third race, 1 mile—Sue Kittie, 8 to 5, 1; Rosamar, 3 to 1, 2; Heredah, 5 to 1, 3. Time 1.42.

Fourth race, Hotel Cadillac Handicap, 1 1-16 miles—Moylan, 7 to 2, 1; Lokl, 11 to 5, 2; Ramiro, 3 to 5, 3. Time 1.48¾.

Fifth race, 5 furlongs—Arlington, 10 to 1, 1; Rohair, 4 to 1, 2; John Carr, 15 to 1, 3. Time 1.02⅝.

Sixth race, 6 furlongs—Mohaleska, 4 to 1, 1; Irish Lady, 5 to 1, 2; Kapanga colt, 50 to 1, 3. Time 1.15.

NEW HAMBURG SPLIT HEATS.

New Hamburg, Ont., Aug. 20.—The second and final day of the New Hamburg Turf Club's fall meeting was a great success. The attendance was double that of yesterday. The weather was almost perfect. The free-for-all was not finished on account of darkness. It will be completed to-morrow afternoon. Summary.

THE DOCTORS AT CRICKET AGAIN.

The return game between the married and single physicians was played at Rosedale, 13 a side. Two weeks ago the married men won, but on this occasion result was decidedly in favor of the bachelors. Winning the toss, the bachelors took the bat, but under the effective bowling of Creasor things looked rather blue, until Goldsmith was joined by MacCallum, when a stand was made and the score was rapidly run up to 133 from 50. With 63 and 33 respectively to their credit and an hour and a half to play, the innings was declared closed. At this stage, through the kindness of Doctors E. E. King and W. A. Young, both of whom brought their cameras, the players were photographed. Successful as were MacCallum and Goldsmith at the bat, they were even more so with the ball, and when time was called ten benedicts were disposed of for 54 runs. The last game of the series will take place in two weeks, when the supremacy of bachelors or benedicts will be declared.

PARALYSIS CURED---SWORN STATEMENT.

Mrs. Maggie McMartin, 27 Radenhurst St., Toronto, Ont., swears that Ryckman's "Kootenay Cure" cured her of Paralysis which rendered one side of her body entirely useless. Physicians said there was no chance of her ever recovering the use of her limbs. Hope deserted her, but today she is walking around telling her friends how Ryckman's "Kootenay Cure" save her life and happiness. Sworn to July 10, 1896, before J. W. Seymour Corley, Notary Public.

THE FRAM IS SAFE.

Dr. Nansen's Exploring Steamer Arrives at Skjervoe - His Joyful Telegram.

Christiania, Norway, Aug. 20.—Doctor Nansen's Arctic exploring steamer Fram has arrived safely at Skjervoe, a fishing post on the bay near the North Cape. A despatch from Skjervoe to The Aftenposten says that on Aug. 14 the Fram called at Dant's Island, where a visit was made to M. Andree, the Swedish explorer, whose intention it is to attempt to find the North Pole by means of a balloon. M. Andree had not yet made his ascension. The Fram sailed from Skjervoe for Tromsoe to-day. All on board were well.

Shortly after receiving the news of the arrival of the Fram at Skjervoe and her intention to sail from that place at once for Tromsoe, Dr. Nansen started for the latter place to meet her. Before leaving Hammerfest, Nansen wired Captain Sverdrup, the commander of the Fram, as follows: "A thousand welcomes to you all. Hurrah for the Fram!"

What you want when you are ailing is a medicine that will cure you. Try Hood's Sarsaparilla and be convinced of its merit.

TURNING GRAY
AND THREATENED
WITH BALDNESS

The Danger is Averted by Using

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only an occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good, natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—Mrs. H. M. HAIGHT, Avoca, Neb.

DEATH OF WILLIAM BROWN.

Assistant General Freight Agent of the C.P.R. Dies at Portland, Ore.

Vancouver, BC., Aug. 20.—A message received from Portland, Oregon, announces the death of William Brown, assistant general freight agent of the C.P.R., and Canadian agent of the Canadian-Australian line. Mr. Brown went to Portland a fortnight ago on a business trip and was taken ill with dysentery, from which he died. The deceased was a well-known railway man, having worked his way up from the position of agent at a small eastern Canadian station. Before coming here he was connected with the Denver & Rio Grande. His brother, Mr. D. E. Brown, is general agent of the C.P.R. at Hong Kong.

Only Seven Have Been Killed.

Key West, Fla., Aug. 20.—Among the passengers on the Mascotte last night was Arthuro Elvarez, member of the the last expedition of the Three Friends. He reports that only seven members of the expedition have been killed to date, and five made prisoners. The others, numbering about 40, with all the ammunition, are with Gen. Aguierre near Havana.

A Recount Not Needed.

Wins in Every Contest—This is the Record of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart—Mrs. W. T. Rundle, of Dundalk, Ont., Cured in One Day—Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder the Only Remedy to do Sylvester Lawrence of Wyndham Centre, Ont., Any Good—Dr. Agnew's Ointment a Certain Cure for Piles—Dr. Agnew's Liver Pills Cure Constipation and Headache.

Continued experiments are needed to test the certainty of some things, but this has no application in the case of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart. No matter how severe the pain, it will immediately relieve. Relief comes within one half hour. The disease may be of years' standing, this specific will remove it. Mrs. W. T. Rundle, wife of a well known cattle dealer in Dundalk, suffered severely for a considerable time from heart disease. As she says: "I was for some time unable to attend to my household duties. No remedies did me any good. I was induced to try Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart, and I must say the result was wonderful. he pain left me after the first day and I have had no trouble since."

Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder is recommanded by all classes of people. The leading clergymen of the country, over their own signatures, have borne testimony to its effectiveness. Nearly 100 members of the late House of Commons have done the same service. It has cured the worst cases of deafness, an outcome of catarrh. Sylvester Lawrence of Wyndham Centre, Ont., says that this remedy is the only thing that he can use with ease and comfort. His words are:—"It is the best remedy I have ever tried and I have used a good many."

The very best thing that can be said of Dr. Agnew's Ointment is that in the case of piles it will cure in from three to six nights. It is a certain cure for tetter, salt rheum and all eruptions of the skin.

Simple and yet most effective are the Little Liver Pills of Dr. Agnew. They are easy to take and cure sick headache, constipation, biliousness and indigestion as by magic. 10 cents a vial—40 doses.

HOW TO GROW WHEAT

An Interesting Bulletin Issued From the O. A. C.

TESTS MADE BY MR. C. A. ZAVITZ.

The Record of Experiments Made During the Past Seven Years With Many Varieties of Winter Wheat—Yield of Wheat and Straw—A Study for Farmers.

Toronto, Aug. 20.

Bulletin 103, just issued by the Ontario Agricultural College, give experiments made by C. A. Zavitz, B.S.A., in winter wheat:

One hundred and thirty-three varieties of winter wheat have been tested at the Ontario Agricultural College within the last seven years. Of this number fifty-three varieties have been grown for five years, and the remainder have been tested from one to four years. Besides testing the varieties there have been experiments conducted in different dates of seeding, methods of seeding, selection of grain for seed, quantities of seed per acre, application of fertilizers, sowing of spring grain to act as a mulch for winter wheat, the yield and quality of wheat cut at different stages of maturity, and the value of seed from wheat cut at different stages of maturity.

The field in which the grain was sown in 1896 is a good average clay loam, quite uniform in character, and has a very gentle slope towards the southwest. No manure nor commercial fertilizers had been applied to the land since the spring of 1885, when twenty tons per acre of farmyard manure was used. The land produced a crop of corn in 1893, a crop of grain in 1894, and a crop for green manuring in 1895, which was plowed under in July of that year. No other plowing was done, but the land was well cultivated up to the first of September. The plots were made of uniform size for the different experiments, each containing one one-hundredth of an acre.

The seeding for all the experiments took place in the month of September. The germination was quite satisfactory throughout, and the growth of the wheats in the autumn was good. On examination of the crop in the following April, it was found that many of the varieties showed but little signs of winter killing, while others had been considerably frozen out, thus affording ample data for a comparison of the different plots in respect to hardiness.

Eighty-one varieties of winter wheat have been under test this season. The plots were situated side by side, the soil being quite uniform throughout. They were separated from each other by paths three feet wide. All the plots were sown by hand, at the rate of two bushels per acre, on September 4, with the exception of eight varieties, which were sown on small-sized plots about ten days later, and which are not included in the tabulated results. The varieties ripened between the 10th and the 18th of July, which was about six days earlier than in 1895. The trouble from smut this season was very slight. The yields per acre have been calculated from the actual yields of the plots.

The following table gives the average yields for seven years past:

Year.	Average weight of grain per measured bushel. Lbs.	Average yield of Straw per acre. Tons.	Average yield of Grain per acre. Bush.
1890.....	60.0	2.4	30.9
1891.....	63.3	2.0	52.9
1892.....	60.5	3.2	42.6
1893.....	58.4	4.1	20.9
1894.....	60.8	4.0	40.7
1895.....	60.4	1.2	29.1
1896.....	60.5	2.0	42.1

After detailing the various experiments, the bulletin sums up as follows:

1—The average results of winter wheat growing on the experimental plots for seven years in succession are as follows: Weight of grain per measured bushel, 60.5 pounds; yield of straw per acre, 2.5 tons; and yield of grain per acre, 38.7 bushels.

2—Dawson's Golden Chaff has given the largest average yield of grain per acre among fifty-three varieties of winter wheat grown at the Ontario Agricultural College for five years; also among eleven leading varieties tested over Ontario in 1893, nine varieties in 1894 and nine varieties in 1895.

3—The Early Genesee Giant has given the largest average yield of grain per acre among twenty-eight new varieties which were tested for the first time in 1894, and have now been tested for three years in succession. This variety also stood second in average yield per acre among nine leading varieties of winter wheat tested over Ontario in 1894, and nine leading varieties tested over Ontario in 1895.

4—The Early Genesee Giant, Giant Square Head and Queen Meg varieties of winter wheat, which head the lists in average yield per acre among the varieties grown for three years, for two years and for one year, respectively, are very similar in all characteristics.

5—Among eighty-one varieties of winter wheat tested in 1896, the Dawson's Golden Chaff, American Bronze, New Columbia, Early Genesee Giant, Giant Square Head and Queen Meg produced the stiffest straw.

6—In the average of four years' experiments in seeding winter wheat on different dates, it is found that when the wheat was sown later than September 9th, the crop was much poorer than when the seeding took place on or before that date.

7—In the average results from growing winter wheat for seven years in succession, it is observed that the white grained varieties have given the largest yields per acre in those seasons when there was but little rust, and the red grained varieties in those seasons in which the rust was abundant.

8—The varieties which have given the best average results in the experiments at the College are the varieties which have also given the best satisfaction throughout Ontario.

Care of Horses in Summer.

The basement barn ought never to be used to keep horses in in summer. It is a cool place, but it is made so by being kept too dark and by a lack of ventilation. The odor from the urine is constantly rising from their evacuations, and as this contains much ammonia, it is doubly injurious, first to the health, and secondly to the eyesight. Many horses have been blinded by being kept in dark stables, with perhaps a light shining from a small window over the horse's head.

The Yard.

The present legal yard was instituted in England in 1758.

Summer Comes

With the flowers and sunshine. Birds pour out their melody and the chirp of the grasshopper will soon tempt the fisherman to stretch forth his hands and grasp the shadow of his flight. The playful mosquito will do her nicest to soothe weary pleasure seekers into the realms of slumber, and the singing, aching corns will remove every semblance of comfort, make sad the songs of the birds, evoke cloudiness in the soul, that even the brightest sunshine can not dispel. Corns are thorns in the flesh, but Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor removes them in twenty-four hours. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor is the best.

That Eclipse of the Sun.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 20.—The St. Petersburg astronomical expedition, which was sent to Torneo, Finland, to observe the recent total eclipse of the sun, has been very successful. Members of the expedition have telegraphed here that they were enabled to get ten excellent photographs of the corona.

London, Aug. 20.—A despatch to The Daily Mail from Paris says that it is stated that the will of ex-Empress Eugenie drawn recently favors her namesake, Eugenie, the daughter of the late Prince Henry of Battenberg and Princess Beatrice.

Is Dr. Gallagher Insane?

London, Aug. 19.—Officials at the United States Embassy to-day said they had not been informed when Dr. Gallagher, the Irish political prisoner, would be released. The Parnellites claim that he has lost his reason, but the Home Office declines to state whether he is insane or not. The Home Office informed the Embassy that, while Dr. Gallagher is in bad health, he is able to be removed.

Wood's Phosphodine.—The Great English Remedy.

Is the result of over 25 years treating thousands of cases with all known drugs, until at last we have discovered the true remedy and treatment—a combination that will effect a prompt and permanent cure in all stages of Sexual Debility, Abuse or Excesses, Nervous Weakness, Emissions, Mental Worry, Excessive Use of Opium, Tobacco, or Alcoholic Stimulants, all of which soon lead to Insanity, Consumption and an early grave. Wood's Phosphodine has been used successfully by hundreds of cases that seemed almost hopeless—cases that had been treated by the most talented physicians—cases that were on the verge of despair and insanity—cases that were tottering over the grave—but with the continued and persevering use of Wood's Phosphodine, these cases that had been given up to die, were restored to manly vigor and health—Reader you need not despair—no matter who has given you up as incurable—the remedy is now within your reach, by its use you can be restored to a life of usefulness and happiness.

Price, one package, $1; six packages, $5; by mail free of postage.

One will please, six guaranteed to cure. Pamphlet free to any address.

scrofula

Any doctor will tell you that Professor Hare, of Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, is one of the highest authorities in the world on the action of drugs. In his last work, speaking of the treatment of scrofula, he says:

"It is hardly necessary to state that cod-liver oil is the best remedy of all. The oil should be given in emulsion, so prepared as to be palatable."

He also says that the hypophosphites should be combined with the oil.

Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil, with hypophosphites, is precisely such a preparation.

FAST ATLANTIC SERVICE.

It would appear that the scheme for the establishment of a line of twenty-knot steamers between Great Britain and Canada has become a question for practical consideration. Tenders were received on the 10th of June in accordance with the advertised conditions, and it is understood that the offer submitted by the Messrs. Allan of the Allan Line was the most favourable. The Allan line has been widely and favourably known in the Canadian trade for very many years. With the experience and reputation so gained, and having already the whole of the necessary organization, including the services of an excellent staff of officers who are especially familiar with the St. Lawrence navigation, it must be recognized that the Allan Line would undertake this enterprise with advantages which would be possessed by no stranger to the trade.

Will it pay us to grant the subsidy? In the first place it is argued that the new line will bring Canada a great deal nearer to Great Britain. By the existing lines eight days is considered to be a good passage from Quebec to Liverpool. For a 20 knot steamer this distance represents only 133 hours' steaming, giving a saving of 59 hours or over 30 per cent. In winter the voyage from Liverpool to Halifax would be completed in 120 hours at this speed. Such high speed, in conjunction with the advantage of the shorter route, will enable the Canadian steamers to easily surpass the fastest passages of any New York steamers. Liverpool to New York at twenty knots represents 150 hours, allowing for the delay which always takes place at Queenstown. The superiority of the Canadian route will thus amount to at least a whole day in summer and more than a day and a half in winter from port to port. If in respect of accommodation for all classes of passengers the new steamers are fully equal to those of the New York lines, a very large passenger traffic will be attracted to the Canadian route. Not only Canadian passengers but those going from Chicago and the Western States, as well as all travellers to and from China, Japan and Australia, will find this route the fastest and most attractive.

Now at this point it will be asked, and the question is a perfectly fair one. Will the mass of the people who pay the taxes be benefitted in pocket by the large expenditure which they will be called upon to make? To this it is answered that attention will be drawn to Canada. The attractions which she offers to all classes of tourists and sportsmen will be more fully appreciated than hitherto, and European travellers in search of rest and sport will find in Canada fresh and inexhaustible opportunities far superior to those of Switzerland or Norway. It is argued that the beneficial influence of such a stream of traffic will be felt by every branch of Canadian trade, and the money thus spent in the country will repay Canada for her expenditure in subsidies. It is argued also that immigrants, as well as cabin passengers, will be attracted in largely increased numbers, that a long ocean passage is a serious deterrent to emigration, and that the fast line will go far to remove this obstacle.

While there is some force in these arguments, we confess that we do not regard them as sufficient to warrant so large an expenditure of money unless ample provision be made for the carriage of freight. We think there is a great deal in the contention of the Patrons that improved freight facilities are of more importance than improved service for passengers and mails. On this point the assurance is given that the fast steamers would be fitted with large refrigerators, which will enable shippers of Canadian butter and eggs, fruit, cheese and dressed meat, and possibly of other perishable articles, such as fresh salmon and other fish, to send their goods to the British market in the best possible condition. The Allans also proposed to establish in conjunction with the fast service a line of cargo steamers of great size and high power for the further development of their cargo and cattle carrying trade. The cargo steamers will be of 8,000 to 9,000 tons, and will be fitted with the most modern appliances for carrying live stock, as well as with large chilled spaces for meat shipments and dairy products. We are told that such vessels, with their large cargo capacity, will supply the best accomodation for all kinds of freight, and will also be available for bringing to Canada large numbers of emigrants during the busy season, when the spaces on the fastest steamers may be overcrowded. These provisions for the carriage of freight ought to be embodied in any agreement that may be made for a fast service, so that there may be no doubt or dispute about them. They are fully as essential as those for the passenger service.

As to the amount of the subsidy, the cost of the mail steamers is estimated at $7,000,000 and the cost of the maintenance at $3,000,000. It has been suggested to the Government that a service of eighteen-knot steamers might be substituted for the twenty-knot service for which tenders have already been received. Against this it is argued that in comparison with the New York lines an eighteen-knot service would rank as second class; that it would be called a "slow-line;" that no prestige would attach to such a service; that it would attract no attention to the Canadian route, and would almost certainly fail to divert traffic, either passenger or freight, from the New York route; that it would not be an advertisement for Canada. Further, it has been pointed out that the proposed contract is to be of ten years' duration, and that if an eighteen-knot service would be obsolete before it started it would be far out of date ten years hence, in view of the constant improvement of competing lines. And, while at first sight the lower rate of speed would seem to be the more economical, it is pointed out that by accepting it we should lose the $375,000 which the British Government is ready to grant for vessels which, in point of speed and otherwise, are suitable for the Imperial service. The Canadian Government will doubtless give due weight to the considerations.—Globe.

PREMIER HARDY'S ILLNESS.

The Hon. Gentleman is Suffering From Inflammation, But His Condition Was Improved Last Night.

Toronto, Aug. 22.

Out of respect to the memory of the dead Provincial Secretary the Parliament buildings will remain closed to-day. None of the departments will be open for the conduct of any kind of business.

Premier Hardy is still suffering from an attack of inflammation. Immediately after his return from Parry Sound on Wednesday night his indisposition came on, and he was still so ill yesterday morning as to be unable to attend the obsequies over the body of his deceased colleague in an adjoining room of the legislative pile.

Last evening, however, Hon. Mr. Hardy's condition was somewhat improved, and it is expected that he will shortly be around again. Dr. Chamberlain is attending him.

The shock consequent upon the sudden decease of Mr. Balfour no doubt contributed towards the Attorney-General's attack. His two weeks' outing in Parry Sound does not seem to have done much towards his recuperation.

The members of the Ontario Government have not lately been very fortunate as to their health. Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education, is taking a course of treatment at a New York sanitorium, while Hon. Mr. Harty, Minister of Public Works, is at present, at the order of his physicians, avoiding all worry and excitement, with the prospect of having eventually to resign from the Government altogether.

The Dark Night!

If You Would Avoid Its Terrors and Sufferings,

Be Wise and Use Paine's Celery Compound.

The dark night of sorrow, suffering and terror has come to many a man and woman in our midst, and hope has almost fled from the troubled and anxious heart.

The shadows and small clouds, or, in other words, the symptoms of disease that were noticed and felt some time ago, were disregarded, and the sufferers now find themselves completely overwhelmed and are calling for succor and release.

To the disease burdened we would say, despair not. You may renew life and establish a condition of health that will cause your friends amasement and wonder. Paine's Celery Compound will do the good work for you. It restores lost vigour and vitality, gives new, fresh blood, braces up the nerves, and builds up flesh and muscle.

Paine's Celery Compound—the century's wonder—is no new and untried remedy. It has been tried and tested for years, and has proved triumphant in the most obstinate cases. It has saved life after all other medicines failed, and has the approval of the best medical men on this continent.

If the shadows of disease are hovering over you, if you are not as bright, energetic and strong as you were some weeks ago, a few doses of Paine's Celery Compound will tone up your whole system, cleanse the blood, correct indigestion, sharpen the appetite, and give you a vim and vigour that you will thoroughly appreciate.

By all means give Paine's Celery Compound a fair and honest trial at this season, and you will be compelled to sing its praises as thousands of others have done. Get the genuine "Paine's," as there are vile imitations.

Light in Asia—It Shines Clearly.

MESSRS. T. MILBURN & CO., TORONTO:

"Dear Sirs,—There is light in Asia after all and the man that advised me to try your Heart and Nerve Pills was a friend indeed and truly a friend in need. Before I started to take them I was languid, weak, sleepless and nervous. My brain was beclouded and I could not collect my thoughts, I had gone through an operation in the hope of relief, but still remained generally broken up, my appetite was gone and I was almost without hope or ambition.

But I feel thoroughly rebuilt through the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and it took only three or four weeks to do the work. I often think of the years of suffering I might have escaped had I only known of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills in time; but I am grateful to be restored to health at last and gladly recommend the medicine that cured.

THE FRAM'S VOYAGE.

The Crew Experienced 52 Degrees Below Zero and Her Deepest Sounding Taken Was 13,110 Feet.

Christiania, Aug. 21.—Captain Sverdrupupon, arriving at Skjervoe, telegraphed to the Government that the Fram had arrived after a successful voyage. The highest latitude reached was 85 degrees 57 minutes. A despatch from Skjervoe to The Aftenpost says that after the Fram left the New Siberian Islands she became fast embedded in the ice, which drifted in the direction Dr. Nansen expected it to do. From July 10 the vessel worked her way through the ice in a southerly direction and reached open water on August 13. When in the highest latitude reached some birds—guillemots and fulmars and norwhals—were seen, but no other organic life was visible.

The Verdensgang has a despatch from Skjervoe which states that the deepest sounding taken by the Fram was 2185 fathoms (13,110 feet). The lowest temperature recorded during the voyage was 52 degrees below zero.

Prepared to Leave the Fram.

Christiania, Aug. 21.—The Christiania Norgenbladet makes the statement that upon one occasion after Dr. Nansen left the Fram embedded in the ice in March, 1895, the crew of the vessel loaded sledges with provisions and prepared to leave the ship. The Fram, according to The Norgenbladet, still has on board three years' provisions and 550 tons of coal. Upon the occasion of the Fram's calling at Dancs' Island, Spitzbergen, on August 14, M. Andree, the Swedish explorer, told Captain Sverdrup that the season was too far advanced to justify a balloon ascension, and that it was the intention to leave Spitzbergen on August 20. The Fram arrived at Tromsoe last evening.

CRANK LAW IN CAROLINA.

The Southern Railway Company is Now Wrestling With the Sunday Car Question—Hauling Express Cars.

Raleigh, N.C., Aug. 21.—W. H. Beaver of Asheville has brought suit against the Southern Railway Company to test the legality of hauling express cars on Sunday in North Carolina. The suit is based upon a section of the code which provides that no railway company shall permit any cars to be run on Sunday, save such as are to transport United States mails, either with or without passengers, and such as are exclusively for passengers, and those exclusively for live stock, fruits, vegetables and perishable freights. Sunday is construed to be between sunrise and sunset. The Southern Railway will handle no express matter, save perishable articles, on Sundays until the question is settled. The penalty is $500 for each train in each county through which the railway runs. It is understood that under a literal construction of the act dead bodies cannot be shipped on that day.

UP IN NORTH GREY.

A Grand Meeting in Mr. Paterson's Interests

AT OWEN SOUND SATURDAY NIGHT

Premier Hardy's Warm Tribute to His Old Friend From the County of Brant—Mr. Paterson Answers Conservative Arguments.

Owen Sound, Aug. 23.—The meeting held here last night in the interest of Hon. William Paterson surpassed in point of both attendance and enthusiasm that addressed by Hon. Hugh John Macdonald and others for Mr. McLauchlan. The Town Hall was crowded to the doors and an overflow meeting of several hundred people was held, addresses being delivered from the balcony of the Coulson House. Indeed, Liberals themselves were surprised at the success of the demonstration, which pointed unmistakably to the fact that the feeling in Owen Sound is strongly in favor of electing a member of the Cabinet as the representative of this riding.

Headed by Mayor Kennedy, the speakers arrived in the Town Hall at 8 o'clock. They received a great ovation.

Mr. William Bain, M.P., was the first speaker and dealt his political opponents some hard knocks. He said the leaders of the Conservative party had swallowed their utterances on remedial legislation and were now appealing to the electorate on the cry of French domination. The position of Ontario in the Government of the Dominion was never stronger. Instead of Bowell, Haggart, Montague, and Wallace, this Province had now the strongest representation it had ever had—Mowat, Cartwright, Mulock and Paterson. It was preposterous to say that the interests of Ontario would suffer in the hands of these men. (Cheers.)

PREMIER HARDY.

Hon. A. S. Hardy was received with great cheers, and notwithstanding his recent illness made an eloquent and effective speech. He said he came as an old friend of Hon. William Paterson to tell the people of North Grey of that gentleman's sterling qualities. Mr. Paterson was as honorable and upright a man as had ever lived, and if he had to be elected by unworthy means he would never consent to be elected by such means. He was a man of truth, or honor, of candor, a credit to his country and to any constituency which he might represent.

Mr. Hardy then paid some attention to Hon. Hugh John Macdonald and then said the Laurier Government only asked for a chance and Mr. Paterson only asked for a chance. For the people of Owen Sound this was not a political campaign but a business campaign. Whatever was the outcome the town would get nothing less than justice, but it was one thing to have the active sympathy of a Government and another to have only cold justice. Mr. Paterson it must be remembered was the head of the customs department, a position which Mr. N. Clarke Wallace had declared on this very platform was the most important post in the Government of Canada. He was, moreover, a man of spotless reputation, of unsurpassed ability, of great eloquence, and as the representative of North Grey he would be a credit to the constituency and would cast lustre on the town of Owen Sound. Mr. Hardy's address was concluded amidst prolonged cheers.

Mr. Lister, M.P., Mr. G. B. Ryan of Guelph and Mr. William Lount, M.P., also made speeches, and then Mr. Paterson was introduced.

MR. PATERSON.

The last speaker was Mr. Paterson, who, though fatigued and hoarse, having driven fourteen miles after addressing a meeting in Sydenham, made an eloquent and impressive address, and roused the audience to a great pitch of enthusiasm. He pointed out that it would be impossible for the interests of his old constituency and North Grey to conflict, and characterised as a malicious untruth the statement that his salary had been raised from $5000 to $7000. The salaries of the Ministers were fixed by law, and it was absurd to say that his salary had been increased, for no authority but that of Parliament could effect such an increase. Dealing with the Remedial bill, he said his position on that question was defined by his vote last April, but he could promise that the matter would never again have to be dealt with by the Dominion Parliament, as there had already been a peaceable conference between the Manitoba and the Federal authorities, and the question would undoubtedly be settled without difficulty. (Cheers.) But as he had been challenged to define his position on this question, he might ask his opponents to define theirs. Was ever such disgraceful conduct witnessed in a Christian land as that of Sir Charles Tupper and his followers, who, though they had declared that both the constitution and the higher law demanded that justice should be accorded the Manitoba minority, now went back on their position, and by so doing declared that their object had been to retain power and defeat Mr. Laurier in the Province of Quebec by insisting on legislation which was never wise nor necessary, and which the Catholics themselves did not demand. (Cheers.) Mr. Paterson dealt at some length with the Conservative trade policy, showing the injustice of enacting legislation which made one man rich and kept others poor. His speech met with the heartiest reception, and made a deep impression on the audience.

THE RIFLE LEAGUE.

Gold Badges Will be Given Out to Prize-Winners Instead of Silver Ones—The Highest Scores.

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—(Special.)—The annual meeting of the Canadian Military Rifle League is to be held on Tuesday of next week. The executive of the association has decided to give gold badges in place of silver ones, making more valuable and much neater prizes. The thanks of the association are due to the Minister of Militia and his department for contributing free ammunition to the league, also for its prompt delivery to all parts of the country. Great interest has been taken in the league shooting this year, no less than 127 teams having entered, against 123 for 1895, an increase of 64 for the present year.

It is to be hoped that during next year the Government will issue the new Lee-Enfield rifle, so that the necessity for having so many series of matches may be obviated, and also that the militia force, through its league shooting, may become thoroughly acquainted with the new weapon.

Among the prize-winners are the following:

First series, ranges 200, 500 and 600 yards, Martini, Martini-Metford or Lee-Metford rifles, 7 rounds at each range, battalion teams, 10 men:

13th, Hamilton	3540
59th, Cornwall	3514
82nd, Charlottetown	3509
43rd, Ottawa	3460
45th, Bowmanville	3447
45th, Lindsay	3423
14th, Kingston	3419
5th, R. C. A., New Westminster	3412
7th, London	3384
57th, Peterboro	3373

Battalion teams, 20 men:

45th, Bowmanville and Lindsay	6875
13th, Hamilton	6817
5th, R. C. A., New Westminster	6746

Battalion teams, 30 men:

43rd, Ottawa	9755

Battalion teams, 40 men:

43rd, Ottawa	12,547

Battalion teams, 50 men:

43rd, Ottawa	14,823

Battalion having largest number of teams in league series, 1896, special prize: 30th Battalion, Guelph, 12 teams or 120 men.

Guelph wins the prize for Rifle Association teams for 10 men, with 3541 points.

Lieut. John Ogg of Guelph R.A. takes first prize for the highest individual score in the first series, his total being 382. Sergt. Smith of Cornwall is second with 380.

Highest individual scores, second series, winning championship badges, Sergt. John Rolston, 37th Batt., York. 378.

Third series—First section, 200, 500 and 600 yards, Martini-Metford or Lee-Metford carbines, 10 men, prize, "B" Sq., R.C.D.G., Winnipeg, first team, 2769.

Highest individual scores, winning championship badges. Sergt.-Inst. Page, "A" Sq., R.C.D.G., Toronto, 324; Lc.-Cpl. Allen, "A" Sq., R.C.D., Toronto, 311.

Third series—Second section, 300, 360 and 400 yards, Snider and Winchester carbines, 10 men. Prize, "A" Troop Man. Dragoons, Virden, Man., 1st team, 3025.

Highest individual scores, winning championship badges. Const. W. Hume, Saskatchewan R. A., Prince Albert, N.W.T., 371; Pte. C. E. Ivens, "A" Troop, Manitoba Dragoons, Virden, Man., 363.

THAT IRISH CONVENTION.

Michael Davitt Strongly in Its Favor—Three Thousand Delegates to Be Present.

London, Aug. 22.—At a meeting of the Irish National Federation in Dublin, Mr. Michael Davitt, who presided, said he placed a hundred times more hope for Ireland in the work of the forthcoming Irish Convention than fifty sessions in the Imperial Parliament. Between eighty and one hundred delegates from abroad would attend, and Ireland would supply nine-tenths of its delegation. The convention would not be packed in the interests of any section. It would not wake up old controversies, but would reinvigorate the National movement, and arouse patriotic energy. The convention, he believed, would save the fortunes of the Home Rule cause. Before one more year had elapsed there would not be one Irish political prisoner left, suffering the horrors and indignities of penal servitude in England. Referring to the Land bill, he said he did not understand why Colonel Saunderson and his friends in the Commons, and the Arran's in the Lords, felt any alarm whatever with reference to its provisions. Their fears had no grounds. As to the Recess Committee, he said they did not want a reform of the Dublin Castle Institution; they wanted an end of the whole castle system.

LOST BOTH HIS LEGS.

John Baxter, a Brickmaker, Run Down by a Freight Train and May Die.

Toronto, Aug. 24.

Saturday night about 8.30 John Baxter, a brickmaker living on Greenwood avenue, while walking on the G.T.R. tracks between Little York and the Don Station was run down by a freight train. Both his legs were smashed above the ankle. He was taken to the General Hospital and both legs were amputated above the knees. He cannot recover.

Another Fight in Cuba.

Havana, Aug. 22.—Colonel Albergotti reports that after an engagement which lasted five hours his command captured a rebel fortified camp located near Aguacate, Province of Matanzas. The rebels lost nineteen killed. The Spanish losses were four killed and 26 wounded.

FROM THE CAPITAL.

Debate on the Address May be Prolonged.

THE TWO LEADERS ARE NOT AGREED

Therefore the Discussion May Go to Considerable Length—And the Governor-General's Course May be the Subject of Remark—General Ottawa News.

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—The debate on the address, which is fixed to begin to-morow afternoon, will, if Opposition predictions are genuine, be prolonged beyond the usual set speeches of the mover, the seconder, Opposition leader and the Premier. Sir Charles Tupper has the design evidently of attacking the Governor-General for his Excellency's attitude with regard to the orders in Council, and desires to take advantage of the debate on the address for that purpose. That was why he urged Mr. Laurier to bring down the correspondence before the debate began. The Opposition, however, should confine themselves to the speech from the throne and any matters it suggests and there is nothing in it about the change of Ministry, and any discussion, therefore, on the resignation of the late Ministry should take place altogether apart from the address. Following the policy of discharging their public duties with simplicity and despatch, the new Ministry desire to adopt the English method of procedure in dealing with the speech from the throne. That is, instead of moving an address, which is simply the speech twisted into a rather ridiculous reply of great length and cumbrous form, there shout simply be a brief message thanking his Excellency for his speech. This improved practice will probably be adopted next session.

The Ottawa mining syndicate which is developing a property near North Bend, B.C., has evidently made a good "strike." The mine is being developed by hydraulic power. A flume four miles long brings 500 inches of water on to the ground, an 18-inch main and from this two 9-inch lines of pipes are given off, one for the monitor and the other for conveying the ground sluice water. Since the opening cut was made but a small body of gravel has been washed, yet about $4000 has been taken out of the flume. It seems a safe investment from the fact that the company is working into better ground all the time. By opening 50 feet lower with their next cut, giving them a 100-foot bank, $5000 per month can easily be taken out at an expense of not more than $1000. More can be easily done by adding to the water system, which can be done by reservoiring some lakes.

Their Excellencies have decided to give two garden parties at Government House, on Wednesdays, August 26 and September 2, from 4 to 7 p.m., when they will be glad to see any members of Parliament and their families who wish to be presented.

The reply to His Excellency's address will be moved to-morrow by Mr. W. W. B. McInnes, the new member from Vancouver district, British Columbia, and seconded by Mr. Lemieux of Gaspe.

A deputation of Quebec members is to accompany A. F. Porter of London, Eng., to interview the Government to-day on the subject of aid to the abattoir and dead meat scheme which Mr. Porter is initiating.

Mme. Laurier, Mrs. Davies, Speaker and Mrs. Edgar, the Misses Edgar and Mrs. Wilkie, Mr. Edgar's sister, visited Rockland yesterday, making the journey both ways on the steam launch of Mr. Edwards, M.P.

Major Perley, formerly Chief Engineer of Public Works, but during the last two years on the engineering staff of the Railways and Canals Department, has been notified that his services are no longer required.

GREAT FIRE IN BUFFALO.

The Wooden Exposition Building and the Covered Half-Mile Track Destroyed by Firebugs.

Buffalo, Aug. 22.—Fire started in the Exposition building and in the covered half-mile track at the Buffalo Driving Park simultaneously about 15 minutes after the last of the spectators who witnessed the Grand Circuit races this afternoon had left the track. The Exposition building and half of the covered track was burned. One man named Martin, a hostler, who was taken into the covered track in an intoxicated condition just before the fire started, is thought to have been burned to death. The horses in the stables surrounding the track were rescued with much difficulty.

Six dwelling houses on Puffer-street were totally destroyed and five others badly damaged.

It was one of the hardest fires on record in the city to fight. Twenty firemen were overcome by heat.

In the Exposition building were stored all the election booths of the city, together with 200 racing sulkies. All were destroyed.

Beyond doubt the fire was of incendiary origin. The loss will be over $200,000.

No Lives Lost.

Buffalo, Aug. 23.—It was ascertained to-day that no lives were lost in the fire which destroyed the Exposition building, part of the covered track at the Buffalo Driving Park and several dwellings on Puffer-street last night. Nor were any of the valuable horses quartered there injured. The twenty or more firemen who were overcome by heat are reported to be out of danger to-day. There is no doubt but that the fire was of incendiary origin. The police have made no arrests, but think the fire was started by stable followers. The insurance on the building will not cover half the $200,000 loss.

The Exposition building was a large wooden structure built for fair purposes, but has not been used for several years. The owners, it is said, will rebuild the track, but not the Exposition building.

with severe pains across my shoulders, and great distress. I had violent nausea which would leave me very weak and faint, difficult to get my breath. These spells came oftener and more severe. I did not receive any lasting benefit from physicians, but found such happy effects from a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla, that I took several bottles and mean to always keep it in the house. I am now able to do all my own work, which for six years I have been unable to do. My husband and son have also been greatly benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla—for pains in the back, and after the grip. I gladly recommend this grand blood medicine." MRS. THE MANITOBA SCHOOL QUESTION.

Previous to and during the last general election Hon. Mr. Laurier promised that if given the chance he would settle the vexed Manitoba school question satisfactorily to all parties within six months. This promise was made with a full knowledge of the circumstances that would enter into such a settlement; and that it was not a mere election promise is shown by the fact that at once he was installed in office Mr. Laurier addressed himself to the task, and the fact is that more progress has been made in the direction of settlement in a few days than has been previously made in five years. Mr. Laurier said in reference to this matter: "I will not be coerced, so I will not coerce." His way is the sunny way of conciliation, and the vindication of his plan is found in the circumstance of the Conservative party, which went to the country with the flag of coercion nailed to a club, having seen the futility of such a policy, and abandoning it. Mr. Laurier had nothing to abandon—the same policy he had always adhered to he adheres to now. Messrs. Sefton, Watson and Cameron of the Manitoba Government have been in conference with the Government at Ottawa, discussing a basis of settlement, and it is certain that substantial progress in that direction has been made. The spirit of Liberalism that animates the present Federal Administration will likely bring about a peaceful solution of the Manitoba trouble. It was a Liberal Government that dealt successfully with the New Brunswick school question. Of course, the Manitoba question is complicated as the result of the manner in which the late Government coquetted with it for the sake of gaining party advantage, but Mr. Laurier has borne himself so prudently that he is committed to neither party to the dispute, and has left himself with a free hand to deal out even handed justice. He has no hostilities of his creating on either side to reconcile, and the admirable position in which he finds himself has evidently been taken full advantage of, with the result that this burning question is on the highway to a permanent settlement. If this be the case and there is no good reason to doubt it, to Mr. Laurier will fall the glory of having happily disposed of a question which at one time under evil counsels and the influence of despotic methods, threatened to bring the gravest consequences. Mr. Laurier has done much to unify the races of Canada, and the amicable settlement of the Manitoba school question will be the crowning outcome of the sunny way of conciliation, and the people will have good reason to bless the day when they voted confidence in the greatest Canadian of them all.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A MAN from the north of Ireland, in the crowd at the buildings at the opening of Parliament, on Wednesday, observed with true Irish wit, "I'm glad to see the Grits coming in first at last, for they were always behind before."

OUR total imports in 1895 were valued at $110,781,000, and our gross exports at $113,638,000. Exports to Great Britain were valued at $61,865,000, to the United States at $41,297,000, and to Newfoundland at $2,325,000. Our principal imports were from the United States, $54,634,000; Great Britain, $31,131,000; West Indies, $4,800,000. The duty collected on imports in 1895 amounted to $17,857,000, of which $7,006,000 was on British goods, $6,897,000 on American, $935,000 on French and $893,000 on German.

THE total length of street railway in the United States is 14,440 miles, of which 12,133 miles, or 84 per cent., is electric road, 599 miles cable, 1,219 horse and 519 miscellaneous. The trolley road has only been about ten years in practical use, but it has already driven out nearly all other means of propulsion. The vast sum of $1,375,410,000 is invested in the street railways of the United States, $784,813,000 being represented by the electric roads. The most costly street railways are in New York city, which average $182,000 per mile, the average for the whole country being but $95,000. This is due to the great cost of the elevated roads of that city. Of Canada's 462 miles of street railway, 450 miles are operated by electricity.

CANADA OR VENCEDOR?

Opening Race To-Day at Toledo—Both Crews Equally Confident.

Latest despatches from Toledo state that Canada and Vencedor are both in their best racing trim after being dry-docked. Both crews are equally confident. The Chicago men are going on their "line" on the defender, and are sure of victory, while the R.C.Y.C. men feel that they have a good thing up their sleeve.

So far as could be ascertained last night in advance of the official announcement, the measurements are as follows:

Canada—Length over all, 55.21; waterline, 37.04; boom, 42.85; gaff, 24.4; hoist of mainsail, 24.55.

Vencedor—Length over all, 62.73; waterline, 43; boom, 46.90; gaff, 27.80; hoist of mainsail, 28.80.

Under the present spread, the sail area measurements are: Vencedor, 2273.07 feet; Canada, 2164.91. Under these figures the American (Vencedor) must allow her rival 4 min. and 45 sec.

The international race, which will be sailed over the Turtle Light course, off Toledo, beginning to-day, is, doubtless, the most pretentious regatta ever scheduled for the inland lakes. It marks the beginning of an era in yachting which promises to put the sport on the lakes on a footing with sailing on the coast.

Until Vencedor and Canada were built to sail an international race, yachtsmen around the lakes have been content for the most part to race in club regattas with good cruisers. Now, however, all of the great yachting associations promise to have some racers in their fleet. It needed such a contest between two modern-built yachts to bring about this feeling.

The race is the result of a good deal of hard work on the part of both the Chicago and Toronto yachtsmen. The proposition for an international contest came from Chicago last fall. After the matter had been pretty well canvassed, expressions were had from all the great lake ports where there were yacht clubs. Commodore F. C. Berriman of the Lincoln Park Yacht Club saw its importance, and he and his brother decided at once to build a boat and issue a challenge. It was proposed to sail for a perpetual international trophy, and the challenge was directed to the Royal Canadian Yacht Club of Toronto. Negotiations progressed very slowly, and, in fact, they were almost broken off at one time. But Commodore Berriman, determined to have a race, sent the Racing Committee of his club to meet the Toronto yachtsmen, and make all reasonable concessions. There was finally only one thing in the way of the race. Vencedor plans called for a larger boat than they wished to sail against. To meet this objection, the racing length of the Vencedor was altered, and it was further agreed that Vencedor would give the Canadian defender double time allowance on her length over 45 feet. Her length is a few inches over the limit, and on this Canada will receive double allowance.

The races are to be best two in three, under the New York Yacht Club rules, with a few essential amendments. The trophy to be sailed for is a cup valued at $500. In addition to this, the City of Straits Yacht Club offers a prize valued at $500, which is to go to the club from which the winner will sail. The latter, according to the conditions imposed by the donors, becomes a perpetual interlake trophy. Besides these prizes, there is $1500 cash donated by citizens of Toledo, through the International Yacht Committee.

ANTI-MASONIC CRUSADE.

Mgr. Begin, Administrator of the Archdiocese of Quebec, Backs Tardivel.

Montreal, Aug. 23.—(Special.)—Tardivel has won a victory in his anti-Masonic war, as Mgr. Begin, administrator of the Archdiocese of Quebec, has issued a circular to the clergy inviting them to encourage the coming international anti-Masonic congress of Trent. All the faithful will respect the words of the Archbishop of Cyrene, because he is a good man, but no French-Canadian of the present day bothers his brains very much over the alleged horrors of the much-maligned order. In fact, the French clergy themselves have hardly forgotten the amusement afforded them a year or two since, when Father Therien, a simple-minded yet good-meaning man, seriously declared that the fire in Mount St. Louis College, Sherbrooke-street, had been the work of Free Masons.

CURE OF DROPSY.

Only a Positive Symptom—Not a Disease of Itself—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Campbellford, (Special) Aug. 17.—An unlooked for and remarkable recovery from advanced stage of dropsy is just made public here. It is the case of Mrs. John Weese, wife of the widely known veteran stage proprietor, whose life for months, had been despaired of. From the accumulated water peculiar to this disease she became so helpless as to be unable to drag one foot after the other. She now appears on the street and says she is as well as ever in her life. She claims that after all other means had failed she thanks Dodd's Kidney Pills for her unexpected cure.

HOW THE SUN LIFE FULFILS ITS PROMISES.

A Matured 10 Year Endowment.

Profits Paid by the SUN 21 per. cent more than the Estimates.

The following letter, which speak for itself, was received by the undersigned this morning from a gentleman in Brockville, whose ten year endowment which he held in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada matured last week and was paid him. The Sun is modest in promises but UNEQUALLED IN RESULTS. The public are benefitted by results, not by promises unfulfilled

BROCKVILLE, November 7th, 1895.

W. H. HILL, Mgr. Central Ontario Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, Peterborough, Ontario:—

DEAR SIR,—I should have acknowledged the receipt of yours enclosing cheque for endowment policy No. 12,371 before, only I wanted to write something more than a mere receipt. I am pleased to hear of the continued prosperity of the "SUN" and it speaks well for your Company when the profits are greater (by 21 per cent.) than you as the Company's representative promised or rather estimated, as was the case with this policy.

I hope your Company will continue to prosper and I often regret that I do not carry more Insurance than I am doing. I might have carried twice as much as I do when at Minden without any great effort, still what little I do carry I feel is perfectly safe being in the "SUN."

I must thank you for your promptness and kindness regarding this policy just settled. I hope we will both be alive and well when the new one I now hold will be due in 1905 and assuring you of very best wishes, I remain,

Yours Sincerely,

(Signed) F. R. C.

The above voluntary testimonial is significant and shows in a most practical way the SUN'S standing as a profit paying institution.

DEATH IN THE STORM.

Many People Killed by Lightning in Indiana—Wallace's Show Tents Wrecked by Wind.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—Despatches from points in Indiana and Ohio report severe storms last night, accompanied by much destruction of property by lightning and some fatalities. Telegraphic communication is very much impaired and full reports are hard to obtain. At Indianapolis the wind reached hurricane velocity, but no serious property loss was sustained, nor were any lives lost. The rainfall was very heavy.

Near Monne City, Ind., a large barn was destroyed by lightning and Arthur Boss, aged 14, was killed.

At Elwood, Ind., lightning demolished Rev. T. J. Wright's residence. All the family escaped injury but Mr. Wright, who was horribly burned and paralysed from the waist down.

Greensburg, Ind., reports heavy damage to crops and several bridges were washed away. Mrs. John Baumgardner of Wabash was struck by lightning and fatally injured. Lester Bliss and Neil Bliss at Delphos, O., were killed by lightning.

At Hobart, Ind., the dwelling of a man named Smith was demolished by lightning and the entire family of three persons killed.

At Huntington, Ind., Wallace's show tents were wrecked by the storm at 6.30 o'clock last evening. The horses and menagerie stampeded and much property was ruined. The elephants caused a panic.

Covered Several States.

St. Louis, Aug. 23.—A severe wind storm visited Illinois, Missouri, Arkansas, Texas and Oklahoma Territory last night. Several lives were lost and much property destroyed. Electrical discharges and heavy rain accompanied the storm of wind.

At Mendota, Ill., Pohl's Hotel and several residences were unroofed. All the grain fields about Mascoutah Falls, Ill., were destroyed.

Near Browning, Mo., the farm house of Thomas Gooch was blown down. Gooch's wife and infant son were killed. The public school building at James, Mo., was totally wrecked and the Drummond Hotel unroofed.

At Edina, Mo Peter Lorey, a boy, was killed by a falling tree.

A C. P. R. CONDUCTOR.

After Two Years' Misery was Cured by Ten Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Prescott, (Special) Aug. 24.—For a long time much sympathy had been felt and expressed for Mr. Wm. Freeman, a very popular conductor of the C.P.R., who had been rendered unfit for duty the past few years by a peculiar and distressing form of kidney disease. It now transpires, much to the delight of his friends, that he has been enabled to resume his regular trips. He claims, as the results of using only ten boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, that he has entirely recovered, and that he never felt better in his life, and believes that these Pills have cured him to stay cured.

MANCHESTER WANTS IT.

A Request That Canadian Products be Distributed From That Port—The Boom in B.C.

Montreal, Que., Aug. 23.—(Special.)—Lieutenant-Governor Dewdney of British Columbia, who arrived by the Lucania, says that Superintendent Stephens of the Manchester ship canal, came over in the same boat, and will confer with Professor Robertson, Dominion Dairy Commissioner, as well as the Canadian Government, with a view to making Manchester the distributing point for Canadian products.

New York, Aug. 23.—Over 1800 knee-pants makers went out on a strike in this city to-day. A committee was appointed to draw up a new agreement for the union, which will be offered to the contractors either to-morrow or Tuesday.

A Railway Manager says:

"In reply to your question do my children object to taking Scott's Emulsion, I say No! on the contrary, they are fond of it and it keeps them pictures of health."

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn says: "Shiloh's Vitalizer 'Saved my Life, I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used." For dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excels. Price 75c. Sold by John Nugent, 360 George Street.

TRADE IS BOOMING.

Canadian Steamers Doing a Great Business.

ALL THE FREIGHT THEY CAN CARRY

Rates are Good and Vessel Men are Happy—Shipments for Europe Via the St. Lawrence are Only Limited by the Capacity of the Boats.

Montreal, Aug. 23.—(Special.)—This is the most active and profitable shipping season Montreal has known for many years past, and those who have been croaking about the decline of the St. Lawrence export trade will have to modify their theories to a wonderful extent. Last year the various steamship men had to go about with their hats in their hands begging for freight, but this season these same gentlemen have only to sit in their offices, and freight by the thousand tons comes rolling alongside their ships. To give an idea of what is being done here by the various ocean lines it will be well to quote Mr. John Torrance's words yesterday to your correspondent, as the agent for the Dominion line rejoiced over the changed aspect of affairs: "I could go out," he said, "and fill two steamships per week from now till the end of navigation," and all the lines have the same story to tell.

The Allans, the Dominion, the Donaldson, the Dempster, the Hamburg and other companies doing business at the port of Montreal are fairly staggering under the quantity of freight that is coming to this port for export to Britain and the Continent. This, however, is not all, as the increased freight rates are also a very pleasing feature in the present season's trade, and one that gives the utmost satisfaction to the steamship men, who, in the past, have had a good deal to complain of, not only with regard to rates, but the quantity of freight offering as well. This time last year the steamers from this port were carrying grain at one shilling a quarter, while this year they are getting two shillings for all they can stow away in their holds. Last summer deals were being carried for 32s. 6d., while this year the rate is 42s. 6d.

The Americans are also shipping much more extensively from this port than for many years past, and, apart from Chicago and Duluth, a good many New York people are shipping Western products here, instead of from their own port and Boston. One-eighth of a cent per bushel in grain will cause the New Yorkers to give the preference to Montreal. A large shipper also said that the figures were even in advance of those quoted above. Steamers, he said, were asking 2s. 3d. to Liverpool, 2s. 6d. to Bristol, 2s. 6d. to London and Glasgo, 2s. 6d. paid and 3s. asked for Hamburg, adding that all of the September space had been taken and a good part of October, as well. "Should freight rates advance to 3s. on grain," he concluded, "it will then pay ships to come over in ballast, and if that rate be reached no doubt plenty of tonnage would be found coming to the St. Lawrence."

SENATOR MACPHERSON'S FUNERAL

Only Relatives and Intimate Friends Attended—The Remains Interred in St. James' Cemetery.

Toronto, Aug. 24.

The funeral of the late Sir David Macpherson took place yesterday morning from Chestnut Park, the remains being interred in the family plot at St. James' Cemetery. The arrangements were simple and very private. None but relatives, a few intimate friends of deceased and a number of old trusted servants and retainers, some of whom had been associated with deceased for forty years, were in attendance.

The remains arrived in the city at 9.20 on Saturday night, and were quietly taken to Chestnut Park, the late residence of deceased. Accompanying the body were Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Macpherson, son and daughter-in-law of deceased; Mrs. Meyrick Banks, daughter; Miss Banks, granddaughter and Mrs. Beckett, daughter. The casket was covered with beautiful floral tributes from relatives and friends.

Rev. T. C. DesBarres, M.A., rector of St. Paul's Anglican Church, Bloor-street, conducted a religious service at Chestnut Park before the funeral cortege left for the cemetery at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. Mr. DesBarres also read a short service at the grave.

Those who attended the funeral were: Mr. W. M. Macpherson, Mrs. W. M. Macpherson, Mrs. Banks, Miss Banks, Mrs. Beckett, Hon. R. R. Dobell, Mrs. Dobell, daughter of deceased; Mr. Wm. Dobell, Miss Dobell, His Honor Lieut.-Governor Kirkpatrick, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, daughter of deceased; Capt. A. Kirkpatrick, Mr. W. M. Kirkpatrick, Montreal; Mr. John Molson, Montreal; Judge Hamilton, Milton; Mr. Clark Hamilton, Kingston; Sir Casimir Gzowski, Lady Gzowski, Mr. C. S. Gzowski, jr., Mr. Thomas Galt, Mr. T. C. Patteson, Mr. W. S. Lee, Col. Sweny, Mr. James Henderson, Mr. J. D. Small, Mr. A. M. Ross, Hon. G. W. Allan, Senator McInnes, Hamilton; Capt. Forsyth Grant.

IT IS ALL TALK.

Yes, but it is Norwood Talk—The Kind That Tells in Norwood.

Talk that tells.
Talk that is endorsed.
Every day talk by people that know.
City talk.
Kidney talk.
Do the kidneys talk?
Well, yes, both loud and long.
You are learning the kidney language.
Backache in kidney language means kidney ache.
Lame back means weak kidneys.
Weak back means weak kidneys.
The kidneys are talking trouble.
Here is some Norwood talk:

Mr. George Taylor, well known in Norwood, has this to say about Doan's Kidney Pills:—

"For a great many years I have been a sufferer from kidney disease. Terrible pain in my side and back made my life a burden. The urine was a dark wine colour, and I was greatly troubled with frequent urination. My sleep was destroyed because of this annoying trouble.

"I have taken scores of medicines, but could get no relief, and thought that I would never be cured. Happily I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills, and got a box at J. C. Moffatt's drug store, and have continued their use for one month.

"I am thankful to say as a result that they have fixed me up. I feel like another person. I do not now have to get up at night, and in fact am entirely cured.

"I think they are the grandest medicine ever placed before the public, and I heartily recommend them to all sufferers from kidney disorder of any kind."

FOUR WERE KILLED.

A Freight on the Northern Pacific Thrown Into Clark's Fork River—Quicksand the Cause.

San Francisco, Aug. 23.—A special from Missoula, Mont., says westbound freight train No. 53 on the Northern Pacific Railway was wrecked one mile east of Horse Plains on the Rocky Mountain division yesterday and four train hands lost their lives. The dead are: George Weigle, engineer, Hope, Idaho; L. I. Frizelle, fireman, Hope, Idaho; J. W. Bolger, brakeman, Spokane; R. M. Fish, wiper, Jocko, Idaho. The train left Missoula Friday night. When opposite Mile Board a huge filling several hundred feet long spread, throwing the entire train into Clark's Fork River. The victims mentioned were all instantly killed. Their bodies have been recovered. It is supposed the slide was caused by settling of quicksand. The roadway is still impassable and the officials are withholding the details of the wreck.

You cannot say that you have tried everything for your rheumatism, until you have taken Ayer's Pills. Hundreds have been cured of this complaint by the use of these Pills alone. They were admitted on exhibition at the World's Fair as a standard cathartic.

Mrs. S., says:— "I suffered from rheumatic pains for months, Miller's Compound Iron Pills cured me." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

It Quenches Thirst.

During the hot weather a cooling, refreshing drink is the first requisite and nothing can be more wholesome than the juice of fruit. "Montserrat" is the juice of ripe Limes and is cheaper and more easily prepared than lemons. Its bright sourness is just what is needed to take the flatness off water—even water that is not cold becomes a refreshing drink when a little "Montserrat" is added.

A Coming Event Without the Shadow.

The EXAMINER learns on what is considered good authority of an announcement which, though private in its nature, cannot but have a bearing upon the welfare of at least a part of our community. While not in a position to mention names we may express our satisfaction that the expected event will be the means of bringing back to Peterborough a former resident and active worker whose absence has been greatly missed.

A Poor Man's Comfort.

Cold and hunger are no respecters of persons. The winter wind howls around the rich man just as searchingly as it sweeps through a poor one. And Fibre Chamois is equally a boon to both with its wonderful, healthful, warmth-giving qualities, its light weight and trifling cost. Those to whom money is no object prefer using it to being burdened down by the weight of many wraps, and those who perform outdoor duties in cold weather find it invaluable as it keeps out all wind and cold—not for an hour or so, but for all day, and yet adds nothing which hampers them no matter what their exercise may be. With it through their outer garments everyone can enjoy winter's coldest snaps in perfect comfort.

One of Thousands.

People's Coal Co.:

GENTLEMEN,—Having heard a lot of talk in my shop about your coal, I determined to try it for myself, so I ordered half a ton and am pleased to be able to state I found it just as you represent, viz: gives an intense heat, lasts as long as any other coal, burns to a white ash, and is free from clinkers. In short, it just suits me, so please book my order for my winter's supply. Will let you know when to deliver it.

DAVID HALL,
Barber.

If you want to save money call and see us before ordering your coal. Our coal is the purest and most economical hard coal mined, and will give you the same satisfaction it gives Mr. Hall. Office—230 Charlotte street. Telephone 306.

SACRED RECITAL AT ST. JOHN'S.

An Hour of Delightful Devotional Music.

Because the sacred recital in St. John's church last night was unique, that is not to say that it was not a fitting conclusion to a service of worship into which the element of music enters so largely. The manner in which it was conducted and the deeply devotional character given it, made it quite becoming to the sacred nature of the edifice in which it was held and to the holy day which it brought to a close, and it was doubtless an elevating and inspiring means of grace lifting the soul out of itself and its comparatively sordid surroundings, as well as demonstrating how the highest form of earthly art may be made a medium of the highest exercise of the human heart, Divine worship.

The service generally led up to the subject and the happily appropriate sermon of Rev. Mr. Davidson, dealt with the relation of the arts of painting and music, especially the latter, to that of divine worship in their subjective, as well as objective aspects and with their tendency to broaden the sympathy of the soul and to lift one out of one's self into a higher plane of feeling and aspiration.

It goes without saying that the chief delight of the recital was the violin selections of Herr Paul Stoeving, who is not a mere virtuoso, but an artist in the highest sense of that appellation. His numbers were chosen with especial reference to the sacred nature of the surroundings, and being devoid of florid character, depended for effect upon the genius of the interpretant, and the result was a soulful, sympathetic, restful and refined exposition of the divine art His selections included an Arioso by Handel. Raff's "Cavatina," Weiniawski's "Legende," Schumann's "Traumserei" and a Chopin "Nocturne" The interpretations given these selections were exquisitely delicate and refined, with an undertone of virility permeating them, indicating how thoroughly the performer had his instrument and its capacities under control. The occasion does not call for criticism of style and execution; one only cares to dwell upon the exceedingly beautiful results which involved an artistic musical treat, such as the public of Peterborough have never before listened to, and the people who thronged the church last night in every part are deeply indebted to Herr Stoeving, as well as to Rev. Mr. Davidson, whose broad sympathies and kindly interest in the pleasure and profit of the people did not permit the omission of an opportunity to minister to both. Mrs. Stoeving, who furnished the pianoforte accompaniments, did as well in her important sphere as did the artist in his, and it is no detraction to his merits to suggest that his success of last night would have fallen much short of what was achieved but for the exceedingly tasteful and sympathetic co-operation of Mrs. Stoevey, and she should also be included in the objects of the public gratitude for the great musical entertainment and inspiration furnished by last night's sacred recital.

Preliminary to, if not, indeed, a part of the recital, were several organ selections, performed in a very capable and brilliant manner by Mr. Percy Owens, who, though young in years and experience, has developed into an organist with a most promising future. During the recital Miss Barton, a member of the choir, sang a sacred solo with much sweetness and expression, and at intervals suitable hymns were sung by choir and congregation, and the recital closed with special prayers. Altogether the sacred recital of last night was one of great enjoyment and, one may hope, of spiritual profit, for, at no time was its devotional character permitted to be subordinated to mere musical performance.

PAINT THE POLES.

It Would Improve the Streets Considerably.

At Brantford on Thursday the Bell Telephone Company and the G.N.W. Telegraph Company appeared on an information sworn out by the chief of police, charging them with neglecting to provide their poles in the city with a suitable covering. Both the defendants stated that linemen had been ordered to paint the poles and that the matter would be attended to immediately. The cases were adjourned two weeks, during which time the poles are expected to appear in a nice new suit. If they do not fines will be imposed.

The electric poles on Peterborough's streets vie with each other in trying to look disreputable. Paint is unknown to most of them. The action of the Brantford people should be a hint to our town council. Not alone should the Bell Telephone, G.N.W., and C.P.R. companies be required to paint up, but the electric light company also. It seems incredible that the penalties of a by-law should be required to induce all these wealthy corporations to keep their own property on the public streets respectable looking.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT

Caused by the Bad Condition of Water Street.

This morning as Dr. Halliday's man, James Butler, was driving the doctor's horse down Water street he attempted to pass from one side to the other, crossing the ridge of stones left in the middle of the road by the sewer operations.

The buggy was upset, throwing out the driver and Mrs. Huffman, the other occupant of the vehicle. Mrs. Huffman was badly shaken up by the accident, her side being painfully injured. The top was torn completely off the buggy but the horse did not get away.

C. M. B. A. CONVENTION.

Final Arrangements for It Have Been Made—The Programme.

The big C. M. B. A. Convention opens in Ottawa to morrow. The convention will be in session at least three days. The opening session begins next Tuesday morning in the opera house at Ottawa, where all the meetings will be held. After the formal opening of the convention and the presentation of the annual reports, the delegates, who are expected to exceed three hundred, will proceed in a body to the Basilica, which his Lordship Bishop Emard, assisted by his Grace Archbishop Duhamal, will celebrate High Mass. Two sermons will be preached—one in English by Rev. Canon McCarthy, of St. Bridget's church, and another in French by Rev. Father Deguire.

The business of the convention will be resumed at two o'clock in the afternoon.

The delegates will be entertained to a trip around Ottawa on special electric car on Wednesday afternoon.

ANOTHER OLD RESIDENT GONE

Death of Mr. John Sharpe at an Early Hour Sunday Morning.

One of Peterborough's oldest and most highly respected citizens passed away at the family residence, 350 Dublin street, at one o'clock Sunday morning, in the person of Mr. John Sharpe, after a most painful illness.

The deceased gentleman was first confined to bed about two months ago. After some four weeks of the most intense suffering he took a change for the better and soon he was able, with assistance, to sit up at intervals during the day; but hopes for his recovery were lessened about two weeks ago, when he was again confined to his bed, paralysis shortly afterward setting in, terminating in his death at an early hour Sunday morning.

In religion Mr. Sharpe was a Presbyterian and a member of St. Paul's church; in politics he was a Reformer. He was a familiar figure on the business streets of Peterborough, having been in the employ of the Canadian Bank of Commerce for the past nine years.

Mr. Sharpe was born in County Cavan, Ireland, in the year 1836. He sailed for New York in 1861, but war being in progress between the North and South, Mr. Sharpe decided to remove to Mariposa, Canada, where his brother, Mr. Hugh Sharpe, resided. After a short residence in the latter place he went to Fenelon, living there until the year 1871, when he removed to Peterborough, where he has since resided.

Besides his widow, the deceased gentleman leaves behind four daughters and three sons, who will have the most heartfelt sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement.

The funeral took place from the family residence, 350 Dublin street, this afternoon, at three o'clock.

ANOTHER SUDDEN DEATH.

Mr. George Ball Dies from Heart Trouble.

Mr. George Ball died very suddenly yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. S. B. Dancey, No. 173 Stewart street, from an affection of the heart.

Mr. Ball has been working during the summer as a farm hand for Mr. W. H. Coulter near Springville, and walked into town from there on Saturday.

At about ten o'clock yesterday morning Mr. Ball complained of a pain in the region of the heart, and although Dr. Pigeon was summoned he was dead inside of an hour.

The wife and family of the deceased are living in Thornbury.

Mr. Powell Armstrong, formerly of town but now residing in Chicago, is in town, where he will spend some time in renewing old acquaintances. Mr. Armstrong has charge of the Stony Island Methodist church, Chicago.

Boy's and Men's Black and Coloured Lustre Coats, regular $1.50, Grafton's Clearing price 50c.

LAST NIGHT'S RECITAL AT ST. JOHN'S.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—A sacred recital, such as we had the privilege of partaking in at St. John's church last evening, is somewhat unique in the history of Peterborough, and there may possibly be those who fail to recognise the fitness of time and place for what, no doubt, appears to them a mere exhibition of violin playing. But the art of such a gifted virtuoso as Herr Stoeving is so divine that surely no unprejudiced person would cavil at its use in acts of devotion and worship, indeed the Professor cannot but convince everyone who has the opportunity of judging that his music has the same elevating effect upon himself as upon his listeners. The very large congregation gathered from all religious bodies not only marks the general approval of such a service but is witness to the unity which exists in music and was besides no small tribute to the Professor himself. His kindness will be long remembered by those who had the great advantage of hearing him.

Your obedient servant,
A. P. POUSSETTE.

—The residents of the northern portion of the town are asking how is it that no band concerts are being given in Inverlea Park this summer. They think, and with good reason, that they are not being treated fairly in this matter. Two concerts a week are given in the Court House park, whilst the north end is utterly ignored.

When Should a Man Swear?

Man is not only a reasoning but a swearing animal. Sometimes his feelings are expressed audibly and at others they are so deep down in his nature that nothing less than a volcano would thrust them to the surface. If a man should swear at all, when should that time be? The church is silent on this important matter and the law gives no sanction to cuss words. Stovepipes are provocative of bad feeling, but corns are far worse. Wives should see that their husband's corns are kept down. This may be done quite easily, painlessly and with absolute certainty by Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Beware of flesh-eating substitutes offered for Putnam's Corn Extractor.

LACROSSE.

The Ottawa Free Press has the following to say of Friday's match with the Peterboroughs: "A few hundred lacrosse enthusiasts braved the elements yesterday afternoon and went to Lansdowne Park to see the Peterborough and Young Capital teams battle for supremacy. The result was a shock to the westerners and their friends, who watched the opening proceedings with the utmost confidence. Peterborough scored the first game through the decision of the umpire, who allowed his hand to raise because the ball went near the flags. The official was at once replaced by Mr. Rutherford, and then the procession of goals started, the Young Capitals scoring no less than a dozen. The Young Capitals gave an exposition of lacrosse which amazed Peterborough, and they went home not only satisfied with defeat, but impressed with the remarkable combination they had the pleasure of witnessing. It was a lesson they will greatly benefit by and greater things may confidently be expected from Peterborough when they come again. The match was one of the cleanest, and the big one-sided score did not make it the least disinteresting. W. Stuart was referee, E. Rutherford, C. LeBrun, Peterborough, and M. Eagan, umpires, and the players as follows:

Peterborough—F. Dobbin, J. Brown, Mein, J. T. McCabe, Borland, R. Dobbin, Rubidge, Galley, Lipsett, Latimer, John McCabe. Captain, P. Hickey.

Young Capitals—Devine, O'Doherty, Griffith, Robertson, Baldwin, Binks, Templeton, Murphy, Westwick, Egan, Gleason. Captain, W. McIntyre.

A highly interesting and most exciting game of lacrosse was played on the circus green on Saturday afternoon last, between the Victorias and South Ends, resulting in a victory for the former by nine goals to four. The teams played in the following positions:—

SHORT OF FUNDS.

The Cobourg Lacrosse Club has for its secretary a young bank clerk by the name of H. F. Holland, who, at the close of the season, finds himself apparently so short of funds that, although he was anxious to arrange a match with the Peterborough Juniors in Cobourg, he refused to pay for the telegram which made the final arrangements. This action, of course, cancels the game which was to have taken place on Thursday next. Cobourg, when it reorganises its lacrosse club in 1897, will do well to elect a secretary who can afford to expend a quarter of a dollar without being as seriously financially crippled as young Holland would be by such an inroad on his purse. The telegram which was sent necessitated an answer, which, of course, would have been paid for at this end of the line.

THE C. L. A. JUDICIARY MEETS.

The Judiciary of the C.L.A. held a meeting at Toronto on Saturday and transacted considerable business. The first session was held at 10.30 a.m. and adjourned at 2 30 p.m. Present—President O'Loughlin, St. Catharines; Vice-President Doolittle, Orillia; Secretary Vance, Ingersoll; ex-Presidents Dr. Roberts, Brampton; F. W. Garvin, Richmond Hill, and Dan A. Rose, Toronto. The first business considered was the matter of players suspended by the president. In the case of Messrs. Sewell, Manning and Doyle, of the Stouffville club the suspension was called off and the players reinstated.

Richmond Hill protested the last game played at Bolton against the Humber club of that place, on the plea that the grounds are small and inadequate for lacrosse purposes, and that Messrs. Warbrick, Doyle and Pearcy were ineligible to play for the Humbers in that game. The Judiciary reserved decision until the evening session.

The Judiciary found a mixed up state of affairs in the Northeastern District owing to Orillia, Barrie and Bradford having scheduled championship games beyond the time limit fixed by the C. L. A. rules. The Judiciary decided Barrie defaulters and ordered Orillia to play at Bradford not later than Saturday next. If the clubs interested do not mutually agree on a date by noon to day the President of the C.L.A. is to name it. Mr. Doolittle represented the Orillias and Dr. Campbell, Bradford.

The following comprised the Judiciary at the evening session: The President, Secretary, ex-Presidents, Rose, Roberts and Garvin, Messrs. J. D. Bailey and H. B. Clemes, Toronto.

In Richmond Hill v. Bolton the Judiciary decided to order the game to be played over at Bolton on Thursday, August 27th, Richmond Hill to receive $15 expenses. Doyle and Pearcy of the Humbers, whose certificates had been suspended by the President, were suspended for the season, and Warbrick's certificate reinstated.

Turnbull of the Elms of Toronto, who had been suspended by the President for playing with the Mitchell club against Clinton, denied the charge, and as the parties who made the complaint were not in a position to file documentary evidence the certificate of Turnbull was reinstated.

Owen Sound protested the game won by Wiarton at Owen Sound on August 7th, claiming that Mack and Cattanach of the Wiartons were ringers and ineligible to play, and that Scott and Richards of the same club were also ineligible, as they were not members in good standing 20 days prior to certificates being signed.

Mr. Crosby represented Owen Sound and Major Megraw, Wiarton. The Owen Sound club claimed that they could not identify the players Mack and Cattanach but filed such evidence as to induce the Judiciary to postpone further hearing of the protest until Friday next. In the meantime Wiarton will be permitted to file declarations regarding the standing of Scott and Richards, and Owen Sound may file additional information regarding the standing of Mack and Cattanach. The Wiarton representative, under pressure of members of the Judiciary, imparted the information that Mack originally came from Quebec, but that both players until recently resided in Alexandria, Ont.

THE WHEEL.

Messrs. R. H. Kells and W. J. Squires went out to Chemong on tandem the other evening in 30 minutes, from the store door, George street.

A Lindsay man at the Park says he made the run from the Grand Trunk station to Chemong in 17 minutes. The dollars has been left at the EXAMINER office to bet that he cannot do it again.

The Peterborough Juniors will play in Cobourg with the senior team of that place on Thursday next. Mr. Geo. Horkins is making arrangements to run an excursion in connection with the game. As Thursday is the last half holiday of the season the trip should be liberally patronized.

BASEBALL.

The Park Nine left to-day to play at Lindsay. Although young the members will give a good account of themselves during the game and will doubtless reflect credit on their town as they are a most gentlemanly lot of young ball-tossers.

CHURCH CHIMES.

Miss Tivey rendered the solo "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" during the offertory at St. Luke's church last evening.

Mr. George Schneider played the Dead March in Saul, in memoriam of the late Mr. Gamble, last evening in the George street Methodist church.

On Wednesday evening next Miss Aldridge will report to the Park street Baptist church Young People's Union on her trip to the Washington convention.

A congregational meeting of St. Luke's church is called for Tuesday evening to consider what steps shall be taken to erect a suitable memorial to the late Rev. W. C. Brodshaw.

Mr. Armstrong again took St. Paul's church organ yesterday at all services most acceptably. Mr. Crane has not yet sufficiently recovered from his recent bicycle accident to resume his duties.

Last evening there was a duet sung in the George street Methodist church by Miss C. Belleghem and Mr. Jas. Browne, entitled "Sun of My Soul," by Barney. It was sung during the offertory with special effect.

Rev. James Chapman, of the Park street Baptist church, delivered an especially interesting sermon last evening from the text, "Thou art weighed in the balances and found wanting,"—Daniel v., 27. Mr. Chapman is creating a most favourable impression amongst his congregation.

Rev. John Craig, a missionary from India, brother of T. Dixon Craig, M.P. for East Durham, who is on a furlough and is staying in Port Hope, delivered two most interesting sermons in the Murray street Baptist church yesterday. In the morning he spoke on Missions. Rev. Mr. Craig will soon return to his charge in the mission fields.

Rev. C. W. Hedley preaching yesterday morning in St. Luke's, from the text, "Look unto the rock whence ye are hewn, and to the hole of the pit whence ye are digged," referred to the effect of the splendid cathedrals and churches of the Old Country, in impressing upon the mind the antiquity and continuity of the Church of England. After visiting England and seeing the great activity of the church it was impossible not to feel that the Church of England had not only a glorious past to look back upon but a glorious future to look forward to.

Nervous Prostration

Is a deplorable condition of body, to which the mind to some degree responds; the sufferer becomes a victim to a legion of disagreeable sensations, arising from the impairment or exhaustion of nerve or vital force. Sleeplessness, too, comes to rob the sufferer of nature's sweetest solace and restorer, and a disorded digestive function contributes its quota to the already full cup of misery. Cure is possible in one way only—the nervous system must be strengthened; the digestive and assimilative function must be restored.

Maltine with Coca Wine, more than any preparation known to medical science, combines the two essentials required in these cases. Maltine with Coca Wine possesses tonic properties that are directed in a very special way to the nerve centres, giving them tone, vigor and the staying power so much needed, while just as efficaciously does it aid and strengthen all the processes of digestion. Thus we have the production of all the elements of adequate nutrition, which, inevitably, is certain to give health, strength and vigor. Maltine with Coca Wine is sold by all druggists.

A Belgian journalist thinks that a good way of increasing the revenue would be to lay a tax upon mustaches. He calculates that there are two million Belgians who would not part with their mustaches for a paltry 10 francs and that the revenue would thus be augmented by 20,000,000 francs a year.

"Cut off both my legs if only my Emperor William wins the battle." Seems as if consumption always picks out the brightest and best. Maybe it isn't so. Maybe it seems so because consumption is the most frequent of all diseases. Consumption kills more people than wars or Cholera or Yellow Fever. Fully one-sixth of all the deaths that occur in the world are caused by consumption. And consumption can be cured. Doctors used to say that it was incurable, but the doctors were merely mistaken. It would be strange if medical science did not make some progress. Many things were once considered impossible. The ocean steamer, the locomotive, the telegraph and telephone, the phonograph, the electric light—all these were once impossible, and once it was impossible to cure consumption. That was before the time of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Taken according to directions, this standard remedy will cure 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption. Consumption is a disease of the blood. It used to be considered a disease by itself. It is not. It is caused and fostered by impurity in the blood. Purify the blood and restore the healthy action to the various organs of the body and consumption will be cured. It is by weakness and loss of vitality in the blood. It is cured by purity and richness of the blood—surely, certainly cured. Those who have consumption or any lingering bronchial, throat or lung disease, and those who are on the road to them, have a positive remedy at hand. Any condition of the body that indicates weakness, any indication of impurity in the blood, should be attended to at once. Loss of appetite, loss of flesh, loss of vitality, nervousness, weakness and unnatural weariness, are indications that the body is running down. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the appetite good, the digestion strong. It builds up solid, healthy flesh and vigorous strength. Thousands of people have testified that it has really saved their lives. Some of these testimonials, together with hundreds of things that everybody ought to know about health and sickness and medicine, have been embodied in Dr. Pierce's "Common Sense Medical Adviser." This 1008 page medical work, profusely illustrated, will be sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to cover customs and postage only. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

A GIGANTIC MONOPOLY.

The Western Union Telegraph Company Secures Control of the American Bell Telephone Company.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 21.—The Boston Commercial Bulletin will say to-morrow: "We understand upon the best authority that the Western Union Telegraph Company controls at the present moment the American Bell Telephone Company. The importance of such control will at once appear to everyone who appreciates how the two have come in competition during recent years. The Western Union dividends had become threatened through the competition of the Bell Company and of the Postal Telegraph Company, but it has long been a fully arranged plan for the Western Union to secure control of the telephone company. The two together can probably make it very warm for the Postal Telegraph Company, or the final outcome may be a combination of all three. J. Pierpont Morgan has been the largest purchaser of Bell Telephone stock at auction here, but the manner of purchase has been very cleverly concealed. Western Union stock has ruled weak on the New York Stock Exchange during the past few days, but this weakness is thought to be part of the program of those conducting this gigantic deal. The combination of these two concerns will mean an almost impregnable monopoly of both the telegraph and telephone business in the same hands."

TORONTO MARKETS.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

There was a fair trade at the Western Cattle Market to-day. Receipts were 62 carloads, including 900 head of sheep and lambs. These were firmer, owing to limited offerings. The demand for shipping cattle was good, choice bringing 4c per lb., and medium 3½c to 3¾c. Bulls sold at 3c per lb. The best butchers' cattle sell at 3c to 3¼c per lb., good to medium at 2¼c to 2¾c, and inferior at 1¾c to 2c. The offerings of inferior stuff are too large, and they are hard to sell. Milch cows unchanged at $18 to $30 each, and calves at $2.50 to $5.50 per head.

Sheep are firmer, with shipping qualities selling at 3c to 3¼c per lb., and butchers' sheep at 2½c. Lambs sold at 3½c to 4c per lb.

Hogs are firm, with receipts of 500 head. The best sell at 4c to 4¼c per lb., weighed off cars, thick fats at 3¼c, stores not wanted, sows at 3c and stags at 2c per lb.

Light in Asia—It Shines Clearly.

MESSRS. T. MILBURN & Co., TORONTO:

Dear Sirs,—There is light in Asia after all and the man that advised me to try your Heart and Nerve Pills was a friend indeed and truly a friend in need. Before I started to take them I was languid, weak, sleepless and nervous. My brain was beclouded and I could not collect my thoughts, I had gone through an operation in the hope of relief, but still remained generally broken up, my appetite was gone and I was almost without hope or ambition.

But I feel thoroughly rebuilt through the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and it took only three or four weeks to do the work. I often think of the years of suffering I might have escaped had I only known of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills in time; but I am grateful to be restored to health at last and gladly recommend the medicine that cured.

AXTON'S CLEVER VICTORY.

He Had a Tumble and Still Got in Ahead of Blayney—Fine Racing at Simcoe.

Simcoe, Aug. 21.—The 25-mile Canadian amateur championship bicycle meet, given here to-day by the Simcoe Bicycle Club, was a splendid success in every way. The threatening weather kept some of the people away, but when the bell was rung for the first event there were nearly 1000 people on the grounds. The star event was the championship race. For this there were 10 entries, but only six of them faced the starter. The order of the start was: Axton, Davidson, McEachren, Blayney, Moore and Meehan. The pacemakers went off at a merry clip. The track was in good condition, the weather perfect, and at one time the riders were within three seconds of the record, but the breaking of the tandem and the absence of pacing for a couple of laps threw them out. They made up some on the last time, but could not do better than 1.06.02 1-5. Moore took a bad tumble on the first half of the fourth mile and dropped out. Davidson also fell and lost over a quarter of a mile, but pluckily resumed riding and caught the bunch. McEachren and Axton also fell, but got into the race again. The finish was a beauty, and Blayney looked all over a winner, but seemed to be pumped out in the sprint. Axton beat him across the tape, Davidson third.

The two Toronto tandem teams were the only advance entries for the two-mile professional, but McCarthy and McLeod hitched up and made a post entry, and after a great race won in 4.59 4-5. Uresident Robertson of the C.W.A. was referee and Secretary H. B. Donly starter. The summaries are as follows:

One-mile novice—G. H. Murdoch, 1; C. Cunningham, S.B.C., 2; A. Watkins, Toronto (pace), 3. Time 2.34 2-5.

One-mile handicap, professional—T. B. McCarthy (scratch), 1; Cecil Elliott (20 yards), 2; C. Greatrix (10 yards), 3. Time 2.31. Also started: McCall (40 yds.), Gordon (50 yds.), Gratz (35 yds.), A. E. Young (40 yds.), McLeod (scratch), Westbrook (75 yards).

One-mile open, amateur (limit 2.35)—Moore 1, Blayney 2, Thompson (pace) 3. Time 2.22. Also started—Davidson, Graves, McEachren, Hulse, Axton and Beemer.

Five miles, Donly Trophy, club event—Murdoch 1, Cunningham 2, Adams 3. Time 15.32.

One-mile open, professional—Elliott 1, McLeod 2, Gordon (pace) 3. Time 2.22 4-5. Also started: McCarthy, Greatrix, Gratz, McCall, A. E. Young, Davidson and Westbrook.

THE CANADIAN SCHEDULE.

At the meeting of the representatives of the London, Guelph and Hamilton Clubs at Stratford, a schedule was arranged, and the championship battle will continue until Sept. 12. There were present: Cal. Davis, sec.-treas.; John A. McLean, W. A. Knowles and John Henderson, representing Guelph; A. Sippi and Dr. P. B. Wood, representing London, and William Stroud, representing Hamilton.

All the members were anxious to continue ball playing. Manager Sippi pointed out that London could not play out the remainder of the old series because the dropping out of Galt left his team with only one home game instead of four and five games way. If any arrangement could be made by which London would have a share of home games, he was quite willing to play.

This schedule was unanimously adopted, as follows:

Saturday, Aug. 22—London at Guelph.
Tuesday, Aug. 25—Guelph at London.
Wednesday, Aug. 26—Hamilton at Guelph.
Friday, Aug. 28—London at Hamilton.
Saturday, Aug. 29—Guelph at London.
Tuesday, Sept. 1—London at Guelph.
Wednesday, Sept. 2—Guelph at Hamilton.
Friday, Sept. 4—Hamilton at London.
Saturday, Sept. 5—Hamilton at Guelph.
Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 7—Guelph at Hamilton.
Wednesday, Sept. 9—Hamilton at London.
Saturday, Sept. 12—London at Hamilton.
Home-and-home umpires were agreed upon.

It was also agreed that these games should take the place of the unfinished schedule, and that the standing shall remain as at present. The clubs, therefore, start out for the new series all in a bunch, the standing being:

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
London	13	12	.520
Guelph	14	13	.519
Hamilton	14	14	.500

A NEW PACING RECORD.

Portland, Me., Aug. 21.—The stallion Joe Patchen lowered the world's pacing record, held by John R. Gentry, to-day, at Rigby, by one-quarter of a second in a fresh wind, making the mile in 2.03. His quarters were :30½, :29¾, :30¼, :32¾. Patchen was paced by a runner known as Little Friend, and was driven by Jack Carry. He belongs to Col. Taylor of Chicago, and his former record was 2.04. He made an exhibition mile at Rigby on Wednesday in 2.03¾, and another in 2.04.

In the races Belle C. won the 2.28 trot in three straight heats. Best time 2.16¼. Nicola won the 2.23 trot, and Eddie R. had taken the two first heats. Best time 2.18. Roan Wilkes took the 2.12 pace in three straight heats. Best time 2.08¾.

JACK JEWITT WON.

New Hamburg, Aug. 21.—The free-for-all trotting race, under the auspices of the New Hamburg Turf Club, which was left uncompleted yesterday on account of darkness, was finished to-day, resulting: Jack Jewitt 1, Robert Russell 2, Captain Hunter 3. Jimmie Mack, Mambrino Hunter were the other starters. Time—2.16¼, 2.22¼, 2.18¼, 2.20¾, 2.20¾.

ARRESTED AT BUFFALO.

Joseph McCleary, a Canadian Lacrosse Man, Alleged to Have Put Up a Bunco Game.

Buffalo, Aug. 21.—Joseph McCleary, at one time a prominent lacrosse player, a Canadian, but lately a resident of this city, and a reputable building contractor, was arraigned in the Police Court this afternoon on a charge of grand larceny. With Archie C. Rollins, a Canadian foot racer, he is accused of putting up a job to bunco Joseph W. Shefter of Washington-street out of $100 in money which had been put up as stakes. The same game is said to have been worked at Niagara Falls and Lockport. The case was adjourned until to-morrow. McCleary was committed to jail for further examination, and Rollins was held as a witness.

THEY COUNT BY THE SCORE

Yea, By the Hundreds, Those Who Have Been Cured of Dire Disease By South American Nervine.

A Remedy Widespread and Universal In Its Application.

Where Other Medicines Have Failed and Doctors Have Pronounced the Cases Beyond Cure, This Great Discovery Has Proven a Genuine Elixir of Life.

The Same Verdict Comes From Old and Young, Male and Female, Rich and Poor, and From All Corners of the Dominion.

If it is the case that he who makes two blades of grass grow where only one had grown before is a benefactor of the race, what is the position to be accorded that man who by his knowledge of the laws of life and health gives energy and strength where languor, weakness and anticipation of an early death had before prevailed? Is not he also a public benefactor? Let those who have been down and are now up through the use of South American Nervine give their opinions on this subject. John Boyer, banker, of Kincardine, Ont., had made himself a hopeless invalid through years of overwork. At least he felt his case was hopeless, for the best physicians had failed to do him good. He tried Nervine, and these are his words: "I gladly say it: Nervine cured me and I am to-day as strong and well as ever." Samuel Rice, of Meaford, was cured of neuralgia of the stomach and bowels by three bottles of this medicine. Jas. Sherwood, of Windsor, at 70 years of age, suffered from an attack of paralysis. His life, at that age, was despaired of. But four bottles of Nervine gave him back his natural strength. A victim of indigestion, W. F. Bolger, of Renfrew, says: "Nervine cured me of my suffering, which seemed incurable, and had baffled all former methods and efforts." Peter Esson, of Paisley, lost flesh and rarely had a good night's sleep, because of stomach trouble. He says: "Nervine stopped the agonizing pains in my stomach the first day I used it. I have now taken two bottles and I feel entirely relieved and can sleep like a top." A representative farmer, of Western Ontario, is Mr. C. J. Curtis, residing near Windsor. His health was seemingly completely destroyed through la grippe. No medicine did him any good. "To three bottles of Nervine," he says, 'I attribute my restoration to health and strength." Neither man or woman can enjoy life when troubled with liver complaint. This was the sentiment and feeling of W. J. Hill, the well-known bailiff of Bracebridge. "I was so bad," says he, "that one of my medical attendants said that I was dying, but, thank God, I am not dead yet. From the first few doses I took of Nervine I commenced to feel better, and am to-day restored completely to my usual health." A resident of the Maritime Provinces, in the person of S. Jones, of Sussex, N.B., says: "For twelve years I was a martyr to indigestion, constipation and headache. The treatment of several physicians did not help me. I have taken a few bottles of Nervine, and can truthfully say that I am a new man."

A shrewd observer of human nature has said: "The hand that rocks the cradle moves the world." How important it is, then, that health and strength should be made the lot of the mothers of this country. The women of Canada are ready by scores to tell of the benefits that have come to them through the use of South American Nervine. Mrs. R. Armstrong, of Orillia, wife of the colporteur, of the Bible Society of that town, suffered for six years from nervous prostration. Medical assistance did not help. "In all," she says, "I have taken six bottles of Nervine, and can truthfully say this is the one medicine that has effected a cure in my case." Mrs. John Dinwoody has been for 40 years a resident of Flesherton, and has reached the allotted three-score years and ten. Three years ago her system sustained a severe shock through the death of a daughter. Nervine was recommended. She perseveringly took 12 bottles of medicine, with the result that she is to-day again strong and hearty. Hundreds of women suffer from impoverished blood and weakened nerves. "All vitality," says Mrs. J. Bailis, of Brampton, "seemed to have forsaken my system. I was unable to get relief from any source until I commenced taking South American Nervine. The results are most satisfactory—greater far than I could have hoped for." It came within the way of Mrs. H. Stapleton, of Wingham, to treat under the best physicians, both in Canada and England, for heart disease and nervous debility, but she failed to get any relief. "I was advised," she says, "to take South American Nervine, and must say I do believe that if I had not done so I would not be alive to-day."

Newspaper space is too valuable to permit of further additions to these earnest words of testimony from those who know just what they are talking about. In the common language of the day, they have been there, and are speaking from the heart. The dozen or more witnesses that here speak have their counterparts by the hundreds, not only in the province of Ontario, but in every other section of the Dominion. South American Nervine is based on a scientific principle that makes a cure a certainty, no matter how desperate the case may be. It strikes at the nerve centers from which flows the life blood of the whole system. It is not a medicine of patchwork, but is complete and comprehensive in its application.

TURNING GRAY
AND THREATENED
WITH BALDNESS
The Danger is Averted by Using
AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only an occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good, natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—Mrs. H. M. HAIGHT, Avoca, Neb.

THE HORSE NETTLE.

All About This Pestiferous Meadow-Land Weed—How to Eradicate.

This pest of many a good meadow farm is commonly found from Canada south to Florida and west to Texas. Its common name, horse nettle, botanical Solanum Carolinense, does not indicate that this weed is closely related to the cultivated potato, but the botanical name of the genus shows close relationship. An examination of the flowers shows they much resemble those of the potato, being bluish or whitish in color. The berry, commonly called the seed, also resembles that formed on the potato. The leaves have large prickles on the midrib and some of the larger lateral ribs. They are also slightly hairy. The stem is beset with numerous stout prickles. Many of the related plants of this genus are annuals, but the horse nettle is a deep-rooted perennial, its roots often extending three feet or more into the soil. This fact makes it a very tenacious weed, very difficult to exterminate. For this reason the weed grows in dense patches, which are carefully avoided by stock in pastures. I would advise plowing the land at this season, allowing none of the leaves to appear. The plants should be kept down the succeeding year. Plow the ground again next summer. Sow thickly with rye and keep watch of the nettle, allowing none to grow. Careful work for two seasons should remove it.—Prof. L. H. Pammel, in Farm and Home.

The Mission of Weeds.

The one deplorable fact in the minds of most farmers is the existence of weeds. From the time the boy is old enough to vent his energy in the smothered carrot bed, he is everywhere and always impressed with the fact that he must hoe to kill weeds. From youth to old age the burden is upon his mind and back. Writers of agricultural literature have taken up the wail, and have drawn it out to disproprotionate lengths by specifying long lists of plants which are often weedy intruders, and by describing their habits and migrations in vivid detail. Prof. Bailey, one of the Agricultural Experiment Station directors in the United States, thus points out the benefits indirectly conferred on farmers by the many weeds so familiar to all tillers of the soil: The truth is that weeds always have been and still are the closest friends and helpmates of the farmer. It was they which first taught the lesson of tillage of the soil, and it is they which never allow the lesson, now that it has been partly learned, to be forgotten. The one only and sovereign remedy for them is the very tillage which they have introduced. When their mission is finally mature, therefore, they will disappear because there will be no place in which they can grow. It would be a great calamity if they were now to disappear from the earth, for the greater number of farmers still need the discipline which they enforce. Probably not one farmer in ten would till his land well if it were not for these painstaking schoolmasters, and many of them would not till at all. Until farmers till for tillage's sake and not to kill the weeds it is necessary that the weeds shall exist; but when farmers do till for tillage sake, then weeds will disappear with no effort of ours.

A Home-Made Hand Cart.

Nearly every farmer is possessed of an old, worn-out buggy or vehicle of some sort from which he can obtain a pair of wheels and an axle. Take the axle (a) to a blacksmith and have it cut and welded to measure about 2 1-2 feet between the wheels. Then get two strong oak pieces for handles, about 2x3 inches and 5 1-2 to 6 feet long, and shave them down into shape (b). Next get four small iron straps (c) with bolt holes at the ends (e) to lay across handles at f, and likewise four more to fit directly under axle. Connect these with light, strong bolts, letting ends of handles reach about twelve inches over axle (g), and just wide enough apart to admit a milk can between. About three inches from the end, at h, bore two small holes and drive in two iron or hardwood pegs, leaving about an inch out to catch in handles of can. Bolt on a crosspiece (i) underneath handles, put on wheels, and your cart is done. With this cart a man can pick up and wheel on the level an ordinary milk can of milk, water, swill or other substance; it can be used for wheeling bags of grain, baskets, boxes, etc., by setting on axle and crosspiece. In fact, no farmer knows the number of uses to which such a cart can be put till he has tried one for awhile on his farm.—J. Green, Leeds Co., in Farmers' Advocate.

Seems as if all the things we like disagree with us, and all the things we don't like, agree with us. Dyspepsia lurks in most of the good things that we eat, and indigestion follows the gratification of appetite. Of course, it isn't Nature's fault. Nature does the best she can, and if a man will only help her a little bit at the right time, he may eat what he likes and as much as he likes. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are for people who are troubled with indigestion. Particularly for those in whom it manifests itself in the form of constipation. The "Pellets" are quick and easy in their action. They are in perfect harmony with Nature. They effect a permanent cure. You need take them regularly only a little while. After that, use them occasionally when you need them—when you have eaten anything that disagrees with you. They may be taken just as freely as you would take water or any other necessity of life. Once used they are always in favour.

Care of Gloves.

Always stretch them out smooth and put in a box without doubling when removed from the hands. A nice addition to the glove box is a scented satchet, giving the gloves a delicate odor when worn.

An error that is commonly made is that of mending kid gloves with sewing silk, as the silk cuts the kid and shows the mend more plainly, while fine cotton thread gives a much more satisfactory result. If the gloves are torn, put a piece of silk of corresponding shade under the torn part, baste carefully so as not to reveal the stitches on the right side and then draw up the rent with cotton thread.

A few good glove cleaners are recommended, but it is generally better to send the glove to one who makes this his business than to experiment on them, for, like the mending, it is a trade in itself. But, whenever you do, take warning by the fate of a nice pair of driving gloves we once had, and never try to polish them up with French shoe dressing. The way it came about, we read in one of the papers that an application of this liquid would renew the youth and beauty of old and badly-soiled kid gloves, and deeming newspaper lore to be relied upon, we put it into effect, but ,alas! the result was a revelation. To be sure, there were no soiled spots remaining visible, but the shine on those gloves made them positively reflective, and the way they adhered to the reins turned our thoughts to agricultural affairs and molasses candy. In conclusion, we have only to say: Mend, patch, clean or wash your gloves, but never try French shoe dressing. It doesn't work.

Think it Over.

Have you heard of a medicine with such a record of cures as Hood's Sarsaparilla? Don't you know that Hood's Sarsaparilla, the One True Blood Purifier, has proved, over and over again, that it has power to cure, even after all other remedies fail? If you have impure blood you may take Hood's Sarsaparilla with the utmost confidence that it will do you good.

Mr. John Anderson, Kinloss, writes: "I venture to say few, if any, have received greater benefit from the use of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, than I have. I have used it regularly for over ten years and have recommended it to all sufferers I know of, and they also found it of great virtue in cases of severe bronchitis and incipient consumption.

IS LI A BOODLER?

Admiral Dunlop, Formerly of the Chinese Service, Says He is a Fair Sample of One.

Montreal, Aug. 21.—(Special.)—Admiral Dunlop, formerly of the Chinese service, is here en route for home. He has a very fair opinion of Li Hung Chang and says the ex-Viceroy is a confirmed boodler, having made all of his immense fortune, the largest in China, by means that would be most dishonorable in any other country. The Admiral adds that Li was in semi-disgrace when he left China, and will probably not be restored to favor, as a great many think he has made enough money and should now give others a chance.

WERE THE FIVE DROWNED ?

The Body of One of a Missing Fishing Party Found in the St. Lawrence Near Quebec.

Quebec, Aug. 22.—On the 18th inst. five men of Berthier, County of Montmagny, left in a small boat for a fishing trip around the Quarantine Station, Grosse Isle. Nothing of them has been heard until this afternoon, when the body of one of the men, named Lesperance, was found by J. B. Turcotte and A. Dancause of this place. The whereabouts of the boat and the other four men is unknown. It is supposed the boat was smashed to atoms on the rocks and all her occupants drowned. The names of the four missing men are Joseph Lesperance, brother of the man whose body was found, Boissonneault and Coillard of St. Pierre, Montmagny, and young Fortin of St Thomas village. They were all married men except young Fortin. Lesperance was a widower and leaves three young children.

COUNTERFEIT SEALS.

The Walkerville Distillery Gets Trail of and Prosecutes a Simcoe, Ont., Dealer, Who is Fined.

Montreal, Aug. 23.—(Special.)—The Canadian Secret Service has just concluded a case of the greatest possible interest, not only to liquor dealers in particular, but to the general public. Early this month the firm of Hiram Walker & Sons, Walkerville, Ont., in examining a consignment of empty barrels sent back to them by customers for rebate, noticed on one of them a counterfeit seal. It may be mentioned here that several years ago, finding it of common occurrence that their barrels were tampered with in transit, and either a portion drawn off and the barrel left short weight or water and coloring substituted to cover up the theft, the firm affixed a seal to each barrel, a portion on the bung and the other half on the barrel.

It was this seal that it was found counterfeited and Hiram Walker & Sons at once communicated with Chief Carpenter of the Canadian Secret Service. That gentleman at once detailed an officer to carry out the instructions of the firm, that is to discover the counterfeiter with such evidence as would lead to his conviction. On looking over the barrels returned from Norfolk, Ont., the officer found several bearing the counterfeit seal. He traced these barrels to James Cutting, wholesale liquor dealer of Simcoe, Ont., and after further hard work secured sufficient evidence to warrant action being taken against Cutting. Acting under the advice of Walker & Sons, the officer proceeded to prosecute. A search warrant was taken out and a thorough examination of Cutting's premises resulted in the discovery of the counterfeit stamp and a number of barrels bearing the counterfeit seal. Cutting at once confessed to the officer. He said he had got the counterfeit seal made in Chicago while visiting the World's Fair. It was his practice, when the original barrels of whisky came from Hiram Walker & Sons, to remove the original seal, take out the bung and remove about quarter of the contents. He then colored an equal quantity of water with burnt sugar and dumped it into the barrel to prevent the shortage from being discovered. This done, he would replace the bung, affix the bogus seal and ship to customers.

Cutting was at once arraigned before the Police Magistrate of Simcoe, Mr. Beemer, on a charge of counterfeiting. He pleaded guilty, elected to be tried summarily, and was heavily fined.

With the Sweetness of Melting Foam Fragrant Ivorine for the teeth dissolves in the mouth. A delightful preparation for the teeth is Ivorine, so fragrant and cleansing, so pleasant to the taste, and efficient beyond the desire of the most exacting. A dream of elegance and efficiency, for it whitens and purifies, affording brilliantly white teeth and breath as sweet and fragrant as that of the flowers.

DYING WHILE HE RAN.

The Awful Death of Oscar Wammock, an Oil Driller—He Was Burned Alive.

Findlay, O., Aug. 22.—Oscar Wammock met his death in a horrible manner last night near Bluffton. He was drilling in an oil well, when the well unexpectedly began spurting oil. Wammock's clothing was completely saturated with the oil, and as he started to run from the derrick, the gas from the well ignited from the fire under the boiler enveloped the driller in a sheet of flame. He continued to run until his clothing was nearly all burned off him, when he fell. He died a short time later. His home was at Fairview, Penn. The derrick and surrounding buildings were all consumed. The well, which is still flowing oil above the tree tops, makes a pillar of fire visible for miles around.

DROWNED IN THE MILL DAM.

The Sad End of Ambrose Winter, a Young Man of Hespeler.

Hespeler, Ont., Aug. 22.—Yesterday afternoon a young unmarried man named Ambrose Winter was drowned in the milldam at Fisher's mill about two miles from this place. The unfortunate victim was fishing and is believed to have fallen into the water while in a fit. Some years ago he met with a serious accident and has been subject to fits ever since. Not returning home, a search was instituted and his body was soon recovered quite near the shore. He was the son of Mr. Fountain Winter and was one of a large and highly respected family.

Blaze at Alexandria.

Alexandria, Aug. 21.—About 3 o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the stables belonging to D. & A. McPhee, which spread quite rapidly, destroying them, also those of the St. Lawrence Hotel. The hotel was also gutted and D. & A. McPhee's store, J. McLeister's drug store and the Misses McDonald's millinery store. The greater part of the goods from the several stores were carried out and strewn along the streets and were damaged more or less. The loss is not yet known. It is partially covered by insurance. Cause supposed to be incendiarism.

A Ship Lost on Java.

Batavia, Java, Aug. 21.—The American ship Gov. Goodwin, Captain Oakes, from New York April 29 for Chee-Foo, is ashore on Prince's Island and is a total loss. The crew were all saved. The Gov. Goodwin was a wooden ship of 1450 tons. She was built in Boston, Mass., in 1877, and owned by Foster & Pray of Boston.

New York Diamond Firm in Trouble.

New York, Aug. 21.—Leopold Weil & Co., diamond and jewelry dealers, are in financial difficulties. They have transferred all their stock and accounts to secure some of their principal creditors. The trouble is attributed to the banks shutting down on discounts. Liabilities $130,000. It is said the assets are sufficient to pay all debts, but cannot be realized on at present.

Etiquette in a Colorado Hotel.

A gentleman of Carrollton who has lately returned from the west has brought with him a copy of some of the rules he found posted in a hotel dining room, says the Baltimore Sun.

The hotel was the "Rustlers' Rest," at Little Cayuse Creek, Col. The "Rules for the Guidance of Guests" follow:

"All gents with shooting irons or other weapons must check them before entering the dining room. Waiters are too scarce to be killed.

"Gents are requested not to attract the waiters' attention by throwing things at them. This is no deaf mute asylum.

"Seven kinds of pie are given with every dinner.

"Tablecloths are changed every Sunday.

"Our food is all of the best quality. Our milk is pure, eggs new-laid and the butter speaks for itself.

"Guests tipping waiters must pay funeral expenses in case one should die from heart disease.

"No more than six eggs will be given each at a sitting. Any guest found trying to work off his shells on a neighbor will be fired from the table.

"Biscuits found riveted together can be opened with a chisel supplied by a waiter. The use of dynamite is strictly forbidden.

"Disputes over articles of food must be settled outside.

"Don't lasso the waiters, because the guest who can't throw the rope will be at a disadvantage.

"Gents can take off their coats if they want, but they must keep on their vests."

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak, shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy and as I do not wish to expose myself either, please address, simply: P. O. Box 388, London, Ont.

TERRIFIC STORM AT THE FALLS.

Thunder and Lightning Accompanied by a Heavy Downpour—Church Struck.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Aug. 23.—A most terrific thunderstorm, accompanied by a small cyclone and heavy downpour, passed over this town about 1 o'clock this morning. The lightning was sharp and peals of thunder cracked with terrific force, that shook the buildings like an earthquake and aroused the town. Only one place so far heard from was struck by the lightning, that being the spire of the Presbyterian Church, the electric fluid entering at the top of the spire, ripping out the south side, tearing the large timbers inside into splinters and ripping off a portion of the cornice as it shot down to the ground. Damage to the church about $400. Slight damage in the country to the fruit being whipped by the wind.

WRECKAGE

From the Big Sale

In the shape of Remnants, Odd Lots and Tail Ends from every department, have been rooted out, ticketed and marked at prices to close them with a rush. It's a fitting wind-up for the biggest selling event in our history. A few days will do the business, and sharp's the word.

Remnants of Cloths.

Nothing wrong with them. The last few yards of the piece cost us just as much as the first. Going to sell them at a sacrifice though; they litter the stock. Good picking here for the Boy's Fall School Suits. Why not look ahead a bit and by so doing save a dollar? Price of each remnant in plain figures. They're all spread out on the shelves and you can make an easy selection.

Broken Lots of Men's Pants.

Good sizes and lengths among them. Some at about one-half regular prices. They'll move quick when the news gets out.

Good-by to Summer Ties.

The left-overs are going to be turned into money at short notice. The prices are absurd, but we don't want to winter them.

Men's and Boy's Suits.

Not a question of worth, but what price will sell them. It will pay you to be among the first. The pick is worth something. 300 Suits to pick from, well made and finished, the products of some of the best known makers. A lot of our own make included.

Broken Lots of Hosiery and Underwear.

Odd dozens and half-dozens, all out on the counter, and they're not going back into the shelves with our consent. Can you use them? If so, help us to get rid of them.

Summer Suits and Separate Parts.

Some made of Wool Serge, some of Cricketing Flannel, some of Silk and some of Lustre and Alpaca. Only about a dozen of each, but we want the room more than the goods.

Summer Boots & Shoes.

The Fall Styles will be about the same as these; they're all new this season. Not many shelves full, but you save just half. Not often that 50c does the work of $1.00 but we need the room.

Shirts and Collars.

They might as well go with the rest. We won't profit financially on the sales, but that makes no difference, so long as we can clean up the overplus.

Last Call on Felt and Straw Hats.

And a loud call it is. Mostly broken lots, but none the worse for that. If your size, style or kind is among them then you're in luck, for the prices are out loose entirely from the values.

THE BATTLE IS ON.

Debate on the Address Begun at Ottawa.

McINNES AND LEMIEUX OPEN OUT

Both Made Good Speeches, After Which Sir Charles Tupper Launched Forth Against the Government—The Premier Ably Replies to the Opposition Leader.

Ottawa, Aug. 24.—The proceedings in the Commons to-day were of a very lively character. The first business on hand was the disposal of a number of questions.

Mr. Cameron had five queries in reference to Captain McGregor of the Government survey boat Bayfield, charging him with being an active political canvasser and partisan on behalf of the Conservative candidate in West Huron.

Mr. Davies said the Government was not aware that Captain McGregor was an active political canvasser for the Conservatives, but complaints in that direction had lately been made to the Department, which complaints would be investigated. On the occasion of the general election, Captain McGregor was absent from the Bayfield for some days, presumably for the purpose of voting. He was so absent with the knowledge of the Government. No record of any application for leave of absence was received, but the officer in charge of the survey was authorized to grant leave to any officer if he wished to go and vote.

In reply to another question by Mr. Cameron, Mr. Davies said the Government was not aware that Captain Dunn, of the Government cruiser Petrel, had conveyed voters from various ports on the east coast of Lake Huron to Owen Sound to vote for the Conservative candidate. No record was on hand in the department to show that the cruiser had been used for any such purpose. Captain Dunn had instructions to go into Lake Huron to patrol the waters of that lake. He was not limited to any particular point.

Mr. Cameron was informed by Mr. Laurier that it was not the intention of the Government during the present session to introduce a bill to repeal the present Franchise Act, the intention being as far as practicable that the session should be short and expeditious. Should, however, the session be prolonged beyond the expected length the Government might then think it advisable to introduce a bill to repeal the present Franchise Act. (Opposition laughter.)

Sir Richard Cartwright, answering Mr. Langelier, said that two tenders had been received for the fast steamship service between Canada and England, one from the Allan Line, the other from Mr. James Huddart. Neither was in accordance with the conditions of the contract. The Government proposed to make further investigations before taking final action in the matter.

Mr. Laurier informed Mr. Langelier that it was not the intention of the Government to build a bridge in front of Quebec to connect the I.C.R. with the C.P.R. The Government had no application before them for aid for such an enterprise.

Mr. Fielding informed Mr. Davin that the matter of placing a sum in the estimates to pay the outstanding indebtedness in connection with the Northwest Exhibition held in Regina in 1895 was under consideration.

Mr. Davies informed Col. Kaulbach that the fishery bounty was regulated by statute and it was not the intention of the Government at the present session to introduce any legislation on the subject.

So also said Mr. Fielding to Mr. Kaulbach in the matter of placing Indian corn on the free list.

Mr. Laurier informed Sir C. H. Tupper that the Controllers of Inland Revenue and Customs under the existing law were not and could not be members of the Cabinet. The intention of the Government to restore these departments to their former status had already been announced by the Prime Minister.

Sir Charles Tupper called attention to the report of Mr. Laurier's speech, delivered in Montreal on Jan. 22, 1895, in which he claimed that under a revenue tariff all the raw materials should be free. He asked if Mr. Laurier had been accurately reported.

Mr. Laurier replied: "I must tell my honorable friend that, notwithstanding every desire I have to oblige him, I am afraid I shall not be able to gratify his rather fastidious curiosity. I am forced to make the painful admission that my memory, which I had the weakness to suppose was pretty good, is not equal to the task of remembering word for word a speech delivered more than 18 months ago."

Mr. Davies informed Major Hughes that no decision had been reached by the Government in respect to abandoning the Trent Canal enterprise. The matter of entering into new contracts was under consideration.

Sir Charles Tupper asked whether the Premier had considered the urgent appeal which he made the other day to have the correspondence between His Excellency and the late Government laid on the table in order that it might be under consideration in connection with the debate on the address.

Mr. Laurier said he had, and saw no reason to depart from the decision which he had communicated to the honorable gentleman. The intention was to have the correspondence laid on the table immediately after the debate on the address was concluded. He proposed to have it printed so that members could be all cognizant of it.

Mr. McInnes, Vancouver, B. C., on rising to move the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne, was received with Liberal cheers. He acknowledged the compliment made to his native province by the selection of himself for this task, the first time that such a compliment had ever been paid to British Columbia. He then launched out into a description of the resources of the province, condemning the late Government for their unprogressive policy towards the great west. He pointed out that British Columbia contributed $2,000,000 per annum to the Dominion revenue and the most the province had ever received in the way of appropriation amounted to $1,200,000. For the last five years there had been a direct drain from British Columbia of three-quarters of a million per annum. He proceeded to eulogise the mining resources of the province, suggesting the establishment of a mint there and of a Department of Mines, under the Federal Ministry, to be placed in charge of a British Columbia representative. The members from British Columbia looked to the new Government to give them justice in the matter of Cabinet representation. He then dwelt upon the Chinese immigration question, proceeded to attack Sir Charles Tupper as the great stretcher and charged the late Government with fostering monopolies and creating depression throughout the country. An evidence of this depression was found in the fact that nearly every member of the House had had his life almost pestered out of him by applicants, some of whom were men of intelligence and refinement, for some miserable petty position. (Opposition laughter.) If relief was not accorded to the working classes from these legislative halls that relief would be enacted in the streets. (Laughter and "Oh, oh!") He looked to the present Government to do justice to all parties in the matter of the tariff. As to the school question, he said it was satisfactory to know that the question would be settled by conciliation. The Conservatives were now in the position of a foiled seducer, being engaged in the task of maligning and blackguarding the Province of Quebec, a province which they could neither win nor conquer. (Government cheers.) In North Grey the cry was against French domination. He expressed full confidence in the present Government, which he believed would build a democracy which would be happy and contented under Liberal rule. (Cheers.)

Mr. Lemieux, the young member for Gaspe, seconded the address in a speech in French. He declared that the Quebec Liberals approved the selection of Mr. Edgar for the Speakership. Coming to the Manitoba school question he said that after dodging the issue by every device for years the Conservatives had at last essayed a settlement by bringing down a bill into the House more remarkable for what it left out than for what it contained, guaranteeing nothing substantial to the minority. Then he added that the only way to settle this question was by the Liberal policy of toleration and conciliation. He was proud of the accession to the Premiership of a native of Quebec, but it should be remembered that French-Canadian loyalty was not only to one flag that floated over the citadel of Quebec, but to the British constitution wherever the meteor flag of Britain was unfurled. He concluded with a plea for unity of the races in the cause of Canadian development.

Sir Charles Tupper congratulated the mover and seconder upon their speeches, remarking that Mr. McInnes' speech was, while vigorously delivered, given in a rather aggressive spirit. He had referred to this being the first time upon which British Columbia had been honored by having one of its representatives move the address, but towards the close of his speech the hon. member had urged strongly, but of course unselfishly, upon his Government the necessity of having British Columbia represented in the Cabinet. In the late Conservative Government British Columbia had been so represented, but the hon. member evidently thought the privilege of moving the address the greater benefit to the province. Mr. McInnes was incorrect in attributing the Liberal success in British Columbia to a change in the sentiment of the people. The trouble was that there were too many Conservative candidates, and to that the honorable member owed his own election, for he was in a minority of 450 votes, as compared with the votes cast for his two Conservative opponents. Sir Charles could, however, congratulate the seconder of the address upon his patriotic speech, although he considered the facts, especially as regards Quebec, were against his contention that the Conservatives had done nothing for the fishermen and the farmer. The Liberals had opposed the encouragement to farming and dairying given by the Conservatives, as well as the Treaty of Washington, under which an award was obtained which enabled the Conservative Government to pay $150,000 a year in bonuses to the fishermen.

As to the Liberal victory, Sir Charles was pleased so far as it had elevated to the Premiership a representative of the French-Canadian race, but he regretted the mode by which this victory had been obtained. He had not obtained a majority upon any of the great issues upon which the two parties were divided. After the victory of 1878, Sir Leonard Tilley brought down a tariff bill, crystallising the policy of protection, so as to draw the admission from the Liberals that the Conservatives had certainly carried out their pledges. Now as late as 1893, Sir Richard Cartwright stated the fiscal policy of the Liberals to be to destroy this villainous protective system, which had been grinding out the vitals of our people. (Laughter.) He repeated in 1894 that the Liberal policy was, "First and last to do away with protection. How? I do not care." Mr. Davies had declared the issue to be "Free trade versus protection," eliminating from the tariff every vestige of protection." Mr. Laurier, himself, declared that the duty on coal and iron should be removed.

But as the campaign proceeded, the Liberal leader got new light and most emphatically declared that the policy of protection was not to be overthrown, but improved. He had, therefore, received no mandate from the people to break down the policy of protection and adopt free trade or a revenue tariff, as had been the professed object of the Liberals for years past, and he congratulated the Hon. First Minister on the enlightened views which he had at last been induced to adopt, promising, as it did, security to our industries in consequence of that enlightenment. (Cheers.)

Sir Charles went on to charge Mr. Laurier with having one policy in Ontario and another in Quebec, denied having appealed to the electors of Canada, in his Winnipeg speech, to reject Mr. Laurier, because he was a Frenchman and a Roman Catholic, claimed that the Conservatives had a popular majority of 19,000 in the late election, denied having had any communication with the Bishops of Quebec prior to the election, and attempted to justify his course in throwing overboard Remedial Legislation as a part of the Conservative policy. He also attacked Mr. Laurier's alleged proposal to allow the United States joint control of the Canadian canal system, claimed the National Policy had kept Canada from experiencing depression and urged that the Government do not paralyze Canadian industries by delay and uncertainty in dealing with the tariff. He concluded by asserting that protection was absolutely indispensable.

Premier Laurier Follows.

Mr. Laurier was received with great Liberal applause as he arose to reply. He had not much fault to find with Sir Charles Tupper's speech, nor would he criticise it at length. Everything considered, it was a moderate speech for Sir Charles Tupper had given up a high office, unlike Caesar though; he came and saw, but had not conquered. It was evident, he continued, that Sir Charles was not yet aware of the cause of the recent political earthquake. He would not go minutely into the charge that the Liberals had not won upon any issue before the people; he would simply say, "Here we are, and there are they." So, too, he preferred to look at the general result rather than go minutely into the argument that the party defeated had 10,000 more votes than the victors. What then became of the much-talked" of gerrymander? (Opposition cries of Hear, hear.) There were other causes for the Conservative defeat. First, because their fiscal policy, misnamed the National Policy, had not fulfilled the expectation of the people; second, because of the extravagance and corruption of their administration; third, because, instead of appealing to the conviction and conscience of the people, they had appealed to sectional and religious prejudices, thereby creating distrust, and a division in their party that would never be healed. (A voice, It's all healed now.) It was because of these two Conservative parties that the mover of the address had been elected. And as to his speech, he was bound to say that Mr. McInnes had pled the cause of British Columbia as he had never heard it pled before. (Hear, hear and laughter.)

Sir Charles, evidently believing, with Talleyrand, that speech was given us to conceal our thoughts, accused him of undue candor in his interview with an American newspaper reporter. The same could not be charged against Sir Charles, who, in 1891, declared that the Conservatives had been invited to undertake negotiations at Washington, and after Mr. Blaine's denial, was forced to eat humble pie, before he could get an audience at Washington. As to consenting to joint control by the United States of canals in Canada, he was only following out the policy of the late Administration, and in support of this read an order in council, commissioning two Canadian engineers to act with those appointed by the United States in furtherance of the Mothers

Anxiously watch declining health of their daughters. So many are cut off by consumption in early years that there is real cause for anxiety. In the early stages, when not beyond the reach of medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla will restore the quality and quantity of the blood and thus give good health. Read the following letter:

"It is but just to write about my daughter Cora, aged 19. She was completely run down, declining, had that tired feeling, and friends said she would not live over three months. She had a bad

THE FREE SILVER CRAZE.

Henry Clews' Opinions on the Subject

Mr. Henry Clews, of the banking firm of H. Clews & Co., New York, in his latest weekly circular, says:—

Bourke Cockran's speech, delivered at Madison Square Garden, was a powerful and convincing argument for the maintenance of sound money and a severe arraignment against the silver heresy, and will prove an important factor in bringing about an improved tone to the business situation. All accounts go to show that the silver craze is pronouncedly on the wane. It must be remembered that most people living in this country who are natives of others make frequent remittances to aid aged and infirm relatives whom they left behind them in their native lands. This applies very largely to the Irish and the Germans. A remittance of £1 now costs $5. If this country goes on a silver basis, a remittance of £1 will then cost $10, which will come pretty hard for many of our liberal-minded adopted citizens who are in moderate circumstances. Silver has receded during the past week to 66c. an ounce. Those who believe that Mr. Bryan is going to be elected should have the courage of their convictions and buy silver at 66c. to sell at $1.29. Mr. Bryan distinctly stated in his Madison Square Garden speech that under a free silver law silver would sell at $ 1.29. Silver would not now go begging at about one-half that price if Mr. Bryan's statement was believed. People who are hoarding gold through the fear of free silver coinage would be wiser to buy silver in place of gold. It would be a more sagacious operation. It would appear that it

COULD NOT GO VERY MUCH LOWER than the present, whereas there is a fair margin for it to advance to some extent, temporarily at least, but certainly not to $1 29 per ounce, to make it on a parity with gold, which the ratio of 16 to 1 calls for. The time will never come, in my judgment, when it will go over a dollar an ounce, even under a free and independent 16 to 1 ratio silver law. International bimetallism, however, would be a different thing. For this country to move it up to that point alone would be a physical impossibility, considering the world's production, which would pour in upon this country for sale, this being, under these circumstances, the best market for the white metal. With the facilities for transportation all over the world, with the aid of cable and telegraphic communication, all products, wherever produced, quickly go to the highest market for their disposal. I remember some years ago spending a summer at Long Branch and I gave a small entertainment to a few friends. At that time the waters of that section were noted for the best soft shell crabs to be found anywhere. I went far and wide amongst the fishermen to buy some for this festive occasion, but they were not obtainable. I found it was an extensive business with hundreds of people down there, but they were all under contract to send their entire product to New York, which was their best market. So it would be with silver. America for the world's production, and everybody engaged in that industry would be under contract to forward the white metal to this country. Under such circumstances, how silly it is for anybody to predict that under free and independent coinage of silver at 16 to 1 it could ever reach the $1 29 mark and be maintained for twenty-four hours together. The competitors for its sale would be from every part of the world, and this country would be swamped beyond recovery in less than a year after the floodgates were opened.

If it is fair for the silver mine owners to take 53 cents worth of bullver to the mint and have it converted into coin with the United States stamp upon it under a law making it a legal tender for a full dollar, why should not the amount of pulp required to make a greenback dollar be accepted by the Government as the equivalent of a legal tender dollar bill? Whatever the United States Government puts its stamp on as money, under a law providing therefor, would make any one thing just as good as another, whether it is paper pulp, iron, copper or silver, until the Government credit became swamped by an excess of it. Then, of course, all value disappears in such materials excepting the intrinsic value which such material possesses. A Mexican dollar under a free silver law can be taken to the Treasury and converted into a United States silver dollar, temporarily worth double the value of the Mexican dollar; but after the country has been flooded with an excess of this money the value will simply sink to the market value of bullion as to its purchasing power money quality. The law of supply and demand is the final regulator in all kinds of commodities. The silver advocates say that when they get into power they will repeal the law of supply and demand, and thereby prevent the depreciation of silver money coined by the United States, even though it becomes excessive. This is one of their best points, as mostly all are equally visionary.

A LITTLE STRANGER

Whose Father is Past Seventy Years of Age

AND THE MOTHER IS PAST SIXTY

Mina Ruth Gillivray is Five Days Old, Weighs Ten Pounds and is Her Mother's Twenty-First Child— A Very Remarkable Case in Toronto.

Toronto, Aug. 25.

One of the latest little strangers to arrive in town is Mina Ruth Gillivray, who came last Wednesday. She is now five days old and weighs about ten pounds. Her parents reside in a little frame cottage at 30 Regent-street. The father, William Gillivray, who is employed at the crematory, has reached the allotted span of three score and ten years of life, and the mother was 40 years of age last July.

A newspaper reporter called at the cottage to see little Mina Ruth last night. Mr. Gillivray was out, but Mrs. Gillivray, who is not yet able to be up, called out that if he was a married man he could come in. The scribe pleaded guilty and was allowed to enter. On a neat little bed, covered with spotless white clothes, little Mina Ruth lay beside her mother. The child is very pretty and the mother has evidently, in her day been a very handsome woman. Her hair is now almost white, but she bears her age well and is one of those kindly souls, eminently fitted by nature to be a real mother. She told the reporter that the little bit of humanity beside her was her 21st child, but only seven of them are now living.

Mrs. Gillivray was formerly a Mrs. Newman and came with her first husband from Cheltenham, Eng., over 20 years ago. She had 18 children by her first husband, whom she married when she was only 15 years of age. He has been dead a good many years. Mrs. Newman married Mr. Gillivray five years ago, and since then little Mina Ruth is her third child. The first, a charming little girl, now three years and eight months old, is, owing to her old-fashioned ways, a marvel to the neighbors, and is such a pet with everyone that the mother is in constant dread that someone will take the child from her. A little boy, born to Mr. and Mrs. Gillivray a couple of years ago, died a few days after birth.

Mrs. Gillivray is an active member of Berkeley-street Methodist Church and places the most entire trust in the will of Divine Providence. She says it is God's will that she should have brought so many children into the world, and she thanks Him fervently for the blessing.

Two years ago Mrs. Gillivray's hair, which had then hardly a streak of grey in it, turned white in a week. It was at the time her son, who was 29 years of age, died suddenly in Blackwood, Dakota, just as he was on the eve of coming home to see her, after a separation of many years. Her eldest son living is now 37 years old.

Little Mina Ruth is getting along nicely, but the mother is not so well as she would wish.

DR. GALLAGHER'S FREEDOM.

The Irish Dynamiter's Expenses Will be Paid by the U.S. Government.

London, Aug. 24.—It is learned by the United Associated Presses on official authority that Dr. Gallagher, the Irish-American, who, with Daly, Whitehead and others, convicted as dynamiters, has been confined in Portland Prison, will be released in the course of the next ten days and will sail for the United States without delay. The United States Government, through M. J. R. Roosevelt, Secretary of the United States Embassy, will pay the passage of Dr. Gallagher and the physician attending him to New York.

A Package Containing Money Mysteriously Disappears From the Safe at Joliette Station in Quebec.

Montreal, Aug. 24.—(Special.)—The officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway are working in conjunction with the detectives of the Canadian Secret Service Bureau to recover a package containing $6000, which, together with other moneys belonging to the railway company, mysteriously disappeared from the safe at Joliette Station between the hours of 10 o'clock on Friday evening and 7 o'clock on Saturday.

ROWED OUT TO DEATH.

W. N. Winans, a Detroit Drygoods Man, Jumps Out of a Boat.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 24.—W. N. Winans, a well-known drygoods dealer of this city, committed suicide at 3 o'clock this afternoon. He hired a rowboat, rowed out on the river and jumped into the water. The body was recovered. Winans was in financial trouble. He was about 40 years old and leaves a widow and one son.

Turkey Will Give Crete a New Constitution and Appoint a Christian Governor—The Amount of Tribute.

Athens, Aug. 24.—The Porte has signified its willingness to accept the terms of the proposal for the settlement of the Cretan troubles, which originated with Count Goluchowski, Austrian Minister of Foreign Affairs. The proposal is that Turkey grant to Crete a new constitution, the main features of which are the appointment of a Christian Governor and the establishment of Cretan financial autonomy, with the payment of tribute to the Sultan under the general guarantee of the European powers, the amount of tribute to be paid annually to be based upon the ratio of revenues of the Island. The terms of the proposal were also submitted on Friday to the Christian deputies of Crete by the foreign consuls at Canea and a majority of the deputies have signified their adherence to its conditions.

CURE OF DROPSY.

Only a Positive Symptom—Not a Disease of itself—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Campbellford, (Special) Aug. 17.—An unlooked for and remarkable recovery from advanced stage of dropsy is just made public here. It is the case of Mrs. John Weese, wife of the widely known veteran stage proprietor, whose life for months, had been despaired of. From the accumulated water peculiar to this disease she became so helpless as to be unable to drag one foot after the other. She now appears on the street and says she is as well as ever in her life. She claims that after all other means had failed she thanks Dodd's Kidney Pills for her unexpected cure.

Fifty years of success in curing diarrhœa, dysentery, cholera, cramps, bowel complaints of summer and fall, etc., stamp Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry as the best remedy in the market. It saves children's lives.

HOW THE SUN LIFE FULFILS ITS PROMISES.

A Matured 10 Year Endowment.

Profits Paid by the SUN 21 per. cent more than the Estimates.

The following letter, which speak for itself, was received by the undersigned this morning from a gentleman in Brockville, whose ten year endowment which he held in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada matured last week and was paid him. The Sun is modest in promises but UNEQUALLED IN RESULTS. The public are benefitted by results, not by promises unfulfilled

BROCKVILLE, November 7th, 1895.

W. H. HILL, Mgr. Central Ontario Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, Peterborough, Ontario:—

DEAR SIR,—I should have acknowledged the receipt of yours enclosing cheque for endowment policy No. 12,871 before, only I wanted to write something more than a mere receipt. I am pleased to hear of the continued prosperity of the "SUN" and it speaks well for your Company when the profits are greater (by 21 per cent.) than you as the Company's representative promised or rather estimated, as was the case with this policy.

I hope your Company will continue to prosper and I often re- that I do not carry more Insurance than I am doing. I might have carried twice as much as I do when at Minden without any great effort, still what little I do carry I feel is perfectly safe being in the "SUN."

I must thank you for your promptness and kindness regarding thi- policy just settled. I hope we will both be alive and well when the new one I now hold will be due in 1905 and assuring you of very best wishes, I remain,

Yours Sincerely,

(Signed) F. R. C.

The above voluntary testimonial is significant and shows in a most practical way the SUN'S standing as a profit paying institution.

THE BATTLE IS ON.

deep waterways convention scheme. As to the fisheries, he would say that the treatment of American fishermen by the Conservative Government in 1886, 1887 and 1888, was such as to bring upon us the threat of commercial war.

He admitted the speech was rather a meagre bill of fare, but he had not supposed the honorable gentleman would have had any stomach for a very heavy meal under the circumstances. (Laughter.) As to the issue of the Governor-General's warrants, that matter would be discussed at another time. Sir Charles had charged that, while elected on a policy of tariff reform, the Government was not prepared to carry out its pledges. The issue really was whether the National Policy should be preserved intact as it was, or whether it should be reformed.

Now they were asked to bring on their tariff reform measure at once. The reason that it could not be done was that, even when the people decide for tariff reform it cannot be had without exposing the country to some extent to commercial disturbance. The Government would have to proceed cautiously. Undoubtedly certain items might be referred to immediately. The hon. gentleman had referred to coal, but the tariff should be reformed as a whole. What might benefit some might injure others, and to disturb the condition of one might disturb the condition of all. Therefore, he continued we are forced to the conclusion that if we are to reform the tariff, as reform it we will, we must do it in a single general measure to be submitted to Parliament.

Continuing, Mr. Laurier said the most important part of Sir Charles' speech was his reference to the Manitoba school question, in which he charged that the Liberals had a policy here and policy there. He took issue with him in this, and when asked what was the Government's policy on this question he might retort with the old Conservative cry, "What is the Opposition's policy?" Sir Charles had been ready only five months ago to die that the Manitoba minoritymight get justice, and this was past. In, North Grey the chief Conservative whip says he was sent there by Sir Charles Tupper, that the remedial legislation is no longer a part of the Conservative program. It was the same old double game and double policy. The question had been bungled by the Conservatives When finally they did act it was upon untenable grounds, for the jurisdiction of the Federal Government and Parliament was political not judicial, to be exercised for the welfare of the country as a whole Interference was the last resort.

The Liberals set out by approaching the Manitoba Government. The Manitoba Government responded, and all he could say was that he had every reason to hope that when again Parliament assembled this question would be settled to the satisfaction of all parties concerned Of course they did not hope to satisfy the extremists on either side who were sharpening their knives to cut their pound of flesh from the bleeding corpse of their country. His settlement would, however, satisfy all reasonable men He would only despair of his country should Tory tactics prevail. In this connection he quoted Sir Charles Tupper's speech in Winnipeg, in which he asked them why they should desert him on the school question to turn to a French-Canadian Roman Catholic Premier, who had promised to do more for the minority It was the same tactics, he said, that prompted Sir Charles to send Whip Taylor to North Grey to say on his behalf that a vote for Paterson is a vote for French-Canadian domination.

Sir Charles Tupper here arose and most emphatically disclaimed having sent anyone to make any such statement.

Mr. Laurier's retort was that the denial came suspiciously late, seeing that the morrow was polling day. "What matters it," said the Premier, in conclusion, "whether the majority comes from one province or another, if the arguments used in one of the provinces were these we used in all the provinces? Sir, the men who to-day occupy these benches are fully conscious that upon this and upon other matters they have a difficult and an anxious question to deal with, and that they must act, not by appealing to one class, not by appealing to one section, but upon all questions and all occasions appealing to all classes and to all sections with the view, with the supreme view of making Canada a country, not only a country, but one country as well." (Cheers.)

Mr. Foster moved the adjournment of the debate.

Sir Charles Tupper (on Mr. Laurier's motion to adjourn the House) referred to the loss the country had sustained by the death of Sir David Macpherson.

Mr. Laurier acquiesced in these sentiments of regret, and added a kindly reference to the death of the late Liberal member-elect for North Grey. (Mr. Clark).

The House adjourned at 10.20 p.m.

A militia general order, issued today, calls out the following corps for training next month:

No. 1 district—Camp at London, commencing Sept. 8, R.R.C.I.: No. 1 depot, 21st, 22nd and 30th Batts.

No. 2 district—Niagara-on-the-Lake, Sept. 15, R.R.C.I., No. 2 depot, 12th, 31st, 35th, 37th and 39th Battalions.

No. 3 district—At Kingston, commencing Sept .15, 4th Hussars, 45th and 47th Battalions.

Camps are also to be held in Nos. 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 and 13 districts.

A new establishment list for permanent corps and active militia has been approved.

Field batteries are increased from 4 to 6 guns, involving an increase in strength from 79 to 102 men, and from 29 to 49 horses.

Troops of cavalry become squadrons, with an increase each of 7 men to enable them to comply with the new cavalry drill.

As foreshadowed the other day, a new Senator has been called to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Hon. A. R. Angers Mr Isidore Thibadeau of Quebec is the new member, and is a well-known man in the Province of Quebec He has been Vice President of the Banque Nationale, a director of the Grand Trunk Railway and President of the St. Jean Baptiste Society of Quebec He was President of the Executive Council of Canada in 1863-64 in the Sandfield-Macdonald-Dorion Administration.

The Government will place in the estimates a sum to cover the outstanding liabilities against the North west Exhibition at Brandon. The understanding of those who have been interested in laying the question before the Ministry is that the accounts will be paid by a vote of Parliament.

JOHN DALY HAS SOME SENSE.

The Liberated Irish Dynamiter Won't Talk About the Government.

London, Aug. 24.—John Daly, the Irish dynamiter, who has just been released from Portland Prison, said in an interview with a representative of the United Associated Presses to-day that, inasmuch as the British Government were now in a mood to exercise clemency toward political prisoners, it would be a traitorous act upon his part to say anything whatever in regard to the act of the Imperial authorities in liberating himself and others from imprisonment. He would, therefore, remain silent for the present at least. Daly will leave for Paris to-night.

DYING OF LOCKJAW.

Leslie Roblin, a C.P.R. Fireman at London, is in a Serious Condition, the Result of a Slight Cut.

London, Ont., Aug. 22.—Leslie Roblin, a fireman on the C.P.R., lies at his residence, 755 Maitland-street, in a very dangerous condition. He is suffering from lockjaw, resulting from a slight cut on his hand between the thumb and forefinger, which he received while at work about two weeks ago. Grave doubts are entertained of his recovery.

Overwhelming Arguments.

Two well-dressed boys had come out to the street to play horse. They had a gay little harness, hung with bells that tinkled softly. There was a dispute as to which one should drive. One of the boys was less strong than the other but he won his point by diplomacy.

"You must be the horse, Tom," he said, "because we are going to play truck horse, and you are very strong. I must be the driver, because your father is a minister, and you can't swear."

The minister's son put on the harness.—New York Times.

The Way Out of It.

A hater of tobacco once asked an old negress, who was addicted to the pipe, if she thought she was a Christian.

"I spects I is," was her reply.

"Do you expect to go to heaven?"

"Yes, indeedy."

"But the Bible says nothing unclean shall enter there. Now the breath of a smoker is unclean. What do you say to that?"

"Well, I reckon I leave m' bref behin' when I enters dar."—Washington Times.

Bayberries for Flat Irons.

Every progressive housekeeper should know that bayberries sewed up in a cotton bag furnish the most effective means possible for cleaning flatirons. Do not neglect to collect a good supply and make enough of these bags to carry you through the winter. There seems to be a peculiar property in the greasy excretions of the fruit that cleanses the irons as nothing else will.

Jenner's Surgical Tools.

Jenner's silver lancet case and lancets, the former engraved with the initials of the latter, with the name of the discoverer of vaccination, have been presented to the Royal College of Surgeons by a doctor, who obtained them from the grandson of Jenner's assistant.

Benefits of the High Collar.

The high collar now in vogue serves the same purpose as does the burden the Italian woman carries on her head. It forces the wearer to hold her head high, with a slightly backward tip, and gives the whole body a more graceful poise.

Sweet Peas for Flies.

A bunch of sweet peas is more efficacious in ridding a room of flies than yards of unsightly fly paper. A large centerpiece of these beautiful flowers absolutely guarantees your table from the depredations of the worst of household nuisances.

This Year's Delicate Colors.

There is quite a revival in China crepe and Japan silk this season and more especially in such delicate colors as Nile green, heliotrope, olive green and other varieties of oriental tints.

LEND YOUR EARS

To Your Back and Listen to its Talk—A Peterborough Man Tries It.

Did you know the back could talk;
Tell you why it aches and pains;
Tell you why it's lame and weak;
Warn you of the kidney's ills;
Tell you of Doan's Kidney Pills?
Listen to them when they speak.
Relieve the kidneys, cure the ache.
Bad back, acute pains and kidney ills,
Are quickly cured by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Here is proof of it at home. The testimony of Mr. George N. Graham, the genial host of the Oriental Hotel, Peterborough, is as follows:—

He says:—"I have been a great sufferer for some time with pain across the back, extending up between the shoulders, swelling of the limbs, dizziness, loss of appetite, and in fact felt completely broken up.

"I had lost 17 pounds in three months, and thought that I would never get better. I have taken many kinds of patent medicines, and have also been treated by medical men, but did not seem to get any better at all, in fact was constantly growing worse.

"I saw Doan's kidney Pills advertisement and got a box of them at Lynch's drugstore, and by the time I had taken one box noticed a marked change for the better.

"I have taken seven boxes altogether, and am now free from pain; the swelling in the limbs has disappeared, and my appetite is good. In fact, I feel that I am completely cured.

"I can heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to those suffering from any form of kidney trouble. They are the best kidney medicine I have ever used.

TO CAMP AT NIAGARA.

The Toronto and Vicinity Militia Men Will Settle Down on Sept. 15.

Toronto, Aug. 25.

In accordance with the militia general orders, issued yesterday for the annual camp, the rural battalions and the regulars at the fort are already making preparations.

Lieut.-Col. Otter, D.A.G., will command the camp at Niagara-on-the-Lake. The outing, which commences on Sept. 15, will be of 12 days' duration. The following regiments will compose the brigade: R.R.C.I., No. 2 Regimental Depot, commanded by Capt. Cartwright; 12th Battalion, commanded by Lieut.-Col. Telford, about 350 strong; 35th Battalion, commanded by Lieut.-Col. O'Brien, about 350 strong; 37th Battalion, commanded by Lieut.-Col. Davis, about 300 strong, and 39th Battalion, commanded by Lieut.-Col. Coombes, about 350 strong.

Col. Otter was unable to say definitely last night who would be the officers on his staff, but he stated that they would probably be as follows: Lieut.-Col. Buchan, brigade major; Major Maclaren, 13th Battalion, supply officer; Major Mutton, Q.O.R., camp quartermaster; Capt. Wallace, 38th Battalion, instructor of musketry; Surgeon-Gen. Strange, R.R.C.I., principal medical officer. The camp will be situated on the old camping site at Niagara-on-the-Lake.

A C. P. R. CONDUCTOR.

After Two Years' Misery was Cured by Ten Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Prescott, (Special) Aug. 24.—For a long time much sympathy had been felt and expressed for Mr. Wm. Freeman, a very popular conductor of the C.P.R., who had been rendered unfit for duty the past few years by a peculiar and distressing form of kidney disease. It now transpires, much to the delight of his friends, that he has been enabled to resume his regular trips. He claims, as the results of using only ten boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, that he has entirely recovered, and that he never felt better in his life, and believes that these Pills have cured him to stay cured.

Shiloh's Cure, the great Cough and Croup Cure, is in great demand. Pocket size contains twenty-five doses only 25c. Children love it. Sold by John Nugent, 289 George Street.

Injured at Belleville.

Last Friday evening Mr. James Greaves, jr., son of Conductor Greaves, of the Coboconk train, met with a painful accident at Belleville. He runs out of Lindsay as a brakesman, and while coupling cars got his right hand caught between the drawheads; it was badly crushed, and several small bones were broken. He returned to Lindsay Saturday morning and went north in the evening with his father to his home in Coboconk.

Ex-Warden Chambers, of Victoria, Dead.

Mr. John Chambers, reeve of Fenelon township, ex-warden of Victoria county, passed away Monday afternoon from the effects of a sunstroke received while working in the harvest field a couple of weeks ago. He was a successful farmer and one of the best known men in this district, took a deep interest in township and county affairs, and was twice elected warden of the county. The news of his unexpected death while yet a young man will be received with deep regret by every resident in the district. He was a man of good business ability, of genial temperament and generous impulses, and his friends were legion. The funeral took place on Tuesday at 3 o'clock.

A RETREAT AT ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL.

ASSEMBLAGE OF THE ROMAN CATHOLIC CLERGY.

Twenty-Five Priests of the Diocese Went Into a Retreat Last Night, Which Will Continue Until Saturday Evening.

The Roman Catholic clergy of the diocese went into retreat at St. Peter's Cathedral last evening, at nine o'clock. Rev. Father Kenney, S. J., of Guelph, will deliver the addresses, and gave the first last night. The retreat will continue until Saturday evening next, and is being participated in by the following twenty-five of the clergy: His Lordship Right Rev. Bishop O'Connor; Right Rev. Mgr. Laurent, Lindsay; Very Rev. Joseph Brown, Douro; Very Rev. Archdeacon Casey, Peterborough; Rev. M. Lynch, Port Hope; Rev. P. Conway, Norwood; Rev. E. H. Murray, Cobourg; Rev. D. O'Connell, Peterborough; Rev. M. Connelly, Hastings; Rev. M. Larkin, Grafton; Rev. J. Sweeny, Victoria Road; Rev. W. J. McCloskey, Campbellford; Rev. P. McGuire, Bracebridge; Rev. C. S. Bretherton, Downeyville; Rev. T. B. O'Connell, Burnley; Rev. W. J. McColl, Ennismore; Rev. J. Nolan, Fenelon Falls; Rev. D. J. Scollard, North Bay; Rev. A. J. Kelly, Trout Creek; Rev. T. Fleming, Bracebridge; Rev. T. Collins, Brighton; Rev. T. F. Scanlan, Peterborough; Rev. J. McGuire, Lindsay; Rev. F. Fitzpatrick, Peterborough and Rev. P. J. O'Leary, Sturgeon Falls.

THIS IS THE SEASON

when the Catholic clergy of the various dioceses throughout the land enter on the annual spiritual retreat. What is a retreat? and Why is it held periodically? are questions that not all persons can answer satisfactorily. The Rev. Dr. A. A. Lambing, in the Pittsburg Catholic, treats the subject interestingly and instructively. He writes:—

"What, then, is a retreat? It is often called the spiritual exercises, and indeed this is the proper name. It is well known that when a person enters into a new state of life, or at least a considerable part of it, he has thought the matter over carefully, and has worked himself up to an unusual degree of earnestness, and, perhaps, enthusiasm. But it is equally well known that this fervor naturally grows weak by the very lapse of time; and this cooling is frequently accelerated by the force of the circumstances in which it may be placed. For this reason it is found necessary to adopt means to renew and revive that spirit of zeal. This is seen in the periodical conventions, and other assemblies of persons of the same profession, whatever the name they may assume. The object is to renew, and, if possible, intensify the original members of the organization. It is the same with the retreats of the clergy. They endeavour by a few days' spent in recollection, meditation and prayer and self-examination to discover whatever might have been wrong or imperfect in their past, that it might be repented of and corrected; and that additional light might be obtained to direct them in the formation of rules for their guidance in the future, and to enable them to put these good resolutions into practice. Animated with the zeal for their own sanctification and new energy for the performance of the duties of their exalted state, they return to their respective fields of labour, saying with the Psalmist: "Now I will begin; this is the change of the right hand of the Most High."

The necessity of retreats is apparent to all. Religions, whose surroundings shield them from many of the detractions and temptations incident to life, and whose pious exercises furnish them with abundant supernatural assistance, are, notwithstanding, required to make an annual retreat of at least nine days, and generally a shorter one between these, with a retreat of one day every month. And lay persons in the world are frequently met with who make an annual and a monthly retreat. But the secular priest is thrown into the midst of turmoil of the world, is daily engaged in the most distracting and multifarious occupations where a spirit of recollection is almost if not quite impossible, and is yet required for a three-fold reason to lead a life of more than common holiness. He must for his own sake attain to the holiness proper to his state of life, because it is in that state, and in that state only, that he can be saved. He must sanctify himself for the sake of the people entrusted to his pastoral care, because he must lead them in the way of salvation not only by word but also by example; for his words, however will produce but little effect if they are not accompanied by that unction which only a holy life can breathe. And he must be holy for the sake of the Church, because he is one of her ministers, chosen by God Himself to advance her interests among men, and he cannot do so unless he is a worthy minister.

It would be difficult, if not impossible, to give the history of the institution of clerical retreats; and it is not necessary, nor would it prove interesting. But the manner in which they are conducted will be both interesting and instructive.

The very name retreat signifies a withdrawal from the place, the occupation and the associations in which a person is generally found; and, considered in so far as it effects the mind, a forgetfulness of the occupations in which a person is commonly engaged. The better to produce both of these desired effects, the clergy are directed to repair at certain times to a place selected by the Bishop and there spend a number of days in common exercises conducted by a strange priest, also selected by the Bishop. Recollection is enjoined, and silence as far as possible. But this latter it is impossible to secure perfectly, because have not met for an entire year, they are labouring in the same holy cause, have mutual interests to advance and consequently to discuss; and, besides, it is not inconsistent with recollection to give a limited time to quiet conversation.

With regard to the order of the exercises—they begin with meditation and Mass in the morning and end with benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament in the evening, the rest of the day being divided between public and private devotions. The public devotions consist of meditations, conferences, pious readings, examination of conscience, and the recitation of the Divine office. The private devotions are only recommended and consist of Rosary, visits to the Blessed Sacrament, the Way of the Cross, and such other devotions as each one may prefer. Time is given for necessary relaxation also; but anyone who imagines that priests on a retreat have an easy time are very much mistaken. They have little rest of mind or body from 5.30 in the morning to after 9 at night. It goes for the saying that all the exercises, both are directed to the same end—the success of the retreat.

Little need be said of the advantages of a retreat for the clergy. The fact that it has been so long practiced and is so highly recommended by those who are the most competent to judge of its utility, should be sufficient. It is the fulfillment of the words of the prophet Osee (2, xiv): "I will lead her into solitude, and I will speak to her heart." It is following the example of our divine Lord, who having sent His apostles to preach, said to them when they had returned and given an account of their labours: "Come apart into a desert place and rest awhile." (St. Mark 6, xxxi.) The illustrious Pius IX, among many others, enlarges on the immense advantages of clerical retreats, and he urges on the hierarchy the obligation they are under of seeing that their clergy make them at regular intervals; and his words, which it is not necessary to quote, are incorporated into the decrees of the Third Plenary Council of Baltimore, (No. 75), which is the law for the Church in this country.

Much more might, of course, be said on this subject, but I think these few remarks will be sufficient; and I have no doubt they will prove both interesting and instructive, especially when many Catholics will have the thoughts of retreats before their minds.

THE RECITAL AT ST. JOHN'S.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—With some surprise I read Mr. Pousett's apology for the exhibition of violin playing in the sacred edifice on the hill top, known as St. John's, on last Sunday night. If I mistake not, they have a "kist o' whustles" in that church, and from the editorial in your paper I noticed that for the occasion they had a piano—and also a virtuoso—whatever that is. Mr. Pousette says: "The very large congregation gathered from all religious bodies not only marked the general approval of such a service, but is witness to the unity which exists in music, and was besides no small tribute to the professor himself." One who described the prayer of a Boston divine said it was the most eloquent prayer ever offered to a Boston audience. It is quite apparent that the Peterborough audience appreciated the musical service.

But, sir, why apologize? If Mr. Pousette will turn to II. Chronicles, vii. and 6, he will read—"And the priests waited on their offices, the Levites also with instruments of music of the Lord, which David had made to praise the Lord." This was at the dedication of Solomon's temple, and if he turns to Rev. xiv., 2, he will read that amongst the hundred and forty and four thousand who stood with the Lamb on Mount Sion were harpers harping with their harps. Why, I say, apologize?

Down at our Army meetings we have no organ or piano and no virtuoso but we have good banjos and two good fiddles and triangles and such like, and honest Mark Spenceley sometimes, when he is elevated like Herr Stoeving, shows his elevation by a bit of a dance—a dance before the Lord, mind you. I was real glad to read Mr. Pousette's letter, though I am sorry he apologized, for our Army people don't apologize. We are glad to know we are all coming to one mind, and we pray for union, and if the good fiddling will draw poor sinners from the other churches to Mount St. John or to the Barracks, why let us have more virtuosos and fiddles and triangles, etc., but no apologies.

BANJO.

Peterborough, Aug. 25th, 1896.

NOT "ALTRUIST."

To the Editor of the Examiner

SIR,—As it has been assumed by many people, and at least one clergyman, that I was the author of the letter signed "Altruist," in THE EXAMINER of Saturday, dealing with the recent band concert, I should like to say that I know nothing of the authorship whatever.

The poor attendance at the concert I regard more as an accident than anything else. For the churches and church-going people the Children's Aid Society has the most grateful and kindly feeling. The society is glad of assistance, of course, and requires it, but it by no means assumes that it is the only desirable or necessary society in the town.

Yours, etc.,

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks From the Wheels—Cinders for the Eye.

Mr. Logan, private secretary to General Manager Hayes of the Grand Trunk, has before him the report on the proposed Railwaymen's Christian Association, submitted by Mr. D. A. Budge, secretary of the Montreal branch of the Y.M.C.A. The scheme has not yet taken definite shape, but it is the intention of the management, if possible, to arouse the interest of the employees in regard to the establishment of comfortable quarters at terminal points, which will take the place of the present "bunk rooms," and provide the men with everything necessary to make their stopover as pleasant as if they were at home. Should the scheme meet with the approval of the employees, the management will contribute a substantial amount towards it.

It having been decided to let the tent remain in its present location, corner of George and McDonel streets, for another week, services will be conducted as follows: To-night and Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings at 8 o'clock; two services on Sunday at 2.30 and 8 p.m.; Bible study Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Interesting and practical Bible themes will be presented at all of these meetings, the Scripture alone being the proof given of all Bible doctrine. All are invited.

Surprise at the Fair.

How many pounds in that big cake of Surprise Soap? That's the question. Anyone that can guess the weight will have the Heintzman piano shown in the Surprise soap exhibit at the Toronto Fair. Look at the big cake and guess free of charge, once each day, during the fair. The correct or nearest guesser will get the piano, the best that Heintzman makes. Now this offer is made by the makers of Surprise soap to call your mind and thought to the advantage of using this soap on a wash day and every other day. It is the best.

"Mikado" Still in the Market.

Orders will be taken as usual at our down town office, corner of Simcoe and Bethune streets. Telephone No. 113. MELDRUM & MCALLISTER, Millers.

GONE OVER TO UNCLE SAM.

Ticket Agent Matchett of Lindsay Said to Have Left Many Creditors Behind—Was He Speculating?

Lindsay, Aug. 24.—(Special.)—Lindsay was thrown into quite a commotion a few days ago when it became known that R. J. Matchett, G. T. R. ticket agent here, also agent for the Canadian Express Company and several lines of steamers, had absconded, leaving quite a shortage in his accounts. Several people about town who had endorsed his paper are also in the soup for various amounts, some as high as $200. The G. T. R. and the Express Comuany are secured against loss by the Guarantee Company of Philadelphia, but the different steamboat lines for whom he sold tickets will be out of pocket. His relatives have made good the loss to the Guarantee Company, hence they will not take action to secure his arrest and return from the States, whither he fled. Where the purloined money went is not known, but probably like many other poor fools he was "speculating." The business conducted by Mr. Matchett was purchased a few years ago from Mr. T. C. Taylor for $1500, but for some reason he was unable to make it pay. Mr. Wilder, Mr. Matchett's assistant, will continue in the office, a petition having been circulated for that purpose.

THE GLENALDA DROWNING.

Further Particulars Concerning the Tragedy.

A few days ago the Campbellford Herald published a paragraph concerning a drowning which took place on August 16th in Chandos. A correspondent forwards THE EXAMINER the following account of the sad accident :—

"A sad drowning accident occurred here on Sunday, Aug. 16th, by which two persons lost their lives and two more nearly so, while bathing. Mrs. Richard Hubble and family went to the river, about a mile east of their home, on Sunday afternoon last, to bathe. One of the girls slipped off a rock, on which she was standing, into the water. As she went in the mother saw her and rushed to her assistance, and as they were struggling in the water two more of the girls plunged in to help them, with the result that all were nearly drowned. One managed to save herself by clinging to a rock and so scrambled out more dead than alive, and another clung to a plank until help arrived. As the mother was going down one of the small boys ran for help, which arrived in time to save the girl that hung to the plank. The bodies were recovered that evening, after being in the water about three hours, but all efforts to revive them were useless.

"There was a large number at the Post School House, where the funeral ceremony took place. Rev. Mr. Bathstone officiated and delivered a very appropriate address. The bodies were interred in the Hawley burying ground.

"The husband and family have the heartfelt sympathy of their numerous friends and acquaintances.

WEDDING BELLS.

A Galway Lady is Married in Minnesota.

The Grand Rapids Times contains the following account of the wedding of a young lady well known in Galway and a former resident of that township :

"Mr. W. F. Sims and Miss Bridget Allen, daughter of John Allen, Galway, were the passengers to Duluth this morning, where their wedding ceremony was set for the afternoon, and many were the wishes for their future happiness by friends who escorted them to the train.

"Mr. Sims is well known and deservedly popular throughout northern Minnesota, where he has been identified for many years with the interests of the Itasca Lumber Company. Miss Allen has been a resident of Grand Rapids for some time, having made this place her home with the family of her sister, Mrs. John Craig. She is a most charming young lady and held in high esteem by an extensive circle of friends and acquaintances.

"The young couple have the hearty congratulations of all who wish them a joyous honeymoon and a prosperous wedded life. They will be at home in Grand Rapids about the first, and for the present will occupy the residence at the corner of the four streets until their new residence is completed."

OTONABEE'S ANNUAL EXHIBITION.

To be Held on Sept. 30th and Oct. 1st.

The annual exhibition of the Otonabee Agricultural Society will be held at Keene on Sept. 30th and Oct. 1st. A liberal prize list will be offered for competition. The programme will include special drawing features—open trot, green trot and novelty race. The race track and grounds have been put into fine condition.

HARVEY.

The Annual Exhibition at Lakehurst.

The annual exhibition of the Township of Harvey Agricultural Society will be held at the village of Lakehurst on Thursday, October 1st. The exhibition will be opened by Messrs. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., and John Lang, M.P. A good prize list has been prepared, and it is expected that the exhibition will be a successful one.

People's Coal Co.:

GENTLEMEN,—Having heard a lot of talk in my shop about your coal, I determined to try it for myself, so I ordered half a ton and am pleased to be able to state I found it just as you represent, viz: gives an intense heat, lasts as long as any other coal, burns to a white ash, and is free from clinkers. In short, it just suits me, so please book my order for my winter's supply. Will let you know when to deliver it.

DAVID HALL,
Barber.

If you want to save money call and see us before ordering your coal. Our coal is the purest and most economical hard coal mined, and will give you the same satisfaction it gives Mr. Hall. Office—230 Charlotte street. Telephone 306.

THE WHEEL.

On Wednesday evening next Lytle and Gordon will contest the second heat of their matched race. The three laps of the mile will be paced respectively by Pakenham, Philp and Little, and it is thought that the track record will be reduced even lower than the mark of 2.11, made by Meehan.

Station Agent Paton, at Lindsay, has been bestirring himself in the interests of the coming bicycle meet there, and the cheap fares secured by him will no doubt be the means of inducing a large number of people to visit Lindsay that day. Tickets will be issued on afternoon trains of Aug. 28th and morning trains of Aug. 27th, valid to return Aug. 28th, at single first class fare and one-third, from the following points :—Orillia to Lindsay; Peterborough and Port Hope to Lindsay; Whitby and Uxbridge to Lindsay; Coboconk and Haliburton to Lindsay.

The following hints and suggestions ar for benefit of bicycle beginners :—"Don't catch the handle bars with your teeth. Don't look around to see if the hind wheel is following. Don't be surprised if the front wheel shows a disposition to turn into a yard and lay down for a rest. Always fall on your right shoulder, and don't let your ear strike the ground till a few seconds later. When you lose the pedal don't get off and go back to look for it. It is right there on the machine, and if you'll feel around long enough you'll find it again. Never kill a pedestrian when it can be avoided, but when you do kill one dismount and say you're sorry."

THE TURF.

COBOURG, Aug. 24.—The opening of the Cobourg summer race meeting held at Donegan Park to-day was a decided success. The weather and track was all that could be desired. AQUATIC.

Jake Gaudaur, writing privately to his brother, S. Gaudaur, railroad contractor at Winnipeg, says he has no doubt whatever of being able to beat Stanbury and bring the world's championship back to Canada. He recalled the fact that he had defeated Stanbury twice easily and felt in better condition now than ever before in his life.

Clayton, N.Y.—In spite of the threatening rain Saturday afternoon two of the sailing races of the American Canoe Association were called. They were the Orillia cup of seven and one half miles, limited to the Northern and Canadian division, and the Champlain cup of four and one half miles open to all. Archibald, of Montreal, in his new canoe, Mab, won both events.

Nervous Prostration

Is a deplorable condition of body, to which the mind to some degree responds; the sufferer becomes a victim to a legion of disagreeable sensations, arising from the impairment or exhaustion of nerve or vital force. Sleeplessness, too, comes to rob the sufferer of nature's sweetest solace and restorer, and a disorded digestive function contributes its quota to the already full cup of misery. Cure is possible in one way only—the nervous system must be strengthened; the digestive and assimilative function must be restored.

Maltine with Coca Wine, more than any preparation known to medical science, combines the two essentials required in these cases. Maltine with Coca Wine possesses tonic properties that are directed in a very special way to the nerve centres, giving them tone, vigor and the staying power so much needed, while just as efficaciously does it aid and strengthen all the processes of digestion. Thus we have the production of all the elements of adequate nutrition, which, inevitably, is certain to give health, strength and vigor. Maltine with Coca Wine is sold by all druggists.

The following appears among the church notes of the Brockville Times:—"The many friends in Brockville of Rev. Father Kielty, Douro, will regret to learn that he is in Hotel Dieu Hospital, Kingston, suffering from gastric fever. Father Kielty is a native of Prescott, and at one time was parish priest of Kitley." Rev. Father Kielty's numerous friends will regret to learn that the reverend gentleman is not doing as well in the matter of health as they could wish.

When Should a Man Swear?

Man is not only a reasoning but a swearing animal. Sometimes his feelings are expressed audibly and at others they are so deep down in his nature that nothing less than a volcano would thrust them to the surface. If a man should swear at all, when should that time be? The church is silent on this important matter and the law gives no sanction to cuss words. Stovepipes are provocative of bad feeling, but corns are far worse Wives should see that their husband's corns are kept down. This may be done quite easily, painlessly and with absolute certainty by Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Beware of flesh-eating substitutes offered for Putnam's Corn Extractor.

To Tired Ladies.

When you are exhausted and feel played out take a glass of Calcutt's Porter; it will freshen you up and make work a pleasure. Should be used by everybody during house cleaning. tf

Mr. Legate, traveller for McCormack & Co., London, says:—"Miller's Compound Iron Pills restored me to health after a month of prostration from nervous shock and loss of blood." He says, "their effect on me was simply marvellous; people say they never saw me looking so well." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

Light in Asia—It Shines Clearly.

MESSRS. T. MILBURN & CO., TORONTO:

Dear Sirs,—There is light in Asia after all and the man that advised me to try your Heart and Nerve Pills was a friend indeed and truly a friend in need. Before I started to take them I was languid, weak, sleepless and nervous. My brain was beclouded and I could not collect my thoughts, I had gone through an operation in the hope of relief, but still remained generally broken up, my appetite was gone and I was almost without hope or ambition.

But I feel thoroughly rebuilt through the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and it took only three or four weeks to do the work. I often think of the years of suffering I might have escaped had I only known of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills in time; but I am grateful to be restored to health at last and gladly recommend the medicine that cured.

SALE OF BURNT TIMBER.

A quantity of pine timber, estimated at about four million feet, B. M., situated on lot 4 in the 2nd con. and lots 3 and 4 in the 3rd con. of the Township of Rathbun, north east of Wahnapitae Lake, in the District of Nipissing; and a quantity estimated at four and one half million feet, B.M., situated on the shore of Lake Biscotasing, in the District of Algoma, on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, having been damaged by fire, the undersigned hereby calls for tenders for the right to cut the same.

Tenders will be received up to and including the Seventh day of September next, and must state the rate per thousand feet board measure, if made into saw logs, or per thousand feet cubic, if made into square timber, which the tenderer is willing to pay as bonus or in addition to the ordinary Crown dues of one dollar per thousand feet board measure, on saw logs, and twenty dollars per thousand feet cubic on square timber. Separate tenders should be made for each quantity, and must be accompanied by a marked cheque for $200. The party awarded the right to cut will have to give a bond, with satisfactory sureties, for the performance of all the terms and conditions which may be required by the Department.

Mr. F. Sinclair, Forest Ranger at Sudbury, will give information respecting the timber, etc. and further particulars as to conditions may be obtained from this Department.

The figures as to quantity represent the Department's estimate only, and intending purchasers must satisfy themselves as to quantities and purchase upon their own estimates. The Department does not bind itself to accept the highest or any tender. Tenders should be marked "Tenders for Burnt Timber," and addressed to the Hon. the Commissioner of Crown Lands, Toronto.

MISS CAHILL

403 George Street.

The counsel of older women is of inestimable value. A mistaken idea of modesty prevents many girls from learning the things that they ought to know before they assume the duties of matrimony and maternity. Women generally take these most important steps in their lives, without knowing in any degree what they mean, or what responsibilities and trials they bring. The highest and best thing that any woman can do is to bear and rear healthy, intelligent children. The accomplishment of this end depends almost entirely upon her health and particularly upon the health and strength of the organs distinctly feminine. The state of the children, both intellectual and physical depends on the mother. If she doesn't care enough for her own comfort and happiness to take the proper care of herself, she certainly ought to do it for the sake of her children. To a very large extent, the destiny and achievement of a man is decided in the months before his birth. During that time is determined whether or not he is to be of robust health and strong intellect. During that time, his mind and body are started on the path that they will follow through life. Circumstances may influence him, but he cannot get away from the effects of pre-natal influences. One of the principal uses of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the preparation of prospective mothers for the time of trial and danger that comes when a child is born. The "Prescription" is strengthening and invigorating and lessens pain and danger. It insures the perfect well-being and the perfect health of both mother and child. Every woman should know these things before she really needs to know them. There are many things in Dr. Pierce's "Common Sense Medical Adviser," that every woman ought to know. This celebrated work has reached a sale of 680,000 copies at $1.50 each. The expense of production having thus been covered, 500,000 copies are now being given away. A copy will be sent to any address on receipt of thirty-one (31) one-cent stamps to cover customs and postage only.

THE OTHER WORLD.

It lies around us like a cloud,
The world we do not see;
Yet the sweet closing of an eye,
May bring us there to be.

Its gentle breezes fan our cheek,
Amid our worldly cares;
Its gentle voices whisper love,
And mingle with our prayers.

Sweet hearts around us throb and beat,
Sweet helping hands are stirred,
And palpitates the veil between,
With breathings almost heard.

The silence, awful, sweet and calm,
They have no power to break;
For mortal words are not for them
To utter or partake.

So thin, so soft, so sweet they glide,
So near to press they seem,
They lull us gently to our rest,
They melt into our dream.

And, in the hush of rest they bring,
'Tis easy now to see,
How lovely and how sweet a pass,
The hour of death may be—

To close the eye and close the ear,
Wrapped in a trance of bliss,
And, gently drawn in loving arms,
To swoon from that to this—

Scarce knowing if we wake or sleep,
Scarce asking where we are,
To feel all evil sink away,
All sorrow and all care!

Sweet souls around us, watch us still,
Press nearer to our side,
Into our thoughts, into our prayers,
With gentle helping glide.

Let death between us be as naught,
A dried and varnished stream;
Your joy be the reality,
Our suffering life the dream.

—Harriet Beecher Stowe.

WAYS OF THE BANTUS.

Their Land is Held in Common—Socialistic Customs.

Each Bantu tribe holds its land in common, reapportioning it as the increase or diminution of its members may require, says the Fortnightly Review. The doctrine that land can become the private property of one is a doctrine morally repugnant to the Bantu. The idea which to-day is beginning to haunt Eunrope, that, as the one possible salve for our social wounds and diseases, it might be well if the land should become again the property of the nation at large, is to deal to the Bantu but a realistic actuality. He finds it difficult if not impossible to reconcile his sense of justice with any other form of tenure. And it is only painfully and slowly (and perhaps never quite successfully) that, under the pressure of autocratic European rule he is brought to allow that absolute, individual property in land may be consistent with right. It may be remarked in passing that if it be desired to deal justly with the South African native it is as necessary to grasp this mental attitude of his with regard to the possession of land as in dealing with the Boer it is necessary never to forget his theocratic conception of his claim on South Africa.

The laws and traditions of all Bantu races are very complex, and, though orally transmitted from age to age, they are scrupulously observed. "It is our custom," ends all argument with the Bantu. Their etiquette in ordinary social life, before they have come in contact with the lower phases of civilization, seems often based on a higher sense of honor than that which governs the ordinary relations of Europeans. When one Kaffir approaches two who are talking, he frequently stands still at some distance from them and then comes nearer. When asked why he does this he replies: "Lest they should not see me coming and I should overhear what they say."

In the division of labor women have the almost entire charge of agriculture and manufacture. House-building, pottery making, the shaping of clothes and implements are left to them, and, especially among the Kaffir branches, all agriculture is entirely in their hands. The men fight and hunt and make their weapons and the young lads tend the cattle, leaving all other labor to the females.

Not one complaint has ever been made by those using Ayer's Sarsaparilla according to directions. Furthermore, we have yet to learn of a case in which it has failed to benefit. So say hundreds of druggists all over the country. Has cured others, will cure you.

A LONDON RUM SHOP.

DEGRADED MEN AND WOMEN SEEN IN "THE PRINCESS ALICE."

A Faithful Description of One Saturday Night Reads Like the Product of a Diseased Imagination—Drink the Sole Object of the Unfortunates.

The promoters of the rum-shops of East London have some nice-sounding names for the dives in which manhood and womanhood are hourly perishing. One of the most loathsome dens, situated at Commercial and Wentworth-streets, in the Whitechapel district, is called "The Princess Alice." A place almost as bad, standing near the north entrance to Tower Bridge, bears the title of "The Angel." These resorts are beyond adequate portrayal in words. They are so thoroughly and frightfully wicked, so utter and infamously low, that anything like a faithful description of them would read like the product of a diseased imagination.

Saturday nights at "The Princess" witness wholesale carnivals of drunkenness. At these times the compartments are crowded almost to suffocation, and the wretches gathered there struggle with one another for precedence at the bar. They are not all men by any means. Oftener they are more than half women. The latter not infrequently have a child or two with them. It is a mere commonplace to see dissolute mothers, the suggestion of every virtue obliterated from their faces, feeding their little girls ale or beer on the counters of this scandalous den. The men and women all crowd in together, and swill liquor like hogs. Their dress without exception is the dress of desperate poverty. The men wear an infinite variety of hats, clothes and shoes, but none of them has any article of apparel but that is green with age and heavy with filth. Their faces are blotched, distorted and unshaven, and their eyes bear witness to awful eras of sleeplessness and dissipation. They drink until their money is exhausted, or until they can scarcely stand, when they go out of their own accord, or are forced out and stagger away with maudlin mutterings. When the crowds in "The Princess" are great, one may see a man, in advanced stages of intoxication, braced against the wall half asleep, held from falling by the crush about him. Sometimes he loses consciousness entirely, and goes down in a head. Then the bartender clears the compartment sufficiently to drag the wretch to the sidewalk. A policeman comes along, wakes the offender up, and, if he can walk, starts him off. If he is past walking, the officer calls for the wagon and sends him in.

The chief horror of "The Princess Alice," however, is presented in the degradation of its female clientele. In America the majority of drunkards, especially outside the large cities, are men. In Liverpool and London, according to the statistics of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, there are about six drunken women to one drunken man, and casual observation would indicate this proportion to be true. At "The Princess Alice," the spectacle of the fall of woman is complete. When the mind oscillates from the purest and loviest type of the diviner part of God's noblest work to the creature of the same sex that frequents this rum-shop, it sweeps the infinite! One cannot think intently of the two side by side—so definitely and violently antithetic are they—without experiencing a shock to his reason. The chasm is greater than the human intellect can span and not suffer a strain. At a given time, it must rest wholly on one side or wholly on the other.

The females of "The Princess Alice" are not necessarily habitues of resorts. Many of them are mothers that the curse of drink has caused to forget every obligation of motherhood and home. Many of them are little past girlhood and yet are one stage lower, in the classification that slum life imposes, than the so-called "respectable" inmates of resorts. In the course of their fall, they have probably stopped for a time on the level of the less depraved, but drink would not permit them to remain there. It has dragged them still lower. It has made them such beasts that the doors of the resorts are closed against them, and the inmates of such places have come to feel that there is a depth of social decay above which even they stand, as on an eminence. Drink is the overmastering passion of these outcasts. They seem to have no other passion, no other pleasure, no other concern, of any sort whatever. Numbers of them know nothing about home life, nothing of affection, nothing of any one of the fundamental humanities. The appetite for drink possesses and consumes them; it causes them to lie and cheat, to beg and steal; any form of inquity is welcome if it only holds out the promise of a quantitiy of rum. Like that of the men, the dress of these creatures is as poor as it can be. It seldom rises above rags, and very dirty rags at that. It is harrowing enough to witness the debauchery of the younger women, but when one sees an old dame with gray hair and furrowed face—a woman whose appearance shows that she is somebody's mother—sees her drunk and maudlin, staggering from the lethal portals of "The Princess Alice," without a friend, a penny, or a home he is apt to ask in agony of heart, "Is Christ really risen?"—Ed. P. Bell, in Indianapolis News.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak, shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness, I promise you perfect secrecy and as I do not wish to expose myself either, please address, simply: P. Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

DIED TRYING TO SAVE HER CHILD.

The Frightful Death of Mrs. Maxwell and Her Babe at Clare, Mich.

Clare, Mich., Aug. 24.—Mrs. Robert Maxwell last Saturday rushed after her 3-year-old child, who was playing dangerously near the railroad track. Seeing her coming, the child ran upon the track. Mrs. Maxwell tried to snatch the little one out of danger, but an engine struck them, throwing both 30 feet and killing them almost instantly.

An English View of the Fight.

London, Aug. 24.—The Westminster Gazette this afternoon publishes a long article calling attention to the political campaign in the United States as being not only a battle between the east and west, but between the American debtor and his British creditors, and advises Englishmen desiring the defeat of free silver to restrain their shouting for McKinley.

A Railway Manager says:

"In reply to your question do my children object to taking Scott's Emulsion, I say No! on the contrary, they are fond of it and it keeps them pictures of health."

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

That nothing succeeds like success, is an old, old story, and here is another instance of its truth. Fibre Chamois has been from the start a trustworthy fabric of sterling merit, giving more than full value for every cent it cost. Its worth has been highly appreciated, and the demand for it has increased so steadily lately that owing to that as well as to the improved and extended facilities for its manufacture, it is now possible to sell it for the Popular Price of 25c. a yard.

This will be good news for everybody as Fibre Chamois is universally used to give the body, tone and graceful style to all fashionable garments. But it is just as important as ever, for your own sake to see the label when buying, to prevent any disappointment from imitations.

TURNING GRAY
AND THREATENED
WITH BALDNESS
The Danger is Averted by Using
AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only an occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good, natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—Mrs. H. M. HAIGHT, Avoca, Neb.

WALKING V. WHEEL.

SOME THINGS THAT THE BICYCLIST IS BOUND TO MISS.

It Is Cheering, However, to Know That on the Whole He Has Gained More Than He Has Lost- How Is the Balance to be Maintained?

It is to be hoped that the good old custom of pedestrianism will not fall into disuse, says a writer in the Transcript. The bicycle rider has perhaps gained more than he has lost, but he has lost something, and that by no means unimportant. It is a great economic gain to minimise time and distance to so considerable an extent. The enjoyment in this way of the air and exercise and the poetry and exhilaration of easy and rapid motion is delightful, but this sensuous satisfaction is likely to be obtained at the expense of mental stimulus. The bicycle rider cannot tarry to study the tint or texture of the flowers or breathe their fragrance. He cannot listen to the songs of the birds or the music of the brooks. His course is over the world's conventional tracks, and though nature speaks in countless tongues, he hardly catches so much as the echo of any of them. The woodlands and the byways where lurk the choicest manifestations of beauty he cannot visit. On his nightly runs he sees only the shining road before him reflecting the light of the moon and stars, but he cannot lift his eyes to the Milky Way, or view the still more glorious tenantry of the heavens.

It does not seem a violent hypothesis that this condition of things must tend to weaken those habits of observation upon which so much that is great in art, science and literature depends, and that this will be deplorably apparent in the next generation unless some counter interest can be developed. It is a serious question whether a White of Shelbourne, a Burroughs, or a Thoreau could have been produced on an exclusive bicycle basis. Their natural tendencies might have overcome all obstacles of environment, but observation is a plant that starts early and grows by what it feeds upon and amid surroundings and influences like the present they might not so easily have been inducted into those delightful and congenial labors that have so sweetened the literature of our time.

The bicycle interest has come to stay and to grow until some more potent attraction shall supplant it. But to balance it and prevent social one-sidedness and mental deterioration, we need the extension and multiplication of such organisations as the Appalachina Club, which will soon start upon an outing, not to annihilate space, but to become acquainted with the wealth which occupies it and in acquiring health and strength also to acquire information. It is something to know the world of men, but it is infinitely more important to know intimately the world of nature, for upon that knowledge rests all that man ever has accomplished or ever can accomplish. The fastest scorcher may get to the end of life's journey the soonest, but he will not arrive with as much baggage as the more moderate and observant wayfarer.

When a Boy's Voice Changes.

The way in which the male voice is used at the age of puberty determines, in the opinion of Mr. Davidson Palmer, whether it is to become a good or a bad voice. His words are quoted by the Musical Record, as follows:

"At that period when the voice 'breaks' or changes (sometimes the change is so gradual that it cannot be said to break at all), he usually finds that there are two ways in which he can produce it. At the bottom is the beginning of the man's voice, which, if forced, becomes a separate register, and goes by the name of 'chest voice.' At the top are the remains of the old boyish voice, sometimes called 'head voice.' This 'head voice' can be carried down to the bottom, or nearly to the bottom, of the vocal compass, while the 'chest voice' can with some effort, be carried a considerable distance upward, though never to the top. If now the boy commences to speak in the newly-acquired 'chest voice,' and gives up the old voice, the result in after-life will be either a bad voice, or, at best, an indifferent one. If, on the other hand, he continues to speak in the old boyish voice, in tones which will be somewhat high at first, but will get lower, fuller and more manly by degrees as the physical frame develops, the result will be a good voice—a voice which will stand almost any amount of wear and tear, and will retain a great deal of its strength nd beauty, even though at a later period the mode of production be altered."

The Busiest Man in London.

Who is the busiest man in London? It would be a hard matter to say, answers London Sketch, but undoubtedly Sir Walter Besant runs a good chance of first place. Not content with fighting the "wild beasts" of the publishing fraternity of Belfast, his work on the Survey of London, his novel-writing, his labors in aid of the Authors Society and a thousand-and-one other hobbies, he has taken some of the Elizabethans under his broad wing, and on Saturday week unveiled a stained-glass window in memory of Philip Massinger. This is the first of a series of memorial windows it is proposed to place in the restored nave of the old Priory Church of St. Saviour, Southwark, in memory of the great Elizabethan dramatists. The window to Massinger, who is buried in St. Saviour's, is a single lancet, designed by Mr. C. E. Kempe, having for its subject the great poet's tragedy, "The Virgin Martyr." It is divided into three panels; in the top one is a medallion portrait of Massinger; in the middle a scene from the drama, and in the lower panel a presentment of Dorothea, the virgin martyr. The spot under which tradition asserts that Massinger lies, in the same grave with John Fletcher, was on Saturday week covered with laurel. To a distinguished audience Sir Walter spoke of Massinger's life, labors and greatness, and discoursed most eloquently.

Mining Accidents in Britain.

Since 1851, it is estimated 48,219 men have been killed in mining accidents in Great Britain.

Seems as if all the things we like disagree with us, and all the things we don't like, agree with us. Dyspepsia lurks in most of the good things that we eat, and indigestion follows the gratification of appetite. Of course, it isn't Nature's fault. Nature does the best she can, and if a man will only help her a little bit at the right time, he may eat what he likes and as much as he likes. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are for people who are troubled with indigestion. Particularly for those in whom it manifests itself in the form of constipation. The "Pellets" are quick and easy in their action. They are in perfect harmony with Nature. They effect a permanent cure. You need take them regularly only a little while. After that, use them occasionally when you need them—when you have eaten anything that disagrees with you. They may be taken just as freely as you would take water or any other necessity of life. Once used they are always in favour.

Hints on Photography.

The first thing to be considered is the arranging of the camera so that it will be exactly perpendicular with the picture. A copying-stand is a great convenience, not an actual necessity. A vertical support, with the drawing or picture placed in such a manner that its center shall come on an exact line with the center of the lens, is all that is required. A board the width of the bed of the camera, and perhaps five feet in length, will answer every purpose of a copying-stand. At one end of this board fasten a small piece of board in such a way that it shall be at exactly right angles with the long board. This small board is the support for the picture. The camera either rests on the board, or is raised a little above it by a small block, the adjustment depending on the size of the picture to be copied. To find whether the center of the lens corresponds with that of the picture place the camera quite near the picture, thread a piece of silk through the center of the lens cap, place the cap on the lens, and carry the string to the center of the picture. In this way one can readily see whether the two centers correspond with each other. In copying a black and white picture we want no half-tones or shadows, so that if the paper has a grain it must be placed in a strong front light. An all-round illumination, which can be had by using the apparatus out of doors, is the best lighting, as there is no possibility of shadows. The most suitable plate for copying a black and white picture is the brand called "photo-mechanical." If these plates are not easily obtained, use a very slow plate.—Harper's Round Table.

The Coroner Was Not Required.

A party of men went bathing in a creek near Trenton the other day, and one disappeared. The others, after a search, went to the coroner, who repaired to the scene of the trouble with a coffin and grappling iron. While grappling the stream the supposed drowned man suddenly appeared half clad from the bushes and wanted to know what the trouble was. He explained to the astonished coroner that while swimming he had become sick and crawled to the bushes and fainted. When he came to he found his companions had gone and taken most of his clothing.

LEADING HATTERS.

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Last Wednesday morning about sixteen young people of this village embarked on the Mary Ellen to spend the day on beautiful and picturesque Stony Lake. The weather was all that could be desired, and the party spent a most delightful day. The genial Capt. Scollard kindly allowed the excursionists to disembark at various islands. Lunch was served on board by the ladies, and they maintained their reputation of being capable of catering to the most epicurean taste. The party arrived home about six o'clock, well pleased with their days outing and loud in their praise of the courteous captain and crew, who, along with their various duties, found sufficient time to entertain and make the trip a most enjoyable one.

Misses Lillian Young, Alice Burns and Nellie Henebery, of Chicago, are the guests of Miss Maggie Kearney, of the Lakeview House.

Miss Lizzie Buckley, Lakefield, is visiting her sister, Mrs. W. Young.

Miss Nellie Young returned home after visiting friends in Peterborough.

Miss Maggie Young leaves this week to visit friends in Rochester.

The water is extremely low in the lakes and river at present. The steamboat men find it a difficult task to wind their way among the islands.

Miss M. McPherson, Peterborough, is visiting her aunt here.

Mr. Walter Phelan, Peterborough, has returned home after paying a visit with friends here.

Messrs. G. White, J. Kennedy, J. Cavanagh, D. Fitzgerald and M. Peevir, Peterborough, who have been spending two weeks on Sandy Point camping, tore themselves away, returning home yesterday to attend to business.

The guests of the Lakeview house last week were:—Messrs. Bert Thompson, F. McKay, F. Logan, G. White, J. Kennedy, J. Davidson, E. Garvin and wife, Miss Cook, Peterborough; F. B. Leavenworth, J. McKelvey, R. Helfecker and wife, Rochester, N.Y.; Chas. Dunn, F. Ellis, J. Wilson, C. Guttison, E. Erriot, Peterborough; R. Cawson, Toronto; J. Fletcher, New York; M. E. Fathers and wife, Sterling.

The farmers' excursion of West Peterborough takes place on Tuesday, Sept. 1st, on the steamer Mary Ellen, to Mount Julian.

A large excursion passed through to-day from Bobcaygeon on the Golden City.

EAST CHANDOS.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The school teachers have arrived from their vacation and are looking so well they must have enjoyed themselves.

Thrashing has commenced and grain turns out well.

Mr. B. Woodbeck has a contract of building a fence across the school yard here, which is a surety that it will be well done.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Steinburg are visiting at Mr. Hubbie's for a few days.

Mrs. Silas Bullied and family from Peterborough are visiting at her father's for a few days. One of her children is very sick.

With the Sweetness of Melting Foam Fragrant Ivorine for the teeth dissolves in the mouth. A delightful preparation for the teeth is Ivorine, so fragrant and cleansing, so pleasant to the taste, and efficient beyond the desire of the most exacting. A dream of elegance and efficiency, for it whitens and purifies, affording brilliantly white teeth and breath as sweet and fragrant as that of the flowers.

Colic Cured.

DEAR SIRS,—I was very bad last summer with colic and a few doses of Wild Strawberry cured me. I am safe in recommending it as the best remedy ever used. I cannot speak too highly of it.

DECLARED NO RACE.

Canada Was Ahead in a Drifting Match,

TOOK FOUR HOURS TO GO SIX MILES

Without a Stiff Breeze the Chicago Challenger Will Have No Chance With the Canadian Defender, Which Was a Mile in Advance of Vencedor.

Toledo, Aug. 24.—(Special.)—The result of the first day's racing for the International Cup, although the race was unfinished, showed that the Vencedor cannot compete with the Canada in a drifting match. Whether this is on account of her design or because she is under-canvassed, or by reason of both, is an open question. The opinion that Canada would be the better boat in light weather was generally held before the race, so that no very valuable conclusion has been reached.

The prospects of either boat as the final winner of the cup are neither clouded nor brightened, because it is perfectly impossible for the race to be finished on such a light day as yesterday. The triangular course is nearly 28 miles, and when the weather work is taken into consideration an average speed of nearly six miles an hour will have to be maintained. In the weather-and-return race the distance is only 23 miles, but such a course is even less likely to be completed quickly than the triangular one.

Vencedor's crew expect to win in heavy or even moderate weather, but the Canada's skipper is equally confident. If the weather proves more propitious to-morrow, it will be seen which of the two opinions is the correct one.

The race was a failure on account of the lack of wind, as the Regatta Committee declared the race off at 3 o'clock this afternoon, after the yachts had drifted about four hours. When the race was called the Canada, which had a lead of over a mile, had only covered six miles, or about the quarter of the course, and was half way between the first and second marks on the first round.

The race was witnessed by a big crowd of spectators, and nearly a hundred steam and sailing craft followed the racers over the course. The Canadians were naturally greatly elated over the showing of their champion, while the yachtsmen on this side of the border were glum over the result. As a matter of fact, the original conditions have handicapped the Vencedor, so that it would be little short of a miracle if she wins in a light wind, though she will undoubtedly do well in a blow. As it is, she is under-canvassed and cannot do herself justice.

The course to-day was a triangular one of 12 miles, four miles to a leg, sailed over twice. When the starting signal was given at 11 o'clock both yachts hauled on the wind on the starboard tack and headed for the line. The Canada ran up on the Vencedor's weather quarter and set a big jib topsail and balloon fore-staysail, which, as she forged ahead, blanketed the Chicago boat and left her in the doldrums as she went over the line. It was sometime before the Vencedor felt th wind again, but in th meantime had run up a small jib topsail and began to gather headway, and crossed the line with little more than steerage way on her.

The Canada came about on the port tack at 11.23, and stood toward the Vencedor's bows, taking the wind out of her sails, and then, just as she began to fill again, she found the Canada had gone about and was on her weather quarter, and in a short time had cleared her well to the windward and gone off to the westward hunting wind. At 11.40 the Vencedor went about on the port tack in such a light air that she was 40 seconds in stays, and then stood well to the north, where it looked as though there might be a breeze. In all this time the yachts had not sailed a quarter of a mile each. At 11.49 the Canada came about on the port tack and stood after the Vencedor. At 11.55 the wind shifted to the east of north, and came out with enough strength for the first time to fill the sails, and then the yachts were able to lay their course on the starboard tack for the stake boat, with the wind abeam.

The Canada, with her bigger proportionate sail area, began to draw rapidly away from the Vencedor, which simply drifted along, and by the time the Canada turned the mark, at 1.13.40, the Royal Canadian yacht was a mile in the lead.

As soon as the Canada turned and stood off on the starboard tack the Vencedor's spinnaker was set to starboard, but it did her no good, as there was not enough wind to fill it, and it blanketed her head sail. At 1.40 she rounded the stake boat and headed for the Canada, which slowly continued to draw away, until at 3 o'clock the wind dropped to a flat calm, and a few moments later the Regatta Committee declared the race off for the day, as it was impossible to finish it within the required five and a half hours' time limit. The yachts will sail over teh same course to-morrow.

THE NEGLECTED ALTAR.

Believing that much of the increasing neglect of family worship is due to the difficulty encountered in hastily selecting passages of Scripture of a suitable devotional character, Sylvanus Stall, D.D., a careful Bible student and the author of several valuable books, has prepared a volume of 365 selections from the Bible for daily devotions, and the Funk & Wagnalls Company of New York will publish the same in a few days in a neat dollar volume. The selections are also for use in the chapel services of colleges, the opening devotions in the public schools, and for the daily use of Christian Endeavourers and members of other societies of young people.

WARSAW.

From Our Own Correspondent.

A heavy fire is raging in Mr. S. Hamblin's bush at present.

Miss Tilly Hope, of Peterborough, is visiting at A. F. Choates.

School reopened on Monday with a fair attendance.

Rev. Mr. Hyde and family have returned from the lake.

Miss J. Calder, of Essex county, is visiting at Mr. Alex. Calders.

Mrs. John Wasson is very ill this week.

Mr. Alex. Watts is having his house painted, repapered, etc.

Praise meeting was held in the Methodist church on Thursday evening instead of the usual prayer meeting.

Messrs. Tully, Morgan and Reid, are spending a few days at Stony Lake.

Thos. Wilson, of Hall's Glen, has purchased the blacksmith shop formerly owned by R. Moore. He took possession on Monday.

Misses Denoon and May, of Peterborough, who have been spending a few days in this vicinity, returned to town on Saturday.

A team belonging to Mr. McCauley, of Douro, ran away on Saturday last. No one was hurt but the waggon is a wreck.

We would advise all interested in Dairying to try one of Mr. J. Doughty's new sprays for destroying flies on cattle. This spray has been tried and gives entire satisfaction. It is highly recommended by S. R. Payne and others.

The body of the late Percy Payton, youngest son of James and Silva Payton, arrived here from Campbellford about five o'clock p.m. on Saturday. The remains were interred in the Warsaw cemetery.

TOUGH CLOTHES FOR THE BOYS.

Young Canada Begins Another Six Months' Schooling.

Tough clothes for boys to wear to school this Fall and Winter. That's the burden of our song. Strong clothes to stand the wear and tear of play, rough but healthy. Strong clothes to stand the work of out of doors fun in cold weather. We have just such things for the youngsters and, besides being full of wear, they are neat and shapely.

Did the last suit of clothes you bought for your boy from us, wear as well as it ought to have worn, considering the price paid? If it did you should go to the same store for the next suit. You get your money's worth. We deserve your patronage. We'll do better by you and by the boy than any other clothier.

5 CASES OF BOYS' NEW SUITS

These are only the advance guard of our Fall stock, for the boys. These are TWO and THREE piece Suits, and will fit boys all the way from 3 to 16 years. We sell the best of everything to keep in the heat, and keep out the cold for boys. We were boys ourselves, once,—it seems an awful long time ago.

We've all good qualities of Boys' Clothing. We've—probably—more Boys' Clothing in our store than in all the other stores put together. We've a weakness for supplying the boys. Ask yours if this isn't so?

Some idea we may give you of the value and inducement we purpose giving to buyers, when we say will buy a beautiful, heavy, all wool, neatly made, well trimmed, and built of Auburn Mills Tweed Suit.

A $2.00 BILL

Of course we've cheaper Suits, and as low as 95c per suit. Better Suits up to $3.00 and $4.00, but

OUR $2.00 SUIT

IS A CORKER.

Just the thing for a boy's school Suit, and as good as ever sold for $3.50.

Mothers should see these Suits. You know value. You know your boy's clothes-wrecking propensities.

Come to us. We're full of economical suggestions. No matter what your money is, we'll help you to make it go as far as it can. Come! The verdict is nearly always in our favour. It isn't often that the careful buyer decides against us.

"TOUGH CLOTHES FOR THE BOYS" That's our Motto.

CUTS AND THRUSTS.

Mr. Foster Criticizes the New Government.

THE MINISTER OF TRADE REPLIES

Sir Richard Banters the Opposition Generally and Causes Whip Taylor to Defend Himself—The Debate on the Address Brings Out Some Able Speeches.

Ottawa, Aug. 25.—(Special.)—The second day of the debate upon the Speech from the Throne sustained the interest. The galleries were filled and the attendance upon the floor was reinforced by a number of the braves returned from the battlefields in North Grey and New Brunswick.

Mr. Foster, who was greeted with warm party applause, addressed his opening remarks to certain observations of the mover of yesterday. Mr. McInnes, he said, had given as evidence of the depressing effect of 18 years of the National Policy that numbers of people, many of them persons of culture and refinement, were piling in applications for Government situations to such an extent that the lives of members and Cabinet Ministers were becoming a burden to them. Mr. Foster thought this was rather an evidence of the wide and consuming hunger amongst the Government's life-long followers after 18 years in opposition. It might also be looked upon as evidence of a full crib from which a liberal hand was ready to deal out to these tried and true and cultured followers the great and the small gifts for the time being at the party's disposal. If it was evidence of depression at all it was of the depression which would settle by-and-by on nineteen out of the twenty applications for office. The cultured and cultivated were indeed making their applications. Even old members were missing. Mr. Foster's longings had been satisfied with an office at $100 a year and Mr. King of New Brunswick had had his desires met by an appointment as postmaster of Marsh Hill at $10 a year. Following Mr. McInnes' speech, he found that the young member had been learning of Sir Richard Cartwright, for he talked of "The ungodly use of godly influences," and when he spoke of the National Policy he took pattern by Mr. Davies, who termed it a policy "accursed of God and man."

Greater modesty would have better become the young member, whom he recommended in future to avoid these apostles and prophets of disaster.

The Premier yesterday had referred to the earthquake of June 23, but where did the earthquake take place? Not in Prince Edward Island, where the Liberals were in the minority; not in Nova Scotia, where with all their arts and power and aid of the Provincial Government the Liberals could not command a majority; not in New Brunswick, where they could only get four seats out of fourteen. In Ontario there had been no earthquake. Mr. Laurier could not command a majority there. Neither could he in Manitoba. Quebec, where an insidious landslide, rather than any earthquake had occurred, had put Mr. Laurier in power. Even in British Columbia the earthquake had not extended there, divisions in the Conservative ranks due to honest differences of opinion giving the Liberals two Conservative seats. Taking up the Speech from the Throne Mr. Foster remarked that the Premier had little to offer the House and country. No man had been able to float so long on simple words out of which no definite meaning could be taken as the present leader of the Government. (Hear, hear.)

Mr. Foster called attention to the violation of all Liberal principles by the deliberate refusal to vote moneys and then for the new Government to have recourse to a Governor-General's warrant. A Governor-General's warrant was asked for and given without hesitation in July for $1,000,000. Of this amount, however, the document tabled yesterday showed they could only spend $500,000. Some careful, prudent Finance Minister asked for one million dollars, where only $500,000 was necessary. The same thing was done in the month of August. Now, if by a Governor-General's warrant, two millions could be appropriated for departmental salaries, why not twelve millions, or thirty-six millions? (Hear, hear.) How the welkin would have resounded with Liberal denouncements if the Conservatives had done this! Maybe the Conservatives would not have got a Governor-General's warrant. (Opposition cheers.) But if they had, how the charges would have been rung on the action of an iniquitous Tory Government! (Hear, hear.)

Talk about wobblers, but in front of him was the boss wobbler of all.

Sir Richard Cartwright laughed.

Mr. Foster, continuing, said that five years ago Sir Richard had denounced the action of the Liberal-Conservatives in securing a Governor-General's warrant for unexpected expenses on the Intercolonial Railway. The air was blue with his denunciations. But what had Sir Richard Cartwright to say now? What had become of his cherished convictions of five years ago? He (Mr. Foster) was safe in asserting that no Tory Government had ever resorted to such action as that pursued by the Liberal Government in this matter. Mr. Foster proceeded to criticise the personnel of the new Ministry and chaffed the Liberals for their disappointed hopes. Where was the Sage of Bothwell today? Way down in the groves of that county he wandered disconsolate and alone. The bosom friend of Mr. Laurier to-day took refuge in poetry and philosophy from the canker and bitterness of disappointed hope. (Laughter.) And away down in the Guysboro shore there might be at that moment the ponderous form of the friend of Mr. Laurier, Mr. Fraser, but who to-day was lamenting his cruel fate in having to give way for a man new to Dominion warfare. (Laughter.) Then there was a gallant colonel from King's (Domville), another disappointed man, and the prophetic-looking adherent of the Liberal party, Mr. Ellis, who fought their battles for twenty-five years, but who had been passed over for another man new in the field of Dominion politics.

To-day the late member for Winnipeg was in torture and wondered whether the same recognition and kindly reward for past services would be meted out to him as to Mr. Tarte. (Laughter.) Why was he not Minister of the Interior? Was there another deal on? Was somebody to be fixed before they could decide on a man, and was there a consideration floating around for somebody? As regards the meagre bill of fare in the speech he might ask why no legislation had been introduced. Where was Mr. Mulock with his seal of two years ago and his desire to reduce the Governor-General's salary to $35,000 per annum? What about Mr. Davies' proposals to curtail the expenses of office? Why no legislation covering that? Then there was Mr. Laurier's promise to controllers to increase their salaries to $7000. Why no measure on that point? Probably the Premier intended to do it with a Governor-General's warrant. (Laughter.) Where was the franchise measure which was to be introduced, and what had become of the ninth and last plank in the Liberal platform in favor of a plebiscite on prohibition? Then, above all, why was there not a tariff measure?

He proceeded to recite from speeches of Mr. Laurier and Sir Richard Cartwright and others their views on the iniquities of the present tariff. If protection and the National Policy was so bad why would the Government stay their hands for nine months? Probably the reason why Sir Richard Cartwright was not able to carry out his declarations was because he was not sitting in the seat that he declared was to be his. (Laughter.) A tariff measure could not go through the House before April, May or June of next year, and why should the people of this country be "bled white" for that further period, as Sir Richard Cartwright put it?

Mr. Foster went on to refer to the Manitoba school question and insinuated that if the Government had settled the question with the Manitoba Government there must have been an understanding to that effect before the election. Continuing, he spoke of the meagreness of the Speech from the Throne, and went on to denounce the Premier and the Government for the alleged proposal to surrender Canadian rights in the waterways to the United States.

SIR RICHARD CARTWRIGHT.

Sir Richard Cartwright followed the ex-Finance Minister in a characteristically able speech. He began with some clever banter at the expense of the previous speaker and the leader of the Opposition. He contended that the logical explanation of Mr. Foster's remark in regard to Sir Charles Tupper's having sacrificed his lucrative office was that Mr. Foster thought the Conservative party would not have been beaten had Sir Charles Tupper remained in England. The late Conservative administration he accused of corruption and incapacity, and the treachery to Sir Mackenzie Bowell led the party to buck on the late Ministers. Besides, Sir Charles made the mistake of taking a new departure at the last election of for once trusting the saints rather than the sinners. But to judge by his speech of last night, he would not try it again. (Laughter.) Sir Richard ridiculed The Mail's computation of the party vote, quoted by Sir Charles Tupper, and claimed that, instead of a popular majority of 25,000, the Conservatives were in a minority of 1500. But it was a matter of more importance that the Liberals had a majority in the House of 35 or 40—(cries of, Oh, oh)—and of the Liberal members not one owed his seat to corrupt practices, while one in three of the Opposition were petitioned against. (Laughter.)

Sir Richard defended the Governor-General's warrants as being necessitated by wholly exceptional circumstances. Would Mr. Foster, he asked, have desired that the Government's railway and canal employes, "and even the poor clerks in these departments," should have remained unpaid? The Opposition were justified in refusing supplies last session, just as the Governor-General was to be justified in refusing to sign a warrant for them, because that Government did not have the confidence of the people.

Sir Richard, immediately after dinner, took occasion to announce that there had been two elections to-day, and to the delight of the Liberals proceeded to give the majorities of Messrs. Blair and Paterson. Then, taking up Mr. Foster's charges against Sir Richard, he endeavored to justify the action of the Government in issuing the Governor-General's warrants. He claimed that the Government had secured the very best legal advice within their reach, and had adopted the only means known to the constitution to meet a public emergency, consequent upon the action of the late Government. Had the late Government not acted unconstitutionally in keeping Parliament until its last legal limit, this state of affairs would never have arisen. Referring to the election issue he said he noticed Mr. Taylor in his place, and would like him to explain if it were true that he had said he had been sent to Owen Sound to announce that Remedial Legislation was no more the policy of the Conservative party, and that if they voted for Mr. Paterson they voted for Quebec domination.

Mr. Taylor denied having made the statement.

Sir Richard Cartwright said he was of course bound to accept Mr. Taylor's statement, which, however, differed from the newspaper reports, and he would have to square himself with the

PATERSON AND BLAIR

Both Returned by Sweeping Majorities.

A TWO-FOLD GOVERNMENT TRIUMPH

Notwithstanding the Desperate Fight Made by the Conservatives the Ministers of Railways and Customs Have the Support of the People —A Great Victory.

Owen Sound, Aug. 25.—(Special.)—The fondest dreams of the Liberals were more than realized to-night as the returns came slowly in from all over the riding. Mr. Paterson's majority is 408.

The election was remarkable for the large number of voters who were brought in from a distance. Men came from as far west as Regina, Dakota and Winnipeg and from points all over Ontario.

When the Controller of Customs accepted the Liberal nomination for North Grey, he displayed an amount of pluck, not to say rashness, which few men would have cared to show. But his courage and the hard work of his lieutenants were more than rewarded by his brilliant victory to-night. The majorities in the June election and to-day were as follows:

June 23—Majority for McLauchlan, Owen Sound 90, Sullivan 6, Holland 130, Sarawak 40.

Majority for Clark, Keppel 96, Sydenham 100, Derby 45.

Net majority for Clark, 52.

Aug. 25—Majority for Paterson, Owen Sound 133, Sullivan 45, Keppel 86, Sydenham 209, Derby 52.

Majority for McLauchlan—Holland 105, Sarawak 12.

Paterson's total majority 525.

McLauchlan's total majority 117.

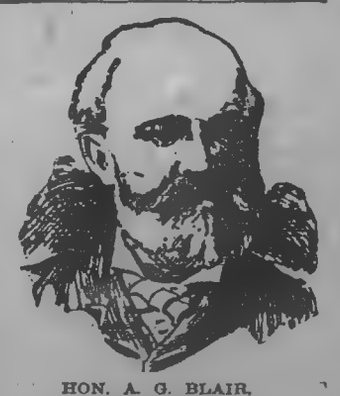
Paterson's net majority 408.

It will be seen from the above figures that Mr. Paterson made tremendous gains throughout the entire riding, except in the Township of Keppel, the municipality in which the late John Clark resided and in which that gentleman had received 96 majority; Mr. Paterson did only ten worse. The vote in Owen Sound, which has always been a Conservative stronghold, was a great surprise to everyone, and as soon as it was known that this town had given the Controller 133 majority, the Conservatives realised that their man was badly defeated.

MR. BLAIR'S VICTORY.

The Minister of Railways and Canals Had a Substantial Majority.

St. John, N.B., Aug. 25.—Queen's and Sunbury was the scene of a lively contest to-day, and fully 500 workers left St. John this morning by boat and rail to take part in the contest. The Liberals left no stone unturned to get non-resident voters to different parishes, while the Conservatives made desperate efforts to stem the tide that had set in against them for the past few days. Messrs. Fraser, Logan, Macdonald, Emerson, Hawke,



HON. A. G. BLAIR, Minister of Railways.

Domville and other Liberals have met and ousted Hon. Mr. Foster, Mr. Wilmot and their followers. The munitions of war were not wanted either by the Conservatives, so the contest was waged with fury. It was evident, however, for some days that Hon. Mr. Blair would carry the seat, and when the votes were counted it showed that Mr. Blair had 694 majority. Sunbury, which gave a majority of 121 over Mr. King in the last contest, gave Mr. Blair 141 majority. Mr. Blair carried every parish except one in Sunbury. In Queen's, where Mr. King had a majority of 307 over Mr. Wilmot, Mr. Blair has increased his majority.

A BRAVE BOY'S DEATH.

Howard Atkins Lost His Life Attempting to Save His Younger Brother, Who Was Rescued Later.

Charlottetown, P.E.I., Aug. 25.—While trying to save his brother Albert from drowning this afternoon, Howard Atkins, a boy of 17, met his death and the other boy was rescued by a third party in a boat. The first boy had been thrown into the harbor at Lower Montague by the collision of two row boats.

YESTERDAYS BYE-ELECTIONS.

The electors have emphatically repeated expression of their confidence in a Liberal Government. In North Grey, Hon. Wm. Patterson, Minister of Customs, was elected by the large majority of 400 over Mr. McLaughlin, the Conservative candidate, and in Sunbury and Queens, Hon. A. G. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals, was returned by a majority of nearly 700. These results are cause for congratulation on the part of every friend of honest government, based on principle and not upon veering policy.

In North Grey especially the Conservatives sought to commend their candidate to popular favour by a complete flop-over, a complete reversal of their policy urged at the general elections of only two short months previous. In their desperation to score a win they did not hesitate to stultify themselves. But the result shows that the party and its shifting policy is permanently discredited—that the people have no confidence in this facing both-ways party. It was thought a rather risky, if not rash thing for Mr. Patterson to select North Grey as a constituency in an election upon which so much depended, but the result has vindicated his political prescience. He had to fight for his place and will, therefore, hold it with all the more honour. North Grey has heretofore shown itself to be an uncertain riding. In the general elections of 1891 Mr., now Judge, Masson, Conservative, was returned by the considerable majority of 247. Mr. Clarke, Liberal, redeemed the riding at the last general elections, in June, by the narrow majority of 60. His death left the constituency open, and it is no longer a doubtful riding, but solidly Liberal. In New Brunswick another great Liberal victory, was achieved in the return of Hon. A. G. Blair, Minister of Railways and Canals, by an immensely increased majority over the returns of June 23rd. The Liberal majority at that time was 177. Hon. Mr. Blair's majority is 694. In both these ridings the most desperate attempts on the part of the Opposition were made, but the wave of popular will in favour of the Government was too strong to be stemmed. A party to win popular approval must have some little claim to consistency—must give some evidence, which the Opposition has utterly failed to do, that it is worthy of being trusted; that it is willing to do right for right's sake, and not blow hot and cold on the same policy in the short space of two "revolving moons."

TOXIC THEORY OF SUNSTROKE.

NEW YORK PHYSICIANS MAKE INTERESTING EXPERIMENTS.

Poison in the Blood—Demonstrated When it was Injected Into Rabbits.

The cause of sunstroke has at length been definitely discovered. The investigations show that, instead of the sun's rays being the direct cause of the sunstroke, as has all along been believed by the medical profession, as well as by the people at large, the fact is that the internal chemistry of the body and its secretions is so modified by atmospheric conditions of excessive hot weather that some of these secretions became abnormal, either in quality of quantity, are absorbed by the blood and as virulent poisons.

Nothing could be simpler or more reasonable than this toxic theory of sunstroke, and now that it is supported by the well established results of various careful experiments, there will doubtless be many to say that the same idea had occurred to them. The truth, however, is that all of the best known authorities on the subject ignore the toxic theory in their writings upon sunstroke, its causes and treatment, although, strangely enough, the whole clinical history of sunstroke gives the most dramatic evidence of the action of poison throughout its whole course of duration.

Drs. Van Greson, Lambert and Lewin of the State Pathological Institute, made the experiments. Dr. Lambert's province was to attend to the clinical history of the plague. He made a record of all the cases and the complete history of each. These records will show the research work of the department under the auto-intoxication theory during the epidemic. Auto-intoxicants, it may be explained, are intoxicants that are gotten up within the system itself.

The second department had to do with animal experiments and was in charge of Drs. Van Gresen and Lewin. These experiments were to demonstrate the nature of sunstroke as auto-intoxication. First secretion from acute living cases in Bellevue hospital was obtained and it was injected into rabbits. It proved to be less poisonous than it would have been under ordinary conditions, thus showing that the poison of sunstroke had to be retained in the body. The secretion was under toxic in that it demonstrated that poisons were retained in the human body and absorbed in the blood.

A second set of experiments was then made with the brain fluids, the cerebro-spinal fluid and the brain ventricular fluids. These were of acute cases, immediately after death. The subjects had died in the hospital a few hours after being received there. Four rabbits died from the injection of these fluids within twelve hours. The symptoms, unfortunately, were not observed, as their death occurred between midnight and daybreak, when no one was observing them. Their bodies were discovered by the janitor of the building.

The third set of experiments was the most interesting and most decisive of the lot. This injection was of the blood of living cases just after they had been stricken by the sun. Four animals received the injection through the ear vein. They all showed uniform results. In fifteen minutes after the injection the temperature rose from two to three degrees and within forty-five minutes to one hour and a half the animals had severe convulsions. There were clonic, or momentary convulsions, of all four extremities and these were so severe that the animals usually died in one of these attacks. In the majority of cases one convulsion was enough to produce death. The poison was intense and acted promptly. There was no mistaking the fact that it was deadly.

You cannot say that you have tried everything for your rheumatism, until you have taken Ayer's Pills. Hundreds have been cured of this complaint by the use of these Pills alone. They were admitted on exhibition at the World's Fair as a standard cathartic.

NORTH HARVEY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The regular monthly meeting of the Gospel Temperance Society was held in the church last Wednesday night. There was a very good attendance and the programme of readings, recitations and singing was fairly up to the average. After the programme the installation of officers for the ensuing year took place. Mrs. James Beatty was appointed President and Harry Brumwell, Secretary. This is the first time in the history of the society here that a lady has been chosen to fill an office, although they are well qualified to do so. This goes to show that even here women are coming to the front and I suppose we must bow to the inevitable. However we wish Mrs. Beatty success and we feel certain that she will aquit herself creditably in the discharge of the duties that devolve upon her.

Bush fires have been raging on all sides and have done immense damage to timber but no buildings have been burned so far. There was a heavy rain fell early Sunday morning, in fact it just poured down, and it will have a good effect in checking if not drowning it altogether. This is the first heavy rain we have had this season.

Miss Dolly Trotter, of Bobcaygeon, who was visiting friends here, has returned home.

Now that there is again an opening in the Cabinet, caused, we are sorry to say, by the death of Mr. Balfour, we hope that the claims of Mr. Stratton may be pressed this time to a successful termination. We will anxiously await the result.

School opened here again last Monday and Miss Down, our teacher is once more amongst us after her long vacation. She is very popular here as a teacher, and rightly so, for she is very painstaking with the children under her charge.

Mr. Amos Ventress is home to see his friends, on a flying visit from Jamaica. We understand that his visit to Canada is partly in connection with insurance business, of which he is a representative on that island. He is looking very well.

It is reported that Richard Gerrard has sold his farm, lot 22, con. 14, to James Ward, the consideration being four hundred and fifty dollars.

Mrs. C. Mollmoyle is visiting her brother at Buckhorn.

Mr. John Reid and Miss Kate Reid, of Roseboro, are visiting their sister, Mrs. W. D. Ventress.

When Should a Man Swear?

Man is not only a reasoning but a swearing animal. Sometimes his feelings are expressed audibly and at others they are so deep down in his nature that nothing less than a volcano would thrust them to the surface. If a man should swear at all, when should that time be? The church is silent on this important matter and the law gives no sanction to cuss words. Stovepipes are provocative of bad feeling, but corns are far worse. Wives should see that their husband's corns are kept down. This may be done quite easily, painlessly and with absolute certainty by Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Beware of flesh-eating substitutes offered for Putnam's Corn Extractor.

A SAD WARNING.

James Henry Attempted to Crawl Under a Train Which Started and Crushed Him to Death.

Comber, Ont., Aug. 25.—James Henry, a man well up in years, was killed at South Woodslee on Monday night. A freight train was standing on the sidetrack and Henry, desiring to cross to the other side, endeavored to do so by crawling underneath one of the cars. Just at this juncture the train was put in motion and the unfortunate man was caught by the wheels. He was badly mangled, both legs being severed from his body. The unfortunate man lived only 15 minutes after the accident. Mr. Henry was well known around Woodslee, where he carried on the insurance business, and he also dealt in cattle and grain. His remains were gathered up and taken to the freight sheds and after removed to his late home.

newspapers. The Minister then took up the tariff question and mentioned that time was required in order to see what reductions were necessary. He defended Mr. Laurier from attacks made on him for The Chicago Record interview, and contended that it was the highest statesmanship to cultivate friendly relations with the United States. He read from the recent papers of Lord Russell at Saratoga on this point, and commended them to the Opposition and people of Canada. (Liberal cheers.)

After replying in detail to Mr. Foster's allegations, Sir Richard spoke on the tariff changes as follows:

Mr. Foster had condemned the Government because they had not instantly brought down a tariff which was likely to effect very numerous and important changes in the fiscal system of the country. Was ever a more childish criticism offered? Was ever a more childish complaint made? And it was doubly so in the case of Mr. Foster himself. Had he forgotten how two or three years ago, when it became necessary to make some trifling changes in the existing tariff that hon. gentleman and his two controllers required to perambulate the whole Dominion for an entire year, required to hold conferences with all sorts and conditions of men, and after a whole year's work they practically did nothing. The whole result of the hon. gentleman's charges amounted to something like one-fortieth of 1 per cent. of the total. This was the hon. gentleman who considered the Government were not carrying out one of their promises to the country, because they asked for four or five months' time before proceeding with a question of the greatest magnitude and importance, affecting every single living soul from one end of the Dominion to the other. It was the duty of the Government to take all the time they required to produce a well-considered tariff. There was a greater need of time for consideration in making reductions in the tariff than in making additions to it. A great deal of mischief might be done in making additions to it, but the mischief was gradual and did not involve any great immediate disturbance, but in the reverse case very salutary reductions might cause some disturbance. There was, therefore, a double reason why the whole tariff should be considered well and carefully, so that when the Finance Minister did bring down his tariff there might be no need of those incessant alterations which had heretofore disfigured the fiscal history of the country. Sir Richard convicted Sir Charles Tupper of having attempted to lead the House to believe that Hon. David A. Wells has ascribed the material condition of Canada as compared with that of the United States to the National Policy. When, as a matter of fact, he had done no such thing. Mr. Wells was discussing the banking system of the two countries, and not the fiscal system. The Minister of Trade and Commerce concluded with a reply to the criticisms that had been levelled at Mr. Laurier by the Opposition for having expressed a desire to act the part of a neighbor towards the people of the United States. Sir Richard said that the friendship of the United States was a most valuable thing, not only to the Dominion of Canada, but to the British Empire at large. The truest statesmanship that any Canadian statesman could show was to cultivate by all peaceful, fair and honorable means the friendship of our kinsmen, the people of the United States. In support of this view he quoted a recent notable utterance of Lord Salisbury.

Mr. Ives replied to Sir Richard, and was followed in turn by Mr. Stinson of Richmond and Wolfe, and Mr. N. F. Davin.

Mr. Quinn of Montreal Centre moved the adjournment and the House rose at 10.30.

Pure Juice of Fruit.

Most of the summer beverages are mere stuff and are neither thirst-quenching nor refreshing—while many of them are quite injurious. On the island of Montserrat the Lime is cultivated and the pure fruit juice pressed out, bottled and sold all over the world under the trade mark name

MONTSERRAT

It is pure, wholesome and refreshing. Beware of imitations. "Montserrat" is sold by all druggists and grocers, and is always to be had where summer drinks are sold.

If a Lime Juice Cordial is required "Limetta" will be found the finest article of its kind on the market.

Carriage, Wagon and Buggy Tops

Made to order cheaper and better than you can buy the ready-made article.

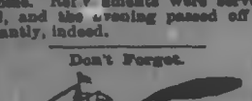
Last Night's Moonlight.

Last evening the Charlotte street C. E. held a moonlight excursion. It was well attended, and the steamer North Star and scow were chartered to take the party. The time was enlivened by the excellent music provided by the S. O. E. Band, and some of those who were gifted with musical voices made good use of them in the rendition of glees and choruses, and the hymns were not forgotten either. After going about six miles down the river the steamer was turned around and headed for home. Refreshments were served on board, and the evening passed off very pleasantly, indeed.

Don't Forget.



On Thursday, Aug. 27th, the North Star will run her usual trip to Highland Park, Jubilee and Harwood, leaving the Peterborough wharf at 2 p.m., sharp. The moon being full now a delightful return trip will be had. The Star will also run on Saturday afternoon, as usual, and will leave the wharf at 3 p.m. Return tickets to Jubilee and Harwood, 30c, to Highland Park, 25c.

C. W. CALCUTT, Master.

A BAD BOY.

Only Eleven Years of Age and Yet Convicted of Theft Three Times.

William Godfrey, a little lad of eleven years of age was before Police Magistrate Dumble this morning for the third time on a charge of theft.

On the other two occasions the lad was allowed to go on suspended sentence, being charged on one occasion with stealing a pair of shoes from R. Neill, and on the other with robbing Mr. Russel in the county of some honey.

The charge laid against Godfrey this morning, was that of the theft of a pigeon from Sgt.-Major Peters.

The Sgt.-Major is a great pigeon fancier and raises some very valuable birds which he disposes of in Toronto. During the last year about $25 worth of pigeons have mysteriously disappeared and consequently the owner has had his eye peeled for some time in the hope of detecting the thief who was depleting his stock.

A few days ago his little six-year-old son pointed out to the sergeant-major on the street a boy whom, he stated, had tried to induce him to assist in stealing some birds from the loft. Mr. Peters instantly resolved himself into a private detective and shadowed the lad, who was young Godfrey, to his home. The next day the sergeant-major called and saw the boy's mother, informing her of his suspicions, which were that some of the pigeons might be found on the premises. A search resulted in a young barb being found on which the sergeant-major had set considerable store.

The arrest of the boy followed, as it was desired that an example should be set.

This morning Godfrey pleaded guilty to stealing the pigeon and also stated that he had taken another pair but had returned them. When asked how he got the birds he stated that he had caught them on the fence. The absurdity of catching a pigeon in this manner was, of course, apparent, and that the young prisoner was not sticking to the truth was proven by the fact that the birds were not out at all but were caged, preparatory to being shipped away.

The Magistrate was in a quandary what to do with a youth who, evidently, was almost hopelessly beyond the control of his parents, as evidenced by the testimony of his mother who stated that he was incorrigible.

Unwilling to take the extreme measure of sending so young a boy to the Reformatory, Mr. Dumble gave him another chance to mend his ways.

MEMORIAL TO THE LATE REV. W. C. BRADSHAW.

A Meeting at St. Luke's Church to Consider the Subject.

An important congregational meeting was held in St. Luke's School House last night; to consider what steps should be taken to erect a suitable memorial to the late Rev. W. C. Bradshaw. The rector presided, and after some discussion of the various suggestions made, it was decided to refer the matter to the following committee, which will at a future date report the result of their deliberations to the congregation:—Rev. H. Symonds, John Burnham, A. Dawson, H. Adams, D. Spence, G. Mitchell, J. J. Howden, Mrs. Orde, Mrs. Tivey, Mrs. Bennett and Miss Graham.

THE LAWN SOCIAL.

It Was a Great Success Last Evening.

A lawn social under the auspices of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavour, in connection with the George street Methodist church, was held last evening in the grounds of the Mensies property.

The affair was well patronized, and the excellent programme rendered by the Fire Brigade band added greatly to the pleasure of the evening.

Refreshments of every variety were served by pretty girls, and the young men were few who did not contribute financially towards the success of the affair by investing liberally in icecream, cake or flowers.

CHILDREN IN COURT.

A Whole Batch of Small Lads Before the P. M.

Six small boys were up in the Police Court this morning, charged with entering a house belonging to Mr. Laroque and damaging it by breaking windows, etc.

All the boys but one denied their guilt, although acknowledging being in the house. The magistrate judged all guilty alike, but allowed them to go on a promise being given by the parents that each would be soundly flogged.

The parents seemed to think that it will be easier to control the lads after school opens, as having all their time to themselves makes it very hard to watch boys. The offenders were warned against again appearing before the magistrate.

CIVIC COMMITTEES.

Finance, Sewerage and Streets and Bridges.

There were as many councillors around the municipal buildings last evening as though a council meeting was about to be held.

Three committees were in session.

The Finance Committee passed a number of accounts.

The Sewerage Committee decided to run the sewer along the north side of Charlotte street instead of in the centre.

The Committee on Streets and Bridges will recommend the replanking of the bridges on Brock and Hunter streets, and the replacing of the one on McDonel street. It was also decided to put Water street in better repair.

Model Yacht Race.

A race of yacht models will be held on the Little Lake, on the Ashburnham side, to-morrow evening at 6.30. Three yacht models are entered—"Tornado," Mr. Wm. Tripp, skipper; "Vreda," Mr. Wm. Randle; and "Mars," Mr. Fred. Sheppard. A silver cup, now on exhibition at Schneider's jewellery store, is the trophy. The first race was won about three weeks ago by the "Tornado," and this race decides the winner.

Call and Sample a Cup of

The Exhibit will be at ALEX. ELLIOTT'S Store until Monday, August the 17th.

Fruit Jars.

China Hall has received a full carload, 1440 cases, of fruit jars. Do not buy a jar till you have seen their jars and got their price. Their jars are guaranteed not to crack in filling and will be replaced in case they do. Prices the lowest in town. See the "Beaver" or the "Bees" before buying the ordinary jar.

A BUSH FIRE SPREADS TO NASSAU.

The Mills in Danger But Saved by Hard Work.

This afternoon a fire that had been set in a heap of rubbish on a farm, about half a mile north-east of Nassau, reached the chip yards at the Nassau mills and at one time threatened to burn the mills themselves. The mill whistle blew, the people turned out and the steam pump was turned on the blaze. The boarding house of Mr. Byers at one time took fire and by energetic work the contents were removed safely. By hard work the flames have been prevented from spreading, but the fire is still burning in the sawdust along the river bank.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS AND COLLEGIATE INSTITUTE.

Everything Ready for the Opening on Sept. 1st.

On Tuesday, Sept. 1st, the Public Schools and Collegiate Institute enter upon the work of the fall term, for which, on the part of the authorities everything is ready. The vacancies on the staff of the Public Schools have been filled for some time, and the vacancy on the staff of the Collegiate Institute, the Commercial Mastership, caused by the resignation of Mr. Drope, has been filled by the appointment of Mr. Jos. McCaig, B.A. Mr. McCaig is an honour graduate of Toronto University, and lately assistant master in Prescott High School.

Now that the authorities have done their part, it remains for parents and pupils to do theirs, by seeing that there if a full attendance on the opening morning, so that books may be ordered, classes organized, and lessons assigned, so that work may go on from the beginning. It is a great drawback to both teachers and classes to have loiterers dropping in and disorganizing arrangements that have been made at the beginning of the term.

THE BAND CONCERT.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I, myself, am "Altruist." The secretary of the Children's Aid Society was perfectly justified in denying that he was "Altruist," but he was not justified in imputing wrong motives to me and putting a wrong construction upon my letter. If I understand him he infers that I criticised the attitude of the churches towards the Children's Aid Society. A newspaper man once remarked to me that he was weighted with a double responsibility—that of providing brains to write an article, and that of providing brains for the reader to understand, or rather, not misconstruct what was written. I may have failed to express myself clearly in my letter, but if the genial secretary and those that have spoken to him on the subject would take the trouble to read my letter carefully, he and they will see that the gravamen of my charge was criticism of the attitude of the churches towards the band, which, by the meagre patronage of their concert, which was their contribution to the funds of the society, was treated to but scant gratitude—something I still maintain. I have no word of reproach for the churches in respect of their support of the society, but I do think that the churches of the town that have made money repeatedly out of the free services of the band, treated the band rather shabbily in not patronising their concert last Friday night.

The "secretary" naively attributes the small attendance to accident. Perhaps he is right; but, if he were taking an evening walk along the river and knew that, for lack of help, someone was drowning a dozen yards away and he pursued his walk, letting the victim drown comfortably, would he call that accident and consider his skirts clear? Let us understand each other, Mr. Secretary and good church people, and we shall get on nicely together. Yours, etc.,

ALTRUIST.

THE SACRED RECITAL CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—Your correspondent in reply to Mr. Poussette should remember that Christian "apologetics" is one of the main points of theology as taught in our colleges. Hence the "apology" or explanation of Mr. Poussette, no doubt. Whatever is good comes of God and good music is no exception. That is where "Banjo" makes his mistake. "Barracks" music is not usually good, hence the comparison is improper. When it is good, a comparison will hold. The spirit in which a thing is done is the true test. Otherwise how shall "Banjo" himself get into Heaven.

The Rev. Mr. Davidson and Herr Stoeving are entitled to the thanks of the people present for a good sermon with notes and a good one without them.

FOR THE SUBLIME AND BEAUTIFUL.
Aug. 25th, 1896.

THE SACRED RECITAL AT ST. JOHN'S.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—A propos of the narrow-gauge and illiberal letter of "Banjo" in last night's EXAMINER, I wish to place one William Shakspere in the witness box:—

The man that hath no music in himself,
Nor is not moved with concord of sweet sounds,
Is fit for treasons, stratagems and spoils;
The motions of his spirit are dull as night,
And his affections dark as Erebus,
Let no such man be trusted.

Verb. sup.

Yours very truly,
HARMONY.

DUMMER.

Matrimonial.

Wednesday afternoon at the Methodist parsonage, Peterborough, the Rev. Mr. Rae united in wedlock Mr. Robt. Golloher, son of Mr. Richard Golloher, and Miss Elizabeth Kavanagh, daughter of Mr. William Kavanagh, both of Dummer. The happy couple will take up residence in Dummer.

Opening Attraction.

Next Monday night the Wilson Comedy Company opens a week's engagement at the Opera House. This Company comes highly recommended. Read what the Port Hope Times says:—"Queen's Evidence," a strong sensational comedy, was presented last night to a good house by the Wilson Comedy Company. The play abounded in strong situations, which were well developed. Miss Helen Minkley as Kate Medland stamped herself as a finished and versatile actress. Solomon Isaacs, the rascally Jew, was cleverly presented by Frederick Wilson. Baby Florida in Little Arthur won the goodwill of the house by her pretty ways. They were well supported by the remaining members of the company. The interval between the second and third acts was enlivened by two excellent bass solos by Mr. Stoneman.

THE ONTARIO CABINET VACANCY

Press Opinions on the Subject.

Toronto Star.

Mr. Stratton, who is one of the ablest newspaper men in the province, as well as being one of the most popular men in Peterborough and the large district with which he is identified in a journalistic way, is said to be a candidate for the vacant portfolio.

A more popular appointment could not be made, for the late Mr. Balfour was the only newspaper man in the Government, and his career as Speaker and one of the advisers of those who have our provincial affairs in hand thoroughly demonstrated that the training obtained in a well-managed newspaper office is valuable in every department of an executive.

Mr. Stratton is young and vigorous, aggressive and able. He has not only built up a successful business, but is politically quite invincible in his constituency. The newspaper men of this province would be glad to see him given charge of an Ontario portfolio, and could confidently count upon him as not being too much of a partizan to administer faithfully the general affairs of which he might have charge, but also the peculiar interests which are a part of that sparsely settled, but promising, district of which Peterborough reasonably claims to be the centre.

By all means give Eastern Ontario an adequate and fair Cabinet representation. The Government with a portfolio at its disposal has an opportunity of doing the square thing and to a certain extent equalizing the disparity of Cabinet representation that exists as between the eastern and western parts of the province. The west supplies the lion's share of members to the Ontario Cabinet. Heretofore the east has taken the lamb's share, but it is now waking up and a demand which must be regarded as reasonable, is made for a fuller share in the counsels of the province.

Here is the Government's chance to make a double play—to do the right thing and at the same time do the popular thing—by awarding the vacant portfolio to the representative of some eastern constituency. There is enough available material there, and Premier Hardy can find no more effective means of doing so than by filling the present Cabinet vacancy with some gentleman representing a riding east of Toronto.—S.

People's Coal Co.:

GENTLEMEN,—Having heard a lot of talk in my shop about your coal, I determined to try it for myself, so I ordered half a ton and am pleased to be able to state I found it just as you represent, viz: gives an intense heat, lasts as long as any other coal, burns to a white ash, and is free from clinkers. In short, it just suits me, so please book my order for my winter's supply. Will let you know when to deliver it.

DAVID HALL,
Barber.

If you want to save money call and see us before ordering your coal. Our coal is the purest and most economical hard coal mined, and will give you the same satisfaction it gives Mr. Hall. Office—280 Charlotte street. Telephone 260.

How Iron Rusts.

Until the matter was investigated it was held that the rusting of iron was a simple combination of the iron with the oxygen of water, the hydrogen formerly combined with oxygen in water being set free. It has been found, however, that there are a great number of factors which affect the matter. Iron will not rust in pure water, nor in dry air, though the air contains free oxygen. Carbonic acid is held as a necessary adjunct to the oxidation, though there will not be any carbon in the resulting oxide. More than this, it seems there must be a layer of water on the iron, formed by condensation or otherwise.

AN OBJECT LESSON TO MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS.

The alleged defalcation of the city treasurer of Guelph, by which that city has been put to the loss of nearly $20,000, furnishes an important object lesson to other municipal corporations. Edmund Harvey, city treasurer of Guelph, has for a long time been cutting a wide swath, living in a style and investing money in a manner which his comparatively small salary could not admit of. These circumstances aroused suspicion, a special audit of his books was procured, and the result so far shows that there is a shortage of about $18,000. The circumstances show that the late treasurer had things pretty well his own way, the eye of the annual auditors failing to detect the manner in which the funds of the city were being milked by the treasurer. This only emphasizes the claim that is made, that the perfunctory annual audit of municipal accounts is, in many cases, utterly useless in the direction of ascertaining the real state of the town finances and municipal treasurers' books. With a proper audit, such as has been made by experts, it would have been impossible for the funds of the City of Guelph to have been systematically stolen without detection during a term of a dozen years. And from the mode of appointing auditors such results are sure to follow when there is an inclination to crookedness on the part of a Treasurer. The general system of appointing municipal auditors is all wrong. Too often an auditor is selected, not because of his special fitness or qualification for the office, but because he worked well for them in the January elections, because he is hard up and needs the salary, because he's a good fellow, because he's a Grit, because he's a Tory, because he has a big pull, and for a thousand other reasons, except the only reason that should commend his appointment—expert knowledge of accounts and undoubted uprightness. With the average auditor appointed under such conditions, a shrewd and dishonestly inclined treasurer can divert the funds entrusted to his care and cover up his crooked tracks so that they can not be discovered by the untrained eye of the usual auditor. But if an expert accountant, a thoroughly qualified man, were employed his trained instinct would at once detect and expose attempted departure from honest bookkeeping on the part of the treasurer. Municipal auditing should be done on the same principle that bank book auditing is done. If a Government auditor, an expert and thoroughly capable man, were employed and would come unexpectedly upon a treasurer and demand an inspection of books and accounts, there would be an entire absence of incompetent and dishonest work. Of course, such a system may be considered impracticable; but a law could be passed that would require the appointment of competent auditors man who have passed the necessary prescribed examinations and possess certificates to that effect. We should then have reliable and capable officials appointed to one of the most important of civic positions. Honest, capable, thorough and disinterested audit of municipal funds is urgently demanded, and it is not always to be had while the present slipshod way of appointing auditors is pursued.

Highly Successful Garden Party on the Lawns of Mr. G. L. Fair.

Last night one of the most successful garden parties ever given in this vicinity was held on the grounds of the home of Mr. G. L. Fair, in aid of the funds of Christ church, Baillieboro. The grounds were beautifully illuminated with Chinese lanterns and during the evening excellent refreshments were served. Both Ven. Archdeacon Allen and Rev. W. L. Allen were present. The pleasure of the large number (about 300) present was greatly added to by the following choice programme, which was creditably presented:

Violin solo, waltz ..... Dr Needler
Mandolin solo ..... Mr Gilchrist

General Manager.

Centuries ago, people used to fear what they called the pestilence. "Black Death" was the most terrible thing in the world to them. They feared it as people now fear the Cholera and Yellow Fever. And yet there is a more terrible thing than any of these. There is a thing that causes more misery and more deaths than any of these. It is the commonest trouble that human beings suffer from. It is so common that nine-tenths of all the sickness in the world is traceable to it. It is merely that simple, common thing—constipation. There is no telling what it may lead to, but it is sure to lead to something bad. Its immediate effects are unpleasant in the extreme. It makes people listless, gives them headaches, makes the digestion poor, causes dizziness, loss of appetite, loss of sleep, foul breath and distress after eating. All this merely because Nature has been imposed upon, and has been refused the little help she needed.

This little help is furnished by Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One pill is a gentle laxative and two a mild cathartic. There are two remarkable things about the "Pellets." One is that they never gripe; the other that they cure permanently. There is no other medicine that does cure permanently. You can take any other medicine you like, as long as you like, and if you stop, your trouble will come back quickly, and the chances are the trouble will be worse than it was before. This isn't true of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. You take them until you get yourself into perfect working order, and then you stop. You don't have to take any more "Pellets" unless after a while you do something that deranges your digestive system again. We are not guessing about these facts, and we don't ask you to take our unsupported word for it. Thousands of people have found that they are true, and have testified to them. Let the druggist who says that something else is "just as good" sell that something else to somebody else. Don't let him trifle with your health for the sake of a little more profit to himself.

THEIR OWN PHYSICIANS.

Self-Doctoring Promoted by the General Use of Medicine in Tablets.

Not only has the general introduction of medicine in the form of compressed tablets simplified the work of the doctor, but it has also vastly improved self doctoring. The number of remedies put up in this form for popular use constantly increases. Many druggists make a specialty of these things. You see them displayed near the soda water fountain, put up in small bottles and sold at prices that must yield a handsome profit. Half a dozen remedies for indigestion are thus sold, some containing pepsin as the active principle, others containing soda mint, some bismuth, some charcoal, or more powerful disinfectants. Some are designed to remove acidity of the stomach; others to attack a catarrhal condition. Others are to provoke appetite, and still others are to promote one or another natural function. A dozen headache cures are sold in this fashion, and the different emollients for the throat are almost innumerable. There are grip tablets, liver tablets, heart, lung and brain tablets.

Persons who have eschewed patent medicines all their lives, buy these tablets of one sort or another, because most of them are supposed to be well recognized remedies. Most of the tablets are advertised only in medical journals in accordance with the requirements of the medical code, and many of them, no doubt, have obtained their popularity through their use by reputable physicians.

Quinine, which is now extremely cheap, is sold largely in the form of two-grain pills or in larger pills containing iron. Although believed by many physicians to be a dangerous remedy, it has long been self-prescribed by all sorts of persons, especially in malarial regions, and it is one of the most frequently bought without prescription. It is self-prescribed for malaria in its many forms, to check a cold in its early stages, and as a tonic. Stimulants of one sort or another are sold in this form, but more especially, perhaps, at the soda fountain, which has become a sort of medical dispensary. Many headache remedies are dispensed at the soda fountain. Some are recommended or suggested by the attendant, but many persons have their favorites among the various sedatives and febrifuges and some are called for as regularly as the fruit syrups. New remedies are introduced through the soda fountains, and old ones have long been included in the annually lengthening list of the soda water dispensers.—New York Sun.

Not one complaint has ever been made by those using Ayer's Sarsaparilla according to directions. Furthermore, we have yet to learn of a case in which it has failed to benefit. So say hundreds of druggists all over the country. Has cured others, will cure you.

Typewriter For the Blind.

Various inventors have striven to alleviate the condition of this class of unfortunates, and several instruments or attachments have been devised which are more or less successful, and have been noted in these columns. The latest machine of this kind is the product of an English inventor, and seems to be a step in advance of previous efforts in this line. This machine is to the blind what the typewriter is to other persons. It has the advantage, however, of being more simple. It prints the characters in the usual embossed form. Eight keys are used in combination, these making all the letters of the alphabet and all the figures, and any person familiar with the system can read what may be written. The machine is made to be worked with one hand, so that the writer may read or "take notes" with the other from a book. In this way he makes note of his studies, or he may transcribe to other readily. If both hands were employed on the machine, a blind person would have an awkward time in finding his place in the book he was using each time he had written whatever number of words he might have been carrying in his mind.

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, overcomes that tired feeling, creates an appetite, and gives refreshing sleep.

Mr. Legate, traveller for McCormack & Co., London, says:—"Miller's Compound Iron Pills restored me to health after a month of prostration from nervous shock and loss of blood." He says, "their effect on me was simply marvellous; people say they never saw me looking so well." Sold in Peterborough by Wm. Madill, druggist.

Norway Pine Syrup cures coughs, colds, hoarseness, sore throat, asthma, etc.

TO WOO WILD BIRDS.

IF YOU WANT THEM ABOUT PLANT A WHITE MULBERRY TREE.

A Chatty Interview With the Observant Jerseyman in Which He Gives the Above Advice, Plus a Word About the Abolishment of Cats.

"If you live in a suburban town and want to encourage wild birds to visit and live about your house," the observant Jerseyman says, "you cannot make advances to them in a better way than by planting a white mulberry tree and abolishing cats.

"The first thing to attend to is to get rid of all the cats which come about your grounds. You can do this while your mulberry tree is growing, but don't take too long about it, or the white mulberry is one of the quickest growing trees that I know of. Originally it came from China, and was brought to this part of the country about fifty years ago, when there was a craze for raising silkworms. Since that time it has been much neglected, but there are many places like my own part of the country upon the Shrewsbury River, where it has found a congenial soil and climate, and now grows wild.

"I have one white mulberry tree. Five years ago it was only about six feet tall, with a trunk not bigger than a broomstick. To-day it is thirty feet tall, and its handsome globular head has a diameter of about twenty-five feet. It is a pretty tree, with its shiny leaves and its close foliage, and makes a shelter which the birds love; but it is when the fruit ripens that the tree becomes the strongest drawing attraction for them. The fruit is about three-quarters of an inch long, and mawkishly sweet to our human taste, but there seems to be hardly one of our small native birds that does not love it. The fruit began to ripen about June 15 this year, and ever since then there hasn't been a minute of the day when there wasn't at least one bird in the tree. To one who is not conversant with the great variety of our native birds it is a revelation to watch them come after a taste of the sweet fruit. There are cat-birds and robins, sparrows of more kinds than you have fingers and toes, warblers and vereos and even humming birds. The fruit will last until about July 10 or 15.

"The white mulberry furnishes another source of delight to the birds, which is not so much a matter of pleasure to its owner. This is because its leaves are exceedingly toothsome to some of the caterpillars, and particularly to the tent caterpillar. The elder, the mulberry and the apple tree are favorites of this worm. I have some colonies of caterpillars on my mulberry tree, but, thanks to the same birds which eat the fruit, the worms are also soon eaten, and not a single colony of the worms has so far got beyond the twig it originated upon before its members were snapped up as choice morsels by the colony of birds."

"And do you have English sparrows?"

"Certainly, a large flock of them. They live in the wistaria vines and nest under the eaves of the barn."

"And do they not drive away the other birds?"

"No, nor do I believe that they have done so anywhere. It is true that there are now many places where none of our native birds are left, and that in these same places the English sparrows abound, and this has given rise to a belief that the other birds have been driven away by them; but I have never seen the native birds worsted by them. On my little place they all exist together in harmony. The robbins are more quarrelsome than the English sparrows. I believe that if careful observation were made, it would be found that where the native birds disappeared, it was the result of other causes, and that the English sparrows remained simply because they do not mind things which would drive all the wild birds far off. People and cats and lack of shade and fruit are potent reasons for the departure of the wild birds, cats especially."—New York sun.

In the Ideal Society.

In the ideal society, the host will not entertain the stranger guest with astonishing statements of the money-getting achievements of his neighbors and fellow revelers. When a noble portrait, painted by some great foreign artist, of the host's wife or daughter is exhibited, the guest will not be allowed to know the amount of the check rendered in lieu of it. If the host has written a rather successful book upon political economy or finance he will not confide the retail price of the volume in question when about to offer to present a copy to his friend. If a man takes a stranger for a drive behind a beautiful and covetable pair of well-bred horses, the stranger will not need to know the price paid for them in order to appreciate their merits. If a new room—some grand salon fitted with tapestries from a decayed palace of the Old World—is thrown open, the astonishing cost of these sumptuous draperies will not be whispered about among the guests. When a lovely woman is pointed out at a ball, the chain of jewels around her swan-like neck will not be appraised by her exhibitor. I almost think that, in your ideal society, there should be no such word as dollar.—North American Review.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak, shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy and as I do not wish to expose myself either, please address, simply: P. O. Box 388, London, Ont.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS ALWAYS CURE

AFTER TEN YEARS SUFFERING

Two Box Cure

MILVERTON, 29TH JULY, 1895.

Gentlemen,—For the last ten years I had been troubled with kidney disease, being so bad at intervals that I could not lie in bed at night nor stoop to the ground.

I had tried all the remedies I could find without effect, but heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills and procured a box.

I am most happy to say it for my own sake as well as for others that I am perfectly cured after using four boxes.

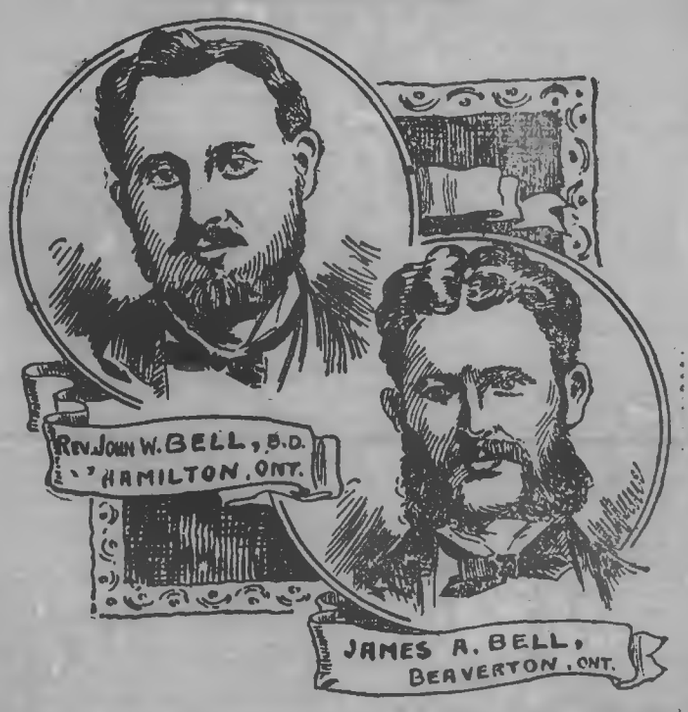
BUILT UP THE SYSTEM IN A WONDERFUL MANNER.



James A. Bell, of Beaverton, Ont., brother of the Rev. John Wesley Bell, B.D., prostrated by nervous headaches

A victim of the trouble for several years.

South American Nervine effected a complete cure.

In their own particular field few men are beter known than the Rev. John Wesley Bell, B.D., and his brother Mr. James A. Bell. The former will be recognized by his thousands of friends all over the country as the popular and able missionary superintendent of the Royal Templars of Temperance. Among the 20,000 members of this order in Ontario his counsel is sought on all sorts of occasions. On the public platform he is one of the strong men of the day, battling against the evils of intemperance. Equally well known is Mr. Bell in other provinces of the Dominion, having been for years a member of the Manitoba Methodist Conference and part of this time was stationed in Winnipeg. His brother, Mr. James A. Bell, is a highly respected resident of Beaverton, where his influence, though perhaps more circumscribed than that of his eminent brother, is none the less effective and productive of good. Of recent years, however, the working ability of Mr. James A. Bell has been sadly marred by severe attacks of nervous headache, accompanied by indigestion. Who can do fit work when this trouble takes hold of them and especially when it becomes chronic, as was, seemingly, the case with Mr. Bell? The trouble reached such intensity that last June he was completely prostrated. In this condition a friend recommended South American Nervine. Ready to try anything and everything, though he thought he had covered the list of proprietary medicines, he secured a bottle of this great discovery. A second bottle of the medicine was taken and the work was done. Employing his own language: "Two bottles of South American Nervine immediately relieved my headaches and have built up my system in a wonderful manner." Let us not deprecate the good our clergymen and social reformers are doing in the world, but how ill-fitted they would be for their work were it not the relief that South American Nervine brings to them when physical ills overtake them, and when the system, as a result of hard, earnest and continuous work, breaks down. Nervine treats the system as the wise reformer treats the evils he is battling against. It strikes at the root of the trouble. All disease comes from disorganization of the nerve centers. This is a scientific fact. Nervine at once works on these nerve centers; gives to them health and vigor; and then there courses through the system strong, healthy, life-maintaining blood, and nervous troubles of every variety are things of the past.

TURNING GRAY
AND THREATENED
WITH BALDNESS
The Danger is Averted by Using
AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only an occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good, natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—Mrs. H. M. HAIGHT, Avoca, Neb.

HOME FRUIT DRYING.

How to Cheaply and Successfully Dry Fruit on the Farm.

The fruit-drier illustrated below is in every way fitted for the beginner in fruit drying, as it will, when properly constructed, turn out as choice a product as the most improved and patented devices on the market, says Farm and Home. It is 7 feet long and the same in height to the eaves and 4 feet wide. The frame is made in three sections of 2-inch by 4-inch scantling, one for each end, and one for the center. The whole of the further end and the back side are inclosed with tongued and grooved stuff, allowing the center board to extend a foot above the peak to help to form the upper ventilation. The other end is covered in the same manner to within 2 1-2 feet from the ground, which is closed with a piece of sheet iron. On each side at the bottom a 4-inch space is left to provide a draft of outside air; if the draft is at any time too strong, a board can be set against the opening on the windward side; two trays of fruit can also be kept in these lower spaces. The front side has an 8-inch strip along the eaves to allow the roof boards to extend over without interfering with the trays, or the door, this latter being between 3 1-2 and 4 feet wide, and hinged at the lower edge, the upper edge being held in place when closed by buttons on the eave strip. Into this open space trays are slipped on strips nailed against the frames, care being taken to fill up the spaces behind the slats, so that the hot air cannot pass through without going over the fruit. The trays should only be 3 feet 8 inches long, leaving a 4-inch space in front; the second is kept forward so as to leave the same space at the back, and then alternate them to the top. This arrangement will give a strong current of hot air between the trays beside what passes through.

The trays should have 1-2-inch play, so that they will go in and out easily. Keep the greenest fruit nearest the heater, in order to avoid danger of scorching. For the bottom of the trays use wire netting. For a heater get two cast-iron heads, 15 inches in diameter, having flanges for sheet iron; one head, as in illustration, has a door for wood, and below a draft-hole. Take these to a tinsmith and have a 6 foot sheet-iron cylinder made with a stove-pipe hole in each side near the back end. Put on a pipe with elbow running toward the front; and with ascent enough so that they may come together in the shape of a T on the top of the cylinder near the front end, and come outside as shown just above the end, and run up outside the drier.

This heater will dry 10 bushels of apples, peaches or berries in a day.

FRUIT TRAY.

Where an 18-inch or 26-inch cylinder is used, spaces for three sets of trays are had, thus allowing of longer pipes, of saving more of the heat, and allowing work to be done. The whole thing is light enough to be drawn anywher on a wagon or a sled.

Berry Culture for August.

For largest yield of perfect berries two favorable seasons are necessary; the first to perfect the root, the plant and the fruit bud. The root is the foundation on which future success depends. The tint of flower and perfection of fruit proceed from the root.

Its best development requires fine, rich soil, plenty of moisture and frequent cultivation. With good roots, vigorous plants and canes may be expected.

Vigorous canes well pruned, free from weeds and grass, and having sufficient room to grow, will form strong vigorous buds for next season's fruit. These fruit buds are promises of future payment, and the first season's work is not done until they are carefully prepared for their long winter sleep.

The second season is a repetition of the first, as the same care that matures this year's plant also matures fruit on last year's cane.

The fruit-grower should then remember that in preparing the soil, in selecting plants, in hoeing, cultivating, pruning, thinning of fruit, protection, and in every little detail he is performing an important part in the quality and quantity of his fruit one or two years hence. Neglect the work but a single week, and like an ugly thread woven into a beautiful pattern, it shows imperfection ever after.

The eternal now is the time to grow good fruit. In many parts of the Northwest, strawberries have been almost a failure because of imperfect root growth last year. In many cases even staminate varieties were so weak and pollen so impotent that they could not fertilize their own blossoms. Lack of pollenization is the direct cause of failure. This weakness of root growth extends to new setting this year, and great care will be necessary even under favorable circumstances, to place new beds in good condition for next year's fruiting.

August is the critical month for the fruit-blossom and fruit is practically over. The hot, dry days are at hand. The weaker plants are struggling for existence, and must have moisture to

Seems as if all the things we like disagree with us, and all the things we don't like, agree with us. Dyspepsia lurks in most of the good things that we eat, and indigestion follows the gratification of appetite. Of course, it isn't Nature's fault. Nature does the best she can, and if a man will only help her a little bit at the right time, he may eat what he likes and as much as he likes. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are for people who are troubled with indigestion. Particularly for those in whom it manifests itself in the form of constipation. The "Pellets" are quick and easy in their action. They are in perfect harmony with Nature. They effect a permanent cure. You need take them regularly only a little while. After that, use them occasionally when you need them—when you have eaten anything that disagrees with you. They may be taken just as freely as you would take water or any other necessity of life. Once used they are always in favour.

Dry Some Fruits.

Now, when fresh fruit is coming freely into the market, the thoughtful housekeeper begins to make her preparations for the next winter and spring. Much fruit is and should be canned, but where we have to consider the question of expense (and there are few who do not), it is well to prepare some by drying. Apples sweet and sour, blueberries, raspberries, peaches, pears, apricots, corn and beans can be easily prepared and kept for an indefinite length of time. Sweet apples can be pared, quartered, strung on strong twine and hung back and forth on frames made for the purpose. It takes several days, sometimes a week for these to become dry. They are delicious in the winter, soaked over night after washing, and then placed in a bean pot with as much of the water as is needed to fill the pot and sugar in the proportion of 1-2 pint to each quart. It needs to bake slowly 2 or 3 hours. Sour apples are pared, cored, sliced as thinly as possible and spread on clean boards in the sun. When perfectly dry they should be heated in the oven; all dried fruit needs to be finished in the oven. Pears, apricots and peaches are halved or quartered and then dried in the same way. Blueberries and raspberries are simply spread on clean boards or cloths and turned frequently. They are often used when citron, raisins or currants could not be afforded. Corn should be dried in the oven when full of milk, removing the kernel carefully from the cob. Beans, when ready for boiling, may be spread on the attic floor in their pods and allowed to remain until dry, being stirred occasionally. All of these keep better if stored in strong paper or cloth bags so that no insects can reach them. When useing them remember that they need to be soaked in water over night, and usually are better for being cooked in this same water.—American Agriculturist.

Hour Glasses in Ancient Coffins.

In ancient times in England hour glasses were placed in coffins. A writer in 1718 in the Gentleman's Magazine wrote that in June of that year he stopped while passing through Clerkenwell churchyard to see a grave digger at work. The grave digger dug deep and laid bare a coffin, the wood of which was rotten and fell to pieces. In clearing away the rotten pieces an hour glass was discovered (placed close to the left side of the skull) which the writer of the magazine purchased. He subsequently, on mentioning it to some of his antiquarian friends, was informed that it was an ancient custom to put an hour glass into the coffin as an emblem of the sand of life being run out. Until lately in parts of Sweden a man's pipe, tobacco pouch, lights and some money were interred with him; and it is stated that at Reichenbach, in Germany, an umbrella and goloshes are still placed in the grave with a corpse.

WESTWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Westwood football team attended Gore's Landing tournament, held at Birdsall's Ptint on Friday, Aug. 14th. The return match with Gore's Landing was a tie, 0—0.

Bewdley and Westwood will play a football match at Hastings on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 2nd, at 3 p.m. Go and see a good match.

Messrs. Wm. Sharp, jr., and Benj. Slade left last week for the Northwest to secure work in the harvest fields there and see the country. Their many friends wish them every success and a safe return.

Mr. Joseph A. Metcalfe, who is giving up business, offers it for sale. This is a fine opening for a wagon and carriage builder and one that will not long be vacant. There is plenty of work here and good pay for the right man. Apply early and secure a good thing.

The people west of Hogg's hill are agitating a vigorous immigration policy, with a view to building a village and peopling it with Mennonite Icelanders, or, indeed, any nationality that would have votes, and thereby force the Asphodel Council to repair Hogg's hill, which is now unsafe for travel. This hill is on one of the most public thoroughfares in the country, but owing to its position, not commanding the necessary pull or votes, it is shamefully neglected year after year. If this hill were situated nearer the centre of the township and on some back line, it would be repaired every year, indeed, it would be a race for which councillor would pay the greatest attention to it. We scarcely relish the idea of a hamlet of foreigners so near, but the people must have a road fit to travel on without fear of life and limb.

Nervous Prostration

Is a deplorable condition of body, to which the mind to some degree responds; the sufferer becomes a victim to a legion of disagreeable sensations, arising from the impairment or exhaustion of nerve or vital force. Sleeplessness, too, comes to rob the sufferer of nature's sweetest solace and restorer, and a disorded digestive function contributes its quota to the already full cup of misery. Cure is possible in one way only—the nervous system must be strengthened; the digestive and assimilative function must be restored.

Maltine with Coca Wine, more than any preparation known to medical science, combines the two essentials required in these cases. Maltine with Coca Wine possesses tonic properties that are directed in a very special way to the nerve centres, giving them tone, vigor and the staying power so much needed, while just as efficaciously does it aid and strengthen all the processes of digestion. Thus we have the production of all the elements of adequate nutrition, which, inevitably, is certain to give health, strength and vigor. Maltine with Coca Wine is sold by all druggists.

Light in Asia—It Shines Clearly.

MESSRS. T. MILBURN & CO., TORONTO:

Dear Sirs,—There is light in Asia after all and the man that advised me to try your Heart and Nerve Pills was a friend indeed and truly a friend in need. Before I started to take them I was languid, weak, sleepless and nervous. My brain was beclouded and I could not collect my thoughts, I had gone through an operation in the hope of relief, but still remained generally broken up, my appetite was gone and I was almost without hope or ambition.

But I feel thoroughly rebuilt through the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and it took only three or four weeks to do the work. I often think of the years of suffering I might have escaped had I only known of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills in time; but I am grateful to be restored to health at last and gladly recommend the medicine that cured.

A WIN FOR CANADA

The Canadian Yacht Outsailed the Vencedor

WITH PLENTY OF TIME TO SPARE

Canada Got the Worst of the Send-Off But Soon Overhauled Her Opponent—Vencedor Gained Slightly on One Leg, But Was at No Time Dangerous.

Toledo, Aug. 25.—(Special.)—The race between Canada and Vencedor to-day proved conclusively what Monday's unfinished contest had indicated—that in light or moderate weather the Chicago yacht is no match for her opponent.

The wind for the greater part of the day was the same for both yachts, and the Canadian boat outpointed and outfooted Vencedor when working to weather, besides running and reaching faster.

The first leg of the course was a spinnaker run, and Canada gained on it 1 minute and 10 seconds. The second leg was a reach and Canada covered it nearly 3 minutes faster than Vencedor. On the third leg of the triangle, which was a beat to windward, Canada gained 1 minute and 20 seconds, and on the close haul to the next buoy only lost 30 seconds. On the second side of the course during the second round, which was a spinnaker run, Canada gained 4 minutes, and on the beat home she increased her lead by nearly 3 minutes.

Thus on every leg of the course except one she made a substantial gain, while the time lost on that one was trifling.

The Vencedor's admirers have claimed that in moderate weather she is the faster boat, but this race hardly confirmed their opinion.

Canada had slightly the better of what little luck was going, in the matter of slants of wind, and the steamers gave Vencedor more wash as was natural, she being the following boat. Neither of these advantages made any material difference to the American boat.

The Canada's crew set canvas much faster than did Vencedor's, which was to be expected from their constant drilling during the past month. The yachts seemed to be equally well steered, and in the manoeuvring for position at the start, the Vencedor got rather the best of it.

The Dominion yacht in a light breeze, which just enabled her to recover the triangular 24 knots course within the required five and a half hours' time limit, beat the Vencedor 17 minutes 59 seconds actual time, and 22 minutes 44 seconds corrected time.

The Vencedor at no time stood a chance in the light air with her small sails spread, but whenever the wind increased she showed considerable speed, and her admirers still have hopes of her in a breeze.

A tremendous crow of spectators on the decks of a hundred or more excursion steamers witnessed the day's race, and the Canada received an ovation when she slipped across the finish line just before the expiration of the time limit agreed to under the rules. Owing to her construction the Vencedor was compelled to give the Canada an allowance of four minutes and 45 seconds.

The racers, accompanied by the judges' boat and a motley fleet of yachts and excursion steamers, arrived at the starting line off Turtle Island light in good season this morning and the skippers of the racers used up their spare time in getting their boats in condition for the race. At 10.45 the yachts stood over to the southward of the line under all plain working sails, with balloon staysail and jib topsails up in stops, were then began to manoeuvre for the start.

Canada stuck close to Vencedor, keeping her under her lee, but Captain Barbour did not seem to mind the jockeying, as he stood off and on along the line watching the time closely. Just before the starting gun was fired, he gybed Vencedor around and headed for the line, breaking out his balloon jib and staysail as he did so, and crossed three seconds after the signal, or at 11.00.03. Captain Jarvis did not expect this, and before he could wear away after the Vencedor, the latter was off on the first leg of the course, the Canada going over one minute and fifteen seconds later, breaking out her head sails before crossing.

At 11.02.30 the Vencedor ran up her spinnaker in stops to starboard. Seeing this, the Canada dropped her spinnaker boom and set the sail to starboard, coming up the Chicago boat's weather quarter at 11.10.000, and after blanketing her, passed to windward. The wind did not hold, and was too light for the Chicago boat, and the Canada with her large proportionate sail area drew away.

At 11.20 the wind dropped to almost a calm till the Canada was a quarter of a mile in the lead, but at 11.45 it picked up considerably, and the Vencedor took in her balloon staysail and spinnaker and drew up to the Canada, which was nearing the first stakeboat. As Canada neared the mark her spinnaker was taken in and she gybed around at 11.56.10; Vencedor at 11.57.40.

From this point to the second mark the yachts had the wind on their port beam and a little stronger, which for the first time sent them through the water with a little foam under their forefoot. It did not hold, however, and the little Vencedor gained was lost before they had run half the leg. The Canada rounded at 12.44.00; Vencedor 12.58.20.

The last leg of the course was to windward, and after rounding the Canada held on to the port tack for a few minutes, when she went about and stood off to the southwest, while the Vencedor held on to the port tack till 1.15.00, when she, too, come about after the Canada, which was then a mile to windward of her. At 1.35 a dark streak was noticed to eastward that promised wind, and at 1.50 the Canada caught it, and before the Vencedor felt it had added another quarter of a mile to he rlong lead.

At 2.05.00 the Canada finished the first round, Vencedor being timed at 2.18.30.

After rounding the Canada took in her balloon staysail, and set a working staysail, and, with the wind over her starboard beam, started on the second round. Vencedor rounded at 2.13.30.

On this leg the Chicago boat did better, and began to overhaul the Canada, which was making the water fly off to eastward from her shapely bow in a small cascade. In spite of the fuss she made, she was not doing as well as she looked, as when the next mark was reached, the Vencedor had gained 25 seconds. Their time of turning being 2.30.40, Vencedor 2.48.25.

Once around both set spinnakers to port for the run down the wind. The wind again fell light, and the Canada as usual began to draw away, and gained five minutes and thirty-five seconds on her before she turned to second mark at 3.20.30; Vencedor 14 minutes and 20 seconds later, or at 3.43.50.

After turning they trimmed their sheets in flat and, close hauled on the port, began to work to windward to the home mark, making a long and short leg to it. Canada pointed up well and dropped the Vencedor steadily, and crossed the line a winner at 4.19.08, Vencedor not finishing till 4.37.07. Summaries:

Name.	Start.	Finish.	Elapsed Time.	Cor'ct'd Time.
Canada	11.00.00	4.19.08	5.19.08	5.14.23
Vencedor	11.00.00	4.37.07	5.37.07	5.37.07

Canada beat Vencedor 23 minutes 34 seconds corrected time.

CLOSE GAME AT LONDON.

London, Aug. 25.—Guelph B.B.C. defeated the Alerts in a prettily-contested ball game to-day. Gallagher was hit freely, but the ball generally managed to drop into the fielders' hands. Jacobs, London's new pitcher from Albion, Mich., did very good work and satisfied the cranks.

GOUGH BROS.

TOUGH CLOTHES FOR THE BOYS.

Young Canada Begins Another Six Months' Schooling.

Tough clothes for boys to wear to school this Fall and Winter. That's the burden of our song. Strong clothes to stand the wear and tear of play, rough but healthy. Strong clothes to stand the work of out of doors fun in cold weather. We have just such things for the youngsters and, besides being full of wear, they are neat and shapely.

Did the last suit of clothes you bought for your boy from us, wear as well as it ought to have worn, considering the price paid? If it did you should go to the same store for the next suit. You get your money's worth. We deserve your patronage. We'll do better by you and by the boy than any other clothier.

5 CASES OF BOYS' NEW SUITS

These are only the advance guard of our Fall stock, for the boys. These are TWO and THREE piece Suits, and will fit boys all the way from 3 to 16 years. We sell the best of everything to keep in the heat, and keep out the cold for boys. We were boys ourselves, once,—it seems an awful long time ago.

We've all good qualities of Boys' Clothing. We've—probably—more Boys' Clothing in our store than in all the other stores put together. We've a weakness for supplying the boys. Ask yours if this isn't so?

Some idea we may give you of the value and inducement we purpose giving to buyers, when we say will buy a beautiful, heavy, all wool, neatly made, well trimmed, and built of Auburn Mills Tweed Suit.

A $2.00 BILL

Of course we've cheaper Suits, and as low as 95c per suit. Better Suits up to $3.00 and $4.00, but

OUR $2.00 SUIT IS A CORKER.

Just the thing for a boy's school Suit, and as good as ever sold for $3.50.

Mothers should see these Suits. You know value. You know your boy's clothes-wrecking propensities.

Come to us. We're full of economical suggestions. No matter what your money is, we'll help you to make it go as far as it can. Come! The verdict is nearly always in our favour. It isn't often that the careful buyer decides against us.

"TOUGH CLOTHES FOR THE BOYS" That's our Motto.

A HOST OF INQUIRIES

The Opposition Wants to Know Many Things.

REPLIES GIVEN BY THE MINISTERS

Sir Charles Tupper Goes Back for Years and Digs Up Old Speeches to Ask Questions—Maiden Efforts in the Debate on the Address.

Ottawa, Aug. 26.—In the House of Commons this afternoon after routine these bills were introduced and read a first time:

To amend the Dairy Products Act, 1893.—Mr. McLennan.

Respecting the sale of railway return-fare tickets.—Mr. McLennan.

For the better protection of railway employes.—Mr. Maclean.

To prohibit the importation of foreigners and aliens under contract to perform labor in Canada.—Mr. Taylor

There was quite a string of questions on the order paper.

Mr. Boyd asked if the portfolio of Minister of the Interior had been offered to anyone, or when it was proposed to fill the office.

Mr Laurier, in reply, said that this was a question which related to matters now confidential. As soon as the appointment has been made the House will be informed of it at once.

Sir C. H. Tupper had the following question on the order paper: "Did the hon. the Minister of Marine and Fisheries say in a speech at Middleton in 1893, as reported in The Morning Chronicle, Halifax: 'The policy of the Liberal party, on the contrary, is the reform of the tariff by the elimination from it of every vestige of protection.' If so, is this the present policy of the Liberal party?"

Mr. Davies, in reply, said he had not seen the speech for some years. When he spoke he intended to refer to those duties which were imposed for protective purposes and not for the purpose of revenue. He would refer the hon. gentleman to his speech in full.

Sir C. H. Tupper had another question relating to telegrams which passed between Mr. Laurier and Mr. E. N. McDonald of Pictou. Mr. Laurier acknowledged the authenticity of the despatches and said the sentence in the telegram from the Premier that "coal interests will be carefully guarded" meant that at the proper time the coal interests would be guarded carefully. (Loud laughter.)

Sir C. H. Tupper asked: "Is the following a fairly accurate report of a part of a speech of the hon. the Minister of Marine and Fisheries at Sussex, New Brunswick, in January last: 'A 17 or 20 per cent. tariff was high enough to give encouragement to any manufacturer; if it were not, the manufacture should go down. The present policy developed trusts and combines, notably the cotton, sugar oil, cordage, iron and steel. The Liberals would declare eternal warfare against them.'

"If yes, will the hon. the Minister of Marine and Fisheries say whether he is of the same opinion still?

"If the above is not a fairly accurate report will the hon. minister say wherein the report misrepresents his views?"

Mr. Davies, in reply, said: "My views on tariff reform were given at Sussex. I do not think the quotation of a single sentence of that speech is calculated to reflect fairly what those views were. The hon. gentleman would find the whole speech very interesting and very instructive and I invite his attention to it. (Laughter.)

Sir C. H. Tupper: Did the present Hon. Minister of Finance write as follows to The Halifax Morning Chronicle, under date of Feb. 1, 1892: "Mr. Jones pointed out that, at the Quebec Conference, which was held in the fall of 1887, certain proposals were made respecting a readjustment of provincial subsidies and the granting of additional allowances, not to Quebec alone, but to all the provinces. These proposals were agreed to by delegates representing the Governments of Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Manitoba, and were consequently confirmed by majorities in the assemblies of the several provinces named. Mr. Laurier, after the publication of the scheme, said he regarded it as fair and reasonable, and that he would support it as a representative of Nova Scotia. I thank him for the assurance, and I look forward with pleasure to the early coming of a day when he will be in a position to fulfil his pledge, and thus place in the treasury of the province an additional allowance of $162,000 a year."

If yes, can he now say whether the present Government proposes to deal with the resolutions of the Quebec Conference at this session of Parliament, or whether a provision for the amount of the proposed allowances to the different provinces will be asked from this Parliament at the next session?

Mr. Fielding, replying, said: "I did write the letter to The Chronicle at the time mentioned, but the purpose of that letter is hardly made apparent by the quotation. The opponents of Mr. Laurier had represented that he (Mr. Laurier) had made a bargain with Mr. Mercier to give some special and undue favor in the way of provincial subsidies to Quebec. Sir C. H. Tupper, in a public speech, had given, impliedly, if not directly, an endorsement to this charge. I felt this was an unfair statement of Mr. Laurier's speech, and pointed out that his statement did not apply to Quebec alone, but related to a project which, if carried out, would apply fairly to all the provinces of Canada. It is not the intention of the Government to introduce any legislation at the present session respecting provincial subsidies, nor has the Government had this under consideration with regard to future legislation. From a Nova Scotia standpoint, it was less important now than at that time, as since then, under the wise administration of a Liberal Government, the finances of that province have been materially improved. (Ministerial cheers.) But if the provinces raised this question the Government will give it due consideration."

Mr. Davies, replying to Sir C. H. Tupper, said that the services of the agent of the Marine and Fisheries Department at Picton had been dispensed with.

Mr. McDougall asked: "Is the following a fairly accurate report of a part of a speech of the First Minister at Sohmer Park, Montreal, February, 1895: 'Protection is a fine thing only for a few monopolists. It mars the growth of all our great national industries. Now I have been asked what are you going to do? We are going to have a tariff for revenue and we are going to abolish completely all the duties on raw material.'"

Mr. Laurier: "My honorable friend, I am sure, is quite aware that the words which he now quotes have been used by his leaders again and again without their taking the trouble, which he now takes, to ascertain their authenticity. I may tell him that I shall not be at all offended if he shows no more scruples in reference to the matter than they did."

Mr. Borden, replying to Col. Tisdale, said the Commandant of the Royal Military College, having resigned his position, his resignation was accepted and steps have been taken to replace him. Should any other changes be required or become necessary, the matter will be duly considered by the Government. All correspondence and reports relating to the College had been brought down, except a supplementary report of the Board of Visitors of Nov. 18, 1895, which appears to have been suppressed and the report of the commandant dated June 30, 1896. Both were being copied and would be brought down immediately.

Mr. Hackett was informed by Mr. Davies that Patrick McBride, overseer of Fisheries for Prince County, and J. Curry and S. Wedge, trackmen on the P. E. Island Railway, had been dismissed, the former to increase the efficiency of the public service; the latter because they were not satisfactory men.

Mr. Choquette asked: "Who has the contract for the sale of newspapers etc., on the Intercolonial between Levis and Campbellton? Was it granted under tender to the lowest tenderer? What is the price? When does it expire?

Mr. Davies, in reply, said that the contract was entered into with the Canada News Company under date March 24, 1896, for a period of three years. That company was the highest tenderer. (Opposition cheers.) For the first year they will pay $3375 for the privilege, increasing $100 a year for the other two years.

Mr. Cameron was informed by Mr. Davies that complaints have been made to the Marine Department against John Rae, lighthouse keeper at Point Clark, he department, however, was informed that recently there had been a great improvement in the way the light was amnaged.

Sir Charles Tupper asked whether the writ for Saskatchewan had been issued.

Mr. Laurier's said the Speaker's warrant had not yet been issued because he had not been notified according to the form of the statute.

Mr. Quinn (St. Ann's, Montreal) in a maiden speech resumed the debate on the address. He commented on the meagreness of the Parliamentary bill of fare and declared that the Government should know that trade had been paralyzed by reason of the uncertainty which prevailed in regard to tariff changes. A great deal had been said about race and religion as a factor in the late election, but speaking for his own district and his own province, he had no hesitation in saying that the constitutional question of the remedy of the grievance of the Manitoba minority was overshadowed by the laudable ambition of a large and prosperous people to see in the highest position in the country a representative of its own race and religion. They put before remedial legislation the idol of the moment, believing in his honesty and integrity, and believing that, returned to power, he would put a law on the statute book to cover their rights of their co-religionists in Manitoba. But powerful as was that affection, and deep as was their trust, far more terrible and more powerful would be their revenge if Mr. Laurier should prove recreant to that trust and fail to re-establish their right to Separate schools in Manitoba. Sir Richard Cartwright had quoted Lord Russell's recent speech at Saratoga to justify Mr. Laurier's large and gratuitous offers of surrender to the United States, but he would read the speeches of Lord Russell in vain to find justification for a statesman's laying first before a foreign country his foreign policy, or to find the sentiment expressed that England would sacrifice one iota of principle to secure peace with the world. (Cheers.)

Solicitor-General Fitzpatrick was the next speaker. He excused delay in the tariff by declaring that the Government had determined not to deal with so vital a question as the fiscal policy in a hysterical moment. But he could promise that when the tariff was revised it would be treated with regard not only to the interests of the sugar refiners and other monopolists and habitues of the "Red Parlor," but in the interests of the traders of the country as well. As to the charge of obstruction made against the Liberals when in opposition last session, he would remind the House that if fourteen days after June 22 Sir Charles Tupper did not realize his party was beaten, had the estimates been available he would not have realized it yet. He accounted for the turn-over in

IT IS CANADA'S CUP.

But It Was a Nip and Tuck Race Yesterday.

STRONG BREEZE AND CHOPPY SEA

Weather Conditions Just What the Challenger's Captain Wanted. Yet the Canadian Yacht Won—Vencedor's Crew Acknowledge That the Defeat Was Fair and Square.

Toledo, Aug. 26.—After an exciting contest the Canada won her second race from the Vencedor to-day by the narrow margin of 26 seconds corrected time, and with it captured the beautiful Toledo challenge cup, the international yachting championship of the lakes and sixty per cent. of the $1500 purse offered by the citizens of Toledo.

The race was sailed in a fine 20-knot breeze, which ranged from southwest to west, and, while the Vencedor actually beat the Canada three minutes thirty-one seconds over the course, and proved herself a wonder in a breeze, she had to allow the Royal Canadian yacht a handicap of three minutes and fifty-seven seconds.

In spite of the Canada's big allowance the Vencedor would have beaten her but for the fact that her skipper made a number of unnecessary tacks on the way to the home mark in the first round, and finally overstood it, losing nearly two minutes, which ultimately caused the American yacht's defeat.

A ball was tendered the visiting yachtsmen, their families and friends to-night by the International Yacht Race Association of Toledo at Pythian Castle. During the ball the challenge cup and draft for $1500, representing the purse to be given to the racing crews, was presented to Commodore Jarvis of the winning yacht by President Locke of the association. The $500 silver trophy is a large bowl-shaped cup, gold lined and supported by an eagle with spreading wings alongside a recumbent lion.

There was a fine breeze from the southwest in the early morning and hundreds of yachtsmen who were getting tired of light breezes and postponed races took heart again and cheerfully paid their way on the score or more of excursion steamers which lay along the docks of the muddy Maumee. The racers had preceded the spectators, and were both trying their canvas off the starting line when the flotilla of yachts and excursion steamers arrived. The Vencedor, as usual, had her club topsail up, while Skipper Jarvis on the Canada, after setting the same sail, took it in and set his working topsail.

Because the stakeboat to leeward had not been set, the start was postponed half an hour, and it was 11.20 before the hoisting of the British ensign in the Signal's rigging announced that the start would be made in ten minutes. Both skippers commenced to manoeuvre for position, and as usual Capt. Barbour got the Vencedor over the line first. The course was five miles to leeward and return, sailed over twice, 20 miles in all.

The Vencedor's crew broke out their balloon jib topsail and set their spinnaker to port as they crossed, while the Canada, which was 15 seconds behind, set her big jib topsail instead of a balloonet. Skipper Jarvis commenced to luff the Canada in order to blanket the Vencedor, but the Chicago boat for once failed to be trapped and slowly but surely drew ahead of the little black flier from across the border. She soon had a lead of an eighth of a mile and just before they reached the first mark the wind hauled to the westward, and with it came a dash of rain, which drove everyone to cover. It did not dampen the spirits of the spectators, however, as the Vencedor was loudly cheered as she rounded first:

Vencedor 12.09
Canada 12.10.20

The Vencedor instantly went on the port tack as she rounded, while the Canada held straight for the home mark on the starboard tack. The Vencedor, after a two-minutes' hitch to port, followed the Canada's example and a few moments later flew by the Canada to windward. It looked like Vencedor's race now, as she was footing faster under her jib and staysail than her opponent, who had a small jib topsail up as well.

As the mark was now in sight and the Canada, which was the leeward boat, was almost heading for it, everyone was surprised when the Vencedor made another extra hitch of the port at 12.45, and still another at 12.57.05, while the Canada held her original starboard tack until 12.57, and then came about to port and made the mark in one tack. The Vencedor, while she beat the Canada around, overstood the mark and lost all she had gained on the way down, which caused her to lose eventually. Their times at this mark were:

Vencedor 12.50.15
Canada 1.00.41

It was now a broad reach on the starboard tack to the outer mark and as the wind increased to nearly 22 miles an hour the Vencedor drew away again. The wind grew so strong that both yachts took in their balloon jib topsails, and they were timed as they rounded as follows:

Vencedor 12.50.15
Canada 1.36.10

From here it was a close reach on the starboard tack, with small jib topsails to the finish, where, after one of the most exciting contests ever seen on the lakes, the Canada won by 26 seconds, corrected time. Their times at the finish were:

Vencedor 2.11.04
Canada 2.14.35

A summary of the official times is as follows:

	Start.	Finish.	El. time.	Cor. time.
Canada ..	11.30	2.14.35	2.44.35	2.40.38
Vencedor .	11.30	2.11.04	2.41.04	2.41.04

Comodore E. C. Berriman of the Lincoln Park Club, the owner of the Vencedor, challenged the Royal Canadian Yacht Club of Toronto to race next year. The challenge was presented when the City of Straits' challenge cup of Detroit was given to Commodore Jarvis. It is doubtful if the cup or challenge will be accepted unless the rules governing the race and cup are modified to meet the views of the R.C.Y.C.

Trouble Ought to Follow.

London, Aug. 26.—A despatch to The Telegraph from Lorenzo Marques says the authorities at the naval station recently deliberately fired on a party of Transvaal visitors, who were travelling in a steam yacht, fatally wounding a Mrs. Landsberg. The Consul representing the Transvaal Government has demanded that an enquiry be made into the affair. There is intense excitement, and trouble is feared in consequence.

Powder Mills Blow Up.

Xenia, O., Aug. 26.—At 9 a.m. a dry-house at the Miami Powder Company's mills, located at Goes Station, six miles from here, blew up, killing two men, Charles Figgins and Frank Eiche.

When Should a Man Swear?

Man is not only a reasoning but a swearing animal. Sometimes his feelings are expressed audibly and at others they are so deep down in his nature that nothing less than a volcano would thrust them to the surface. If a man should swear at all, when should that time be? The church is silent on this important matter and the law gives no sanction to cuss words. Stovepipes are provocative of bad feeling, but corns are far worse. Wives should see that their husband's corns are kept down. This may be done quite easily, painlessly and with absolute certainty by Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Beware of flesh-eating substitutes offered for Putnam's Corn Extractr.

INSURANCE IN CANADA.

The report of the Superintendent of Insurance of Canada, for the year ending December 31st, 1895, has been issued. The fire insurance business during the year was carried on by 35 companies; of these six were Canadian, 21 British and eight American. Inland marine insurance was also transacted by four of them, and ocean marine by two. Two of the companies, the United Fire and the Eastern, retired during the year. The cash receipts for premiums during the year in Canada were $6,943,382, or a gain of $232,013 over 1894. The amount paid out in losses has been $4,093,350, also an increase over 1894 of $404,387. An approximation of the losses during the year in ratio with the premiums received comes out 69.31 per cent., or only 62 greater than the previous year. The gross amount of new and renewed policies taken during the year by fire companies was $667,639,048, showing an increase of $14,049,620 over the amount taken in 1894. The premiums charged thereon amounted to $8,243,605, being an increase of $85,572 over the amount charged the previous year. The rate of premiums is less than that of 1894, and the loss rate is less. The average rate of premiums charged on each 1,000 risks in 1895 is $12,347, as against $12,482, which was the corresponding rate in 1894. The business of life insurance has been transacted by 29 active companies, 11 Canadian, 8 British and 10 American. The total amount of policies in Canada taken during 1895 was $44,341,198, less than the amount taken in 1894 by $4,184,059. The British companies alone show an increase. The total amount of insurance in force at the close of the statements was $319,237,581, which shows the large increase of $11,096,145 over that of the previous year. The death rate among insured lives is figured out at 11.166 per cent. The business of life insurance upon the assessment plan has been transacted by nine companies, six Canadian and three American. They have taken $12,862,025 in policies during the year, a falling off of $858,125 from the previous year. The amount in force at the end of the year was $71,380,356. Accident insurance is in the hands of 10 companies, 5 Canadian, 4 British and 1 American. The accident premiums in the year were $267,809, insuring an amount of $66,691,381. Plate glass insurance is also controlled by 4 companies and burglary insurance by 1. There were in all 98 companies under the supervision of the department. Their deposit with the Government for the protection of policy holders amounts to $24,344,226.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Conservatives did not deserve to win in North Grey. They lost this Conservative riding through their attitude on Remedial Legislation, and expected to win it back by swallowing their principles and going back upon their policy in a manner so barefaced as to disgust those who might be expected to sympathise with them.

The July trade returns show that the country is still prospering. The total trade betterment so far over last year is $2,130,808. The imports for the month of July were $10,270,272, an increase of $1,715,782. The customs duties collected amounted to $982,216 in excess of last year. The exports increased $415,020.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

Where is the financial ruin and disaster to the manufacturing industries of the country that the esteemed contemporary, whom we quote above, predicted were in store for Canada if she did not return to power Sir Charles Tupper and his friends? The veteran politician is maundering in the shades of opposition, but the Dominion "still goes marching on."

Some seven million people in England and Scotland receive their groceries, clothing and household supplies through co-operative societies. Of these there exist 1,711 in the United Kingdom. The sales effected by them in 1895 amounted to over $360,000,000, while the profits for the year were $25,000,000. If the smaller traders in Canada have the big departmental stores to contend with, those in Great Britain have the co-operative societies pushing them to the wall. Through the agency of the co-operative societies, thousands of middlemen are dispensed with, and goods are sold at remarkably low rates. The societies have advanced so far as to even assume the functions of manufacturers.

According to The Toronto World's report of Sir Charles Tupper's speech in the Conservative caucus, he told the members that in calling them together to choose a leader he was simply following the precedent set by Sir John Macdonald in 1873. The reference, suggests the Brantford Expositor, was an unfortunate one for Sir Charles Tupper. At that time he urged that Sir John Macdonald should then be set aside until public indignation against him should become less acute, Sir John was elected, but he never forgave Sir Charles for the advice. He never scrupled to use him whenever it suited his purpose to do so, but also he never hesitated to tell Sir Charles to his face, and to repeat it to his friends, what he thought of the man who had dared to propose his dethronement. Sir Charles is retaliating now by making Hugh John fetch and carry at his bidding.

There would be some force, says the Ottawa Journal, Conservative, in Sir Charles Tupper's arraignment of Mr. Laurier's canal policy if the preceding government had not inaugurated that policy. On the political aspects of the question, however, there is much to be said. The whole question of lake, river and canal navigation must come up before long for comprehensive treatment and final arrangement. The Chicago canal threatens to divert a considerable volume of water from Niagara and lower the level of Lakes Erie and Ontario and the river St. Lawrence. In the very nature of things lies the necessity for a clear understanding with the government of the United States. But the old difficulty crops up again. As the state of New York refused to grant Canadians the right to navigate its canals under the terms of the Washington treaty, so may the state of Illinois decline to implement any agreement that may be made between Ottawa and Washington in the future. The great difficulty in dealing with the United States lies in the fact that it is not a sovereign power within its own borders.

The removal of Major-General Cameron from the position of Commandant of the Royal Military College will, says the Ottawa Free Press, no doubt be attributed in the Tory papers to political exigencies and personal influences. There is no ground for any such assumption. The report of the Board of Visitors presented to Parliament some time ago fully established the necessity of some changes in the administration and personal composition of the staff. The Major-General especially referred to the position of the Commandant, and said concerning him, "I am decidedly of opinion that there should be a limit to his term of appointment. I cannot but think that, after a certain lapse of time any man loses that zeal, activity and interest which is so absolutely essential should be kept up in the case of the officer in chief command of a military educational establishment. Young men are especially quick to receive impressions, and energy and great personal smartness of dress and appearance are in my opinion essential to form a good commandant. In my opinion this position is one which should be thrown open to some exceptionally smart, energetic officer of the Canadian militia." There is a good deal that can be read between the lines of this statement and, doubtless, the best interests of the college will be served by the changes recommended and now in part carried into effect.

MILITARY ORDERS.

Cavalry Changes—The Battalions that Will Go Into Camp.

An important militia order was before the Council on Saturday and will be promulgated in a day or two. This general order will greatly affect the establishment.

The following are the salient points:—Cavalry—All troops of cavalry become squadrons. An addition of about seven men is made to each squadron in order to enable them to drill in accordance with the revised cavalry drill. Each squadron receives an addition of one officer. Field Artillery—Each battery is raised from four to six guns in establishment. The increase will include one officer and about one-third of the present strength.

The former strength was 40 of all ranks, the present strength will be 102; the former strength in horses was 29, the present strength will be 49.

The following battalions will be ordered into camp in Ontario and Quebec on the dates and at the places named: The 21st, 22nd and 30th Battalions, at London, September 8th; the 12th, 31st, 35th, 37th and 39th Battalions, at London, September 8th; the 12th, 31st, 35th, 37th and 39th Battalions, at Niagara Falls, September 15th; the 4th Hussars and 45th and 47th Battalions, at Kingston, September 15; the 6th Hussars and 11th, 30th, 76th and 85th Battalions, at Laprairie, Que., September 15; the 52nd, 55th and 90th Battalions, at St. John's, Que., on September 15; the 31st, 87th, 88th and 92nd Battalions, at Port Levis, Que., September 15.

Nervous Prostration

Is a deplorable condition of body, to which the mind to some degree responds; the sufferer becomes a victim to a legion of disagreeable sensations, arising from the impairment or exhaustion of nerve or vital force. Sleeplessness, too, comes to rob the sufferer of nature's sweetest solace and restorer, and a disorded digestive function contributes its quota to the already full cup of misery. Cure is possible in one way only—the nervous system must be strengthened; the digestive and assimilative function must be restored.

Maltine with Coca Wine, more than any preparation known to medical science, combines the two essentials required in these cases. Maltine with Coca Wine possesses tonic properties that are directed in a very special way to the nerve centres, giving them tone, vigor and the staying power so much needed, while just as efficaciously does it aid and strengthen all the processes of digestion. Thus we have the production of all the elements of adequate nutrition, which, inevitably, is certain to give health, strength and vigor. Maltine with Coca Wine is sold by all druggists.

EASTERN BELMONT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Death, the grim monster, has taken one of our most active church workers in the person of the late Miss Nora Wiman, daughter of Mrs. Pettiboue, of Victoria. The deceased was born in the township of Rawdon, and resided for some time near Shannonville. About four years ago she conducted a very successful religious revival in the Victoria neighbourhood, but owing to ill-health she had to cease her evangelical work. Miss Wiman died at the General Hospital on last Sunday evening, and the remains were sent down from Toronto on Monday night. It was a severe blow to her bereaved friends, but though she did not die surrounded by loving friends, undoubtedly she was in the arms of her Saviour, in whom she trusted. We extend our sympathy to the bereaved friends and trust that though she is dead yet lives, and will rise triumphant at the last day and shine with the bright ones in Christ's kingdom. The remains were interred in the Victoria Cemetery Tuesday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Sanderson, of Belmont, conducted the service.

CURE OF DROPSY.

Only a Positive Symptom—Not a Disease of itself—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Campbellford, (Special) Aug. 17.—An unlooked for and remarkable recovery from advanced stage of dropsy is just made public here. It is the case of Mrs. John Weese, wife of the widely known veteran stage proprietor, whose life for months, had been despaired of. From the accumulated water peculiar to this disease she became so helpless as to be unable to drag one foot after the other. She now appears on the street and says she is as well as ever in her life. She claims that after all other means had failed she thanks Dodd's Kidney Pills for her unexpected cure.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

A LITTLE BUSINESS.

In the afternoon Major Mason presided at a meeting of the O.R.A., held in the pavilion at 1.15. Capt. Russell moved, seconded by Capt. McMickin, that Lieut.-Col. Gzowski, Lieut.-Col. Macdonald, Major Mason, Lieut.-Col. Davidson, Major Macdonald, Lieut. Anderson and Capt. Mercer be the representatives of the O.R.A. to the D.R.A., and that Majors Mason, Bruce, Anderson and Hughes be the representatives on the committee. The resolution was adopted.

In the forenoon the weather was up to the mark for shooting purposes, but in the afternoon the butts were obscured by a dark cloud, which loomed up from the west, and a heavy shower, accompanied by a gale blowing from the north, materially affected the scoring in the corporation of the city of Toronto match. The prizes amounted to $651 in all, $400 being given by the city and the remainder added by the association. Seven rounds were fired at each of the 500 and 600 yard ranges.

WARSHIPS IN THE NORTH ATLANTIC

England Will Keep the Fleet of Uncle Sam as Well as France in Sight.

Halifax, Aug. 26.—The warship Talbot, which has been commissioned for this station, is regarded by naval officers as an offset to some of the White Squadron, and it is asserted to be the settled policy of the British Admiralty to raise the entire North Atlantic Squadron to its old-time efficiency and power. Not only the United States but France has to be kept in sight. The announcement was made in French papers some time ago that both divisions of the French fleet in American waters were to be strengthened by the addition of modern ships of war. The flagship of the northern division is La Clocherterie, while the Douberdiere is the flagship of the southern. Both vessels, as well as their tenders, are antiquated ships. Next summer it is expected that new French warships will appear on this station. A St. Pierre gentleman in Halifax said an unusually large number of sailors had lately been drafted from the St. Pierre fishing fleet and sent home to France to man-of-war ships. St. Pierre, he said, was a nursery for seamen for the French fleet.

A C. P. R. CONDUCTOR.

After Two Years' Misery was Cured by Ten Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Prescott, (Special) Aug. 24.—For a long time much sympathy had been felt and expressed for Mr. Wm. Freeman, a very popular conductor of the C.P.R., who had been rendered unfit for duty the past few years by a peculiar and distressing form of kidney disease. It now transpires, much to the delight of his friends, that he has been enabled to resume his regular trips. He claims, as the results of using only ten boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, that he has entirely recovered, and that he never felt better in his life, and believes that these Pills have cured him to stay cured.

Sick headache and constipation are promptly cured by Burdock Pills. Easy to take, sure in effect.

Shiloh's Cure, the great Cough and Croup Cure, is in great demand. Pocket size contains twenty-five doses only 25c. Children love it. Sold by John Nugent, 239 George Street.

Thankful to B. B. B.

Dear Sirs,—I am thankful to Burdock Blood Bitters that I am strong and healthy to-day. I suffered from biliousness and bilious fever so much that I was out of my mind night after night, but I am now entirely cured by the use of B. B. B.

The Ark Finds Its Ararat.

The Ark is the name which has been fitly bestowed upon the new store which will be opened on Saturday next at No. 396 George street, in the stand formerly occupied by Armstrong & Co., next to the Bank of Toronto. The business is conducted under the firm name of Wesley & Co. and is under the management of Mr. Fred J. Wesley, whose long experience in the manufacture and sale of such goods as will be handled is a guarantee of good bargains. A general fancy goods business will be carried on, the staples being china, glassware, crockery, soaps, stationery, tinware, and novelties of every description. Buyers will be agreeably surprised on visiting this emporium to find goods of a class not hitherto handled in Peterborough, consisting of novelties of every description at prices comparing most favourably with city figures. Everything now on the market is in stock, and the firm can reasonably expect to meet with success in a venture of this nature. A glance will reveal more to the visitor than a column of facts and figures, and the public is cordially invited to call and make a personal inspection.

The Juniors were all out this afternoon practising hard for their match at Madoc on Monday next. The team will probably be composed as follows: Dobbin, goal; Brown, point; Lynch, cover point; Green, 1st defence; Craig, 2nd defence; Borland, 3rd defence; Rickey, centre; King, 3rd home; Crossley, 2nd home; Dobbin, 1st home; Logan, outside home; Rutherford, inside home. Of course there will probably be several changes made, as some of the boys may be able to get away who at present think it is impossible.

A practice will also be held to-morrow night.

The team will travel by Grand Trunk, leaving here at 8.40 a.m.

BASEBALL.

Concerning the Lindsay-Peterborough game on Monday the Lindsay Post says:

About 100 people assembled at the agricultural park yesterday afternoon to witness one of the best games of baseball that has ever been played in Lindsay. A strong wind was blowing, which accounted for many of the errors noticeable on both sides. The town people were somewhat backward in attending, thinking, no doubt, that they would see another such game as was played by the town team lately; but those who did brave the walk to the park were treated to one of the best exhibitions of ball seen in Lindsay for some time.

The Peterborough team was a little late, and play was delayed until ten minutes to 3 o'clock. The D. & F. team won the toss and took the field, with Ed. O'Neil in the box. The most remarkable feature of the game was the excellent pitching of O'Neil, who struck out no less than 12 men, allowing only 3 men to go to first base on balls. McCabe also pitched well, but not one of his old time games. At the end of the 7th innings the score stood a tie, 15 runs for each side. Then when each side had been retired without a run, still leaving a tie at the end of the 9th. In the 10th inning Peterborough scored 2 runs but the D. & F. boys surprised all the spectators by securing 2 runs also, thus making the score 17 to 17 for ten innings.

Peterborough went to bat again and O'Neil struck out the first two men; the third got four balls and took 1st base. The next man tapped a little fly to Fee, who made a fumble and a wild throw to 1st, on which the two men scored. Peterborough then made four more, advancing them to 23 runs. Lindsay went in and made 5 runs, leaving the score 22—23 in favour of Peterborough.

The "Nine of Hearts" Baseball Club of Lindsay, a crack intermediate team, will play the Park Nine to-morrow afternoon on the P.A.A.A. grounds, a 2 p.m. sharp. A first-class game may be expected. The Park Nine will put the following strong team on the diamond: Graham, c.; Connors, p.; King, 1b.; Cassidy, 2b.; Lynch, 3b.; Arsenault, s.s.; Sheridan, r.f.; Arsenault, c.f.; Doran, l.f.

It is hoped that a large crowd will be present to witness the match and encourage this dashing young team of Peterborough ball players, who have not as yet lost a game this season.

THE TURF.

Cobourg, Aug. 25.—Probably the largest and most fashionable gathering that has ever attended a race meeting here assembled at Donogan Park to-day. The smart costumes of the ladies, among which were noticed a number of Toronto's leading society people, and the fashionable costumes of our American summer visitors, could only be equalled by Woodbine Park. The races were excellent, the only trouble arising in the third heat of the 2.37 trot, when the owner of Little Hector was ordered out of the sulky by the judges for pulling his horse. Another driver was secured by the association, but Mr. Aldous refused to start his horse. The same thing occurred on the opening day in the 2.50. Little Hector had a second and a fifth place in the race when a new driver was placed in the sulky, and Little Hector won the next three heats and race handily. Summary:

—An old man in Pembroke, who was born blind, received his sight by the removal of a cataract. When the bandage was first removed the patient started violently and cried out as if with fear, and for a while was quite nervous from the shock. For the first time in his life he looked upon the earth. The first thing he noticed was a flock of wild sparrows. In relating his experience he said that he thought they were teacups, although a few moments afterwards he readily distinguished a watch which was shown to him. It is supposed that this recognition is owing to the fact that he heard it ticking. The blaze from a lamp excited the most lively surprise in his mind. He had no idea what it was, and when it was brought near wanted to pick it up. When night approached upon the day he first used his eyes he was in fright, fearing that he was losing the sight he had so wonderfully found after sixty years of darkness.

THE ONTARIO CABINET VACANCY

Press Opinions on the Subject.

Ottawa Free Press.

The vacant portfolio in the Ontario Government is attracting considerable attention, especially in Eastern Ontario, where the question of equitable representation in the Cabinet is a subject of no little interest. The present Cabinet is composed, with one exception, of representatives from Western Ontario, that is not including Mr. Bronson, who is a member without portfolio. We should be glad to see Mr. Bronson an active member of the Cabinet, but while the interests of his great business prevents his devoting his undivided attention to a Government department of course his valuable services will be retained in the counsels of the Cabinet, where his practical knowledge and business experience will be of the greatest service. But it is not only in the advisory sense that Eastern Ontario claims representation. The vast stretch of country east and north of Toronto, containing the bulk of revenue producing wealth of the province, is without adequate representation in the Cabinet. And there is no excuse in the matter of lack of excellent material. There are many constituencies which furnish representatives capable of filling the position in a perfectly satisfactory manner. One of the names most prominently mentioned in connection with the present Cabinet vacancy is that of Mr. J. R. Stratton, the energetic member for West Peterborough. Without disparaging the merits and qualifications of other gentlemen, we incline to the opinion that his selection as Provincial Secretary would meet with general approval, and at the same time furnish a minister in whose hands the affairs of the department would be administered with the energy and business ability it demands. Besides his well known political aptitude would be a source of strength to the Liberal party, in whose interests he has redeemed and held one of the most pronounced Conservative constituencies in Canada. But whether or not Mr. Stratton is selected we feel that we are only claiming what is right and just in asking that, in the allotment of the vacant portfolio, the claims of Eastern Ontario to greater Cabinet representation be respected.

World, Toronto.

The death of Hon. Mr. Balfour, Provincial Secretary, reopens the struggle for the position thus vacated, and it does not seem amiss to point out that Mr. Hardy has a chance of showing that he is willing to defer to the demand for the application of the principle of adjusting the personnel of his Cabinet so that that portion of the province which, it seems, justly complains of not being adequately represented, may receive its just share. Mr. Hardy and his party have always professed great admiration for the principle of representation by population, and there are good reasons why that principle should apply to Cabinet as well as to Parliamentary representation. In the whole Province of Ontario there are only two Ministers with portfolio in Eastern Ontario, and that leaves the western half of the province with five members. This disparity is not in accordance with the principle of equity that should characterize a truly good cabinet. We assume that if the Ontario Government are not inclined to do right because it is right, that they desire to do something popular. There can be little doubt that it would be a popular act to select a gentlemen to accept the vacant portfolio from amongst the representatives of Eastern Ontario. And while we only stand for the principle of fair representation, and would not presume to nominate the man, we feel that no more popular selection could be made than the popular and energetic member for West Peterborough, Mr. J. R. Stratton. We do not expect Hon. Mr. Hardy and his colleagues to go into spasms of activity to follow our advice, but we can suggest that the general course indicated above would by no means mean any loss of strength or popularity.

AMERICAN INSURANCE AND CANADIAN POLICY-HOLDERS.

It is becoming a question of practical politics for Canadian policy holders in American insurance companies in which kind of money their claims will be paid when their policies mature. Should Mr. Bryan be elected and the United States go to a silver basis, American companies would have a perfect right to pay their claims—unless otherwise provided in the policy—in American silver dollars, which are now worth a trifle over fifty cents. This would mean, if this ratio were maintained, the cutting of one's life insurance in two; and the man who paid premiums on $5,000 would really leave his family only about one-half that amount.

Some American companies are endorsing their policies "payable in gold," or "payable in the lawful money of Canada." This should make them as good as ever, if the securities deposited by these companies at Ottawa remain as valuable as ever. This latter is a point for the Government to carefully investigate. It will not be worth much to a person with a claim against an American company to have his policy endorsed "payable in the lawful money of Canada," if the company does not have sufficient money on deposit at Ottawa to cover his claim. Then, supposing the company to fight his claim, he must sue the United States, and get his award in American money—i.e., Bryan silver dollars. Now this is a real enough danger if the deposits of American companies with the Canadian Government are composed in whole or in part of American securities. For with the enactment of free silver at Washington American securities will be very likely to go to a silver basis too; with the result that the American deposits at Ottawa will fall far below their face value. Thus it might come about that claims payable in Canada could not be collected in the Dominion, because the company's assets here had all been eaten up.

This is a matter for the Government Superintendent of Insurance to look to. There should be no doubt as to the permanent value of the deposits placed by the American companies in the hands of the Dominion Government. This is the keystone of the arch. To be sure of getting Canadian money for our claims we must be able to sue for them in Canada and collect the award in Canada. It is ridiculous to suppose that if the United States goes to a silver basis, and if the Insurance Companies are paying American claimants in silver, that the American courts will compel them to pay the Britisher in gold. Our only security is to keep the Canadian end of the business in Canada.

To accomplish this two things must be had—1, the securities deposited at Ottawa must not be of a character to be affected by a victory for Mr. Bryan; and, 2, all policies must be made payable in Canada and in Canadian money, or its only equivalent—gold.—Star.

AN IMPERATIVE SACRIFICE

TO GET RID OF

OVERSTOCKS.

It's a pressing, urgent necessity, to get rid of the surplus Goods. The Big Store's remarkably Low Prices last week helped us to dispose of a large quantity of merchandise despite the hot spell, but a great many departments are still flooded with goods, which must be disposed of and at once. Remember prices are dragged down here in every department to make this sale mean something to you. We cut prices to make it an object and benefit for you to buy your goods now, whether you need them or not. Grand values that it would be impossible to give under ordinary conditions. We must unload and here are bargains that will make you eager to help us:—

A. C. A. MEET.

Highly Successful—A Canadian Wins the Victories in the Great Events.

Mr. E. B. Edwards returned to-day from the annual meet of the A. C. A., Grindstone Island, St. Lawrence River. The meet was most successful, large attendance, and races finely contested, especially the sailing races; these were run off promptly and the interest was unflagging. Archibald, of Toronto, formerly of Montreal, in his new canoe, the Mab, won everything in which he started, including the Champlain hotel cup, the Orillia cup and the unlimited sailing and the challenge trophy, the last being the great sailing event of the meet. It is probable that John McKenduck, of Galt, will be elected commodore for the coming year and that the meet will again be held at Grindstone Island next year. The meet was all that could be desired.

AN AUGUST WEDDING.

Nuptials of Mr. Samuel Dickson, of Minden, and Miss Lottie Donaldson, of South Monaghan.

At "Locust Farm" on Wednesday, Aug. 26th, by Rev. Mr. Leade, of Chicago, Mr. Samuel Dickson, of Minden, was united in marriage with Lottie, third daughter of Mr. John Donaldson.

The bride, who was assisted by her cousin, Miss Amy Donaldson, was attired in silver gray, with trimmings of chiffon and yellow ribbon. The bridesmaid was also gowned in gray with trimmings of silver and pink chiffon.

The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. John Dickson, also of Minden. After the wedding breakfast was partaken of the bride and groom left by the 12.15 train for their future home in Minden, with the best wishes of a host of friends.

CAUGHT A SALMON.

Two Young Ladies Successfully Land a Large One.

A few days ago two of the Misses Craig, of Fergus, who are summering at Stony Lake, hooked a salmon whilst out trolling.

After a long fight the fish was successfully lifted into the canoe and taken to camp. It weighed between eighteen and nineteen pounds. It is supposed that the high winds of the last few days have driven the smaller fish away from the resorts of the salmon in the deep water and that the one caught was hunting for food in the shallower part of the lake. Although salmon abound in Stony Lake they are seldom hooked, on account of it being impossible to reach them in their deep water haunts. This fish was taken in the north-eastern arm of Stony Lake.

NORTH MONAGHAN.

On Tuesday one of the oldest residents of the township passed away, in the person of Mrs. Ward, relict of the late John Ward. Mrs. Ward had reached the advanced age of 95 years. She formerly resided in Cavan, but for the past few years has made her home with Mr. Anthony Hunter, of North Monaghan, from whose residence the funeral takes place to-day to the Gardner cemetery, Cavan.

C. M. B. A. CONVENTION NOW IN SESSION.

IT WILL PROBABLY CLOSE TO-DAY.

The Delegates and Their Friends Entertained at Rideau Hall by His Excellency and Lady Aberdeen.

The delegates to the Grand Council of the Catholic Mutual Benefit Association convention have begun the transaction of business which took them to Ottawa. Tuesday morning the delegates and members of local branches formed into procession at the Opera House and by way of Metcalfe, Sparks, Rideau and Sussex streets, marched to the Basilica, where nearly four hundred took part in the service.

The musical service in the Basilica was very fine and under the direction of Prof. A. Tremblay at the organ, the following programme was rendered:

Organ entry, Allegro, Mozart.
Offertory, Pontifical March, Lemmens.
Choir, Mass, F. Basin, director, of the Orpheon of the City of Paris.
Kyrie, Solos by Cyp. Breton; duo, by M. Dupont and Cyp. Breton.
Sanctus Benedictus solo by Cyp. Breton.
Agnus Dei, solo, by C. B. Benard, sr., tenor; bass, M. Dupont; duo, J. B. Benard, tenor and F. X. R. Saucier alto.

Rev. Canon McCarthy in his sermon spoke of the benefits accruing from societies based upon the virtue of charity such as represented by the C. M. B. A. Rev. Father Deguire in French took for his text, "Cor Unum Anima Una," one heart one soul, showing the brotherly love which should unite all men of all creeds and nationalities in the GOSPEL OF JESUS CHRIST.

Returning to the Opera house, led again by the Guards' band and the Union band, the delegates, with their friends, filled the building to the doors. Mr. F. R. Latchford, president of the local advisory board, read the address of welcome on behalf of the local branches, and Mr. A. R. Parent, president of Branch No. 59, read a similar welcome in French. Mr. N. A. Belcourt, M.P., as a member of the Order, also expressed the hearty welcome extended to the delegates.

The city's welcome was then read by the Mayor.

The questions which are up for consideration at this convention are chiefly those regarding representation and extension of the period between conventions. It is proposed to make the conventions triennial instead of biennial as at present and to alter the basis of representation. Now the delegates to the grand council are elected by branches and the idea is to make them elected by districts of stated numbers. Numerical representation instead of branch. The scheme is to have 200 members form a district, these to elect one or more delegates. Provincial councils in lieu of a single Dominion council is another matter to be debated.

As Grand President O. K. Fraser retires this year, after holding office for four years, the position becomes vacant. Among those mentioned as likely to be in the running for honours are the Hon. M. F. Hackett, first vice-president; Mr. J. L. Carleton, barrister of St. John, N. B., and Mr. J. J. Behan, of Kingston.

Reeve O'Meara, of Hintonburg, is one of the two surviving Canadian representatives to the Supreme council entitled to a seat, ex-officio, at the present grand council. Mr. O'Meara was grand chancellor of the supreme council previous to the separation, whereby Canadian branches formed a council of their own.

That the delegates to the C.M.B.A. are not in convention to amuse themselves and have a good time was evidenced by in which they got down to work. After the reception of the grand president's, solicitor's and other reports, the convention resolved itself into committee of the whole on the report of the committee on laws. The Hon. Mr. Hackett was called to the chair and the report, which contains scores of clauses, was taken up seriatim.

The report favoured the restriction of the privilege of sending delegates to the convention to branches having a membership of 25 or over. The proposal met with a storm of objections and cries of "Hands off" and "Equal rights to all" were heard on all sides.

The delegates seemed to be opposed to debarring weak branches the right to sit in the convention and very few there were to speak for the committee's recommendation.

The law stands unchanged. Every branch in the Dominion can send a delegate.

The companion proposal to the restriction of representation that the branches pay expenses of delegates instead of the grand council, was defeated at the same time, both propositions being embraced in the same clause.

The result of the day's work was in brief that the constitution was not changed one word.

The convention will meet every two years, every branch is entitled to representation and all expenses will be paid as in the past.

An invitation was received during the day from their Excellencies the Governor-General and Countess of Aberdeen to a garden party to be held at Rideau Hall to morrow from 4 to 7 o'clock. The kind invitation was received with applause and on motion the invitation was accepted.

MEDICAL REPORT.

There are some interesting things in the supervising medical examiners' report which will afford subjects for consideration. "Family history, phthisis" was the cause of eighty-four applicants being rejected and alcoholism knocked out twenty-four more. Heart disease was responsible for sixteen, while disproportion between height and weight was responsible for 23 more.

The average duration of membership was five years, the longest being nearly sixteen years and the shortest six weeks. Except that the record shows the large number of 220 deaths from various accidental causes, the death rate is quite within the expectations. Phthisis caused 24 deaths, inflammation of the lungs 20, heart disease 12, and cancer 11.

As will be observed, the chief cause of rejection arises from imperfect family history and alcoholism, and a glance at the death column will show how requisite it is to be guarded in these respects. To protect the association against an imperfect membership is a matter which concerns all alike. The medical examiners can but speak of the physical condition of an applicant. His habits of life and his family history may be entirely unknown to them. Where such is the case the responsibility of action rests with the branch officers, and their hearty co-operation should be extended to the medical examiners that we may secure a healthy and vigorous membership."

A recommendation is made to the council by the trustees that while the necessity of vaccination of applicants for membership be dispensed with, in case of death from smallpox of a member who has not been vaccinated his beneficiary shall not be entitled to the benefits.

At the time of making up the annual report in July 5,936 members held policies of $2,000; 4,909 held policies of $1,300; and 89 had policies of $500, a total in force at that date of $16,825,000. From the time of the first C.M.B.A. branch in 1878, the new branches each year have varied, being highest in 1890 when there were 34. Nineteen branches in 1895 and twelve for the first half of 1896 were added to the list.

THE NUMBER OF DEATHS

since 1881, have been 567, and since 1891 the average age at death was 43 years.

"We regret to state that the funds on hand are entirely inadequate to defray the expenses of the coming convention, and we hope our branches will devise some means of reducing such expense. The $7,000 borrowed to help to defray the expenses of the St. John convention has been paid in full, together with the interest thereon, thus leaving our general fund low at present," is a paragraph in the grand trustee's report and acting in accordance with this the convention here will be concluded as shortly as is consistent with the proper despatch of business.

There has been a conflict between grand and district deputies and this has been where district deputies were active making both ends unsatisfactory. By the change proposed the present district deputies become grand deputies and the present office of district deputy abolished. Each of the new grand deputies will have a defined territory and the duties of office will have to be fulfilled. The motion was carried.

WEDNESDAY MORNING.

After roll call of grand officers this morning the convention resolved itself into committee of the whole with Dr. Ryan, of Kingston, in the chair.

A proposal to have the funds of the branches protected by a guarantee company caused a warm discussion. As it is the financial secretary and treasurer are required to give bonds and in the event of an absconder there is loss incurred, and frequently properly qualified candidates go unwhipped of justice. Nearly all the leading members took part in the debate, and the best speeches of the convention to date were heard. There seemed to be strong objection from the larger branches.

The vote resulted in a victory for the proposition by a large majority.

The clause relating to the forfeiting of a policy when the beneficiary commits suicide was the cause of long discussion. The proposition asks that every committing suicide within two years of joining the order, sane or insane, his beneficiary be not paid. The clause was fathered by the grand solicitor, Mr. Frank Latchford, who explained the advisability of protecting the association. There was a strong feeling of fraternalism desirous of being kind to the unfortunate widows and orphans as possible. Hon. Mr. Hackett said that no matter what was placed in the constitution the laws of the country would over-ride it. The Supreme Court of the United States has decided that suicides are not responsible beings, and the Canadian law was thought to be the same.

Mr. John O'Meara fully concurred in Mr. Latchford's view from a legal standpoint, but struck a popular chord by appealing to the convention to throw law aside and give the beneficiaries their money.

Hon. Mr. Hackett took strong grounds against the proposition and showed that it was contrary to the jurisprudence of both Canada and the United States. Both amendment and motion were almost unanimously defeated. Scarcely a dozen voted for either proposal.

THE SACRED RECITAL AT ST. JOHN'S.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—I protest against the assumption of "Harmony" that I, "Banjo," have "no music in myself." Why, sir, I am the very soul of music, and all those horrid things that Shakspere says of one who has no music in his soul do not apply to me. Did I not say that I was of the Army—and is not the Army noted for its love of music and for the vim with which they worship God, as did David of old? He fetched up the Ark from Kirjath-jearim, when "David and all Israel played before God with all their might; even with songs and with harps and with psalteries and with timbrels" (banjos) "and with cymbals and with trumpets."—I Chron., 13 18.

Anyone who has seen our street parades and heard our band, or been present at the barracks and heard the hearty and inspiring service with voice and with instruments, will concede that there is music in our souls. And I doubt not but the music of the Army is much finer than that rendered by David and all Israel on the occasion referred to. And your other correspondent, "For the Sublime and Beautiful," says:—"Whatever is good comes from God, but the music of the barracks is not usually good." Therefore, if he finished the syllogism he would have added: All music of the barracks is not from God, but he did not finish the sentence for he realized that he was wrong and he immediately puts the matter rightly when he says, "The spirit in which a thing is done is the true test."

This is the correct position. Many a poor old woman with cracked and quavering voice offers up her carol of praise to God—the outward expression of the song in her heart—and that imperfect utterance goes straight to heaven like grateful incense—even as grateful as the finest rendering of Herr Stoeving on his cremona or the carol of the prima donna. The beautiful music rendered at St. Johns from the violin was no more acceptable before heaven than the coarser rasping of the fiddles at the barracks. The culture differed—the inspiration and motive were alike—and both alike are backed by chorus from angel harps.

I congratulate St. John's on their acceptance of our barracks methods. I congratulate them on the perfection of the rendering and hope that the spiritual song in the hearts of the worshippers was truly interpreted in the beautiful harmonies elicited by Mr. and Mrs. Stoeving.

My object in writing was not to find fault but to show that the world moves and that after all, both at St. John's and at the barracks, the offering of high and low differs only in texture and not in kind. There is room for much charity, for we be all brethren. Adieu.

BANJO.

OUR STREET "IMPROVEMENTS."

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Dear Sir,—As a taxpayer I claim the privilege of grumbling, and in this case I can grumble with good cause. I don't object to paying taxes for street improvements, but when money, material and labour are wasted I put in a decided objection. Water street has been lately graded; that part of the work seems to be all right, but the crossings that have been put in would be a disgrace to a cross roads country village, especially those between Argyle street and Victoria avenue. In some cases the old plank have been used and the crossings are only about 15 inches wide and sunk some three or four inches below the level of the street grade. Therefore they are constantly covered with the mud and street rubbish that wheels and horses hoofs carry into the narrow ditch called a crossing. The crossings are a pest to pedestrians and a nuisance to vehicles which, if moving at considerable rate of speed, go over them with a tremendous bump. The cedar block crossing laid at Victoria avenue and Argyle street is too narrow and is very badly laid—a cross-eyed blind man wouldn't do a worse job. I never saw such disregard of the public convenience. However, in striking contrast with the crossings named, a broad cedar block crossing has been laid on Water street to serve the sole purpose of one large residence. It is not the proper place for a crossing, being in the middle of a block and at a point where there are no houses on the opposite side of the street. Why is this distinction made? Is it right to spend our money with such barefaced favouritism? However, there is some excuse for putting in this particular crossing—those crossings put in for the common people and not fit to use.

My business takes me to all parts of the town and I must say that I never saw our streets in a worse condition than they are this year. Why doesn't our Council wake up? Last year we spent $15,000 on our streets and they look as though the total expenditure had been fifteen cents. It's a toss up whether the Council runs the streets or the streets run the Council.

Yours very truly,
RATEPAYER.

Light in Asia—It Shines Clearly.

Messrs. T. Milburn & Co., Toronto:

Dear Sirs,—There is light in Asia after all and the man that advised me to try your Heart and Nerve Pills was a friend indeed and truly a friend in need. Before I started to take them I was languid, weak, sleepless and nervous. My brain was beclouded and I could not collect my thoughts, I had gone through an operation in the hope of relief, but still remained generally broken up, my appetite was gone and I was almost without hope or ambition.

But I feel thoroughly rebuilt through the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and it took only three or four weeks to do the work. I often think of the years of suffering I might have escaped had I only known of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills in time; but I am grateful to be restored to health at last and gladly recommend the medicine that cured.

HUGH McINDOE,
Cor Water and Smith Sts, Opp. Inverlea Park

A man's health carries him through the world. He depends on it for enjoyment, for happiness, for success, for the achievement of anything he has in hand. Americans take big chances. They risk everything in business. They have confidence in their brains and their ability. The American business man is active, flexible, elastic. Knock him down with failure and he is up again in a minute. As long as he keeps his health, failure doesn't mean anything to him. He has lost a little time, but that is all. If he can keep his health, he will go on to success. He feels sure of that, and yet his health is the very thing he neglects more than anything else. His health is the rope by which he climbs to success. It behooves him to keep the rope in good condition, and not to neglect broken strands. When the rope of health breaks even a little bit, it should be mended at once. It is easier to keep health than it is to regain it. When a man feels himself running down, when he realises a loss of vitality and energy, he must call a halt. He is on a down grade. The strands of his rope are parting rapidly.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has helped thousands of men in just this condition. It makes health, it makes pure, rich blood, it forces out impurities and kills germs. It doesn't make any difference what name you call your trouble by—dyspepsia—kidney disease—rheumatism—consumption—skin disease, the "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure it absolutely. None of these diseases can retain hold on the body when it is full of rich, pure blood.

Every man who cares to keep his health should have Dr. Pierce's "Common Sense Medical Adviser"—a finely illustrated book of 1008 pages. Sent to any address on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover customs and mailing only.

UNINTENDED HUMOR.

Pupils of Public Schools Make Some Astonishing Statements.

Since wit has been defined by Noah Webster as the "felicitous association of objects not usually connected so a to produce a pleasant surprise," may not the pupils of public schools who gave the following answers to their examination questons lay claim to it? asks the Philadelphia American. The record here given is bona fide, having been read recently at the graduation exercises of one of the leading grammar schools of Boston:

"Who were the pilgrims?"

"A dirty, filthy set who lived under the ground."

"Name a domestic animal useful for clothing and describe its habits.'

"The ox. He don't have any habits, because he lives in a stable."

"If you were traveling across the desert where would you choose to rest?"

"I would rest on a stool."

"Mention five races of men."

"Men, women, children and babies."

"Describe the white race and show that it is superior to other races."

"A white man will nod at you when he meets you on the street."

"Of what is the surface of the earth composed?"

"Dirt and people."

"Name a fruit which has its seed on the outside."

"A seed cake."

"Name five forms of water."

"Hot water, cold water, faucet water, well water and ice water."

"Name and locate the five senses."

"The eyes are in the northern part of the face and the mouth in the southern."

"Who were the mound builders?"

"History cannot answer this question. Science only can."

"Define 'flinch' and use it in a sentence."

"Flinch, to shrink. Flannel flinches when it is washed."

"By what is the earth surrounded and by what is it lighted?"

"It is surrounded by water and lighted by electricity."

"Name six animals of the arctic zone."

"Three polar bears and three seals."

"What is yeast?"

"Yeast is a vegetable flying about in the air, hitching itself onto anything."

"Why do you open the dampers in a stove while lighting a fire?"

"To let the oxygen in and the nitrogen out."

"What did the constitution do for the country?"

"It gave the president a head."

"What are the last teeth that come to a man?"

"False teeth."

THE WOMEN TOO.

Back Talk Not Man's Monopoly.

Mrs. Jemima Cole, Havelock, told the following wonderful story:—"For a great many years I have suffered from disease of the kidneys. The pains in my back and side were sometimes excruciating.

"My limbs were so swollen that I could scarcely lift my feet from the floor, and I was in great agony nearly all the time. I thought that I would surely die from the pain.

"I have taken dozens of advertised remedies, but got no better during their use. I was also treated by several doctors, but am sorry to say they did me little or no good. In fact they stated that they could do me no good, which made me despair of ever getting better.

"When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised I sent to W. H. Jeff & Co's. drugstore and got a box thinking I would try them as a last resort.

"The change from the start was very great and now after one month I am free from all pain. The swelling has gone down and I feel quite strong and healthy.

"I was also troubled with rheumatism and neuralgia which have completely disappeared, thanks to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. In fact I do not think there is a medicine in the world that in such a short time could have taken me from the almost dying condition in which I was to the healthy and vigorous state that I am in now.

"I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for their wonderful virtues in curing kidney troubles."

THE SCIENTIFIC WORLD

TESLA'S NEW POWER.

While Unexplainable the Facts Show Its Great Value.

The new power or method of electrical application discovered and perfected by Nicola Tesla, and which Mr. George Westinghouse says is Tesla's greatest discovery and solves the problem of rapid transit motive power, is thus described by the great electrician: "The whole secret lies in my discovery of what is known as the rotating magnetic field. What it is I cannot explain; neither is it explainable. I can only give the facts which have been discovered through experiment. The discovery of these scientific facts has done entirely away with the commutator which has heretofore been necessary on all electric motors. This commutator, with its close adjustment, delicate and intricate parts, has been the cause of all the trouble. A slight injury to this commutator, which may arise even from the presence of a drop of water, may destroy the whole machine. The danger is now all done away with by discarding the commutator entirely. This result is accomplished by utilizing the rotating magnetic field, which simply means that if a circular metal disc is placed on an axle and brought near the electric coil it will revolve. The disc touches nothing except its own bearings, yet it revolves, and thus produces power. This power is what is used in the new motor."

When the great revolution promised in street railway motive power will be complete it is difficult to say, for both sides have moved slowly and been conservative. The street railway people have been slow to decide on changes that would involve expense, both in re-equipment and abandonment of present systems, and the men who are furnishing capital for great generating plants that are making the tests have been equally conservative. But within a few weeks there has been a great change, and both sides now appear to think that they stand on safe ground that the problem has been solved, and that the great change is about to be entered upon. The questions of speed, safety, durability, convenience and economy appear to have been settled, and now only a formal acceptance of the inevitable is necessary. Now all sides appear satisfied that the trial being arranged for at Pittsburg will be satisfactory, and pronounce the fate of steam in cities and establish electricity as the great motive power.

First Phonographic Message.

When Edison's testative idea of the instrument began to take practical shape he fitted together the essential parts as soon as they were ready. He tested them by speaking into the cylinder the first words that came into his mind. These happened to be a verse of the nursery rhyme, "Mary had a little lamb." Strangely enough, he struck upon the most searching test possible, for the word "fleece" in the second line ("whose fleece was white as snow") is little more than a mere sibilation, and the phonographic sound he got (which is the one preserved) was only a hiss, as of escaping steam. Dissatisfied, Edison uttered again in different tones "Fleece! fleece!" but with no better result. Finally he came to the resolution that he would not send his invention out until it was sufficiently perfect in its articulation to give forth that particular word "fleece!" with proper distinctness. After much thought he came to the conclusion that the difficulty lay with the wax covering on the cylinders, and he set to work to remedy it. Of the hundreds of different waxes tried no kind seemed exactly suitable, however—and he kept a force of experts at work for over two years mixing, blending and melting different varieties of wax, both animal and vegetable, from all parts of the world, until they produced the exact consistency required.—New Ideas.

Renovating a Strawberry Bed.

As soon as a bed is done fruiting, says Mr. A. D. Manwell, in the American Agriculturist, mow with an ordinary mowing machine, and allow the plants to lie for three or four days, until the leaves become thoroughly dry. Stack up the straw or mulch between the rows, being careful not to scatter it too heavily on the rows. When all is well dried, and a good breeze is blowing from the proper quarter, set it on fire. The first must run rapidly over the patch, so as not to kill the roots of the plants. As soon as it has burned over, begin cultivating between the rows. Narrow these rows down to one foot in width. After cultivating thoroughly drag the field, loosen up the soil about the plants and level the ground. After this, cultivate once a week, the same as plants set in the spring. A top dressing of well rotted manure is also very beneficial at this season of the year, as it promotes a good healthy growth of vines for the next season's crop. Remember to cultivate at once after burning, as the ashes will add beneficially in fertilizing the next year's crop. If neglected for some days, the ashes may be blown off.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak, shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. I promise you perfect secrecy and as I do not wish to expose myself either, please address, simply: P. O. Box 388, London, Ont.

THE LIFE BEYOND.

The star is not extinguished when it sets
Upon the dull horizon; it but goes
To shine in other skys, then reappears
In ours as fresh as when it first arose.

The river is not lost when o'er the rock
It pours its flood into the abyss below;
Its scattered force regathering from the shock,
It hatsens forward with yet fuller flow.

The bright sun dies not when the shadowing orb
Of the eclipsing moon obscures its ray;
It still is shining on, and soon to us
Will burst undimmed into the joy of day.

Thus nothing dies, or only dies to live;
Star, stream, sun, flower, the dewdrop and the gold,
Each goodly thing instinct with buoyant hope,
Hastens to put its purer, finer mold.

Thus in the quiet joy of kindly trust,
We bid each parting saint a brief farewell,
Weeping, yet smiling, we commit their dust
To the safe-keeping of the silent cell.

—Horatius Bonar.

There's is a lot of satisfaction in using a reliable interlining like Fibre Chamois. It never disappoints your highest expectations, always giving a lasting, stylish stiffness to gowns or wraps. And now there will be still further satisfaction in using it, for it has become possible to reduce the price because of the enlarged and improved methods of manufacture, and the enormous demand. So in future you can buy the Fibre Chamois, with the Red Star Label for 25 cts. per yard and those who are wise always look for the label to be sure of avoiding all disappointing and wortless imitations.

CURED BY USING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

A PREACHER'S EXPERIENCE.

"Three months ago, I took a violent cold which resulted in an attack of acute bronchitis. I put myself under medical treatment, and at the end of two months was no better. I found it very difficult to preach, and concluded to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The first bottle gave me great relief; the second, which I am now taking, has relieved me almost entirely of all unpleasant symptoms, and I feel sure that one or two bottles more will effect a permanent cure. To all ministers suffering from throat troubles, I recommend Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—E. M. BRAWLEY, D. D., Dist. Secretary, Am. Bapt. Publication Society, Petersburg, Va.

"Jokes upon members of the Harvard faculty," says the Boston Transcript, "are usually so thoroughly good-natured that the victim can seldom do more than grin and bear it gracefully. On a recent Sunday evening in Belfast, Me., a young man in church looked frequently at his watch during the sermon. Whereupon the young man with the gold repeater bawled out, in the hearing of nearly the whole congregation, "a quarter past eight." As may be supposed, the gravity of the assembly was very much disturbed by the occurrence.

Elizabeth Stuart Phelphs had a little dog in the days when she lived with two other women in her "Old Maid's Paradise," before she added Ward to her name. This little dog was named Daniel Deronda, and she tells of hearing from the window of that famous little place of hers at Gloucester a little boy, who evidently knew her little dog, asking his mother: "Mamma, is that where the Derondas live?" "Such was human fame!" she cries, "and such it will ever be! The eyes that see us see with their own focus; not from ours or with ours!"

An English journal says that a funeral is regarded as a very high festival in rural Yorkshire. A poor woman was lately heard complaining of the fare provided at one she had attended: "A paltry concern," she said, scornfully, "Nobbot cakes and such like: Now, I've buried five, but I sided 'em all off with 'am!" And this: A farmer was assisting his daughter in the choice of a dress, and, seeing her fancy incline to a blue one, said remonstratingly, "Nay, lass, tak the black one; happen tha might have the luck to be axed to a funeral," and his counsel prevailed.

Loose clothes and downy cushions bring only a negative sort of comfort to the woman who is suffering with some disease or derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Some clothes and some positions make the pain and the discomfort seem less. Perhaps the nerves are most affected and this in turn disturbs the digestion. Nothing will ever completely relieve but a radical cure. The start of so called "female complaints" may be a very slight thing indeed. It may be that in the beginning some small hygenic measures would stop the trouble. Certainly at this time, a little bit of the right medicine would stop it. When the trouble becomes worse, it is harder to cure, but still it can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription will positively cure any trouble of this character. It may be absolutely relied upon. It affords lasting relief to a woman whose natural modesty has kept her from consulting a physician.

Send 31 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

Big Engineering Work.

A great engineering work of immense importance to the city of Venice has just been completed. Fifty-eight years ago, in order to prevent the damage caused by the occasional overflowing of the River Brenta, the Austrian Government, on the recommendation of the celebrated engineer, Paleocapa, carried out certain works, by which the mouths of that river were carried into the Chioggia Lagoon, some distance south of their original outlet. Since then the alluvium brought down by the river has threatened to convert a portion of the Chioggia Lagoon into a fever-breeding swamp, and also to cause serious damage to the whole Venice Lagoon by silting. It was accordingly decided to construct a new channel for the Brenta, sixteen kilometres in length, giving the river a direct outlet into the sea near Brondolo, still further south. The scheme, which was estimated to cost eight million lire, and was begun in 1884, has now been brought to a successful conclusion. The new channel, by means of subsidiary canals, also provides a fresh outlet for the Bacchiglione and other rivers formerly flowing into the Venice Lagoon.

HOW THE SUN LIFE

FULFILS ITS PROMISES.

A Matured 10 Year Endowment.

Profits Paid by the SUN 21 per. cent more than the Estimates.

The following letter, which speak for itself, was received by the undersigned this morning from a gentleman in Brockville, whose ten year endowment which he held in the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada matured last week and was paid him. The Sun is modest in promises but UNEQUALLED IN RESULTS. The public are benefitted by results, not by promises unfulfilled

BROCKVILLE, November 7th, 1895.

W. H. HILL, Mgr. Central Ontario Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, Peterborough, Ontario:—

DEAR SIR,—I should have acknowledged the receipt of yours enclosing cheque for endowment policy No. 12,871 before, only I wanted to write something more than a mere receipt. I am pleased to hear of the continued prosperity of the "SUN" and it speaks well for your Company when the profits are greater (by 21 per cent.) than you as the Company's representative promised or rather estimated, as was the case with this policy.

I hope your Company will continue to prosper and I often regret that I do not carry more Insurance than I am doing. I might have carried twice as much as I do when at Minden without any great effort, still what little I do carry I feel is perfectly safe being in the "SUN."

I must thank you for your promptness and kindness regarding this policy just settled. I hope we will both be alive and well when the new one I now hold will be due in 1905 and assuring you of very best wishes, I remain,

Yours Sincerely,
(Signed) F. R. C.

The above voluntary testimonial is significant and shows in a most practical way the SUN'S standing as a profit paying institution.

A HOST OF INQUIRIES.

Quebec by the fact that they had as object lessons there the Quebec graving dock and Curran bridge, and he pointed to his own election in Quebec County by French-Canadians and to Sir Henry Joly's return in Port Neuf by a constituency not of his religion, as proof of the liberality of the people of Quebec.

Sir Adolphe Caron pointed out what he termed the absurdity of the Solicitor-General's insinuation that the supply if voted last session might have been misspent by the late Government, by showing that only service estimates for the months were asked, and the law provided that money could not be used except for the purpose voted. Mr. Laurier gave the excuse for his meagre bill of fare that he did not think the Conservatives had much stomach for a full meal, but he (Sir Adolphe) feared the country was more apt to die of inanition than of indigestion if it was to be treated to such homeopathic doses of sustenance as the Speech from the Throne contained. (Laughter.)

With regard to the Manitoba school question, he stood where he stood as a member of the Bowell Cabinet, on what he believed was the only constitutional course. He admitted his pride as a French-Canadian to see Mr. Laurier in the position of Premier of Canada. He was one of Quebec's most gifted sons. How fatal it would be to French-Canadian ambition if it could be said that Canada had retrograded and not advanced under Mr. Laurier's leadership. (Cheers.) He thought the Government ought without delay to declare its policy on the school question.

Mr. Monk (Jacques Cartier, Con.,) in a maiden speech insisted on the necessity of the Government declaring its intentions respecting the tariff. Protection had built up many industries in Canada and business would be paralysed uptil the present uncertainty was removed.

Mr. Frost (North Leeds and Grenville, Liberal,) in the course of a brief speech claimed that all the cities of Canada had spoken for tariff reform. He had every assurance that the industries of this country would be amply protected. (Derisive Opposition cheers.)

Mr. Casgrain, (Montmorency, Con.,) asked Mr. Dobell to rise and say if he was in favor of the fast Atlantic service and the construction of a bridge at Quebec. Mr. Dobell did not accept the invitation and Mr. Casgrain then dealt briefly with the tariff question and afterwards spoke about Manitoba schools. It was not a question of Catholic or French-Canadian, but of certain rights granted under the constitution and he for one would ever be in the front rank in defence of constitutional rights. (Conservative cheers.)

The debate was continued by Messrs Chauvin and Hackett, and Mr. Dupont moved the adjournment of the debate. The House adjourned at 11.40.

You cannot say that you have tried everything for your rheumatism, until you have taken Ayer's Pills. Hundreds have been cured of this complaint by the use of these Pills alone. They were admitted on exhibition at the World's Fair as a standard cathartic.

OTTAWA NOTES.

Imperial Authorities Asked by the Government to Nominate a Successor to Gen. Cameron.

Ottawa, Aug. 26.—(Special.)—The Imperial authorities have been asked by the Dominion Government to nominate a first-class officer for the position of commandant of the Royal Military College at Kingston. The question of appointing a Canadian to the position was under consideration by the Government, and while there has undoubtedly been a growing sentiment in this direction, it is felt that for the present it will be better to secure the services of an Imperial officer of wide experience. The idea, however, is that in time some of the young Canadian officers at present serving with distinction in the Imperial army may be available for this and similar posts in the Dominion.

The petition of Albert Nordheimer of Toronto for a bill of divorce from his wife, Edith May VanKoughnet, was presented to the Senate to-day. Mr. Nordheimer was married to Miss VanKoughnet on June 3, 1884. The wedding was a very swell affair, the ceremony being performed in St. Stephen's Church by the Bishop of Toronto. Three children are the issue of the marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Nordheimer lived together in Toronto until May, 1892, when they went to England on account of the illness of the second child. Being obliged to return to Canada in about six weeks after his arrival in England, Mr. Nordheimer arranged that his wife and three children should remain there until his return in the following spring. In July, 1893, the petitioner returned to England for the purpose of bringing his wife and children back to Canada, but Mrs. Nordheimer flatly refused to return, and has since been domiciled in England with, however, an occasional visit to the United States. The petitioner alleges that in August, 1893, and several times thereafter, Mrs. Nordheimer committed adultery with William Cranston, jr., of London, England.

The Quebec dead meat scheme was discussed at a crowded meeting of members held in the tower room this morning. The project, however, got a bad set back, the English-speaking Liberals almost to a man being opposed to it. Mr. Choquette, who is engineering the scheme, was very wrathy at the opposition which was manifested. Many members are inclined to look with suspicion on the project from the fact that Mr. Bender, of alleged unsavory renown in connection with the Three Rivers dead meat scheme, is behind this enterprise.

The Minister of Agriculture, at the Experimental Farm to-day addressed a large crowd of excursionists from the eastern townships. He advised his hearers not to be afraid to write to the farm on any subject on which they might desire information; also to read the bulletins and reports issued, and by the application of the information contained therein, with a liberal measure of common sense, they would be certain to secure practical benefits. He made no attempt to outline any new policy for his department, beyond stating that it was his intention to devote all his time and practical knowledge of farming to the advancement of agriculture in Canada. He concluded by expressing a desire to see the farmers of Ontario and Quebec at the farm often.

Mr. Lount to-day presented a petition of the municipal corporation of Toronto asking for financial aid to the Dominion Exhibition to be held in Toronto next year. Under the rules of the House, however, a petition for money grants cannot be received, and accordingly it will not go on the record.

Mr. Laurier is being strongly urged to visit England during the Parliamentary recess and will probably accompany Sir Richard Cartwright when he goes over to attend the Cable conference.

Mr. Davin gives notice of a lengthy amendment to supply, winding up with the declaration that if the promises of the Liberal leaders that agricultural implements would be placed on the free list are to be carried out they should be carried out this session.

Mr. Maclean will ask if the Government intends to establish a bureau of mining information in Toronto. He will also ask what steps the Government purposes taking to protect Canadian interests from danger likely to arise from the construction of the Chicago drainage canal.

Mr. Gibson will ask for copies of all orders-in-council appointing persons to public positions from May 1 to uly 10

The Toronto trades and labor petition urging the increase of the capitation tax on Chinese to $500 was presented to-day.

Their Excellencies gave a garden party at Government House this afternoon. It was largely attended, although the weather was threatening.

Entries for the D. R. A. matches are rushing in to-day, and although the actual result cannot be known until the last mail arrives it seems certain that the number of competitors will exceed that of the heavy year of 1893.

Mr. Hurley, M.P., to-day introduced to Mr. Tarte a deputation from Deseronto, consisting of S. Russell, John Dalton, P. Slaven, A. A. Richardson and W. R. Aylsworth. The delegation urged the special claims of Deseronto for a public building for post-office and customs purposes.

The Speaker has issued his warrant for a writ for a new election in Brandon.

Mr. Gibson gives notice of a bill to amend the Railway Act by providing that all wages due and materials supplied in Canada, whether it be steam or electric, shall be a first lien on the company. Experience in connection with the T., H. and B. Railway has shown this change to be necessary.

SIX THOUSAND SAVED.

THIS IS THE RECORD OF EVANGELISTS CROSSLEY AND HUNTER

For the Year Just Closed—It has Been a Very Busy Season—Their Campaign—Will Remain East Until Next Spring.

(St. John, N.B., Record.)

We are pleased to give a short account of the evangelistic work of Revs. Crossley and Hunter for the last conference year, which we know will be read with interest by their many friends. They have been twelve years together, doing the work of evangelists among the different evangelical churches in the various provinces, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and also in Boston, Detroit, Brooklyn, and other cities in the United States.

The last conference year has been spent in Canada and Bermuda, and has been one of the most successful in their career. In every place the services have been union, the several denominations emulating one another in the good work.

Two campaigns were conducted in the Province of Ontario, namely, in Carleton Place and Guelph, during the months of last year, August and September. The services in both these places were held in large rinks, where vast throngs congregated, and about one thousand avowed decision to begin the Christian life. They held meetings in Guelph city eight years before.

Three campaigns were held in New Brunswick, namely Fredericton, Woodstock and Marysville, in which many of the professing Christians were quickened to higher spiritual life, and hundreds were added to the membership of the Church of Christ.

Bermuda was visited in the months of February and March, and meetings held in Hamilton, St. George, Bayley's Bay, Warwick and Somerville. The illustrated article on Bermuda and the church work there, written by the evangelists, is full of interest and inspiration.

Charlottetown is the only place in Prince Edward Island where they conducted meetings. Here the English church clergymen were frequently on the platform and manifested a great interest in the meetings.

Three places in Nova Scotia were favoured with the services of the evangelists, Amherst, Yarmouth and Halifax. In Amherst nearly all the meetings were held in the large Baptist church, which was crowded nightly. In Yarmouth and Halifax what is called "double headers" were frequently held, that is to say, meetings were conducted in two churches on several evenings and both of the evangelists delivered addresses in each church. In all these places the services were most gratifying, and the brethren will ever be held in happy remembrance.

The harvest for the year has been abundant, as about six thousand men, women and youths have publicly avowed decision for Christ in the meetings.

The evangelists are so pleased with the eastern provinces that they purpose remaining east until next spring. They are now arranging their work for another year. Their permanent address is Methodist Book Room, Halifax, N. S.

The pastors and people of the various denominations endorse the testimony of a Baptist divine, who said: "We like the men, their message, their methods, their music and the monuments they leave behind them."

The would-be critic finds little to criticise and very few sympathisers. Even the children of him who charged Job with being after money or worldly wealth find no reason for criticising these evangelists, because they never stipulate that any sum shall be given them; they allow no subscription to be taken, no church fund is interfered with, no church or person is asked to assume any financial responsibility, they pay their own travelling expenses and will not billet, but pay their own way as men. All they will accept as a financial remuneration is that which remains of the free will offerings after all incidental expenses are paid, and even this amount passes through the hands of a finance committee that makes its report to the executive committee and to the public.

We wish these brethren, whom the churches delight to honour, increasing success and added years.

TOUGH CLOTHES FOR THE BOYS.

Young Canada Begins Another Six Months' Schooling.

Tough clothes for boys to wear to school this Fall and Winter. That's the burden of our song. Strong clothes to stand the wear and tear of play, rough but healthy. Strong clothes to stand the work of out of doors fun in cold weather. We have just such things for the youngsters and, besides being full of wear, they are neat and shapely.

Did the last suit of clothes you bought for your boy from us, wear as well as it ought to hav worn, considering the price paid? If it did you should go to the same store for the next suit. You ge your money's worth. We deserve your patronage. We'll do better by you and by the boy than any other clothier.

5 CASES OF BOYS' NEW SUITS

These are only the advance guard of our Fall stock, for the boys. These are TWO and THREE piece Suits, and will fit boys all the way from 3 to 16 years. We sell the best of everything to keep in the heat, and keep out the cold for boys. We were boys ourselves, once,—it seems an awful long time ago.

We've all good qualities of Boys' Clothing. We've—probably—more Boys' Clothing in our store than in all the other stores put together. We've a weakness for supplying the boys. Ask yours if this isn't so?

Some idea we may give you of the value and inducement we purpose giving to buyers, when we say will buy a beautiful, heavy, all wool, neatly made, well trimmed, and built of Auburn Mills Tweed Suit.

A $2.00 BILL

Of course we've cheaper Suits, and as low as 95c per suit. Better Suits up to $3.00 and $4.00, but

OUR $2.00 SUIT IS A CORKER.

Just the thing for a boy's school Suit, and as good as ever sold for $3.50.

Mothers should see these Suits. You know value. You know your boy's clothes-wrecking propensities.

Come to us. We're full of economical suggestions. No matter what your money is, we'll help you to make it go as far as it can. Come! The verdict is nearly always in our favour. It isn't often that the careful buyer decides against us.

HIS MAIDEN SPEECH

Sir Oliver Mowat's First Speech in the Senate.

THE PROPOSED DAD MEAT SCHEME

Both Parties Agreed as to the Desirability of Placing Our Goods on the English Market—Tariff Deputations Wait on the Government—Other Ottawa News.

Ottawa, Aug. 27.—The proceedings in the Upper House to-day were much more interesting than in the Commons. It is not often that one hears a maiden speech in Parliament by a gentleman who, for forty years has been in public life, and for 23 years has held the position of Premier of the chief province of Canada. Sir Oliver Mowat showed the same tact that has characterized him for years in Toronto. One or two points in his speech are worthy of note. He referred at some length to the constitution of the Senate and stated that at the Quebec Conference, Hon. William Macdougall and himself were the only two representatives who favored an elective Senate. He intimated that he hoped to secure the co-operation of the present Senate in trying to make it acceptable to the whole country. Judging from this remark, it is inferred that before long a measure will be introduced for the reform of the Senate.

Liberal and Conservative members alike are a unit in favor of furnishing the farmers of Canada with the means for placing perishable products promptly on the English market. They do not, however, like the scheme propounded by Mr. Porter of London. The Premier and Hon. Mr. Dobell were present at to-day's meeting of the committee. As was the case yesterday, the Western Ontario members opposed the granting of a subsidy of $125,000, annually for ten years to assist the project. Mr. Porter, one of the promoters, explained the details of the scheme, which have been previously published. It was pointed out by Mr. Lister that an annual subsidy on an expenditure of $1,000,000 for the building of an abattoir would pay the interest on the entire cost of construction and leave $75,000 over. Mr. Porter, however, claimed that the abattoirs would be only a part of the expense. There was the matter of steamship service, agencies in European countries, etc.

Mr. Cargill strongly favored assistance being given to the farmers, but he was opposed to the country contributing 12 1-2 per cent. on an investment of one million dollars. He would like the company to guarantee to the farmers an increase of four cents per pound on beef sold in the English market, as the prospectus promised (Laughter and applause.)

The discussion continued for an hour and a half and was brought to a close by the Premier stating that the problem how best to capture the deadmeat market in England would be fully investigated, while he had no opinion to offer with regard to the scheme under consideration.

Prof. Macoun of the geological survey, who has returned from his summer botanical field work near Moosejaw, N.W.T., states that he never saw the vegetation of the Northwest so luxuriant as this summer. The prairie hay grass is, he says, fully three inches in height. The farmers state that the forage was never so good since 1882. The crop prospects are bright.

The police commissioners to-day appointed Mr. W. F. Powell, second son of the late Sheriff Powell, to the position of chief of the Ottawa police. The commissioners instructed the clerk to purchase four bicycles on the best possible terms so that the members of the force can control the outlying districts more readily. Scorching wheelmen, too, may look out now for trouble, as there are already half a dozen good cyclists on the force. It is not unlikely that a special bicycle squad will be organized in charge of a sergeant, and that a special detail of duty will be assigned to them. However, until Chief Powell has an opportunity of considering the matter, nothing definite will be known.

Two tariff deputations were here to-day. The vinegar manufacturers, consisting of Messrs. Badgerow and Wilson of Toronto, Allan of Norwich and Marshall of Hamilton, interviewed the Government in reference to the excise duties on vinegar.

The Dominion Millers' Association also had a deputation here, which interviewed the Premier and Mr. Fielding. David Plews, C. B. Watts and J. L. Spink, Toronto, and W. H. Meldrum of Peterboro' comprised the delegation. They represented that it would be inadvisable to make any change in the tariff, so far as the duties on wheat and flour were concerned. The point was also made that any reduction in the duties would minimize the prospects of securing a reciprocity treaty with the United States. This contention, however, was not a unanimous one, some of the delegates being averse to going cap in hand to the United States.

The deputation also saw Sir Henry Joly respecting the mixing of grain. They claim that so long as the Government permits second wheat to be mixed with No. 2 hard the mixing should take place at Fort William, so that an Ontario purchaser of even a single car would get a fair average. At present when 10,000 bushels of No. 2 hard are shot into a vessel and other ten thousand bushels of second put on top, if this is elevated at Owen Sound or other ports the purchaser does not get a fair average of mixture.

The Federal Labor Union of Sault Ste. Marie, through Mr. Dyment, M.P., petition Parliament for legislation placing Canadian workmen on a footing similar to the Americans under the alien labor law. The petition points out that Canadians at the Soo and other border towns are brought into direct and unfair competition with American labor, while the United States workingmen are protected against competition with Canadians, thereby inflicting a manifest injustice on Canadian labor.

Sir Adolphe Caron will ask if the Government purposes changing the policy of establishing a twenty-knot steamship service between Britain and Canada and substituting those for an 18-knot service.

Lord Russell of Killowen and his party will arrive here on Saturday and remain until Tuesday. The Chief Justice has been invited to accept a banquet to be tendered him by the Government at the Rideau Club on Monday evening, to which all Privy Councillors and legal members of the House on both sides will be invited. About 100 guests will be present.

The attention of Sir Charles Tupper was to-night called to the latest outbreak of F. W. Glen. Sir Charles considers it tantamount to a back-down on Mr. Glen's part. If that gentleman is in earnest and will put up $25,000 in the Bank of Montreal, Sir Charles will immediately cover it and enter action against Glen in the courts.

A telegram was received from Mr. Robert Birmingham to-day saying that the statement that he is to resign the position of Conservative organizer is untrue. The news of Mr. Birmingham's ill-health was received here with regret and his friends trust that he will soon be fully restored again.

E. A. Wills, secretary of the Toronto Board of Trade, was in town to-day.

Hon. William Paterson, Controller of Customs, arrived this morning from Owen Sound. He got a big reception on reaching the Liberal headquarters at the House of Commons. Mr. Paterson will not be introduced until next week.

Hon. A. G. Blair, Minister of Railways, is expected to arrive to-morrow.

Mr. Casgrain will ask if the Government is aware that the cruiser Aberdeen was placed at the disposal of the leader of the Opposition in the Quebec Legislature and Mr. Deschene, M.L.A., during the present month to convey them to the Magadalen Islands.

Mr. McInnes will enquire if the Government is aware that Chief Justice Davie was engaged in canvassing during the late election. If so, does the Government intend to enquire into the matter?

Sir Charles and Lady Tupper left for Toronto to-night.

Sir Frank Smith arrived this morning.

The formal motion appointing Mr. Brodeur Deputy Speaker of the Commons was passed to-night.

C. M. B. A. DELEGATES ARE OFF FOR HOME

THE CONVENTION ADJOURNED ON THURSDAY.

Quebec Will be the Next Place of Meeting — Peterborough Was Also Proposed, as Well as a Number of Other Places—The Officers.

When the C.M.B.A. convention resumed business Wednesday afternoon a show of hands was taken and "Old Quebec, with its historic surroundings and scenic grandeur," as a delegate put it, was chosen by a large majority as the next place of meeting.

The report of the grand solicitor, Mr. Frank Latchford, was adopted as read.

Mr. Latchford was happy to report that all legal business arising out of payment to policy holders has not resulted during the last term in the loss of a single dollar. With the exception of a single case the $290,000 paid during the last two years has been paid without a complaint. Several cases of minor litigation were reported in length and the solicitor closes by saying:—

"Unless the salary is made to bear something like a fair ratio to the value of the work to be performed, I shall, if the appointment is again tendered to me, decline to act as solicitor for the association."

On motion the question of salary for the future was left with the trustees and grand president, they having the most to do with him and in the best position to know the proper remuneration.

CLOSING SESSION.

The scene in the opera house at the closing session was decidedly animated and there was lots of fun. A bevy of ladies in the gallery, and a general feeling of "its nearly going home time" contributed to make the delegates feel gay and song and joke interspersed the proceedings. The business of the session was the election of officers and after roll call and a few words of earnest exhortation from the retiring president to select the best possible men for office, the nominations commenced.

For president, Mr. Bernard O'Connel of Dublin, Ont., nominated the Hon. M. F. Hackett of Stanstead, P.Q., in a speech eloquent and witty. Mr. Hackett's name was received with tremendous applause, and there being no other nomination he was declared elected. His appearance upon the platform to acknowledge the honour was the occasion for another demonstration. The delegates went wild with enthusiasm, jumping upon the seats, waving umbrellas and hats. It looked like a political demonstration. Mr. Hackett thanked the convention in one of the most eloquent speeches that has ever been listened to in the Ottawa opera house.

For first vice-president there was a contest, Rev. Father Burke, of Prince Edward Island, and Dr. Belliveau, of Shediac, N. B., being nominated. Ballots were distributed, when it was found that Dr. Belliveau received 150 and Father Burke 100 votes.

For second vice-president there were nominations galore. Those nominations were J. B. Murphy, of Halifax; Bernard O'Connell, of Dublin; Rev. Father Burke and Thomas McDonald, of Morrisburg. Others were nominated but withdrew. Contrary to expectations the first ballot decided the result, Mr Bernard O'Connell having 123 votes, three more than were necessary to elect.

For grand secretary there was only one nomination, as everyone expected, Grand Chancellor McCabe nominated Mr. S. R. Brown, of London, and "carried" came from every voice. The C.M.B.A. knows a good secretary when they have one, and Mr. Brown will rule for another two years.

"The assistant secretary has cast a ballot and I find that Mr. Brown has a majority," said Grand President Fraser, and the crowd yelled with delight.

Mr. McKee, M. P. P., of Windsor, was re-elected grand treasurer with a sweep, and the convention then proceeded to elect two trustees for a term of four years. There was a lengthy nomination list but on the first ballot Mr. O'Keefe of the St. John, N.B., was re-elected and the next ballot Mr. P. J. Rooney was similarly honoured.

The other committees were re-elected.

Votes of thanks were accorded Their Excellencies the Earl and Countess of Aberdeen, the mayor and corporation, the local committee, the press, the ladies, and the retiring president, O. K. Fraser, after which the installation of the officers took place, and the convention adjourned to meet at Quebec, August, 1898.

THE OFFICERS.

The newly installed board of trustees and officers convened at the Russel House at noon to day and appointed the non-elective officers. The list as completed is as follows:

Grand Spiritual Adviser—Archbishop Walsh, Toronto.
Grand Chancellor—O K Fraser, Brockville.
President—Hon. M. F. Hackett, Stanstead.
First Vice-President—Dr. Belliveau, Shediac, N.B.
Second Vice President—B. O'Connell, Dublin, Ont.
Grand Secretary—S. R. Brown, London.
Assistant Secretary—J. E. H. Howison, London.
Grand Treasurer—Mr. McKee, M.P.P., Windsor.
Grand Marshall—P. J. Montreuil, Levis, Que.
Grand Guard—J. J. Weinert, Neustadt, Ont.
Trustees—Rev. T. Tiernan, of London, W. P. Killackey, of Chatham, J. J. O'Keefe, of St. John, N. B., P. J. Rooney, of Toronto.
Committee on Laws and Supervision—T. P. Coffee, of Guelph, Judge Roleau, of Calgary, N. W. T., J. L. Carleton, of St. John, N. B.
Committee on Finance and Mileage—John Ronan, of Hamilton, Geo. W. Cooke, of Amherst, N. S., C. D. Hebert, of Three Rivers.
Grand Medical Supervisor—Dr. Ryan, of Kingston.
Grand Solicitor—F. R. Latchford, of Ottawa.

The reply to the cablegram sent His Holiness Leo XIII. was received last evening and was communicated to the convention by Rev. Father Burke. It read:

"The Most Holy Father lovingly imparts the blessing asked for."

CARDINAL RAMPOLIO.

Mr. Bernard O'Connell proposed a vote of thanks to the ladies for gracing the proceedings with their presence. Mr. O'Connell delivered a characteristic speech full of fun. He said the elderly Ottawa ladies have a "Cupids dart in every wrinkle," and the younger ladies have "Most ravishing beauty." He also added that he wasn't given to flattery. Mr. Cooke seconded the motion and it was carried, the delegates rising and singing "For they are Jolly Good Fellows." All this took place when the ballots were being counted.

THE CONSERVATIVE LEADERSHIP.

Nothing could more forcibly demonstrate the lack of available ability in the Conservative party than the selection of Sir Charles Tupper as leader. At a caucus of the party held at Ottawa yesterday afternoon, the baronet was selected to lead the forces of Conservatives. It is to be inferred that the choice was not a voluntary one, and that Sir Charles may have forced himself on the party on this occasion as he did early in the year. But we have no fault to find with the selection from a party point of view. Even with a badly demoralized Opposition, a leader of tact, and acceptable to the party by voluntary choice, might make that Opposition more formidable and much more to be dreaded than it is likely to be under its new-old leadership. The present debate on the address indicates that the Opposition cannot, under the impulse of the "master mind," rise above the level of pea-nut politics—petty and puerile carping takes the place of statesmanlike criticism. One would have thought that the experience of the recent general elections under Sir Charles' leadership would have taught them wisdom; but it apparently did not, and their course illustrates the force of the classic saying—"Whom the gods would destroy they first make mad," and the unmethodic madness of the party is shown in its selection of a leader. As before remarked, the choice was, perhaps, involuntary, Sir Charles being evidently a pis aller. Hon. Clarke Wallace and Hugh John Macdonald were sent out for a trial trip to the bye-election field in North Gray, to see how they could qualify for the leadership by engineering a successful campaign and Hon. George Eulas Foster was despatched to Queens and Sunbury for a like purpose. But all came back discredited, having made as bad a muddle in proportion to their opportunities as Sir Charles had done with the general elections. Therefore the party evidently preferred to bear the ills they have than fly to others that they know not of—so Sir Charles was retained as leader. With two veterans who lag superfluous on the stage, like Sir Mackenzie Bowell leading the party in the Senate and Sir Charles in the Commons, the Liberal party will hardly have sufficient fighting to keep their hand in.

ABERDEEN AND THE C. M. B. A.

The Irish people have much to thank Lord Aberdeen for. His kindly interest in that chivalric race has won him not only their esteem and respect but their love. Therefore the thoughtful kindness of Lord and Lady Aberdeen towards the C.M.B.A. delegates on Wednesday, while thoroughly appreciated, was no surprise except in the form it took, for the Irish have only kindness to expect from the popular Governor-General. On Wednesday with their accustomed thoughtful kindness their Excellencies invited the members of the C.M.B.A., who were in convention at Ottawa, to a garden party at Rideau Hall, a gracious act which was one of the most pleasant incidents of their visit. During his vice-royalty of Ireland under Mr. Gladstone, Lord Aberdeen won golden opinions from the Irish people and showed, both he and Lady Aberdeen, the thoughtful tact and interest in the welfare of the people that have distinguished them subsequently in all their official relations. Had statesmen of the calibre, broadness and sense of justice of Lord Aberdeen had the guiding of the destinies of Ireland for the past half century, the Irish question would have been answered long ago.

With the Sweetness of Melting Foam Fragrant Ivorine for the teeth dissolves in the mouth. A delightful preparation for the teeth is Ivorine, so fragrant and cleansing, so pleasant to the taste, and efficient beyond the desire of the most exacting. A dream of elegance and efficiency, for it whitens and purifies, affording brilliantly white teeth and breath as sweet and fragrant as that of the flowers.

LAKEFIELD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. J. C. Sherin spent a few days at Stony Lake with his daughter, Mrs. Henderson.

The Golden City went up to Bobcaygeon on Friday and brought down the agents of the Sun Life Insurance Co., who had been holding their annual meeting at Bobcaygeon. They appeared a jolly crowd while passing through the village and waiting for the train.

The Golden City is meeting the noon train this week. Next week she will meet the morning train.

A handsome sign 20x25 feet has been painted on the north wall of R. Graham & Sons store, by C. H. Hutchings, of Toronto, advertising Appleton's Tea, of which R. Graham & Son have received the agency. Call and they will give you a sample package free.

The earth cutting on the canal is rapidly drawing to a close. The village authorities are getting the streets in the immediate neighbourhood well graded with the gravel and hard pan out of the bottom of the canal. The yards in the vicinity are being levelled up. Mr. J. H. Davis has built a dry stone wall on his lot near the bridge and is having it filled in with earth. Mr. Davis has taken down his blacksmith shop and will rebuild on the north side of Bridge street at the west end of the bridge. It is expected that blasting will commence on this cut about the 15th of September, a large gang will be put on and heavy blasting done.

RUNAWAY.

On Tuesday afternoon of last week, while Mr. E. R. Tate, accompanied by Mr. R. H. Strickland, was driving up Queen street, the horse took fright and became unmanageable, and when opposite the town hall the occupants were thrown out and the horse and rig parted company in front of the bank. The horse was stopped before it had gone far, none the worse for its run, but the buggy was broken up considerably and the occupants shaken up. The horse was a new one and had only been in Mr. Tate's possession for a short time.

THE FALL EXHIBITION.

The annual fall exhibition of the townships of Smith and Ennismore and village of Lakefield, on Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 16th and 17th. The prize lists are out and include a number of special events. The lists can be obtained from the secretary, Mr. W. Sherin, or at the News office.

Nervous Prostration

Is a deplorable condition of body, to which the mind to some degree responds; the sufferer becomes a victim to a legion of disagreeable sensations, arising from the impairment or exhaustion of nerve or vital force. Sleeplessness, too, comes to rob the sufferer of nature's sweetest solace and restorer, and a disorded digestive function contributes its quota to the already full cup of misery. Cure is possible in one way only—the nervous system must be strengthened; the digestive and assimilative function must be restored.

Maltine with Coca Wine, more than any preparation known to medical science, combines the two essentials required in these cases. Maltine with Coca Wine possesses tonic properties that are directed in a very special way to the nerve centres, giving them tone, vigor and the staying power so much needed, while just as efficaciously does it aid and strengthen all the processes of digestion. Thus we have the production of all the elements of adequate nutrition, which, inevitably, is certain to give health, strength and vigor. Maltine with Coca Wine is sold by all druggists.

APSLEY.

Crown Lands Department.

For the convenience of settlers in Burleigh, Anstruther and Chandos, Mr. T. G. Eastland, postmaster at Apsley, has been appointed by the Ontario Government a commissioner for taking affidavits in connection with the location of Crown lands, and also in connection with timber sold by jobbers. These affidavits are forwarded to Mr. J. B. McWilliams, the Peterborough agent, and thereby the delay of waiting for his regular official visits to these townships is avoided.

CURE OF DROPSY.

Only a Positive Symptom—Not a Disease of Itself—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Campbellford, (Special) Aug. 17.—An unlooked for and remarkable recovery from advanced stage of dropsy is just made public here. It is the case of Mrs. John Weese, wife of the widely known veteran stage proprietor, whose life for months, had been despaired of. From the accumulated water peculiar to this disease she became so helpless as to be unable to drag one foot after the other. She now appears on the street and says she is as well as ever in her life. She claims that after all other means had failed she thanks Dodd's Kidney Pills for her unexpected cure.

The best cough cure is Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. It heals the lungs and cures coughs and colds.

TOUGH CLOTHES FOR THE BOYS.

Young Canada Begins Another Six Months' Schooling.

Tough clothes for boys to wear to school this Fall and Winter. That's the burden of our song. Strong clothes to stand the wear and tear of play, rough but healthy. Strong clothes to stand the work of out of doors fun in cold weather. We have just such things for the youngsters and, besides being full of wear, they are neat and shapely.

Did the last suit of clothes you bought for your boy from us, wear as well as it ought to hav worn, considering the price paid? If it did you should go to the same store for the next suit. You ge your money's worth. We deserve your patronage. We'll do better by you and by the boy than any other clothier.

5 CASES OF BOYS' NEW SUITS

These are only the advance guard of our Fall stock, for the boys. These are TWO and THREE piece Suits, and will fit boys all the way from 3 to 16 years. We sell the best of everything to keep in the heat, and keep out the cold for boys. We were boys ourselves, once,—it seems an awful long time ago.

We've all good qualities of Boys' Clothing. We've—probably—more Boys' Clothing in our store than in all the other stores put together. We've a weakness for supplying the boys. Ask yours if this isn't so?

Some idea we may give you of the value and inducement we purpose giving to buyers, when we say will buy a beautiful, heavy, all wool, neatly made, well trimmed, and built of Auburn Mills Tweed Suit.

A $2.00 BILL

Of course we've cheaper Suits, and as low as 95c per suit. Better Suits up to $3.00 and $4.00, but

OUR $2.00 SUIT IS A CORKER.

Just the thing for a boy's school Suit, and as good as ever sold for $3.50.

Mothers should see these Suits. You know value. You know your boy's clothes-wrecking propensities.

Come to us. We're full of economical suggestions. No matter what your money is, we'll help you to make it go as far as it can. Come! The verdict is nearly always in our favour. It isn't often that the careful buyer decides against us.

"TOUGH CLOTHES FOR THE BOYS" That's our Motto.

GRENADIERS WON THE GZOWSKI CUP

Sergt. D. Mitchell of the 13th Tops the Aggregate and Carries of the Elkington Cup With the N.R.A. Silver Medal - The Meeting Closed.

Toronto, Aug. 28.

The O.R.A. rifle matches were concluded yesterday. The weather continued decidedly unfavorable, the afternoon being especially dark and gloomy, and the rain falling in intermittent showers. A number of visitors, among whom were a few ladies, came out to the ranges at 2 o'clock. The band of the 48th Highlanders came with the visitors, and rendered many of their choicest selections. Ald. Lamb attended as a substitute for the Mayor and representative of the city, and when the shooting was concluded presented the winners with the various handsome trophies. The scoring resulted as follows:

A C. P. R. CONDUCTOR.

After Two Years' Misery was Cured by Ten Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Prescott, (Special) Aug. 24.—For a long time much sympathy had been felt and expressed for Mr. Wm. Freeman, a very popular conductor of the C.P.R., who had been rendered unfit for duty the past few years by a peculiar and distressing form of kidney disease. It now transpires, much to the delight of his friends, that he has been enabled to resume his regular trips. He claims, as the results of using only ten boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, that he has entirely recovered, and that he never felt better in his life, and believes that these Pills have cured him to stay cured.

Live Up to Your Privileges.

If we read of some new fabric made in some foreign country which gave protection from cold, providing a healthful warmth in all sorts of weather, we would consider it wonderful and be envious of the people who could take advantage of it. But because Fibre Chamois is quite inexpensive and easy to get, perhaps some have not yet tested its merits and found out for themselves the splendid winter comfort a layer of it will impart to all outdoor garments. Its weatherproof qualities are genuine, founded on the fact that it is made entirely from the Spruce Fibre, and is therefore a complete non-conductor of cold. This, as well as its light weight, makes it an ideal addition to everyone's fall and winter clothing.

THE INDUCTION OF ST. ANDREW'S PASTOR.

SOLEMN CEREMONY IN THE CHURCH YESTERDAY.

A Large Congregation in Attendance—A Sermon and Two Addresses—A Reception in the Evening.

The solemn service attendant upon the induction of a pastor in the Presbyterian church was observed yesterday afternoon at St. Andrew's, when Rev. J. G. Potter was formally placed in charge of that congregation.

The opening exercises were conducted by Rev. Mr. McEwen, of Toronto, formerly of Lakefield.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. Mr. Laird of Campbellford, whose fine delivery is of a quality which will prevent Campbellford from being able to keep him much longer. His exposition on "Love" was perhaps as fine as anything which has been heard in St. Andrew's for years. He spoke from St. John xiii, 35th verse: "By this shall all men knew that ye are my disciples, if ye love one another."

The speaker advanced the opinion that it were better to have never born than to know the truth and the truth did not set one free. He queried as to whether we were known to-day by the which we lead? Unless this were the case, he argued that we could not claim to be free, as the holiest of injunctions was that pertaining to the love which should be borne one to another.

Men, he stated, were beginning to cry out against the hard and fast conditions of creeds, and asked for a simple faith, yet their actions did not substantiate their words. Love was the test and in their public life there was little evidence of it. No faith could be simpler. Love was the test in daily life. Love should be given in pure unselfishness—not for outward show but simply for the cause of the Master. Let us, said he, be known by the fruits of love, not by the shadows or dissemblances. There is so much in social life that is selfish that the moral life is being entirely too much influenced by it, continued the speaker. He besought his hearers to throw off the bondage of a social life and labour, not for the

and the praise of men but for the approval of the Almighty, "for by the fruits of love are ye able to crown life with the highest glory."

Our supreme need to-day is for the advent of men with penetrating minds and hearts of love to lead the vanguard and who will daily give their service to those around them.

You come to-day, said Mr. Laird to the congregation, to a new starting point in church life. Your foundation is one of love—it is Jesus Christ. The ties which will bind you to your new pastor are those of love. Love is his mission and his warrant. Love ye also him and be true and loyal. Grasp clearly the meaning of this principle in relation to our love. A pure foundation of affection must spring up from the heart. You must learn to love if you will grasp this greatest principle of all. Remember the three virtues, Faith, Hope and Love and remember that the greatest of these is Love.

AT THE CONCLUSION

of the sermon Rev. Wm. Bennett briefly related to the congregation the circumstances connected with the call which had been extended to Rev. Mr. Potter, after which the new pastor was required to answer a number of questions respecting the soundness of his belief in the principles of Presbyterianism.

A number of the pastors of the Presbytery who were present were then introduced to Mr. Potter, after which Rev. J. E. Somerville, of Norwood, addressed him taking for the subject of his remarks the first four verses of the tenth chapter of St. John's epistle as appended:

Verily, verily, I say unto you, "He that entereth not by the door into the sheep-fold, but climbeth up some other way, the same is a thief and a robber.

But he that entereth in by the door is the shepherd of the sheep.

To him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice; and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out.

And when he putteth forth his own sheep, he goeth before them, and the sheep follow him; for they know his voice.

This beautiful allegorical suggestion of an oriental pastoral scene, Mr. Somerville thought, was a most fitting description of a model pastor, and could also be applied to

A MODEL CONGREGATION.

The true pastor, he pointed out, was one who entered in by the door. There was only one way by which one life can enter another: only one way into the human heart and that is through the door of love manifested in self sacrifice. Other ways had been tried, such as the preaching of sensational sermons, etc. These methods frequently caused the church to be filled with people and the treasury filled with money, but after all if a man is not influencing his congregation by love he is not doing his people any vital practical good. If you are ever to enter into the life of a church or of a member for good you will have to do it by love. This is the door, the only door—love manifested in self sacrificed.

Love is a great regulator and the speaker prophesied that the day would come when a Presbytery would not propound to applicants questions of theology, but simply ask concerning the love of God.

A TRUE PASTOR

has an intimate knowledge of all his people. As with the shepherd, he should call them all by name, know all their temptations, sorrows and joys. The true work of the good pastor is one who goes amongst his congregation, into their houses and sometimes to their places of business, in fact anywhere where he is in contact with them, but he shouldn't be a loaf and go loafing around stores and factories until people think that all he has to do is a little work on Sundays.

The speaker impressed on the new pastor the necessity of being the hardest worked man in the congregation.

The true pastor must be a source of inspiration. He will go to one in sympathy and lead them out of doubt and dissatisfaction into the bright light of hope.

PARTY POLITICS

was a thing which Mr. Somerville thought no minister was fool enough to drag into the pulpit, though he had a contempt for a man who was afraid to speak on the public questions of the day in the fear of offending some of his congregation.

One difficulty for a pastor to combat was the feeling in some of the older members against advancing with the world and speaking on present day topics. He thought what the church most needed to day was a pastor throbbing with the life and blood of the nineteenth century.

Rev. D. A. Thompson was then called upon by Rev. Mr. Bennett to address

THE CONGREGATION.

He opened with a strong appeal to the members to be a help to their pastor. Their duty was to uphold their pastors hands, as those of Moses were upheld in the days of old. Do it first, said he, by prayer, as it is prayer which moves the universe. Jesus Christ cannot do without it. No victory can be gained without the power of God, and this can only be secured through prayer. Therefore uphold your pastor's hands through prayer.

Uphold his hands by identifying yourselves with him in the work. Do not stand aloof. Let him think of you as co-workers in the vineyard of Christ.

Some of you will say it is the minister's work to look after souls, but if not for the minister's sake then for Christ's sake turn to and help your pastor.

WHEN YOU GO HOME

from church do not begin to find fault with the sermon. It will be noticed by your children and they will soon lose all respect for the pastor. Extend all your sympathy to the minister. There is a great power in sympathy. Often the pastor will need an encouraging word. He has his times of despair, when you can uphold his hands by a word of sympathy. If your minister is to be successful in winning souls give him a word of cheer at times.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Wm. Bennett and several of the elders took their place at the door with Rev. Mr. Potter and introduced the individual members of the congregation as they passed out.

IN THE EVENING

tea was served by the ladies of the church, and almost the entire congregation was present, as well as a great many outsiders, who took occasion to evidence their good will by their presence and encouraging words to the new pastor. During the evening addresses were delivered by Rev. J. J. Rae, of the Charlotte street Methodist church; Rev. Mr. Grant, of the Baptist church; Rev. Mr. Beer, of the Ashburnham Methodist church; Rev. Mr. Cragg, Rev. D. A. Thompson, Rev. Mr. Laird and Rev. Mr. Tully. An interesting musical programme was also provided, the numbers of which being interspersed between the addresses pleasantly enlivened the evening. Those contributing were Miss Grant, Miss Maud, Miss Fox, Miss Weddel and Mr. Mulligan. The choir also sang several selections.

THE ONTARIO CABINET VACANCY

Press Opinions on the Subject of Eastern Ontario Representation.

Ottawa Journal (Independent Conservative.)

While it is not the special province of this journal to keep the Ontario Government in order, yet we may suggest that an opportunity now presents itself for minimising if not removing the disparity of territorial representation in the cabinet which involves an injustice to this, which we might consider, the most important end of Ontario. By the somewhat sudden taking off of the Hon. Mr. Balfour, the portfolio of provincial secretary is again at the Hon. Mr. Hardy's disposal, and we feel that we are within the mark when we suggest that he could not do a fairer or more graceful thing than assign the portfolio now vacant to some representative member of the Legislature for Eastern Ontario. Ottawa cannot complain very much; we have Hon. Mr. Bronson, but his business interests prevent him from taking more than an advisory part in the administration. The whole of Eastern Ontario feels that it is slighted by not having a greater representation in the Ontario Cabinet; and it may not be wise for the government to make a too great demand upon the loyalty of its large list of supporters in the east as implied in cavalierly, as was done last July, passing over their claims to a place in the cabinet.

Kingston Whig.

While the reconstruction of the Ontario cabinet, following the retirement of Sir Oliver Mowat, was in progress, the Whig emphasized the claims of the eastern portion of the province to increased representation, more in proportion to its importance and in accordance with the principle of fair dealing. It goes without saying that so long as in federal and provincial government, the representation of special sections is recognised in cabinet construction the claims of the eastern section of the province should not be ignored. On the ground of policy, other things being equal, the provincial secretary should be chosen from the east. On the grounds of support to the government it has no small claim. The contingent of government supporters, at one time very small, has been steadily growing and should be encouraged as much as public policy permits.

Port Hope Guide.

The lamented death of Hon. W. D. Balfour, Provincial Secretary, confronts Premier Hardy with the duty of selecting a successor. He should have no difficulty in deciding WHERE to look, even if he find some trouble in deciding for WHOM to look. He cannot, it seems to us, again afford to ignore the claims of the eastern portion of the province of Ontario to representation in the Provincial Cabinet. He did so in the general reconstruction following the retirement of Ontario's "grand old man," but he may to a certain extent have been committed to the course he then took; if so, that plea does not now exist. He should now, we think take a course that would remove the overshadowing influence the west has had in the administration of the affairs of the Province. The east is one of the great halves of Ontario and there is no reason why the centre and west should have the honour of supplying five-sevenths of the Cabinet. We would respectfully urge Hon. Mr. Hardy and his colleagues to equalize representation in the Cabinet to the extent of selecting his next Provincial Secretary from the members of this portion of the Province, and we know of no better man than J. R. Stratton, the representative of West Peterborough. Such a course would, we are sure, meet with the approval of both Liberals and Conservatives, while it would not be unpleasing to the people of the west, who, in all conscience, should be satisfied with the share of present and past Cabinet honours they have had and do now enjoy.

Fairweather & Co's Exhibition Exhibit

Peterborough will be well represented in one department at least at the Industrial Exhibition, Toronto. Messrs. Fairweather & Co. have a grand exhibit of furs in the space formerly occupied by Messrs. J. J. Lugsdin & Co., and the firm extends a cordial welcome to, especially, Peterborough visitors to the Fair to call and see the splendid exhibit a Peterborough firm makes. The enterprise and push of this firm as shown in various ways, is fast pushing it to the front in its special line.

A Good "Head."

Mr. James Head, head gardener at the Nicholls Hospital, in a double sense, had one specimen in his grounds too large to be transported to the exhibition yesterday. It is a phenomenally large plant, or rather tree, of the Ricinus (castor oil). This grand specimen stands in the middle of the main flower plot. It stands eight feet in height, and the width of the leaf is two feet nine inches and the main stem or trunk is six inches in circumference. Who can produce a castor oil plant to go ahead of Mr. Head's head specimen? He is to be congratulated upon his success in this, as in other departments of floral culture.

THE PROVINCIAL SECRETARY.

The Globe contains the announcement of the appointment of Hon. E. J. Davis as Provincial Secretary, in succession to the late Hon. W. D. Balfour.

WHAT DID IT?

A Flock of Valuable Brahama Chickens Destroyed.

This morning on going out into the yard Mr. Alf. Parker was horrified to find his entire flock of imported Brahamas lying mangled and dead on the grass. Each bird bears evidences of having been bitten and torn and the feathers are strewed around for scores of feet.

Various theories as to the nature of the animal which wrought the harm have been propounded. The birds, however, were too large and heavy to be dragged around by a weasel or mink and it is thought that a mischevious dog or a tame coon is responsible. A dog, however, would create such a disturbance in a hen coop as to make its presence known to anyone who happened to be in the neighbourhood. Moreover the manner in which the whole job was done strongly resembles the modus operandi of the coon and that it was the work of a coon Mr. Parker has no doubt.

The flock of six hens and a cock was highly prized and acknowledged to be one of the finest in the country. Mr. Parker was just getting them into nice shape for the fall exhibitions when they were destroyed.

Not one complaint has ever been made by those using Ayer's Sarsaparilla according to directions. Furthermore, we have yet to learn of a case in which it has failed to benefit. So say hundreds of druggists all over the country. Has cured others, will cure you.

AN IMPERATIVE SACRIFICE

TO GET RID OF

OVERSTOCKS.

It's a pressing, urgent necessity, to get rid of the surplus Goods. The Big Store's remarkably Low Prices last week helped us to dispose of a large quantity of merchandise despite the hot spell, but a great many departments are still flooded with goods, which must be disposed of and at once. Remember prices are dragged down here in every department to make this sale mean something to you. We cut prices to make it an object and benefit for you to buy your goods now, whether you need them or not. Grand values that it would be impossible to give under ordinary conditions. We must unload and here are bargains that will make you eager to help us:—

ANNUAL EXHIBITION FLOWERS AND FRUIT

THE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY'S ANNUAL SUCCESS.

A Fine Floral Display — Large Increase of Entries — Effects of the Dry Weather—Fewer Exhibitors But a Larger Display.

Yesterday afternoon and last night the annual exhibition of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society was, in spite of untoward circumstances, a fair success. The attendance of visitors was not large but the display of flowers was quite up to the mark. Of course the absence of the display of fine arts and ladies' work, etc., owing to new government regulations governing the grant, made a perceptible difference, but the absence was pretty well made up by the fact of a larger number of entries for floral exhibits. In this department the number of entries was much greater, and considering the season the display was a fine one. The dry weather of the latter part of the summer was responsible for the absence of the collections of many successful floriculturists who had not the opportunity of using city water; as a consequence their flower borders and plots were a failure. But for this there is no doubt that the floral exhibition would have been the largest in the history of the society.

The hall presented a beautiful sight, with its brilliant masses of fragrant flowers of every hue, and many of the individual specimens were worthy of especial attention.

Among the chief exhibitors was Mr. J. H. Cobb, who always is largely in evidence in floral displays. He showed fine collections of begonias, carnations, cockscombe, caladiums (fancy leaved) dianthus, phloxes, gaillardias, out door vases, hanging baskets, collections of foliage plants, decorative plants, hanging basket, lawn vase, etc., etc. Mrs. Cobb exhibited four beautiful bouquets, two hand and two table bouquets, all of which won prizes. It is no small tribute to Mrs. Cobb's artistic skill in arrangement that against professional competition she won the red card for table bouquet, and against the same competitors second prize for a hand bouquet. A very commendable feature of Mrs. Cobb's love of flowers is the fact that that feeling is not a selfish one, her chief delight being in distributing the results of her skill in arrangements amongst her many friends. THE EXAMINER has to thank her for kindly and much appreciated remembrance in this regard.

Mr. Jas. Head, the genial and popular head gardener of the Nicholls Hospital grounds, also made a splendid exhibit, which comprised collections of single geraniums, double geraniums, hot house plants, cockscombs, coleus, several varieties of cut flowers, annuals, lawn, vase, etc., and quite a successful display of vegetables.

Mr. Percy Hamilton was as usual on hand with a very creditable display of collections of plants and cut flowers and among the smaller exhibitors were Mr. R. D. Hamilton, Mr. Jas. Long, Miss A. Kingan, Miss A. Mills, Miss Laura Davidson and Mr. John McClelland.

Messrs. Jordan Bros., florists, were on hand with a magnificent display and though as professionals they had the field to themselves, they deserve credit for their enterprise which added so greatly to the floral display of the evening. Their main exhibit was a pyramidal staging six feet broad and about fifty feet in length, which was a veritable mountain range of splendid plants and flowers, and a good index of the resources of their greenhouses.

The show of vegetables was not quite up to the mark, though some fine specimens were shown. There was a fairly good display of fruits, but in this as in the other departments the effect of dry weather was evident.

The judges performed their work promptly and so far as heard managed to give general satisfaction in the performance of their difficult work.

The press has to thank the secretary, Mr. A. H. Cobb, for appreciated favours.

During the evening the Fire Brigade Band was present and by their excellently performed selection added greatly to the interest of the evening. Following is the

RESULTS OF THE HIGH SCHOOL EXAMS.

PETERBOROUGH PUPILS WHO WERE SUCCESSFUL.

The Paper in Algebra Was Exceptionally Difficult and 20 per cent. Secured a Pass.

THE EXAMINER publishes to-day the results of the High School examinations for July, 1896:—

The marks made at the examination will not be furnished to candidates from the Education Department. Unsuccessful candidates may apply for their marks in about a week to the Principal of the High School or to the Inspector in the case of other centres. Candidates should observe the information regarding appeals which was given on their application form. In order to avoid unnecessary expense candidates are recommended to obtain the advice of the Principal after receiving their marks before making appeal.

On account of the objections to the paper in Algebra, 20 per cent., instead of 33 1-3 per cent. was accepted for pass. No candidate was rejected in Algebra, even on the reduced percentage, till after his standing in the other mathematical subjects was considered, together with his grading in the confidential report of the staff. More than the usual percentage of candidates was successful at the junior leaving examination.

County Boards of Examiners should observe that form or matriculation certificates give no right to attend county Model Schools, and that only those who have passed the primary, the junior leaving or the senior leaving examination, and who will be at least eighteen years of age before the end of the year, are eligible for admission to those institutions.

For 1897 all candidates, including those who have passed the primary examination, must comply with the requirements of the new curriculum, except those referred to in regulation 12 (I.) of circular 4. This regulation will enable any student who had the right to be a candidate in 1896 for a junior leaving or senior leaving certificate to be a candidate for that certificate in 1897 under the same special provisions. It will also enable anyone who was a candidate for a junior leaving certificate this year to be a candidate for a senior leaving certificate in 1897 under special provisions granted this year. It should be understood that after 1897 all candidates must comply with the new conditions as mentioned in regulation 10 of circular 4.

ELECTRIC LIGHT WIRES.

The EXAMINER has been requested to publish the following:

W. H. Meldrum, Esq., Peterborough:

DEAR SIR,—In reply to your enquiries as to the danger of running wires belonging to different electrical companies upon the same poles, I may say that I cannot imagine any possible danger any more than there would be in running the different wires of one company upon the same poles.

In this city there has been an amalgamation of all the electric light companies, since which all the old power houses are in operation, five of them, which is equivalent to five separate companies using the same poles, and we would think it very ridiculous if we were asked to separate them.

Yours very truly,

ANNUAL EXHIBITION FLOWERS AND FRUIT

THE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY'S ANNUAL SUCCESS.

A Fine Floral Display — Large Increase of Entries — Effects of the Dry Weather—Fewer Exhibitors But a Larger Display.

Yesterday afternoon and last night the annual exhibition of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society was, in spite of untoward circumstances, a fair success. The attendance of visitors was not large but the display of flowers was quite up to the mark. Of course the absence of the display of fine arts and ladies' work, etc., owing to new government regulations governing the grant, made a perceptible difference, but the absence was pretty well made up by the fact of a larger number of entries for floral exhibits. In this department the number of entries was much greater, and considering the season the display was a fine one. The dry weather of the latter part of the summer was responsible for the absence of the collections of many successful floriculturists who had not the opportunity of using city water; as a consequence their flower borders and plots were a failure. But for this there is no doubt that the floral exhibition would have been the largest in the history of the society.

The hall presented a beautiful sight, with its brilliant masses of fragrant flowers of every hue, and many of the individual specimens were worthy of especial attention.

Among the chief exhibitors was Mr. J. H. Cobb, who always is largely in evidence in floral displays. He showed fine collections of begonias, carnations, cockscombs, caladiums (fancy leaved) dianthus, phloxes, galliardias, cut door vases, hanging baskets, collections of foliage plants, decorative plants, hanging basket, lawn vase, etc., etc. Mrs. Cobb exhibited four beautiful bouquets, two hand and two table bouquets, all of which won prizes. It is no small tribute to Mrs. Cobb's artistic skill in arrangement that against professional competition she won the red card for table bouquet, and against the same competitors second prize for a hand bouquet. A very commendable feature of Mrs. Cobb's love of flowers is the fact that that feeling is not a selfish one, her chief delight being in distributing the results of her skill in arrangements amongst her many friends. THE EXAMINER has to thank her for kindly and much appreciated remembrance in this regard.

Mr. Jas. Head, the genial and popular head gardener of the Nicholls Hospital grounds, also made a splendid exhibit, which comprised collections of single geraniums, double geraniums, hot house plants, cockscombs, coleus, several varieties of cut flowers, annuals, lawn, vase, etc., and quite a successful display of vegetables.

Mr. Percy Hamilton was as usual on hand with a very creditable display of collections of plants and cut flowers and among the smaller exhibtors were Mr. R. D. Hamilton, Mr. Jas. Long, Miss A. Kingan, Miss A. Mills, Miss Laura Davidson and Mr. John McClelland.

Messrs. Jordan Bros., florists, were on hand with a magnificent display and though as professionals they had the field to themselves, they deserve credit for their enterprise which added so greatly to the floral display of the evening. Their main exhibit was a pyramidal staging six feet broad and about fifty feet in length, which was a veritable mountain range of splendid plants and flowers, and a good index of the resources of their greenhouses.

The show of vegetables was not quite up to the mark, though some fine specimens were shown. There was a fairly good display of fruits, but in this as in the other departments the effect of dry weather was evident.

The judges performed their work promptly and so far as heard managed to give general satisfaction in the performance of their difficult work.

The press has to thank the secretary, Mr. A. H. Cobb, for appreciated favours.

During the evening the Fire Brigade Band was present and by their excellently performed selection added greatly to the interest of the evening. Following is the

RESULTS OF THE HIGH SCHOOL EXAMS.

PETERBOROUGH PUPILS WHO WERE SUCCESSFUL.

The Paper in Algebra Was Exceptionally Difficult and 20 per cent. Secured a Pass.

THE EXAMINER publishes to-day the results of the High School examinations for July, 1896:—

The marks made at the examination will not be furnished to candidates from the Education Department. Unsuccessful candidates may apply for their marks in about a week to the Principal of the High School or to the Inspector in the case of other centres. Candidates should observe the information regarding appeals which was given on their application form. In order to avoid unnecessary expense candidates are recommended to obtain the advice of the Principal after receiving their marks before making appeal.

On account of the objections to the paper in Algebra, 20 per cent., instead of 33 1-3 per cent. was accepted for pass. No candidate was rejected in Algebra, even on the reduced percentage, till after his standing in the other mathematical subjects was considered, together with his grading in the confidential report of the staff. More than the usual percentage of candidates was successful at the junior leaving examination.

County Boards of Examiners should observe that form or matriculation certificates give no right to attend county Model Schools, and that only those who have passed the primary, the junior leaving or the senior leaving examination, and who will be at least eighteen years of age before the end of the year, are eligible for admission to those institutions.

For 1897 all candidates, including those who have passed the primary examination, must comply with the requirements of the new curriculum, except those referred to in regulation 12 (I.) of circular 4. This regulation will enable any student who had the right to be a candidate in 1896 for a junior leaving or senior leaving certificate to be a candidate for that certificate in 1897 under the same special provisions. It will also enable anyone who was a candidate for a junior leaving certificate this year to be a candidate for a senior leaving certificate in 1897 under special provisions granted this year. It should be understood that after 1897 all candidates must comply with the new conditions as mentioned in regulation 10 of circular 4.

ELECTRIC LIGHT WIRES.

The EXAMINER has been requested to publish the following:

W. H. Meldrum, Esq., Peterborough:

DEAR SIR,—In reply to your enquiries as to the danger of running wires belonging to different electrical companies upon the same poles, I may say that I cannot imagine any possible danger any more than there would be in running the different wires of one company upon the same poles.

In this city there has been an amalgamation of all the electric light companies, since which all the old power houses are in operation, five of them, which is equivalent to five separate companies using the same poles, and we would think it very ridiculous if we were asked to separate them.

Yours very truly,
A. A. DION,
Genl. Supt.
The Ottawa Electric Co.

You cannot say that you have tried everything for your rheumatism, until you have taken Ayer's Pills. Hundreds have been cured of this complaint by the use of these Pills alone. They were admitted on exhibition at the World's Fair as a standard cathartic.

The man who stands idly by and sees the life fading out of his wife's face, sees her health going, sees her becoming old and faded and wrinkled when she should still be in the perfect enjoyment of vigorous, useful health, is either less than a man or else does not know of the one remedy which will bring her back to health and strength. Most women do not understand their own bodies, or the things that make them well or sick. The most frequent cause of sickness in women is the cause last looked for. A women will go to a doctor when she has a severe cold, or some acute digestive disturbance, but she hesitates and procrastinates when the trouble is with the distinctly feminine organism. And yet the latter is infinitely more serious. It is the most serious sickness that any woman can have. It is the most dreadful—the most dangerous. Its consequences are always serious, and serious right at the beginning because it is debilitating. It saps the life and strength and works on the nerves to such an extent that the whole body is disturbed. Appetite leaves, the color goes from the face and hollows sink into the cheeks. Irritability succeeds good temper and fretfulness takes the place of contentment. Little by little life becomes more and more miserable. The woman is killing herself with neglect just as surely as if she were taking deadly poison. Perhaps her husband cannot persuade her to go to her doctor, because she naturally dreads the inevitable examinations and "local treatments." He can persuade her, if she needs persuasion, to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This truly wonderful medicine has cured hundreds of women after the best physicians have failed. It has been in constant use and tested every day for 30 years. It isn't an experiment, there are no chances about it. It is a certain and infallible cure for all derangements peculiar to women. Those who care to know all about it, and to receive the best medical work ever prepared for the general public are invited to send 31 one-cent stamps to cover customs and mailing only and receive a copy of Dr. Pierce's 1008 page book, "Common Sense Medical Adviser." BUTTER MAKING.

The Revised Rules of the Royal Agricultural Society of England.

Simple rules for butter making have been issued in a revised form by the Royal Agricultural Society of England, and are printed as follows in our English contemporaries. They are put in the following forcible manner:

Prepare churn, butter worker, wooden hands and sieve as follows: (1) Rinse with cold water; (2) scald with boiling water; (3) rub thoroughly with salt; (4) rinse with cold water.

Always use a correct thermometer. The cream when in the churn to be at a temperature of 56 degrees to 58 degrees in summer and 60 degrees to 62 degrees in winter. The churn should never be more than half full. Churn at number of revolutions suggested by maker of churn. If none are given, churn at forty to forty-five revolutions per minute. Always churn slowly at first.

Ventilate the churn freely and frequently during churning, until no air rushes out when the vent is opened.

Stop churning immediately the butter comes. This can be ascertained by the sound; if in doubt, look.

The butter should now be like grains of mustard seed. Pour in a small quantity of cold water (1 pint to 2 quarts cream) to harden the grains, and give a few more turns to the churn, gently. Draw off the buttermilk, giving plenty of time for draining. Use a straining cloth placed over a hair sieve, so as to prevent any loss, and wash the butter in the churn with plenty of cold water; then draw off the water, and repeat the process until the water comes off quite clear.

To brine butter, make a strong brine, 2 or 3 pounds of salt to 1 gallon of water. Place straining cloth over mouth of churn, pour in brine, put lid on churn, turn sharply half a dozen times, and leave from ten to fifteen minutes. Then lift the butter out of churn into sieve, turn butter out on worker, leave it a few minutes to drain and work gently till all superfluous moisture is pressed out.

To dry salt butter, place butter on worker, let it drain ten to fifteen minutes, then work gently till all the butter comes together. Place it on the scales and weigh; then weigh salt; for slight salting, 1-4 ounce; medium, 1-2 ounce; heavy salting, 3-4 ounce to the pound of butter. Roll butter out on worker and carefully sprinkle salt over the surface, a little at a time; roll up and repeat till all the salt is used.

N. B.—Never touch the butter with your hands.

Mrs. Liscumbe Makes a Statement for the Benefit of Others.

Mrs. Liscumbe is well known in Havelock and this is how she spoke to our representative :—

"I have been troubled for some time with severe pains in the side and back. I took many medicines of various kinds, but got no relief.

"The box of Doan's Kidney Pills which I got at W. H. Jeff & Co's. drugstore gave me wonderful relief from the start. The improvement in my general health is not the least of the benefits which I have derived from the use of this remarkable kidney remeny.

"I can recommend them very highly to anyone troubled with any form of kidney disease."

VINEGARS FOR FLAVORING.

Easily Made at Home, and Now Is the Time to Do It.

Now and in succeeding weeks is the time to lay in store a supply of vinegars for winter and early spring. These vinegars impart to meats, sauces and salads flavors which give one the impression that he has partaken of a new dish.

Mint Vinegar.—Put loosely into a wide-mouthed bottle spearmint or peppermint leaves which have been washed and drained dry. Fill the bottle with good cider vinegar; at the end of a month strain, bottle and seal.

Horseradish.—Pour a quart of boiling hot vinegar over six tablespoonfuls of grated horseradish, and immediately add a tablespoonful of granulated sugar. Let stand a week, or longer if more convenient, then squeeze the radish pulp lightly, add the vinegar, strain, and return to the bottle after rinsing and draining it. Cover the cork with wax.

Nasturtium.—Fill a can or bottle with nasturtium blossoms and green seeds, and cover with vinegar. In a month it will be ready for use.

Green Pepper.—Put whole green peppers into a quart can or bottle, let stand a month covered with cold vinegar, then strain and bottle. This is a mild, but excellent seasoning for soups and sauces.

Chili or Cayenne.—Use for this chilies, a variety of cayenne bearing very small red pods when ripe. Let 40 or 50 of these tiny pods stand in vinegar a month. It was found upon the home table when I was a child in this way: The ends of the quill part of a goose feather were cut off, one end passed through the cork of the bottle, the other end closed with a tight-fitting plug of soft wood. We had only to remove the plug, invert the bottle give it a gentle shake, and a drop or two of the contents would season a plate of food.

Peach.—Crack a pint of peach stones, throw the kernels into boiling water; when cold remove the skins by rubbing with a cloth, put the kernels in a bottle and pour over cold vinegar.

Spiced Vinegar.—This is a favorite with many. Mix and tie in several small thin bags an ounce each of whole allspice, cloves, mace, pepper, ground mustard, white ginger root cut in thin slices and celery used. Put these bags into a gallon and a half of vinegar in which has been dissolved three pounds of brown sugar. Tie up closely. This vinegar is usable in a few days, but is more spicy after standing three or four weeks.

Tarragon.—Just before the stalks blossom, gather and twist them to bruise the leaves. For each gallon of vinegar use what can be conveniently gathered in the hand six or eight times. Cork closely, and do not open for at least two months. This is a superior sauce for roast beef or pork.

Elder Flower.—Steep the buds in white vinegar, strain and store in colored glass, or keep in the dark. Another method is to add half a peck of buds to a gallon of vinegar. At the end of two weeks press the liquor from the buds, and return it to the jar. When the whole ferments, strain through flannel, add a little dissolved gelatine and it is ready to be bottled. It has a very delicate flavor. To be served with meat or fish.

Garlic.—Over a few bruised garlics pour a quart of vinegar. In two or three weeks it is ready for the table. Two or three drops will flavor a salad or a large bowlful of gravy. Half this quantity will suffice a small family for a year.

Walnut vinegar I have never made, but will give the formula as adding another variety to the housewife's stores. Cover green walnut shells ten days with brine that will float an egg; then put them in a jar and pour over boiling vinegar. In ten days reheat the vinegar, and return it to the jar. Will be ready for use in a month.

Ripe gooseberries make a vinegar which epicures consider superior to white wine vinegar. Crush the fruit, to each quart add three pints of warm soft water, let stand a week, strain, and to the liquor, for each pint, add a pound of coarse brown sugar. Set behind the kitchen stove, and in two or three months it will be fine vinegar. —Sarah E. Wilcox, in Country Gentleman.

ONE HONEST MAN.

DEAR EDITOR :—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially will mail, in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak, shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness, I promise you perfect secrecy and as I do not wish to expose myself either, please address, simply : P. Light in Asia—It Shines Clearly.

MESSRS. T. MILBURN & Co., TORONTO :

Dear Sirs,—There is light in Asia after all and the man that advised me to try your Heart and Nerve Pills was a friend indeed and truly a friend in need. Before I started to take them I was languid, weak, sleepless and nervous. My brain was beclouded and I could not collect my thoughts, I had gone through an operation in the hope of relief, but still remained generally broken up, my appetite was gone and I was almost without hope or ambition.

But I feel thoroughly rebuilt through the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and it took only three or four weeks to do the work. I often think of the years of suffering I might have escaped had I only known of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills in time ; but I am grateful to be restored to health at last and gladly recommend the medicine that cured.

Egg Beverages.

Beverages containing a raw egg are becoming deservedly popular during these warm days. At a drug store where the proprietor has been doing business for the past thirty years, says the New York Times, they are famous for these drinks. One great beauty of them is that there is a farm annex to the establishment. It may not have been purchased for that purpose, but it is certain that the proprietor has a farm and eggs from it are brought in fresh every morning. As a consequence he has a generous patronage.

There is a vast deal of difference, not only in the quality of the eggs put into these beverages, but in the manner of preparation. The person who drinks them soon becomes a connoisseur. In some places a large quantity of the beaten egg is kept on hand, but eggs are much better freshly broken. A good egg well shaken in a vessel a quarter filled with cracked ice and then strained into a glass is at its best.

LOSS OF VOICE

After Acute Bronchitis

CURED BY USING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

A PREACHER'S EXPERIENCE.

"Three months ago, I took a violent cold which resulted in an attack of acute bronchitis. I put myself under medical treatment, and at the end of two months was no better. I found it very difficult to preach, and concluded to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. The first bottle gave me great relief; the second, which I am now taking, has relieved me almost entirely of all unpleasant symptoms, and I feel sure that one or two bottles more will effect a permanent cure. To all ministers suffering from throat troubles, I recommend Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—E. M. BRAWLEY, D. D., Dist. Secretary, Am. Bapt. Publication Society, Petersburg, Va.

SHOEING HORSES.

Informing Summary of Lieut.-Gen. Sir F. Fitzwygram's Pamphlet.

In view of recent discussions of the subject of shoeing horses properly, readers may be interested in the following summary of a pamphlet just issued by Lieut.-Gen. Sir F. Fitzwygram, and reviewed by the London Farmer:

First Preparations.

1—Before removing the old shoe, each clench should be carefully and fully raised.

2—The crust or wall is not to be rasped.

3—The sole is not to be pared out.

4—The frog, if healthy, is not to be pared, or even trimmed.

5—The bars are not to be cut away.

6—The seat of corn is not to be pared out.

7—The crust or wall is to be lowered as much as may represent what would be worn away if the foot were not shod. Remember that there is a greater growth of horn at the toe than in other parts of the foot. Therefore more will require to be taken off at the toe than elsewhere. Therefore shorten the toe. Especial care must also be taken that the feet are made the same length.

Rasping the Surface Level.

8—When the crust has been lowered all round, then make the ground surface quite level all round with the rasp.

9—To ascertain whether the surface is level, the shoe may be applied sufficiently warm to mark any inequalities, but not hotter than is necessary for this purpose.

10—When the surface has been made level, take off the sharp edge of the crust with the rasp—in other words, blunt it. This is necessary to prevent its splitting.

11—All shoes should be flat to the sole, not seated-out.

For riding and light draft horses, make a shoe to fit the foot, neither longer nor smaller, nor larger than the crust, except at the heels, where it may be not more than one-eighth inch wider than the crust.

For heavy draft horses in towns where the streets are paved, it is found necessary to make the shoes wider and longer at the heels than the crust. Unless this assistance is given, the horse cannot get a firm hold, and therefore he will be liable to slip and roll, and soon become lame.

For heavy draft horses, employed on farms, etc., it is necessary to shoe at the heels according to the nature of the ground and the work to be done. On deep plowed lands it is found advantageous to make the shoes longer and wider at the heels, in order to prevent the feet from sinking deep into the ground.

"Dumping."

12—It is the common practice of incompetent and careless shoers to put on a shoe smaller than the crust, and then in order to make an apparent fit, to rasp the outside of the crust. This hurtful practice produces two evils—First, the outer and strongest horn fibres are destroyed, and, second, the glucy superficial layer which covers the outside of the crust is destroyed, and then the natural moisture of the horn, which is essential to toughness, escapes, and the horn itself becomes brittle and unsound. This and "dumping" are the very greatest causes of brittle and broken feet.

12—The width of the shoe should vary according to the breed of the horse. For light horses, 1-4 inch is sufficient, if the shoe really fits and the crust is sound. One inch is the width in common use. For heavy horses the width must be increased to 1 1-2 or 2 inches. Flat feet require wider shoes, i. e., more cover than natural and upright feet.

Weight of Shoes.

14—For light horses, 14 to 16 oz. will, in general, be sufficient. But some horses wear their shoes more than others; and, again, the material used on the roads makes a difference, often a great difference, and much will also depend on the amount of work. For heavy horses, 1 3-4 to 2 1-2 lb., or even more, is common.

15—Duration of Shoes—One month is a fair average time, but the amount of work, and material used on the roads affect the wear.

16—Removal of Shoes—Whether shoes are worn out or not worn out, they should be removed at the end of a month and refitted. The growth of the horn renders this necessary.

17—Countersunk shoes are better than fullered, as they are stronger, and the nails get a better hold.

Countersunk nails should be used. They get a better hold than rose-headed nails. Nail heads should not project below the shoe, as friction with the ground will soon wear off the heads, and then the nails lose their holding power.

Nailing.

19—For nag and carriage horses, with fairly good feet, the nails should be brought out about one inch on the crust. If the feet are all flat, they should be brought out somewhat lower. For cart horses, whose feet are larger and generally flatter than in better bred horses, one inch would be a fair average height. But regard must be had to the state of the feet. Nails get a better hold when high, but as serious evils result from too high nailing, it is safe to err on the side of too low rather than too high.

Five or six nails are sufficient for light horses. Seven or eight and sometimes more are used for heavy horses.

21—The front nail on each side should be in the anterior portion of the quarter, and the remaining nails should evenly divide the distance to the heels. Nails at the toe are not of much use, as the leverage at the toe often breaks them, and, further, the wear at the toe wears off their heads, and they become useless.

Calkins for Heavy Draught Horses.

22—In London calkins are not generally used. In Manchester, Liverpool, Dublin, and many other large towns, where the streets are paved with granite blocks, calkins are used both on the inside and outside heel; and in some towns toe pieces also are in use.

If one calkin only is used on the outside heel, the inside heel of the shoe should be raised to the same height. This is necessary in order to give a level bearing to the tread. Calkins have the disadvantage of raising the frog above the ground, and thereby preventing its development. The frog, if large and sound, is nature's stay against slipping.

23—Clenches should not be rasped after being turned down. They should be carefully flattened by the hammer. Any filing lessens their power of holding.

24—If the crust is sound, and if the fitting of the shoe is accurate, and the nailing is good, toe clips on the fore feet are not absolutely necessary. If clips are used, the crust should not be pared out more than the depth of one-eighth of an inch to receive the clip.

On the hind feet, two clips, one on each side, are generally needed to strengthen the hold of the nails. Toe clips are commonly used on the feet of heavy horses; but in the case of riding or harness horses doing fast work, they would be apt to cause overreaches. For horses that kick against the stall posts, quarter clips are necessary.

Loose clothes and downy cushions bring only a negative sort of comfort to the woman who is suffering with some disease or derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Some clothes and some positions make the pain and the discomfort seem less. Perhaps the nerves are most affected and this in turn disturbs the digestion. Nothing will ever completely relieve but a radical cure. The start of so-called "female complaints" may be a very slight thing indeed. It may be that in the beginning some small hygenic measures would stop the trouble. Certainly at this time, a little bit of the right medicine would stop it. When the trouble becomes worse, it is harder to cure, but still it can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription will positively cure any trouble of this character. It may be absolutely relied upon. It affords lasting relief to a woman whose natural modesty has kept her from consulting a physician.

Send 31 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

Tall Chimnies.

The highest chimney in England is supposed to be that of Barlow & Dobson's mill at Bolton; it is 368 feeth igh, and is built of 800,000 bricks and 122 tons of stone. It is excelled by at least two in Scotland—the St. Rollox chimney in Glasgow is 445 feet, and the Townsend chimney in the same city is said to be 468 feet high. But the steeplejacks make no more of climbing such chimneys than one a third of their height, though the vibration is more serious at times. All chimneys vibrate, especially in a gale—it is a condition of their safety—but the oscillation at the top is a serious matter for anyone at work there during a high wind, and in such conditions the job is postponed to a calmer season. Lancashire also boasts one of the crookedest chimneys in the country—a shaft at Brook Mill, Heywood—which is nearly 200 feet high, but is more than six feet out of plumb. It has been belted with iron bands, and is considered secure.—Chamber's Journal.

TEN YEARS TROUBLED

With Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia—Suffered Greatly and Found No Relief in the Scores of Medicines Prescribed.

South American Nervine Was Recommended, and Before Half a Bottle Was Taken Relief Came.

Have Since Improved Rapidly, and Am Now Completely Cured—So says Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont.

What ills come to humanity from a disordered liver! Henry Ward Beecher has said that it was impossible for a man to hold correct spiritual views if his liver was out of order. The liver is so important a part of the mechanism of man that when it ceases to work with ease the whole man is unable to do his work aright. Can we not appeal to thousands, nay, tens of thousands, for a verification of this fact? Certainly it is, that Mr. David Reid, of Chesley, Ont., felt that the enjoyment of life had been taken from him, through the unhealthy condition of his liver. For ten years he says he was troubled with liver complaint and dyspepsia. Employing his own language: "At times my liver was so tender I could not bear it pressed or touched from the outside. Had tried a great many remedies without any benefit. Was compelled to drop my work, and being worse than usual, I decided as a final resort to try South American Nervine, which had been recommended to me by friends who had been cured by it. I got a bottle from A. S. Goodeve, local druggist, and commenced taking according to directions. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to go to work again, and I have improved steadily since. I can conscientiously recommend South American Nervine to any suffering from dyspepsia or liver complaint." This is Mr. Reid's story as he tells it in his own words. Were it thought necessary it could be corroborated by a host of witnesses. Mr. Reid has lived a long time in Chesley, and his case was known to be a very bad one. But that makes no difference to Nervine. This great discovery rises equal to the most trying occasions. Let it be indigestion, the most chronic liver trouble, as with Mr. Reid, nervous prostration, that makes life miserable with so many, sick headaches, that sap all the effort out of man or woman, Nervine measures to the necessities of the case. It is a great medicine and thousands to-day in Canada are happier and healthier men and women, because of its discovery. There is no great secret about it, and yet there is an important secret. It operates on the nerve centers of the system from which emanate all life and healthfulness, or if disordered, sickness, even death. Nervine strikes promptly at the nerve centers, hence, as with Mr. Reid, where ten years' use of other medicines had done no good, less than a bottle of Nervine brought about encouraging results, and a few bottles cured.

AMERICAN INSURANCE AND CANADIAN POLICY-HOLDERS.

It is becoming a question of practical politics for Canadian policy holders in American insurance companies in which kind of money their claims will be paid when their policies mature. Should Mr. Bryan be elected and the United States go to a silver basis, American companies would have a perfect right to pay their claims—unless otherwise provided in the policy—in American silver dollars, which are now worth a trifle over fifty cents. This would mean, if this ratio were maintained, the cutting of one's life insurance in two; and the man who paid premiums on $5,000 would really leave his family only about one-half that amount.

Some American companies are endorsing their policies "payable in gold," or "payable in the lawful money of Canada." This should make them as good as ever, if the securities deposited by these companies at Ottawa remain as valuable as ever. This latter is a point for the Government to carefully investigate. It will not be worth much to a person with a claim against an American company to have his policy endorsed "payable in the lawful money of Canada," if the company does not have sufficient money on deposit at Ottawa to cover his claim. Then, supposing the company to fight his claim, he must sue the United States, and get his award in American money—i.e., Bryan silver dollars. Now this is a real enough danger if the deposits of American companies with the Canadian Government are composed in whole or in part of American securities. For with the enactment of free silver at Washington American securities will be very likely to go to a silver basis too; with the result that the American deposits at Ottawa will fall far below their face value. Thus it might come about that claims payable in Canada could not be collected in the Dominion, because the company's assets here had all been eaten up.

This is a matter for the Government Superintendent of Insurance to look to. There should be no doubt as to the permanent value of the deposits placed by the American companies in the hands of the Dominion Government. This is the keystone of the arch. To be sure of getting Canadian money for our claims we must be able to sue for them in Canada and collect the award in Canada. It is ridiculous to suppose that if the United States goes to a silver basis, and if the Insurance Companies are paying American claimants in silver, that the American courts will compel them to pay the Britisher in gold. Our only security is to keep the Canadian end of the business in Canada.

To accomplish this two things must be had—1, the securities deposited at Ottawa must not be of a character to be affected by a victory for Mr. Bryan; and, 2, all policies must be made payable in Canada and in Canadian money, or its only equivalent—gold.—Star.

BREEZY IDYL WILD.

Mr. Voshell, the American Owner of the Island Arrives—Improvements to be Made—Good Business for August—The Attractions of the Spot—Good Management—Good Table—Fun with Fish—Excursions, Etc.

Mr. Voshell, proprietor of Idyl Wyld, accompanied by two gentlemen friends from Rochester, N. Y., paid a visit to the Island on Saturday and remained until Monday noon, returning by the "Outlet Queen" to Harwood and thence by train to Cobourg where the party took the steamer for Rochester in the afternoon. Mr. Voshell takes a great interest in his Canadian summer resort and while here he and his friends enjoyed themselves yachting and fishing. The further improvement of the island will engage his special attention this fall and preparations will be made to remodel the present buildings and erect a number of pretty and convenient summer cottages after the American style.

A large party of guests who had been staying at Idyl Wild during the past two or three weeks, came across to Harwood on the island steamer "Outlet Queen" on Monday. On their way home they were unanimous in their praises of Idyl Wild as a quiet, restful and breezy resort, and as the steamer "North Star" steamed off from the wharf they gave three rousing cheers for Mr. Spellman, three for Idyl Wild and three for Dick Lund, the engineer of the island steamer.

In natural beauty, fine landscape and bracing atmosphere, Idyl Wild has much to recommend it. The visitors all tell of having had lots of fun hooking the maskinonge and bass that abound in the numerous fish beds of Rice Lake convenient to the island. It affords excellent boating and sailing, and the numerous points of interest that can be called at by the island boats and steamer, which are always at the disposal of the guests, constitute additional attractions, which are highly appreciated.

The management of the house is in good hands. Mr. T. Spellman is as popular with the guests as an attentive manager could be, and Mr. Craig, his assistant, is painstaking and obliging—both gentlemen ever ready to anticipate the pleasure and comfort of their guests.

Peterborough people should have no difficulty in reaching Idyl Wild. Although the boats coming down the river do not run very regularly to the island, yet any person coming down to Jubilee, Gore's Landing or Harwood, can be called for, by arrangement, at any point by the Idyl Wyld steam yacht, Outlet Queen, without extra charge, or, if preferred, Idyl Wyld can be reached from Peterborough by taking the G. T. R. to Keene station, where a bus is always in waiting to take them to the Keene wharf and from there they can enjoy an hour's delightful sail across the Lake to Idyl Wyld on the Outlet Queen, without extra charge.

A big union church picnic and excursion was held at Idyl Wyld on Wednesday. The excursionists were from all parts of Rice Lake and enjoyed themselves all day to their hearts' content. Other excursions are to follow, which will keep the Island lively for the next month.

THE WHEEL.

Lytle and Gordon ride the second heat of their matched race at the Nicholls Park track this evening at seven o'clock. A great effort is going to be made to reduce the track record to 2:11 if possible.

At last bicycles have taken a drop—I mean in price. One may buy a new hundred dollar wheel now for sixty or seventy dollars, and some of the dealers are making an even greater cut than this. There must be good reason for it all. The shadow cast on the market tells the tale. One large firm assured me the price would now stay where it was, and that next season seventy five and eighty dollars would be the ruling prices for high-grade wheels, but I fancy the present reductions in every direction mean that the great bulk of the people are supplied with wheels, and it is going to be harder scraping next season. Or else there may be a pending revolution in the manufacture, of which the public knows nothing. Something is accountable for the panic that exists now to get rid of stock.

The real reason why a bicycle can be balanced so easily, says a writer in the Cleveland Leader, is that the wheel can be steered from side to side, and thus be kept under the centre of gravity of the body. If the wheel could not be turned to one side or the other, but was confined to a straight line, the balance could only be maintained by throwing the body from side to side, so as to keep the centre of gravity over the wheel, and this would be far more difficult to accomplish.

To illustrate this point, consider the case of a man trying to balance himself upon the heels of his shoes. He will soon feel that his weight is going either forward or backward, and to avoid falling over he will take a few short steps in the direction in which his body is moving, and thus restore his equilibrium. So long as he keeps moving his heels, one way or the other, he will have no difficulty in preserving his balance, for a few seconds, but if he tries to accomplish the same result without moving his heels he will have to swing his body and arms around in anything but a graceful manner.

This explains why it is so much easier to maintain a balance on stilts than on a tight rope. One would naturally suppose that the latter would be easier, because the whole length of the foot rests upon the rope, and, therefore, only the tendency to fall over sideways has to be counteracted, while with the stilts, as they terminate in very small ends, the body can tip in any direction. But the stilt walker can balance himself without difficulty, because, no matter in what direction he may incline, he can keep the stilts under the body by simply stepping in that direction.

When Should a Man Swear?

Man is not only a reasoning but a swearing animal. Sometimes his feelings are expressed audibly and at others they are so deep down in his nature that nothing less than a volcano would thrust them to the surface. If a man should swear at all, when should that time be? The church is silent on this important matter and the law gives no sanction to cuss words. Stovepipes are provocative of bad feeling, but corns are far worse. Wives should see that their husband's corns are kept down. This may be done quite easily, painlessly and with absolute certainty by Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Beware of flesh-eating substitutes offered for Putnam's Corn Extractr.

THOSE PAPERS DOWN

About Which Sir Charles Tupper Was So Anxious.

AN INTERESTING CORRESPONDENCE

Between the Governor-General and Sir Charles Tupper Regarding the Supplies and Also as to the Powers of an Outgoing Government.

Ottawa, Aug. 28.—The correspondence which passed between the Earl of Aberdeen and Sir Charles Tupper just prior to the resignation of the late Government, was presented to the House this afternoon, and will be found interesting, as showing the views held by His Excellency and the ex-Premier in regard to the supplies and the appointments recommended by the retiring Ministry, which the Governor-General declined to sanction.

First of all there is a memorandum to the Prime Minister for himself and colleagues from Lord Aberdeen, dated July 4. The memorandum reads: "Until July 7 as at present arranged it is not likely that we shall know whether or not you deem the results of the general election decisive against the Government, nor do I know to what extent these results may be modified by that date which you name as final in this regard.

"After taking every means in my power to inform myself it is impossible for me to ignore the possibility that in the event of your deciding to meet Parliament the present administration will fail to secure the support of the House of Commons. This hypothesis seems to me to have important bearings. In the first place, the business to be transacted by Parliament, though foreseen and not in character exceptional, is urgent. Supplies for public service are already entirely exhausted. This contingency was in view when the date of the meeting of Parliament was fixed. It is in the public interest that that Parliament should meet on as early a day as possible and be able to proceed with the business forthwith. Again, in regard to the various recommendations, which in detail or by inference we discussed on Thursday, and in regard to all business which is not urgent, and yet outside the routine administrative requirements, the assumption that the Government has failed to secure the confidence of the electorate at the polls leaves undiminished, indeed increases the stringency of the limitations of an already somewhat peculiar position. Let me explain my meaning. The circumstances are these: The previous administration (with Sir Mackenzie Bowell as Prime Minister), representing the views of the same political party and having a majority in both chambers, failed to pass its proposed legislation and on April 25 Parliament expired by efflux of time without having granted supplies for the public service beyond June 30. Subsequently, when no Parliament was or could be under the circumstances in existence, the present administration was formed. So far, therefore, as these are dependent upon the subsequent approval of Parliament the acts of the present administration are in an unusual degree provisional, and as the powers of an administration undoubtedly full and unrestricted must surely always be used with discretion their exercise would seem to be rightly limited, under such circumstances as present to the transaction of all necessary public business, while it is further a duty to avoid all acts which may embarrass the succeeding Government.

"On this ground, I would ask your further consideration of some of the recommendations which we discussed incidentally on Thursday. On this ground, too, I felt obliged to withhold an expression of my acquiescence to your suggestion as to the appointment of Senators or judges (you have since laid before me certain recommendations as to Senatorships which are vacant.) These are life appointments, and with them, under such circumstances as the present, it would seem proper to leave all other life appointments and creations of all new officers and appointments for the consideration of the incoming Ministers, unless always such a course is shown to be contrary to the public interest. In the case of the Senate, which consists of 78 members, it is to be noted also that there are said to be now no more than five Senators who are Liberals. And it may well be urged that to aggravate this inequality at the present time would not only tend to embarrass probably the successors of this Government, but to increase the risk of friction between the two chambers of the legislature.

"In the case of judges, I will only add that, bearing in mind the ordinary length of their tenure of office and also the long political predominance of one political party in the Dominion Parliament, the current deduction as to the complexion of political opinions represented upon the bench, whether baseless or well founded, is not unnatural.

"As to the remaining recommendations which are before me, and generally as to other business of similar nature, all seem to me to be subject to the same governing consideration. Whatever business can wait without detriment to public interest may properly do so. There is a recommendation of a refund of money which requires the sanction of Parliament. Such recommendations will have to be placed before Parliament by the Ministers of the day, and you may perhaps consider that they may be left to be dealt with by these Ministers. In Mr. Payne's case my special concern is indicated in the latter part of the memorandum of the Governor-General's secretary of June 10, where the question is asked whether this appointment is in accordance with the statutes and regulations which govern such cases; i.e., whether it infringes upon an existing law, under which circumstances it, with all other cases of a similar kind, if there be any such, cannot properly receive sanction. I mention another case, viz.: The recommendation of an officer to the post of assistant superintendent of the cartridge factory at Quebec. This position has been vacant for two years. It seems, therefore, desirable to reserve it, with any similar recommendations as to vacancies of long duration, for the consideration of the incoming Government unless this course can be shown to be detrimental to the public interest.

"One other matter remains to which you asked my attention yesterday and which it may be convenient that I should mention here. I refer to your remarks on the memoranda which I have from time to time forwarded for the consideration of council. I have carefully considered these remarks, and my conclusions and observations are as follows: 'On reference to the [illegible] of the Governor-General's office, I find that memoranda sent by my predecessor are similar in form to those which I have caused to be sent. As to the recording of such communications, this has evidently been done in the past. My own experience certainly makes me think that this is proper and desirable, and contributes to the continuity of the Government. As to the accessibility of such papers to successive Cabinets, it must be borne in mind that, whether specifically so considered or not, all such papers are essentially confidential. Their contents are made known only to those who are bound by oath of secrecy, and they cannot be laid before Parliament except with the consent of the Governor-General. I fail, therefore, to see that there has lately been any departure from the precedent or from the practice in this matter. These observations would indicate to you in the meatime the result of such consideration as I have so far been able to give to the business now before me.

"(Signed) Aberdeen."

Next comes the memorandum of Sir Charles Tupper to the Governor-General, dated July 6, which reads as follows: "I have carefully considered Your Excellency's memorandum, dated July 4, received at 1 p.m. to-day, which I must frankly say has caused my colleagues and myself much surprise and regret. So soon as Your Excellency returned to the Capital (the 2nd inst.) I had the honor of waiting upon you and discussing the present condition of affairs caused by the general election which took place on the 23rd June. At that time I submitted a memorandum of precedence, indicating the practice followed in England and Canada on the defeat of a government. I explained that the division of parties was very close and might be materially affected by the re-counts, which were to take place within a few days, as there were a large number of elections in which the parties had been declared elected by a very small majority. I suggested that the discussion of the course to be pursued by the Government should be deferred until after the re-counts had taken place, to which Your Excellency assented. As Your Excellency had not returned, a large number of the minutes of the council, which had been sent for your approval, both before and since the elections were held, I submitted for your consideration a memorandum of appointments made by the Hon. Mr. Mackenzie between the date of his defeat of the 17th of Sept., 1878, and his resignation on the 16th October, following. Your Excellency intimated the intention of asking me further to confer with you on the following day, after you had had an opportunity of perusing the papers to which I have referred. Your Excellency subsequently postponed that interview until the morning of Saturday, the 4th inst., and to-day favored me with the memorandum, to which I have the honor to reply.

"Your Excellency says that the supplies for the public service being exhausted, it is in the public interest that Parliament should meet as early as possible. You say that 'The previous Administration (with Sir Mackenzie Bowell as Prime Minister), representing the views of the same political party, and having a majority in both chambers, failed to pass its proposed legislation and on the 25th of April Parliament expired by efflux of time, without having granted the supplies for the public service beyond the 30th June.

"Subsequently, when no Parliament was, or could be, under the circumstances, in existence, the present Administration was formed. So far, therefore, as these are dependent upon the subsequent approval of Parliament, the acts of this Administration are in an unusual degree provisional.' Your Excellency is aware that the failure to pass the supplies in the usual manner for the now current year was due to the fact that the life of Parliament terminated on the 25th of April, and that the Opposition took advantage of that circumstance to pursue a course of unparalleled obstruction, which enabled them to prevent any legislation being carried through by the Government, although it had the support of a large majority of the House of Commons, and that the day of the next meeting of Parliament was fixed at the earliest possible moment, that it could safely be done.

"Your Excellency says: 'In regard to the various recommendations which, in detail or by inference, we discussed on Thursday and in regard to all business which is not urgent, and yet outside routine administration requirements, the assumption that the Government has failed to secure the confidence of the electorate at the polls leaves undiminished, indeed increases, the stringency of the limitations of an already somewhat peculiar position.'

"Your Excellency further says: 'As the powers of an administration undoubtedly full and unrestricted must surely always be used with discretion their exercise seems to be rightly limited under such circumstances as then present to the transaction of all necessary public business, while it is further a duty to avoid all acts which may embarrass a succeeding government.'

"On this ground Your Excellency says that you feel obliged to withhold the expression of any acquiescence in my recommendations as to the appointment of senators or judges. You observe these are life appointments, and with them, under such circumstances as the present, it would seem proper to leave all other life appointments and the creation of all new offices and appointments for the consideration of the incoming ministers, unless always such a course is shown to be contrary to the public interest.

"Your Excellency goes on to remark: 'In the case of the Senate, which consists of 78 members, it is to be noted also that there are said to be now no more than five senators who are Liberals,' and further: 'In the case of judges, I will only add that, bearing in mind the ordinary length of their tenure of office and also the long political predominance of one political party in the Dominion Parliament, the current deduction as to the complexion of the political opinions represented upon the bench, whether baseless or well-founded, is not unnatural.'

"I should fail in my duty to Your Excellency, as well as to the principles which govern the administration of public affairs in Canada, where Parliamentary government is carried on precisely as it is in England, if I did not draw your attention to the very serious consequences of the views which you have indicated as guiding your action on the present occasion. The recognized authorities on parliamentary law and the practice, both in England and in Canada, have, I contend, settled these questions beyond dispute.

Sir Charles then quotes from Todd's "Parliamentary Government in England" in support of his contention; also calls His Excellency's attention to the case which arose in New Zealand in 1891, as set forth in an official return to the Imperial Government, to which Lord Knutsford, in reply, sustains the view that a defeated Ministry has a right to carry on the Government until their successors are appointed. Sir Charles then proceeds:

"No question, therefore, can possibly arise as to the British constitutional practice in regard to the right of a defeated Ministry to carry on the public business until their successors are appointed, and to fill any vacancies that may exist. Lord Salisbury was not precluded from the creation of additional peers, although the disparity between the Liberals and the Conservatives in the House of Lords was at least as great as that which exists in the Senate here.

"But to put the question beyond controversy, I have only to call Your Excellency's attention to the fact that the Hon. Mr. Mackenzie, after his defeat in 1878 by a majority between 30 and 90 in the House of Commons, secured the approval of Lord Dufferin, then Governor-General of Canada, to 180 minutes of council, being all that were submitted to him, without any exception, of which 82 were appointments to office, including a Deputy-Minister, a judge of the Supreme Court of Canada, four puisne judges and a county court judge.

"In reference to Your Excellency's statement respecting the Canadian judiciary, I am glad to be able to say that in Canada, as in England, our judges are neither Liberal nor Conservative. Nor can they in any sense be said to represent political opinion on the bench. I do not know upon what sources of information Your Excellency may have relied, but in this case, at all events, you will find them exceedingly untrustworthy. In the sense of referring to the political party to which the judge belongs at the time of his appointment, I may call Your Excellency's attention to the fact that the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Sir Henry Strong, and the present Mr. Justice Taschereau were appointed by Mr. Mackenzie, and that in Ontario, the present Chief Justice Armour, Mr. Justice McLennan, Mr. Justice Burton, Mr. Justice MacMahon and County Court Judges Jones, Ross, Price, Bell, Senkler, Wilkinson, Burnham, Pingle, and Dean; in the Province of Quebec, Mr. Justice Taschereau, Mr. Justice Jette, Mr. Justice Burgois, Mr. Justice Caron, Mr. Justice Belanger and Mr. Justice Plaondon; in Nova Scotia, Mr. Justice Weatherbee and County Court Judges Johnstone, Desbrisay, Morse and McIsaac; in Manitoba, Chief Justice Taylor, and Mr. Justice Killam; in New Brunswick, County Court Judge Steadman, and in Prince Edward Island, County Court Judge Alley, all belonged to the Liberal party, when appointed to the bench.

"In relation to the recommendations for the Senate, I may say that Your Excellency is aware that Messrs. Angers and Desjardins resigned their seats in the Upper House in order to place their services at the disposal of the Crown, and have thus an undoubted claim to special consideration. I may also be permitted to draw Your Excellency's attention to the fact that during the five years Mr. Mackenzie was Prmeier, he met with no lack of support from the Senate, except on two occasions. On those occasions he failed to obtain the assistance of some of his most prominent supporters in the House of Commons, and subsequently I myself heard him frankly admit that in these two instances the Senate was right and he was wrong. The retention of the confidence of the country by the Senate, in my judgment, will depend much more upon the character and attainments of the gentlemen who are appointed to it than upon their political convictions at the time of their appointment.

"I may venture to remind Your Excellency that the exigencies of the public service and the difficulties to which you have alluded have been caused by the obstruction of public business by the Opposition, notwithstanding that the Government of which I was the leader in the House of Commons had the support of a large majority of that House. At that time the unfortunate circumstances to which I have referred enabled comparatively few persons to prevent any legislation or public business being done by the House. Had the Opposition in Canada adopted the course followed in the Imperial

CANADA'S INNINGS.

This is Canada's year in many respects. To begin with aquatics, the half-rate Glencairn, of Montreal, won the international trophy offered by the Sewanhaka Yacht Club of New York, and she won, for one reason at least, because she was better sailed. And the Canadian yachtsmen who followed the interlake circuit won the lion's share of the most coveted prizes against crack Yankee competitors. At Port Dover the Canada and the Diana and the Hiawatha of Hamilton were winners; the Canada, Diana, Hiawatha and the Eva of Toronto won at Erie, Pa.; at Cleveland, the Canada and Zelma, of Hamilton, were first and second in the contest for big yachts, and other Canadian winners were the Myrna, Eva, Vreda, Hiawatha, Nadia and Alborak. At Put-in Bay, the Canada and the Zelma again defeated the field and in a subsequent race, in which the international defender did not enter, the Zelma and the Vreda crossed the line ahead of their American competitors and to crown all these aquatic victories the "Canada" won the Toledo cup—a notable victory and a fitting wind-up to a summer of splendid yachting success. At the Halifax Regatta against the world Gaudaur won the highest honours in the single scull contest, and he will likely capture the world's championship on the Thames, against Stansbury, Sept. 7th. "Jake" will be encouraged in the contest anyway by the recollection that this is Canada's year in aquatics. Then Archbald, the Toronto canoeist, swept all before him at the A.C.A. meet on Grindstone Island, capturing every trophy worth taking, especially the sailing trophy. So that Canada rules the lakes from a canoe to a 42-footer. And the victories are no accidents, they are the result of pure skill. The defeated competitors in the yachting events admit that the Canadian boats were better sailed, and in this there is cause for great congratulation. The model of a boat is the result of careful, deliberate design, and the application of mechanical and mathematical principles common to everybody. But the sailing of a yacht depends upon the qualities of the crew. Intelligence, promptness to think and act and to take advantage of every advantage, a steady self-reliance, are the qualities that are brought out, qualities that demonstrate the material of which sailors are made. It is a much greater achievement to gain a yachting victory by brains and brawn than by the superiority of a mere piece of mechanical execution.

And Canada's honour roll stops not with the shores of her lakes. We all recall with pride Canada's splendid win of the Kolapore Cup from the crack shots of the Empire, as well as the splendid shooting of our artillery team at Shoeburyness, achievements that reflect the greatest honour upon our level-headed Canucks.

This is Canada's year in other respects. This year her hidden stores of gold have attracted the attention and is attracting the capital of the world, and to crown all the people have, under Liberal rule, entered upon an era of good and honest government, which she has not known for nearly a score of years. We have done well this year in many ways, but we have done the best in entrusting the destinies of Canada to a government under whose wise rule we have every reason to expect a grand development of her unparalleled natural resources, and the steady development of the destiny of greatness which is sure to arrive in the no distant future. THE MATTER OF CHEAP MONEY.

Professor Goldwin Smith, over his old nom de plume, "A Bystander," is contributing some very interesting articles to the Weekly Sun, which has taken the place of the Farmer's Sun. In one of these Mr. Smith deals with the silver question and Bryan's speech, which he characterizes as a "tissue of fallacies." He points out very clearly that a government can no more fix the relative value of gold and silver than it can fix the relative values of cotton and wool; and that we can no more have two standards of value than we can have two standards of measure. He says:

The people are told that they shall have cheap money. How can money be cheap or dear when it is itself the measure of cheapness or dearness? We do not buy money; it may in different cases be plentiful or scarce. By merely multiplying it without any increase in the amount or value of products nothing would be added to the wealth or purchasing power of the people. The only consequence would be that two dollars would be required to buy what was bought with one before. Suppose the government, instead of remonetising silver alone, were to remonetize copper, iron tobacco, all of which were money in early times, money would be "cheap" with a vengeance, but would anybody be able to buy more bread?

EDITORIAL NOTES.

SIR JOHN MACDONALD was leader of his party—Sir Charles Tupper is the driver.

HON. WM. PATTERSON, after his victory in North Grey, is one of the "four hundred."

CANADA takes the lead in gold mines, yacht races, good government and good looking girls.

WITH Sir Charles Tupper as leader of the Conservative party "clubs" is still trump. The new deal turned up the same card.

OUR bright little western cotem, the London News, says that milk that has stood over ten minutes in a sick room should never be drank. Shouldn't it be drunk?

ADVERSITY brings candour. Sir Charles Tupper acknowledges in his place in the House that he made a mistake in trying to catch the Catholic vote. The way to catch votes is to have a bait that bears some appearance of genuineness. A fisherman that has "no confidence in the breed" of fishes he is trying to catch, can't expect a nibble, angle he never so wisely.

IN 1801 Mr. Masson, Conservative, had a majority of 247 in North Grey. In the general election this was converted into a majority of 32 for the late Mr. Clarke, a Liberal gain of 275. In the bye-election the Liberal majority was increased from 32 to 420, a further gain of 388 and a total gain of 663 since 1891. Mr. Paterson had majorities in five out of the seven divisions of the riding.

AN exchange says that thirty-five boys and girls in Chicago, who recently applied for admission to the Joseph Medill Summer School, were asked the following six questions:—(1) Were you ever in the woods? (2) Did you ever see the lake? (3) Did you ever pick a flower? (4) Were you ever in the park? (5) Did you ever ride in a wagon behind horses? (6) Did you ever ride in a car on the railroad? On examining the answers, it was found that thirty out of the thirty-five had never been in the woods, nineteen had never seen Lake Michigan, eight had never picked a flower. During the writing of the answers one little girl was found to be crying bitterly. On inquiry it was discovered that she had been obliged to answer no to nearly all the questions, and "was afraid she wouldn't pass." Such an experience in a thickly-peopled country is a remarkable one.

Wonderful Aids.

Diamond Dyes Conduce to Modern Home Comfort.

The present generation of women are blessed with privileges and aids that our grandparents never enjoyed. Among the many important aids in the family the Diamond Dyes hold a high and important place.

Formerly, the dyeing operation was a tedious, hard and doubtful job. To-day, a dress, cape, jacket, coat, pants or vest can be coloured and made to look as good as new at a very small cost.

When troubles arise in home dyeing, it is because you have allowed your dealer to sell you dyes that are crude and dangerous to use—vile imitations of the popular Diamond Dyes. When the Diamond Dyes are used your work is accomplished in a few minutes, and you are certain of the best results.

Successful home dyeing can only result when you use Diamond Dyes; long years of severe testing have proved this fact.

CURE OF DROPSY.

Only a Positive Symptom—Not a Disease of Itself — Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Campbellford, (Special) Aug. 17.—An unlooked for and remarkable recovery from advanced stage of dropsy is just made public here. It is the case of Mrs. John Weese, wife of the widely known veteran stage proprietor, whose life for months, had been despaired of. From the accumulated water peculiar to this disease she became so helpless as to be unable to drag one foot after the other. She now appears on the street and says she is as well as ever in her life. She claims that after all other means had failed she thanks Dodd's Kidney Pills for her unexpected cure.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

WHEN OTHERS FAIL.

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS RESTORE HEALTH AND STRENGTH.

A Well Known Young Lady in Napanee Gives her Experience—So weak that she Could not go up Stairs without Resting—Her Friends Thought that she was in Consumption—Now the Picture of Health and Strength.

From the Beaver Napanee, Ont.

Among the young ladies of Napanee there is none better known or more highly esteemed than Miss Mary L. Byrnes. Indeed her acquaintance and popularity covered a more extended field, as she is a travelling saleslady for the Robinson Corset Co., and has many customers on her route, which extends from Oshawa to Ottawa. How this young lady happened to be the subject of this article is due to the fact that she has recently undergone a most remarkable change through the use of those wonderful little messengers of health, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When the Beaver reporter called to make enquiry into her cure he was met at the door by the young lady herself, whose rosy cheeks and healthy appearance gave no indication that she had undergone a prolonged illness.

The reporter mentioned his mission and found Miss Byrnes quite willing to tell the particulars of what she termed "an escape from death." In reply to the query, "what have Dr. Williams' Pink Pills done for you?" she replied, "why, they have done wonders. I feel like a new woman now. For eight years I was weak and miserable, and at times I could not walk. I was greatly troubled with indigestion, and frequently could not keep anything on my stomach, not even a glass of milk. I had dizzy spells, severe headaches, and my complexion was of a yellowish hue. My kidneys also troubled me, and in fact I was all aches and pains. In going up a flight of stairs I had either to be assisted up, or would have to rest several times before I got to the top. At times my hands and feet would have no more warmth in them than lumps of ice. On one occasion while stopping at an hotel in Kingston, after waiting on a number of my customers, I fell down in a faint. The landlady found me in this condition and sent for a doctor, who, after bringing me back to consciousness, gave me medicine to take. He told me that my system was so badly run down that it was imperative that I should have absolute rest. His medicine had no beneficial effect that I could see, and I tried a number of other doctors, with no better results. I became so low that I cared for neither work nor pleasure, and my friends thought I had gone into consumption. It was at this juncture that I determined to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial, and my appearance to-day will show you what a wonderful change they have wrought in me. I continued taking the Pink Pills for three months, and before discontinuing them every ache and pain had disappeared. I cannot speak too highly of this wonderful medicine, and I am eager to let the fact be known for the benefit of other sufferers."

Mrs. Byrnes was present during the interview and strongly endorsed what her daughter said, adding that she believed they had saved her life.

The experience of years has proved that there is absolutely no disease due to a vitiated condition of the blood or shattered nerves, that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will not promptly cure, and those who are suffering from such troubles would avoid much misery and save money by promptly resorting to this treatment. Get the genuine Pink Pills every time and do not be persuaded to take an imitation or some other remedy from a dealer, who for the sake of extra profit to himself, may say is "just as good." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure when other medicines fail.

Colic Cured.

DEAR SIRS,—I was very bad last summer with colic and a few doses of Wild Strawberry cured me. I am safe in recommending it as the best remedy ever used. I cannot speak to highly of it.

MRS. ALFRED VICK, Berlin, Ont.

THOSE PAPERS DOWN.

Parliament in 1892, when the Opposition voted the estimates for the year and expedited public business, no such difficulty could have presented itself, and I fail to see why such obstruction on the part of the Opposition should entitle them to the special consideration of the Crown.

"With reference to the inquiries which Your Excellency has from time to time thought fit to address to the Clerk of the Privy Council, I can only re-state my impression that such information in times past has been sought and obtained by the Governor-General through communication with His Prime Minister, or the Minister directly concerned, rather than by means of official memoranda which become part of the records of council.

"In conclusion, I may be permitted to say to Your Excellency, that under the British constitutional system, which Canada has the happiness to enjoy, the Queen's representative, like Her Majesty, is the executive head of the country, removed from the arena of political controversy, however fierce the conflict of parties may be, and in my judgment no more fatal mistake could be made than any interposition in the management of public affairs which would cause the Governor-General to be identified with either one party or the other. Adhering respectfully but firmly to the opinions I have ventured to express in this memorandum, which, I regret to find, do not agree with those of Your Excellency, it remains only for me to tender the resignation of my colleagues and myself, and to ask that we may be relieved from our responsibilities as ministers of the Crown at the earliest convenience of Your Excellency.

"(Signed) Charles Tupper."

Privy Council Chamber, Ottawa, July 6, 1896.

Then comes a further memo of the Governor-General's in further reference to the Governor-General's memorandum of July 4 and Sir Charles Tupper's memorandum of July 6.

"My action at the present time has been guided solely by a regard for the following facts, namely, that:

"(1) Parliament expired on April 25;

"(2) The result of the general elections on June 23 was the defeat of the Government;

"(3) The supplies for the public service came to an end on June 30, and by the view that, pending the assembly of Parliament, the full powers and authority unquestionably possessed by the Government should be exercised in such directions only as are demanded by the exigencies of the public interest and so as to avoid all acts which may tend to embarrass the succeeding administration.

"July 9, 1896. (Signed) Aberdeen."

On July 8, Capt. Sinclair, Governor-General's secretary, wrote to the Privy Council: "The undersigned is directed by the Governor-General to request that, pending their further consideration by council, His Excellency's approval be withheld from all recommendations which involve:

"(1) The creation of new offices or appointments;

"(2) The filling of vacancies for which no provision has been made by Parliament and which have existed for more than one clear fiscal year;

"(3) Superannuations (and the con-

A further memo from Sinclair, dated July 11, says: "Four hundred and fifty-three submissions to His Excellency the Governor-General between June 23 and July 8, 1896, and approved.

"The following minutes of council which have not yet received the signature of the Governor-General are returned:

"1329. Renewing contract with N. Robertson for $5600, the highest estimate, for a further period of five years, without tender, for the maintenance of Parliament grounds, etc., although former contracts were annually let.

Loose clothes and downy cushions bring only a negative sort of comfort to the woman who is suffering with some disease or derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Some clothes and some positions make the pain and the discomfort seem less. Perhaps the nerves are most affected and this in turn disturbs the digestion. Nothing will ever completely relieve but a radical cure. The start of so called "female complaints" may be a very slight thing indeed. It may be that in the beginning some small hygenic measures would stop the trouble. Certainly at this time, a little bit of the right medicine would stop it. When the trouble becomes worse, it is harder to cure, but still it can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favourite Prescription will positively cure any trouble of this character. It may be absolutely relied upon. It affords lasting relief to a woman whose natural modesty has kept her from consulting a physician.

Send 31 cents in one-cent stamps to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive Dr. Pierce's 1008 page "Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated.

A C. P. R. CONDUCTOR.

After Two Years' Misery was Cured by Ten Boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Prescott, (Special) Aug. 24.—For a long time much sympathy had been felt and expressed for Mr. Wm. Freeman, a very popular conductor of the C.P.R., who had been rendered unfit for duty the past few years by a peculiar and distressing form of kidney disease. It now transpires, much to the delight of his friends, that he has been enabled to resume his regular trips. He claims, as the results of using only ten boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, that he has entirely recovered, and that he never felt better in his life, and believes that these Pills have cured him to stay cured.

Sick headache and constipation are promptly cured by Burdock Pills. Easy to take, sure in effect.

and all wasting diseases, should write to me for advice.

I have been a close student for many years of the subject of weakness in men, the fact is, I was a sufferer myself. Too bashful to seek the aid of older men or reputable physicians, I investigated the subject deeply and discovered a simple but most remarkably successful Remedy that completely cured me, and fully unlocked me from a shrunken, stunted condition to natural size and strength. I want every young or old man to know about it. I take a paternal interest in such cases, and no one need hesitate to write me, as all communications are held strictly confidential. I send the recipe of this remedy absolutely free of cost. Do not put it off, but write me fully at once, you will always bless the day you did so. Address,

TOUGH CLOTHES FOR THE BOYS.

Young Canada Begins Another Six Months' Schooling.

Tough clothes for boys to wear to school this Fall and Winter. That's the burden of our song. Strong clothes to stand the wear and tear of play, rough but healthy. Strong clothes to stand the work of out of doors fun in cold weather. We have just such things for the youngsters and, besides being full of wear, they are neat and shapely.

Did the last suit of clothes you bought for your boy from us, wear as well as it ought to hav worn, considering the price paid? If it did you should go to the same store for the next suit. You ge your money's worth. We deserve your patronage. We'll do better by you and by the boy than any other clothier.

5 CASES OF BOYS' NEW SUITS

These are only the advance guard of our Fall stock, for the boys. These are TWO and THREE piece Suits, and will fit boys all the way from 3 to 16 years. We sell the best of everything to keep in the heat, and keep out the cold for boys. We were boys ourselves, once,—it seems an awful long time ago.

We've all good qualities of Boys' Clothing. We've—probably—more Boys' Clothing in our store than in all the other stores put together. We've a weakness for supplying the boys. Ask yours if this isn't so?

Some idea we may give you of the value and inducement we purpose giving to buyers, when we say will buy a beautiful, heavy, all wool, neatly made, well trimmed, and built of Auburn Mills Tweed Suit.

A $2.00 BILL

Of course we've cheaper Suits, and as low as 95c per suit. Better Suits up to $3.00 and $4.00, but

OUR $2.00 SUIT IS A CORKER.

Just the thing for a boy's school Suit, and as good as ever sold for $3.50.

Mothers should see these Suits. You know value. You know your boy's clothes-wrecking propensities.

Come to us. We're full of economical suggestions. No matter what your money is, we'll help you to make it go as far as it can. Come! The verdict is nearly always in our favour. It isn't often that the careful buyer decides against us.

"TOUGH CLOTHES FOR THE BOYS" That's our Motto.

PROGRESS OF THE SEWER.

Not as Rapid as was at First Calculated. More Men Now on.

The progress of the sewer excavations along George street has not been as rapid as was expected at first that it would be. It just took three weeks to complete the portion extending from King to Charlotte streets. An extra force of men has now been put on, however, and the remainder of the work will doubtless be hurried through.

At the present rate of progress it would take twenty-one weeks to complete the George street section, but it is sincerely hoped that this will not be the case.

Half of the block extending between Charlotte and Simcoe streets is already done and the men have not been working on it more than three days, so from this it may be gathered that a block a week will be the rate of progression instead of it taking three weeks to complete a block.

As the new sewer is carried forward along the line of the old one, pipes receive the discharge from the buildings and conduct it into the new drain which is being utilized as fast as it is constructed.

FOREST FIRES IN HARVEY.

Thousands of Dollars Worth of Timber Destroyed—Due to Setting out Fires Unnecessarily.

Mr. Wm. Irwin, of East Harvey, was in town to-day and reports that the bush fires in East Harvey are still burning in places. These fires have been active nearly the whole time since about the middle of July. Thousands of acres have been burnt over in East Harvey, and tens of thousands dollars worth of timber has been destroyed. From about the 9th concession eastward the country is one blackened waste. The only redeeming feature of these forest fires is that they are not likely to occur in the same place again, for not only is the growing timber killed but the very soil is burned up down to the rocks. The destruction included a good many winter shanties on the lots. Mr. Irwin lost his stable and winter shanty, and others were similarly unfortunate. These destructive fires are simply the results of, what may be called, almost criminal carelessness in setting fires by men whose past experience should have taught them the certain destruction sure to follow the starting of fires in the midst of the dry summer season.

PRIZES DISTRIBUTED.

W. C. T. U. Awards Presented Last Evening.

At an open meeting of the local branch of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, last evening, the prizes offered to those taking the highest standing in Physiology and Temperance in the recent examinations were awarded.

Mr. Enos Maybee took first, being $5.00; Mr. Chas. Mathias second, $3.00, and Mr. L. Hawkins 3rd, $2.00.

Rev. J. J. Rae delivered an address most appropriate to the occasion, as did Mrs. Paton, the President. The latter severely criticised the action of the town authorities in permitting the enforcing of the curfew by-law to lapse, paying a high tribute to its efficiency. Addresses were also made by Messrs. Wm. Sutherland, Wm. Smith and James Smith. During the evening vocal and instrumental selections were rendered by Miss Stevenson, Miss DeLade and Miss Weddell.

A GRAND MARKET.

Oceans of Vegetables, Fruits and Dairy Produce.

The market this morning bore the the appearance of a big fall fair. There were huge quantities of every kind of farm and garden produce and fruit, especially, was brought in by the waggon load. By the appearance of the apple market the yield this year evidently surpasses by far that of any previous season in the district. Excellent eating and cooking apples can be had for from five to fifteen cents a peck. Plums are about as plentiful but of course range higher in price bringing from forty cents to a dollar a basket. Hundreds of baskets of peaches came in yesterday, and these are being sold at anywhere between fifty cents and a dollar a basket, and will probably be cheaper before nightfall. Huckleberries are not so plentiful to-day and are worth ten cents a quart, and thimbleberries are selling at the same price per box. Crab-apples are worth ten cents a peck.

On the vegetable market the sight is also a glorious one, as the market gardeners' wagons are heaped high with produce, which, although plentiful, is bringing fair prices. Cauliflowers are selling at from five cents to a York shilling a head, and cabbage is bringing about four cents. Cucumbers are now down to 10c a dozen, and tomatoes to 60c a bushel, and the housewife is therefore purchasing largely with the view of providing the household with the winter's supply of pickles and catsup. Celery brings 10c for three heads, peas 50c a peck, carrots and onions 4c a bunch, and melons from five cents each to a quarter of a dollar.

Butter keeps steady at from 18 to 20c, and eggs remain at nine and ten cents a dozen. Ducks are bringing 60 and 70c a pair, chickens 40 and 50c, and turkeys from 75c to a dollar each.

MR. DAVIS' APPOINTMENT.

The Office of Provincial Secretary Filled

Toronto Evening News.

The appointment of Hon. E. J. Davis to the portfolio of Provincial Secretary at once gives scope to the abilities of an able man, and recognition to the Methodist body in the Cabinet. The late Dr. Douglas, of Montreal, the most prominent of Methodist orators, made political recognition for members of his denomination the object of his last fight. He maintained that, since the Catholic church was a consolidated organization which could demand recognition at the hands of Cabinet makers, the Methodist church should endeavour to attain a similar perfection of organization. The fight he made in that direction has not been without results. Mr. Davis is an able and popular representative of this section of the community and can be trusted to look to the welfare of the people at large.

Toronto World.

At the Parliament Buildings yesterday Hon. E. J. Davis was sworn in as Provincial Secretary in the place of the late Hon. W. D. Balfour. Lieut.-Governor Kirkpatrick administered the oath, and the ceremony was witnessed by Premier Hardy, Hon. Messrs. Gibson, Ross and Dryden. The Member for North York secured the appointment because he had a big pull with the Methodists. It seems strange that at this stage of politics a Government should have to consult a religious body before it acts, but such is the case. The kick made at a Methodist conference in this city a year or two ago has had its effect, and at least this church ought to be satisfied with its share of office.

No one will at present be taken into the Cabinet to fill the position without portfolio formerly occupied by Mr. Davis.

Young men and old should not fail to read Thos. Slater's advertisement on page 3.

DR OPPED DEAD ON THE STREET IN TORONTO.

Sudden Demise of Mrs. Francis Mulligan, of Millbrook.

(Special to the Examiner.)

TORONTO, August 9th.—Mrs. Mulligan, an old lady who came from Millbrook, Ont., and who had been staying with friends in this city fell on the street this morning.

She was in an unconscious condition when picked up and died within half an hour.

Death was due to heart failure. Mrs. Mulligan was 60 years of age. Her husband is a retired farmer at Millbrook.

Deceased was a sister of Mr. Thomas Fee, of town, who has the contract for the transportation of the mails between the post office and the station.

LOCAL NEWS.

Good morning, have you read Thos. Slater's advertisement for men on page 2?

To-night.

Spring lamb, veal, mutton, pork and beef by the quarter. Same price as on the public market, at Kennedy's meat market.

The Mother's Reason

for buying school suits for her boys at H. LeBrun & Co.'s is that she is sure of getting good goods, stylish make and careful workmanship. She knows about these things.

That Matched Race.

Lytle and Gordon contested the second heat of their matched race at the Nicholls Park bicycle track last night, when Lytle won the heat and race. An effort was made to lower the track record but the pickups were not quick enough.

The Shooting Season.

Duck shooting commences on Tuesday next, and a number of the sports are completing arrangements to visit some of the best duck shooting grounds in this section. For their benefit it may be stated that no one shooter is allowed to take over 300 ducks, and no shooting to be done between sunset and sunrise. The season for woodcock, partridge, pheasants, etc., opens 15th September.

Back From Ottawa.

Mr. W. H. Meldrum has returned from Ottawa where he formed one of a deputation from the Miller's Association, which waited on the Government to petition that the duties on wheat and flour be not changed. They were assured that there would be no change this year and that the matter of allowing the duty to remain permanently in force would receive the serious consideration of the government.

Mechanical Drawing.

In response to a request from a number of young men of the town, Messrs. Pringle & McCrea of the Business College, have added to their already efficient night school course, a new branch, viz., Mechanical Drawing. This has been placed in the hands of Mr. A. L. Mudge of the Canadian General Electric Company—a sufficient guarantee of it being properly conducted. This course should be a popular one with the young men of our machine shops and manufacturing establishments.

Labour Day and Sturgeon Point.

The Catholic Association have completed all arrangements for their excursion to Sturgeon Point on Labour Day, Sept. 7th. A first class list of sports will be run off at the Point, for which good prizes are given, besides a baseball match. Meals can be procured by excursionists at the Point. Train leaves G. T. R. station for Lindsay at 8.25 a.m., connecting with the boat at that place. Baskets taken in charge by the committee. Tickets, 75c.; children, 35c. Good orchestra engaged.

A Cargo of School Books.

Scholars will have no difficulty in providing themselves with school books and other supplies before school opens on Monday morning. The Peterborough Bookstore has received a whole cargo, consisting of over eight tons of school books, scribiers, exercise books, pencils, slates and every other requirement necessary. Just imagine, 10,000 scribiers, 8,000 exercise books, thousands of lead and slate pencils, etc., all to be used up during the next few days by the scholars of Peterborough. See the advertisement and see the windows. Every scholar receives a present with every purchase. The Peterborough Bookstore never forgets the boys and girls. A. H. STRATTON & Co.

Death of a Former Resident.

Mr. W. C. Scott, of Desboro, County of Grey, a former resident of East Peterborough, died on the 13th inst. The Chatsworth News gives the following particulars: Mr. Wm. C. Scott was injured by a small cut on the knee a few weeks ago, which he did not at first pay serious attention to, but in a day or two a severe pain set in, and he consulted a doctor. The pain increased and soon blood poisoning set in, which was in time subdued, but his nervous system was so affected that he gradually sank until last Thursday, when he peacefully and painlessly passed away at the age of 72 years. Mr. Scott was an honest, industrious man, and highly respected by all who knew him, and his sorrowing widow and family, to whom he was a kind and indulgent husband and father, have the sympathy of numerous friends in their bereavement. He leaves a wife and family of four children, two sons and two daughters, all grown up, and living at the homestead near Desboro. The funeral took place to Greenwood Cemetery, Owen Sound, and was largely attended.

THE PARK NINE WON.

The Nine of Hearts, of Lindsay, Easily Defeated.

Although the playing of the home team was not up to the mark yesterday afternoon, they experienced no difficulty in defeating the Nine of Hearts of Lindsay. Connors for the Park Nine was very wild at times, which is something unusual for this rising young pitcher. He, however, was steady at the critical moments, and was successful in striking ten men out. McCabe did some exceptionally hard batting during the game and chased two runs in ahead of him twice.

The score was as appended:

INTERNATIONAL TROPHY.

Handsome Silver Cup Won at Toledo Emblematic of International Lake Yachting Supremacy.

When the Vencedor's challenge had been accepted last spring six ports—Toledo, Cleveland, Detroit, Port Dover, Toronto and Put-in Bay competed for the honour of providing the course for the racers and a suitable prize for the winner, and Toledo won, outbidding all the others. The Toledo International Yacht Race Association was formed and offered a handsome silver cup to be emblematic of the international championship of the Great Lakes, $1,500 in gold and all the expenses of the match. The cup was designed and manufactured by Tiffany & Company, the New York silversmiths. It is of sterling silver, stands 10¼ inches high, and the upper part is in the form of a bowl 12¼ inches in diameter, with a capacity for 13¼ pints. The bowl is supported upon a column of rocks, on either side of which are an American eagle and a British lion, and much judgment has been displayed in giving equal prominence to each of the national emblems. Around the body of the bowl is the following inscription, etched in harmony with the decorations: "Presented by Toledo Yacht Race Association. Won by ——." The name of winning yacht, date of race, etc., has been added to the inscription since the contest. A border of shells and seaweed around the bowl and a handsome base of golden ebony contribute to the beauty of the effect.

ITS RAVAGES ARE STAYED.

The Mortality from Heart Disease Decreases Wherever Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart is Known—Mrs. Margaret Smith's Miraculous Recovery by the Use of this Remedy—Leading Physicians Recommend Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder—Growing Popularity for Dr. Agnew's Ointment for Piles, and Liver Pills for Liver Ills.

Just as vaccination has proven the means of reducing mortality from that dreaded disease, small-pox, and recent scientific discoveries are having a like effect on diphtheria, so the discovery of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart is giving new life to thousands who have suffered from heart disease and have feared that death would come to them any day.

The case of Mrs. Margaret Smith of Brussels, Ont., is only one of hundreds in Canada. She says: "I was troubled with an affection of the heart for over two years, and at times the distress was such as to confine me to my bed for days, during which time my suffering was very severe, and I would have welcomed death with joy. No physician's help did me any good, not until I procured a bottle of Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart had I hope of recovery. I have now taken four bottles, and I must confess that I never felt better in my life and I am my old self again."

Not only has Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder received the warm personal recommendation of the leading clergymen of all denominations, prominent members of Parliament, and well known citizens in all parts of the Dominion, but the medical profession have been quick to speak of its excellent qualities. Dr. Godbout of Beauce, Que., is one of many physicians who is found recommending this remedy. Taken in the incipient stages of the disease it quickly banishes catarrh, but it has proven just as efficacious where the disease has assumed a chronic state, and given rise to loss of hearing and other troubles. It is an exceedingly pleasant medicine to use, as well as being a sure cure.

There is no doubt whatever of the immediate relief that Dr. Agnew's Ointment gives in cases of piles. One application brings comfort, and this disease is cured in from three to six nights. It is an excellent remedy for all skin diseases.

For a disordered stomach, sick headache, and biliousness there is no remedy so simple, easy to take and certain in its cure as Dr. Agnew's Liver Pills. They have been placed at 10 cents a vial—40 doses.

To-night.

THE ONTARIO CABINET VACANCY

Press Opinions on the Subject of Eastern Ontario Representation.

The Catholic Register.

By the death of the Provincial Secretary a vacancy is unexpectedly caused in the Ontario Government. A few weeks ago, before Mr. Hardy selected Mr. Balfour, there was a general opinion that the member for West Peterborough, Mr. Stratton, should be chosen, and The Register then endorsed this view. Now that the matter again arises, owing to the regrettable sudden death of the new Secretary, the claims of Mr. Stratton to the vacancy are paramount. The Premier will naturally desire to have his Government thoroughly representative of the whole Province, and this it can hardly be made if the members composing it are all selected from the central and western portions of Ontario. The Hon. Mr. Harty represents the Catholic people of the entire Province, and in that sense does not dispose of Eastern Ontario's right to share in Cabinet representation. Mr. Bronson of Ottawa has never had a portfolio, and does not desire one, and his position is more a personal tribute than anything else. The claim of the east on the Ministry is not of course the whole basis of the demand that Mr. Stratton should be chosen. The member for Peterborough is well fitted for a Cabinet office, possessing capacity, energy and political experience. He is well thought of in the House, where he has sat continuously for ten years, and in his own locality has the esteem of the community, so that if the Premier, as seems probable, realizes these conditions it will be generally felt that he has committed no error either in political tactics or in the selection of a colleague.

Lindsay Post.

At the time of the reconstruction of the Ontario Cabinet, caused by the retirement of Sir Oliver Mowat, The Post felt it its duty to point out the desirability of appointing a representative of Eastern Ontario to the vacant portfolio. Though there may have been reasons for making the selection that was made, these reasons cannot exist now. If the idea of representation of the different districts in the Cabinet holds good, there is no reason why the Midland district should not be represented. It has often been pointed out that of the seven members of the Ontario Cabinet only two represent ridings in the eastern half of the province. Now the ratio of importance of the east and the west is certainly not that of two to seven. The great northern and eastern sections of the province with their varied interests, demand the presence in the cabinet of another minister for either of these districts—one who is perfectly in touch with their interests, one who can give advice in the counsels of the cabinet on matters affecting them from personal knowledge. We know that we voice the sentiment of the people of the east and north, irrespective of politics, when we press our claim for the better representation of the districts named, in the cabinet, and we feel that our appeal to Hon. Premier Hardy's sense of fair play will not be made in vain. We assume that he is free now to do what is just in the matter of cabinet representation by selecting as a colleague an eastern member for the position.

Cobourg World.

During the process of reconstructing the Ontario Cabinet, upon the retirement of Sir Oliver Mowat, considerable strong sentiment was aroused in the press and otherwise in favour of increased representation from Eastern Ontario in the Cabinet. This feeling was by no means removed by the appointment of the late Provincial Secretary, Mr. Balfour, the sitting member for the most western riding in the province. And now that his career has unfortunately been cut short by death the feeling referred to has revived and Eastern Ontario expects that its just claims will receive respectful consideration. We have heretofore been content, or at least quiescent, with two representatives out of seven. And even of these two only one, Hon. Mr. Dryden, can be said to be a representative of the East, for Hon. Mr. Bronson is without portfolio, and Hon Mr. Harty, as the representative of an important class of the community, belongs to one part of the province as much as another. Now we have a chance of having the preponderence of western representation balanced to a certain extent by the selection of an eastern representative, and we have every trust in Hon. Mr. Hardy's sense of fair play and justice to do what is right and what we eastern people strongly feel should be done in filling the present vacancy in the Cabinet.

Nervous Prostration

Is a deplorable condition of body, to which the mind to some degree responds; the sufferer becomes a victim to a legion of disagreeable sensations, arising from the impairment or exhaustion of nerve or vital force. Sleeplessness, too, comes to rob the sufferer of nature's sweetest solace and restorer, and a disorded digestive function contributes its quota to the already full cup of misery. Cure is possible in one way only—the nervous system must be strengthened; the digestive and assimilative function must be restored.

Maltine with Coca Wine, more than any preparation known to medical science, combines the two essentials required in these cases. Maltine with Coca Wine possesses tonic properties that are directed in a very special way to the nerve centres, giving them tone, vigor and the staying power so much needed, while just as efficaciously does it aid and strengthen all the processes of digestion. Thus we have the production of all the elements of adequate nutrition, which, inevitably, is certain to give health, strength and vigor. Maltine with Coca Wine is sold by all druggists.

Are made with special reference to the needs of Canada's daughters. Fits you like a glove and you like to wear it. Sold by R. FAIR 183 Gerrard St. eodw

The man with a weight on his leg can't hope to win in the race. A man with a weight on his health can't expect to compete in life and business with those who are not handicapped. A man who spends two-thirds of his time in business, and one-third of his time being sick, cannot be expected to accomplish more than two-thirds as much as the man who attends to business all the time. If his brain is heavy, and his blood sluggish, because of constipation, he will not succeed in doing anything very well. Constipation is the cause of nine-tenths of all sickness. It isn't considered sickness by most people, but it is just the same. It is serious sickness, because it causes almost all of the ill-health of mankind. Symptoms of it are sallowness, listlessness, poor appetite, bad taste in the mouth, dizziness, biliousness, and lassitude. Constipation can be cured easily and certainly by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are perfectly simple—perfectly safe. They are not at all violent in their action, and yet they are more certain than many medicines which are so strong that they put the system all out of order. The great advantage of the "Pleasant Pellets" is that they cure permanently. You don't have to keep on taking them. You don't acquire a "pellet habit." Take them regularly for a while, and you are cured permanently. After that, take them only when you find yourself suffering from indigestion. There are many medicines offered for the same purpose on which druggists make a bigger profit. For this reason, some druggists would rather sell the other things. If your own health is of more importance to you than the druggist's prosperity, you will insist on having what you ask for.

BILLY BRYAN AT BUFFALO.

The Man Who Wants to Be President Received a Most Enthusiastic Reception Last Night.

Buffalo, Aug. 27.—No public man ever received a heartier welcome in Buffalo during a political campaign than that given William J. Bryan tonight. The ovation was, in fact, continuous from the time Mr. Bryan reached the Lake Shore station at 3.30 o'clock this afternoon, after a journey of two hours and a half from Erie, marked by no incidents of interest, until he escaped from the crowd just before midnight and went to bed. Few meetings Mr. Bryan has addressed since his nomination were as enthusiastic as that at the Music Hall, where his principal speech was made; none was more so. From a political standpoint it was considered of the greatest importance, for it was the first meeting held in New York to ratify the nominations of Bryan and Sewall with the sanction, nominal if not actual, of the State Democratic organization and furthermore, it was delivered in the home city of President Cleveland. Judged from the amount of enthusiasm manifested when Mr. Bryan defended the free coinage plank of the Chicago platform, the audience seemed largely in sympathy with the financial policy outlined, and at one point where silver was eulogized as a money, the ardor of the audience went beyond the bounds within which it had been previously held.

NOT SOMETIMES, BUT ALWAYS.

The Great South American Remedies Are Specifics That Cure Always—A Merrickville Lumberman Prostrated With Nervous Debility, Regains his old Strength by the Use of South American Nervine—Mrs. J. Hallam, of Berlin, Ont., Cured of Kidney Disease of Eighteen Months' Standing by South American Kidney Cure—Bedridden for Five Months, South American Rheumatic Cure Effects a Complete Cure.

With the great South American Remedies it is not the case of occasionally hitting the mark. These remedies are specifics for indigestion and nervous prostration, kidney trouble and rheumatism, and taken by those suffering in this manner are sure to cure.

NERVOUS DEBILITY—Mr. E. Merritt, lumber merchant and mill owner, of Merrickville, Ont., became completely prostrated by nervous debility. "I tried," said he, "several doctors, and everything in the shape of proprietary medicines and got little if any relief from them. Having seen South American advertised I decided to give it a trial and I can truthfully say I had not taken half a bottle before I found beneficial effects. Before taking it I had not only to give up business but I could not sign my own name, either with pen or pencil, my nervous system was so badly out of kilter. To-day, after taking two bottles, I am as strong and healthy as ever."

KIDNEY DISEASE—Few worse cases of kidney disease are on record than that of Mrs. J. Hallam, wife of the well-known flour and feed merchant of Berlin, Ont. At times the pain suffered was so intense as to produce fainting spells, and it was dangerous to have her left alone in the house. She says: "I doctored, and in fact tried everything, but nothing seemed to relieve me for any length of time. I saw South American Kidney Cure advertised, and purchased a bottle. Relief came in a few days, and the second bottle cured me of all kidney trouble."

RHEUMATISM—At 120 Church street, Toronto, there resides Mr. W. J. Tracie, who was a great sufferer from rheumatism for many years, and was entirely bedridden for five months. Nothing did him any good until South American Rheumatic Cure was taken. His words are these: "You do not know how thankful I am for having tried South American Rheumatic Cure. For years I had suffered, suffered intensely and could get no relief, until I was influenced to use this remedy. How great a sufferer I was known to hundreds of citizens in Toronto. You are at liberty to use my name in any way you like."

Thankful to B. B. B.

DEAR SIRS,—I am thankful to Burdock Blood Bitters that I am strong and healthy to-day. I suffered from biliousness and bilious fever so much that I was out of my mind night after night, but I am now entirely cured by the use of B. B. B.

THE BOMBARDMENT OF ZANZIBAR.

Palace Reduced to Ruins and the Usurping Sultan a Prisoner British Marines Made Short Work of It.

London, Aug. 27.—Almost all of the daily papers this morning contain somments upon the situation in Zanzibar. Leading editorials in The Chronicle and Daily News favor the annexation of Zanzibar with a view to the suppression of the slave trade. The Times, however, considers this rather a doubtful policy.

Only One Britisher Hurt.

London, Aug. 27.—Later advices from Zanzibar say the loss of Said Kalid's force was heavy, but the exact number of the killed and wounded is not known. The only casualty on the British side was the serious injuring of one seaman. No material damage was sustained by the British war vessels.

Hamond, a cousin of the late Sultan, has been proclaimed successor to the Sultanate.

The Ladies in the Warship.

Zanzibar, Aug. 27.—Many of the British residents boarded the warships lying in the harbor before the bombardment began, all of the ladies taking refuge upon the St. George, the flagship of Rear Admiral Harry H. Rawson, but a large number of Europeans remained on shore. Most of the rebels stood to their guns pluckily and fought well, though after the first broadside was fired from the warships a number of the defenders of the palace fled to the outskirts of the town, where many robberies were committed. All of the persons on board the steamer Glasgow, which was sunk by the fire of the British vessels, were rescued by boats from the bombarding ships. Among them were a large number who had been wounded. Several Indian soldiers were killed during the firing. The Thrush was hit sixty-two times and the Racoon sixteen times by shots from the guns of the rebels.

DEPRESSION IN THE STATES.

It Has Begun to be Felt—Many Firms Assign and Others Close Their Works—The List Yesterday.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—The Avenue Savings Bank made an assignment this morning. The assets amount to $170,000 and the liabilities about the same. George L. Magill is the owner of the bank.

Bridgeport, Conn., Aug. 27.—The Southport Paper Box Company closed its factory to-day and shut 220 operatives out of employment. The company has orders enough on hand, but could not collect money enough to pay running expenses.

Boston, Aug. 27.—The Emerson Piano Co. has failed. Liabilities $150,000.

Hammond, Ind., Aug. 27.—Workmen employed in the Illinois Steel Company's local plant were informed yesterday that the furnace fires would be drawn on Saturday afternoon, when the mill will close for an indefinite period. General depression in business is the cause attributed for the shut-down, but it is given out by Geo. H. Hyde, assistant superintendent, that the concern never will be operated again by the Illinois Steel Co. Some 300 men are out.

Chicago, Aug. 27.—The Elgin Sewing Machine and Bicycle Co. has assigned. Assets are estimated at $150,000 and liabilities at $100,000.

Philadelphia, Aug. 27.—The carpet factory of Lulen C. Krisher, in this city, was closed to-day. The assets and liabilities are not known.

New York, Aug. 27.—John T. Van Wyck, commission merchant at 72 Front-street, has made an assignment.

Boston, Aug. 27.—Messrs. C. J. Faxon & Co. of this city and Newark, N.J., manufacturers of bicycles and hardware, have assigned. The firm had a reported capital of from $50,000 to $75,000.

New York, Aug. 27.—White & Sonte, carpet dealers, assigned to-day. Liabilities $80,000, nominal assets $70,000.

General Cameron is Out.

Kingston, Ont., Aug. 24.—Major-General Cameron, commandant of the Royal Military College, has been relieved of office by the Dominion Government and is packing up.

"I was in Ottawa last week," he said to a reporter, "and while there I was asked to vacate by Aug. 31. The summons came unexpectedly. I had made all necessary plans for remaining here and educating my family. I may go to Montreal, but I cannot say anything definite. No, the Government has not taken me into its confidence and I do not know who my successor is to be."

The General has been here eight years. He says his record is before the people and he is willing to defend it in any open way. He is on the retired list of the Royal Artillery and gets a good pension. He thinks the Government should give him a year's salary in seeking his removal in such short order.

Light in Asia—It Shines Clearly.

MESSRS. T. MILBURN & CO., TORONTO:

Dear Sirs,—There is light in Asia after all and the man that advised me to try your Heart and Nerve Pills was a friend indeed and truly a friend in need. Before I started to take them I was languid, weak, sleepless and nervous. My brain was beclouded and I could not collect my thoughts, I had gone through an operation in the hope of relief, but still remained generally broken up, my appetite was gone and I was almost without hope or ambition.

But I feel thoroughly rebuilt through the use of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and it took only three or four weeks to do the work. I often think of the years of suffering I might have escaped had I only known of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills in time; but I am grateful to be restored to health at last and gladly recommend the medicine that cured.

AN AWFUL TRAGEDY.

Mrs. Charles W. Green Kills Her Three Babes and Then Shoots Herself—She Was Insane.

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 28.—At noon today the family of Charles W. Green, travelling passenger agent of the Big Four Railway, consisting of Mrs. Green and three children, were found dead in their home. All the little ones were in their beds and the mother lay dead in a doorway with a revolver by her side. The murder or suicide is supposed to have occurred Wednesday morning about 3 o'clock, as at that hour neighbors heard pistol shots near the Green home, but no investigation was made until the non-appearance of the Green family led to an enquiry. Mrs. Green had not undressed for bed, and it was evident that she had put the children to bed, waiting until they were asleep and then sent them into eternity. The only explanation of the terrible crime is that Mrs. Green was crazy. Mr. Green is now on his way from Salt Lake. His friends say his home life was especially happy.

CURED BY USING

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral

A PREACHER'S EXPERIENCE.

"Three months ago, I took a violent cold which resulted in an attack of acute bronchitis. I put myself under medical treatment, and at the end of two months was no better. I found it very difficult to preach, and concluded to try Ayer's Cherry

Pectoral. The first bottle gave me great relief; the second, which I am now taking, has relieved me almost entirely of all unpleasant symptoms, and I feel sure that one or two bottles more will effect a permanent cure. SASKATCHEWAN DECLARED VACANT

Messrs. Devlin and Dupont Have a Little Tilt—Sir Oliver Mowat Makes His Maiden Speech in the Senate—Hon. Mr. Ferguson Replies to Him.

Ottawa, Aug. 27.—The feature of today's discussion in the House was a bit of cross-firing between Sir C. H. Tupper and the new Minister of Finance, Hon. Mr. Fielding.

Mr. Laurier informed Mr. Lemieux that the Government had not considered whether it would take part in the Paris Exposition in 1900. Answering the same gentleman regarding the Baie Chaleur Railway, Mr. Laurier said the Quebec Government had suggested the purchasing by the Dominion of that railway. The late Government, by order-in-council, replied that the purchase could only be made by authority of Parliament, but that the proposition would receive consideration at an early date.

Sir Charles Tupper asked the Premier if he would make his election as to which constituency he would sit for.

Mr. Laurier replied that the seat for Saskatchewan became vacant when he accepted office.

Sir Charles Tupper stated the reason he asked the question was because the Speaker yesterday said he had no notice that the vacancy had occurred.

Mr. Laurier said that as soon as the Speaker's attention was called to the fact of the vacancy in the proper way the warrant for the writ for another election would be issued.

Sir Charles Tupper thereupon formally notified the Speaker that the seat was vacant.

Mr. McCarthy suggested that it might be as well for Sir Charles to move the Speaker should issue his warrant for a writ.

Sir Charles accordingly made that motion and it was duly carried.

Mr. Dupont resumed the debate on the address. He had not proceeded far in his criticism of the Liberal course on the Remedial Bill, when Mr. Devlin interrupted. The member for Wright arose and asked why, if the late Government was serious about the Remedial Bill, it had opposed him in the election, after he had voted for the measure.

Mr. Dupont's reply was that he supposed the reason was Mr. Devlin's subsequent repentance for having voted against his leader on that occasion.

Mr. Devlin thereupon declared if Mr. Dupont could prove his assertion he would resign his seat.

Mr. Dupont retorted that at Bohmer Park in Montreal, in Mr. Laurier's presence, Mr. Devlin gave abundant evidence of repentance.

Mr. Devlin, somewhat warmly, repeated his offer to resign if proof could be brought of the honorable member's charge, which he pronounced to be a falsehood.

At this Mr. Speaker intervened, order was restored, and Mr. Dupont proceeded to say that for proof of his observation he need only refer Mr. Devlin to reports of that speech of his published in the Liberal papers.

Mr. Beausoleil closed the debate and the address was adopted without a division.

On motion to adjourn, Mr. Dobell rose to make a personal explanation of the reasons which made him join the Liberal Administration. He began by stating it had been charged he had been bought by a five dollar bill. (Laughter.) The gist of his explanation was that he lost all confidence in the gentlemen on the other side.

Mr. Casgrain: At what date?

Mr. Dobell did not fix any specific date for his conversion, but went on to remark that the treachery of the Conservative party to their leader —(Liberal cheers)—disgusted him. The Conservatives were doing their utmost to disturb the harmony existing in the Liberal ranks and this disgusted him more with the Conservatives. He concluded by assuring the House he was supremely happy in his present company.

The House adjourned at 10.20.

IN THE UPPER HOUSE.

Sir Oliver Mowat Says Some Kind Things About the Much-Abused Senate.

Ottawa, Aug. 27.—(Special.)—The debate on the address in the Senate was continued by Sir Oliver Mowat, who briefly dealt with the question of supplies. On the Manitoba school question he said, after hearing all that could be said on that subject, he had every hope that this troublesome question would be satisfactorily settled. He was not going to discuss or defend the remedy which might be applied at the present time, but he could assure the House that when it was propounded it would be worthy of the defence of all right-thinking men. No reasonable person could expect the Government to announce its intentions on the tariff this session. The Liberal Government had no cut and dried tariff ready for presentation to Parliament, any more than the Government of Sir John Macdonald had when elected to power in 1878. The Government would proceed in the matter with every care, and next session would be prepared to tell the House exactly what it proposed to do. He trusted that when that time came and the bill was presented for the consideration of Parliament every right-thinking man in both Houses would give the measure fair and just consideration. It was true there was a large Conservative majority in the Senate, which might block the legislation of the Government, but he would never have accepted a senatorship had he not believed the Senate to be workable, even under a Liberal Government.

Though differing in their political convictions, members of the Senate thought alike upon many questions, and had many common interests. All were loyal to the Queen —(cheers)— to the British Empire and to Canada. (Cheers.) All would suffer or benefit from the change in the tariff and he felt sure the bill would be carefully and judicially considered. He had heard much about the uselessness of the Senate and the advanced age of its members, but he thought that there were few of the Senators who had the advantage in age of such eminent men as Sir Charles Tupper, who had been chosen by his party to lead in the recent contest and in the Lower House. Sir John Macdonald had for years directed the affairs of the nation at an age greater than most of the members of the Senate, and the late Premier, Sir Mackenzie Bowell. In fact, few senators had the advantage of himself in matters of age, and he had been chosen to conduct the Department of Justice in the new Government. Then the Senate was composed of men who had long experience in fulfilment of the highest offices in the gift of the nation, and were able to bring a rich store of experience into the consideration of all measures submitted to them. Considering all these reasons, he had no doubt he would find the Senate a workable body, despite the great Opposition majority. Speaking for himself, he had had a varied experience, and as a member of the Confederation Conference he had had something to do with the constitution of the Senate. He and Hon. William Macdougall were the only members of the Quebec Conference who favored an elective Senate. He was now an old man and expected to end his days as a member of that House, and, being in a sense responsible for the constitution of the body, he would do all in his power to make the Senate acceptable to the people of Canada.

Sir Frank Smith: The Senate has existed for 18 years now and it is fair to assume that it has always been acceptable to the people of Canada.

Sir Oliver Mowat: "Yes, but I am afraid only to the people of one political persuasion." He thought that much could be done under the existing constitution of the Senate to make it a more important branch of the Federal Legislature, and more acceptable to all classes of the Canadian people.

Senator Ferguson congratulated Sir Oliver and the Senate upon his elevation to a seat in the Senate. After all the kind things he had said of the Senate, it was difficult for him to believe him guilty of heterodoxy upon the subject. The effect of the kind things he had said was to some extent destroyed by the knowledge that he had not always held these flattering opinions about the Senate. He had a recollection of certain resolutions passed by the inter-provincial conference at Quebec, at which Sir Oliver presided, and the Liberal Convention held at Ottawa, which were in no sense complimentary to the Senate. He criticised Sir Oliver's letter to Hon. Wilfrid Laurier in May last, with regard to his accepting a seat in the Senate, which, he said, implied a threat that, unless the Senate pursued a certain line, it might become necessary to bring about certain constitutional changes affecting the Upper House. He could only say with regard to the threat contained in the letter, that the best proof of its not being necessary was to be found in the speech which he (Sir Oliver) had just delivered.

Senator Boulton moved the adjournment of the debate.

ASTONISHING CURE.

George Baker, fur dyer, 14 Stayner street, Toronto, Ont., was cured by Ryckman's "Kootenay Cure" of inflammatory rheumatism, which he had for over a year so badly that he was barely able to walk. He now walks ten miles without fatigue, is free from all pain, and an all round healthy man. He makes sworn statement to the above facts before J. W. Seymour Corley, Notary Public, July 10, 1896.

Fifty years of success in curing diarrhœa, dysentery, cholera, cramps, bowel complaints of summer and fall, etc., stamp Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry as the best remedy in the market. It saves children's lives.

in a surprisingly short time. It's a scientific organism, tried and true, soothing and healing in its effects.

W. C. McCOMBER & SON, Bouchette, Que., report in a letter that Pyny-Pectoral cured Mrs. C. Guenet of chronic cold in chest and bronchial tubes, and also cured W. C. McComber of a long-standing cold.

MR. J. H. HENRY, Chemist, 328 Yonge St., Toronto, writes: "As a general cough and lung syrup Pyny-Pectoral is a most invaluable preparation. It has given the utmost satisfaction to all who have tried it, many having a claim to use of the benefits derived from its use in their families. It is suitable for old or young, being pleasant to the taste. Its sale with me has been wonderful, and I can always recommend it as a safe and reliable cough medicine."

THE ESTIMATES DOWN.

They are Approximately Mr. Foster's Figures With a Cut of $25,000 in the Toronto Harbor Vote.

Ottawa, Aug. 27th—(Special.)—The estimates for the current fiscal year were brought down to-night. It had been officially announced that the Government would accept the estimates prepared by Mr. Foster and the Fielding series shows this to be the case approximately. A comparison of the two sets shows an increase in pensions of $4500, superannuations $5000, subsidies to provinces $3500, redemption of debt $500,000 on the debentures falling due Dec. 1.

There are decreases under the heading of public works to the amount of $30,000. A vote of $13,000 for Picton postoffice is dropped, while the Toronto harbor vote was cut down by $25,000.

R. O. Blayney Makes a Number of New Records.

The C. W. A. Racing Board bulletin of yesterday announces that for violation of section 27 of the track rules dealing with ungentlemanly conduct Angus McLeod has been suspended from all track racing until September 20. The board directs referees to be strict in reporting violations of this section of the rules.

At Simcoe yesterday A. A. Adams of that town won the mile invitation events W. R. Crombie, West Association Club of Toronto, second, and H. Sovereen, of Simcoe, third. Time, 2.44. R. O. Blayney won the mile open in 2.11, with Adams second and Crombie third. In the five mile race Blayney won, establishing new Canadian competition records at three, four and five miles. The times were:—2.14 3-5, 4.34 1-5, 7.03, 9.22, 11.14 1 5. Tucker and Boake of Toronto did the tandem racing. Blayney, it will be remembered, was beaten by Little, of Peterborough, at Port Hope.

A Continental Reputation.

Paine's Celery Compound and its Thousands of Advocates.

Go where you will over the whole North American continent you will hear Paine's Celery Compound spoken of; and in every village, town and city you will find some, who through the Compound's power, have found health and new life.

People delight in telling to others what Paine's Celery Compound has done for them. No wonder that there are tens of thousands of ardent and enthusiastic missionaries all over the continent speaking good words about Paine's Celery Compound to those who need a curing and a healing medicine. The friends who have spoken for and recommended Paine's Celery Compound have done more to advance the reputation of earth's best medicine than all the newspaper articles ever published.

The great majority of diseases that end in misery and death might be quickly and permanently cured if sick persons could only be induced to use Paine's Celery Compound.

The wonderful medicine has a noble record of cures—an array of testimony that is truly magnificent and astonishing. The rheumatic, dyspeptic, nervous, sleepless, weak, run-down, and those tormented with blood diseases are soon made well and strong by Paine's Celery Compound. Even if your doctor has doubts about your case, Paine's Celery Compound will surely and certainly give you the bloom of health and long years of happiness.

Let your druggist or dealer know that you must have "Paine's," as imitations cannot meet your case.

When Should a Man Swear?

Man is not only a reasoning but a swearing animal. Sometimes his feelings are expressed audibly and at others they are so deep down in his nature that nothing less than a volcano would thrust them to the surface. If a man should swear at all, when should that time be? The church is silent on this important matter and the law gives no sanction to cuss words. Stovepipes are provocative of bad feeling, but corns are far worse. Wives should see that their husband's corns are kept down. This may be done quite easily, painlessly and with absolute certainty by Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Beware of flesh-eating substitutes offered for Putnam's Corn Extractr.

NEWS NUGGETS.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—Water street is being smoothed down with the town scraper and roller.

—All fishing tackle and rods, and hammocks, selling at cost at SALISBURY'S.

Passenger traffic on the Grand Trunk and Midland is very brisk just at present.

—Owing to the large number of farmers in town to-day business was very brisk amongst the merchants.

Every man should read the advertisement of Thos. Slater, on page 3 of this paper.

—Owing to the construction of the sewer the power is cut off from the Grand Central elevator for a few days.

—Mr. W. H. Manning will be in his office on and after Saturday, the fifth day of September next. 101-2w

—What with Water street covered with loose stones and George street torn up, the bicyclists have a hard time getting around.

—At St. John's, to-morrow, Rev. J. C. Davidson will take the services in the morning and Rev. Carl Smith in the evening.

—The North Star's cargo down the river this afternoon consisted chiefly of duck hunters and their slaughtering impedimenta.

—The date of the ordination of Rev. Father Duffy at Cobourg is next Sunday and not to-morrow as previously announced.

—Miss McCabe will re-open her class in music on Sept. 1st, at the Peterborough Music Store, 404 George street. Will also accept engagements to play at evening parties. m-w-s —A citizen pointed out this morning the danger in hoisting buckets of tar, etc., to top of buildings without the sidewalk being fenced off to prevent persons from walking beneath.

—A special meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Board will be held in the rooms on Monday, Aug. 31st, at 3 30. A full attendance is requested as business of importance will be discussed.

—The old brass locks on the mail bags have been changed to a steel clamp lock fastened to the bag by a chain. The change is being made throughout the whole postal system, and it is giving good satisfaction.

—Dog days have gone, and duck days are what the sportsmen are looking forward to impatiently, whilst boys and girls are wishing for a slower revolution of the wheels of time, as school days are approaching all to quickly for them.

—The duck hunting season commences next Tuesday. Harry Neil and party have already planted several tents on the various islands of Rice lake adapted to duck shooting. No doubt that their graces will be more lengthy than usual. Last summer's outing was an exceedingly successful one, and it is thought that this season's shoot will surpass that of other years.

—An error has been discovered in the new marriage regulation and the Department of the Provincial Secretary is directing circulars hither and thither to all the issuers of marriage licenses and other officials and the ministers of the Gospel. In the printed instructions it is stated that a man or woman may not marry certain classes connected by consanguinity, but it is not stated that a man shall not marry his brother's wife or that a woman shall not marry her husband's brother. The circular directs that these classes be added to the list of impossible marriages.

PIANO AND HOME

THE PIANO IS NO LONGER CLASSED AS ONE OF THE LUXURIES OF THE HOME TO BE ENJOYED ONLY BY THE RICH. IT HAS BECOME A NECESSITY AND THE PART IT PLAYS AS A SOURCE OF PLEASURE AND INSPIRATION IN THE HOME HAS MADE IT ONE OF THE ESSENTIALS IN MODERN HOME LIFE. BUYING A PIANO FOR THE HOME IS A LIFETIME INVESTMENT. GREAT CARE SHOULD BE EXERCISED IN ITS SELECTION. A POOR PIANO IS A NEVER ENDING SOURCE OF TROUBLE. A GOOD PIANO COSTS BUT LITTLE MORE TO BUY AND COSTS LESS TO KEEP, AND ALSO IMPROVES IN TONE AND ACTION WITH USE. THE BEST IS THE BEST INVESTMENT. THE REPUTATION OF THE MAKER IS ITS BEST GUARANTEE.

NEWS FROM OTTAWA

Lord Russell a Guest at Government House.

A SCOTCH LADY'S PECULIAR LETTER

Wants to Come to Canada to Make Her Own Living—Is Possessed of Various Accomplishments—Imports From Spain May Come in Under the French Treaty.

Ottawa, Aug. 30.—(Special.)—Lord Russell of Killowen, Lord Chief Justice of England, accompanied by Lady Russell, Miss Russell, Mr. Charles Russell, Sir Frank and Lady Lockwood, Mr. M. Crackenthorpe, Q.C., and Mr. James Fox, arrived in the city yesterday from Montreal. They reached Ottawa by the C.P.R. train at 1.50, travelling in a special car. The distinguished visitors were met by Capt. Wilberforce, Aide-de-Camp to His Excellency Lord Aberdeen, and immediately proceeded to Rideau Hall. In the afternoon, accompanied by His Excellency Lord Aberdeen, Lord Russell and party witnessed the lacrosse match at Lansdowne Park between the Capitals and Tecumsehs. Lord Russell will remain in the city until probably next Thursday evening.

Mr. John R. Hall, Secretary of the Immigration Department, receives some peculiar letters, and recently an epistle came to him that he hardly knows what to do with. A lady residing near Edinburgh, aged about 34, writes that her brother is coming to Canada shortly, and as she is desirous of earning her own living, she would like to come also if she can find employment. She is evidently gifted by the letter she writes, has a good education, is a good housekeeper and dairy hand, has a full knowledge of dressmaking, a first-class nurse, and an excellent cook. She wants information as to the prospects for such a person. To anyone wanting a first-class housekeeper this should be an excellent opportunity. The name and address of the lady may be had at the Department of the Interior.

An order in council has been passed which states: "That having reference to the order in council of March 2, 1896, admitting the claim of Spain to participate in the advantages conceded to France under the so-called French treaty, authority be given for the refund of any excess of duty on articles affected by the treaty, being the product of and imported from Spain, which may have been paid between the date the RFrench treaty went into effect, that is to say, from and after Oct. 14, 1895, and the time when Spain was allowed to participate in the benefits of the treaty. Entries may therefore be amended, and applications for refund of duty made accordingly. Satisfactory proof, however, must be given of the Spanish origin of the articles upon which a refund of excess of duty is claimed."

Mr. Mountain, Chief Engineer of the Ottawa, Arnprior and Parry Sound Railway, has just returned from a trip to the western end of the line. He states that track laying has begun from Emsdale eastward, and that six miles are now laid. Track laying from the east end westward will begin Sept. 1, and Ottawa and Parry Sound will be united by a band of iron early in November. The work has gone on well this summer, and the line will be completed sooner than was expected. It is likely passenger trains will be running through to Parry Sound early in December

Sir Henri Joly will accompany Li Hung Chang in his tour of Canada, on behalf of the Government.

Solicitor-General Fitzpatrick and A. S. Hurd of Sherbrooke have been appointed Queen's counsel.

THE D.R.A. MATCHES.

Marksmen are Flocking to Ottawa From All Over the Dominion.

Ottawa, Aug. 30.—(Special.)—A very heavy rain during the afternoon and evening, and an overcast sky was not a very promising outlook for the shooting men in the city for the D.R.A. matches, opening to-morrow morning. As a rule "Old Probs," is very kind to the riflemen, and hundreds went to meet on the Rideau range on the Sunday and look over the old familiar ground. To-day was an exception to the rule, and the regulars' and militiamen's camp could only look uncomfortable, while those more comfortably housed in the hotels, exchanged greetings and recalled many happy recollections of days gone by. With good weather to-morrow the 27th matches of the D.R.A promise to be the best on record. Lt.-Col. Bacon has already about reached the top notch, and a liberal margin may always fairly be left for post entries. There is no doubt that the free issue of 1885 ammunition by the Militia Department will lead to an increased attendance, as while this is a small matter for British Columbia and Nova Scotia men, it is a great consideration for the battalions in the immediate vicinity and there will be green shots galore.

The Russell House and other hotels present a lively scene to-night and almost without exception the old-time crack shots, such as the Ogg, the Harps, the McVitties and the Mitchells are all on hand.

The array of tents and marquees is larger than usual, as special provision has been made for an extra amount of entertaining. This will probably see the last of the old Rideau range, with its many successes and still more frequent disappointments, and the executive are putting forward an extra effort to make it a particularly pleasant week.

On Thursday Lt.-Col. Gibson and Mrs. Gibson will receive and present the prizes up to date. Lord and Lady Aberdeen, Hon. Wilfrid Laurier and many distinguished guests will be present. On Thursday evening the kickers make their annual kick, when range officers and ammunition may be expected to be severely dealt with, should any occasion arise. Firing opens to-morrow at 8 a.m., when the 500 yards extra series targets will be available for a few test shots, before the more serious work commences with the nursery at 9 o'clock.

The Queen's Own, 10th Royals, 48th Highlanders and 13th of Hamilton are well represented, most of their men being here.

Range officers for the week are as follows: Lt.-Col. Hodgins, G.C.F.G., chief executive officer; Major McLaren, 13th Battalion; Major Heron, G.G. F.G.; Major Mutton, Queen's Own Rifles; Major Evans, Royal Canadian Dragoons; Capt. Aumond, retired list; Capt. Winter, reserve of officers; Capt. Brown, P.L.D.G.; Capt. Fitzstuart, 43rd Battalion; Lieut. Burns, 5th Royal Scots; chief statistical officer, Major Walsh.

A CRISIS APPROACHING.

The Powers at Last Send a Joint Note to the Porte—Thousands Recently Slaughtered.

Constantinople, Aug. 29 (delayed in transmission).—Great uneasiness prevails among the British residents of the villages on the shores of the Bosphorus, where a number of hunted Armenians have sought refuge. It is feared that their houses will be attacked. Michael Herbert, the British charge d'affaires, has ordered the British guardship Dryad to receive all families desiring protection, and any British vessels in port may be requisitioned in case of necessity. There is also much anxiety in the suburbs, where many Europeans having Armenian servants are afraid of being attacked. The American College at Hissar and the bible house at Stambul are guarded by troops. United States Minister Terrell visited Hissar yesterday to ascertain if the Americans were safe. His visit had a reassuring effect, and the chief of police of Hissar told Mr. Terrell that all measures had been taken to preserve order.

The latest estimate of the number of persons killed during the rioting on Wednesday is 2000. The French charge d'affaires here counted 500 bodies which were deposited in one cemetery alone. The powers have sent a joint note to the Sultan protesting against the slaughter which accompanied the disturbances, to which His Majesty answered that all possible precautions against the outbreak had been taken, and were still being observed with augmented force. Hon. M. Herbert, Secretary of the British Embassy, is endeavoring to secure the lives and safety of the hundreds of Armenians who are still hiding in various buildings. Reports are coming in frequently of outrages in the suburbs of Constantinople, especially beyond Scutari. Mr. Herbert has chartered the steamer Hungary to transport any English families who are desirous of leaving, and many persons have already boarded her. The scenes in the harbor are of the liveliest description. Hundreds of persons are flocking to the water front and taking refuge on board foreign ships. Although order in the city has been fairly restored, the situation is still such as to cause great anxiety.

TRAGEDY IN AN ASYLUM.

One Insane Patient in a State of Frenzy Pounds Another Patient to Death—Terrible Injuries Shown.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 29.—At 4 o'clock this morning Samuel Wallace, from Butler County, and Harry Heinbaugh, from Somerset County, charity patients confined in the Dixmount Hospital for the Insane, became involved in a quarrel. The nurse ran to the scene of the disturbance and found Wallace lying across a bed, the blood pouring from wounds on his head. Heinbaugh, in an insane frenzy, was pounding his victim over the head with a heavy iron bucket. Aid was summoned and Heinbaugh was overpowered. Wallace died at 3 p.m. Four terrible gashes and numerous lesser cuts were found on his head, while the body, from the shoulders to the hips, was a mass of bruises and cuts. Heinbaugh was soon quieted of his frenzy, but can tell nothing about the tragedy. A coroner's inquest was held and a verdict was rendered exonerating the asylum officials from all blame.

YOUNG MAN IN TROUBLE.

Arrested on a Charge of Abstracting Money From Letters in East London.

London, Ont., Aug. 29.—A young man named Graham, employed as a clerk in the post office at East London, is under arrest upon a very serious charge. The warrant alleges that the prisoner, during July and August abstracted money from several letters passing through the office. Graham had been about the office but a short time. He is alleged to have opened letters and after abstracting the money therein, or a portion of it, to have sealed the letters up again.

A PACKED CAUCUS

Is What the Irish Convention at Dublin Will Be

ACCORDING TO A CORRESPONDENT

Many Canadian and United States Delegates Will Not Attend—When the Disposal of the Paris Fund Was Mooted it Was Decided to Limit Discussion.

New York, Aug. 30.—Mr. Harold Frederic cables from London to The Times: It is not surprising that the more sensible delegates from the United States and Canada to the Tuesday's convention in Dublin of the Irish race at home and abroad should have either returned home before it opened or contracted convenient illnesses, which will prevent their attendance. The gathering will be merely a Dillon caucus, packed deliberately, so far as the Irish and English delegates are concerned, in the interest of his control of the Parliamentary organization. The resolutions which are to be submitted to it have been prepared by Dillon's little clique, and the presentation of no others is to be permitted. Some of the Canadian delegates, I am told, incautiously revealed their intention to ask what has become of the Paris fund, and the result was a hurried conference of the clique and a decision to limit the discussion to the subjects on the agenda. Even if the convention were a representative body, instead of a bogus affair, which is boycotted and condemned by nearly all the priesthood and four-fifths of the intelligent Nationalists of the country, it is impossible to see what it could do. Dillon is merely a sessional chairman of the Parliamentary party, subject to re-election at each session, and to order the party to re-elect him at the next session would be merely a stupid interference with the rights of members. It would be still more futile to bid the Irish people to accept him as their National leader, because a leader is a man who leads, and no number of cooked resolutions can invest a man with the faculties of leadership if he was born without them. However, it is waste of space to talk about this ridiculous convention at all.

MR. CHAMBERLAIN'S VISIT.

Isaac Ford Says He Comes on Venezuelan Matters—Will He Confer With Mr. Laurier at Ottawa?

New York, Aug. 30.—Mr. Isaac N. Ford cables from London: The departure of Mr. Chamberlain for America has no political significance apart from the fact that he would not be crossing the Atlantic if the state of Colonial affairs especially in South Africa, had not greatly improved, so that he could be spared from his post. Lord Salisbury has not deputed him to settle the Venezuela question. He has earned his holiday by arduous public service since December, and chooses to take it by accompanying Mrs. Chamberlain on a visit to Salem, where they will remain several weeks. The rumor mongers have started a story that he resents the strictures of his colleagues upon his zollverein proposals, and his Colonial policy, and will resign his Cabinet post. It is silly fiction. His Cabinet associates have more sympathy with his zollverein than is generally supposed, and there are no divisions respecting his colonial policy. His influence in the Cabinet and with the Queen is very great. Mr. Laurier, the Canadian Premier, desires to confer with him on the proposed fast mail service, but is more likely to come to England himself for the purpose than to receive a visit at Ottawa from the Secretary of the Colonies.

BLAZE AT HAMILTON.

Biscuit and Confectionery Works Visited by Fire Said to Have Been the Work of an Incendiary.

Hamilton, Aug. 30.—(Special.)—About 2 o'clock this morning fire broke out in the factory of the Hamilton Biscuit and Confectionery Company, Cannon-street west, and it was four hours before it was extinguished. The fire was of a mysterious character. When the firemen arrived flames were coming from the office on Cannon-street, and there was a vigorous conflagration in the factory proper, which is a separate building and quite a distance in the rear of the office. The fire-fighters kept the fire under good control, preventing it from spreading to adjoining buildings, and preserving some of the stock, although the damage to the stock, consisting of biscuits, etc., will be large, the factory being pretty well gutted. The roof fell in.

Messrs. Reid & Snyder, the proprietors, say the plant and stock were worth $22,000, and the insurance was $15,000, not including the building, which is owned by the Pattison estate. The companies in which the stock and plant were insured were: Phoenix of Brooklyn, $1500; National, $2400; Mercantile, Queen's, $2850; Hartford, $2850; Liverpool & London & Globe, $2850; Northern, $2850. The police are convinced that the building was set on fire, and the detectives are trying to ferret out the case. Several hundred dollars' damage was done to Lovell Bros.' cigar factory, adjoining the building that was burned.

DESTROYING CATHOLIC STATIONS.

An Anti-Christian Outbreak in Progress at Shantung, China.

Tokio, Japan, Aug. 30, via San Francisco, Aug. 30.—An anti-Christian outbreak is now going on at Shantung, China. Th rioters are members of a society originally formed for the purpose of mutual protection against bandits, but it is said now it has become the bandit organization itself. For some time there has been a feud between this society and the native Catholics, culminating recently in the society sending out 1000 men to destroy the Catholic property. It is not yet known whether any lives were lost, but 30 Catholic stations are said to have been destroyed. Four thousand soldiers have been despatched against the insurgents.

WHAT IS CIVILIZATION?

If Lord Russell left no greater souvenir of his visit to this continent, his noble definition of civilization given in his address before the American Bar Association at Saratoga, would be ample. Lord Russell thus defines civilization:—"It is not dominion, wealth, material luxury; nay, not even a great literature and education widespread—good though those things be. Its true signs are thought for the poor and suffering; chivalrous regard and respect for woman; the frank recognition of human brotherhood, irrespective of race, or colour, or nation, or religion; the narrowing of the domain of mere force as a governing factor in the world; the love of ordered freedom; abhorrence of what is mean and cruel and vile, and ceaseless devotion to the claims of justice."

EDITORIAL NOTES.

It is to be hoped that Sir Charles Tupper will not send Lord Aberdeen home before the Central Exhibition is opened. Of course the Governor-General has dared to think for himself, and had the assurance to differ from Sir Charles, but the directors of the Exhibition are counting a good deal on Lord Aberdeen's presence, and it is to be hoped that the blow of the Coercion Club will be suspended till after the 27th.

A GREAT constitutional question is raised by the correspondence between Lord Aberdeen and Sir Charles Tupper in reference to the resignation of the late ministry. If Lord Aberdeen's contention is not right it should be right, for it aims at the right object, protecting the public interests. "When in doubt lead a trump." Refer the matter to Sir Oliver Mowat. He is an authority on constitutional points, who has never had to recede from a position he had assumed in this regard. The Judicial Committee of the Privy Council has shown the greatest respect for Sir Oliver's constitutional contentions.

SIR CHARLES TUPPER and the Conservative organs of the baser sort have been boasting of the splendid fettle and strength of the Opposition and of how the session was to be a fighting one, but so far the fighting has been of the Don Quixote style—tilting against windmills, to which windy oratory, a propos of nothing, has contributed the motive power. But this splendidly compact and aggressive opposition did not dare to divide the House on the address, and failed to put on record an expression of their dissent. Verily, verily talk is cheap.

THOSE who gloated somewhat over the assumption that Sir Oliver Mowat's acceptance of a senatorship would interfere with Liberal proposals for the reform of that body, will see their mistake if they read the report of Sir Oliver's maiden speech in the Senate. The tenor of his remarks as to the character of that body, suggested his intention of doing all in his power to make the Senate acceptable to the people, and we infer that if the latter demand that it should be made a body responsible to the electorate a change to that effect would be brought about. Paradoxical as it may seem the danger attending extreme partisanship by the Senators removes the probability of the danger of such a partisanship exercise of senatorial functions.

A hacking cough keeps the bronchial tubes in a constant state of irritation, which, if not speedily removed, may lead to chronic bronchitis. No prompter remedy can be found than Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Its effect is immediate and the result permanent.

Hidden Foes.

Among the many foes to human health and happiness dyspepsia and constipation are twin enemies greatly to be feared. With B.B.B. to drive them out of the system, however, no danger need be anticipated, as every dose brings the sufferer a long step further on the road to perfect health and strength, and a permanent cure always results.

AMERICAN INSURANCE AND CANADIAN POLICY-HOLDERS.

It is becoming a question of practical politics for Canadian policy holders in American insurance companies in which kind of money their claims will be paid when their policies mature. Should Mr. Bryan be elected and the United States go to a silver basis, American companies would have a perfect right to pay their claims—unless otherwise provided in the policy—in American silver dollars, which are now worth a trifle over fifty cents. This would mean, if this ratio were maintained, the cutting of one's life insurance in two; and the man who paid premiums on $5,000 would really leave his family only about one-half that amount.

Some American companies are endorsing their policies "payable in gold," or "payable in the lawful money of Canada." This should make them as good as ever, if the securities deposited by these companies at Ottawa remain as valuable as ever. This latter is a point for the Government to carefully investigate. It will not be worth much to a person with a claim against an American company to have his policy endorsed "payable in the lawful money of Canada," if the company does not have sufficient money on deposit at Ottawa to cover his claim. Then, supposing the company to fight his claim, he must sue the United States, and get his award in American money—i.e., Bryan silver dollars. Now this is a real enough danger if the deposits of American companies with the Canadian Government are composed in whole or in part of American securities. For with the enactment of free silver at Washington American securities will be very likely to go to a silver basis too; with the result that the American deposits at Ottawa will fall far below their face value. Thus it might come about that claims payable in Canada could not be collected in the Dominion, because the company's assets here had all been eaten up.

This is a matter for the Government Superintendent of Insurance to look to. There should be no doubt as to the permanent value of the deposits placed by the American companies in the hands of the Dominion Government. This is the keystone of the arch. To be sure of getting Canadian money for our claims we must be able to sue for them in Canada and collect the award in Canada. It is ridiculous to suppose that if the United States goes to a silver basis, and if the Insurance Companies are paying American claimants in silver, that the American courts will compel them to pay the Britisher in gold. Our only security is to keep the Canadian end of the business in Canada.

To accomplish this two things must be had—1, the securities deposited at Ottawa must not be of a character to be affected by a victory for Mr. Bryan; and, 2, all policies must be made payable in Canada and in Canadian money, or its only equivalent—gold.—Star.

BAD FIRE AT GODERICH.

Peter McEwan's Large Salt Works Destroyed—Loss is $15,000.

Goderich, Ont., Aug. 30.—A most disastrous fire occurred this morning at 3 o'clock. The large salt works, dairy salt mill, sawmill, stave and heading factory, together with several thousand barrels of salt belonging to Mr. Peter McEwan, Saltford, were completely destroyed. The loss will be about $15,000. Insurance not very large. The flames spread to the tannery of Mr. Joseph Beck, destroying the old part of the plant. By the aid of the Goderich steam fire engine and brigade, which went over to Saltford, a plentiful supply of water was had from the river. The firemen saved the new portion of the tannery containing the machinery. Mr. Beck's loss will be about $2000, covered by insurance in the Western and Lancashire Companies.

Scalped by Bryan.

Hornellsville, N.Y., Aug. 29.—Before a gigantic gathering at Maple City Park, near Hornellsville this afternoon William J. Bryan severely criticised the Third Ticket movement and those who are taking part in it. Mr. Bryan was at his best, and spoke with an earnestness approaching fervor.

ESCAPED THE FROST

Washington Weather Bureau Predicted It

BUT MANITOBA DID NOT SUFFER.

Comments on the Brandon Vacancy and the Bye-Elections—Mr. Sifton and the Interior Portfolio—An Insane Murderer—The Harvest in Full Blast in Manitoba.

Winnipeg, Aug. 30.—Manitoba, according to all that could be learned on the Grain Exchange and from other sources, has escaped the frost forecast by the Washington Weather Bureau for North and South Dakota and Minnesota. The lowest temperature reported on Thursday morning at 7 o'clock was that of 36 degrees at Gretna, while here in this city it was the same. A report of frost was received from Moorehead, North Dakota, early in the morning, so that the official forecast was not far astray. All over the province mild weather prevailed, the southwestern points of Souris and Estevan being over 50.

THE BRANDON ELECTION.

A Brandon despatch says: "The news of the resignation of Mr. D'Alton McCarthy as member for Brandon constituency has created considerable speculation and comment. The consensus of opinion here seems to be however, that Mr. Clifford Sifton is the man who will be asked to run in the interests of the Government, and should he consent his election is thought to be certain by the Liberals. Hon. Mr. Daly is here again, and there is no doubt that should the Conservative party again tender him the nomination he will accept."

Interviewed at Brandon yesterday, Attorney-General Sifton said, in reply to a question as to what course would be pursued in regard to bringing on the election in Brandon constituency to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Mr. D'Alton McCarthy, that nothing would be done until after the school question was settled, as then the electors of Brandon would be called on to approve of the stand taken. As has been intimated by Mr. McCarthy in his address, a settlement was now under way that would be satisfactory to all, and Mr. McCarthy himself was satisfied as to this before he resigned, or he would not have taken the course he did. Speaking of Mr. McCarthy, Mr. Sifton said he was elected as a champion of National schools, and he could not consistently leave the constituency until he was satisfied that a just and amicable settlement would be effected. This being done, he had felt that a local man would be more to their interest, and feeling this way he had sent in his resignation. When asked if he (Mr. Sifton) was to be Brandon's future representative and Minister of the Interior, he did not give any information. He felt, however, that whoever was the Liberal candidate would be elected by a large majority. The rumor that Hon. Mr. Prendergast will enter the local Government as Provincial Secretary in the event of Attorney-General Sifton accepting the Interior portfolio is not received with much credence in Winnipeg. It is thought that the current of events tends towards his being appointed to a county judgship. A rumor has been circulated that Mr. Howell, Q.C., would run for North Brandon in case of the seat becoming vacant, and that he would be taken into the Local Cabinet as Attorney-General. To a reporter Mr. Howell denied that there was even the slightest foundation for such a report.

BYE-ELECTIONS.

Commenting on the bye-elections, The Tribune says: "Hon. Mr. Paterson and Hon. Mr. Blair were elected on the identical platform upon which the Liberal party appealed to the people a few weeks ago, upon the same conciliatory school policy. The electors of North Grey and Sunbury and Queen's have shown unmistakable confidence in Premier Laurier's ability to amicably settle this vexed question without infringing the inviolate principle of provincial rights, and we venture to predict that before long, when details of the negotiations are made public, it will be found that the school question has been settled to the satisfaction of all fair and reasonable-minded men. The result of the contests is only the forerunner of what will happen at other bye-elections in the near future. The Conservative party until a good deal of the dead wood and inferior timber in the present forefront of the party is cut away cannot hope for any great measure of public confidence."

MR. SIFTON.

Hon. Mr. Sifton, when asked to-day concerning the school question negotiations, said that there was nothing new to be announced, except that everything was progressing satisfactorily. It seems likely that another conference between the two Governments will be necessary before the matter is finally scettled.
